Another distinction comes to Thief River Falls and Pennington county today. The first loan fully completed and the first money actually delivered to a farmer under the new rural credits law comes to this section. The final signatures are being attached and a customer of the Farmers and Merchants State bank of this city is receiving the money. All of the documents in the case are numbered and the number is a lonesome figure "1," indicating the initial transaction of the kind to leave the Rural Credits bureau.

A point has now been reached, according to officials of the bureau, where no further delay will be encountered in getting loans closed.

Pennington County Sends Exhibit to Be Placed on Display State Fair Week

The finishing touches are this week being put on securing the exhibit which Pennington county will have at the state fair this year, and most of the things to be shown will be sent down by express tomorrow evening. Orton Olson and a number of assistants have been busy for several days visiting various farms in the country and gathering up samples of the best to be found in agricultural products, fruits and vegetables.

While those behind the movement do not expect to get in on the prize money at the fair, they feel that the county will derive much benefit from the publicity to be gained. Next year, with the proper financial backing and preliminary organization, the boosters behind the project hope to be able to make a real showing.

The case of Joe Jetland for the illegal sale of liquor, mention of which was made in these columns last week, came on for hearing yesterday in Judge Tarrant's court. Due to the unavoidable absence of important witnesses for the state, the case was continued upon motion of County Attorney Quale until such time as the witnesses can be secured. Jetland in the meantime is enjoying liberty under bonds.

Two More Holes Added to Thief River Golf Course

The Thief River golf course, located north of the city, recently has been enlarged by the addition of two more holes, making six in all. Enough ground has been secured for a full nine-hole course and it is planned to add the extra three next spring. The golf ground has been thoroughly cleaned and parked, which gives it a very inviting appearance.

When all proposed improvements have been completed, the Thief River Falls course will be the equal of any in this part of the country.

Called to Mother's Bedside.

Mrs. Mary Dufault, who makes her home with her nephew and niece, Mr. and Mrs. William Sheedy, left Monday evening for Reedsburg, Wis., in response to a message stating that her mother, Mrs. Mary Manyan, was seriously ill and not expected to recover. Mrs. Manyan is past 90 years of age and her illness is principally due to the infirmities of old age.

Potato Growers Plan Two Large County Rallies

First to Be Held at Goodridge Next Monday Evening at 8.

Second Meeting Slated for St. Hilaire Following Evening.

Representative Marius Waldal of Plummer was in the city last Friday. Mr. Waldal is active in organization work for the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange and has devoted most of his time to it for several weeks, visiting every county in the northwestern part of the state. He is first vice-chairman of the executive committee of the association.

While here Mr. Waldal informed The Tribune that he is making arrangements for two big meetings of potato growers to be held in Pennington county next week with a view to perfecting the organization here. The first meeting will be held at Goodridge next Monday evening at 8 o'clock, and the farmers of eastern Pennington county are urgently requested to be present. The co-operative plan of marketing potatoes will be explained by speakers who understand the subject and farmers will learn much to their advantage by attending the meeting. Tuesday evening a similar meeting will be conducted at St. Hilaire, beginning at the same hour.

The Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange when organized will be made up of growers who will control at least 50 per cent of the commercial potato acreage of the state. Such a membership will pool all of the potatoes grown for five years except those reserved for home consumption, to be sold as seed to neighbors and for retail sales for immediate local consumption. When organized, the Exchange will be the largest individual state potato selling agency in the United States and the dominent factor on the market.

Milton Forder Perfects New Timer for Cars and Tractors of Ford's Make Secures Patent and Proposes to Place Simple New Device on Market—Tests Being Made.

Milton Forder, who for some time has been at work perfecting a new device to be used in timers of Ford cars and trucks, was recently granted a patent and is now negotiating for the sale of his invention. The Ford Motor company is making tests and may decide to include the new thingabob as a part of Ford equipment.

The new device is extremely simple and is made from a piece of spring steel wire. It takes the place of the old roller type of distributor, which is made up of six parts, and can be put on the market at a very low price. A number of cars here have been equipped with the mechanism for several weeks in the way of a test, and complete satisfaction is registered in every instance.

Mr. Forder has been farming on a large scale for several years and for some time has operated several Fordson tractors, Ford cars and trucks. He states that continual difficulty with the timers of these machines led him to experiments which finally culminated in the device upon which he recently secured a patent.

Monday Is Labor Day.

Next Monday is Labor Day, a legal holiday in the United States. No celebration has been planned in Thief River Falls but many will take advantage of the holiday by abstaining from their regular labors.

BIG MOONSHINE OUTFIT SECURED IN RAID FRIDAY

Sheriff Ihle and Deputies Locate Large Plant in Operation.

Ole Linstad, Old Offender, Charged With Ownership of Still.

One of the best hauls in the "moonshine" line made recently by Sheriff Ole L. Ihle occured last Friday, when he discovered a large plant for the manufacture of illicit liquor on the farm of Ole Linstad, ten miles west of Thief River Falls. The outfit consisted of two complete stills, several barrels of mash and about five gallons of "moon" ready for delivery. Linstad was arrested and brought to the city, where he was lodged in jail.

Owing to the absence of County Attorney Theo. Quale a hearing could no be held immediately and the sheriff turned the prisoner loose upon his promise to appear before Judge Tarrant in municipal court the following day. It appears, however, that Linstad had a pressing engagement elsewhere for he immediately disappeared and has not yet been apprehended. The officers are not greatly worried as the accused man is the owner of the farm upon which the plant was found and they are of the opinion that sooner or later he will show up of his own volition. An any rate they are satisfied he is not manufacturing "moon" at present in this immediate vicinity—and this is exactly the result they sought to accomplish through the raid.

The moonshine plant had been under the surveillance of Sheriff Ihle and his deputies, Andrew Ness and John Stein, for several days and nights in an effort to catch the owner redhanded. Failing in this, they finally raided the place and discovered just what they were looking for. Five gallons of finished moonshine in addition to two stills of about ten gallons capacity and a large quantity of mash and mash product ready for the stills completed the inventory. A truck was secured and the whole outfit hauled to Thief River Falls and placed in the custody of the sheriff. The shack containing the outfit was burned by the officers.

Linstad is an old offender, this being the third time within the past two years he has been in the clutches of the law. The first time he paid a fine and on the second occasion served a jail sentence in addition to paying a heavy fine. These circumstances likely made him fearful of a heavy penalty this time and he decided to postpone the misery as long as possible, evidently actuated by the same line of reasoning as the man who goes about with a toothache rather than face the ordeal of visiting the dentist.

Miss Effie Hamry Leaves for St. Paul to Assume Rural Credits Position

Assistant Cashier of Farmers and Merchants Bank Well Fitted for Responsible Job.

Miss Effie Hamry, who since its organization about five years ago has been assistant cashier of the Farmers and Merchants State bank in this city, has severed her connection with that institution and will leave this week for St. Paul, where she will assume a responsible position in the loan closing department of the Rural Credits Bureau. Miss Hamry was selected by the Rural Credits Bureau from a large number of applicants due to her ability and the experience gained through years spent in the bank and prior to that time in the register of deeds' office in this county as deputy from formation of the county until she became associated with the Farmers and Merchants bank. That she is fully capable of performing the duties of her new position goes without saying.

Miss Hamry is a business woman of very pleasing personality and more than ordinary ability, and has also been very active in social and civic affairs during her residence in Thief River Falls. She will be greatly missed by a large circle of friends.

Her position as assistant cashier in the bank will be assumed by F. E. McGinn, for years a loyal and capable employe of the institution. No other changes in the bank's personnel are planned at the present time.

Supt. Simley Returns.

Superintendent I. T. Simley of the city schools returned last Wednesday from New York city, where he had spent six weeks studying various subjects at Columbia University. These subjects pertain particularly to school administration and methods intended to produce a higher degree of efficiency in school work. Mr. Simley says the East appears very prosperous at the present time but the crowded city does not appeal to him in the least and he is glad to get back to God's country and the great open spaces once more.

Two Imbibers of "Moon" Wind Up in Usual Way

Theodore Joppru and Halvor Blinsmon yesterday paid fines of $10 and trimmings in Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant's court as a result of appearing on the streets of Thief River Falls the previous day in a state which indicated they had been generously sampling "moon," or some similar brand of lubricant. They spent the night in the "coop," which gave their minds an opportunity to clear up somewhat before their appearance in court.

Joppru fell into the hands of Chief of Police O. E. Berge, while Night Patrolman Ralston took Blinsmon in hand. Both men denied having purchased "moon" here, saying they had it when they arrived during the afternoon.

Fine Vacation Trip.

B. E. Gage, engineer on the Soo Line, left Sunday night on a trip which will take him to Milwaukee, Chicago, Washington, D. C., New York and Boston. At the latter place he will meet Mrs. Gage and the children, who have been visiting relatives there for several weeks, and together they will return to Thief River Falls by way of Montreal and Sault Ste. Marie. The family expects to arrive in this city about September 15.

N. W. Railroads Plan Big Slash in Labor Force

Payroll Reduction Prompted by Revenue Fall From Slack Business.

Thousands of Men Will Be Laid Off in Northwest, Officials Say.

Northwest railroads are preparing to take immediate steps to reduce working forces substantially, principally because of a sharp falling off in revenues due to slackened business, it was disclosed Thursday.

This normally is the season for railways of this territory to begin curtailing track and maintenance work but the handicap of reduced earnings is responsible for the move towards an immediate and general reduction of forces, it was stated. Thousands of men in the states between the Mississippi valley and the Pacific coast will be taken from the payrolls.

Unusually heavy programs of maintenance work were inaugurated by Northwest lines, particularly the Northern Pacific, Burlington and Great Northern, last spring providing employment for many more men than in recent years. The bulk of the work was completed early this month but had business continued heavy with a corresponding improvement in revenues over last year, the forces would have been kept intact longer, operating executives said.

The pinch for sufficient funds has been felt during recent weeks and a reduction in operating expenses through such a move is necessary, it was emphasized.

The curtailment of railway maintenance forces has begun in the Central Western region, the Burlington having announced that 200 men will be laid off immediately on the Hannibal, Mo., division.

Northwest lines plan to take action within the next ten days, it was stated.

Plans Progress Rapidly for Big Holstein Sale

The committee having in charge the arrangements for the big Holstein sale to be held in this city on October 3 report that plans are rapidly taking shape and every indication points to a very successful sale. A number of the best breeders in this section are contributing animals for the sale and it is expected that a number of buyers from a distance will be here to look over the offerings. The sale will be well advertised through the newspapers and in other ways. Breeders are asked to keep the date in mind—Wednesday, October 3.

Sugar Beet Man Here.

E. C. Moore, agricultural expert and factory superintendent of the Northern Sugar company at Mason City, Iowa, arrived in Thief River Falls last evening to look over the sugar beet crop in this section. To a Tribune representative today Mr. Moore expressed himself as being highly pleased with the appearance of the crop. The principal problem now, according to Mr. Moore, is making preparations for an increased acreage next year. He says that with sufficient acreage a beet sugar factory here in the near future is an absolute certainty.

Decides to Appeal Case.

A. C. Rasmusson, who was taken to Warren last week to serve a sentence for violation of the prohibition law, has filed bonds for the appeal of his case to the supreme court. He is at liberty pending the appeal and returned to Thief River Falls a few days ago.

CITY'S SCHOOLS TAKE UP WORK NEXT TUESDAY

Stage Is All Set for Year of Successful Educational Endeavor.

Two Departments Eliminated This Year as Economy Measure.

Next Tuesday morning the summer vacation will come to an end and pupils in the Thief River Falls public schools will again take up the work incident to acquiring an education. Everything has been placed in readiness for the opening of school, even to greasing the hinges of the doors and polishing the bells. Superintendent I. T. Simley and High School Principal Morris Bye have been busy the past week putting on the finishing touches. Both are observing office hours from 9 to 12 and from 2 to 4 each day, when anyone who has anything to bring up may see them. All arrangements should be made as soon as possible so as not to cause unnecessary confusion during the last day before the opening of school.

Instructors are arriving daily and are getting settled for the year's work. A general teachers' meeting will be held Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock in the Lincoln building, at which time work will be mapped out and a program decided upon. School opens formally Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock.

No kindergarten classes will be confound to be necessary in the interfound necessary this year in the interest of economy. Grades one to six will be housed in the Knox, Northrop and Washington buildings. To enter first grade children must be six years old on or before November 5. No beginner will be admitted to the first grade after September 17. Children will also be admitted to first grade at beginning of second semester. This is

Princess Theatre Opens to Public Next Sunday With Excellent Program

Thief River Theatre Company Makes Many Improvements in Show House Prior to Opening.

Manager H. A. Brumund of the Thief River Theatre company announces that beginning with next Sunday, the regular programs of the company will be presented at the Princess theatre instead of at the Lyceum, which has been used for this purpose for some time past.

The Princess has been completely redecorated and renovated throughout and now presents a very inviting appearance. The machines some time ago were shipped to the Precision Machine company in New York, where they have been rebuilt and equipped with the very latest and best lenses and condensers. The Princess is equipped with an Idealite picture screen and the projection will be of the very best.

As an added feature, a new Seeburg Pipe Organ Orchestra is being installed. This instrument is used in most of the better theatres of Chicago and cities in the East. John H. Brumund was in Chicago last May and inspected several theatres which are using the Seeburg organ and found the people very much pleased with the instrument.

It has always been the aim of Manager Brumund to present the very best and latest pictures obtainable, and often pictures have been shown here before appearing in the Twin cities. He has arranged for some splendid programs for the Princess theatre, and the following stars will be seen on the screen this season: Norma and Constance Talmadge, Richard Barthelmess, Pola Negri, Jackie Coogan, Baby Peggy, Thomas Meighan, Theodore Roberts, Harold Lloyd and others. Harold Lloyd in his latest and biggest picture, "Safety Last," will soon be presented, and many other stars will be seen on the Princess screen.

A rest room for ladies and children has been equipped in the basement, the ventilation has been improved and the Princess is now the best ventilated theatre in the Northwest.

Commissioners O. K. New Bridge and Give Aid to County Exhibit at Fair

The county commissioners at the meeting held yesterday appropriated $75 toward defraying the expenses of the Pennington county exhibit at the forthcoming Minnesota state fair. The exhibit will be taken to the fair tomorrow evening and will occupy a booth in the agricultural building on the fair grounds.

The commissioners also inspected and approved the new cement bridge on State Highway No. 4 west of St. Hilaire. Routine matters occupied the attention of the county dads for the remainder of the day.

LOWER PRICE OF WHEAT BLOCKS ALL PROSPERITY

Wheat Prices Largely Control Conditions in Other Industries.

Manager Jewett of American Grain Growers Urges Market Control.

Following are a few extracts from an address delivered by George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers Associated, before the annual convention of the Missouri Farmers' association, at Sedalia, Mo., yesterday. Mr. Jewett said:

"American business, manufacturing and commercial, already is feeling the effect of the disastrously low wheat prices obtaining in the United States. The business revival of last year is running up against the brick wall formed by the inability of the American farmer to purchase the things he actually needs.

"For wheat is a basic agricultural commodity. A large proportion of the grain farmers of the United States must depend upon wheat for funds necessary to continued operation of their lands and proper care of their families.

"During the last few weeks, figures have been issued in the attempt to prove that the price of wheat is relatively unimportant to the nation's agricultural prosperity. One large building house whose advertising revenue runs into millions of dollars a year recently purchased page advertising in the important daily newspapers of the country to carry its opinion that business generally would not suffer greatly even if the price of wheat were to remain low. This publishing house showed that other agricultural commodities are produced to an extent comparable or even greater than wheat, and warned bankers and business men against pessimism because of the present low level of wheat prices.

"But these people who are seeking to minimize the importance of the wheat industry to national prosperity, completely overlook the fact that wheat is the so-called 'cash crop.' The farmer in South Dakota, for instance, cribs his corn after harvest to feed and for sale later on in the year or possibly not until the next spring or summer. But he takes his wheat to the elevator and sells it to obtain funds to run on. Or, in the case of the member of co-operative marketing associations, he stores his wheat in elevators and uses his receipts as collateral to obtain advances for his ready money.

"So, if wheat prices are low as they are today, the result on business and trade is far more serious than a straight tabulation of the national value of wheat and other farm commodities might lead one to believe. Indeed, there is physical proof of this fact in the present situation, where large publishing concerns, advertising agencies and others are appealing to advertisers, whose business is now suffering, to continue their advertising and business program in the face of lessened trade.

"American business might as well have the facts straight. There are ten or twelve agricultural states wherein wheat is the crop of major importance from the standpoint of farm purchasing power. So long as wheat prices are low, farmers will not be able to buy. And wheat prices today are from thirty to fifty cents below the cost of production.

"There is only one way in which wheat prices can be brought to a legitimate basis and that is the establishment of a domestic American market, independent of world's prices. With conditions in Europe the way they are, with wheat production on the increase in Russia, we can not expect soon to see the world's markets on a basis which will afford proper prices to American farmers. So we must establish a domestic market independent of the world's prices at a point high enough to afford just returns to the American wheat producers. Then, our surplus wheat can be dumped on the world's markets at whatever price may be secured, and the increased returns from wheat, going into domestic consumption, will balance up to afford legitimate prices for the producers.

"This we expect to accomplish by obtaining control of American wheat production through our co-operative marketing associations with two-thirds of the wheat grown in eleven important producing states. We can, if necessary, export wheat and then, under satisfactory tariff protection, we can go about securing proper prices for that portion of the crop for domestic consumption.

"At the present time there are eleven state wheat growers' associations, nine of them operated through the American Wheat Growers Associated, Inc., as their exclusive sales agency. From appearances there will be associations in at least three more states prior to the next marketing season. We expect to have control of two-thirds of the wheat produced in these eleven original states by July 1, 1924, and if we do have, wheat growers, beyond any question of a doubt will receive that much-discussed cost-plus-a-profit price which has not been theirs for many years.

"Then American manufacturers and dealers will find a farm market for the products they manufacture and distribute—and not until then."

Most Auto Accidents Due to Reckless Driving and Not to Highways' Faults

State Highway Commissioner Makes Public Recent Survey of Casualties on Big Trunk System.

A person killed every other day and more than three hurt every day are casualty everages in a 60-day survey listing 256 accidents on Minnesota trunk highways, as announced this week by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner.

Vehicles left the road in 132 accidents and in 110 of these turned over once, twice or even three times. In 62 collisions 12 cars left the road and overturned. Thirty cars got beyond control and crashed into buildings and other cars or struck cattle on the roads. Seven railroad crossing accidents are listed. In twelve cases persons were hurt while walking or making car adjustments on the roads.

Accident reports in The Tribune and other newspapers extending the highway department the courtesy of complimentary copies were checked with highway employees' reports in making up the summary. Reports indicated that highway conditions were rarely at fault, the largest number of mishaps occuring on broad, smooth, straight-away stretches.

"The showing is not bad in comparison with those from other states and considering that it covers 7,000 miles of the heaviest traveled highways," said Mr. Babcock. "Nevertheless, the public can greatly improve it and the way to accomplish a reduction is obvious: always drive at moderate speed and keep cars under control at all times."

A highway casualty chart showing locations of the accidents will be displayed in the state exhibits building at the Minnesota state fair next week.

AS OTHERS THINK

Editor Tribune:

In one of your recent issues we noticed the fact that the people in and around Thief River Falls were about to stage a real come-together meeting for the purpose of considering the much-discussed subject, "Price Guarantee," or rather price fixing adjustment on farm products.

Thief River Falls is but one of the thousands of places that such meetings are being called and held at the present time. There is a reason for this. It is a just demand, it is a nation-wide call from a distressed people. It comes right from the heart of those who have toiled and sacrificed, from those who have suffered and lost, not only their homes but their little accumulations of a lifetime as well in this struggle for their daily bread. Can we ignore such a demand at a time when our country's welfare is at stake? Can we ignore such a demand with our eyes still gazing upon a suffering people and the ruined remains of other lands, and still say with a clear conscience that all is well with us? President Coolidge says yes, and also those that feast upon the fruits of our labor. May God forbid that we shall be called upon to answer for such a crime.

Just a few days ago we overheard a conversation which took place on a train pulling into your city, by residents of your home town. It was a ladies' conversation touching upon home, upon home life and about the loved ones at home. One said that she was a mother of six, and the other was a close second from what we could make out. They were both proud of the fact that they had been able to raise a family of good, noble boys and girls. There was still another, but perhaps not a mother, but her heart was surely in the right place. She touched upon the moral side of life and said that she wished there could be mere noble boys and girls than there are. We will venture to say there would be if she could have her say about things like "moonshine," snuff and cigarettes. We can well imagine what sacrifices mothers must make in being able to realize the wish of their hearts in a time like this when the tempter's snare is placed in every turn of the road at the feet of their loved ones. Yes, too few, indeed, escape it. It cannot be done without a mother's care, it cannot be done without a mother's love, and it cannot be done without heeding the lessons learned at mother's knee: it cannot be done without trying to live a clean and moral life, with respect to ourselves, for our fellow men and for the laws under which we live, spiritual and otherwise.

May God bless the noble womanhood in this land of ours, that has helped and is still helping to make this old world better.

W. A. SWANSON.

Rhoda, Minn., Aug. 26.

Honors Highway Executive.

Specials markers are being erected on trunk highways in Rice county to honor Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner and originator of the good roads plan and to constantly remind travelers that they are in Rice county. They bear the inscription "Babcock Road," and "Rice County," together with the trunk route number, and are placed two miles apart. Copies of the resolution by the Rice county commissioner ordering the special signs are being circulated among Minnesota county officials and Auditor F. M. Kaisersatt indicates that other counties may want to follow the example.

Cities Pay for County Roads.

A very large share of the money obtained to improve the highways throughout the state in accordance with the terms of the constitutional amendment comes from the automobile owners of Minneapolis and St. Paul, says the Minneapoils Tribune. It is a pleasant and significant thing to chronicle that very few complaints come from motorists of the two big cities about the taxes they are required to pay into the good roads fund, although they are well aware that little of this money, if any, is used for direct, close-range benefit of the cities. Urban taxpayers take care of their own streets and boulevards in the usual way.

Good luck seems to stumble right onto the hustler.

Former Service Men Must Hurry to Present Claims

Immediate Action Required in Many Cases if Soldiers Are to Receive Benefits Due Them.

The law, as it stands now, fixes certain limits within which disabled ex-service men must apply for the various benefits provided by law.

The time for applying for vocational training expired December 16, 1922.

The time within which war term insurance may be reinstated and converted into standard government policies is March 3, 1926.

All applications for compensation must be filed within five years from the date of discharge from the service. This date has already expired for many men, and the next year or two will see practically all the men who did not re-enlist in the army after the world war, without a chance to file a claim for compensation under the present law.

It is evident that many men who have disabilities due to their war service are reluctant to present their cases to the U. S. Veterans' Bureau until actual necessity compels them to do so. As the law now stands this is unwise.

Any men who have disabilities resulting from their military service, even if they are not very serious at the present time, should file their claim now and allow a record to be made so that in making future decisions the Bureau may know what the man's condition was in the past. Any existing service disability may become more serious in a few years when the man is older. Instances have occured where a man thinking himself in fair physical condition, has found himself, upon medical examination, to have a war disability which in the future would seriously disable him.

It is important that all conpensation claims should be filed NOW so that proper medical examination may show the nature and extent of the disability, and so that its connection with the man's military service may be established.

So, buddy, do not neglect this matter but file your claim with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau at once if you have a service disability.

No Worry About Rust.

We have heard no complaint of rust, scab, or other blight from the fellows who are milking cows. Their cream checks are untainted and they are not worrying over pests that blight the grain growers' hopes. The road to prosperity we repeat, is that old standard line, corn, hogs, cows, cream and hens. It is a time like the present with low prices for grain and a considerable amount of rust in the country, that the average farmer begins to take real interest in hogs, cows, hens, cream and eggs.—Bowdle (S. D.) Pioneer.

THE WINTER SHOWS.

If Thief River Falls is to have a Winter Show, the time has arrived when something must be done about it. When the subject first was taken up for consideration last spring, it met with much favor among members of the Commercial club and others. There were those who entertained doubts as to the feasibility of such an undertaktaking but they appeared in the minority. At any rate their objections failed to dampen the enthusiasm of the plan's proponents.

But as often happens in cases of this kind, old General Apathy began getting in his deadly work. Enthusiasm among the Winter Show advocates in a few short weeks reached almost the vanishing point and very little has been accomplished since the wave of approbation subsided.

Tomorrow at the regular meeting of the Commercial club an organized and determined effort will be made to rout General Apathy and his forces. Every resident should lend a hand in helping to rid the community of this undesirable old tyrant for all time. Apathy never accomplished anything and never will.

If we're going through with this thing, let's do it right. If we are going through with it, now is the time to make the decision. Anything is preferable to the inexcusable habit of leting things drag along just because we are too indifferent to give them attention.

FAITH IN THE FUTURE.

In times like these, during the readjustment period following a great war, when business conditions are not what they should be and farmers are not getting the returns from their efforts to which they are justly entitled, it is well to devote a little time to reflection and thought. Every man who thinks the thing over and views the situation from every angle can reach but one conclusion. He will find that conditions in Northwestern Minnesota, when compared with conditions in other parts of the world, are not so bad after all, and he will resume his tasks with increased energy and a firm faith in the future.

The successful man is invariably the man who enlarges his plants and plans in periods of depression. When other men are fearful of the future, he is preparing for good times. No reasonable man now believes the world is going into the hands of the receiver. He believes that right will eventually triumph and the common sense of mankind will finally assert itself. In other words, good times are bound to come. The wisest investors have already recognized this truth, and it should soon be apparent to everyone.

During a French revolution, Baron Rothchild received a call from a young man who had inherited a large sum of money and wanted advice on how to invest it safely. "Buy French bonds," said Rothchild. "But, Baron, the gutters of Paris are filled with blood." The Baron replied: "That is why you can buy them for fifty per cent of their face value."

The safety of the investment was not questioned by Baron Rotschild. He had faith in the future.

Any man who doesn't believe that real progressive farmers appreciate the honest support and co-operation of their city and village neighbors, should have been present at the meeting of the Commercial club last Thursday. If the farmer members of the Dairy Show delegation who spoke at that meeting didn't express their honest convictions, The Tribune stands ready to admit that it is a poor judge of sincerity. Learning to know the other fellow and to understand his motives sometimes helps a great deal to allay unfounded suspicion.

MODERN CRUSADERS.

Human beings are by nature endowed with an instinct—or perhaps it may more properly be termed a peculiarity—which often upon very slight provocation finds expression in the mad acts of a mob. Some learned men call this the mob spirit, some term it a form of mesmerism or hypnotism brought about by fanatical leaders, while still others insist that it is nothing more nor less than proof that man in ages gone by was little more than an animal. These latter contend that the mob is merely a demonstration of the savage animal spirit of prehistoric man gaining control of and governing the individual during the time the mob is in action. They say this ancient trait is latent in every man to a certain degree.

The phrase "mob spirit" is usually applied to lynchers, rioters and revolutionists. But, after all, "mob spirit" is simply an impulse animating a number of people. It may be for good or for evil. In either case it is contagious and carries the multitude with it. The crusaders of the Middle Ages were animated by the mob spirit but their intentions were for good. These men had for their purpose the accomplishment of acts which to them seemed necessary for the welfare of their fellow men. In other words, they were carried forward by a desire to do good, a desire which among them often became so strong that it amounted to frenzied fanaticism. What is needed in this country and in the world today is the "mob spirit" of the crusaders applied to the solution of local, state and national problems. Nothing less will serve the purpose.

People of the Red River valley and Pennington county are not as a rule given to either of the extremes described above. They keep the even tenor of their ways and refuse to become unduly excited. Most of their time is spent in attending to their own business. This might at first thought be considered an ideal condition. And it must be admitted that it is a fairly good condition, but it could be improved upon.

For instance, wouldn't it be a great thing if a little more of the enthusiastic spirit of the crusaders could be instilled into the people at this time? It isn't necessary to organize armies or expeditions as did the crusaders of the Middle Ages. The only requirement is that the people of each community organize as a unit, get together in discussing matters of mutual concern, and thus arrive at sensible methods through which the community can be built up and made a better place in which to live and prosper. When this has been done and a plan of concerted action decided upon, then is the time the crusading spirit will count. If every man does his part intelligently and does it with zest and zeal, any worth-while thing can be accomplished.

There isn't anything fundamentally wrong with this section of Minnesota. A great majority of the difficulties encountered by the people in this part of the state come from causes which can be and should be removed. The thing to do, then, is to organize a crusade to remedy the conditions which are temporarily retarding the progress of the people. If everybody takes hold with the right spirit, things will soon show a decided turn for the better.

If you see anything good in The Tribune you may take it for granted that it was written by the associate editor. If anything displeases you, place the blame on the editor-in-chief. He gets cussed so much anyway that a little more or less doesn't make a particle of difference to him.

Poultry Thieves Busy.

It is reported that chicken thieves are busy in the Wylie neighborhood. One farmer reports the loss of several hundred chickens, besides a number of turkeys and geese. Even young calves have been spirited away in some instances. An organized effort is now being made to locate the culprits.

Miss Bishop Goes East.

Miss Miriam Bishop, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Bishop, leaves this evening for Pittsburgh, Pa., where she will be connected with the Children's Service Bureau during the coming school year. Miss Bishop will also take a post-graduate course at the university while there.

Man Killed by Soo Near Oslo Saturday Morning

Automobile Accidents Are Numerous; Near Fatal Accident at Stephen Last Saturday Evening.

Conrad Knutson, a young man from Oak Park township of this county, was killed last Saturday morning when the Soo passenger train ran into his car as he was crossing the tracks near Poland, N. D., about four miles west of Oslo. Mr. Knutson was selling meat and had his car equipped so as to keep different meats on ice so that they would not spoil. The accident occured about 10:30 in the morning. It is reported that the track was well cleared at the place where the accident occured and how it happened that Mr. Knutson did not see the train is hard to tell. The automobile was badly damaged.

The train crew immediately stopped the train and put the injured man in the baggage car and backed the train to Oslo where everything possible was done for him, but he died about two o'clock in the afternoon, three and one-half hours after the accident happened.

Mr. Knutson was a son of Mrs. Arie Sieverson of Oak Park. He was about 26 years old. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon.

Last Saturday evening a near fatal accident occured at Stephen when Mr. Jenson, a rural mail carrier of that place, ran into Ed. Hood and young daughter Edna. The accident happened on the corner between the Headquarters hotel and the First National bank. According to information received at the Sheaf office Mr. Hood and daughter had started to cross the street when they were hit by the car and were dragged a considerable distance before the car was stopped. The injured people were taken to the City Hospital in Warren for treatment. Mr. Hood returned to his home at Stephen Tuesday morning. His daughter is still at the hospital.

A number of other accidents have also been reported. Most of these have been rather lucky accidents, as a number of cars have been completely demolished but the occupants have not been seriously injured. Several accidents have been reported from near Alvarado, Stephen and near Warren. Automobile drivers can not be too careful when they drive their cars. —Warren Sheaf.

Alderman on Trip.

Andrew Ness, alderman from the Fourth ward, left Tuesday evening for Fergus Falls on a short business trip. From there he expects to go to Rhinelander, Wis., to spend a few days with his sister, after which he will put in a few days in attendance at the state fair. He expects to return to Thief River Falls about September 10.

Attends Fargo Meeting.

Senator C. L. Hansen is in Fargo today in attendance at the big meeting of bankers and farmers to consider congressional relief in the present wheat crisis. The meeting is largely attended and many prominent men of the Northwest will speak.

Farm Boy Injured.

Melvin, the 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Nelson, farmers residing ten miles west of this city, was brought to a local doctor last Saturday morning to receive attention for a broken ankle. The lad sustained the injury the day previous when he was thrown from a horse.

Theodore Roberts Plays Leading Part in Picture at Princess Next Sunday

Famous Play, "Grumpy," Screened by William DeMille—Best Picture of Season.

That delightful and popular stage play, "Grumpy," familiar to the theatre going world, has been brought to the screen and with such a cast as even the most optimistic admirers of the famous drama desired but hardly expected. William deMille was the producer.

The character of Grumpy is played by Theodore Roberts, whose "Uncle Josh" in "The Old Homestead" stands as one of the greatest characters ever established in the screen world. In "Grumpy," which will be the feature at the Princess theatre for two days, beginning Sunday next, Mr. Roberts has a character none the less powerful—if anything more adaptable to his acting ability.

Featured in this William de Mille production with Mr. Roberts are Conrad Nagel and May McAvoy, respectively enacting the roles of the hero, Ernest Heron, and the heroine, Virginia Bullivant. The romance and the dreamy small-town atmosphere of the picture could not have been placed in better hands than those of Miss McAvoy and Mr. Nagel.

The story of "Grumpy" deals with the love affairs of a young couple fostered by Grumpy, an irascible though lovable retired criminal lawyer. A valuable diamond is stolen, and its recovery is wholly due to the discovery of the identity of the robber by means of a gardenia, of which one each was worn by three of the leading characters. How Grumpy gets his clew and runs it down makes one of the most suspenseful picture stories ever screened.

The heavy role was given to Casson Ferguson, whose artistic portrayal of the cripple poet in "Drums of Fate," a recent Paramount picture, won great praise. The remainder of the roles in the picture are played by Bernice Frank, Bertram Johns, Charles Ogle, Robert Bolder and Charles French.

As the matter now stands, Germany seems willing to pay if she can find somebody that will let her have the money to pay with.

Thief River Lad Attracts Attention With Record in Baseball This Season

Sidney Schutt, graduate of the local high school and known as a clever all-around athlete and ball player, is gaining recognition beyond the confines of his home town. Last Sunday's Minneapolis Journal carried on its sport page a picture of young Schutt and accompanied it with the following complimentary mention of the young man:

"Playing errorless ball all season, against some of the fastest teams in the state, Sidney Schutt, midget second baseman of the Thief River Falls team is expected by many to go far up the ladder of baseball fame. Several business men of Thief River Falls are planning to send the youthful star to some minor league team in the hope that he will land a berth with some organized nine.

"Schutt has been playing wonderful ball during the past season. His hitting average is well over the four hundred mark and he has yet to make an error out of the numerous chances he has taken. Schutt is a product of the sand-lots of Thief River Falls where he got most of his baseball experience."

People Here Make Good Use of Public Library Says Librarian Report

The annual report of the Carnegie public library of this city ending June 30th was presented to the city council at its meeting last night, showing that the institution had a total of 5,135 volumes on hand, of which 3,607 were for adults and the others for children.

Borrowers cards in force at this time total 2,750, of which all are residents of this city except 80 who live in the country adjacent. The number of volumes of fiction lent for home use last year to adults was 12,188 and to children 8,382, while non-fiction was in much less demand, only 1,646 volumes being loaned to adults and 5,476 to children—a grand total of 27,692 volumes loaned altogether during the year.

The estimated average daily attendance for the year, with the institution open every day for at least a part of the time, Sundays included, was 128, or a total for the year of 46,720.

City Schools Take Up Work Next Tuesday

to take care of children who will be six years old on or before March 24, 1924.

The seventh and eighth grades will occupy the Central building as in former years, while the high school will occupy the Lincoln building as usual. Pupils wishing to enter the high school are required to furnish their own text books, amounting in most cases to about $5. Text books in the grades are free.

The full time course in gas and automobile mechanics has been discontinued in order to save money, but considerable of this work has been incorporated into the general industrial course.

The normal training department has been organized on a strictly graduate basis. Those who complete the course will be given a full year's credit at the state teachers' colleges after teaching eight months. The number registering last spring was not sufficient to warrant the board in hiring an additional teacher. Every effort is being made to get a teacher, but if no one is to be had the late entrants particularly are apt to be disappinted.

Following is listed the faculty for the coming school term, together with their addresses and positions occupied:

Rebekahs Notice.

Lyon Rebekah lodge No. 69 meets every second and fourth Thursday at the I. O. O. F. hall at 8 o'clock. The next meeting will be held on Thursday, Sept. 13, and on account of important business a large attendance is desired. The district meeting will be held in this city September 22 and at the same time the 72nd anniversary of the order will be celebrated. For further announcements watch The Tribune—Mrs. C. F. Erickson, Secretary.

Successful Picnic.

Local Elks and their families had the time of their lives last Sunday. The annual picnic took place that day at the fair grounds and the weather was ideal for an event of that kind. A large crowd was in attendance and thoroughly enjoyed the excellent program and other attractions provided.

Thief River Falls Firm Lands Fine Heating Job in Halma School District

The Union Plumbing and Heating company of this city last week was awarded the contract for installing the heating plant in the fine new school house which is in the course of construction at Halma.

The local company's bid was the lowest of a large number submitted and amounts to approximately $3,000. Work on the new contract will be started at once and the job rushed to completion.

This is one of a number of large jobs handled recently by the local concern and the Fossum boys have in every instance come through with colors flying. They are able and thorough workmen, which is proven by their steadily increasing business.

Daughters of Norway.

The next business meeting of the Daughters of Norway lodge will be held Tuesday evening, Sept. 4. We take this means of asking that all members please attend as there is important business to be discussed and transacted. Owing to the large amount of work on hand the meeting will be called at 8 o'clock sharp.—Mrs. C. F. Erickson, Secretary.

All men pray to be able to work, but all men will not pray that they may work.

Former Residents Arrive After Long Trip in Cars

Mr. and Mrs. Herry Sande and Mr. and Mrs. William Sande arrived in the city last Sunday by car, having come all the way from Greensboro, South Carolina, in ten days. The Messrs. Sande are brothers of County Superintendent O. R. Sande, while Mrs. Henry Sande is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Sether, and all of them will remain here for some time.

On their trip they visited many pionts of interest, including Marion, Ohio, where they paid a visit to the last resting place of Former President Harding, and they also visited the office of the Marion Star, the newspaper conducted for many years by the late president.

Better Mail Service.

A change was made last week whereby the mail service to Goodridge is considerably improved. Instead of one mail each way all trains now carry mail, making two trips in each direction. This should prove of value to people residing at both ends of the electric line.

BUTTER INCOME DOUBLES IN TEN YEARS IN STATE

Fine Record Made Proves Spread of Diversified Farming in State.

Total Sales of 830 Creameries in 1922 Bring Total of $72,928,773

The value of butter produced in Minnesota has doubled in the last 10 years, so steadily and rapidly has diversified farming spread, and Minnesota farmers received throughout 1922 an average of 33 1-3 per cent more a pound for butterfat delivered to creameries than in 1913.

Figures covering the operations of the 830 creameries in Minnesota, completed this week by Chris Heen, Minnesota dairy and food commissioner, showed:

The sale price of all butter produced and sold by these creameries last year was $72,928,773.82.

The value of Minnesota's butter output increased $7,000,000 last year over the record of 1921.

It rose from $34,955,864 in 1913 to more than double that value in 1922.

The average price paid to farmers for their butterfat in 1922 was $.4073 a pound, and in 1913 it was $.3154.

The farmer patrons of the 830 creameries received $64,086,143.55 of the $72,928,773.86.

The sale price of all the butter in 1921 was $65,737,460.10 or 11 per cent less than 1922. There were 193,906,927 pounds produced in 1922 and 169,948,472 in 1921. The price paid for butterfat in 1921 was $.4193 a pound.

The rise in the amount and value of Minnesota butter in 1922 increased its lead over all the other states in this particular. The state's butter production is greater than that of all Canada.

The steady growth of diversified farming is shown in the record of increasing butter production in Minnesota in the last ten years:

The pounds of creamery butter produced in 1913 were 123,178,912 and the sale price, $34,955,864.

In 1914—120,806,390 pounds and $33,603,847.
1915—126,150,655 and $34,990,134.
1916—132,390,172 and $41,011,719.
1917—122,104,899 and $49,324,876
1918—133,059,683 and $63,383,257.
1919—123,176,204 and $80,793,278.
1920—139,229,843 and $79,622,867.
1921—169,948,452 and $65,737,460.
1922—193,906,937 and $72,928,773.

The figures for butter are the largest item in the returns of the Minnesota dairy farm, but by no means the only item, Mr. Heen pointed out. In addition there is the skim milk, the cheese, the whole milk production, the dairy calves, and the butter and cream consumed on the farm.

The farmer patrons of the creameries in 1922 were 134,311. In 1921 they were 127,588. The cows owned by them in 1922 were 1,230,583 and in 1921 1,172,315.

Mr. Heen said that particularly gratifying is the fact that 87 per cent of the total money received for butter by the creameries is received by the farmer.

In 1920 the price paid the farmer for a pound of butterfat was $.6339; in 1919 it was $.6320; in 1918, $.5272, and in 1910, the first year in which this figure was reconed, $.3076.

The number of creameries has not increased proportionally. In 1906 there were 726 creameries, and in 1913 there were 852, or 22 more than there were in 1922.

This decrease since 1913 in the number of creameries in the face of the doubled value of butter spells the rise of the farmers' co-operative creameries.

A large proportion of the creameries were private and each handled a comparatively small amount of cream. Now, 600 of the creameries are co-operative. A large number of farmers haul to each creamery, and this greater volume enables larger creameries with better equipment to be installed, and better and more highly paid buttermakers to be employed.

Of the 600 co-operatives, 425 belong to one organization, the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association.

"Another reason for the increase in the value of butter," A. J. McGuire, general manager of this association, said, "is that more creameries are making high class butter today than ever before. Up to two years ago not one-third of the creameries now composing the association sold their butter at the top premium price paid in New York for butter. Now, nearly one-half of our creameries make this price with their product regularly and within a year fully half, if not more, will make this price.

"Several of our creameries are grading their cream now, and paying farmers strictly according to quality. They are raising the quality of the cream on the farm. The Mora creamery paid an average of 44.2 cents a pound for butterfat for its best grade of cream last year."

PERTINENT FACTS FOR PATRONS OF CO-OPERATIVE CREAMERY TO LOOK INTO ABOUT CENTRALIZER

Strong Arguments Advanced in Favor of Farmers' Creameries by Man of Many Years Experience.

The following article is taken from a recent issue of The Butter Maker and contains information which should be of value in convincing every farmer and dairyman that his interests can best be taken care of through the local co-operative creamery. The article follows:

It has been my fortune to have been connected with the industry of dairying and manufacture of butter for years.

During all this time I have had ample opportunity to observe the various ways and manners in which the industry is carried on in the different parts of the country. More and more the conviction has been growing upon me that some very grave and serious evils have crept in—evils, which are a positive menace to the results and the profits to which those, that produce cream, are rightfully entitled.

These lines are written with the particular purpose in mind of calling the attenion to you, as a producer and seller of cream, to some of the factors that operate to make the profits from your cows smaller.

Luckily, my friend, the abusive and detrimental methods so commonly practiced in the production and marketing of cream are very easily rectified once your eyes are opened to them.

Let us reflect upon the matter of marketing. There are two ways for you to dispose of your cream. One is to patronize the local creamery in your home town, while the other is to sell to the so-called "centralizers" either by shipping direct, or by taking it to their stations or appointed buyers.

Before we go farther, a few words about the subject known as centralizers will not be amiss. The word is used to designate persons, corporations or companies engaged in the business of buying cream in the various parts of one or more states, and shipping it by rail to a central point for the purpose of making it into butter. Notice should be taken of the fact that some of the centralizers have immence resources of capital behind them, and extend their operations into nearly every state in the Union where a sufficient amount of cream is produced to make it worth while. To what extent the different centralizers are interallied and co-ordinate their operations by reason of being controlled from the same source, or by reason of the same companies conducting their business under two or more names, is much a matter of conjecture.

To a close observer it seems manifest that some great and very powerful combination of organized capital is at work to garner a profit of the farmers' toils, but its extent and ramifications we cannot know.

As an illustration of the extraordinary influence and power possessed by this group of capital, the rate for the transportation of cream can be mentioned. While ordinary freight and express charges have nearly doubled the past few years, the rates on cream have been almost exempt from any increase, so that today the railroads are handling the immense volume of business involved in its transportation at a very small fraction of what it actually costs. As a matter of fact, the cream is practically carried free, because the charge made is little more than sufficient to return the empty cans.

This condition is somewhat parallel. Estimates are hard to make, but it will be seen that this indirect subsidy granted the centralizers cost the railroads tens of millions of dollars, and is a positive cause of the prohibitive high rates on grain, stock and other commodities. The producer gets the benefit of this cheap transportation when it is used to beat down competition with. Otherwise it is mostly pocketed by the big corporations.

By reason of the advantage of having their raw material transported almost free, the centralizers have succeeded very well in completing their grip on the industry of dairying, and are now in control of the marketing and manufacture of a great part of the cream produced in the country.

It is a well known fact that the centralizers or the interests they represent have never tolerated local or farmer-owned creameries, but systematically tried to strangle them and put them out of business.

To bring this about the pet practice of paying more for cream where they have a local creamery to contend with, and correspondingly less where they have not, is most often resorted to. You know that big business sometimes have used rather shady means to gain their object. Similiary the centralizers in their war on the local creameries have employed tactics that are neither honorable nor legal.

The representations on which they seek to obtain your business are frequently false and misleading.

In substance their claims are: That the system of marketing cream by rail is better and more profitable to the producer than the system of having it manufactured into butter at the local home creamery—most generally owned and operated by the farmers themselves.

In other words you are told that some distant corporation should be trusted with the most important part of your business—namely, that of manufacturing and selling.

Do you really think this is a good policy to follow? Aside from any other consideration, do you think it would be to your advantage to have some powerful organization control the marketing of butterfat just as they now control the grain and stock market?

Another claim upon which the centralizers or their cream stations are soliciting your business is that they can handle inferior or second-grade stuff to as good or better advantage as the local creamery can handle good, clean cream.

On the strength of these two contentions your business and your support is obtained.

But will the claims made by the centralizers in regard to the superiority of their system hold water? No, my friend, they positively will not.

I shall prove that those claims are not sustained by the facts, and that you, by accepting them, permit your credulity to be imposed upon to a degree not very creditable to your intelligence.

I shall prove that the centralizers do not and cannot even approximately produce the results you will get by patronizing and building up your local creamery.

And last, but not least, I shall prove to you that incalculable damage is done the industry of dairying by those interests that have originated and spread the monstrous falsehood that sour, old, low-grade cream has a value equal to high-grade cream.

Take the case of the average creamery in the average town in any state and the chances are that it has one or more cream stations to contend with. That is, the centralizers are there, and their object, of course, is to get the patronage away from the local creamery. From their point of view, it is "good business" if so much of it can be diverted from the creamery that this can no longer operate. If they succeed in eliminating the local plants in a certain territory or section, they have the field for themselves, which was the object in the first place. The first step in the scheme is to spread suspicion and discontent among the patrons. They know well enough that in each community there is a certain number of producers who on account of their peculiar mental makeup will lend them their assistance in destroying the prestige of the local creamery, or the confidence in its operator or officials. They know for instance, that if they pay a little more for butterfat than the local creamery, some of you will broadcast the news over the entire neighborhood, voicing the belief that the buttermaker is a crook and the directors a bunch of thieves and rascals. They know that if your test or weight is manipulated a little so your check is raised half a dollar or so, some of you will be dead sure that the operator steals from you and gives it to Mr. So and So. They know that if the cream buyer pats you on the back and compliments you on the quality of your cream that would grade second or be rejected at the creamery, your vanity will be gratified so that you will sing the praise of cream stations wherever you go. Yes, sad but true, it is these and similar traits in human nature that give the centralizers a good deal of their business.

But, my friend, why do you not stop to consider the reason for the higher price, the raised test or weight, the willingness to accept cream which you knew to be bad?

If you will do so, if you go to the bottom of it, I think you will find it is done in furtherance of a well-defined purpose, and I further think you will come to the conclusion that the grand scheme of it all is to eliminate the local creameries, so the capitalistic interests, represented by the centralizers, can arbitrarily fix the price of butterfat over the entire country. Remember, your particular locality is only one out of thousands of others where the same game is worked and the same methods and the same tactics employed for the same purpose.

You will then come to realize that those hundreds and hundreds of local creameries dotting the country is the very thing which stands between and prevents you and the industry of dairying from being mercilessly exploited by organized capital.

The picking would be rich—beyond the most avaricious dreams—if "big business" could have its own way with the cream produced in the country. It would be by far the biggest plum that ever fell into its lap.

You are helping to bring this result about when you patronize the centralizers in preference to your home creamery. Remember that.

Now let us see if the claims and representations made in order to obtain your business can be verified. Are the centralizers paying your brother dairyman in sections where the local creameries are small and few and far between, or entirely non-existent, the same high price as they are paying in your territory? According to their contention, they should do so. If we find that they do not, you should not rest until you satisfy yourself of the reason why, because the true answer to this question is of very great importance.

Nebraska is one of the states where the centralizers have things very much their own way. Surely, whatever merit their system possesses should therefore be clearly evidenced in the price paid producers of that state.

The cream, on the whole, is not extra good—about the same grade that the butter maker at your creamery said he could not very well use, and which you therefore shipped and received a fancy price for. Did the farmers in Nebraska get the same deal on that kind of stuff? Well, I shall give you a few figures so you may judge for yourself: August 4th to 7th this summer the price of cream in a number of counties in Nebraska was reported as follows: Kimbal county, 25 cents; McPherson county, 24 cents; Polk county, 23 cents; Valley county, 23 cents; Dodge county, 25 cents; Sioux county, 24 cents; and Kearney county, 25 cents.

These prices give you a fair idea of what the Nebraska producer received for his butterfat on the dates mentioned. The average price paid by the local creameries in Minnesota for the same time was not less than 36 cents, or 10 to 14 cents higher. A tremendous difference, my friend—and an awful price for the dairyman of Nebraska to pay for living under and submitting to the regime of the centralizer. More recent reports give the price of butterfat, October 3 to 12, as follows: Box Butte county, 33 cents; Polk county, 31 cents; Sefard county, 30 cents; York county, 33 cents; Hooker county, 30 cents; Keith county, 28 cents; Dodge county, 31 cents. These prices are about 15 cents less than good, well supported local creameries paid on the corresponding dates, and illustrate very clearly what absolute folly it is for a man or a community to engage in the industry of dairying and leave the problem of marketing to the capitalistic interests.

How would you like to have the same conditions and the same prices prevail in your state? You most certainly would if the dreams of the centralizers should come true.

A survey taken in South Dakota on the week of May 29 to June 3, last summer, showed an average price paid by the cream station of 29.7 cents. This survey covered 58 widely scattered towns in the state, and is a fair index to what the cream stations are doing to the producer in South Dakota. The price paid by the local creameries in Minnesota for the same period was 37 to 38 cents.

No, my friend, the cards are stacked, and you are holding a losing hand. You may play the game with the centralizers, and they may lead you on—in the end they will always win.

We shall now see how the producer who ships his cream direct is benefited by the centralizers' system: For the month of April, 1922, Mr. G. C. of Provo, S. D., shipped the ——— Creamery company a total of 360.6 pounds of butterfat, for which he received $112.48, or an average of 31.2 cents. It should be noted that the ——— Creamery company is one of the very largest centralizers, and therefore in position to do as well for its patrons as any of the rest. The price paid by local creameries in Minnesota for the corresponding month was not less than 38 cents. It therefore appears that Mr. G. C. stood a loss of almost $25.00 in one month by reason of marketing his cream under the centralizers' system, instead of under a system of well developed local creameries.

This is a very heavy penalty to pay for the mistaken idea that the centralizers can be trusted to take proper care of the producers' interest. Remember, thousands of other direct shippers paid the same penalty and at the same rate.

Of all the devices invented to "farm" the farmer," cream shipping and cream stations are the most vicious.

The facts and figures just quoted give food for serious thought. How can the industry of dairying in those and other states profit and prosper with a handicap of 7 to 15 cents on every pound of butterfat produced?

Business men of the country have lately spent a lot of energy telling the world that "Prosperity follows the dairy cow." This is true with modification only. Some day, perhaps, it will dawn upon those well-meaning gentlemen that whenever and wherever poor cream and centralizers are too much in evidence on the trail of the dairy cow, profits and prosperity stay well out of sight.

It is in recognition of this fact that the producers in some of the states engaged most intensively in dairying have dotted the country with hundreds and hundreds of creameries—built and operated by the farmers themselves. By so doing they are profiting probably as much as 10 cets on every pound of butterfat, as compared with the record of prices paid by the centralizers in states where the producer chiefly markets his cream through this specially privileged group of capital

Maybe some of you who read this are patrons of local creameries. If so, always bear in mind that its success is absolutely vital to you.

Remember that those interests who are so solicitous for your welfare, so bent on pleasing and benefiting you, in order to break up the local creamery, are perhaps the same interests that are exploiting the producers in sections that do not enjoy the protection of such.

Flattery often wins out where truth wouldn't get a look-in.

Soo Line Wreck at Maple Lake Imperils Lives

Twenty-two Passengers Injured When Train No. 109 Leaves Track.

Low Grade at Point of Derailment Averts More Serious Disaster.

Two persons were taken to a Minneapolis hospital Wednesday evening as the result of a wreck on the Soo Line two miles west of Maple Lake, Minn., last Wednesday evening, when three cars of the Winnipeg Flyer were derailed by a defective rail while the train was traveling 50 miles per hour.

Eight others, slightly injured when the three coaches left the track and went over o two foot embankment, were treated by physicians at Annandale, and continued on their journey. A number of others were shaken and scratched when the train broke in two and the three cars made a short but spectacular plunge over the embankment. The observation car on the rear of the train left the rails and straddled the track.

Following is a list of those injured:

Mrs. B. F. Scroggin, Oak, Neb., fractured skull.

H. E. House, Winnipeg, cut and internally injured

Russell, Sioux City, Iowa.
Ruth Ainsworth, Minneapolis.

The train which left Minneapolis at 5:40 p. m. Wednesday was speeding west when, west of Maple Lake there was a sudden lurch, throwing hundreds of passengers out of their seats.

According to Soo officials, the defective rail was due to an "air fume" in the rail, caused in manufacture. The rails and ties on the stretch of track at this point are new, they stated.

Flying glass and the sudden lurch of the train caused many minor cuts and bruises but only the two severely injured were unable to continue the journey. Mrs. Percy Moody, Senlac, Sask., was to be taken to a hospital in Winnipeg on her arrivel there.

A special train made up after the accident reached Thief River Falls the following day at 9:45 a. m., carrying mail and passengers.

Advertising to Help in Sales Campaign Begun by American Wheat Growers

Seven Sales Offices Are Now Maintained in United States and One in England.

Minnesota wheat growers for the first time in the history of the United States not only are taking their wares to market, but are launching upon an advertising campaign designed to show the merits of their product and the ability of their co-operative sales establishment to provide wheat efficiently for millers and export buyers. The August 15 issue of the Northwestern Miller, internationally known publication for the trade, carries a page advertisement of the American Wheat Growers Associated, Inc., the exclusive sales agency for the wheat pooled by the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association and eight more similar state organizations.

Year by year the farmers' marketing agency makes a greater proportion of sales directly to manufacturing millers and to importers, according to Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, and general counsel for the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Co-operative Marketing association. The advertising campaign which has just been put under way will inform this part of the trade of the services they can secure directly from the farmers who grow the wheat.

"The American Wheat Growers Associated is the exclusive sales agency for the wheat controlled by nine state co-operative marketing associations," the first advertisements recites. "As a consequence it is in a position to fill the needs of millers for practically any variety or quality grown in the United States in quantities ranging from a carload to millions of bushels.

"The stability and responsibility of the American Wheat Growers Associated have been established beyond question by former operation on a lesser scale under the name 'Northwest Wheat Growers Associated.' During these years, under the same management as at present, it has obtained a reputation for efficiency and business integrity, for precise attention to its legal and moral obligations in every transaction, which will be jealously protected in future operation."

Indicative of the size to which the marketing associations have grown in three years time, a list of eight sales offices is appended to the advertisement. Seven of these are located in the United States; and the eighth in London, is the address of the British firm which handles American co-operative wheat exclusively.

Baseball Season Over.

No more games are schedlued for this season and the Thief River Falls baseball club has entered a state of inertia from which it is hoped the boys will emerge next year stronger than ever. The locals have had a successful season and the management deserves credit for the excellent showing made.

You can always tell a grass widow by the color of the flowers she wears on her hat.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS.

ED. HANCE DIES IN RAIL MISHAP AT MILWAUKEE

No Particulars Available Concerning Cause of Fatal Accident.

Body Shipped Here and Funeral Services Conducted on Tuesday.

Edward Hance, for 21 years a resident of Thief River Falls, met death last Friday in the railroad yards at Milwaukee, Wis., where he had been employed for several months. All efforts to obtain details of the accident have been futile, but circumstances seem to indicate that Mr. Hance was run over by a train and that death was instantaneous. The body was shipped to this city and the funeral was held from St. Catherine's church at 10 o'clock yesterday forenoon, with interment in the Catholic cemetery.

Deceased was born February 2, 1869, at Austin, Minn., and in 1887 was married at Lewisville, Minn., to Miss Fdorence Mireault, who survives him. Twenty-one years ago the family moved to Thief River Falls, which has since been their home. Mr. Hance had for several years been employed by the Soo Line here but was let out during the strike last fall.

Six children are left to mourn the death of their father. They are Mrs. Joe Votava, Birney, Mont.; Gene, Sheridan, Wyo.; Magdalena, Scoby, Mont.; Mrs. Keo LaCoe, Rose, Florentine and Alphie, all of Thief River Falls. Mr. Hance also is survived by two brothers, James of Dorothy, this state, and Joseph of Red Lake Falls, and two sisters, Mrs. A. J. Cloutier, Duluth, and Mrs. Fred Morette, Oakland, Calif.

The following relatives from a distance were in attendance at the funeral: Gene Hance, Sheridan, Wyo.; Magdalena Hance, Scoby, Mont., Mr. and Mrs. James Hance, Dorothy; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hance, Red Lake Falls; Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Cloutier, Duluth, Cyril Mireault, Dorothy; Mrs. Narcissus Mireault, Red Lake Falls and McGuire Peppin of Red Lake Falls.

Mr. Hance was a member of the Woodmen of the World lodge in Thief River Falls.

Commercial Club Wants Action in Improving Two Bad Sections of Highway

Jefferson Trail Near City Limits Declared Almost Impassable During Certain Seasons.

In a resolution passed at last week's meeting of the Commercial club, the state highway department is asked to take immediate measures to improve the three miles of the Jefferson highway, beginning at the fair grounds corner and running west. The resolution also included a request that gravel surfacing be provided on the half mile of road running west from the bridge at the south end of the city limits, on the same highway.

It was brought out at the meeting that the stretch of road west of the fair grounds has been in poor condition for some time, and in wet weather is practically impassable. There is no gravel surface on this part of the highway and it appeared to be the opinion of club members that this should be provided without further delay. The piece of road south of the city, while it will not be a main traveled route after the proposed improvements have been made on the Thief River Falls-St. Hilaire road, will nevertheless be used by a large number of farmers who live west of the city. It has long been known as an extremely bad stretch and is very much in need of gravel surfacing.

Thief River Falls gets much unfavorable publicity from these extremely bad links in the otherwise high class road known as the Jefferson highway.

Former Governor Allen of Kansas to Deliver Speech Here in the Near Future

Through the efforts of certain citizens of Thief River Falls the people of this community will in the near future be given an opportunity to hear Former Governor Allen of Kansas, who attained national fame through the Kansas Industrial Court. The Kansan is planning a speaking tour of Northwestern states and has consented to include Thief River Falls in his itinerary, it was announced here on Monday.

Neither the date of the former governor's appearance nor the subject of his address have as yet been announced. The Tribune will give further particulars as these become available.

Mrs. A. H. Erickson Passes Away Tuesday Afternoon

Succumbs to Lingering Illness After Four Months Confinement at Home of Parents.

Mrs. A. H. Erickson, wife of A. H. Erickson, died Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 4th, 6:15 o'clock, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kling, living one and a half miles east of Thief River Falls. She had been ailing considerably for two years and for the past four months had been confined to her bed. The nature of her illness was cancer, from which she had suffered intensely for the past few weeks until she finally passed away yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Erickson was still in the tender years of her earthly existence, being but 42 years of age. She was a kind and loving wife and mother and leaves a host of friends who will be grieved to learn of her demise.

Louise Kling Erickson was born at Wilmar, Minn., March 9, 1881 and spent her childhood days there. She was married February 11, 1900, to Andrew H. Erickson, at Crookston, Minn., and later moved to Lancaster, from which place the Erickson family moved to Thief River Falls two years ago and where they have resided until the present time. Besides a grief-stricken husband, Andrew H. Erickson and her only son, Earl, Mrs. Erickson is survived by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. Kling, and two sisters, Mrs. Addie Piprew of Thief River Falls and Mrs. C. M. Gillette of Rose Lake, Idaho, who had been at her sister's bedside for the past three weeks.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at two o'clock from the Augustana church, Rev. Albin A. Larson officiating. Interment will be made in the Greenwood cemetery.

HOLSTEIN SALE HERE OCTOBER 3 PROVIDES CHANCE TO DAIRYMEN

More Than Score of Choice Registered Animals Included in Offering.

Preparations are going forward at a gratifying pace for the second annual Holstein consignment sale, which will be conducted by the Pennington County Holstein Breeders' association at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, October 3, beginning at 12 o'clock noon. Present indications point to a very successful sale in every particular.

The listings include some of the best Holsteins to be found in the county, and a total of 23 registered animals will be placed upon the auction block. Of these 21 are females and two bulls. Consignments are to be made from the herds of J. H. Hardesty & Son, Waldie Christensen, Fred Beerbower, S. E. Hunt and M. T. McFarland. The herds of these breeders have reputations which reach far beyond the confines of Pennington county and the animals to be placed on sale are of unusually high quality. Every animal offered will be accompanied by registration papers and complete pedigrees. In the offering will be several A. R. O. cows and also some show ring winners.

In order to care for buyers who may not wish to invest in registered Holsteins at this time or who may wish to secure more bulls of serviceable age, the local association has made arrangements to care for such wants immediately following the sale of registered stock. Animals of high grade may be secured from Pennington county breeders at private sale, although no listings of such animals will be prepared in advance.

Secretary M. T. McFarland of the association requests The Tribune to announce that further information and complete catalog of the sale may be secured by writing to him at Thief River Falls.

Any farmer interested in the improvement of his dairy herd should make it a point to attend the annual Holstein sale. Keep in mind the date, Wednesday, October 3, 1923.

Victim of Rail Accident Buried Here Saturday

The remains of Edward Horejsh, young son of John Horejsh of this city who died at the Warren hospital last Wednesday from injuries received when he was run over by a freight train at Alvarado the previous day, were brought to this place Thursday and the funeral conducted Saturday afternoon from the Methodist church. Rev. J. B. Smith officiated at the services and interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Officials of the Soo railway were very considerate and offered every assistance within their power to the bereaved family. All of the hospital and doctor bills, as well as the funeral expenses, were paid by the company. Considering the circumstances surrounding the accident in which the young man lost his life, the action of the railway officials deserves commendation.

BIG DELEGATION OF DAIRYMEN TO SEE STATE SHOW

Ten Farmers of Pennington County Go as Guests of Commercial Club.

Trip of Much Value to Delegates and to Industry They Represent.

The Pennington county delegation to the State Fair and Northwest Dairy Show left Thief River Falls Monday evening, and will spend the remainder of the week at the fair, returning to this city next Sunday morning. This delegation, consisting of ten of the representative dairymen of Pennington county, is making the trip under the auspices of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. At a meeting held three weeks ago the club decided to arrange the matter, and that the work of the club has been highly successful is attested by the fact that every one of the ten men originally chosen by the club to compose the delegation is this week in attendance at the fair and dairy show.

All transportation and admission expenses of the delegation are provided from a fund subscribed by Thief River Falls business men through the efforts of a committee representing the Commercial club. The fund is considerably larger than the amount necessary to take care of the expenses of this year's delegation, and it is the intention of the club to place on deposit whatever balance remains, to be used for a similar purpose next year. The club plans to choose the delegates next year upon the percentage of gain made in dairying during the year. That is, the ten farmers in Pennington county showing the greatest increase in dairy products sold over the previous year will without further ceremony become the Commercial club's guests and will spend a week at the state fair and dairy show

Community Club Girls Will Re-open Club Rooms Monday Night, Sept. 10

Local Red Cross Donates $100 Per Month to Further Activities of Organization.

The local Girls' Community club will hold its first meeting of this season on Monday evening, Sept. 10, at the club rooms located on Horace avenue and Fourth street. The girls discontinued their activities at the beginning of this summer, but they feel that now is an opportune time to again assume the responsibility of providing suitable club rooms and proper entertainment for their members and others during leisure hours. The local Red Cross organization recently voted to donate to the club the sum of $100 each month, which will be used to further community work in this city. The meeting scheduled for Monday night will be taken up in discussion of various phases of the work to be accomplished this winter. A special speaker has been provided for the occasion and it is the desire of the members that anyone interested come to the club room at 8 o'clock on Monday evening.

New Manager of Ireland Lumber Company on Job

F. M. Disher, accompanied by his family, arrived in the city last week from Richey, Mont., and has purchased an interest in the Ireland Lumber company. Mr. Disher conducted a lumber business at Richey for many years, so he is thoroughly conversant with matters connected with such an establishment. The same policies on which the company has heretofore been conducted will be continued under his management, said Mr. Disher, in signifying his desire to give the very best of service to be had in the lumber business. The family will occupy the residence at 415 Bridge street, formerly occupied by B. G. Rounds.

Associate Editor Seeing Fair.

M. A. Mattison, associate editor of The Tribune, left last night for the Twin cities where he will spend a few days viewing the "big state fair." He made the trip down by car, having left with Representative Waldal from St. Hilaire directly after the meeting of potato growers which the latter was conducting at that place.

Ladies' Aid Meeting.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Augustana Lutheran church will be entertained by Mrs. H. Moline and Mrs. Ole Erickson on Wednesday, Sept. 12. in the church basement. Everybody cordially invited.

SPUD GROWERS OF COUNTY HEAR ORGANIZER TALK

Meetings at Goodridge and St. Hilaire Create Co-operative Interest.

Marius Waldal Explains Organization Plan of Potato Growers' Exchange.

Two meeting were held in the county this week for the purpose of giving publicity to the plans of the Minnesota Potato Growers' Exchange and increasing the membership of that organization. The first meeting, conducted at Goodridge Monday evening, was not very well attended owing to the large number of potato growers of that vicinity being in attendance at the state fair. The St. Hilaire meeting Tuesday evening was more successful, however, and quite a number of growers signed as members of the Potato Growers' Exchange.

Representative Marius Waldal of Plummer, the first vice chairman of the executive committee of the state exchange, conducted the meeting. In his talk Mr. Waldal explained in detail the purpose and plan of the co-operative potato selling agency. In speaking on the necessity of organization as a means of self-preservation for the farmers, Mr. Waldal pointed to the positions occupied by other members of society. He said that business and professional men are organized with benefit to themselves, and stated that labor in America now occupies a position which would be wholly impossible except through organization.

The co-operative movement among farmers is nothing new, said Mr. Waldal. Certain organizations of this class have done well while others have failed. But, said the speaker, whether they have failed or succeeded, they have not been able to attain a stabilized price on the commodity handled.

Former Thief River Falls Man Passes in Wisconsin After Lingering Illness

F. A. Gobler, Assistant Postmaster Here Many Years, Falls Victim to Tuberculosis.

News reached Thief River Falls last week of the death of Fred A. Gobler at Rice Lake, Wis. Mr. Gobler had suffered for some time with tuberculosis and his death was not unexpected. The funeral took place at Rice Lake under auspices of the Masonic order. The Masonic and Eastern Star lodges here sent beautiful wreaths to the funeral. Mr. Gobler during his residence in Thief River Falls was secretary of Northern Lodge No. 36 and Worthy Patron of the Eastern Stars.

Deceased was a resident of Thief River Falls for 15 years prior to March, 1922, when he removed his family to Rice Lake, where he purchased a farm. While here he was employed in the post-office and for many years was assistant postmaster. Mr. Gobler is survived by his wife and two children, Alice and John.

Schools in Session.

Tuesday morning the schools of Thief River Falls started in earnest upon another year's grind, and before the end of this week everything will be running along smoothly. While some of the kids naturally feel that the vacation has been all too short, most of them are glad to get back to school, and they take hold of their work with renewed vigor because of the vacation period they have enjoyed.

Masonic Picnic Success.

The Labor Day picnic held last Monday at Squaw Point park by members of the Masonic and Eastern Star lodges was very successful from every angle. About fifty carloads, many from nearby towns, came to enjoy a day's outing and no one was disappointed for the weather was ideal. The entertainment committee provided various amusements, the eats were quantitative as well as qualitative and doubtless many will look forward to the time when this annual event again takes place.

On Month's Vacation.

H. B. Newell, local pharmacist, accompanied by Mrs. Newell, left this morning for an extended auto tour which will take them to many points in Minnesota and Illinois. The greater part of the four weeks recreation they expect to enjoy will be spent in Belvidere, Ill., where Mr. Newell has a brother. They will, however, remain several days with friends at Canton, Minn. The Newells are making the trip in their new Studebaker special six for which Mr. Newell is the local agent.

Address of Aaron Sapiro at Crookston Soon Will Prove Big Event of Year

Noted Speaker and Expert on Marketing to Appear at Crookston September 10.

Aaron Sapiro's address on co-operative marketing, especially of potatoes, is probably the most important meeting that will be held this section of the year. He is scheduled to speak at Crookston in the armory at 7:30 p. m., Monday, September 10.

"Nowhere in America," says C. G. Selvig, chairman of arrangements for the Crookston meeting, "is there a man who is better qualified to discuss the farm economic problem from a dollar and cents basis. He is sought from coast to coast by leaders who are interested in obtaining better prices for farm products, for the system of co-operative marketing of which he is the father, is the only plan that admittedly is sound, that has produced results. Only a few years ago, the prune growers of California were destitute. They actually were in want. Sapiro's commodity marketing plan put them on their feet and made the business of growing prunes one of the best in the country. Whole cities in California owe their present prosperity to commodity co-operative marketing."

Mr. Sapiro's address is coming at an especially important time, in view of the agricultural depression prevailing in the Northwest. Regardless of whether farmers agree with his plan of meeting the marketing problem all are urged to come out and hear his explanation.

Essentially, Mr. Sapiro's plan differs from ordinary co-operation in that his organizations operate on a non-stock, non-profit sale and re-sale basis, instead of including a consignment and patronage dividend program.

PENNINGTON EXHIBITS NOW IN POSITION AT BIG MINNESOTA FAIR

Fine Display of Agricultural Products Secured From Local Farmers.

After a week spent in searching the county for the best to be found in agricultural products, several large boxes containing everything from plums and apples to stalks of corn nearly the heighth of a telephone pole, were sent by express last Thursday evening to St. Paul. The next morning Orton Olson and J. S. Arneson, in charge of the exhibit, began the work of getting the assortment ready for the opening of the fair Saturday morning. While perhaps not quite as large as the exhibit from some other counties in the state, the showing made by Pennington county is nevertheless highly creditable and will attract its share of attention at the fair.

It is planned to make the county exhibit at the state fair an annual event in the future, and with the start made this year it is thought that by the time another fair rolls around Pennington county will be in the running for some of the prize money. In order to make a showing really worth while, plans must be made a sufficient time in advance of the state fair to make possible the gathering of an exhibit which will in all respects depict the agricultural resources of the county to the best advantage. This requires a working organization of some magnitude and a certain amount of funds.

This year's exhibit at the state fair is a good start and with the right kind of encouragement will grow into something really worth while. Pennington is too good a county to be continually hiding its light under a bushel. People from other parts of the country should be shown what can be done here by those who cultivate the soil.

Religious Instruction to Be Provided Thief River Falls Pupils This Year

Under authority of a law passed at the last session of the Minnesota legislature, providing that pupils attending public schools in the state may be excused three hours each week for the purpose of receiving religious instruction, arrangemets have ben made by six of the churches in Thief River Falls to give such instruction on Friday of each week during the period following the afternoon recess. The churches included in the list are Zion Lutheran, Trinity Lutheran, Presbyterian, Methodist, Augustana and St. John's Lutheran.

Parents desiring their children to be enrolled in these classes will receive a card upon which they may designate the church preferred. This card when presented to the public school teacher in charge of the child will serve as an excuse for the child's absence from regular school work during the period devoted to religious instruction. The work in the public schools will be carried on in the usual way and the children not taking religious instruction will do their regular work Friday afternoon.

NO WINTER SHOW FOR PRESENT IS FINAL DECISION

Proposition Definitely Dropped by Commercial Club on Thursday.

Number of Obstacles Develop to Prevent Success of Undertaking.

The movement for a Winter Show in Thief River Falls, which started so briskly last spring, came to an end Thursday at the meeting of the Commercial club when it was decided to let the matter drop for the present. The proposition looked feasible at its inception but as the season progressed one obstacle after another presented itself until it finally became obvious that the undertaking could not successfully be carried through.

In order to make the proposition worth while, a great deal of work and expense would be necessary in its preparation. This would require a large organization and an ample supply of funds, besides a considerable length of time in which to do the preliminary work. Conditions at the present time are not such as to make it an easy matter to provide the funds, neither is it possible to provide a capable organization by getting started so late in the season. Some members of the Commercial club also questioned the wisdom of putting on a winter show because of the injury which might thereby be done to the county fair. It was pointed out by these men that better results could be obtained by securing the united support of everyone in helping to make next year's county fair bigger and better than ever before.

Other members of the club suggested that the winter shows be held in conjunction with the dairy calf and sheep club exhibits and also in connection with the annual show of the Pennington County Poultry association. A discussion of this proposal brought out the fact that the club exhibits are held early in November while the poultry show must for reasons peculiar to itself be held not earlier than December. This precluded the possibility of using either of these exhibits as a nucleus for the winter shows, making it necessary to duplicate to a large extent these exhibitions at the proposed winter show.

Peter Sorenson, Trampled by Bull Three Weeks Ago Fails in Fight for Life

Peter Sorenson, pioneer farmer residing north of Rosewood in New Solum township, died last Saturday at his home. He had been a resident of New Solum township for the past 37 years and was one of the early settlers of that community. About three weeks ago Mr. Sorenson was badly injured when gored by a bull and these injuries were the cause of his death.

Deceased was born in Norway on May 8, 1852, and was at the time of his death 72 years, three months and 23 days old. The funeral was held Saturday at the Rindal church north of Rosewood and burial made in the Rindal cemetery.

Masons Install Officers.

Next Monday night, Sept. 10, the Northern Chapter No. 82 R. A. M. will hold installation proceedings at the Masonic Temple on Main avenue. The business meeting will start promptly at 8 o'clock. A sumptuous chicken dinner will be served at ten o'clock, followed by social festivities. Any visiting members who happen to be in town that day are requested to present themselves and the committee in charge of arrangements promises to entertain them.

No Labor Day Observance.

Monday was Labor Day, a national holiday, but in Thief River Falls there was no general observance of the day. The four banks and a number of the stores remained closed all day, while other establishments were open for business as usual. Union workmen, where circumstances made it possible, took a day off.

D. P. O'Neill in City.

D. P. O'Neill of the State Board of Grain Appeals, for many years a resident of Thief River Falls and former state senator from this district, was in the city over Sunday. Mr. O'Neill came up to attend to some business affairs connected with his farm property south of the city. The Tribune office acknowledges a pleasant call.

Middle River Pioneer Quits.

With its issue of last week the Middle River Pioneer gave up its ghost and is no more. Lack of patronage is given as the reason by E. M. Wilson, who has published the paper for the past ten months. R. D. V. Carr, owner of the plant, will likely sell the outfit or move it to another location.

Washington Members of Wheat Growers Have No Intention of Disbanding

Report of Withdrawal Evidently Started by Competitors to Injure Co-operative Concern.

A grain trade publication having considerable circulation in the west and northwest recently printed a paragraph declaring that "members of the Washington Wheat Growers' association have voted to disincorporate that co-operative marketing organization in a special election held in Spokane."

This statement, according to W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association, is entirely without foundation. "The Washington Wheat Growers association is one of the most active concerns in America today," said Mr. Frederick. "Far from disincorporation it will have this year considerably more wheat in its pool than ever before in its history. I have this information directly from the Washington headquarters in response to a query regarding the accuracy of the statement in the grain trade paper.

"The Washington association has always been the recipient of adverse criticism from that part of the grain trade which opposes co-operative wheat marketing. It was the first association to be organized and has suffered the brunt of the attacks on the movement. At one time last year the statement was pretty generally spread that the Washington association had quit functioning because of a dissatisfied membership. So just to show how far this was from the truth, a special election was called on the question of continuing or disbanding, at which members voted more than 75 per cent in favor of continuance.

"The co-operative marketing concerns are built to handle wheat which in the past has gone through other hands than those of the farmers—at a profit. It is looked upon by those interests just as any other competition would be, a thing to be rid of if possible and so it must expect to have the opposition of these people, and the opposition of competitors sometimes even extend to untrue statements."

Newspaper Gives Praise to Minnesota Highways

Chicago Tribune Staff Writer on Trip Lauds Recent Road Development in This State.

Finding much to commend about Minnesota highways on returning from an extended tour to observe road conditions in middle and northwestern states, J. L. Jenkins, automobile editor, writes in the Chicago Tribune:

"One man's energy, forehandedness and good roads salesmanship is credited with the completion in two years' time of a traversable state highway system in Minnesota totaling exactly 7,000 miles.

"The man is Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner and originator of the road plan which in this surprisingly short time brought the state from the rear to one of the foremost ranks in highway development, and from mud trails to smooth gravel roads, each of which carry an average of 710 vehicles a day in both tourist and local traffic."

Reviewing highway improvements under the new plan, the recruiting of the big force of patrolmen, the marking of the trunk routes, and other accomplishments of the first two years, Mr. Jenkins continues: "All of this work has been done on a trunk highway fund revenue of not more than $10,000,000 a year and without the issuing of state bonds to cover the huge improvement.

"Commissioner Babcock was a member of the original commission. From the beginning he urged a better system of roads to aid the farmer and predicted the rapid development of the automobile and its consequent need of through highways and permanent improvements.

"Advocates of a gasoline tax of 2 cents a gallon to aid in road building are sweeping the state now, and a gasoline tax amendment will be voted, it is believed, at the 1924 general election."

Incidentally, mention is made of the highway bond failure in the last legislature. Illinois already has issued $60,000,000 of highway bonds and soon will vote on and probably authorize a new issue of $100,000,000.

Gypsum Vases Are Found in Old Kind Tut's Tomb

A lot of people who live in this city and vicinity read with interest the accounts of the wonderful things that were found in King Tut's tomb. Probably many of them expressed the wish that they could be there to see, without ever realizing that they themselves live surrounded by the same material from which the great monarch's treasures were made.

"Twelve alabaster vases!" the antiquarian would call out to the checking clerk listing the discoveries. And the professors, a living queen or two, dukes, earls and common folk present would crowd around to see.

The alabaster from which the Egyptians made beautiful vessels for ceremony, ornament or utility is no more nor less than gypsum, the material used everywhere today for walls and ceilings. The ancients also used gypsum in their building, ceiling the interior of their pyramids with it.

Now, in the specially processed form that is called sheetrock, the fireproof wallboard, gypsum is in general demand by builders. It has many natural merits. For example, it will not burn, and so contributes great protection to any building in which it is used. It will not warp. It is impervious to cold and damp, is vermine-proof and sound-proof. It is one of the most lasting materials that go into any house. Factory cast and processed, sheetrock comes all ready for use, and by simply nailing it to the joists and studding, solid, standard walls and ceilings are quickly made.

Racing Auto Takes Gas and Oil "On the Run"

While racing along at a speed of nearly 50 miles an hour to break a record, an automobile recently was supplied with gas, oil, water, and relief drivers without stopping the car during a 3,155-mile run made in 50 hours 21 minutes. Although three stops were made for tires during this time, the engine was kept going without pause. All the other supplies were taken aboard, without stopping the machine, from another car which ran alongside during the period of delivery.

Radio Speeds Up Taking of Moving Pictures

Radio carried orders of the movie director to 5,000 members of the cast in a big scene in a western studio recently. Where, usually, the megaphone is used to shout instructions, while camera men are turning the cranks, this director, standing at a point from which he had a clear view of all the actors, spoke his orders calmly into a sending instrument, which made it heard clearly all over the lot. The directing, somewhat difficult because of the number of people employed, was simplified by use of radio, and the movie man predicted that it will be repeated in other big scenes. The same system was used to increase the carrying power of broadcast messages and concerts at the receiving end. Use of radio in this case not only spared the director's voice, but it produced better results by making it possible for all the actors quickly to go through with the scene without frequent stops.

Make Poison-Gas Test in Three Minutes

Simple tests to find the degree of poisoning from a gas known as carbon monoxide are now possible with the invention of an instrument that shows how much a person has been affected within three minutes, where formerly it took from 24 to 48 hours before this could be accurately determined. The apparatus may be carried in the pocket and is expected to prove of particular value in mines, where this gas is a much-dreaded menace. Because of the compactness of the new instrument and the fact that it can be applied to a patient by one who has had no special training, it will be of broad general service, it is predicted. Government experts, who tried it on a young girl, assert that it is the quickest method known to detect the gas.

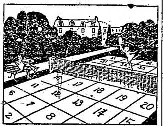
Tennis Court in Squares to Teach Accuracy

Looking like a great checkerboard, except that each square has a number, a tennis court has been devised to teach accuracy. While an instructor calls out the numbers, the player is required to place the ball in the required section. The practice provides training not only for the hands and feet, but also for the mind, because of the quickness with which the numbers are called.



Equipping the Wheelbarrow with Shock Absorbers

The shocks suffered when pushing a wheelbarrow over rough ground can be largely eliminated by providing the wheel with shock absorbers made from buggy-spring leaves. The leaves used for this purpose have eyes at the ends; each is cut to a length of about 8 in., and has three or four screwholes drilled through it. The eyes are reamed out so that they will accommodate the axle of the wheel and allow it to turn easily, and the springs are screwed to the underside of the wheelbarrow frame, the eyes being turned down.

Secure Latch for Paddocks

It is desirable to have the gates of stables and paddocks provided with a latch that cannot be opened by the horses. A good latch, that is absolutely secure, and has been found to be very useful on the stallion paddock at the University of Illinois, is shown in the drawing. The gate is made so that it touches the gatepost at the bottom first, and the top must be sprung in in order to hook the latch. There is not a chance for the gate to open when the latch is in position; the harder the stallion rubs or pushes against the gate, the tighter the latch becomes.

Immediate Relief Needed for Near East Refugees

The American-Turkish peace treaty has precipitated new burdens upon the Near East Relief organization, and involves an immediate urgent appeal to the American public for emergency relief funds, according to Dr. George E. White, director of the Minnesota Near East Relief.

According to advices received by Dr. White from Ney York and Constantinople this week, the Near East Relief has exhausted the funds it set aside for the feeding of the refugees, this shortage having arisen just at the moment when the peace pact releases 50,000 additional refugees from Turkish camps in Anatolia. These 50,000 Greeks and Armenians are penniless, near starvation, and, while they can not remain on Turkish soil, there are no resources in Greece and the surrounding islands to take care of additional refugees.

"The Near East Relief is facing a critical situation," Dr. White explained. "In pity we yearn to help these people, and so are appealing again to the generosity of Americans. A gift of $5 will supply meals at five cents to 100 persons for one day. Minnesota is asked to do its share in raising this emergency fund."

Without additional funds, the Near East Relief has resources adequate only to take care of the 115,000 orphans whom it is feeding, sheltering and educating. The supplies intended for these children cannot be sacrificed to the adults.

"Sixty days, perhaps thirty, will see this emergency met or these people dead," relief workers in Constantinople have advised Mr. White. "War and poverty stricken Greece is already caring for 1,250,000 refugees. The Near East Relief awaits the verdict of America in this crisis."

Special Markers Soon to Go on 'Babcock' Roads

Rice County Signs Will Honor Founder of Minnesota Highway System; Also Name County.

Road signs bearing the insignia "Babcock Road" at the top and "Rice County" below will soon appear at two-mile intervals on trunk highways in Rice county, says the Northfield Independent. The signs are now being prepared by County Highway Engineer J. C. McElherne, acting on instructions of the county board.

The color scheme of the signs will be a dark green lettering on an orange background, with a star of orange surrounded by a green circle in the center of the plate. The number of the highway will be designated by figures in the center of the star.

The signs will be mounted on steel posts and will be placed at intervals of two miles along trunk highways Nos. 1, 21 and 60.

The new signs will serve two purposes. They will honor the founder of Minnesota's trunk highway system, C. M. Babcock, and will serve as a constant reminder to visitors that they are in Rice county.

Highway "Shake-Ups" Are Costing People Millions of Dollars Unnecessarily

National Automobile Officials Protest Against "Political" Waste of Public Funds.

Thief River Falls automobile owners are urged to insure themselves biggest returns for the taxes they pay towards better roads by joining members of the American Automobile association in a nation-wide fight to keep road work out of politics.

Highway departments in 18 states were re-organized or put under new management the first three and a half months this year by legislative action or because of changes in administration, says an association bulletin, and the resulting loss to the public is appalling. The good roads board of the association points out that the departments handle work running from $2,000,000 to $40,000,000 a year and adds that such a turning over would wreck the private business of like importance. Changes ranged from the usual new executive with the incoming administration to complete re-organization and one state made the second change in four years.

"Changes in highway department administration and plans should be made only on sound business principles for highest efficiency and economy, and not merely for political expediency as seems to be indicated in some recent turnovers," says the association bulletin. "Business concerns entrusted with such large outlays must plan five to 20 years ahead, but the difficulty in applying this well-known business rule to state highway departments will be appreciated when 18 out of 48 states made sweeping changes in such short order."

The national organization urges auto tax payers to post themselves on highway plans and by helping to keep things running smoothly to advance the good roads work as fast and as economically as possible. This will mean the most good roads and the least politics for the road funds, they assert.

Minnesota's Drawing Card.

The fame of Minnesota's highway system has spread to all surrounding states, and particularly to Iowa, says the St. Peter Herald. From a score to a hundred Iowa cars pass through our town every day, and they may be found on every highway in the state. The Iowans are learning much—not only of our roads, but of our ideal summer climate, and of our other resources. Show them every courtesy, and make them more than welcome. Let them depart with the kindliest sentiments towards Minnesota and her people.

The Thing to Do.
Delighted With Minnesota

Every day we hear people from Maine, Missouri and Texas, who have been through Minnesota, declaring that they never have seen such summer beauty as they find in this wonderful domain of wood and lake. They go home to spread out fame, and to urge others to come to Minnesota for their summer vacations. Every visitor is an asset to Minnesota. We should remember this when we are asked to approve of good roads legislation. Every dollar spent on Minnesota roads helps to increase tourist traffic and therefore helps to make Minnesota better known throughout the country. We have everything here for the traveler; let's get him here by attenion to our roads.—Winnebago Enterprise.

Roads Are for Road Signs.

No traveler on Minnesota roads who has hunted over an aggregation of twenty signs at a cross roads in order to pick out one which gives the direction and distance to the city or village which is his destination, will have anything to say but praise for the law passed by the legislature against advertising signs along the highways. The roads are for road signs and any other kind are out of place along highways. Mr. Babcock has ordered the removal of all excepting official trunk highway signs and markers from the trunk highways on or before December 1st. The county commissioners and township boards should follow the lead of the state highway department and order the removal of signs along country and township roads.—Elbow Lake Herald.

Poor Newspaper Policy.

The Twin City papers have been printing an alleged interview from Senator Magnus Johnson in which he is represented as saying that the country was headed for a violent revolution, and that blood would flow, if things were not soon righted. It was a very lurid statement, and sounded much like the utterance of a red revolutionist. Now comes the senator and flatly denies that he ever said it. He says he is utterly opposed to all forms of violence in bringing about political and economical reforms; that he is opposed to socialism, the I. W. W. doctrine, sovietism, and all that sort of thing. He says that while many things are wrong, he and his party propose remedies which are strictly in line with constitutional methods, and that daily papers in printing the so-called "interview" grossly misrepresented his attitude. It should seem that the Twin City papers will never learn that misrepresentation is a very poor political weapon.—St. James Plaindealer.

Stanley Sorenson, graduate with the class of '23 from the local high school and well known basket ball star and athlete, has accepted a position as salesman in the Lieberman Brothers clothing store and entered upon his new duties a few days ago. "Tarzan" is a live wire and should prove a valuable addition to the Lieberman sales force.

Rev. and Mrs. Albin A. Larson are the happy parents of a baby daughter, born last Sunday, August 26. Mother and child are doing nicely.

Long Ways From Home.

The other day two cars pulled in at the curb in this city. There was nothing strange about this, to be sure. One of the cars bore a Maine license tag and the other came from Texas—and this is the detail which deserves notice. It proves that many of the tourists who pass through here come from long distances, but this is the first time that The Tribune reporter has seen two cars here at the same time from states so distant as Maine and Texas.

THE HOLSTEIN SALE.

From the standpoint of the dairy farmer, one of the most important events of the year in this section of the state is the Holstein sale to be held in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, October 3. Here the man who is desirous of improving his herd, or who is about to embark into the dairying industry on a larger scale, will be given an opportunity to secure the best animals obtainable. The Holsteins will be sold at auction and for this reason the prices will be based entirely upon the quality of the animals offered and competition among buyers to secure them. No fairer way of arriving at values can possibly be devised.

The Tribune in this editorial does not wish to convey the impression that a man must, in order to become a successful dairy farmer, place his dependence solely upon the Holstein breed. The Holstein occupies an enviable position among dairy cattle, it is true, but holds no monopoly. Whether a man favors one breed or another depends largely on his own judgement as to which of the dairy breeds will best meet his requirements.

The important thing is getting more and better dairy herds into Pennington county and Northwestern Minnestota, and The Tribune asserts most emphatically that the Holstein sale next month will have a wholesome influence in this direction. In addition to giving farmers an opportunity to secure animals of high quality, the sale will have a beneficial effect upon those who attend but do not secure animals at this time. At the sale they will absorb information which will set them to thinking—and once a man gets to thinking he will sooner or later convert his thoughts into action.

NO WINTER SHOWS.

After viewing the porposition from all angles and giving it serious consideration, the Commercial club at its meeting last Thursday decided to give up for the present the plan of holding a Winter Show in Thief River Falls. This decision is the only one which reasonably could be arrived at. A large number of circumstances combine to prevent putting on an exhibition worth while and rather than attempt to go through with it on a minor scale, the club wisely concluded to let the matter rest for the present.

The Pennington County Poultry association is planning the biggest show in its history next December, and during the next month or two several exhibits of boys' and girls' calf clubs will be held in Thief River Falls. None of these can be timed, however, so as to be held in conjunction with the poultry show to form a nucleus for the Winter show owing to their seasonal nature. To conduct a winter show which really amounts to something requires a lot of money as well as much time and effort in preparation and it was felt that present conditions are not such as to presage success for the venture.

WORKMEN AND WAGES.

At this time, when there is a serious controversy in the coal mining industry regarding wages and when there also is a large amount of propaganda published in the press and otherwise attempting to show that workers in many trades are receiving exorbitant remuneration, it is well to give the wage question a little consideration. The following editorial, taken from the columns of the Christian Science Monitor, brings to light some things which the metropolitan press as a rule attempts to conceal:

"Much is heard today of the enormous wages demanded by, and being paid to, the craftsmen of many of the common trades. Thus, not long since, newspaper reports made considerable capital out of the fact that bricklayers of New York City would receive thereafter $1.50 an hour, or $12 for an eight-hour day. The fact was not [illegible]ed that bricklayers are [illegible] the day, and [illegible] not paid by [illegible] that they may be laid [illegible] at any moment if it rains or if there is a shortage of materials.

Hence the average reader of such reports would receive a false impression, and after perusing them would probably feel that bricklayers in New York had somehow managed to obtain a wage far in excess of the value of the services they were rendering. To what extent this is true is an altogether different quesion.

"In this connection it is interesting to note that the well-known soap manufacturers, Proctor & Gamble, have recently made a revolutionary announcement with regard to their employees. In the future the thousands of men and women working for this concern in a score and a half of American cities are to be guaranteed not less than forty-eight weeks employment during each year at full pay. This guarantee is to apply unconditionally, except when operation of the plant is interfered with 'through fire, flood, strike, or other extreme emergency,' and on consideration of the employees having shown their conscientiousness by participating in a company profit-sharing plan.

"It may be remembered that when the last strike of coal mine operatives was being mooted, many expressed great surprise at learning that the average number of days in the year during which the miners actually had employment was startlingly few, and that the apparently large wage paid them when they were working was thereby reduced to a bare sufficiency for the merest needs of themselves and their families. Employment must be reckoned therefore, when considered in relation to the remuneration obtained for it, with due regard to its steadiness, or an entirely false basis of argument will be accepted. When it is recalled that the whole scale of living in the United States has increased some 70 or 80 per cent since before the war, or a decade or so ago, some of the apparently exorbitant wages are seen in an entirely different light.

"Whatever, that is to say, may be deduced from premises regarding wages, must, if it is to be in any way a near approach to the truth, be predicated upon a just estimate of those wages, and not upon an inflated view based upon a false and misleading survey of the facts."

MINNESOTA HOLSTEINS.

As its readers have perhaps noticed ere this, The Tribune does love to put in a boost now and then for the dairy industry. While it wouldn't be fair to pick out any particular breed of dairy cattle as best fitted for this section—because all dairy breeds have their good points and ardent advocates—nevertheless The Tribune hereby takes a chance to the extent of relating a few of the leading marks made by Holsteins in the state during recent years. The information was furnished by a local dairy farmer, who by the way has one of the finest herds of Holsteins in Northwestern Minnesota. Here is what the Holsteins have accomplished:

Minnesota's first world record cow was Mercedes Julip's Pietertje, whose seven-day butter record of 29.36 pounds was a world record in 1901.

Minnesota's first 30-lb. cow was Pietertje Maid Ormsby, whose record of 35.56 lbs. was made in 1910.

Minnesota's first 30-lb. heifer was Glen Canary de Kol, whose record of 34.59 lbs. was made in 1914. This was a world record for a short time.

Minnesota's first 30-lb. butterfat cow was Spring Brook Besse Burke 2nd, whose record of 30.58 lbs. fat, made in the spring of 1916 was awarded third association prize for that testing year.

Minnesota's first 40-lb. cow was Besse Burke Ormsby, whose record of 42.31 lbs. was made early in 1918.

Minnesota's first 100-lb. butterfat cow for 30 days was Pietertje Maid Ormsby, her record of 145.66 lbs. being a world record in 1911.

Minnesota's first 1000-lb. cow was Reverview Fytje De Kol Ormsby, whose record of 1070.75 lbs. made late in 1914 was awarded sixth association prize and at the time of making was the second highest record made west of the Mississippi river.

Minnesota's first 1000-lb. heifer was Schilling Oak Fobes, whose record of 1024.87 lbs. made as a four-year-old was awarded fourth association prize for 1915-16.

Minnesota's first 1000-lb. butterfat cow was Duchess Skylark Ormsby, whose record of 1506.36 lbs., gave her the distinction of being the first 1500-lb. cow in the world, which mark has been reached by but two other cows.

Minnesota's first 26,000-lb. milk producer was Riverview Fytje De Kol Ormsby, her record being 26,134.2 lbs.

Minnesota's first 29,000-lb. milk producer was Bess Pietertje Ormsby Mercedes, her record of 29,053.2 lbs. being made in 1917.

Minnesota's first 30,000-lb. milk producer was Queen Piebe Mercedes, her record of 30,230.2 lbs. made as a four-year-old standing as a world record from the fall of 1916 until the spring of 1923.

When one looks over the foregoing records made by Minnesota Holsteins it is easy to understand why Pennington county Holstein breeders feel just a trifle proud of their herds.

ABOUT COAL STRIKES.

For the past half century the public has been compelled to suffer, both for the want of coal and in the payment of exorbitant prices, because of the periodic trouble between the men who own the coal mines and the laborers who dig the coal out of the ground. Several times the miners' union has been defeated and disorganized at a tremendous cost in human life, misery and money, because of lack of ordinary wisdom on the part of the operators. The very men who took the strikers' places and broke the unions have been compelled to organize for self-protection, until today the conflict is largely a matter of one organization against another organization. Every strike has resulted in heavy loss to the miners in wages, heavy loss to manufacturers, much suffering by people deprived of fuel. And the people pay the bill.

During the past half century coal miners have succeeded in obtaining many reforms. In most states the evil of the company stores have been eliminated, better and safer working conditions enforced, women and children barred from working in the mines, housing conditions improved, and accident compensation provided. A considerable gain in wages also has been made, this amounting to 50 per cent since 1913, according to the Coal commission. With the purchasing power of the dollar at 60 cents, and the uncertainty of steady employment, this does not place the average family in very enviable circumstances.

The question of the recognition of the union is a hard nut to crack. A glance over the field indicates that unions are growing all over the world—perhaps because they are necessary. In this country we have unions of bankers, attorneys, doctors, dentists, and to some extent, preachers. We have unions of manufacturers and of railroad and steamship lines. We have unions of technical engineers, editors, professors and school teachers. We have unions in chain and department stores, and we have unions in almost every trade and occupation. What seems to be a nece[illegible] and an advantage for one class is readily adopted to another. The basic principle underlying the law of competition in business is the law of the jungle. This law of self preservation applies to the working man with equal force. Therefore, it would seem to the average observer that the question of recognizing the miners' union should have no place in the controversy. It is a question that must be met on a business basis with a fair return to all concerned.

Meanwhile the people—the consumers of coal—are entitled to full consideration, but so far it is on them that the hand of the profiteer falls the heaviest. Neither owners nor miners are entitled to bring suffering on innocent people because of their petty selfishness. There is a basis upon which all labor questions can be settled, namely the recognition of the rights of the public, reasonable living conditions for the workmen, and a reasonable profit for the operators—and no man will object to the price paid. Any industry that cannot meet these conditions is a menace to civilization.

UNITY OF ACTION NEEDED.

The situation in Thief River Falls on Monday—Labor Day—brought home to merchants and others the necessity of everybody getting together and acting in harmony on questions of public concern. The matter of closing local business places on Labor Day had been given no previous consideration, with the result that some places remained closed all day, some kept open part of the day, while others observed the usual hours of any ordinary day of the week.

Such a condition is fair neither to the business men nor to the public. If a holiday is to be observed all places of business should be closed. On the other hand, if such holiday is not to be observed, the public should be notified to this effect. The haphazard method in evidence here Monday should not be tolerated for an instant. Something should be done about it before another holiday roils around.

DECLINE IN CROP VALUES.

That the condition of the American farmer is not improving very rapidly at the present time is indicated in a report recently issued by the United States Department of Agriculture. How long will American manufacturing interests remain prosperous in the face of such an unprecedented decline in purchasing power as that suffered by the farmers of the nation? The report follows:

"Twelve of America's staple crops have declined in value $500,000,000 from original estimates during the month of July. This shrinkage in value is due to the rapid price declines in wheat, cotton, oats, barley, rye, flaxseed, hay and apples on the market.

"The total value of the 12 principal crops for 1923 has dropped, according to official figures, from $7,932,112,800 to $7,390,872,600. The only crops which increased in potential value during July were corn, potatoes and peaches.

Decrease in the value of the wheat crop is due to a decrease of 28,000,000 bushels in the year's crop, as compared with previous forecasts, according to the monthly report."

ON MISUNDERSTANDING.

An overwhelming percentage of the trouble of the world is directly traceable to misunderstanding. It has been responsible for business disaster, domestic upheavals—even crime. Misunderstanding is of two varieties—the deliberate and inadvertent. Strange to say, the latter sort is more dangerous.

Misunderstanding has a twin. It is Jump-at-Conclusions. Between the two an honest motive hasn't a chance on earth to survive. Jumping at conclusions has gotten to be the chief sport—both in and outdoor—of a portion of the American people. Some persons do not wait to hear explanations and detailed arguments. They catch something on the fly, and instantly jump at a conclusion which, nine times out of ten, is wrong and unfair to the other fellow.

Tales of business conduct reach the ear, colored like an October sunset. They are nothing but rumors—yet some men accept them as gospel—and send them on their way with a few high lights from their own imagination.

A summer idyl—if you can't cut much ice you can cut the weeds that surround your premises.

WHEN WILL IT COME BACK?

In the purchase of necessities the dollar now has buying power equal to 59 per cent of its pre-war value, according to a survey of retail prices by the United States Department of Labor, covering all chief cities. It dealt with expenditures of the average family for food, rent, fuel and furniture. This is nearly as low as the lowest point reached during the war. According to this it would seem that the average wage earner's dollar is not worth much more than the farmer's dollar.

MORE THAN HER SHARE.

Massachuetts now has the presidency, the secretaryship of war, the speaker of the House, the majority leadership of the Senate, two seats on the Supreme Court bench, the undersecretaryship of state, the ambassadorship to Italy, and any number of minor plums in the executive and legislative branches of the government. Well, Massachusetts politicians are just as good as any other kind so long as they behave themselves.

A lot of Pennington county lads have found out that prohibition is no dry joke. At any rate, they are not laughing much about it right now.

West coast papers are making a fuss about finding a crab 40 years old. That's nothing. Thief River Falls has a number of crabs of 60 and over. And the older they get the crabbier they become.

It is said that an enterprising bootlegger in Red Lake Falls now furnishes his customers with whisk brooms so that they can dust off when they pick themselves up. This is service in the 'teenth degree.

The circulation of the German mark is now greater than that of both Thief River Falls newspapers combined. The Tribune's circulation is growing, however, and hopes eventually to lead the mark a merry chase.

There are two kinds of doctors, those that practice and those that preach. One saves life, while the other looks after your soul.

ORDERLY MARKETING FARMERS' ONLY HOPE FOR BETTER PRICES

Feeding the Market Instead of Dumping Crop Is Logical Solution.

Opponents of co-operative marketing, such as is now being perfected in the potato and grain fields of Minnesota is strongly condemned by the organized dealers as merely a disguise for speculation. They claim that orderly marketing on the part of producers simply puts them into a field hitherto occupied by speculators.

If co-operative marketing considered only one season and only one crop, there might be, possibly, ground for such an assertion. Growers are not asking, nor do they expect, more than their crop is worth under the law of supply and demand. That, of course, is all that the speculator gets, so long as he places no obstructions in the flow of a given commodity to market. However, the manner in which the speculators, having been caught on the wrong end of a given commodity, have manipulated markets and products for their own gain is too well known to need discussion here. The trouble with the people who are branding orderly marketing as another name for speculation is that they do not understand that producers are interested in getting a commodity onto a market as efficiently as possible and in as good a condition as possible, rather than in the margin they can make out of the work of simply marketing the product.

Orderly marketing is "feeding" the markets instead of glutting or "dumping" a crop at harvest time. Orderly marketing brings a stable price—a benefit to farmers, consumers, and middlemen alike. It can be accomplished only by the farmers themselves through organization on a state and national basis.

Organization coupled with orderly marketing enables the farmer to adapt production to market requirements to the highest degree and to handle a surplus crop in such a way that it will not flood the market and depress prices.

In other words, through orderly marketing the price for potatoes depends upon the supply and demand situation at the market and not upon the surplus at home. It is not to be inferred that this means "withholding" potatoes from the market or "control" for the purpose of securing or maintaining an arbitrary or monopoly price, but only to bring about systematic "feeding" of the market.

Will Broadcast Address to Show How Wheat Price Affects Farm Conditions

Efforts Now Being Made to Minimize Importance of Part Wheat Plays in General Prosperity.

Wheat growers with radio equipment will have the opportunity of hearing George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers Associated, when his discussion of present agricultural conditions will be broadcasted from the W. L. A. G. station in Minneapolis on Friday evening, Sept. 7. Mr. Jewett, in a brief address will show the reasons for present unsatisfactory conditions in the wheat industry, and will discuss the changes necessary to bring the production of wheat to a legitimate financial basis.

Mr. Jewett is now completing a speaking tour of Kansas and Missouri cities under the auspices of the Missouri Farmers' association. At the present time there are two wheat pooling associations in Kansas, neither of which is directly connected with the American Wheat Growers Associated. A similar organization is being contemplated for the Missouri wheat growers.

In his talk to radio listeners Mr. Jewett will touch upon the propaganda campaign now being conducted in the east with the idea of minimizing the importance of the wheat industry to general national prosperity. Advertisements and other matter have lately been circulated declaring that conditions in the wheat industry do not have an important influence on trade in general.

"This is entirely a mistaken assumption," declared Mr. Jewett. "There is no other product which has a greater influence for good or bad upon national industrial and commercial life. Wheat is the crop upon which hundreds of thousands of farmers depend for their 'ready money.' Directly through marketing or through advances from the co-operative associations they are able to convert their wheat into funds immediately after harvesting, and the amount of funds so received regulates their buying capacity to a great extent.

"Commercial and industrial life at the present time is feeling the efforts of poor wheat prices and will continue to suffer so long as prices for this commodity are too low. All the advertising and all the propaganda which might be turned out from all the presses of America will not change this fact."

Accidental Shooting.

Ole Friberg, of Falun, met instant death last Saturday when the 30-30 calibre rifle he was carrying was accidentally discharged, the bullet entering through the bib of his overalls and passing upward through his head. His father, hearing the report, hurried down the road and found his son dead not over ten rods from the house. It is believed that in changing the weapon from one side to the other his crippled arm did not function readily, permitting the rifle to fall to the ground, causing the tragedy. The coroner was called and he found it a case of accidental shooting.—Roseau Times Region.

Enjoy Life in West.

Mrs. Anna H. Langseth, in writing to have her copy of The Tribune sent to her new address, states that the family is now nicely settled in their new home at 1632 Milvia street, Berkeley, California, and says that all of them enjoy the new climate very much. Mrs. Langseth is naturally anxious to know how things progress in Thief River Falls, which was her home for so long, and The Tribune will speed across the continent weekly to keep her informed regarding the doings of her former neighbors.

Membership Increase of American Wheat Growers Shows Excellent Growth

Organizers Active in Nine States and Wheat Pool of Last Year Will More Than Double.

From all of the northwestern states, the American Wheat Growers Associated, co-operative wheat marketing agency, is receiving reports of rapid increases in the membership rolls. In Minnesota, the youngest of the nine state associations comprising the national selling agency, more than 500 new members were signed during last week. One solicitor alone sent in 85 contracts. A large number of these new members were secured in territory with big acreage which has just been opened up. The Minnesota association, which has headquarters at Thief River Falls, is looking for additional competent membership solicitors for its field staff.

Under the direction of C. W. Croes, manager, the South Dakota organization is making similar progress. The South Dakota membership work is being restricted to a few counties this year, the organizers prefering to centralize their membership, leaving additional territory for the campaign of this fall and winter. New wheat is being received at the South Dakota headquarters.

In Colorado the association, under the direction of Bruce Lampson, is making rapid progress and estimates on the pool this year vary from 3,500,000 to 6,000,000 bushels. Governor Sweet has been continually active in behalf of the organization and to his efforts is due much of the success which has been attained.

In Nebraska, Wm. H. McGreevy, secretary of the American Wheat Growers Associated, is assisting the local field force under the general direction of O. P. Heald, manager of the state unit.

North Dakota contracts still continue at the amazing rate of approximately 1,000 a week. There A. J. Scott and M. E. Bridston direct the membership work.

The Montana organization whose membership solicitation has progressed under the direction of Dwight R. Cresap, still has the enviable record of more pooled wheat proportionally with the total production than in any other state in the union.

All in all the membership additions throughout the nine states of the American Wheat Growers Associated represent enough wheat to more than double the pool bushelage this year, as compared with 1922, according to estimates by the officers.

Advertising Values.

The narrow-minded merchant who still believes in that ancient fallacy that advertising doesn't pay should carefully consider the recent statement of the Ford Motor Car company that it will spend $7,000,000 during the coming year to advertise its product.

This advertising is not to be in the form of direct sales letters, nor space in novelty booklets, nor billboard nor magazine advertising. The money will be spent to buy the kind of space that brings the biggest returns on the dollar—newspaper advertising.

The Ford company wants to get its message before the American people. It wants to spread this message in a timely fashion—a direct appeal changed each day. This cannot be done thoroughly and efficiently through any medium but that of a newspaper column. And in using this medium the Ford company knows it will receive the sort of publicity it seeks to buy. Many a smaller merchant might take a leaf out of the successful Ford notebook and apply the lesson with profit.—Crookston Times.

An Encouraging Note.

In these day when there is so much dissatisfaction among farmers on account of crop conditions and price conditions, and with good reasons too, it is refreshing to come accross a statement such as is made by J. J. Cuddigan, a well known farmer of this community who upon his return from a thousand mile auto trip through Minnesota and the Dakotas, finds that Red Lake county conditions are the best of any county that he visited. Mr. Cuddigan encourages Red Lake county farmers to make a few trips and see for themselves what conditions are elsewhere. He is confident that the more that the Red Lake county man sees of other sections the better he will like his own, and that although people here consider themselves hard up, that in fact they are well off compared with farmers in other localities. Mr. Cuddigan's observations are not confined to Minnesota and the Dakotas either for this summer he took a trip through Iowa, Nebraska and Colorado, and had a good opportunity to find out what farmers were doing in those states. Mr. Cuddigan advises Red Lake county farmers not to sell out until they have found out by comparison how well off they are right now. His advice is sound.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Fine Testing Facilities of Co-Operatives Insure Better Price for Wheat

New wheat from all over the Northwest is being received at the eight sales offices of the American Wheat Growers Associated, co-operative marketing agency for the Minnesota Wheat Growers association, and eight other similar state marketing concerns. The bushelage to be handled through the farmers' organizations this year will be more than double that of their best previous year in the past.

According to information from W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota association, the wheat this year is of high gluten content but also of a type which will make it take a rather low federal grade. This means that gluten value must be determined and sales made on that basis instead of the federal grain basis if farmers are to receive legitimate premium value in relation to the bid price.

"Because of the necessity for gluten testing on a larger proportion of the crop than in the past, our Minneapolis sales office of the American Wheat Growers Associated is enlarging its testing laboratories in anticipation of the rush work during the coming season," said Mr. Frederick.

"Our sales offices lose no opportunity to obtain every penny every bushel of it will bring. You may be sure that in sales from the co-operative pools no parcel of wheat is going to be disposed of until its true value is accurately determined. We are anticipating that much South Dakota wheat which heretofore has often been sold on the sight-unseen plan will become more valuable in the eyes of mill buyers when our gluten cards are attached to these samples."

CO-OPERATION OF FARMER AND BUSINESS.

We are of the opinion that left to themselves the farmers and business men of the towns would soon be able to work out plans of co-operation that would be profitable to both classes. Certainly it is not to the interest of the town business man to oppress the farmer—the business man of the country—for they are dependent on each other and the prosperiety of the two is closely linked one with the other.—Ada News.

Roundhouse Ready Sept. 1.

The Great Northern roundhouse, being erected at St. Cloud, and one of the three largest buildings of its kind in the state, will be ready for use by September 1, it was announced by the contractors Tuesday.

Coming World Wonder.

Every cent spent for good roads is money well invested. Commercial intercourse is stimulated, cities are brought closer together and new arteries of traffic are opened which, half a century back were filled by the railroad alone. It seems only a question of time before America's highway system will be one of the wonders of the world.—Crookston Times.

Crunches Concrete Cud.

Just as "the proof of the pudding is in the eating," so the modern test of highway paving and the materials going into it is carried out. In the state highway department laboratories of the University of Minnesota these tests are made almost daily. Cores or cylinders cut from completed pavements, just as samples are often taken from butter and cheese or watermelons, are crushed in powerful machines to ascertain the quality. Demonstration tests of this kind are to be made at the state highway display in the Minnesota departments exhibit building at the state fair.

Gas Tax Is Fair Tax.

At the next election the voters of Minnesota will pass judgement on a constitutional amendment to provide for a tax on gasoline used by motor vehicles, and to permit the use of the funds so raised by the state highway department. At the present time gasoline is taxed in this manner in thirty-six states. Five impose a cent a gallon; one places the figure at 2½ cents; six charge 3 cents, and the remainder are satisfied with 2 cents a gallon. Inasmuch as the money will be used for highway maintenance, the persons who get the greatest amount of use out of the roads cannot consistently object to the tax.—St. Peter Herald.

Good Roads Benefit All.

The people are cognizant of the fact that improvement of the rural highways of the state rebounds to the common good of all and that what they invest in general good roads projects brings them returns that are well worth while for themselves. Good roads are an important factor in marketing facilities. They are an agency that brings city and country into closer contact and better understanding each of the other. They widen the radius of pleasurable diversion by making distances less formidable. They attract to the state tourists and vacationists who leave behind them a great aggregate of money in the course of a season. They make the state a more attractive field for investors, particularly for settlers on farm lands. They bring comfort and satisfaction where there were the opposite of these.—The Minneapolis Tribune.

An Official Statement by the Governor of South Dakota

On August 29, Governor McMaster, of South Dakota, issued the following statement:—

"At a meeting with Colonel Stewart, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and other Standard Oil Officials, held in Pierre this morning, Mr. Stewart expressed unqualifiedly the willingness of Standard Oil to comply with the wishes of the consumers of the State of South Dakota in so far as those wishes could be expressed and interpreted by the governor of this state. These Standard officials, although they contend that the present prices do not properly reflect the costs of production, refining and distribution, plus a reasonable profit, were willing, at my request, to do one of two things—raise the price of gasoline immediately in the State of South Dakota where it would represent a six and sixtenths cent reduction over former prices, or maintain, for the time being, sixteen cent gasoline in the State of South Dakota, using Mitchell as a base.

"After due consideration, the Standard Oil officials were asked by the governor to maintain the present price of 16 cents for the time being. I wish to accept full responsibility for this situation and state that Standard Oil, by deed and act, is working in fullest co-operation with the governor of this state and therefore can in no respect be blamed for 16 cents gasoline from this date.

"I realize that the independents who have viciously assailed and attacked me will raise bitter complaint against this condition. However, after due consideration and investigation, I wish to say that if the former gasoline prices of this state were excessive, the independents of this state were just as responsible for that condition and were just as guilty of taking excess profits as was Standard Oil.

"At no time during the period which former gasoline prices prevailed did any independent of this state raise one objection or bring one complaint to this office in an effort to bring about any reduction in price but they were perfectly willing to profit to the fullest extent.

"I realize that all sorts of charges will be made against me because of this action, but in view of the fact that gasoline can be purchased at various refineries today for approximately seven cents a gallon, it will not work injury to the public cause if the Independents are forced for the time being to do business on a small margin of profit. There is no particular reason why the State Government should guarantee to the Independent Oil Dealers of this state, at least for the time being, fixed profits, especially in view of the fact that they were perfectly willing and were a party to take excessive profits from the people."

This clearly defines the position which the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) has maintained throughout this controversy.

LOCAL POULTRY MEN GET VERY FAVORABLE MENTION BY EXPERT

Judge Stanfield Includes Thief River Falls Flocks in Farmstead Story.

The following article written by W. E. Stanfield, well known poultry judge and authority, appeared in a recent issue of the Northwest Farmstead. Mr. Stanfield said:

"Go farther north and west to Pennington county, and there we find flocks making fine records. One day last winter I chanced to stop off at Thief River Falls in making a train connection. Usually on such occasions I either see or call up some member of the poultry association and ascertain how things are coming. This time I had an opportunity of spending two or three hours with Olaf Neset, president of the Pennington County Poultry association. Regardless of the fact that it was 10 below zero or colder, I found Mr. Neset's flock of Reds doing fine, both hens and pullets shelling out the eggs. The main poultry house recently had been remodeled and made into a Northwest Farmstead model, and is lighted by electricity. The weather was very cold but this poultry house was dry as tinder, and the ventilation was perfect. The air inside was clean; there was no old-fashioned poultry house odor. A flock of Reds like Mr. Neset's is a sight well worth going a distance to see, especially when seen by electric light.

"A neighbor nearby who is feeding 350 Leghorn pullets for winter egg production, reported 145 eggs on the day of our call and found a ready market for every egg in Thief River Falls at top price which was 58 cents, almost five cents an egg. Now, there is some satisfaction in picking these 'nickels' from the nests. This neighbor, H. L. Schuster, is a printer by trade, and cares for his flock of Leghorns during time off from his regular work. We must not overlook the fact, however, that there is a Mrs. Schuster and what could we accomplish if it were not for the co-operation of the women in this poultry work?

"Pennington county is making rapid advances in the poultry industry, and is just another of the northern counties that are fast coming to the front in poultry work.

"Just a few miles south of Thief River Falls is the little station of Plummer, Red Lake county. It is there we find G. A. Krueger of White Rock fame. Mr. Krueger is a very busy man; besides being one of the leading Rock breeders of the United States, Soo station agent, postmaster, and secretary of the National White Rock club, he raises about 300 White Rocks a year and some of the best at that, judging from his national and state winnings. Mr. Krueger is building a 60-foot Northwest Farmstead model poultry house on the farm where his White Rocks are kept."

Co-Operative Marketing Idea Spreads Rapidly in Wheat Regions of Canada

Movement in Provinces Conducted in Close Harmony With That of the United States.

An unexpected addition to the ranks of the co-operative wheat marketing associations comes for the development of similar organizations in the wheat producing sections of Canada, according to William J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated and general council for the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-Operative Marketing association. The headquarters of the American Wreat Growers Associated at Minneapolis has been in constant communication with farm leaders in Canada and announce through a statement by Mr. Brown, the fact that a large proportion of the Canadian crop this year probably will be marketed, co-operatively.

"Canadian wheat growers have been following the development of our own state associations and have at last become convinced of the efficiency and value of the marketing machines," said Mr. Brown. "Now there is a properly financed movement under way to organize the three chief wheat producing provinces and a whirl-wind campaign has been instituted. The Canadian organization hopes to sign up at least thirty percent of the wheat produced in these provinces within the next month.

"This development in Canada is of extreme importance to our own wheat growers. It means that much more strength for the co-operative movement in determining wheat prices, for there will, of course, be the closest sort of co-operation between the Canadian organization and our own sales agency. It makes their success more certain, and when you bear in mind that there are very large and successful pooling associations in Australian states, it is not hard to foresee the time when the wheat grown in the world's foremost producing lands will be in the marketing control of the men who grow it."

Young Folks Confirmed at Bethania August 21 With Beautiful Service

On Sunday, August 26, the following young persons confirmed their baptismal vows at Bethania church: Clifford Anderson, Ole Homme, Willie Julian Helgeland, Thora Homme, Hannah Angina Johnson. Favorable weather permitted a large audience. The beautiful church of Bethania was tastily decorated with flowers for the occasion. Several appropriate psalms were sung by the congregation. Rev. P. A. Thoreson gave a most impressive talk to the congregation, after which a concise chatechising was given by which the confirmants demonstrated that they were worthy of the honor of becoming active members of the congregation.

The text selected was St. John, 14th chapter, verse 1: "Let not your hearts be troubled; ye believe in God, believe also in me." Simplicity and inspiration were prominent characteristics of the service. Paul Ovrebo of Goodridge, accompanied by Miss Ella Pederson on the organ, favored the audience with the nice song, "Jeg Ved en Vei." Immediately after this rendition the little flock of three boys and two girls solemnly pledged themselves to renounce evil in themselves and in the world and to become Disciples of the Cross.

The very color of the girls' gowns was typical of purity. This, together with the frank and sincere responses of all, seemed to express the hope and expectation that the day might come when they shall be found clothed with that inward righteousness "When they shall walk with Him in white, for they are worthy." Who could see them without hoping that?

Another nice song given was: "Sku Mod Himlen, Hvil Dit Oie," by a quartet of Bethania. Communion services were also given whereby the confirmants and their parents partook of the Lord's Supper. An offering was given to the mission.—Contributed.

Spud Growers Hear County Organizer Talk

The principal reason for this, according to Mr. Waldal, is to be found in the fact that they have not been organized on right principles. Co-operatives in the past have been formed on a capital stock basis for the purpose of making money on capital invested. Profits are dividends obtained by buying from themselves as cheaply as possible and each individual co-operative competing in the selling market in an effort to secure a good price. The weakness lies in the fact that hundreds of these organizations have been trying to do the same thing. The inevitable result is competition with one another and the commodity handled is dumped on the market in an unsystematic way.

The commodity plan, to be followed in the organization of the potato exchange was explained in detail by the speaker. This plan aims at the control of a given commodity to regulate the flow of this commodity into the market, thereby making it possible for the organization to have a voice in the price to be received by the grower. In other words, the principal point of difference lies in the fact that former co-operatives attempted to secure a profit in a competitive market while the new organization plans to stabilize prices for its members through control of the commodity and placing it upon the market in an orderly manner.

without cost to themselves. The ten farmers composing the delegation this year will not be considered in this contest. The idea is to get new men interested and give them the benefit of visiting the greatest dairy show on earth.

Appropriate badges have been provided for the delegation which left Monday evening and Pennington county will receive much favorable publicity from the fact that these men visit the show as a unit instead of as individuals. Ample provision has been made for their entertainment during the week and The Tribune ventures the assertion that they will have an enjoyable time. It will be a week well spent, and the delegates will return to their homes better equipped than ever before to carry on their work of converting Pennington county into the banner dairying section of Minnesota.

The delegation is composed of the following representative dairy farmers: Hans Anton, F. B. Conklin, Waldie Christensen, Jens Kirk, Hans Rued, Knute Ystesund, Peter Englestod, John Kilen, H. C. Woolson, and Stuart McLeod.

Indian Lad Loses Life in Mishap With Shotgun

Johnie Barrett, a lad of five yars, son of Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Barrett of Red Lake, was killed instantly at 10 o'clock Monday morning while scuffling with a younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Charley Barrett over the possession of a 12-guage shotgun which was accidentally discharged the charge striking the boy in the stomach and causing death within a few minutes.

The tragedy occurred at the farm of C. Barrett, on the reservation, 12 miles northeast of Gonvick where the lad had been visiting for a short time and where his parents were to call for him the day of the accident.

There was no eye witness to the accident. Mrs. Barrett who was at home alone with the children was engaged in her household work when a report of a gun drew her attention to the yard back of the house where she discovered the lifeless form of her little visitor lying on the ground and the smoking gun in the hands of her own son. The gun had been used the day previous by older members of the family who forgetting to unload it, had stood it behind the kitchen door where it was found by the smaller boys and taken out into the yard.—Gonvick Banner.

From the number of accidents in this country it looks like it would be better to put shock absorbers on the pedestrians instead of the machines.

Noted Lecturer to Speak Here in Condemnation of Mormon Church Practices

Inside Workings of Organization to Be Revealed by Woman From Seat of Mormonism.

Mrs. Marion Williams of Utah will conduct an anti-Mormon mass meeting at the Presbyterian church in Thief River Falls next Friday evening, September 7, at 8 o'clock. Her subject will be, "The Political and Financial Power of Mormonism." No children will be admitted to this meeting. A silver offering will be taken to help defray expenses. Mrs. Williams spoke on Mormonism in this city November 21 and is said to be a speaker of more than ordinary ability.

MRS. MARION WILLIAMS
In Temple Robes, Taking an Oath of Treason Against the Government of the United States.

On Saturday afternoon, September 8, at 3 o'clock, Mrs. Williams will conduct a meeting for women only. She well appear in temple robes and will show the ladies how she was married to another woman's husband, and why women are so easily induced to become a Mormon. A small charge will be made for admission to this meeting.

Plummer Man Arrested on Illicit Liquor Charge

Last Sunday, August 26, one Frank Stroup, who is a private detective, arrested Theodore Lemieux on a charge of unlawfully having liquor in his possession and on a second charge of unlawfully transporting liquor. The arrest was made in the woods about three-quarters of a mile west of Plummer. The car with the liquor and Mr. Lemieux was brought back to Plummer and the sheriff was notified. In the meantime the car with the liquor in was left on the street in front of the mayor's residence. It is alleged that before the sheriff arrived here Mr. Lemieux walked up to the car and smashed the bottles or jugs containing the liquor. However, the detective salvaged enough of the liquor for evidence and also saved all of the broken bottles. The preliminary hearing was held before Judge Pouliot at Red Lake Falls Monday afternoon and Lemieux was bound over to the District court under $500 bonds. When the detective returned to Plummer on Monday evening he was greeted by a mob which evidently had the intention of scaring him out of town. This turned out to be a harder task than was anticipated and the result was that the sheriff was called over to take the matter in hand. He arrived here about 10:30 p. m. and succeeded in getting the matter settled. However, it is rumored that there are or will be several warrants sworn out against Plummer people for being participants in a mob. Conviction on a charge of this kind carries a severe penalty. It is said that Detective Stroup has made many raids and arrests during the week on liquor charges.—Plummer Pioneer.

Second Bank at Mahnomen Is Forced to Close Doors as Reserve Becomes Low

Too Many Withdrawals and Too Few Deposits Held Responsible for Closing of Bank.

The board of directors of the Citizens State bank decided at a meeting Monday night to voluntarily close the bank. A notice to this effect was posted on the door and the bank failed to open Tuesday morning.

Depleted reserves, caused by a steady drain on the resources, and a well developed "run" Monday was responsible for the action of the Board Monday night.

Mr. Smith of the State Banking department arrived Wednesday morning and placed Mr. Simpson, who has had charge of the Security bank, in temporary charge of the Citizens until such time as another man can be appointed.

Mr. Smith left town last evening, having made a very hurried examination of the affairs of the bank. Before leaving he spoke as though some arrangement might be made to open the bank in the near future.

Mahnomen, a county seat, with approximately 1,200 people, finds itself temporarily without a bank. Neighboring banks are extending every facility to help out the business interests until such time as one or both banks open up.

Several different banking concerns have been here looking the field over. It is reported that one or more of these concerns have already applied for a charter.

There is naturally a good deal of excitement over the situation but there is only one thing to do now, and that is to await developments.—Mahnomen Pioneer.

Thief River Falls Lady Honored at State Meet of Temperance Workers

Mrs. J. O. Sether Chosen as Delegate to National W. C. T. U. Convention This Month.

The Minnesota Woman's Christian Temperance Union held its annual convention at Virginia last week. Mrs. J. H. Hermanson and Mrs. J. O. Sether were delegates from the local W. C. T. U.

The trip was most enjoyable and besides the W. C. T. U. of Virginia, the citizens' organization, including the Chamber of Commerce and city council, did everything to make the stay pleasant. The Range impressed the visitors very much, especially the beautiful schools.

United States Senator Cooper of Ohio was convention lecturer and his masterful address was received most enthusiastically. The high school auditorium was thrown open for the occasion and the visitors had the opportunity of inspecting that great institution of learning.

The convention opened with a banquet on Tuesday evening, August 21. Mrs. Josephine E. Sizer, state president, presided. The toasts were most excellent, as was also the music. The Thief River Falls W. C. T. U. was honored by having its president, Mrs. J. O. Sether, chosen as one of the delegates to the national convention at Columbus, Ohio, September 4 to 14.

One of the pleasant features of the convention was the pipe organ recitals every noon hour, given by a young man from Rock Island, Ill., who had also installed the beautiful organ. Many prizes were given for essays written by school children in the scientific temperance department of the schools and Thief River Falls students were among the winners. Those receiving highest points next to the prize winners are Melvin Engelstad, junior class of the Lincoln high school, Elinor Fosse, eighth grade essay contest, and Bertha Steen in the rural schools. The prize winners will be announced after school opens.

Co-Operative Marketing of Wheat Grows Rapidly in All Parts of Country

Not alone in the northwestern states has there been rapid increase in the bushelage handled by wheat growers associations, according to W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota Wheat Growers association. In Oklahoma, a state which is not a part of the northern marketing group, growers have already delivered half as much wheat to the 1923 pool as during all last year, Mr. Frederick points out. "Wheat in the southwest is being delivered at a rapid rate and employees are working overtime handling a huge volume of business," he said. "It is declared that at least ten million bushels will be handled in Oklahoma this year through the co-operative organization. In our own states the growth from last year is even more important. The membership in North Dakota has increased five-fold. In Montana several thousand new members have been added. In the states of Washington and Oregon every bushel signed by members of the associations is being handled and arrangements been made whereby all mortgaged wheat moves through the marketing concerns."

Mrs. Keath Tells How She Got to Know Rat-Snap.

"Have always feared rats. Lately noticed many on my farm. A neighbor said he just got rid of droves with RAT-SNAP. This started me thinking. Tried RAT-SNAP myself. It killed 17 and scared the rest away." RAT-SNAP comes in three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Hall Brothers Company.—Adv.

Salvation Army.

Sunday morning, Holiness meeting at 11 a. m. Sunday school, 2:30. Y. P. L., 6:30. Evening service, 8:15. Subject will be, "The Serpent of Brass." Everybody welcome. Capt. Larson, officer in charge.

The local corps of the Salvation Army is sending out an appeal for colthes, as the result of the many demands that are made for clothes and cannot be met. If the people of Thief River Falls will look into their garrets and closets and find any garments no longer used, remember that they will go a long way toward meeting the need. Clothes will be gladly received at 317 Main avenue, or by calling 'phone 246 will be called for.

Card of Thanks.

We wish to express our thanks to all our neighbors and relatives and all those who have given their help and sympathy in our time of need and bereavement in the loss of our beloved son and brother, Edward Horejsh. We especially wish to thank the railroad men who assisted in the care of his body after the accident. We also thank our friends for the beautiful floral offerings at the funeral.

John Horejsh, Mrs. C. L. Sholes, Mrs. Howard Burrel and his brother.

Contract Let for New Bridge.

Wm. Prichard of Thief River Falls is here getting material ready for building the new bridge on trunk highway No. 32, just south of the creamery. This will be a re-inforced concrete bridge, 45 feet long, and the contract price is about $7,000. Most of the material for the bridge will be crushed rock, shipped from St. Cloud. Mr. Prichard has the contract only for the bridge. He did not know who has the grading contract.—Greenbush Tribune.

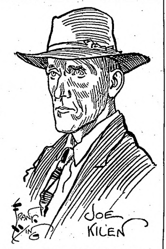
PENNINGTON DAIRY DELEGATION SPENDS VERY PROFITABLE WEEK AT GREAT MINNESOTA STATE FAIR

Dairymen Return Highly Pleased Over Fine Treatment Received and Information Gained on Pilgrimage.

In accordance with plans previously made, the Pennington county delegation of ten dairy farmers which visited the state fair and Northwest Dairy show last week as guests of the Thief River Falls Commercial club, left in a body Monday morning over the Soo Line. The delegation was composed of the following progressive dairymen: Hans Anton, Jens Kierk, Waldie Christenson, Hans Rued, Joseph Kilen, Peter Engelstad, Knute Ystesund, H. C. Woolson, F. B. Conklin and Stuart McLeod.

Oscar Arneson of St. Paul, L. R. Johnston and J. S. Arneson of Thief River Falls took it upon themselves to help the delegation get its bearings and assumed immediate charge of arrangements. The Legislature Headquarters on the fair grounds, of which Oscar Arneson is superintendent, was tendered the dairymen as a place in which to make themselves at home during their stay. Here they did their loafing and spent their nights during the entire week. Incidentally they also had the opportunity of meeting many prominent men of the state, in politics and out. This is where members of the legislature, state officials and newspaper men who dabble in politics, and business men from all parts of the state foregather fair week to discuss issues great and small.



Member of Pennington Dairy Delegation to Northwest Dairy Show.

Tuesday was spent on the grounds, with a short drive through the park system of the two cities in the morning. The dairy show was naturally the chief point of interest to the Pennington county men, and they spent many hours there. J. S. Arneson secured from the superintendent of the department permission for them to enter the arena where the judging was done, thus giving them an opportunity to view the work at close range. This privilege was accorded to no other farmer in attendance at the fair, the arena being sacred ground to all except to judges, officials and the necessary attendants.

Part of the time was of course devoted to seing the wonderful array of exhibits in all parts of the fair. The agricultural and other exhibits this year simply beggar description both in quality and number.

Wednesday morning cars were provided by the entertainment committee and the delegation taken to St. Paul where the state capitol was given a thorough inspection. The visitors saw everything from cellar to dome at the state house, being particularly impressed with the wonderful system used in Secretary of State Mike Holm's office. They also enjoyed the splendid view which may be secured from the dome of the capitol. The afternoon was spent at the fair grounds, some members of the delegation going to the grand stand to view the automobile races while others preferred to wander back to the dairy show and livestock departments.

Tuesday morning two big touring cars, piloted by Senator C. L. Hanson of this city, and Oscar Arneson, conveyed the Pennington county men to Stillwater, where the state prison was the point of interest. Deputy Warden Whittier, after all the visitors had been introduced to Warden Sullivan, conducted the visitors on a tour through the prison and the manufacturing plants operated in connection therewith. To say that the magnitude of the place and the faultless system obtaining in every department made a deep impression upon the delegation is putting it mildly. It is without doubt the greatest and most efficiently handled penal institution in the entire country and the officials in charge are deserving of much credit for the able manner in which they conduct its affairs. After a splendid lunch which was enjoyed in the officers' quarters at the invitation of the warden, the visitors returned to the fair grounds by another route which took them through the beautiful country adjoining the St. Croix river on the opposite shore from Hudson, Wis.

Friday morning bright and early a number of the dairymen set out on a trip to visit some of the large dairy farms in the vicinity of the Twin cities. Among other places visited were the famous Radisson hotel and Woodend Guernsey farms and some of the finest herds in the country were viewed at short range. Farm arrangement and systems used in operation also came in for study at each farm visited. Everywhere they went the delegates were cordially received and treated in a royel manner.

Saturday morning, at the invitation of Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, a pleasant trip through parks and suburbs of the two cities was enjoyed, concluding with a visit to the offices of the Wheat Growers. Here they were shown the large laboratory used in making tests of wheat and it proved very interesting indeed. A short trip to the floor of the Chamber of Commerce, which few of the visitors had ever seen before, concluded this excursion.

Saturday afternoon the last of the Pennington county delegation was escorted to the station and started on the homeward journey. All agreed that it had been a most enjoyable trip and expressed the belief that the information gained will prove of lasting benefit to the dairy industry of the county.

NEW PLAN MADE IN WINTER SHOW FOR THIEF RIVER

Grains, Corn and Potatoes to Be Added to December Poultry Show.

No Livestock Exhibits at This Time Owing to Lack of Quarters.

Thief River Falls is to have a winter show this year after all, but it will be on a somewhat smaller scale than that intended by the original promoters of the enterprise. At a meeting held last evening it was decided by a number of the Pennington County Poultry association, a number of delegates from the Commercial club and others interested that a winter show will be put on here this year in connection with the annual poultry show, which is to be held December 4, 5, 6 and 7.

The exhibits, aside from the poultry show, will be confined to small grain, corn, potatoes and grasses. The show wil be housed in the city auditorium, according to present plans. It is the intention to use the same agricultural exhibits to represent Pennington county at the Winter Grop show in Crookston, so that in reality there will be no great doubling up of effort on the part of those who desire to be represented at the Crookston show.

No livestock exhibit is planned, for the reason that no suitable quarters can be secured in which to place the animals. It is believed that by starting the show on a smaller scale as above outlined it will be possible within a few years to incorporate the livestock feature and other departments which will make of it a complete exhibition. Premiums will be paid on small grains in the same way as at the Crookston show this year.

During the days of the show it is planned to hold meetings in the Commercial club rooms, at which well known speakers on poultry, small grain, corn and potatoes will be provided Several entertainment numbers also are anticipated as part of the program

Further action with regard to the winter show proposition will be taken at the meeting of the Commercial club tomorrow, and it is expected that committees will be appointed and other details worked out. Next week's issue of The Tribune will give more details concerning the proposed show.

City Council Meets.

Tuesday evening the members of the city council met in regular session. Ordinary routine business ocupied the attention of the aldermen during the meeting such as allowing a batch of bills, considering department reports and assessing benefits arising from the construction of the pavement in the postoffice alley.

THIEF RIVER MEN TO APPEAR IN FEDERAL COURT AT THIS TERM

Must Stand Trial for Alleged Violation of Prohibition Laws.

The Pennington county men nabbed several months ago by federal officers in a moonshine raid conducted in this city, are scheduled to appear for trial at the adjourned term of federal court which is in session at Fergus Falls this week. Those who were arrested at that time and have since been at liberty under bonds are Conrad Vinje, Ole Ysetsund, C. B. Bradley and A. H. Erickson. Federal Judge Cant of Duluth is presiding at this session of court.

Bennie Vigen, proprietor of one of the places here raided by the federal men in whose establishment Ystesund and Erickson, employes, were arrested, was not taken in tow at that time. Some time later, however, he was arrested on his farm near Grygla and charged with operating a "moon" manufacturing plant. Whether or not his case will come on for trial at the present term of court The Tribune has been unable to ascertain.

Bradley is now serving a 90-day sentence in the county jail at Warren, imposed by Judge Andrew Grindeland at a recent term of Pennington county district court after having been convicted by a jury on a liquor charge. Vinje returned last week from the Marshall county bastile after completing a 60-day sojourn, just in time to face the music again in federal court. It is presumed that Bradley will appear at the Fergus Falls trial in charge of an officer and that at the completion of his trial will be returned to the Warren jail to finish his sentence there. In case he is convicted at Fergus Falls, it appears that his time will be pretty well occupied for the next few months.

Ole Ystesund has retained Attorneg G. Halvorson of Thief River Falls to defend him when his case comes on for trial in federal court. O. E. Erickson, former chief of police, was subpoenaed by the authorities to appear as a witness for the prosecution.

Thief River Falls Lady Starts Long Journey to Begin Missionary Labor

Miss Sophia Nygaard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Soren Nygaard, residing at 617 Duluth avenue north, left Saturday evening on a journey which will take her to Liberia, West Africa. Upon her arrival there Miss Nygaard will begin three years of service as a missionary among the natives.

On her trip to Africa Miss Nygard expects to visit Chicago and New York spending two weeks in each of these cities. Upon her arrivel in Europe she plans to take a tour through Germany and other countries before sailing for her final destination on the west coast of Africa.

Miss Nygaard has had previous experience in the African missionary field, returning to this city a little over a year ago after having spent three years there. After residing in a civilized community for a year she felt sufficiently improved in health and strength to resume her work on the dark continent among the benighted heathen people, a work which appeals to her very much.

Miss Nygaard's friends in Thief River Falls wish her Godspeed on her journey and success in her work.

American Legion Resumes Meetings Thursday Night

The first regular meeting of the American Legion following the summer recess is scheduled for tomorrow, Thursday, evening at 8 o'clock, in the club rooms of the Legion. There is a lot of business requiring attention at this time and a large turnout of members is requested by the officers of the local post. The usual feed is promised after the business meeting.

FINE HOME FOR TRIBUNE TO BE BUILT AT ONCE

Contract Is Let for Brick Structure to Be Completed December 1.

Site Chosen in Heart of Thief River Falls, Main Avenue North.

The Thief River Falls Tribune is to have a new home. This was made certain last Thursday when L. D. McAdams secured the contract for the erection of a building facing Main avenue, between the DeCremer meat market and the Evenson building, formerly occupied by Loken Brothers Department store. The new structure will be of brick, one story and full basement, 25x80 feet in size.

The new building will be constructed so that every detail fits the purpose for which it is intended. Light, which is an important factor in a print shop, is to be provided by means of almost solid glass front and rear end walls. If this is found to admit an insufficient amount a skylight will also be provided.

A feature of the structure is the basement. This is to be ten feet in heighth, the floor of the upper story being placed three feet above the sidewalk level. The room will be completely finished and equipped and will contain a large part of the paper stock, two large cylinder presses, and other machinery. It also will house the heating plant and coal storage bins. Two stairways, wide and at a proper angle are to be provided for convenient egress and ingress. One of these will be inside of the building while the other leads to the outside at the rear.

The main room, which will be three feet above the ground level, is to be 11 feet in height and finished in the most approved fashion. The front of the building is to be of ornamental brick with the lower part of solid plate glass, with a center entrance. This end of the building will be fitted into business and editorial offices, everything being arranged with the idea of separating the departments as much as possible so as to secure maximum efficiency in each. It also is planned to provide a room wherein may be found chairs, tables, writing materials, late newspapers and magazines, telephone, etc., for the special benefit of farmers and others who may wish to avail themselves of such a convenience.

The rear part of the main floor will be occupied by the composing, makeup and job printing departments, and will be conveniently arranged. Job stock cabinets also will be placed in this room.

Excavation for the new building already has begun and Contractor McAdams has promised The Tribune that its new home will be all ready for it to move into on December 1. And he says if he has good luck and lots of it he may have it completed sooner.

Sons and Daughters of Norway Plan Big Shadow Social on Friday Night

The local lodges of the Sons and Daughters of Norway have decided to hold a shadow social at their hall next Friday evening, September 14. Ladies are requested to come provided with spoons and lunch sufficient for two. Attendance at the social is limited to members of the two lodges and friends invited by them.

Social affairs at the Sons of Norway hall are invariably of a very enjoyable nature and the committee in charge has promised that the proposed shadow social shall be no exception to the rule. Those interested should bear in mind the date—next Friday evening, September 14.

Steenerson Resumes Practice.

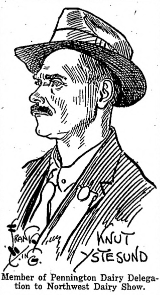
Former Congressman Halvor Steenerson anounces his resumption of the practice of law as a member of the firm of Steenerson, Neils & Myhre, with offices in the Abstract Building, Crookston. The firm will practice in state and federal courts and government departments in Washington.

Futility of Mob Rule Is Shown in Arliss Picture at Play House This Week

Famous Screen and Stage Star Has Difficult Role in "The Man Who Played God."

The question of the futility of assassination of responsible heads of governments and prominent political personages is brought to the fore in the new George Arliss photoplay feature, "The Man Who Played God," a United Arliss Corporation release, which comes to the Princess theatre next Friday and Saturday.

Statistics have been brought to bear upon this problem, and the political party that attempts assassination as a means to an end, or the individual fanatic who essays to act independently, invariably fail to achieve any results other than negative.



Member of Pennington Dairy Delegation to Northwest Dairy Show.

In "The Man Who Played God," a bomb is thrown in a Paris reception to royalty, and the principal player in the story is left without the sense of hearing as a result. The ruler for whom the bomb was intended, escapes, as is often the case.

In the Arliss picture, "The Man Who Played God," Harmon Weight, the director, has picturized the attempt at assassination at the Paris musicale with a skill that serves to emphasize the lesson that nothing has ever been gained by those who take the law in their own hands. "The Man Who Played God" presents, with Mr. Arliss, such representative actors and actresses as Ivan Simpson, Effie Shannon, Edward Earle, Ann Forrest and little Miriam Batista.

SOO FOLK PLAN BIG PICNIC FOR NEXT SATURDAY

First Annual Event Gives Promise of Being Pronounced Success.

Splendid Program of Entertainment Provided By Committeemen.

The first annual picnic of the Soo Line employes, Winnipeg division, will be held at Squaw Point, Thief River Falls, next Saturday, September 15. Elaborate preparations for the event are being made by the committee on arrangements, which consists of the following railway men: J. W. Hendry, E. F. Dolan, L. M. Rayson, G. J. Conklin, H. A Pratt and J. C. Toms.

Each family attending the picnic will be required to furnish its own lunch as well as cups, spoons and plates. Coffee, cream, sugar and ice cream will be furnished free on the grounds. Transportation to the grounds will be furnished upon application to any member of the following committee: Norbert Holzknecht, O. H. Sorenson, R. D. Sulivan, I. H. Fossum, A. J. Berg, J. W. Hendry.

Lunch will be served at 1:15 p. m., and the sports program is scheduled to begin at 2:15 o'clock. A special bowery is being provided and dancing

Hance Killed in Stepping Out of One Train's Way Into Path of Another

News reaching Thief River Falls since the last issue of The Tribune indicates that Edward Hance came to his death at Milwaukee through being run over by a train. It is said that Hance and a companion were walking on a double track at the time of the accident. A train approached on the track upon which the men were walking and one stepped each way to allow it to pass. Hance stepped over onto the other track, not noticing a train coming in the opposite direction on that side.

The train struck the unfortunate man squarely and ran over him. He was badly mangled and died instantly. Eugene Hance, a son of the dead man, returned last week from Milwaukee, where he had gone to learn the details of the accident which resulted in his father's death.

Hear Sapiro.

Quite a delegation from Thief River Falls and other parts of Pennington county went to Crookston Tuesday evening to hear the speech of Aaron Sapiro, nationally known authority on co-operative marketing. In next week's issue The Tribune will publish a lengthy review of Mr. Sapiro's talk.

MISS HELGELAND WINS TOP PRIZE AS BREADMAKER

Ranks First Among Seven Hundred Contestants at Recent State Fair.

Receives Free Trip to International Baking Contest at Chicago.

Pennington county is one of the best dairying counties in the state; Pennington county raises sugar beets with the highest sugar content in the country; Pennington county is the home of the champion two-year-old Guernsey cow in Minnesota; Pennington county raises the best alfalfa and clover imaginable, and boasts many other distinctions of which her people have reason to be proud.

And to fill old Pennington county's cup of joy to overflowing, now comes Miss Myrtle Helgeland, a Thief River Falls young lady and graduate of the local high school, back from the state fair with the greatest honor of all. She won first prize in Class A Advanced in the state bread baking contest in a field of more than seven hundred contestants in her class. Last year the young lady won also but was placed in Class B. For a number of years Miss Helgeland has taken keen interest in baking and was a member of the high school bread club during the time spent in that institution. Each year she has won prizes, climbing steadily upwards until she finally captured first prize for the entire state.

Through her work as a producer of good bread Miss Helgeland will be given a free trip to Chicago next year to compete in the International Baking contest. A number of silver cups and badges also are included in her list of prize winnings. Miss Helgeland naturally feels highly pleased because of her success at the state fair this year and already is laying plans with a view to making a good showing at the national contest. And The Tribune believes that she will.

Miss Ansof Dahlen, also of Thief River Falls, took part in the state contest, but although her product scored high and received favorable comment from the judges, she was unable to finish in the first division of the winners. She did so well, however, that she expects to be able to win the Chicago trip next year.

Dairy Booster Meeting of Commercial Club to Be Held September 20

Officials of the Commercial club in charge of such matters have decided that on Thursday, September 20, the club will hold a Dairy Booster meeting, to be everything which the term implies. Instead of following the usual custom of holding the club meeting at noon, this session will start at six o'clock with a good lunch, which will be served at a uniform charge of 25 cents.

After lunch the meeting will be organized for the purpose of considering ways and means of boosting the dairy industry in Pennington county. Several local speakers are slated to appear on the program and it may also be possible that some from a distance can be secured. The delegation of dairymen which attended the state fair and dairy show as guests of the club will be present to give a report of their trip. It should be an interesting session and deserves a large attendance.

Woman's Club to Begin Season Work October 1

The first meeting of the new season for the Thief River Falls Woman's club will be held on Monday October 1, after which regular meetings will be held during the fall and winter months. The first meeting will be held in the Commercial club rooms, according to an announcement by Mrs. P. W. Mabey, president of the club.

During the summer months regular meetings are dispensed with and the membership allowed a sort of vacation. With the arrival of autumn much work has accumulated for the club, however, and the members look forward to a very busy season.

Ladies' Auxiliary Plans Book of Tested Recipes

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the American Legion of Thief River Falls is planning to get out a cook book in the near future and those in charge of the enterprise are now busy securing tested receipts to be used in the work. Mrs. D. W. Robinson, president of the Auxiliary, asks all ladies who may have receipts to send them to her in order that they may be incorporated in the volume. The book will be valuable just in proportion to the number of tested receipts it contains.

TOURIST WRITES FINE LETTER ON NORTH COUNTRY

This Section Is Given Big Boost by Resident of Sleepy Eye, Minn.

Sees Great Future for Diversified Farming and Dairying Here.

A striking illustration of the amount of favorable advertising this section of the state receives from tourists who visit it during the summer season comes to the attention of The Tribune this week in an article appearing in a recent issue of the Sleepy Eye Herald-Dispatch. W. R. Hodges, a prominent resident of that city, wrote the article after a thousand-mile automobile trip through the northern part of the state. The article is several columns in length, and only the parts pertaining to this particular section are reproduced. Mr. Hodges says:

"Leaving Bemidji for Goodridge, Pennington county, our trail brought us through Walton, Shevlin, Solway and Bagley, all little towns. We next went due north to Clearbrook where we saw some splendid country with well equipped farms stocked with high grade Holstein, Guernsey and other breeds of cattle. They were some of the finest herds of stock that we had seen in that section. From Clearbrook we went on through Gully, Trail and Gonvick seeing some more splendid farming country. From Trail north to Oklee is a prairie country and for miles in all directions we saw great fields thick with shocks of grain. Threshing was in order over much of that country. One year ago in order to get to Goodridge we had to go west to Red Lake Falls and north to Thief River Falls, fifty miles around, but now a graded and graveled road extends north from Oklee to Goodridge for thirty miles. Verily northern Minnesota is doing her part in building good roads and it is going to pay that part of the state a thousand fold.

"At Gully we stopped off to see our old friend Tim Cashman, who publishes the paper there. Tim was our foreman thirty years ago and later the publisher of the Springfield Advance. Tim is still an old bach, but said he always intended to get married. He is well.

"Three and one-half miles northwest of Goodridge and sixteen miles east of Thief River Falls, lives Angus McLeod and family, former residents of Town Home, well and favorably known. We found this estimable family well and happy and enjoying fair prosperity. Deacon McLeod was a former resident of Brown county, leaving here eight years ago for the north. He has a splendid farm well equipped, with a fine herd of dairy cows and devotes all his energy to stock and dairy matters. He does not sow any grain but raises a great deal of alfalfa, clover and like feeds. When we were there he had about sixty tons of alfalfa stacked, in addition to about ten acres that he still had to cut. Wild hay in abundance grows in northern Minnesota and with thirty acres of eight foot corn, Mr. McLeod will not lack for feed during the coming season. From what has been demonstrated by our former citizen it would prove beyond all doubt that no place in the northwest is better adapted for dairying and stock raising. Alfalfa, clover and corn for silage, all growing in great abundance, prove that Pennington county has a wonderful future in store for the farmer who is not afraid of work and does not try to raise grain exclusively. Farmers in southern Minnesota must look to their laurels or northern Minnesota farmers will outstrip them in the race to success along the lines of agriculture, stock raising and dairying. Stuart McLeod, assisted by his brother, Victor, manages the farm, and the way these young men conduct things would be an inspiration to any ambitious farmer who likes to see things successfully done on a well conducted farm.

"Elmer Peterson, son of Mrs. John C. Peterson of Eden, owns a farm just north of Mr. McLeod's. We also had the pleasure of visiting this young couple. Mr. and Mrs. Peterson have been up north for four years and with hard and persistent work will succeed. Both are well.

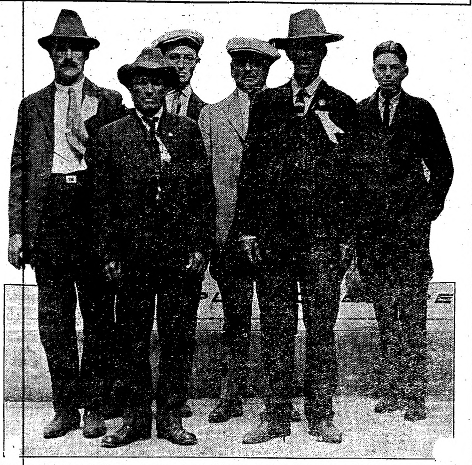
"After leaving Goodridge we returned by way of Red Lake, traversing a wilderness for some forty miles from Gully northwest through the Red Lake Indian reservation. Our road was only a trail and it took two and one-half hours to go twenty-eight miles, winding through timber and dodging hills, lakes, bogs and sloughs all along the way. During the entire distance we did not meet a team or auto and an occasional Indian house mostly made of logs was the only sign of habitation. The lack of telephone poles along the road helped to make the trip wierd and lonesome. It is safe to say that one such experience is enough for the average driver. No single car should make that trip alone.

"At Red Lake we camped. This is an Indian village with two stores, postoffice, Catholic school, church and rectory, fine government school, dormitory for children, a saw mill together with many homes occupied by Indians. The government buildings are well built and kept and take care of about three hundred children. Conversing with many of the people of that place we found them to be intelligent and many fairly educated. All spoke good English and from all appearances are making successful efforts to become self-supporting, useful citizens.

"Red Lakes are two fine sheets of water, each about thirty miles long by twelve to fifteen miles wide. With good roads, which should be built by the government, these two great lakes will be yearly visited by thousands of tourists.

"After a thousand mile trip through various parts of northern Minnesota we are more and more convinced that our state is not only the nation's playground, but it has everything within its borders to make the most prosperous, richest, contented and happy people in the world."

Pennington County Men Viewing State Fair



Above is a group of Pennington county men caught by the St. Paul Pioneer Press photographer while attending the state fair last week. All of the Pennington county delegation to the dairy show should have been given a place in the picture but this was impossible because the photographer arrived on the scene at a moment when the delegates were scattered over all parts of the grounds in the immense crowds. Reading from left to right, the following are shown in the picture: Knute Ystesund, Peter Engelstad, M. A. Mattison, J. S. Arneson, Joseph Kilen and Stephen Arneson.

Wheat Growers on Coast Enjoy Greatly Improved Conditions in Marketing

Out on the Pacific coast where the first wheat growers associations were put under way, the present marketing season will exceed by far the business done by the farmer concerns in any past year. This information comes to J E Kelley, president of the South Dakota association.

"Last year the pools on the Pacific coast were considerably cut because of the poor crop and the necessity of direct selling for a lot of mortgaged grain," said Mr. Kelley. "But this year the Pacific coast has practically the only crop to be found in the country and bankers out there are much more willing to have grain on which they hold mortgages moved through the pool than ever before. It has taken some time for the wheat growers associations to prove to bankers and business men their ability to operate in an efficient and economical manner. But they have done so, nevertheless, and now you can find very few financial establishments on the Pacific coast who do not co-operate whole-heartedly with the wheat growers' organizations.

"The wheat associations on the Pacific coast are part of the American Wheat Growers Associated, national co-operative sales agency with which the South Dakota Wheat Growers' association is also affiliated. There are, in all, nine state associations using this joint sales concern and four others having their own marketing equipment are co-ordinating in the movement of wheat to market."

Approval Given American Wheat Growers on Stand for Special Farmer Help

Appeal for Congress Aid in Price Fixing Shows Interest of Organization in Producer.

The American Wheat Growers Associated has received high commendation and some criticism because of its recent appeal to the President asking for government action in fixing a price on the 1923 wheat crop. The request to the President was made by telegram two weeks ago, detailing the plight of the wheat farmers of the Northwest at the present time and declaring that only government action could provide the assistance they need in time for its effect to be felt on the 1923 crop.

A prominent speaker, discussing co-operative marketing on the Pacific coast last week, made this comment about the appeal of the American Wheat Growers Associated:

"The grain crops in the Northwest which depend on demand for government price fixing, grants and subsidies instead of merchandising, are violating the fundamental aim of co-operative marketing, and those men who advocate these practices are showing themselves unfit to be leaders."

Taking the other side of the question, an influential farm journal declares:

"The action of the American Wheat Growers Associated officers in adding their influence to the popular appeal for a guaranteed price for wheat is most commendable and is proof of the sincerity of these men in their desire to right agricultural conditions in the Northwest. They ask for temporary relief at a time when relief is vital if wheat production in America is to survive. They ask it in the face of the fact that it may, to some extent, hinder the development of the organization in which they have a personal interest.

"There is no doubt of the efficacy of co-operative marketing as a permanent agricultural structure. It is, however, a huge machine which can be built only with the utmost care and with the expenditure of much time. It seems only logical, therefore, that the American Wheat Growers Associated, in its capacity of national leadership of the co-operative wheat marketing movement should ask congress to care for its members, actual and potential, until it has time to develop to a point from which it can take care of the situation itself.

"Farm leaders who criticize the action of the American Wheat Growers Associated endanger their own reputation for sincerity. It is almost unbelievable that anyone having the interest of American wheat growers at heart can object to any plan which would bring them relief until such a time as they can take action in their own behalf. The American public and wheat growers especially, are likely to look askanse at anyone in a position of farm leadership who opposes a plan which would bring more money for wheat."

The man who says he owes everything to his wife never settles up.

There is no use for the old grouch in heaven—he would not be satisfied with the way the streets are paved.

Every 20th Subscriber
Is a Telephone Investor

NO OTHER business in the world has such wide ownership of its stock and bonds as the Bell Telephone System.

Between 400,000 and 500,000 people own Bell securities. This is one investor for about every twenty subscribers.

Bell Telephone stock offers a profitable, conservative and safe investment. For every dollar's worth of securities outstanding, a dollar has been invested in property of the System.

You, too, can become a telephone stockholder. Ask any telephone employee about it.

The interests of the public, of our employees and our investors are the same.

Where The Money Goes

The amount of money taken in by the Soo Line during 1922, and how it was used, is shown by the following figures:

Soo Line Receipts in 1922.

Freight rates	$35,530,000.00	74 %
Passenger fares	7,378,000.00	15 %
Mail, exp. sleeping cars, etc.,	3,496,000.00	7 %
Rent of cars stations, etc.	1,999,000.00	4 %
Total	$48,403,000.00	100 %

Soo Line Expenses in 1922.

Wages, all employes	$19,345,000.00	40 %
Materials and supplies (except fuel)	6,416,000.00	13¼ %
Fuel	5,898,000.00	12¼ %
Wear and tear of property,, loss and damage claims, and miscellaneous operating expenses	4,914 000.00	10 %
Taxes	3,158,000.00	6½ %
Rent of cars, stations, etc.	969 000 00	2 %
Rent of leased roads	240,000.00	½ %
Interest on debt	6,468,000.00	13½ %
Surplus	995,000.00	2 %
Total	$48,403,000.00	100 %

84½ percent of the money went for wages, materials, taxes and other necessary expenses of operating the railroad.

13½ percent of the money went to pay interest on debt.

Only 2 percent of the money was left to provide for the payment of maturing indebtedness, improvements to the property, and a return to the stockholders on their investment.

Suppose that you paid $100 in freight to the Soo Line in 1922. If we divide this $100 among the employes, coal merchants, manufacturers, tax collectors, etc., in the same way as all the money was divided we get this result:

WHAT BECAME OF THE SHIPPER'S HUNDRED DOLLARS

Wages, all employes	$ 40.00
Material and supplies (except fuel)	13.25
Fuel	12.25
Wear and tear of property, loss and damage claims and miscellaneous operating expenses	10.0
Taxes	6.5
Rent of cars, stations, etc.	2.0
Rent of leased roads	.50
Interest on debt	13.50
Surplus	2.00
Total	$100.00

Entered as second class matter at the post office at Thief River Falls, Minn., under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Official Newspaper of City of Thief River Falls and Pennington County.

SUBSCRIPTION $2.00 PER YEAR.

Whatever else may be said about the owner of The Tribune, it can't be asserted that he has any fear regarding the future of Thief River Falls and Pennington county. If he didn't have complete faith in the city and county it isn't likely he would take the chance of erecting a handsome new home for his paper at this time. Actions speak louder than words.

Those who spend their time wondering how it is possible for so many people to "afford" an automobile are reminded of the fact that a large percentage of these cars are supported by money which formerly went to the saloons. The old fashioned "filling stations" took more money from the public than the present-day kind are doing, and they operated twelve months out of the year.

When a beet sugar factory becomes a necessity here, we will have one. The only thing which can possibly make a beet sugar factory necesary is a certain amount of beets. When the required number of beets is provided, the sugar factory will come as a matter of course. Simple enough, when we get the correct viewpoint.

The man who never visited the state fair cannot possibly have a full conception of what a great state Minnesota really is. A few days spent in viewing the wonderful agricultural exhibits should make any man proud of the fact that he is a citizen of the North Star state.

There may be farmers in Pennington county who are pessimists, but the dairymen who made up the delegation which visited the state fair and dairy show last week are not included in the number.

Effects of the prohibition law show up in unexpected places. Now the people of Milwaukee are actually worried because the city water supply is not as pure as it should be.

The finest building on the fair grounds this year was the agricultural building. Thirty-five counties had exhibits this year against twelve last year, and the exhibits this year were the classiest ever seen at a state fair. Next year more than fifty counties will exhibit and we look to see every county in the state come in before many moons. The men in charge of this division are responsible for its changed condition, namely J. A. Stoneburg, of Cambridge, in charge of the agricultural division, and R. M. Hall, of Minneapolis, superintendent. These two men are hustlers par excellence and the exhibitors this year voted them the most accommodating of all state fair officials.

The thanks of the editorial fraternity of Minnesota are due the enterprising men who published the attractive and newsy daily which appeared on the state fair grounds each day of the fair. We understand Frank Day fathered the idea of a daily at the state fair, and we trust the feature will be made a permanent one. He was assisted by such men as "Larry Ho," Vic. Portmann and others, who made the paper highly interesting. The editorial booth in the agricultural building contained a copy of every newspaper in Minnesota, a feature which attracted widespread comment. The Tribune is of the opinion that the fair board should see to it that the newspaper exhibit be made an annual feature.

DIVERSIFIED FARMING.

Up in the Wadena district farmers are getting an average of $30 an acre for sweet corn besides retaining the fodder for ensilage. Up in Pennington county the farmers are pleased with their experience this year with sugar beets and there will be a much larger acreage contracted next year. Everywhere the dairy cow is profitable, and every section can find profit-making crops if only the effort be made. Stevens county could specialize on Grimm alfalfa seed, for instance, and become the most reliable alfalfa seed section of the Northwest.—Morris Tribune.

THE BEST ADVERTISING.

Do you remember back a year ago or so when a traveling representative came along and offered to erect a sign board along the highway for $500 or $600? He was willing to rent the space at a certain amount after the first erectional expense. At that time it looked feasible but with the highway department removing these signs what would heve become of the investment. All the money put into the game would have been lost. Sign boards are not considered good advertising. The newspaper is the only good advertising medium. Remember this and profit thereby.

ARE THEY?

Even the best of the citizenry will tell you that "everybody is making it."

Making what?

Moonshine, of course.

Wherever you hear men talking the conversation will drift into a treatise on the liquor question and you will always hear this remark passed.

And it is not so and the speaker knows that it is not so.

The speaker nine times out of ten is a man who would be insulted if anyone intimated that he was "making it" and the listener is not making it or the remark would not be passed.

And then you also hear from some of our best citizens that "it is worse than when the saloons were running."

And that is not so and if the speaker would stop and think he would know it is not so.

Do you remember when in walking down town you could see drunken Indians on every hand and reeling white men staggering down the street, the sidewalk not wide enough to hold them?

Do you see that now?

We will leave the answer to you.

Conditions could be better but when people begin telling that "everybody is making it" and that "it is worse now than when the saloons were running," they are talking foolishly and if they would stop to think they would know they are wrong.—Cass Lake Times.

TOO MUCH BUTTER.

Somebody wants to know if when all the farmers turn from wheat production to butter production we shall not have such a surplus of butter that the market will be greatly glutted and the condition of the farmer will be no better than before.

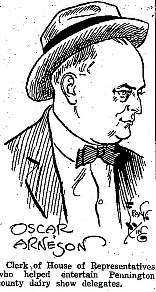
If there is any danger of this it is remote—so remote that we need scarcely consider it as a problem requiring immediate attention. At the present rate of going it will be a long time before the production of milk and cream on American farms, intelligently conducted, ceases to be profitable.

Theoretically, however, there is this possibility. And it may be said that it would be just as foolish for the average farmer to produce nothing but milk and butter as to produce nothing but wheat. The troubles of the exclusive wheat grower did not begin this year or last. They have been developing for a long time.

Wheat grown in the early days on virgin land yielded heavily and realized a good profit. Continuous cropping depleted the soil and weeds then gained foothold, so that yields became less and less. The system of cropping to which a great deal of our land has been subjected, has never succeeded in any country, and never will. Those who persisted in it would not or could not change the method, have forced themselves out of business. Neither organization, co-operation nor legislation could save them. So it will always be.

The same principle applies substantially to any other department of farming. Dairying has the advantage over grain cropping that it does not exhaust the soil. But for farmers who make their homes and their living on the land intensive specialization is not wise. The small farmers who are succeeding in spite of unsatisfactory wheat prices—and there are many of them—are those who treat the farm primarily as a source of food for the family, and who produce food in the widest variety. With this as the first objective, the farmer and his family are assured, without financial outlay, supplies which consumes the greater part of the income of the city man in like circumstances. The city wage earner spends the greater part of his income for food and rent. Without drawing at all on the product of his grain fields the farmer who has his affairs properly organized has the questions of food and rent disposed of. This narrows the field of his expenditure.

The problem of the man who undertakes to farm on a big scale and at long range is quite different. It requires different treatment. But the fact that it is possible for a family now to make a good living and save money on a small farm is demonstrated by the fact that thousands of them are doing it.—Grand Forks Herald.



Clerk of House of Representatives who helped entertain Pennington county dairy show delegates.

WHEAT POOLS IN CANADA.

With the plans for the co-operative hauling of this year's wheat crop proceeding smoothly and rapidly in Alberta and Saskatchewan, there now appears to be no doubt but that the farmers of those provinces will complete the organization of wheat pools in time to market this season's grain.

The companies which have agreed to co-operate with or sell to the pool are the Alberta Pacific Grain company, the United Grain Growers, the Gillispie and the Home Grain companies. In Saskatchewan the single pool idea has met general favor, with the result that the Saskatchewan grain growers and the Farmers' Union have decided to merge their pools. Aaron Sapiro, the California expert, is directing the work of organizing.

John Bracken, Premier has promised moral and, if necessary, financial support to the Manitoba pool, which has not progressed so far as the other provinces.

BREEDING RADICALISM.

During the war much was heard of profiteering, and vigorous action was taken to combat it whenever possible. In recent years, however, not much has been heard of it, but judging from the assertions made by L. V. Nicholas, president of the National Petroleum Marketers' association, it has had an almost unchecked career. Mr. Nicholas, in most positive terms charges that millions of dollars have been taken from the gasoline-buying public through high prices arbitrarily maintained. It is estimated that at present prices the public is saving two and one-half million dollars per day as compared to prices in 1921.

It is just another case of distinction between what one might term wholesale and retail morality. An individual is found guilty of dishonesty, and loses his position or is sent to jail. A corporation even more flagrantly mulcts the public, and practically no notice is taken of it in the majority of cases. The strange part of it is that if an employe of such a concern was even once discovered doing what the concern itself is doing, perhaps all the time, summary action would be taken.

There is a vast difference between a normal profit and unwarrantable profiteering which really amounts to little more than deliberate stealing. That honesty is the best policy is often preached as a fundamental of morality for the individual, but in the case of some corporations it would appear that occasionally those responsible for their policy seem to believe that the opposite is the case. Profiteering is gasoline, sugar, foodstuffs, coal and other necessities of life breed that resentment which some people call radicalism and others Bolshevism.

Future Prospects Bright for Milk and Butterfat Prices to Continue High

Sometimes farmers wonder why milk and butterfat prices keep up so high and why the market is so steady. One reason is that there has been a systematic campaign of education conducted by health authorities all over the United States urging people to drink more milk and eat more butter in the interests of health. This campaign has opened up a new and large demand for dairy products. However, the biggest factor entering into building up dairy product demand the past few years has been the ice cream business. There is probably twenty times as much ice cream consumed in our country today as there was five years ago and the demand is increasing. Long Prairie, for instance, is only one of fifteen or twenty thousand villages and cities. The ice cream parlors in the little village of Long Prairie are selling ten times the amount of ice cream they did five years ago. The same proposition holds good all over the country. This opened up a very large outlet for cream and milk, also eggs. There is little liklihood that the demands from this source are going to grow less; in fact there is every reason to believe that the demands will grow greater. Thus it is that the dairy product market is going to expand even more than at present. There is no other product on the farm the market for which is on such a stable basis as milk and cream. This is a circumstance easily apparent to every farmer and should suggest to him the wisdom of getting his farm onto a basis where he can produce milk and cream. Now is the time to start and the farmer who neglects to start is making a big mistake.—W. W. Brooks in the Long Prairie Leader.

Mrs. Minie Pederson.

Last Saturday evening at 6 o'clock ocurred the death of Mrs. Minnie Pederson, at her home west of this city, after an illness of two weeks due to pneumonia. Deceased was at the time of her death 67 years, one month and 11 days old. She was born in Norway and was the widow of Ole Pederson, who died several years ago. Funeral services were held last Tuesday afternoon, Rev. Grimsrude reading the rites, and interment was made in the Oak Ridge cemetery.

Pennington Red Cross Meets Quota for Japanese Relief

In response to the following telegram from Central Division Red Cross headquarters:

> Rev. E. H. Kreidt, Chairman Pennington county American Red Cross, Thief River Falls, Minn.: President Coolidge places responsibility American Red Cross raise financial aid Japanese sufferers minimum requested nationally five million relief fund state quota $100,000 your chapter quota $500 urge chapter organize campaign above amount cash as agent national Red Cross you requested meet call with war time energy and enthusiasm. (Signed) Walter Davidson.

The directors of Pennington County Red Cross met Tuesday evening and decided to meet our quota from funds already in the treasury. Mr. Melgaard, the treasurer, was instructed to forward $500.00 immediately from local funds. This sum will then be apportioned among the local branches of Pennington County Red Cross and county chapters.

This action is taken to obviate the necessity of making a special drive for Japanese relief at this time. The directors furthermore voted $150.00 for the Community Club Girls as part payment for the social works to be engaged in this spring.

Marshall Sheriff Makes Life Miserable for Men Engaged in Making Moon

Sheriff Hanson of Marshall county the past week staged a couple of raids on a bunch of moonshiners who have been in apparent operation for some time, says the Warren Register. On Saturday he gathered in Albert Gajeski, of the town of Wright, brought him to town and locked him up in the county jail. Defendant waived examination and was bound over to the grand jury, bail being fixed at $800. A complete moonshiner's layout was found on his premises, together with quantities of mash and liquor.

On Sunday a round up was made in the town of Nelson Park of the premises of Martin Przybyiski, Henry Brown, John Stucynski and Adam Stucynski. Mash and moonshine and a still were found at each place and the owners were given until some time this week to appear before the court and signify whether they wish it handed to them now or later.

Goodridge Man on Jury.

J. P. Jensen, prominent Goodridge banker, left yesterday afternoon for Fergus Falls, where he went to serve as a juror in United States district court, which opens an adjourned term there today. Federal Judge Cant of Duluth is presiding.

When a man says: "I run things at my house," he means the lawn mower or the washing machine, or something like that.

If a man's wife is his better half, and he marries twice, what is left of him? Not much.

It is not surprising that there are microbes in kisses, but the most of us are willing to take a chance.

AARON SAPIRO AT STATE FAIR TELLS FARMERS TO LEAN ON THEMSELVES, NOT GOVERNMENT

California "Evangelist" of Co-operative Marketing Denounces Price Fixing—Calls Organization Only Solution for the Grower.

"The more you lean on the government the lower prices will go, but the more you lean on yourselves the more chances you will get for a return on your investment," is the message remaining today with 2,500 farmers who heard Aaron Sapiro, California "evangelist" of the co-operative marketing movement, denounce price fixing and urge co-operation by farmers at the Minnesota State Fair. He spoke at the Farm Bureau federation rally in the livestock pavilion.

"All the tariffs in the world, the Federal Loan banks and the other government help are useless unless you organize yourselves on business principles," he said. "The business of farming won't solve itself. You can't sit back and let somebody else do the work. If you do, you're doomed.

Pleads for Co-operation.

"Get advice from the government, but you go yourselves and do the work. Don't for a minute let your own problems be taken out of your hands. If you will only give us co-operative marketing, I know it will stop the competition of the cheap wheat of India against the fine wheat of Minnesota and the northwest."

Mr. Sapiro began his speech with a tribute to the State Fair, but said that it was an indication of the productive power of the farmers of the state only and did not indicate the distributing weakness of the state. He argued for co-operation which makes the farmer the merchandizer himself in the world's market of the goods he produces. He criticized the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association and the Central Co-operative Commission association at South St. Paul as not completely co-operative.

Co-operative Knowledge Lacking.

"You have stuck to the consumers' branch of co-operation for 60 years, and all you have done thereby was to stop little petty larceny," he said. "You have built a big machine; now it is time to change the machine. Your creameries, for instance, had brilliant leadership, and you were taught to manufacture co-operatively, but you let each creamery sell by itself. You have tried to correct this deficiency by your Minnesota Co-operative Creameries association and yet that has not struck the right marketing plan. Potatoes were organized in little marketing locals that forgot to grade the product. All that the South St. Paul co-operation is, is an overhead commission house that fools you into thinking that you have real co-operation.

"Yes, you have got co-operative spirit, co-operative royalty, but no co-operative knowledge.

Market Aims Cited.

"What do you aim to do? You must adhere to your aim steadfastly if you succeed.

"The aim is to see if you can introduce profit into farming by stopping dumping, all individual selling, and introduce standard product into the market.

"Take the cotton industry. One million families are engaged in this industry. The average return to each of these families is only $390 a year. The south is a whole generation behind the north, yet it has one of the greatest crops on earth to sell. Each producer has been in the habit of throwing his crop upon the market at the same time that every other man did, without knowing the production quantities of India, Japan and other nations.

"It isn't the speculator that 'breaks the market,' it is the dumping grower.

"In short, the cotton crop dumped enriches every other hand that touches it except that of the man whose sweat is on that cotton.

"What is true of cotton is equally true of wheat, potatoes, prunes, beans, walnuts, peas and alfalfa. All these commodities and every other can be organized to sell from one central merchandising office. We don't change the channel of trade, but we just put that channel in the hands of the growers instead of the speculators and dealers.

"This, and not politics, is the only thing that will aid you. You yelled for Townley and got $1 wheat. You yelled for a farmer on the federal reserve board and got $1 wheat. The more you lean on the government to help you the lower prices will go.

Predicts World Association.

"Liverpool sets the price of wheat. The Liverpool group of nice men have imitators in Chicago, even in Minneapolis. At Chicago these virtuous men have dealt in futures amounting to 40 times as much as the wheat actually produced. This group maintains an elaborate private news service. It breaks the home market by knowing when to bring in foreign product.

"You must begin by organizing state wheat growers co-operative marketing organizations. In Canada, in Calgary, such an association was organized in 30 days.

"I predict that Saskatchewan and Manitoba will have a similar association, that there will be a Dominion association and that this association will unite with one in Australia and then with one in the United States, so that co-operative marketers will control 80 per cent of the world's wheat supply.

"This, and not fixing arbitrary prices, will help you.

"Here is the technique of organization. You must organize your market around a commodity, and not around a geographical unit. Don't use amateurs, and don't take the advise of indignant though sincere men."

GREAT NORTHERN EXPLAINS ITS OWNERSHIP

There are outstanding 2,494,730 shares of Great Northern stock, of the par value of $100.00 each. Each share represents an equal ownership in the property of the Great Northern Railway and each share has an equal voice in all shareholders' meetings, including those for the election of directors.

On December 31, 1922, these shares were owned by 44,314 men and women in all walks of life, and by organizations and institutions, as follows:

Number of men	24,416
Number of women	18,113
Insurance companies and miscellaneous corporations	1,616
Hospitals, charitable bodies, religious and educational institutions	169

The wide distribution of these holdings is shown in the following table:

28,449 held from 1 to 20 shares each.
12,579 held from 20 to 100 shares each.
Only 3,286 held over 100 shares each.
The average holding is only 56.2 shares.

Dividends have been paid on this stock since 1891. From 1900 to 1921 the dividend rate was 7 per cent per annum. In 1922 this was reduced to 5¼ per cent and in 1923 to 5 per cent.

Many peopel in the territory traversed by the Great Northern are among its largest shareholders, and are therefore directly affected by its ability to pay a return on capital invested.

Most of the large life insurance companies have money invested in Great Northern securities. Therefore, nearly everyone who holds a life insurance policy, and many depositors in savings banks, are in the operation and devel- its ability to pay. Many of you belong to this class.

LOUIS W. HILL,
Chairman of the Board.

Commissioners' Proceedings

Thief River Falls, Minn., Aug. 28th, 1923.

The County Board for Pennington county met in the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, at nine o'clock in the forenoon, for the purpose of inspecting and approving the work of constructing a bridge on State Road No. 4 under contract by The Prichard Company and for any other business that may legally come before said meeting.

Meeting was called to order by the Chairman Commissioner, McGinn. On roll call all members reported present.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Roy, who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Larson.

BE IT RESOLVED, That the sum of seventy-five dollars hereby is appropriated from the General Revenue Fund of the county to the committee in charge of the exhibit booth at the State fair and that the county auditor hereby is authorized and instructed to issue his warrant in said amount.

All members present voted for the resolution and it was so declared approved.

Petitions of J. E. Peterson to be set off from School District No. 133 and attached to School District No. 6, was presented to the County Board for consideration.

WHEREAS, A petition signed by J. E. Peterson, a freeholder of School District No. 133 in this county, with the approval of the County Superintendent endorsed thereon, representing that he is the owner of the following described lands situate in said district, to-wit: NW¼ of NW¼ of Section 13, Township 152, Range 43. Said lands adjoin School District No. 6 and asking that his said lands may be set off from said District No. 133 to said District No. 6 for the following reasons:

First, nearly all my land except said 40 acres is assessed in No. 6.

Second, I am about one and a half miles closer to said District No. 6.

Third, I feel that all my lands rightfully belong to District No. 6 because this district is smaller and needs these 40 acres. Said 40 acres join my land in District No. 6, was presented to the County Board of Pennington county, Minn., at a session of said Board held on the 28th day of August, A. D., 1923, for the action of said Board thereon.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that said petition will be heard by this Board at the session thereof commencing on the 20th day of September, A. D., 1923, at the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county.

And it is further ordered that notice of time and place of such hearing be given by a two weeks published notice thereof, and posting a notice of such hearing in three public places in each of the School Districts to be affected by said petition and by serving upon the clerk of each of said School Districts by mail, a copy of said notice of hearing, at least ten days before the time appointed for such hearing.

Petition of Charles O. Sumpter to be set off from School District No. 133 and attached to School District No. 6 was presented to the County Board for their consideration.

WHEREAS, A petition signed by Charles O. Sumpter, a freeholder of School District No. 133 in this county, with the approval of the County Superintendent endorsed thereon, representing that he is the owner of the following described lands situate in said District, to-wit: South-half of northeast quarter, section 13, township 152, range 43. Said lands adjoin School District No. 6 and asking that his said lands may be set off from said District No. 133 to said District No. 6 for the following reasons:

First, I have three and one-fourth miles to District No. 133 schoolhouse and only one and three-fourths mile to District No. 6 schoolhouse.

Second, my lands adjoin District No. 6.

Third, I must send the children to District No. 6 on account of roads and therefore I feel that I rightfully belong to District No. 6, was presented to the County Board of Pennington county, Minn., at a session of said Board held on the 28th day of August, A. D., 1923, for the action of said Board thereon.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that said petition will be heard by this Board at the the session thereof commencing on the 20th day of September A. D., 1923, at the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county.

And it is further ordered that notice of time and place of such hearing be given by a two weeks published notice thereof, and posting a notice of such hearing in three public places in each of the School Districts to be affected by said petition and by serving upon the clerk of each of said School Districts by mail, a copy of said notice of hearing, at least ten days before the time appointed for such hearing.

Petition of T. T. Sumpter to be set off from School District No. 133 and attached to School District No. 6, was presented to the County Board for their consideration.

WHEREAS, A petition signed by T. J. Sumpter, a freeholder of School District No. 133, in this county, with the approval of the County Superintendent endorsed thereon, representing that he is the owner of the following described lands situate in said District, to-wit: NE¼ of NE¼ of section 13, township 152, range 43. Said lands adjoin School District No. 6 and asking that his said lands may be set off from said District No. 133 to said District No. 6 for the following reasons:

First, all my land except 40 acres is assessed in District No. 6.

Second, I live four miles from District No. 133 school house and one and three-fourths miles from No. 6 school house.

Third, all my land should rightfully be assessed in District No. 6.

Fourth, said 40 acres joins my land in District No. 6, was presented to the County Board of Pennington county, Minn., at a session of said Board held on the 28th day of August, A. D., 1923, for the action of said Board thereon.

Now, therefore, it is ordered that said petition will be heard by this Board at the session thereof commencing on the 20th day of September, A. D., 1923, at the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county.

WILL ORGANIZE CLUB TO ELIMINATE GAME KILLING PESTS HERE

Plan to Rid Entire Country of Crows, Hawks and Horned Owls.

A group of veteran hunters, men who never miss a season in the woods in an effort to bag some small game and incidentally brush the cobwebs from their brain, were discussing the approaching hunting season in the Winchester store the other day and it was the consensus of opinion that there would be plenty of game this fall. As to the future that is another story.

"Some 4,495,000 persons paid more than six millions of dollars for hunting licenses last fall," said F. L. Christenson, of the Winchester store, breaking into the discussion. "It was the best season ever recorded. Two hundred and fifty thousand more licenses were issued than in 1921, and this is without counting Mississippi and North Carolina where without a commission it is difficult to ascertain the number of hunters. In Pennsylvania alone 464,000 licenses were granted. Michigan and Ohio gave out more than 300,000; New York, Illinois and Wisconsin sold more than 200,000 and eleven states had more than 100,000 in the field. From every state comes the word that there will be more hunters out this fall and reports also have it that there is more game."

"Guess you're right," interrupted one of the old timers, about the number of hunters, but I don't know about the game. There would be more game to shoot if we could get rid of the crows and other vermin that infest the woods. For every bird shot by a hunter ten are killed by crows and other vermin. To preserve game so that we will have some to shoot at in future years it will be necesary to destroy or at least keep down the vermin that preys on our game."

"We might just as well begin the elimination process now," broke in Mr. Christenson, "by killing a few crows, red squirrels, horned owls, weasels and Cooper hawks to get in condition for the hunting season and every pest that we kill will mean more game to shoot at later on. Incidentally there is a national movement to clear the woods and fields of the slayers of our game birds through the formation of Vermin Hunting clubs in evry city and town. We ned one here. By forming a club we can map out a plan of campaign that will eventually exterminate many of the pests that now infest our woodland. It will be great fun, too, to go into the fields and shoot as many of the game destroyers as you wish.

"The crow is the most destructive robber of birds. His depredations occur chiefly during the nesting season when the pound are helpless. Canada offers a bounty of 20c for crows and last year paid out $29,00. There are said to be 7,000,00 crows in British Columbia. Some times I think we have that many in these parts. A red squirrel in a breeding season will destroy 250 quail egs. Only one out of every 60 ducks hatched lives to a mature age. It is up to us to take steps to stop this wholesale slaughter if the game birds are to be kept from becoming extinct. If we want game in the future we must do something now."

As a result of the above discussion a meeting will be held within the near future at the Winchester store. An effort will be made to have one of the date of the meeting will be announced state game wardens in attendance. The as soon as the warden is heard from.

Campaign Started to Rid Red Lake County of Moon Distillers and Retailers

That the prohibition law has in the past been more or less of a joke in Red Lake county cannot be denied by anyone acquainted with conditions. It seems, however, that the law respecting element is about to assert itself and some interesting developments may be looked for in the near future. The following item, clipped from last week's issue of the Plummer Pioneer, seems to indicate that the illicit liquor vendor in that county has reached the beginning of the end:

"A delegation of Red Lake county citizens, numbering about 25 in all, and coming from different parts of the county, met with the county commissioners last Wednesday afternoon. We understand that the meeting was in the nature of a protest to the matter in which boot-leggers were allowed to operate in Red Lake county. Whether or not the meeting will bring any direct action by the commissioners, we are unable to say, but it will at least show the sentiment of many of the good people of the county. Detective Stroup informed the editor of this paper that if the commissioners would allow him to work in this county, he would agree to go out and get the evidence, appear in court against the parties, and if the commissioners and judge thought his services were worth anything they could pay him, and if not, then he would work for nothing. The action of the commissioners will be awaited with interest."

Many Local Nimrods Wish to Begin Chase Sept. 16

Up to last evening about 75 Pennington county men had been granted hunters' licenses for the season which opens next Sunday morning, September 16. Many of the hunters no doubt are putting off getting a license until nearer the opening day and County Auditor Anderson expects the permits will be in lively demand Friday and Saturday.

Both prairie chickens and ducks may be hunted this year, the former for two weeks only. Therefore it is likely that most of the hunters will start the season in quest of chickens and let the ducks go until later on. It is reported that chickens are numerous in many parts of the county and the nimrods anticipate little trouble in bagging the legal limit on the first day.

Rice Egg Association Makes First Shipment

The Rice County Co-operative Egg Marketing association on August 27, shipped its first car of eggs to New York. The association now has a membership of 500. All are producers under contract to sell all their egs and poultry through the association. It is the first of the district egg and poultry associations to begin selling operations on the California plan of co-operation. Associations to serve the Mille Lacs and Princeton communities are nearly complete and ten others are in the process of organization, according to J. S. Jones, secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation.

Creamery Association Sets Shipment Record

The New York office of the Minnesota Co-operative Creameries' association in July, handled 247 cars of butter for member creameries. This is 28 cars more than had been handled in any previous 30-day period. In addition to these cars, which contained more than 7,000,000 pounds of butter, the office handled 5,600 cases of eggs. The new Chicago office of the association handled its first car late in August.

WOMAN'S THRONE

Woman's supreme position is home. The domestic throne is the highest pinnacle to which she has ever ascended or ever will ascend. The home is the broadest field in which she could operate. To take her from the domestic throne is to lower her position. To take her out of the domestic field is to leave her without position and without power. There are women who object to these statements. There are women who are trying to repudiate the domestic responsibilities, obligations, and relationships. There are women who ar. asking that they be given the same license and be permitted to travel the same dubious road which men have traveled throughout the ages. They are asking for the privilege of following the habits, customs of men. If they are going to acquire the habits of men they may be forced into the position where the vices of men will fasten themselves upon womankind.

Woman does not go into the home to be tyrannized over, but when she takes the imperial throne of Christian wifehood and motherhood, she is the dominant figure of society and the controlling force in the world. If the average wife would go home and stay there and perform her full duty toward her home and church, her husband and children and her God, she would transform the face of society and lead America on the march of reformation.

The wives of today are responsible for a large percentage of the crime wave that is sweeping the country. Wives, go home. Stay home and attend to your own business which is home-keeping, children-rearing, and home developing.

Wife, go home.

Sailor Boys Here.

Clifford Sorenson, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Sorenson, and Fred Erickson, will return Friday evening to the Great Lakes naval training station after spending a ten-day furlough here. After remaining there for a few days they will go to Brooklyn. Erickson is taking a yeoman's course in the navy while Sorenson is fitting himself as a machinist. Both enlisted a few months ago for a period of four years.

Seeking Citizenship.

Judge Andrew Grindeland will conduct a special session of court in Thief River Falls on Monday, September 24. for the purpose of hearing applications for citizenship. Only two names appear on the list of applicants and therefore the session is expected to be unusually brief. Those desiring citizenship at this time are Oscar Ahderson of Thief River Falls and Arne Engebretson Vik of St. Hilaire, both natives of Norway.

Consignors Omitted.

The Tribune last week in giving a list of local dairymen consigning animals to the Holstein sale to be held in Thief River Falls on October 3, inadvertently omitted the names of Oscar Wilson of Hazel and V. C. Noper of this city, both prominent breeders whose herds will be represented at the sale. No consignment sale would be complete without animals from the Wilson and Noper herds.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us and tendered their sympathy during the illness and following the death of Mrs. A. H. Erickson. These kind acts will never be forgotten.—A. H. Erickson, Earl Erickson, Mr and Mrs. E. Kling Mrs. C. M. Gillette, Mrs. J. A. Piprew.

Judge to Inspect Ditch.

Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren, in company with the board of commissioners of Marshall county, is on a tour of inspection today looking over the recently completed Judicial Ditch No. 30.

Mrs. Peterson Improving.

Mrs. C. L. Peterson, who underwent a serious operation last week for a tumor, at the Warren hospital, is greatly improved and her many friends hope for a quick recovery.

Scandinavians are cordially invited.—A. O. Lundeen, Pastor.

Judge Grindeland Gives Goodridge Election Case Decision Here Tuesday

Finds Vote Resulted in Tie and Declares Vacancy Exists in Office of School Director.

The final hearing in the Goodridge school election contest was conducted in the court room here yesterday, with Judge Andrew Grindeland of Warren presiding. This is the case in which Palmer Tvedt contested the election of Sig. Anderson as director in the Goodridge school district, claiming that the count had been improperly made by one of the election officials.

While Judge Grindeland has not yet rendered his decision officially. it is understood that he found each of the aspirants for the office had received an equal number of votes and that therefore neither of them is legally elected. Anderson claimed 60 votes but three of these were thrown out by the court because the name was not properly written in. In these three cases the letter "S" alone was used and the court ruled that these could not properly be counted by Sig. Anderson as another resident of the district bears the name Sievert Anderson and the votes could have been meant for him. No regularly printed ballots were used at the election, each voter writing the name of his choice in the space provided therefor on the ballot.

Mr. Tvedt received 57 votes and the court found all of them were legally cast and could be counted. By removing three from the total claimed for his opponent the court placed them both on an even footing and neither of them entitled to the office.

Former Thief River Man Takes Unto Himself Wife

Lars L. Furan of Rosewood, for many years a resident of Thief River Falls and one time a partner of Severt Benson in the barber business, was united in mariage Friday evening, August 31, to Miss Gena Aos of Rosewood. The ceremony was performed by Rev. George Larson at the home of K. E. Dahl, 315 Knight avenue north, Mr. and Mrs. Dahl being the witnesses. Mr. and Mrs. Furan will make their home at Rosewood.

PENNINGTON COUNTY MEN CONVICTED OF LIQUOR LAW VIOLATIONS RECEIVE HEAVY SENTENCES FROM JUDGE IN FEDERAL COURT

Five Thief River Falls Men Draw Fines and Jail Sentences While Two Are Discharged by the Court.

The past week has been a rough one for most of the Pennington county men who appeared before Judge Cant in federal court at Fergus Falls on liquor violation charges. The judge has no mercy on this class of law breakers and handed out an assortment of sentences which should help to discourage anyone who might be imbued with a desire to stretch the provisions of the Volstead act.

Seven men from this county were slated for trial at this term of court and of this number five were convicted and two discharged. Ole Ystesund and Alfred Okstad succeeded in establishing their innocence of the charges preferred against them and were discharged by the court. They were represented by Attorney G. Halvorson of Thief River Falls.

A. H. Erickson, former employe in Bennie Vigen's place here, entered a plea of guilty and was fined $400, with no jail sentence attached. It is understood that Erickson's fine is being paid by Vigen. When Vigen's case came up for hearing, he entered a plea of guilty to the charge of selling liquor. He was given a straight jail sentence of three months with a stay until November 15. At that time he will be placed in jail at Detroit to serve his sentence.

Conrad Vinje stood trial and was convicted. The judge handed him a sentence of five months and 25 days in jail, with a fine of $500 for good measure. A stay of ten days was granted in his case. Sidney Voldness, caught in Vinje's place when the raid was made by the federal men, was given the same dose, but started to serve his jail sentence at once.

C. B. Bradley, the last of the local moonshiners to be brought before the judge, entered a plea of not guilty and stood trial. He was convicted by the jury after less than 15 minutes of deliberation, however, and the judge gave him the usual five months and 25 days in jail with the $500 fine as an additional inducement to refrain from re-engaging in the moonshine business upon his release from jail. Bradley was taken back to Warren immediately following the trial to complete the 90-day sentence he is serving there under sentence of district court upon another liquor charge. As soon as he is through at Warren he will start the long stretch without a breathing spell in between.

Langseth Family Escapes Terrible California Fire

A telegram received yesterday by A. M. Langseth of this city brings the pleasing news that Mrs. Anna Langseth and family, who recently moved to California and are making their home at Berkely, escaped injury and property loss in the disastrous fire which swept over that city this week. The flames swept everything clean within one solid block from Mrs. Langseth's residence, however, and for a time it looked as if her home was doomed.

Newlyweds in Montana.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Arneson, who left Thief River Falls August 21 on a honeymoon trip through the West, are now touring Yellowstone and Glacier National parks and a card received from them requests that mail be forwarded to them at Butte, Montana. They are well and enjoying the trip immensely, according to the card.

Holm Highly Honored.

At the annual meeting of the National Secretary of States association held last week in North Carolina, Secretary of State Mike Holm of Minnesota was honored with election to the position of vice president of the association. The meeting of the association next year will be held at Washington, D. C.

Roscoe Sarles' famous racing automobile, one of the two prized possessions of the late world-famous automobile racing driver, plays an important role in "Racing Hearts," a Paramount picture starring Agnes Ayres, which comes to the Princess theatre for two days beginning Sunday next.

This car, capable of a speed of more than 110 miles per hour, was one of the team of two owned by Sarles. The great driver drove it in many races, alternating with the machine in which he met his death during the recent races at Kansas City, Mo.

In the racing scenes of "Racing Hearts," Miss Ayres in a high-powered car, speeds along at the rate of over 100 miles per hour and is closely contested by Richard Dix, leading man in the picture, who drives the Sarles Special.

Johnny Wonderlich, famous automobile racing driver, is one of the participants in the race which furnishes a gigantic and exciting climax to the picture. Another man whose name is equally widely known is Eddie Heffernan, who rode with Eddie Hearne in the Kansas City races, where Hearne was injured, almost fatally, and where Roscoe Sarles met his death. Both of these drivers race against Miss Ayres in the picture, attaining a speed of 104 miles an hour at times.

THIEF RIVER "Y" TO OPEN SEASON FIRST OF MONTH

Board to Place Resident Director in Charge During Winter Months.

Headquarters to Be Continued in Basement of Carnegie Library.

According to present intentions of those in charge, the Thief River Falls Y. M. C. A. will open activities October 1. A meeting of the board of directors was held last Friday, at which plans for the coming year were thoroughly gone over. It is the intention of the board to place the local rooms in charge of a competent Y. M. C. A. worker, who will devote his entire time to the task of conducting the institution. "Y" headquarters will be maintained in the basement of the Carnegie library as usual. W. H Turner of Deer River, an experienced man in this line of work, has been offered the position of director but his acceptance has not yet been received.

During the time the Y. M. C. A. was in operation last winter and spring it proved its value without any question. A large number of high school boys and others joined the organization and received much benefit from its gymnasium and other activities. As a clean and healthful place of recreation for the youth of the city it is of much value and merits the whole-hearted support of every citizen who is concerned with the welfare of the community's young men.

As the season progresses and funds become available, it is the intention of the board of directors to make substantian additions to the gymnasium equipment and in other ways improve facilities for recreation and entertainment. A meeting of the board of directors will be held next Monday evening, September 24, at 7:30, and all members are asked to be present at that time as important business is to be considered.

Grafton Folks Wed.

Frank A. Colsen and Miss Ida K. Mohagen, both of Grafton, N. D., were married by Rev. T. E. Sweger at the Trinity Lutheran parsonage in this city on Thursday, September 13. The newlyweds will make their home at Grafton.

Returned Missionary to Speak Thursday Evening at Presbyterian Church

A special missionary meeting will be held at the Presbyterian church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. The speaker will be Rev. Lee Downing, returned missionary of the African Inland Mission, who spoke at the Bible conference here last October. Rev. Downing also will speak Thursday afternoon at 3 at the home of Mr. Gerlinger on subjects of special interest to women.

Benson New Manager of Co-Operative Store Here

George Sheldrew, for several years manager of the store conducted by the Peoples Co-operative company in Thief River Falls, recently resigned and has taken up work as manager of a similar establishment at Grygla. M. N. Benson, for many years engaged in retail merchandising in this city, has been chosen by the board of directors to fill Mr. Sheldrew's position in the store here and already is actively in charge of the business. With his long experience and extensive acquaintance Mr. Benson should prove to be the right man in the right place.

John Morgan Closes Deal for Lieberman Building; Possession November 1st

Pioneer Business Man and Former Postmaster to Establish First Class Variety Store Here.

A deal was made this week whereby John Morgan, for 30 years a resident of Thief River Falls and closely associated with the city's business life during all of that time, purchased from A. S. Lieberman, the brick building on LaBree avenue occupied by the clothing store of Lieberman Brothers. Mr. Morgan concluded a long term of service as postmaster of Thief River Falls some months ago and since that time has been investigating several propositions with a view to engaging in business.

The new owner will be given possession of the building November 1, and expects to open a variety store therein. The establishment will be conducted along the lines of the Woolworth stores in the East and Mr. Morgan intends to put in a stock which will make it a first class store of its kind. Mr. Morgan believes there is a field in Thief River Falls for a business of the sort he proposes to conduct and has lived here long enough to know that the city and surrounding country have a bright future.

The Tribune has been unable to ascertain Mr. Lieberman's plans with regard to the clothing stock now housed in the building. Mr. Lieberman is at present out of the city and could not be reached by The Tribune reporter.

Well Known Scandinavian Players to Appear Here On Saturday, October 6th

"Olle i Skratthult" to Play Return Engagement With Bigger and Better Company Than Ever.

People of Thief River Falls and vicinity who enjoy a good show will be delighted to know that "Olle i Skratthult" and his company are scheduled to play a return engagement in this city. It is this week announced that the famous Swedish comedian and his able assistants will appear at the auditorium here on Saturday evening, October 6.

"Olle" needs no introduction to the people of this section. He has played here several times in the past and at no time failed to please the most exacting. He is in a class by himself and as a provoker of laughter has few equals on the stage today. But "Olle" is not the whole show by any means. He is supported by a company of singers, performers on musical instruments and dancers not excelled anywhere. In fact, the entire show is a high class performance and one which merits the support of everyone.

Music lovers and those who enjoy good clean comedy have a treat in store for them on the evening of Saturday, October 6, and indications are that the big auditorium will be filled to overflowing.

Morlan Bishop Receives Appointment to American Legion Finance Committee

Morlan Bishop of Thief River Falls this week received a communication from state healquarters of the American Legion stating that he had been appointed as chairman of the department standing finance committee. Other members of the committee are A. H. Vernon, Little Falls; B. D. Grogan, Mankato; Jay Hormel, Austin; and Karl Victor, Lindstrom. Raymond I. Tennant, St. Paul, department treasurer, is to serve as an advisory member.

Appointment to the chairmanship of this important committee is a distinct honor to the Thief River Falls man and comes as a recognition of the valuable service he has rendered the Minnesota department of the American Legion since the organization of that body.

American Legion Party to Be Given Friday Evening for City Teaching Corps

On Friday evening of this week the local post of the American Legion and Woman's Auxiliary will entertain the faculty members of the Thief River Falls schools in the club rooms of the Legion. Besides the members of the Legion a number of young men of the city have been invited to the party, which should add materially to the enjoyment of the occasion. The party is given for the purpose of affording the teachers an opportunity to become acquainted with the young people of Thief River Falls and thereby making their stay here during the school term more pleasant.

Holstein Sale Promises to Be Banner Event for All Dairymen of Section

The Holstein consignment sale to be conducted at the fair grounds in Thief River Falls on Wednesday, Oct. 3, promises to be far more than a local affair. Inquires have been received from many distant points and indications are that buyers will be here from all sections of the Northwest. A number of local dairymen also expect to avail themselves of this opportunity to add new and better blood to their dairy herds.

The sale is scheduled to start promptly at noon, and twenty-three registered animals will be placed upon the auction block. Of these two are high class bulls and the remainder females. All animals will be guaranteed free from tuberculosis and if desired the buyer may have his animals retested before leaving the grounds.

Some of the most widely known and best breeders of Holsteins in this section of Minnesota are among the consignors, and a number of the animals rank high as producers. The variety is sufficiently large so that every buyer should be able to secure an animal exactly to his liking.

VOTERS OF CITY WILL ELECT NEW OFFICIALS SOON

Regular Election in Thief River Falls to Be Held November 6.

Mayor, Aldermen and Municipal Judge Are to Be Chosen.

Even though very few people have stopped to give the matter a thought, and despite the fact that very little discussion concerning it is to be heard among Thief River Falls citizens, there is positively going to be a municipal campaign and a city election here in the immediate future. According to notices posted about the city this week, the election is scheduled for Tuesday, November 6, at which time a full complement of city officials will be elected for the ensuing two years.

A mayor, two aldermen at large and one alderman from each ward, as well as a municipal judge are to be elected in November. Other positions in the city's official family are filled by appointment after the men elected have assumed charge of the city's affairs. This occurs at the first meeting in January of the new year.

There appears to be no great scramble for city offices and up to the present time not one candidate has filed with the City Clerk a request to have his name placed upon the ballot. Of course, there is more or less talk in certain quarters about the lineup of the next city administration and a number have been "mentioned" for the various offices. Information coming from a source which should be fairly reliable has it that Dr. H. W. Froehlich will soon announce himself a candidate for mayor, but this rumor lacks the confirmation of the doctor himself and is therefore to be taken at its face value.

The coming campaign promises to be different from many of its predecessors due to the absence of a clear-cut "issue." The present administration has given the city very acceptable government and no reasonable man can find much fault with it. Something may happen at any time, however, which will add interest to the contest. It doesn't seem likely that all of the offices to be filled will go begging because of a dearth of candidates. At least such has never been the case heretofore.

Commercial Club Will Meet Tomorrow to Deal With Many Important Subjects

A regular meeting of the Thief River Falls Commercial club will be held at the club rooms tomorrow (Thursday). The meeting will be held at noon and the regular noonday luncheon will be served.

Among other important matters to be brought up for consideration at this time is the question of making proper arrangements for the dairy booster meeting to be held on Wednesday evening, October 3. A considerable amount of work is involved in making the dairy meeting a success and a large attendance is requested tomorrow in order that this matter may be properly cared for.

Strandquist Bank Closed.

The Farmers and Merchants State bank at Strandquist was closed on Tuesday of last week under orders of the state banking department. The affairs of the bank are said to be in such condition that depositors will lose nothing but some time will be required to collect outstanding loans and realize on other assets.

GRAND DAIRY BOOSTER MEETING AND COMMERCIAL CLUB LUNCHEON SLATED FOR WEDNESDAY, OCT. 3

Delegation to State Fair and Dairy Show to Be Honor Guests at Big Evening Gathering in Auditorium.

Wednesday, October 3, is scheduled to be a red-letter day in the annals of the dairy industry in Pennington county. That is the day of the big Holstein consignment sale, which will take place at the fair grounds. But this is not all by any means. In the evening the Thief River Falls Commercial club is arranging a rousing dairy meeting and luncheon, to be given in the clubrooms at the auditorium.

Original plans were to hold this dairy booster meeting on Thursday of this week but it appeared to those in charge that better results could be obtained by holding it on the same day as the Holstein sale for the reason that a large number of dairymen from this section of the state and distant points will be here that day and therefore will not be required to make an extra trip to attend the dairy booster meeting. The Holstein sale will be held in the afternoon and the dairy meeting in the evening, thus preventing any conflict between the two.

The dairy booster meeting will open with a luncheon at six o'clock. This will be served at the nominal price of 25 cents to all. After lunch the meeting will be turned over to a discussion of the dairy industry in Pennington county. A number of local speakers will appear on the program and it is likely that outside speakers can be secured for the occasion.

One feature of the meeting which should prove of much interest is the appearance there in a body of the delegation of dairymen which recently visited the state fair and Northwest dairy show as guests of the Commercial club. These men will take a prominent part in the proceedings and will be asked to report on what they observed during their visit to the fair. These reports should prove highly interesting to those who are concerned with the development of the dairy industry in Pennington county.

Let every man in the neighborhood—farmer, professional men and business man—help make this dairy booster meeting a success. This can best be done by attending the meeting and seeing to it that others do likewise.

May Locate Here.

Hjalmer Waller, accompanied by a brother and sister, drove over last week from Brinsmaid, N. D. Miss Waller is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Johnson and expects to remain here indefinitely. The brothers looked over some of the land in this vicinity and one of them expects either to buy or rent a farm here. They returned to their home Friday and stated that they were well pleased with the country surrounding Thief River Falls.

Tribune Acquires Middle River Pioneer's List of Subscribers; New Service

Readers of Suspended Village Publication to Receive Thief River Falls Paper Instead.

Through a deal made last week with the owners of the Middle River Pioneer, which suspended publication two weeks ago, The Tribune this week takes over the subscription list of that paper. This means that former readers of the Pioneer will now receive The Tribune regularly, and all subscription agreements, both those in arrears and those paid in advance, will be carried out by this paper.

With the suspension of the Pioneer the people of that neighborhood found that it is mighty inconvenient to get along without a newspaper. While it is realized that the new arrangement is perhaps not as satisfactory as a home paper would be, it will prove of great help in keeping that community on the map. A competent correspondent will chronicle each week the news events of the village and an effort will be made to cover the field as thoroughly as possible. As soon as matters can be arranged it is planned to devote at least a page of The Tribune to Middle River each week.

HUNTERS HIE TO WILDS IN LARGE HORDES SUNDAY

Hunting Season Opens With Many Pennington Nimrods Taking to Field.

Some Secure Legal Limit of Birds While Others Are Less Fortunate.

Last Sunday saw an exodus of hunters from Thief River Falls. They went in all directions and varying distances, some going after chickens while others thought they could have better success wih ducks. Most of the hunters left the city before sunrise, while a few took their usual Sunday morning sleep and went hunting at their leisure.

Countless hours of oiling and polishing had been lavished on shot guns for several days prior to the opening of the season, and the smell of gun oil was a fitting prelude to the smell of gun powder which pervaded the atmosphere on Sunday.

Practically every hunter has a favorite hunting ground. Occasionally a few friends are let in on the secret of the location and are given the privilege of hunting in "the best hunting ground." For the most part, however, these places are kept secret. The redeeming feature of the whole proceeding is that there usually is enough of these "best places" to go around.

The weather last Sunday was windy and disagreeable but quite warm. Some hunters returning in the evening reported a limit bag but most of them had to be content with a much lesser number. In fact, all some of the nimrods got for their trouble was a lot of good exercise.

County Auditor T. P. Anderson up to Tuesday afternoon had issued a total of 425 hunting licenses, a considerably larger number than in former years. He ran out of license blanks on Monday and had to telegraph to St. Paul for an additional supply.

Sons of Norway to Hold Leif Erickson Festival Thursday September 27

The Sons of Norway lodge is planning a Leif Erickson festival, to be held in their hall on Thursday evening, September 27. A fine program is in preparation and a good lunch will be served. The general public is cordially invited to be present at the festival. An effort is being made to secure a prominent speaker from outside the city to deliver an address during the evening.

State Department Gives Assurance of Immediate Attention to Bad Roads

A letter received from the state highway department in reply to the request of the Commercial club that something be done immediately to improve the stretch of the Jefferson highway just west of Thief River Falls and the half mile south of the city limits on the same highway, was bad pieces of road will be shaped up Thursday.

The letter stated that both of these bal pieces of road will be shaped up and graveled before winter sets in, and work on the west road will be started at once. This will be pleasing news to those who have occasion to use the roads in question, which have been in a deplorable condition for a long time.

Olaf Neset Again Cleans Up Winnings With Rhode Island Reds at Big Show

Captures Fine Assortment of Prizes in Strong Competition at Fergus Falls County Fair.

Not content with making a fine showing and taking all premiums worth while at the Pennington and Beltrami county fairs, Olaf Neset put on exhibition a number of his choice Rhode Island Red chickens at the Ottertail county fair and poultry show held last week at Fergus Falls. And the results were as per usual. Neset's Reds again proved invincible and brought home with them a bunch of ribbons which should make their owner feel proud indeed.

Here is what the Reds were awarded at Fergus Falls, against the strongest kind of competition: First and special on cock, first and special on hen, second and third hen, second cockerel, first, second third and fifth pullet, first old pen and first young pen. The array of awards would make it appear that there wasn't much left for the other birds on exhibition.

Mr. Neset is naturally highly elated because of the fine showing made by his Reds at Fergus Falls. He now possesses, without any question whatever, one of the finest flocks of this breed of poultry in the entire state. Such an achievement is no accident. It is the result of years spent in painstaking work and care, besides a thorough knowledge of the business of raising high grade poultry.

Mathew 22. 1-14 inclusive, has been designated as the theme for the sessions in the Norwegian language.

Frances Willard Dav Will Be Observed in Minnesota on Friday, September 28

Scientific Temperance Instruction to Be Featured in Rural and City Schools of State.

During the last session of the Minnesota legislature a law was enacted making September 28 of each year Frances Willard Day. The act as passed is as follows:

"That the twenty-eighth day of September in each year is set apart and designated as Frances Willard Day. In any year when the 28th day of September shall fall upon a day which is not a school day, the first school day following such date shall be Frances Willard Day, instead of the 28th day of September. On Frances Willard Day, approximately one and one-half hours may be devoted in the schools of this state for instruction and appropriate exercises relative to the life of Frances Willard and to the ideals and principles she fostered."

It is the purpose of the Woman's Christian Temporance Union to place this matter before the schools of the state and to encourage the observance of the day. To those who may wish to observe the day, programs and suitable materials will be furnished by communicating with Mrs. Ethel H. Turner, State Superintendent of Scientific Instruction, Worthington, Minn.

Organized Protest Against Reduction of Flax Tariff Heard in Vallev Counties

Eastern paint manufacturers are planning a movement that is bound to hit the farmers of the northwest again if it should go through, but for once luck is believed to be with the farmers to some extent at least. The paint manufacturers want the duty reduced on flax coming into the United States. Flax is one of the few grain crops of this year that growers have stood any chance of getting anything above production costs on and if a reduction should be made in the duty the price is bound to fall.

The Minnesota Red River Valley Development association was advised of the movement and asked to take action. It immediately did. The special committee of bankers and farmers of the ninth federal reserve district, which was created at the recent conference at Fargo, is to meet in St. Paul next week preparatory to going on to Washington. The matter of strongly protesting against any tariff reduction has been laid before the members of the committee, and it is believed that they can and will make an effectual protest.

The man with a broad vision may have it obscured with a narrow mind.

Bell Telephone Company Assists Japanese Relief

According to an announcement made last week by Geo. A. Russell, local manager for the Northwestern Bell Telephone company, that system has contributed $100,000 to the American Red Cross for Japanese relief. This contribution was made for the system as a whole rather than through the local committees in each own where the companies of the system operate, so that the fund would be immediately available for relief work, according to W. B. T. Belt, president of the Northwestern Bell Telephone company.

Flodstron-Lindquist.

A very pretty home wedding took place last Sunday, Sept. 16, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Lindquist of Viking, when their daughter, Lillie, became the bride of Paul Flodstron, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Flodstron, also of Viking. Relatives and friends numbering about sixty gathered at the home to witness the ceremony, and at two o'clock Rev. Drotts tied the holy bonds of matrimony, with Florence Lundell acting as bridesmaid and Arthur Lindquist, brother of the bride as best man. The wedding march was played by Miss Alice Styrland.

The bride was attired in a beautiful ivory satin dress and carried a bridal boquet of white roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid wore a dress of pink and carried pink roses.

For the occasion the rooms had been artistically decorated with pink and white streamers and baskets of flowers had been placed everywhere.

Immediately after the ceremony a sumptuous four-course dinner was served to all the guests. The dinner table had been beautifully decorated with pink and white caranations.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Flodstron will make their home on the groom's farm near Viking. Both the contracting parties are popular young folks of Viking and congratulations and best wishes are extended for their future happiness and prosperity.

TYPOGRAPHICAL UNION LABEL THIEF RIVER FALLS

Does anyone suppose Henry Ford would stand for $20 coal? Not in ten thousand years.

The Farmer-Labor party is like every other political organization in one respect—trouble always appears when the pie counter looms in sight.

These chilly mornings make some Thief River Falls lads wonder what has become of their summer's wages. A little surplus is mighty handy in helping to tide over a long winter.

The more we watch the antics of some of the little nations across the water, particularly their disposition to scrap, the more we are glad there is no league of nations.

Keep your eagle eye on The Tribune. Since it acquired the list at Middle River it has more readers than any other newspaper published in the Red River Valley.

The St. Paul Herald mentions Tom Girling of Hennepin county for lieutenant governor on the Republican ticket. How the Herald must hate him.

Frank Day wants to run Carlos Avery for governor on the Democratic ticket. Why not run him for president on the Prohibition ticket. More honors and chances even up.

We welcome our new subscribers at Middle River into The Tribune family circle. We have learned to know many of you—and we like you—and we hope you will like us better as you learn to know us better.

This section of northern Minnesota may have some disadvantages, but it also has advantages that are not to be found anywhere else on the continent. Our offer of a year's subscription free to the person who can tell us of a better place is still open.

If you do not like your home—if some other place looks better to you as a permanent place of abode—if you have no vision to see the great future which looms before northern Minnesota—for the love of Mike move before you put the gloom germ into your more cheerful neighbors.

The Republican party leaders want none of Henry Ford. Neither do the Democrats. Ditto the Socialists. If Henry Ford should run for President he will have everybody against him but the people.

Just now our friend O. P. B. Jacobson, head of the Railroad and Warehouse Commission, and a mighty good man, appears to have the inside of the track in the gubernatorial derby to be run next year.

The farmers who visited the state fair became aware of two important things, that the best dairy cattle are to be found in our own section of the state, and that Pennington county has it on the so-called dairy counties forty ways from Sunday when it comes to soil conditions.

Some of his friends in northern Minnesota are booming Mike Holm for governor. When we observe on all sides the dead and mangled among those who have become governor of Minnesota in recent years, we have no such ambition for Roseau county's favorite son.

Life is just one darn thing after another for the moonshiners. Over in Marshall county six of them have been lined up before the bar of justice within the past few days, and in each case swife justice has been meted out. The moonshiner has no place under the sun, and the law-abiding element of society is indicating most emphatically that it will have no more of him.

The Tribune has made arrangements with the concern which syndicates Arthur Brisbane's editorials whereby a column of this nationally known writer's comments will appear upon its editorial page each week. The first is printed this week. Look it up and get the habit of reading the column regularly.

President Coolidge acts like a man who was extremely anxious to live up to the first syllable of his name, so far as the interests of agriculture are concerned. Our new President should remember that the American people have never yet warmed up to a chilly person—and they never will.

The annual controversy between the coal operators and the miners has been settled again on terms apparently satisfactory to both sides. The dear public was not consulted in the terms of settlement and so the price of coal continues higher than a cat's back. Some day, perhaps, we will have a President who will consider the rights of the consumer of coal in these settlements.

A country which has endured and prospered for a hundred and fifty years despite every obstacle, is not likely to go to the dogs now just because a bunch of knockers and calamity howlers are rending the air with their wails. The Tribune believes the old U. S. A. is still a mighty dependable country to tie to—and particularly that portion of it known as Pennington county, located in the northwestern part of Minnesota, the best state in the Union.

TO SERVE NEW FIELD.

The Tribune has purchased the subscription list of the Middle River Pioneer, which ceased publication two weeks ago, and readers of that paper will now receive The Tribune instead. A live correspondent has been secured in Middle River and it is planned to give the people of that community a news service in keeping with their requirements.

If sufficient local support can be secured in the village it is the intention of The Tribune to devote a full page to that vicinity each week. It is realized that this arrangement will perhaps not be as acceptable to some as a home newspaper would be, but at present this appears to be the only way in which this field can be served.

The Tribune's policy of preaching more dairying and diversified farming for this section of Minnesota should meet with the approval of its new readers, and this newspaper hopes to be able to acquire many friends among them.

HADLEY SELLS OUT.

Fred E. Hadley, for twenty years publisher of the Winnebago Enterprise, last week sold that splendid publication to Mr. and Mrs. George Tuttle of Marion, Ohio. Ill health is given by Mr. Hadley as his reason for disposing of the Enterprise, it having become necessary for him to give up the strenuous work connected with getting out a country newspaper. He is at present confined in a St. Paul sanatorium receiving treatment from specialists and may find it necessary to remain there for some time.

The new proprietors of the Enterprise come from Marion, Ohio, and for many years were connected with the Marion Star, former President Harding's newspaper. They are experienced newspaper people and undoubtedly will keep the Enterprise up to its usual high standard.

The Tribune joins with the press of the country in wishing Brother Hadley a speedy recovery from his illness, and trusts the day is not far distant when he will again assume a place in Minnesota journalistic circles.

A MESSAGE OF CHEER.

It is to be regretted that every farmer in Pennington county was not permitted to hear at first hand the talk given last Thursday by H. S. Baird at the Commercial club luncheon. Mr. Baird, general manager of the Northern Sugar company at Mason City, which company has contracted for the local sugar beet crop this year, was here making a tour of inspection and at the club meeting was asked to give his views and impressions.

People of this section are better off than they realize in everything pertaining to agriculture, said Mr. Baird. Instead of deprecating the fact that sow thistle flourishes here when allowed to do so, the speaker pointed to this as an evidence that soil conditions are of the best. He gave as his observation that sow thistle never grows on poor soil. With proper crops, proper cultivation and rotation, the sow thistle need never be feared as a pest in this country, said Mr. Baird.

Mr. Baird spoke in glowing terms of the sugar beet crop raised here this year, saying that results far exceeded his expectations at the beginning of the season. He also stated that the beet industry fits in nicely with dairying, which should be a strong argument in favor of a large beet acreage in this section.

When a man of Mr. Baird's experience can see nothing but good in this country there must be something to it. He isn't running for office and therefore isn't trying to jolly anyone. Mr. Baird speaks the truth as he sees it.

A GROWING INDUSTRY.

Beet sugar production in Minnesota is on the increase. The information to that effect by H. A. Douglas, president of the Minnesota Sugar company, is pleasant to the ears of those who are advocating a more widespread policy of diversified farming and dairying in this state.

Raising of sugar beets and making an excellent sugar therefrom on a profitable commercial scale long since passed the experimental stage in the United States. It is now a well entrenched industry, and it seems safe to say that it will occupy the important place it should occupy in an intelligent scheme of diversified agriculture.

Farmers of the spring wheat country have been slow to go into sugar beet production because it meant so sharp a departure from their usual farm activities, but now that farm lands are much more valuable than they once were, the inducements to beet raising are correspondingly stronger. If there is any problem in connection with the industry, it is the problem of labor supply, and that is likely to be simplified as old methods of agriculture in the Northwest give way to new.

Beet raising for sugar is not an activity to be undertaken blindly or in a haphazard way. There must be soil adaptability and more attention must be given to the quality of beets than to their size or volume. For the farmer who has striven to produce big ears of corn, big hogs and big steers, this is not an easy lesson to learn and adhere to. It should go without saying that sugar beets are raised with primary regard to their sugar content and only secondarily for livestock food. For this reason the beet producer should stick to the standards of seed and cultivation which experience has set up as required to make the industry profitable.

As an item in crop rotation there is nothing better than sugar beets. The deep and intensive cultivation of the soil that is required together with the suppression of weeds, increases the productive value of the land for the production of wheat or corn. Beet land will yield larger crops of these cereals at less cost.

Sugar beet raising goes well with stock-raising and particularly with dairying. The tops and leaves make an excellent forage for cows and cattle. It has been said that the beets themselves are worth two-thirds as much for feeding as for the production of sugar. Also it has been said that a good average acre of sugar beets yields more than half as much digestible matter as an average acre of corn yields in ensilage. Moreover, the beet pulp that is left after the sugar is extracted is little less valuable as livestock food than the beets when taken from the ground.

The Minnesota producer of sugar beets may worry about the effect of weather conditions on his crop, but he can possess his soul in serenity when it comes to a market for his product, or the price he obtains for his beets. These matters are taken care of in advance by the concern that makes the sugar.

Sugar beet raising is a thing that is done in communities rather than on individual and scattered farms, whatever the adaptability of soil. In this respect it resembles the dairy business which, if conducted on an extensive scale, calls for community creameries, just as beet production calls for a sugar manufactory within accessible distance.—Minneapolis Tribune.

FARMING THEN AND NOW.

Times are better now than 25 years ago. They are especially better where a farmer uses his brains. When the price of butterfat remains high and the price of wheat low is there any wisdom in growing wheat? When clover, or alfalfa hay will grow like a weed and sell for $10 to $15 per ton or more, why plant rye and allow sow thistles to overcome the land? The business of farming is the same as conducting a successful business in town. It requires head work as well as back work. One acre of celery raised properly will put a farmer in comfortable circumstances for a year. Few farmers are willing to make the effort to get down and plant the crops that bring the price. The days are over when a farmer can make a success riding a binder and driving a team. There are many opportunities for the farmer to plant and grow crops which are in demand on the market. Small fruits and garden vegetables are some of them. Cream, poultry and eggs are in constant demand at high prices. Farmers need not be depressed to any great extent. Their struggles today are largely the same as they have been from the beginning of time. Legislators cannot legislate the farmer back onto the binder seat. Nor can he raise his pay if he seeks to act merely as a teamster. The farmer himself can raise his own by studying markets, noting those things which command a price, planting them and giving his best effort to growing them at a profit. The very fact that some farmers are doing so well under present conditions shows that there is a chance on the farm and it rests entirely with the individual to work out his own salvation.—Bemidji Pioneer.

The Lamp Went Out.
The Year 5684.
Fliers and Divers Only.
Goodby Harem.

The little moon traveling along 25 miles a minute, got between the earth and the sun the other day and for 169 seconds the sun's light went out, entirely at certain places to a limited degree elsewhere.

The moon was something like a child walking between you and your reading lamp. The eclipse was photographed by scientists on the earth, and from flying machines, but only savages were agitated. We don't believe as they once did, that a dragon is eating up the sun. And we don't think that angry gods are warning us to behave ourselves.

***

In the old days they took eclipses so seriously that two armies, about to fight, turned tail and went home in a hurry when the sun began to disappear. It was a poor ruler that didn't have some kind of eclipse when he died.

The Reverend Increase Mather, who wrote his interesting essay on "Remarkable Providences" in the early Puritan days found it easy enough to explain an eclipse in Massachusetts. He said it expressed the grief of Nature at the death of President Chauncey, of Harvard. Quite a compliment for Harvard.

We know that an eclipse means nothing at all except that the moon gets in front of our sun lamp and shuts out the light for a minute. We have progressed in that way. But we don't yet know enough to stop murdering each other, as they did in the days of superstition and darkness.

Tuesday was Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year, number 5684.

Christians call it the year 1923. Other religions and nationalities have other years and other dates, a majority believing that the world is about 6,000 years old, and ought to end soon.

If old earth told her real age, we should learn that many things happened here a thousand million years ago. When it STARTED, we don't know.

***

Flying machines dropping bombs that cost a few dollars have again demonstrated for the benefit of the American people that batleships are obsolete. The old battleship Virginia used as a target was sunk in 30 minutes by a flier 10,000 feet up. How many forty million-dollar battleships will this country build to supply amusing targets some day for foreign fliers?

Forty million dollars spent wisely on flying ships, with a few more millions on submarines, would make fighting fleets unnecessary and attack by any nation foolish.

A while ago, anybody asking the government to fix the price of oil would have been called an anarchist by the moderates, and murderous Bolshevik by real tories. Now in Texas, the oil men themselves ask the state government to fix a price. When prices get sick, any doctor is welcome.

Kemal Pasha comes back to the front page by preventing restoration of the harem in Turkey. It was once as difficult to imagine a Turk without many wives as of a Chinese without a pigtail. The pigtail is gone, and the harem wives are going. Wise Kemal says that one Turkish wife, of the new woman type, is as much as any one Turk can or ought to own.

Wheat was lower last week. The earthquake leaves thousands in need of food, but that doesn's help the price of wheat. Nations always find money to buy wheat for war, no matter how high the price. They do not spend so easily merely to relieve human suffering.

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

RECORD TRAFFIC FOR AUTUMN FORECAST BY PRESIDENT OF G. N.

No Shortage of Cars Anticipated For Crop Movement This Year.

Record breaking freight traffic during the fall months is expected by Ralph Budd, president of the Great Northern railway.

In a statement today President Budd announced virtual completion of the Great Northern's $30,000,000 improvement program for 1923.

"Freight loadings have been heavy and with the crop movement under way and the usual harvest time expansion of business generally throughout the northwest assured, a good business is anticipated," he said.

"The railroads of the northwest are somewhat like those farmers who have good crops, but because the prices of farm products are lower relatively than the prices of the things the farmer buys, the net profits are small. The railroads of the northwest likewise have rates only about 40 per cent higher than they were ten years ago, while the coal they burn, the taxes and the wages they pay all cost twice as much as they did 10 years ago, consequently increased tonnage means larger gross revenues but this does not mean correspondingly larger net earnings because the cost of doing business is much higher.

"There will be no shortage of cars on the Great Northern railroad for the movement this fall. All equipment of the line which serves the big fruit sections of central Washington hard hit by last year's car shortage, has been put in excellent condition and is ready for rush movement of farm products.

"The Great Northern locomotives and cars are in exceptionally good condition, better than they have been at any time since the beginning of federal control in 1917."

Disastrous Auto Mishap Nearly Brought About by Driver Taking Big Chance

Thief River Falls Man's Car Wrecked In Sunday Accident on Road South of Goodridge.

The following news story, taken from last week's issue of the Grygla Eagle, gives the details of an accident which occured on Sunday of last week. The mishap was entirely due to carelessness and could easily have been averted had all of those concerned used reasonable care. The Eagle says:

"What might have been a most serious auto accident happened last Sunday evening on the road just south of Goodridge.

"Bert Walker of Thief River Falls, had been to his farm north of Goodridge and was on his way home before dark. He was driving south as stated and met two teams with hay racks on the wagons, and turned to the right to pass them, when suddenly an auto, a Dodge, driven by Oliver Howland, at high speed undertook to pass between his car and the wagons. The large car caught his at the left front corner and twisted the front end of the Walker, a fine Buick, in bad shape, putting it out of commission entirely. The Dodge car apparently was little damaged and soon drove on. Mr. Walker was alone in his car and was no hurt. We have not heard if anyone was hurt in the other car although there were at least four in it. We understand that Mr. Walker intends to see that proper punishment is dealt out.

"This is a case of fast, careless driving that is too common, without regard to the life and limb of the other fellow. It is seldom one can travel on a main road but what, if you want to save yourself from injury by some speeding road hogs, you have to give them all of the road and as much more as possible, sometimes being obliged to stop, for safety. A motorcycle plainclothes "cop" along the main highways in the rural districts might be the means, after a few arrests, of saving life and limb many times."

A Correction.

In the article which appeared in The Tribune last week relative to the Soo Line employes' picnic, and in the programs issued for the event, the name of the Williams Hardware company should have appeared as donators of the aluminum coffee percolator given as a prize in event No. 18. The name was omitted through the fault of The Tribune's proof reader and this paper hereby assumes all blame connected therewith. The copy furnished the printer was absolutely correct in every respect.

Suffers Peculiar Accident.

Ed. Moron, farmer residing a mile north of Wylie, last Sunday suffered serious burns about his face and arms and was brought to this city for treatment by a physician. Moron had piled up a lot of dry sow thistles and was in the act of setting fire to the pile when the flames flared up so suddenly that he was badly burned before he could step back out of the way. Which suggests that sow thistle may yet be used as a motor fuel or high explosive.

Recruiting for the Navy.

H. Slater of Minneapolis, recruiting officer for the United States Navy, was in Thief River Falls last Thursday trying to interest young men of the city in a navy career. It is Mr. Slater's intention to be in Thief River Falls every Thursday until further notice and he will be glad to meet any young man who might be interested in joining the navy.

Depot Work Progressing.

Work on the new Great Northern depot is progressing in a very satisfactory manner and the construction crew has been busy the past few days pouring concrete for the basement and foundation walls. At the present rate Contractor McAdams should have no difficulty in completing the building by December 1 as called for in the contract.

Near-Serious Runaway.

What might have been a serious accident was narrowly averted yesterday on Second street near the post-office. Mrs. August Austinson of near Steiner was driving a team hitched to a buggy when the tongue of the vehicle dropped to the ground and the horses started out on a run. Bystanders came to the rescue and succeeded in stopping the team before any damage had been done, although Mrs. Austinson suffered severe nerve shock.

Ford Kicks—Arm Broken.

David Benttin of Germantown had occasion to use his Ford last Friday and proceeded to crank it in the usual manner. The Lizzie went into a conniption fit or something and kicked back, and Benttin came out of the fracas with a broken arm. The fractured bone was set by a local physician and will heal in time, while the Ford acts as if nothing out of the ordinary had happened.

If the Shoe Fits.

A preacher at the close of his sermon said: "Let all in the house who are paying their debts stand up." Presently every man, woman and child with one exception, rose to their feet.

The preacher seated them and said: "Now let every man not paying his debts stand up." The exception, a careworn, hungry-looking individual, clothed in last summer's suit, slowly assumed a perpendicular position.

"How is it, my friend," asked the minister, "that you are the only one not able to meet his obligations?"

"I run a newspaper," he answered. meekly, "and the brethern here who stood up are my subscribers, and—"

"Let us pray," exclaimed the minister.

COULD BE WORSE.

Nearly every farmer has an automobile. Nearly every farmer today has a good home and his wife serves good meals. There is not a farmer but has a passable road to civilization. He and his family can get to town. He no longer lives on bacon and corn bread. He sees his foolish city brother living beyond his means on borrowed money, wearing better clothes and possibly living in a fine apartment. But he knows nothing of the worries of the city man who tries to keep pace with his neighbor and lives in a fool's paradise. Most farmers can sleep peaceably at night, but that is not true of the worried business man who wonders where he is going to get enough to meet the week's payroll with. The whole trouble with farm conditions today is a mental trouble. If farmers and their families would endeavor to develop their earning power and become good farmers instead of mediocre farmers, farm conditions would improve. It is a high compliment to a man to have it said of him that he is a good farmer, because good farming means a high degree of intelligence and ability, coupled with determination to work and work hard.—Bemidji Pioneer.

SAPIRO MAKES STRONG PLEA FOR CO-OPERATIVE MARKETING PLAN AT MONSTER CROOKSTON MEETING

Explains in Detail Every Part of California or Commodity System and Proves That It Is Entirely Practical.

A large number of farmers and business men from Pennington county went to Crookston Monday evening to hear Aaron Sapiro, the evangelist of co-operative marketing, who spoke there that evening. A friend of The Tribune, who was present at the meeting, submits the following comprehensive report of the proceedings:

Aaron Sapiro, America's foremost organizer of co-operative marketing, spoke for more than two hours on his favorite subject before an audience of 1200 at the armory in Crookston Monday evening. While not an orator, in the popular meaning of the word, the Californian had a message to deliver and he chose the common words of every-day conversation to deliver it in. During the two hours he spoke he held the attention of the audience so closely that not a whisper other than his voice was heard in the big hall. He is like a very competent teacher explaining a set of problems to his class of pupils, approaching each principal point from several angles and telling it over again two or three times. When he was through every listener knew exactly what he had been talking about, and went home with a full understanding of the Sapiro method of co-operative marketing organization.

All the counties in the northern portion of the valley, as well as Clearwater and Beltrami to the east, were represented at the meeting by their leading potato growers.

There are two types of co-operative marketing now in use, says Sapiro. The oldest is the English system, under which the present Minnesota co-operatives are working; the second is the Danish system which in this country has become the California system. The English system, he says, is well adapted to the needs of an industrial country and is perfectly all right in its place, but the Danish system is the one that fits agriculture and has been worked out in great detail and with much success in Scandinavia, Switzerland and Saxony, and in this country in California.

The present system of marketing farm products in this section is described by Sapiro as the "dumping system" by which every farmer becomes his neighbor's competitor in selling, and results in crowding the product onto the markets faster than it is needed so that it breaks the price, while the co-operative way he describes as the "merchandising system", whereby all producers sell together and divide the proceeds. He does not favor fixing prices of products by the co-operative organizations but wants to let supply and demand take its course, and says experience proves that when the supply and demand is not interfered with by dumping, the price will stay at a level satisfactory to the producer.

Describing what happened to last year's potato market, Sapiro said that the crop estimated was 430 million bushels; the market demand was 350 million bushels and the producers came to the conclusion that someone would get left with a part of the 80 million bushel surplus, and each one determined he would not be the one. So they all rushed their potatoes into the markets and broke the price hopelessly. What actually happened after that was that about 78 million bushels were left in the ground undug, so in the end there was no surplus and the producers had forced their crop on the market at a big loss, and eventually the consumers in the large eastern cities paid from five to eight times as much for potatoes as the producer had sold them for. For this, Sapiro says, the producers are to blame, and the same thing will happen again unless they begin merchandising their crop instead of dumping it.

Giving his rules for successful co-operative marketing organization, Sapiro said:

Organize by commodity, not by district. Each commodity must stand by itself, under a separate organization. The handling of several commodities by the same organization has proven unsuccessful in practice. You must hire the best specialists in the marketing of that commodity that money can get, and pay the price that will get you the expert service. In California the nearest they have come to handling more than one product by the same organization with success is oranges and lemons, which have a common market. Everything else is separate.

Co-operative organization must be absolutely on a non-profit basis, and on a non-speculative basis. There must be no dividends. The cost of doing business is taken out of the products and the balance turned back to the producer. You must do no business for non-members. Members must be enlisted on contracts that will hold good, and the terms of the contracts must be enforced. There must be no selling by members to dealers outside the association, except for local consumption or seed. There must be no guess work anywhere. Everything must be based on certainties. Absolute community of interest is the heart of the co-operative movement. More than 50 per cent of the production of a commodity must be signed up before the contracts become effective. If you can not start out with a certainty of controlling the market do not start. One year contracts are of no value; you must have a period of years—five to fifteen years is usual—in order to secure the proper marketing organization and expert assistance.

All products in California are pooled by grades, and all in one grade get the same price. The directors of the co-operative have no better chance of selling their stuff than the smallest producer. Grading is strictly enforced and the organization sends men direct to the producer's farm to show him how to grade his products.

About 890,000 farmers in the United States are now organized co-operatively and are selling their products under the Danish, or California, system. This includes the fruit growers on the west coast, poultry growers in California, cotton growers and tobacco growers in the south, and some other lines.

Co-operative marketing, says Sapiro, does not mean the saving of a little money in handling—it goes far beyond that and substitutes a new system, merchandising the products and following them to the final consumer instead of dumping them on the market. That is the big point to keep in view. Individual selling puts the seller at the mercy of the buyer; centralized selling means that the seller will get the price the product is worth in proportion to other values.

At the noon luncheon of the Crookston Commercial club Mr. Sapiro told, entertainingly, the story of the raisin growers association in California. In 1912 the Fresno district was selling raisins for less than two cents a pound; the farmers were not getting the cost of production, business was stagnant in the villages and depression was evident everywhere. That year the first co-operative association was formed, an extensive campaign for new markets and for putting the product on the market in new ways was begun, and by the next year raisins were selling at four cents a pound, which was about a cent a pound above the cost of production. From then on the raisin districts began to prosper more year after year, the little stores in Fresno became great mercantile establishments, bank deposits ran up into millions, great public improvements were made, Fresno became the center of the most prosperous farming community in the United States. In 1918, after prohibition came into effect, however, the co-operative movement there ran away. The big demand came for raisins for home-brew purposes ad the leaders of the organization lost their heads and abandoned the markets they had so laboriously built up in order to turn the entire crop into the new channel. Prices went up as high as 20 cents a pound at one time. But the new demand passed away as suddenly as it came, and then the Fresno raisin growers found themselves back where they were in 1912 with the raisins selling at one cent a pound and no market for them. A re-organization has been effected and a start again made towards rebuilding the markets along the old lines. This is the only industry, however, in which a set-back has been had. Sapiro and some of the other leaders tried to induce them to set aside enough raisins at a reasonable price to supply the market that had been built, but were overruled.

Sapiro's present trip into Minnesota is to help in organizing the potato growers. Maine has already been organized with 75 per cent of the acreage signed up, and is now selling on the eastern markets through the organization. Colorado and Idaho have passed the 50 per cent mark signed up. In Minnesota only a small start has been made so far, about 20,000 acres having been signed up. Red Lake is the only county that has passed its quota of 50 per cent. It is hoped to get the required 50 per cent by next March and then the contracts will come into force and the organization will become effective.

New World's Record for Butterfat Production Is Made by Canada Holstein

A new world's record for production of butterfat in one year over all breeds has been established by a Holstein cow owned by Baymondale farm at Vaudrouil Quebec.. DeKol Plus Segis Dixie freshening at the age of nine years and three months. and weighing 1650 pounds, produced 33,464.7 pounds of milk containing 1,349.35 pounds of butterfat in 365 consecutive days. This amount of butterfat is equal to 1,686.69 pounds of butter. This production surpasses the former world record held by another Canadian Holstein cow by five pounds of butter.

Because of her previous high records of production, "Dixie" was placed on strictly official test, supervised by both the Holstein-Friesian Association of America and the Dominion department of agriculture of Canada, which supervises record of performance tests for all breeds of dairy cattle in Canada.

The new champion was fed a grain ration consisting of equal parts of bran, hominy, dried distillers' grains, gluten meal, oil cake and cracked oats. To 100 pounds of this mixture was added one pound of salt, one pound of charcoal and one-fourth pound bonemeal. She was fed at the rate of one pound of grain mixture to each four pounds of milk produced. Her roughage consisted mainly of mixed hay and some corn silage and beets. All of last summer she was let out to pasture two hours a day.

A four-year-old son of the new champion recently sold at public auction for $4,100 at the National Holstein sale.

Sauk Center Creamery Is Meeting Opposition

The Sauk Center Co-operative creamery is losing neither patrons nor volume of business as a result of the opening there of a foreign owned sweet cream plant, according to P. W. Huntemer, Stearns' county agent. "The Blue Valley plant, we learn, week before last shipped only 14 tubs of butter and 8 tubs on August 16; this representing a week's make. As yet that institution is cutting in very little on the co-operative plant," Mr. Huntemer says in a letter to J. S. Jones, secretary of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation. The Blue Valley Creamery company has had its plant at Sauk Center in operation for two months.

When some men go crazy, they don't have to pay much for transportation.

Co-Ops. Train Solicitors Before Starting Them Out

One of the departments of the American Wheat Growers Associated about which little is heard is the school of instruction for men selected to act as field solicitors for the nine state units of this national co-operative wheat marketing organization. Solicitors are thoroughly acquainted with the operations of the organization, they learn what has been accomplished and what can be expected in the future. The course requires approximately two weeks.

"Above all things we do not want our field men in any state to disseminate false or exaggerated statements about the organization, to lead farmers to believe that they can obtain greater benefits than we are certain we can secure," said W. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated. "Of course, we want our solicitors to know what we can do, and we take great pains that they shall learn the history of our successes heretofore, and get an idea of the remarkable results which will attend our operations when we have control of the American crop. But we also take steps to see that no man exaggerates our ability to get prices for wheat to farmer prospects when he is soliciting membership."

Membership Grows Rapidly.

The September 1st membership of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association was given at 3,120, according to announcement from the headquarters at Thief River Falls. Since that time contracts have been received at the rate of about 75 members per day. The bushelage is estimated at 3,500,000 at the present time, this figure taking into account the short crop in the state. The first organization work in Minnesota was done late in the spring.

Big Advertising Campaign.

Ten billion dollars, estimates the department of agriculture, will be spent by farm producers in advertising farm commodities during the next ten years. Practically every organized group of producers has a campaign of considerable size under way at the present time. The American Wheat Growers Associated, national sales agency for nine state wheat marketing associations, including the one in Minnesota, is carrying on an advertising campaign directed towards milling interests of the United States and foreign countries.

Canadian Wheat Pool.

Latest reports from Canada bring the news that the attempt to secure 50 per cent or more of Canadian wheat production for the pooling organizations in the campaign which was instituted about three weeks ago has not been successful. It is declared that nearly 40 per cent of the production has been signed up and the organizations will establish offices for this year's crop and continue the campaign for membership throughout the winter and during next spring.

Big Profits Made.

The operation of the war-time government grain corporation netted a profit of approximately $48,000,000 according to recent information supplied by Secretary Hoover of the commerce department. Many plans have been proposed for distributing this profit back to the wheat growers of America, but no workable arrangements have yet been devised.

GRYGLA

(From the Eagle.)

Mrs. Hans Hermanson of Thief River Falls was in town last Saturday visiting friends and looking after a farm she has west of here.

Sarah and Mabel Martinson, Alice Tenhold, Cora Sund and Ethel Erickson have gone down to Thief River Falls to attend high school.

E. J. Sheldrew arrived home last Friday from an extended visit with relatives at his old home in Beldenville, Wis. He says it is pretty good there but Grygla country is good enough.

George Olson has been visiting with the Martinson boys for the past two weeks. He returned to his home at Thief River Falls Tuesday accompanied by Einor Martinson, who returned to his home here Friday.

The entire Mussey and Moran families and Miss Alma Peterson made a trip to Thief River Falls last Sunday afternoon to attend the annual harvest festival held by the Methodist church of that place. It was a very pleasant visit.

Mrs. A Viertel and son William and George Windorff, have returned to their home in Wisconsin, after visiting for the past two weeks with Mrs. Bertha Gollenbach. The two ladies are sisters and have not seen each other for more than thirty years.

Mr. and Mrs. William Paskewitz, sons Ray and Charles, and Louis Everest autoed to Thief River Falls last Tuesday. Charlie and Louis left on the evening train for Canada and Wisconsin, Mr. Paskewitz to attend a Drainage Board meeting while Mrs. Paskewitz had some dental work done.

At the regular meeting of the directors of the Grygla Co-operative store held last Wednesday, the resignation of Louis Dressley, as manager, was considered and accepted and Geo. Sheldrew was elected in his place. Mr. Dressley has been manager for three years and was clerk in the store for some time before. He was a good clerk and has been a good manager. What his plans are for the future we have nnot learned. Mr. Sheldrew has been in charge of a similar store in Thief River Falls and prior to that was in charge of this store. He oroughly understands the business ıd no doubt everything will move along in its usual good shape.

BEET CROP WILL NET $1,500,000 IT IS ESTIMATED

Sugar Company Chief Says Yield Will Exceed Chaska Plant Capacity.

Declares Sugar Beets Fit in Splendidly With Diversified Farming.

Sugar beet production in Minnesota this year will exceed the acreage of previous years and will net farmers approximately $1,500,000, H. A. Douglas, president of the Minnesota Sugar company announced last week as he made plans for the opening of the sugar factory at Chaska.

Harvest of sugar beets will be started by 1,500 farmers in central and southern Minnesota during the next two weeks and when the factory opens at Chaska on September 27 production of 20,000,000 pounds of sugar will begin.

Despite increased production at the Chaska plant only a small part of the sugar consumed in Minnesota will be refined there. Mr. Douglas said that it would require 15 similar factories in Minnesota to fill the annual sugar requirements of this state.

Mr. Douglas believes that Minnesota is destined to become one of the greatest dairying states in the Union and that the beet sugar industry will aid Minnesota farmers in attaining that end.

"Beet growing goes hand in hand with the dairying industry," Mr. Douglas said. "It is estimated that the tops alone are worth from $10 to $25 per acre for cattle feeding. It is also recognized that there is no other stock food that excels beet pulp for milk cows and increasing the milk returns.

"Minnesota farmers have demonstrated that they can grow beets successfully and profitably. The acreage devoted to beet raising is growing from year to year and farmers are getting profiable returns for their diversified farming."

Red River Valley farmers are planning to enter the beet raising industry on a large scale following the recent announcement that a beet sugar factory costing approximately $1,500,000 will be erected at East Grand Forks.

It is planned, according to Mr. Douglas, to start work on the factory about June 1, 1924, and to complete it in time to take care of the 1925 sugar beet crop. Mr. Douglas and his associates will furnish $1,000,000 towards the cost of the plant and the remaining $500,000 will be furnished by business men and farmers in the territory which the factory will serve.

The proposed plant will handle from 800 to 1,000 tons of sugar beets daily during the time it is in operation. It will commence operation each year in October and will run on a 24-hour schedule until the sugar beet crop has been cared for.

Red River Valley farmers consider the raising of sugar beets as an important link in the chain of diversified farming. Pioneer sugar beet raisers in that locality have found it profitable and the acreage of the beets has risen from 400 to 2,500 acres during the last four years.

"Minnesota consumes 250,000,000 pounds of sugar and spends $15,000,000 annually outside the state to obtain the necessary sugar supply," Mr. Douglas said. "There is but one factory in the state."

Mr. Douglas stated that 10,000 acres of sugar beets are necessary within a given area before a sugar factory can profitably be operated therein. Continuing at the rate of progress made during the past two years by farmers of Pennington and adjoining counties, the time obviously is not far distant when a beet sugar factory in Thief River Falls will become a reality. Once the required acreage is attained the factory is an absolute certainty.

FROSETH'S

Soo Line Employes Enjoy Themselves Immensely at First Annual Picnic

(Contributed.)

The First Annual Picnic held by the Soo Line Shop Crafts association and other forces at Squaw Point about one mile from Thief River Falls on the Thief River, Saturday, September 15, was a complete success. Automobiles were furnished to convey those who had no cars to and from the picnic grounds. Reached the grounds about 1:00 p. m., and each family furnished its own lunch, except coffee, cream, sugar and ice cream, which were furnished free on the grounds.

The sports, which consisted of twenty-one races and contests, for which two prizes were awarded in each event, started at 2:30. The bowery dance started at 4 p. m. and continued through the evening.

John Hendry said he would have won the fat man's walking race easily, but the others did not play fair. For our part, 100 yards were just a little too far for John. He would have done better in a 50 yard dash.

We expected Roadmaster Nelson to do better than he did at the table—he acted like a bashful but explained that while he looked as though he had a lot of room, looks were decieving, as he was awfully thick-shelled.

Car Foreman Conklin acted as Major General, and he did not stay back of the lines, but was up in the first line trench all day. While his voice was a little weak to be heard in a large crowd, he did fine, especially at the table. Would advise him to get a megaphone for next year.

Dispatcher E. F. Dolan was right out fighting in the open all day, but his age is beginning to tell on him a little, for he was all in when night came.

Norbert Holzknecht rendered valuable service in carrying people to and from the grounds, but Norbert, why is your sedan equipped with window curtains? We saw one passenger you brought and you certainly have nothing to be ashamed of. If we were in your place, we would take the top completely off the car.

The chicken-catching contest was very exciting, as the rooster was some live wire, and we could have easily guessed the winner in this contest.

Credit should also be given to Assistant Master Mechanic J. W. Hendry, Agent H. A. Pratt and Chief Clerk L. M. Rayson, for calling on the business men and soliciting the contributions. While Mr. Rayson says his size was somewhat of a handicap for such strenuous work, he is positive he made as good a showing as Messrs. Hendry and Pratt.

We wish to thank Section Foreman Nils Myrin for donating the use of the grounds. Also all the committee men who rendered such valuable service which helped to make the picnic a success. Too much credit cannot be given the merchants who donated the prizes, Thief River Grocery company for donating the coffee, Gamble-Robinson company the sugar, Farmers Co-Operative creamery the cream and milk and jewel Products company the ice cream cones, The Times and The Tribune for printing the programs in full.

A full list of sports events and prize winners, which was brought in too late for publication this week, will appear in the next issue of The Tribune.

Located at Minot.

A letter his week from E. F. Ohm, who now is located at Minot, N. D., requests that his copy of The Tribune be sent to him at that place. Mr. Ohm says: "I cannot get along without The Tribune. I don't expect to be in Thief River Falls until next spring as I have quit railroading and politics and have entered into the ladies' ready-to-wear line. I am working for Johnson Brothers as manager of their store here in Minot. I like Minot very well but find living costs much higher in every respect. But the people seem to have money regardless of the times.

NEW HOSPITAL AT ST. CLOUD FOR SOLDIERS TO BE NATION'S BEST

Cornerstone Exercises Held Sept. 5—To be Completed in Year.

The new million dollar hospital at St. Cloud, Minn., for ex-service men who are suffering from neuropsychiatric diseases is expected to be ready to receive patients in about a year.

The corner-stone was laid on Wednesday, Sept. 5th, with appropriate ceremonies, which were presided over by Michael Murray.

General Frank T. Hines, director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, was unable to be present, and was represented by C. D. Hibbard, manager of the Bureau in the tenth district comprising the states of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota and Montana.

Before a notable gathering addresses were made by Ludwig Roe, State Legion Commander and Mrs. George Osborne, State Auxiliary President; Kenneth Law, State Commander of the Disabled American Veterans, Mrs. Fred Hecker, President of the Disabled American Veterans Auxiliary and Harry Walsh, representing the National Organization of the Disabled American Veterans; George A. Ferguson, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars; Archie Vernon, Post Commander of the American Legion, Congressman Harold Knutson of St. Cloud; and C. D. Hibbard of the U. S. Veterans Bureau. The Rev. Joseph Barnett of Red Wing, State Legion Chaplain, delivered the invocation.

This hospital is the first government built institution for disabled soldiers in the tenth district of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau and will consist of a group of twelve buildings embodying the most up-to-date scientific ideas in hospital construction. Authorities have named the St. Cloud hospital one of the noteworthy medical structures in the country.

The buildings will be of uniform construction, with concrete foundations, and brick walls, trimmed with stone, with slate roofs and fire-proof throughout. The inside walls will be smooth plaster and tile. The windows will have steel sashes and in the wards where the most disturbed cases are treated the panes of glass will be small insuring greater safety to the patients without the appearance of confining them.

The hospital proper will be fully equipped with X-ray machines, hydrotherapy and electro-therapy devices. There will be one main operating room with a smaller one for minor cases, and a special one for ear, eye, nose and throat cases.

Four buildings constitute the hospital group proper. They are the main building, the re-education or ward building, the disturbed patient building, and the subsistence building.

The main building is about 300 feet across the front, with several wings. It will house the operating rooms, dental clinic, chemical and pathological laboratories, as well as wards and private rooms for patients. The basement will contain the store rooms, morgue, and an incinerating plant. While the hospital is intended for mental cases it has several isolated wards in which tubercular cases can be treated in emergencies.

The re-education or ward building is almost as large as the main building, consisting wholly of wards and private rooms for patients.

There is a special building for disturbed cases with a capacity for 35 cases which are designed throughout to give special care to those who have a tendency to become violent.

The subsistence building will contain the dining rooms and kitchens for the entire establishment. There are special "diet" kitchens in which meals can be prepared for those patients who are specially ill. The second floor will be used as quarters for the male attendants, while the basement will house the cold storage and refrigeration plants.

The four main buildings will be connnected by several corridors. The remaining ones by underground tunnels.

Besides the buildings described there will be an auditorium with stage, a library, game rooms, canteen, tailor, shoe and barber shops, a garage fully equipped, a stable, mechanical shops, general storehouse, disinfecting room with steam sterilizers, a nurse's home, quarters for medical officers and staff attendants, a power plant with 1600 horse-power. The hospital will be reached direct by a railroad track, will have its own water supply with a filtration plant, and fire protection.

Girls of Community Club to Give Party on Monday

The Girls' Community club is busy making preparations for a party to be given next Monday evening at the Sons of Norway hall. This party is given for the purpose of gaining the interest of the working girls in the city and invitations have been sent to as many of these as it has been possible to locate. However, all working girls who have not received a written invitation are urged to attend and will be made welcome. Refreshments will be served and the remainder of the evening will be devoted to dancing and other amusements.

Local People Take Part in Enjoyable Outing of District Road Engineers

Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Isak Helseth, Bert F. Umland and Roscoe Bakke returned last evening to Thief River Falls after having spent several days taking part in the annual tour of highway engineers. Thirty-four people made the trip and started from Red Lake Falls last Friday morning. Among the tourists were Red River valley highway engineers, division engineers and maintenance superintendents, and the tour was chaperoned by Chas. Forbes of the state highway department.

Among the places visited was Hibbing, Duluth, Grand Marais, Ely and Virginia and many large road construction projects in that section of the state were inspected. Some rainy weather was encountered on the trip but this did not seriously interfere with the pleasure of the occasion.

Give us more cows, more alfalfa, more hogs, more sheep, more chickens, more turkeys, and you can go to with all your oil wells and iron mines.

Speaking of Sunflowers.

The Grand Forks Herald the other day bragged about a citizen of that state raising a sunflower 12 feet high with a flower 12 inches in diameter. Now comes C. L. Schults, residing at 333 Tindolph avenue, Thief River Falls, with three sunflowers which he picked out of his garden. One is 13 feet high with 12-inch flower, the second is 12 feet high and has a flower 14 inches in diameter, while the third is nine feet high and carries a flower 16 inches in diameter. Beat it if you can.

Returns to Annapolis.

Red Crown

Keeps Your Engine With You

It is never behind your whim. Answer—flexibility and a response so instantaneous as to make the machine seem part of yourself.

Flexibility comes from even vaporization at definite temperatures.

Even vaporization is possible only when there is a perfect chain of boiling point fractions. The chain in Red Crown gasoline is perfect, producing a steady, unbroken flow of power.

Drive Your Own Car?

Then you'll appreciate Red Crown gasoline. You get the joy of perfect performance — instant starting — a snappy get-away—eager acceleration —sustained pulling power — racing speed if you want it — maximum mileage per gallon.

Red Crown is the year 'round gasoline — it performs with equal efficiency winter or summer—it vaporizes to the last drop. It leaves a minimum of carbon and fouled plugs. These are important features in cold weather driving.

Holstein Sale and Dairy Meeting Oct. 3

TWENTY-THREE HEAD REGISTERED ANIMALS TO BE PLACED ON SALE AT AUCTION TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Big Dairy Booster Meeting Scheduled for Evening Under Auspices of Thief River Falls Commercial Club.

There are big days and bigger days, but the biggest of all as far as the dairy interests of Pennington county are concerned will be Wednesday, October 3.

This is the day of the big Holstein consignment sale in Thief River Falls. That in itself is an event of more than ordinary importance. But on top of this comes the big dairy booster meeting to be held in the evening under the auspices of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. This meeting promises to bring to a fitting close an afternoon devoted entirely to the dairying industry.

The Holstein sale, as previously announced in The Tribune, will be held at the fair grounds, commencing promptly at 12 o'clock. Twenty-three registered animals will be placed upon the auction block, and the listings include some of Pennington county's best. Of these 21 are females and two bulls. Some are A. R. O. cows and some show winners. Those wishing grades or more registered bulls of serviceable age will be taken care of by the association after the sale.

While most of these animals will undoubtedly be purchased by Pennington county dairymen, a number of buyers are expected from distant points, no doubt attracted by the high quality of the Holsteins offered. Last year nine farmers in the county added registered animals to their grade dairy herds at the anual sale, thus getting started in the right direction. More than that number are expected to improve their herds at the sale this year.

A meeting of consigners to the sale will be held Saturday evening of this week at the Farm Bureau office. The Ladies' Aid society of the Presbyterian church has arranged to serve lunch at the fair grounds on the day of the sale.

The big dairy meeting will start with a lunch at the Commercial club rooms, which will be served at 25 cents per plate. After lunch the time will be taken up in speaking and a discussion of ways and means for boosting the dairy industry in Pennington county. Among the prominent outside speakers to be present is E. F. Flynn of St. Paul, assistant to the vice president and general counsel for the Great Northern railway. It also is likely that Daniel E. Willard, field man for the Great Northern will appear on the speaking program.

The delegation which recently visited the state fair and dairy show as guests of the Commercial club will be present, and a number of these men have been asked to give short talks.

Taken all in all, it will be a rousing meeting and no citizen of Pennington county can afford to miss it. The meeting is for everybody and everybody is urged to attend. Help make it a hummer.

DEATH COMES TO CHIEF JUSTICE OF SUPREME COURT

Calvin Brown, Long Prominent in Legal Circles, Dies Suddenly.

Passes Quietly While Asleep in Minneapolis Home; Born in 1854.

Chief Justice Calvin L. Brown of the Minnesota supreme court was found dead in his bed in his home at Minneapolis Monday morning by his two daughters. The chief justice retired Sunday evening apparently well. His failure to arise at the usual hour prompted his daughters to make an investigation. He apparently passed away during his sleep and without any suffering.

Chief Justice Brown was in his chambers Friday and Saturday morning. His associates noticed nothing unusual in his health and were greatly surprised when informed of his sudden death. Flags on the state house were lowered to half mast soon after the announcement of his death was received.

Before his election to the supreme justiceship in 1918 Judge Brown served the state for a dozen years as associate justice of the supreme court. Prior to his ascension to the supreme bench he had earned a remarkable record for efficiency as judge of the 16th judicial district.

Born in Goshen, N. H., April 26, 1854, Judge Brown came to Minnesota with his parents when he was one year old. He attended the public schools in this state previous to reading law and was admitted to the bar in 1876.

Six years after being admitted to practice he was elected county attorney of Stephen county, a position he held until his appointment to the district bench.

Governor Lind appointed him to the supreme bench in 1898. The bar of the entire state of Minnesota voiced approval. During his incumbency as associate justice he had occasion to sit upon contests of marked importance. The supreme court of the United States made extensive quotations from his opinion in the Minnesota gross earnings tax case.

The vacancy on the bench caused by Chief Justice Brown's death must be filled temporarily by an appointment by Governor Preus. It is generally expected by court attaches that the governor will appoint Associate Justice Andrew Holt, he being the senior member of the bench, and then appoint a new associate justice to fill the vacancy caused by Judge Holt's elevation.

May Purchase Lots.

The city council is considering the question of purchasing lots 7 and 8, block 25, Porter's addition, to be used for park purposes. A letter from the owner, Jan Chrpa, once a resident of Thief River Falls, who now resides in Prague, Bohemia, conveyed to the council the information that he is willing to sell these highly desirable lots to the city at a very reasonable price. The matter will be considered further before final action is taken.

Effort Made to Collect Balance Claimed Due on City's Filtration Plant

No settlement has yet been reached between the city council and the contractor who erected the city filtration plant as to the payment of the final estimate. The engineers also express a desire to get the rest of the money claimed to be due them on this job.

The trouble arises from the fact that a large crack developed in the concrete wall of the building a short time after it was completed and the city dads figure that something should be done about it before final settlement is made. A communication presented to the council Tuesday evening allows the city until October 1 to pay the balance or suit will be instituted to recover. The council took no action.

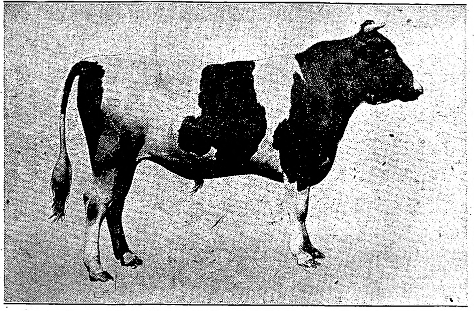
Young Hunter Has Close Escape When Companion Peppers Him With Shot

Lawrence Bjorkman Suffers Unfortunate Accident But Will Not Be Permanently Injured.

Lawrence Bjorkman, 17 years old, son of B. Dan Bjorkman of Thief River Falls, had a narrow escape from death last Sunday when out hunting chickens in company with his father and William Sponheim. The three were in a thicket when a chicken arose in front of Sponheim, who fired at the bird. Young Bjorkman, walking about 50 yards away in the thicket, had advanced a considerable distance ahead of the others and happened to be in line with the shot fired by Sponheim. He was knocked to the ground by the charge and more than thirty of the pellets lodged in various parts of his body. Most of these, however, merely penetrated the skin and can easily be removed.

The boy was immediately taken to town and placed in a doctor's care. It was found that one shot had lodged near the left eye and for a while it was feared his sight was lost, but late reports indicate that the eye will eventually heal without causing permanent injury. It was a close call and Lawrence doesn't care to repeat the experience.

No blame is attached to Mr. Sponheim as the boy was some distance away and could not be seen through the thicket. The accident happened about seven miles west of Thief River Falls.



LILAC HEDGE ZUBROD SEGIS 261469

First prize senior yearling at the North Dakota State Fair 1920. One of Pennington county's best Holsteins, owned by M. T. McFarland.

FOOTBALL NEXT ON PROGRAM OF SPORTS EVENTS

High School Team Scheduled to Meet Stephen Here on Saturday.

Grid Games Planned With Number of Teams Before Season Closes.

The season for the Thief River Falls high school football team will open officially next Saturday afternoon when the Stephen high school team is expected to oppose the locals on the grounds in this city. A practice game was conducted last Saturday and the lads from Lincoln high school made an excellent showing. Several of the boys played on last year's team and much good material from this year's class is available. Stephen is reputed to have a strong team and an interesting contest is looked for on Saturday.

The schedule of games for the season is as follows: October 5, Grand Forks, there; October 13, Bemidji, there; October 20, East Grand Forks, here; October 27, Crookston, there. This is the schedule as arranged to date but if the weather continues favorable, more games will undoubtedly be arranged.

Coach Albert Thune, who has charge of the local team, is very well satisfied with the progress made thus far and ventures the opinion that Thief River Falls will this year have a first class team in the field. He is a man of wide experience in athletics and can be depended upon to whip the boys into shape if such a thing is possible.

Following is the tentative lineup of the Thief River Falls team: Ends, Wengeler, McCrum, Mulry, Langeman, Earl Bessler, Halvorson; tackles, Belland, Bjorkman, Gullingsrud, Lundell; guards, Barzen, Berg, Bottelson, Peterson; centers, Elen Sorenson, Millard Myrum; halfback, Richard Zeh, Arthur Penney, Joe Gavin, Melgaard, Peterson; fullback, Tien Gullingsrud, John Sether, Bennes; quarter, Mike Parenteau, Streeter.

County Commissioners in Short Session Last Week Take Up Routine Matters

The board of commissioners of Pennington county met in special session last Thursday at the court house in Thief River Falls. The Prichard company was awarded a contract for building a bridge on state road No. 7 near Highlanding, the contract price being $2,537. The work is to be completed by November 1.

Halvor Holen was given a contract for cleaning the outlet of county ditch No. 38, the excavation being let at 33 cents per cubic yard. About 3,000 yards of excavation are involved.

Lands belonging to John E. Peterson, J. T. Sumpter and Charles O. Sumpter, were set off from school district No. 133 and attached to district No. 6. No objectors to the transfer appeared at the hearing.

After the usual batch of bills had been audited and allowed the board adjourned.

Farmer Meeting Planned Here Monday Evening to Urge Price Stabilization

Posters are out announcing another price stabilization meeting for Thief River Falls. This will be held at the auditorium on Monday evening, October 1, and farmers especially are urged to be present. Speakers at the meeting will be A. E. Bowen, who has appeared here on numerous previous occasions, Congressman Knud Wefald and Dr. E. A. Cowles. The meeting is scheduled to start promptly at 8 o'clock.

The plan is to petition congress to fix prices on staple farm products in an effort to provide immediate relief for the agricultural industry. A similar meeting held in Thief River Falls some time ago was not as largely attended as desired by its promoters and it is hoped that a larger crowd will be present next Monday evening.

WHEAT GROWERS HASTEN TO JOIN SELLING AGENCY

Co-Operative Marketing Endorsed by Farmers in Attendance at Meetings.

Many New Members Join Co-Operative Wheat Organization in State.

W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association, has during the past two weeks conducted a series of very successful organization meetings in various parts of the state. These gatherings are held for the purpose of acquainting farmers and others with details of the co-operative wheat marketing plan and to secure members for the association.

At Ortonville the meeting was attended by a large number of farmers, business men and others interested, and the results were all that could be desired. The principal speakers at this meeting were Ole O. Sageng of Dalton, a director of the organization, and J. W. Brinton, field manager. Mr. Sageng spoke at considerable length upon the aims of the organization and was followed by Mr. Brinton, who went into details as to the methods of organizing and marketing.

A well attended meeting was held Monday evening at Graceville. Mr. Frederick presided at this meeting and very briefly outlined the purpose of the gathering. He was followed by Mr. Sageng and Mr. Brinton, each of whom spoke at considerable length. Mr. Sageng said present conditions are largely due to an inefficient system of marketing, which it is the purpose of the association to correct. He acknowledged the assistance of the business men and farmers and said that they had come more than half way in attempting to alleviate undesirable conditions, and asked for further co-operation in the present movement.

At each meeting resolutions were adopted endorsing the Minnesota Co-operative Marketing association and urging all wheat producing farmers to become members.

RURAL TEACHERS HOLD INSTITUTE FOR THREE DAYS

Pennington Co. Instructors to Convene in This City Next Week.

Part of Marshall and Red Lake Counties Also to Be Represented.

Rural school teachers of Pennington county will convene in Thief River Falls for three days next week, October 1 to 3 inclusive, for the annual teachers' institute. Methods and policies to be followed in instruction throughout the schools of the county will be considered, according to an announcement made by County Superintendent of Schools Ole R. Sande. It is expected that about 80 teachers will be in attendance, a number from easern Marshall and Red Lake counties being assigned to this institute.

The institute will be in charge of Miss Jonie Amundson and Miss Lulu Olds of the state department, who will conduct two sessions each day. Supt. Sande will be in charge for one hour each day to bring up and discuss local problems. The sessions will be held teachers of Pennington county.

The state program is based on the course of study put out by the state department. The program for physical and health education as provided by the new law will be considered. Teachers will be allowed pay for the three days spent at the institute, and they will be urged to attend he meeting of the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association October 4 and 5. No pay can be allowed for the Crookston trip, however, unless special arrangements are made by the teachers with their respective school boards.

The Tribune, through the courtesy of Supt. Sande, will publish next week a complete list of the rural teachers of Penningtoon county.

Prominent Speaker Down For Talk at Tomorrow's Commercial Club Lunch

At the regular Thursday noon luncheon of the Commercial club tomorrow the matter of potato marketing will be given special attention. An effort will be made to start a movement to get the farmers of Pennington county to join the Minnesota co-operative potato exchange and the details of this campaign will be mapped out.

In addition to local speakers the club has been fortunate in securing William Hardwick of California, who will deliver a short talk on the subject of potatoes and marketing methods. Everyone is urged to attend the meeting and luncheon tomorrow and do his part in helping to improve conditions for the potato growers of Pennington county.

Pleasant Auto Trip.

Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Burstad and the latter's sister, Mrs. Nels Olson, returned Sunday evening from an automobile trip to Felton, Minn., and Fargo, N. D., where they had visited relatives and friends since the previous Friday.

PLANS DEVELOP FOR CROPS AND POULTRY SHOW

Tentative Program of Action Worked Out at Tuesday Night Meeting.

Farmers Urged to Begin Preparation of Exhibits Without Delay.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the poultry and crop show to be held in Thief River Falls in December met last evening at the farm bureau office, at which time further plans for the show were worked out. Theo. M. Thronson was chosen general manager for the show, which will be held December 4, 5, 6 and 7.

A committee on finance was also selected. This consists of Mr. Thronson, Olaf Neset and C. D. Gustafson. It is estimated that about $600 will be required to put the show over in proper style and the committee is already at work in an effort to raise this amount of money. The city council at its meeting Tuesday evening appropriated $50 for use in helping defray expenses of the show. It is planned to offer liberal premiums in all departments as an inducement for exhibitors to make a large number of entries. All farmers who contemplate entering exhibits at the show are urged to prepare samples now in order that the very best may be secured.

Another meeting of the committees and boosters will be held at the Commercial club rooms Thursday evening at 8 o'clock, at which time committees for the various departments are to be appointed and other important matters aken care of.

Efforts are being made to secure good speakers on agricultural and poultry topics for each day of the show, and everything possible will be done to add interest and value to the event. Present indications point to the complete success of the undertaking, both from the standpoint of poultry and crop exhibits. It is a worthy undertaking and every citizen of Pennington county should lend a hand in helping to put it over in a creditable manner.

All Quiet and Serene in Period Usually Devoted to Local Election Campaign

No candidates for city offices have as yet ventured forth to a point where they have filed their names with the city clerk and the personnel of the next city administration as yet remains clouded in mystery. In its article on the election last week The Tribune failed to include in the list of elective officials the city treasurer and hereby hastens to rectify the error.

Only a few weeks remain until election and somebody will have to start something pretty soon or the entire proceeding will be entirely devoid of excitement. And a city election in Thief River Falls without excitement is unthinkable.

Hard Liquor Put on Sale in Manitoba; Beer Flows Freely There, 'Tis Said

Hard liquor went on sale in Manitoba Monday through the government commission, at prices which are substantially higher than those charged in British Columbia and Quebec.

The system by which all purchases are delivered to the address of the permit holder is held responsible for the higher prices. Beer has been on sale to permit holders for a couple of weeks, deliveries being made by the breweries.

Time will tell whether or not the new arrangement will cause a general exodus of Northwestern Minnesota folks to Canada. Some men are willing to go a long ways for a good drink.

Leif Erickson Festival Scheduled for Thursday at Sons of Norway Hall

The Sons of Norway lodge is planning a Leif Erickson festival to be held in the hall of the society Thursday evening of this week, September 27. Elaborate preparations are being made and a fine program will be rendered. This includes a talk by I. T. Simley, vocal solos by Mrs. O. F. Mellby and Roy Prytz, and other musical numbers. Lunch will be served and the remainder of the evening will be spent in dancing.

War On Prices For Undertaking

Do not be deceived into paying an exhorbitant price for a common, ordinary casket, made of pine wood and covered with cheap cloth. There are many ways to fool the people and it is being done right along. Our caskets are made of Redwood—the wood eternal.

Investigate Our Prices on Caskets

We have all kinds—the ordinary ones and the more expensive ones—and we will show you just what you get for the money. Our prices will run from—

25 to 50 per cent under others.

Here are a few items which will stand you in hand to investigate:

Plush casket, trimmed completely, including extension handles for only $75.00

Cheaper cloth covered caskets priced from $65, down to only $30.00

We furnish our own hearse for city funerals at the small cost of only $8.00. A reasonable additional charge for out-of-town service.

Thief River Falls Pastor Holds Position as Acting President of North Star

Rev. Albin A. Larson Recently Placed in Charge of Swedish Lutheran College at Warren.

The new school year at North Star college opened Monday with Rev. Albin A. Larson of Thief River Falls in charge as Acting President. He will teach Christianity and one or more of the sciences. Prof. Elof Larson, of Fergus Falls, who was one of the teachers last year, will teach mathematics, science and classes in English. Miss Ellen V. Carlson, of Eagle Bend, Minn., who is a new teacher, will have history, Swedish and some English as her subjects. Miss Ella Peterson, of Kratka, Minn., also a new teacher, will have charge of the commercial department. The conservatory of music will be in charge of two new teachers, namely, Miss Caroline Carlstedt of Marinette, Wis., and Miss Selma C. Johnson of St. Paul. Both come here highly recommended as accomplished musicians and teachers of music. All members of the faculty, in fact, are highly qualified as teachers and come here with the idea of doing hard work and rendering real service to the young people who come to North Star College in quest of an education.

The enrollment of students the first day was very gratifying, Rev. Larson says, and he hopes that students will continue to come so that the large and splendidly equipped building may be filled to its capacity with young folks eager to acquire knowledge that will fit them for useful careers in life. —Warren Sheaf.

Fine Stuff to Drink.

The Wright county sheriff recently conducted a raid on a moonshine plant in a swanp. He found a two hopper still in operation, with four barrels of mash and ten gallons of moonshine. On removing the tubs from each of the tanks he found a pickled snake in each one of them.

When the minister looks over his congregation, we don't blame him for praying for them.

Middle River Creamery Report Shows Up Well in Production and Patronage

Dairying Takes Important Position Among Farmers in District Tributary to Middle River.

A total of 19,646 pounds of butter was produced at the local creamery last month, according to figures given out by S. Loveid, local operator. This is a marked increase over the production of this month last year when 14,411 pounds were turned out. The Middle River Co-Operative creamery has enjoyed a steady growth from year to year and under efficient management it has become the most important co-operative enterprise in the community.

Dairying is gradually coming into its own in this community and the general interest shown in improved dairy breeds indicates that it is only a matter of time before the local herds will predominate in purebred stock.

According to Mr. Loveid, the following patrons turned in over 200 pounds of butterfat during the month of August:

August Wartenburg	501.76
Erick Peterson	381.32
Kvennes & Hagen	317.09
Maria Talkari	307.08
T. R. Davis	284.40
Elein Rayappy	263.90
Carl Anderson	259.90
Sam Kytola	253.65
John Metsa	253.38
Emma Brenna	241.23
Salmon Mayala	240.66
Andrew Bloomquist	230.03
Mrs. Andrew Olson	229.39
John Henning	266.46
Abram Korpi	215.62
Chas. Waltonen	210.06

Three More Mail Routes From Middle River May Be Fact in Near Future

Three new rural free delivery routes serving the farmers east, west and south of Middle River, is the aim of a project launched by the Middle River Commercial club at the last meeting of the directors of the organization, according to A. C. Kvennes, secretary. With the excellent road facilities now existing in the territory tributary to the village, and the large number of people who will benefit by this improved mail service, but little difficulty should be experienced in establishing these routes. A committee has been appointed to carry out the project and petitions asking for the establishment of these routes will be circulated within the next few days.

School Band Reorganized.

The Middle River high school band has been reorganized and regular rehearsals will be conducted from now on. Although the ranks of last year's organization are somewhat depleted owing to the fact that some of the former members were graduated or have moved away, a number of new members have indicated their desire to take up the work and it is expected that a creditable organization will be built up before the school year is over. Both boys and girls are eligible for membership.

To Re-Open Tailor Shop.

Frank Paul, who formerly conducted a tailor shop in Middle River, has leased the building until recently occupied by H. C. Stone and will open a modern tailoring establishment. Mr. Paul is a very able tailor and has a host of friends in this community who will welcome his return to Middle River.

Short School Vacation.

The local schools will be closed from Wednesday noon, October 3 until Monday morning in order to give the teachers an opportunity of attending the Northwestern Minnesota Educational association meeting at Crookston.

Northwestern Telephone Company Sells Exchange Conducted at Greenbush

Last week the Northwestern Telephone company, which for some years has owned and operated the telephone exchange at Greenbush, disposed of the plant and business to residents of that village. The exchange is taken over by a concern styling itself the Greenbush telephone company, of which Andrew Lubinski is manager.

For some time there had been a move on to have the exchange taken over by local interests and the deal was finally completed. The Northwestern will maintain its toll line only and the same long distance service will be available as formerly. The new owners will take over the exchange on October 1.

It is reported that there is a "shortage in the visible supply of calves." Well, that probably depends on eyesight.

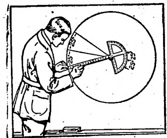
Rolling Dice By Airplane Latest of Sports

With giant dice made of light material, aviators now play the game of dice from their airplanes as one of the latest American sports. Placed in front of the machine, the propeller is twirled, and the rush of air sends the dice rolling down the field with the plane in pursuit. The cubes are then placed in position again.

Suction Cup Holds Ruler Against Blackboard

For teaching classes in subjects that require accurate drawings, a blackboard has been provided with a drawing set that can be instantly attached by a suction cup, from which the instruments swing on a pivot, permitting the use of protractor, divider, T-square, rule, and angles. The force of the suction is sufficient to hold the set to the surface of the board for 15 minutes, when the outfit may be removed or replaced at the same point. Being vertical, this device may be seen from any part of a room, and makes it easier for the lecturer to illustrate his subjects.



Ship Found on Big Iceberg Reveals Mystery of Sea

For centuries mystery ships have sailed the seas, guided only by the winds of chance. One of them was found by a steamer captain rounding the Horn recently. While groping his way into the open, a gigantic mass of ice carrying a large three masted schooner, with its boats still in the clefts, was sighted. Efforts were made to find the survivors but no trace of them was discovered. Another sea tragedy was added to the already long list of those as yet unsolved when a Greenland whaler came upon a strange looking derelict, battered and weather-worn, apparently built in the last century and ice bound for years. A boarding crew found in the cabin the body of a young woman, preserved by the arctic frosts Near a long dead fire was the remains of a young man, still holding a flint and steel.

Rim Spreader for Changing Tires

A common 8-in. barn-door hinge can be used to good advantage for spreading automobile rims when changing tires. If the rims are perfectly plain at the split it will be necessary to drill two $\frac{5}{16}$-in. holes about 4 in. from the ends. Two pins are riveted or welded to the end of the hinge and each end is then bent as shown. The pins are inserted into the holes drilled in the rim and the hinge is pushed down with the foot, thus spreading the rim. If there are studs on the rim, the hinge can be used without pins, by simply butting the ends against the studs, notching the ends if necessary to prevent the hinge from slipping.

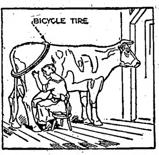
"Anchoring" the Cow's Tail

Anyone who has milked cows has suffered from the annoyance caused by the animal switching its tail around to chase away the flies. This trouble can be prevented very easily if there is an old bicycle tire lying around the yard. The tire is simply thrown over the cow's back as shown. This idea has been tried and found very effective.



A Student of Nature.

The angler is a student as well as a lover of nature, and he knows that without the insect-eating birds there can be no trees, that without trees there can be no waters, that without waters there can be no fishes, and that without fishes there can be no fishing.—From "The Determined Angler and the Brook Trout," by Charles Bradford.

Responsible for Passengers.

Drivers of motor cars traveling through certain parts of England are not only responsible for the handling of their vehicles, but are now liable to be fined if they allow their passengers to misbehave themselves during the trip.

Trouble Ahead for Pussy.

Mattie came running into the house, excitedly exclaiming, "My pussy has borned five kittens! I don't know how she'll manage to take care of five children when it keeps me and you busy every minute with nothing but the twins, muvver."

Wanted to Be There.

The great banker lay on his deathbed. Many of his friends were gathered about his bedside to be with him at the last. The attending physician whispered to the group: "I fear he is nearing the Great Divide." "Tell them not to divide until I get there," whispered the dying banker.—Forbes Magazine.

New Idea in Cigar Lighter.

A novel-looking cigar lighter resembles a telephone in appearance. What would be the receiver of the telephone is in this case the lighter, which is connected with a flexible tubing to the gas service. When the "receiver" is taken from the hook, the gas is automatically turned on and lighted by an electric spark from a battery. When the user "hangs up," the light is extinguished.

Asphyxiating Rats.

You can asphyxiate rats that infest the garage by giving them carbon monoxide gas from the engine exhaust, advises a federal bulletin. Attach a rubber hose to the exhaust pipe and put the end into the hole. The gas will kill the rats.

New Aid for Golfers.

Increased confidence, greater distance and accuracy are claimed to be gained with a new grip for golfers. Two glovelike finger pads fitting over the thumb and forefinger are connected by a short bridge strap. This arrangement enables the golfer to tighten his hold on the club, permitting a firmer stop at the top of the swing.

Crowded China.

China is larger in area than the United States, Mexico and Central America. It has four times the population of the United States, eight times the population of all South America, almost equal the population of all Europe and one-quarter of the population of the world. The Yangtze delta, with an area about equal to Illinois, has a population of 40,000,000, or 800 to the square mile.

Relic of Old Superstition.

Ceromancy consisted of dropping melted wax into water and divining by the forms the wax assumed in cooling. It is a very old art, but tea was only introduced into Europe in the Seventeenth century; yet the primitive mind still subsisting in man at once seized upon the tea-grounds as a means of foretelling the future, as that same mind had seized upon the melted wax thousands of years before.

Little Difference Between Dress of 1820 and 1922

Women Unchanged and Therefore the Style of Dress Represents the Same Basic Idea.

It takes Norma Talmadge to score a point on the subject of clothes.

This time it relates to the psychology of dress, a theory dear to the hearts of all modistes. But no one has been able to actually demonstrate the theory so forcibly as the lovely Norma.

Briefly it is that the clothes of 1922 are not vastly different from those worn in 1820. And Norma ought to know, because there are about five hundred different costumes worn in the gigantic production of "The Eternal Flame" in which she takes the role of the Duchess of Langeais. Twenty-five of these costumes she wears herself, all of them exact copies of plates of that period and not only the gowns but every accessory such as slippers, stockings, fans, scarfs, bags and jewelry are replicas of those worn by the old court fashionables.

"Of course," Norma says, "the trains of ball gowns are much too exaggerated in length for modern wear and everywhere the influence of the Empire Period is marked. Also the garments for less formal wear are too long for the athletic girl of today. But the short sleeves, neck line, trimmings and various accessories of dress are identical. Extremes were just as much favored by the few then as they are now; so if you should see a court ball gown of the 1820's beside an ultramodern one it would not seem out of place among the extreme fashions of the day. Or if you should see an officer of Napolean's staff in full regimentals, he would appear much as do the Continental officers who attend the state functions at the capital.

"The Eternal Flame" is a First National attraction coming to the Princess theatre on Sunday and Monday.

Gatzke Creamery Report Shows Increase in Dairy Products for Community

Patrons of the Gatzke co-operative creamery who drew cream checks in excess of $100 during the month of August are as follows:

O. M. Abrahamson	$101.40
Ole J. Eastby	123.61
A. E. Forder	182.41
D. D. Huartson	104.03
John Henning	168.71
Hans Loven	113.89
N. P. Mugaas	110.13
L. E. Rotvold	127.85
Ole C. Taie	105.13

Twelve other patrons drew in excess of $75 during the same month. The total amount paid out for butter-fat during the month was $5,155.41, a very creditable showing indeed.

Stephens is Chairman of Banker Committee to Make Trip to Washington

A. D. Stephens, Crookston banker, temporary chairman of the ninth district bankers wheat price stabilization committee was elected as permanent chairman of that committee at its preliminary meeting at St. Paul Tuesday, according to word received from the capitol city. Members of the committee gathered at St. Paul on the call of Chairman Stephens to perfect plans before leaving for Washington to confer with President Coolidge regarding stabilization of farm prices.

A. B. Denault of Jamestown was named secretary of the committee. The 11 bankers on the committee, representing the states of Minnesota, North and South Dakota and Montana, are scheduled to meet President Coolidge Thursday morning with a conference that afternoon, and the next day with Secretary of Agriculture Wallace. They will expressly urge President Coolidge to revive the U. S. Grain Corporation or some similar organization to take over the marketing of the farmer's 1923 wheat crop.

"I Spent $1.25 on Rat-Snap and Saved the Price of a Hog.

James McGuire, famous hog raiser of New Jersey, says, "I advise every farmer troubled with rats to use RAT-SNAP. Tried everything to get rid of rats. Spent $1.25 on RAT-SNTP and figured the rats it killed saved the price of a hog." RAT-SNAP cames in cake form. No mixing with other food. Cats and dogs won't touch it. Three sizes, 35c, 65c, $1.25. Sold and guaranteed by Hall Brothers Company.—Adv.

GOODRIDGE NEWS

Selmer Hanson and Mrs. Hyland were shoppers in Goodridge Thursday.

Floyd Berd and Melvin Hyland of Erie have gone to North Dakota to assist in the potato harvest.

The recent meeting of the Ladies' Aid proved to be a success, the receipts amounting to $16.50. Mrs. Wisenth entertained.

The Sunday school has reorganized, with an enrollment of 39. A Bible class has also been started. Everyone is urged to attend. Sunday school starts at 10 o'clock.

The Young People's society will meet at the church Thursday evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody welcome.

Rev. and Mrs. Aaker and family returned Saturday morning from Wisconsin.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Gulrud and daughters of Thief River Falls visited at the G. C. Gulrud home Sunday.

Mrs. Blackstad was a shopper in Goodridge on Monday.

Spectacles for Horses.

It appears that among the many odd inventions of a more or less practical nature there are spectacles for horses. The purpose is said to be not to improve the sight, but by causing the ground in front to appear nearer than it really is, to induce the horse to take high steps.

GOVERNOR
Henry J. Allen of Kansas, will Lecture
—at the—
Auditorium, Thief River Falls
—on—
Monday Eve., Oct 8

Mr. Allen has become a national figure in both politics and in the field of labor.

Mr. Allen is author of the famous "Court of Industrial Relations" which has been the subject of debate in the schools and on the public platform. It vitally effects both labor and employees and is of great interest to all.

This subject will be handled by Mr. Allen who is the best authority in the United States upon the affirmative side, and whether you are a laborer or employe you should hear him.

Governor Allen fills but few lecture engagements and Thief River Falls is fortunate in getting him.

THE NEW SCHOOL YEAR.

The new school year in Thief River Falls is now well under way, with teachers and pupils all settled down to work. Parents and faculty are hopeful that nine months of schooling will put the young folks a considerable distance along the pathway of attainment, and the pupils, while not losing sight of fun and frolic, also recognize the serious side of the situation.

Citizens of the community contribute liberally to provide good schools. But education can not be bought, paid for and delivered as groceries and dry goods are bought. Children cannot be fed into the schools like raw material fed into a machine, with the expectation of securing a high grade finished product without further effort. The homes and the citizens must co-operate with the school in its work.

First, the homes must back up the schools. A school without cordial support from the parents is likely to prove quite ineffective.

Second, parents ought to have some little idea of the purposes of modern education so that they will support improved methods. The old "Three Rs" type of education was good enough for the stage coach days, but it won't keep up with an age of automobiles and airplanes.

Third, the public must do its best to retain good teachers. It is a nerve-racking job to handle a school room full of restless youngsters in this rapid age. The teacher who inspires these young folks to worthy aims is a priceless treasure. Give her so much appreciation and friendship that she will not desire to go elsewhere even when offered more money.

In such ways the people of Thief River Falls can assist in securing schools for this community so superior that the young folks will go out from them to success and achievement.

The families that take their children out of the schools of Thief River Falls at an early age, should remember that they keep right on paying for the education of the children of their neighbors.

NOT SO FUNNY NOW.

For a time following the adoption of the prohibition amendment some people took a certain pride in violating its provisions, giving as a reason that it interfered with personal liberty. The fact that they could break the law and get away with it gave them a feeling akin to pride.

Now the law has ceased to be a new thing, and the spirit of violation is losing much of its charm. The general public is gradually coming to realize that one kind of lawbreaker is as bad as another, and the element of danger connected with continued violation makes it a hazardous occupation. There is, however, a small element of the bootleg fraternity which is not yet ready to accept the law as an established fact. These outlaws are led on by the desire for ungodly profits and are willing to take long chances in order to enrich themselves at the expense of the poor unfortunates who have cultivated a craving for alcohol.

The bootleggers, though in gradually diminishing numbers, will be with us for years to come. They are men without honor, without conscience and without a sense of decency. Nothing but the stone walls of a prison cell will serve to put a complete stop to their activities.

The trend now is in the right direction and points to the ultimate elimination of the bootlegger and his cursed traffic. The time is coming when prohibition will be an actual fact and not an idealist's dream.

When dame fashion so decrees, which will be soon, the ladies who have had their hair bobbed will resort to the use of switches to take the place of the locks with which they parted company. Which makes the average an wonder why in darnation they bobbed their hair in the first place.

Brevity is the soul of wit. The shorter a girl bobs her hair the funnier she looks.

THE SILO AND THE COW.

The silo is the advance agent of prosperity. It is the dynamo from which the cow draws her power to produce dollars.

Where the silo rears its head above the group of buildings on a farmstead, it will be an exception to find a shiftless farmer and a thriftless home.

The silo—that silent sentinel of saneness, sense and security—is the farmer's own mint. Through it pass the silver nuggets of the milk-white corn, there to be transformed into the bullion that later issues in foaming streams of wealth-laden butter-fat.

The silo, under proper management, can lift the heaviest mortgage. It has been known to put meat on mere bones and sleekness into wrinkled hides. It has saved men from bankruptcy and women from broken hearts. It has sent promising youths to college and built comfortable homes for care-worn mothers. A well filled silo is worth more to any farm than an empty politician. A silo for every farmer would do more good to the agricultural interests of the country than if we had a farmer in every senator.

Better a silo filled with food for stock than a stableful of food for thought.

When the Sculptor of the future shall hew from the enduring granite of the Northwest a statue of the Liberator of Agriculture he will bring forth a collosal figure, clad in the habiliments of the soil tiller, bearing upon the outstretched palm of the left hand a silo and upon the palm of the right a Holstein cow.

Better a silo and a herd of Holstein cows than the capitol at Washington and five hundred price-fixing congressmen.

When things have gone wrong in any of the basic divisions of human society, the remedy is always to be found in turning back to the elemental and the fundamental. At the foundation of the industry of agriculture is the cow. She was the first aid to the husbandman. She is the cornerstone of man's achievement upon the earth. Using the term in its broadest sense we may say that, industrially speaking, the cow is the "mother of the human race."

Ever since man left the Garden of Eden, he has been milking cows. He has been robbing the cow by taking from her everything that she has produced and grudgingly only has he given her food in return for all that she has given him.

The silo is a belated attempt to do better by the cow and, in her historic unselfishness, she will return every such attention a hundredfold.

Forward to the Silo and back to the cow.—Minnesota Mascot.

NO FEAR WHATEVER.

The Thief River Falls Tribune announces that it is about to begin construction of a new building to house its plant. That's going some and we are glad to see this indication of The Tribune's prosperity. It surely means that it has confidence in the future of its community and is ready to play its full share in its development.—Dassel Dispatch.

Right you are, Bro. Henke. Confidence in the future of Northwestern Minnesota is something The Tribune hasn't anything else but. And the publisher feels that as the community grows and prospers, this newspaper will grow and prosper with it—providing sincere and efficient service is given. This kind of service it shall be The Tribune's aim to give to the best of its ability. Fearful of Pennington county's future? Not in the least!

HAZARDOUS BUSINESS.

The notion that the Eighteenth amendment and the Volstead act have been violated with impunity and the violators to a large extent allowed to go without punishment, is a theory harbored by a small element of the population which is trying to kid itself into believing something in which there is not a grain of truth. The fallicy of this view is shown in the recent report of Attorney General Daugherty to President Coolidge reviewing the administration of the prohibition law.

From the time the statute went into effect, on January 16, 1920, up to June 16 last, there had been 72,489 convictions in United States courts and fines amounting to $12,367,000. Jail sentences for the last 23 months add up to 3,000 years.

The records for the last fiscal year are not complete, but the attorney general estimates that there have been 10,000 more convictions than in the preceding year and 15,000 more than two years ago. The average of prohibition cases brought to the federal courts is over 100 a day.

Judging from the above figures it would appear that moonshiners and other liquor law violators haven't a particularly bright future before them. With local authorities keeping a careful watch and the federal officers adding their strength and influence it would seem that the man who insists on breaking the prohibition law is engaged in a mighty precarious undertakng. Sooner or later he will be looking out upon the world through the iron bars of a prison cell.

The Red Lake county bankers have decided to encourage the growing of alfalfa by offering to loan money interest free for a period of 18 months to such as care to make the experiment. It is a worthy and commendable effort which will benefit every resident of Red Lake county in the long run. More cows and better feed for them will place this section where it rightfully belongs among the bright galaxy of Minnesota dairy counties.

Just as predicted by The Tribune a year ago the time has now arrived when selling moonshine in Pennington county may be listed as a hazardous business.

This is the open season for sending those venturesome persons to jail who have been selling embalming fluid as a beverage.

THE CURE FOR PESSIMISM.

Pessimism appears to be the chief stock in trade of some of our farm leaders and farm press. There is no doubt but that wheat farmers are in a precarious condition but other types of farming in general, are not suffering to the degree that many would like to have us believe.

Mainly because of the activities of some of their congressional representatives, Iowa and Minnesota appear to be louder in their cry for a fixed minimum price for wheat than Kansas and Nebraska. Yet what are the facts?

According to an analysis made by the Northwest National Bank of Minneapolis quoting figures of the United States Department of Agriculture, the value of Minnesota's 1922 wheat crop of 27,000,000 bushels was $27,000,000 or six per cent of her total crop valuation. An increase of 50 cents a bushel in this year's yield would net but $10,000,000, according to the same authority. The increase in the price of corn will probably net Minnesota farmers an additional $35,000,000 this year to offset the loss caused by the 25 cent decline in wheat from last year's figure.

Iowa is even less a producer of wheat.

Dairy products, on the other hand, represented a return of $180,000,000 to Minnesota farmers last year and nearly $127,000,000 to Iowa farmers.

Why, then, are the legislators of the two states so perturbed about the wheat situtaion? While every right thinking man will hope for some sound economic solution of the wheat situtaion, we object to having the dairy industry saddled with its share of taxes to pay for any such piece of unsound legislation as a fixed minimum price for wheat. It is a question which concerns our industry just as vitally as it does the city man, for taxes do not fall in one place only.

The fact is that wheat farmers have produced too much of that product and any artificial aid will avail little in combating the economic law or supply and demand. Restricted wheat acreage appears to be the only logical way to avoid a repetition of this year's unfortunate situation.

Wise leaders have long been preaching the gospel of diversified farming, but the wheat farmer has given this preaching little heed—even those of them who live in sections where other types of farming could profitably be practiced. Many of them object to milking because they prefer the comparatively easy work of growing wheat to the labor of milking and caring for a herd of cows. As a result we see wheat prices falling below the cost of production at a time when dairy markets are steadily rising and when foreign supplies appear to be the only thing which will prevent an absolute shortage of butter next winter.

There is little pessimism where the dairy cow is depended upon to give the farmer a living; there is no pessimism where dairying is being done as it should be done.—Dairy Record.

Perhaps Minnesota will look better to the former citizens of this state who are now living in California, after they have gone through a few earthquakes and disastrous fires. At least the man living in Minesota can feel that he is on solid ground, and that's worth something.

Hiram Johnson can get the Minnesota delegation for President next year, but Henry Ford will beat the tar out of him in the fall election.

Human imagination cannot picture more agreeable weather than the brand northern Minnesota enjoys at this season of the year. It's simply perfect, that's all.

SHY ON FILLING STATIONS

Mahnomen is to have a modern brick gasoline station and it will be built this fall despite the present "low" price of gasoline. But Red Lake Falls, a city larger and having fully as much auto traffic still is stationless because no oil company is farsighted enough to see that a station here would get business that is now being diverted to competitors at Thief River Falls, Crookston and elsewhere.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Thief River Falls has several beautiful gasoline filling stations and it is rumored that another will be added in the near future. Some months ago we could boast also of several "filling stations" of the moonshine variety, but most of these have of late found rough going and a number of the men who conducted them are temporarily detained behind jail bars. This leaves for the gasoline stations a clear field, which is as it should be.

There was a time in Thief River Falls when prosperous liquor law violators were objects of envy because of the ease with which they made money and their apparent immunity from prosecution. It's different now. "Them days is gone forever."

Persistent rumors are abroad in the city that another brick business block will be erected here soon. The pessimist who insists that Thief River Falls is on the toboggan will soon be hard pressed for material upon which to base his arguments.

We all expect to be angels some day. It must be admitted, however, that there are people in Thief River Falls who will have to do a lot of practicing before they can play the part.

Alfalfa is Pennington county's favorite flower.

A Giant Airfish.
Mr. Eel-Worm Is Here.
The Devil's Ink Stain.
Your Eye and Auto.

The United States built a giant dirigible, in ENGLAND. It fell, killed 62. Another, built in ITALY, fell, killed 34. Last week, the United States Zeppelin, ZR-1, built HERE, by the American Government, flew over New York and started for Philadelphia, having first traveled 100 miles over New Jersey. Those who think the government can't do anything and must always hire private assistance, take notice.

***

That great Machine, looking like a silver coated fish, slowly traveling through the air above New York, was a warning to the six millions of that city, and the whole country.

In the morning, with the sun obscured by clouds, the air giant was barely visible. Had the captain chosen to go a few thousand feet higher, is would have been absolutely invisible.

Such a traveler coming out of the misty dawn, above the edge of the ocean, would first make itself known by dropping enough bombs to destroy New York, enough deadly gas to kill three-quarters of the inhabitants.

The next war will be an air war. This country should be ready for it.

***

Important. Bad news for farmers in rapid spreading of the eel-worm disease, imported from South Africa. The eel-worm, fatal to alfalfa and other plants, in two years has spread from Eastern Oregon to California and Colorado.

Kansas, great alfalfa state, Colorado, and other states, should fight this enemy as they would Asiatic cholera. The tiny deadly pest might cost the farmers hundreds of millions yearly.

***

Yesterday you could buy a thousand million marks for $100. In 1914, one thousand million marks were worth $250,000,000. German money, then worth two and one-half mililon dollars is worth $1 now. That's what war does when you lose. But that won't discourage the next war-like nation.

***

The castle of Wartborg is closed for lack of money to keep it in repair. The public can no longer see the room in which Luther translated the bible, nor the big black spot on the wall made by him when he threw the inkwell at the devil.

American Lutherans perhaps will contribute to repairing the old castle and supply ink to freshen up the ink stains, which have doubtless been made fresh many times in the past. It is a pity to let old stories die.

***

American school children saved $9,500,000 in the last school year. The money is nothing, the saving HABIT is everything.

To teach children that poverty is slavery, and can be avoided by reasonable saving, is the first duty of parents. The second duty is to teach children they must help others.

***

Exercise your eye muscles, and avoid automobile accidents. That's the advice given by Dr. Needles. When you are in a car going forty miles an hour, you go about fifty-eight feet every second. Unless your eye can roll from one side to the other at least twice a second, you can't keep track of both sides of the road and travel safely at that speed. Prizefighters, fliers, automobile drivers, all require eye exercises to strengthen the eye muscles. At best, they get weak with old age. And a closed car requires better eyes than an open car.

The Prince of Wales, under the name of Baron Renfrew, is in Canada resting. In spite of this disguise a crowd met him when he arrived. The English know the value of Canada now and in the future. The real England may be Canada some time, with the British Isles maintained as a central business office in Europe.

As a great Roman Empire saw the seat of power change from Italy to Constantinople, so Britons of another century may see their imperial parliment and whatever is left of the royal family transplanted in Montreal or Australia.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

A Money-Making Game.

Dempsey got $458,000 and Firpo $126,000 for their little two round battle at the New York Polo grounds Friday evening. The promotors of the fight got as much as the two of them put together and of course they paid the expenses out of their half. Between 85,000 and 100,000 boobs cheerfully paid more than $1,000,000 for five minutes entertainment. Yet some people say that money is tight.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Says Minnesota's Best.

If there are any residents of this section of Minnesota who are not satisfied with local conditions and hanker for far off fields, a trip from Baudette to the Pacific coast by auto will cure them, in the opinion of County Attorney and Mrs. E. C. Middleton, who returned early in the week from a tour, in which they thaveled 5,200 miles. They enjoyed every minute of the trip to Seatle and back, but when it comes to business conditions they stated that they found things more satisfactory here in Northern Minnesota than in any part of the country they traversed.—Baudette Region.

Highways Getting Better.

Ten years ago if one undertook a motor trip in Minesota a good stretch of road was noted as an exception to generally poor roads. Today the poor road is the exception and it is generally a piece that is being improved, or a detour where construction work is in progress. During the last two weeks we have traveled nearly a thousand miles over Minnesota roads, and only drove over one stretch of a few miles which could be called tough going.—Elk River Star News.

***

Other States Will Copy.

Kiwanians of Willmar who attended the convention at Watertown recently are loud in their praises of the hospitality of the South Dakota people but when it comes to highways we have 'em "skun." Going and coming, the feel of the car tells when you pass over the state line. Minnesota's plan of building highways is the system that other states are going to follow.—Wilmar Republican Gazette.

***

Seeing Is Believing.

A motor trip over trunk highways in different parts of the state quickly bears out the contention of Commissioner Babcock that the most economical move for the state to make in its highway program is a bond issue to take care of the remaining needed improvements as fast as possible. Gravel highways carrying heavy trafic such as No. 1 from the Twin cities to Duluth will not stand up under ordinary maintenance unless carried on in a manner that makes the cost prohibitive and from a money standpoint alone, the sooner they are paved the better. In other parts of central and southern Minnesota where traffic is not so heavy gravel highways are answering the purpose admirably and ordinary maintenance keeps them in a condition that makes driving a joy. With these facts fast sinking into the minds of the people of the state, jockying with the highway program such as took place in the 1923 legislature will prove decidedly unpopular again in 1925.—Biwabik Times.

What Dairying Does.

Dairying means maintenance and renewal of soil fertility; increased bank deposits; less slow pay and more cash for everyone; each day's production enough for the day's demands so that harvest time will be profit time; an increased interest in agriculture, the oldest and best producing business in the world; the economic salvation of the Northwest.—Northfield News.

Tribune Will Build.

The Thief River Falls Tribune has let a contract to L. D. McAdams for the erection of a new building of brick, one story and full basement, 25x80 feet in size. It will be built on Main avenue between the DeCremer meat market and the building formerly occupied by Loken's store. Excavation has already begun and the building will be ready by December 1. Following the same plan used in the Gazette office the newspaper stock room and newspaper press will be placed in the basement but practically all the other equipment will be on the main floor. The Tribune building will be the last word in printing plant construction and it goes without saying that it will be a credit to Thief River Falls. We congratulate Bro. Arneson upon his move and can assure him from experience that when he is comfortably housed in the new home that he will go at his work with a new zest.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Wheat Grower President Starts on Extended Tour

W. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, national co-operative sales agency of which the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-operative Marketing association forms one of the nine state units, is making a tour of middle west and southwestern states. In addition to the nine associations in the American Wheat Growers Associated, there are independent organizations in Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas. A new association is just being started in Missouri. Mr. Brown is conferring with these organizations, co-ordinating the sales activities of all of the co-operative marketing agencies of the country.

Out in Society

For Clerks.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Nelson, 703 Main avenue north, were delightful hosts at a dinner party last Wednesday evening at their home for the clerks at the J. C. Penney store. Cards played at three tables was the pleasure of the evening and at midnight a delicious two course supper was served in the dining room. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Archie Dahl, Mrs. O. C. RICHARD LLOYD JONES SAYS

Heed Your Call

The first object in life is to find one's self. No man is equipped to make good until he has found his own road to service. The impulse to do a noble deed and to be honored by men is the key to aspiration. In every disappointed heart there lurks this latent desire.

Every man is looking for his chance and man's fixed place in the world rests with his capacity to see his chance and seize it.

He who resists the call to do the high and noble thing lives to regret.

A power above men placed before each man a worthy work to do. The world measures him by his treatment of that call. If he dodges it the world thinks little of him. If he accepts it he is esteemed.

When the voices in Domremy came to Joan of Arc she did not close her ears or curb her conscience because she had sheep to tend. There were others who could fulfill that duty but there was none that could rise to the needs of France.

When Jenny Lind heard the call to make the world glad with her song she left her knitting for others to do that she might sing.

Cincinnatus left the plow only that he might serve his country better than by making furrows in the field.

He who feels the call to preach is untrue to himself if he holds himself to the plow, but he is as untrue to himself who deserts the plow which he can handle to the good of himself and to the good of men and attempts to preach without a call.

The world is just as much in need of good salesmen as of good singers. It is a high art to be a true and useful merchant or manufacturer.

Before every man there is at least one road open to the high work of helping his fellow men. It matters little if that call be behind the counter or behind the plow, behind the pulpit or before the lathe. He who finds the road to human service and takes that road is he who responds to THE CALL.

Poem by Uncle John

WHEN the average man fronts up to a hill, he aspires to level it down; when he views the broad valley—calm an' still, he mars its face with—a town! If he sees a stream in majesty flow, to nourish some languishin' flower, he'll conjure some intricate trick, ye know, to steal, an' harness its power. . . .

When the average man once fixes his gaze on the forest-monarch's heft, he's sure to connive in a dozen ways—till a stump and the leaves are left! If he runs up against the granite cliffs, of a gorgeous mountain height,—he'll calkilate the number of biffs, that can fetch its heart to the light!

When the average man—in a wonderful realm, inspects the immaculate plan, he loses no time in search for the helm,—to change its course—if he can . . . but, after his pygmy force is spent, an' his eagle eye grows dim—an' his form, with the ashes of earth is blent, what credit redounds to him?

Etiquette

What & When to do it

By Aleda

Any questions on etiquette will be gladly answered in this column if addressed to Aleda, care of this newspaper.

Crossing Streets—(1) When a boy is walking with a girl should he always help her across the street or just when a vehicle is approaching? (2) Who should get on the trolley car first, the man or the woman? (3) Does the same rule apply when leaving a car?

Henry R. V., Minn.

Ans.—Yes, a young man should always offer his assistance to a lady at a crossing. Just touching her elbow with his hand is courteous and is sufficient. (2) The woman. (3) No. The gentleman leaves first—this in order that he may help the lady off.

• • •

Hat Etiquette.—In a letter I am asked some questions on hat etiquette. The letter reads, "upon entering the theatre or movies when should a man remove his hat? (2) Is there any special place a man should put his hat during the performance? (3) Should one wait till outside the theatre to put it on again? (4) What is the hat etiquette in an elevator? Thank you.

Ans.—A gentleman should remove his hat as soon as he enters the lobby of a theater where the tickets are sold. (2) Yes. Under the seat there is usually a rack for men's hats. (3) Yes. (4) If a man is in a private elevator such as an apartment house, hotel, department store, etc., whether there are ladies present or not, he should always remove his hat. However, if it is a business elevator the man (regardless of any ladies present) need not remove his hat.

HELPFUL HEALTH HINTS

Sty on Eye.—A poultice of fresh tea leaves moistened with water will usually cure a sty on the eye. Another cure which is said to be good, is a gold wedding ring rubbed gently on the sty.

• • •

Light Hair.—If you have light hair and wish to keep it so, put a little lemon juice in the last rinsing water.

• • •

Iodine.—After using iodine do not bandage the effected part. It will cause a severe burn.

They say that salvation is free—but every man must work out his own.

Musical Memories

When summing up the reasons why you need a good piano, have you ever considered its moral and memory value? How about those of the family who leave the home nest? Music will help hold them to the dear early associations. It will keep them close in spirit to those left behind. Yes, and more.

Old melodies, familiar airs will haunt and cling, reminding them of the past, protecting against temptation, a solace and strength in solitude.

So it is indeed wise, when selecting the piano which grows into your life in that manner to be sure it has not alone outward grace and beauty in appearance. Only that piano will be a joy unbounded which has built into it superior tonal beauty too.

Prices range from $275 and up.
We have a Convenient Payment Plan which makes it easy, indeed, to own a really fine piano.

Obituary

Emma Olive Olson-Kiesow.

Mrs. Otto Kiesow was born September 21, 1887, at Christian, N. D. Her mother died when she was a small child and her aunt raised her. She came to Marshall county in the year 1910 and was married to Mr. Kiesow on December 26, 1911.

She took sick early last spring, but no one thought her illness serious at that time. Since the beginning of June she was in bed most of the time. During her illness all that human hands could do was done to relieve her, but the Lord had decided to call her hence. The cause of her death was pulmonary tuberculosis. She passed away on September 12 at 9:30 p. m. at the home of her parents-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kiesow, ten miles northeast of Goodridge. Her age was 35 years, 11 months and 22 days.

She leaves to mourn her death, her husband, Otto Kiesow, four children, Gladys, Florence, August and Edna; her father and stepmother, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar H. Olson; her father- and mother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Kiesow; three sisters, three brothers, and a number of step-brothers and step-sisters, and brothers- and sisters-in-law.

She was buried on September 16 at 3 o'clock p. m. The pastor, H. Lutz of Goodridge, spoke the words of comfort at the home and also officiated at the grave. Interment was made in Jerusalem cemetery. A very large number of friends and relatives followed her mortal remains to their last resting place.

Mrs. Kiesow was a good wife and mother and a faithful member of Jerusalem congregation.

Beltrami County Viliage Suffers by Blaze Monday

Tenstike, a village 19 miles north of Bemidji, was swept by fire Monday and fire fighters were sent from Bemidji to help check the flames, which threatened the entire business district. Buildings destroyed were the postoffice, the dry goods store of S. E. Stowell, the general merchandise store of William Rice, two private garages, two barns and two ice houses.

Several dwellings caught fire but the flames were extinguished after small damage was done. The damage is estimated at $50,000.00 with less than a third insurance. The fire started in the chimney of the Stowell store. The bank in the village was saved.

The blind-piggers try to keep their own eyes open, but they close those of their clients.

Holt Man Breaks Thumb in Gas Engine Flywheel

B. Nyberg, a farmer residing in the vicinity of Holt, was brought to this city for a doctor's attention Monday. Mr. Nyberg, while working with a gasoline engine, in some manner got his hand mixed up with the flywheel and came out of the fracas with a broken bone but some time will elapse broken bone but some time will be necessary elapse before Mr. Nyberg before Mr. Nyberg can use the hand to good advantage.

Buy Your Tires from a Firestone DEALER
At the Latest Prices—The Lowest in History

You will find the Firestone Dealer one of the stable business men of your community. He offers a clean, fresh stock, backed by a well organized service. He wants you as a permanent customer.

That is the reason he sells Firestone tires. He knows and has plenty of proof that they are the best tires on the market. He can give you the greatest value and thereby retain your trade for years.

Every day you find new proof of this unequalled value. On the 15th of this month, Firestone Tires set two new dirt track records at Syracuse when Tommy Milton slid around four turns at every mile and covered the 100 miles in 75 minutes, 33 hundredths seconds. He also established a new world's record for one mile by covering it in 42 and 28 hundredths seconds. The next four cars to finish were also equipped with Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords. Each one of them went the entire race without a stop. This and every other important race this year was won on Firestone Gum-Dipped Cords and Steam-Welded Tubes. Such performance gives you conclusive proof of their strength and durability.

Not only do race drivers use Firestone Tires as protection to their lives and the surest way to victory, but the largest tire buyers in the world insist on and buy Firestone Tires for economy and service. These buyers include the leading car manufacturers, the biggest commercial car operators and the taxicab and motorbus operators. 57,639,714 tire miles were sold to taxicab and motorbus operators in the month of August.

Think this over. You cannot afford to accept anything less than Firestone service and economy. You can buy this service and economy from any of the dealers listed below.

Many Pennington County Young Folks Will Enroll Oct. 1st at Aggie School

Last Year's Attendance at Crookston Institution Expected to Be Surpassed This Year.

Sixteen students from Pennington county attended the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston last year. Several were members of the graduating classes. Reports from the school indicate that Pennington county will again be well represented when the term opens October 1.

The students from this vicinity speak very highly of the courses offered, especially concerning the practical application of the work. Mention is also made regarding the wholesome surroundings and the nature of the recreation program carried on. Faculty and students plan the social events for the year and many pleasant hours are spent in the dormitories, gymnasium or auditorium.

Being a state institution with students living on the campus, it is possible to have a type of school life ordinarily only found in the larger colleges and universities. Athletics, musical organizations, societies for good fellowship and public speaking find their proper place. Each year the lecture course brings some of the best musicians and entertainers to the institution. Speakers of national reputation and others who have made a success in various lines of endeavor give the benefit of their experiences to the students.

It is also understood that there is no tuition, students board and room at the school and can attend when it is most convenient to leave home. Boys and girls from this county who are not already attending school should make more use of such an institution as the Northwest School at Crookston.

Greenbush Farmer Shows How Diversification Can Be Made to Pay on Farm

What One Roseau County Farmer Has Done Notwithstanding the Failure of His Wheat Crop.

It is refreshing to have the practical and actual demonstration right right here at home of the real facts in respect to the effect of the practical failure of the wheat crop about which we hear such wail from those who try and profit politically and otherwise by magnifying and proclaiming the conditions from the housetops.

Clarence and Ole Pederson, farmers in the town of Dewey, three and a half miles west of Greenbush, have for some time past recognized the wisdom of not putting all their eggs in one basket and a statement which we have been unfortunate in obtaining of the result of their operations for the year are interesting to us and we believe will be to our readers, and are as follows:

stein heifers	$1,100.00
Twelve calves	200.00
Wool from 101 sheep	217.00
65 Lambs at $8.00	520.00
24 Durock hogs	360.00
290 Acres of WHEAT	72.00
130 Bushels BARLEY	68.90
225 Bushels flax	469.00
1000 Bushels oats	350.00
Total	$3,357.15

They also have their eggs and poultry, three acres of potatoes which have not been dug, and forty acres of sweet clover seed which has not yet been threshed. Also 14 acres of corn raised on ground which they manured, and which produced over 9,000 bushels of corn, and 45 tons of millet with clover and timothy hay, sufficient to carry their stock to grass next spring.

This is one of the most conclusive demonstrations of what the real effect of failure of the wheat crop means to the farmer, especially in Roseau county, who diversifies his crops with dairying, and affords an illustration which every farmer in Roseau county who is not now patronizing our local creameries can and should do. A few dairy cows, and good hogs and sheep, would not only afford our farmers a sure income sufficient to support their families but pay their interest and improve their farms and eventually pay their mortgages where they exist, because unlike the laborer or mechanic in the city, they have no house rent to pay, they have fuel here in abundance, and have their butter, cream, eggs, milk, chickens and vegetables as an additional product of their farm. Besides they are not obligated to respond to a whistle at regular hours every morning and noon and work six days every week whether they feel able or not, which more than offsets the long hours they put in during the summer season.—Greenbush Tribune.

Waldal Will Be Speaker at Big Potato Meetings Near East Grand Forks

Marius Waldal, state representative from this district and vice chairman of the executive committee of the Minnesota Potato Growers Exchange, is the principal speaker at four cooperative marketing meetings to be held in the East Grand Forks marketing district during this week. On these occasions the plans of the state marketing association will be explained in detail.

The first of these meeting was held at the Mallory Farmers' club house last evening, the second will be held at Minnesota Point tonight, the third at the Grand Marais Farmers' club house Thursday night, and the fourth and last at the Key West Farmers' club house Friday night. A delegation of East Grand Forks business men will attend each of hese meetings.

Red Lake County Bankers Inaugurate Plan to Help Farmers Start in Alfalfa

Will Furnish Enough Seed for One Acre Absolutely Free for Period of Eighteen Months.

That Red Lake county bankers are progressive and anxious to see the farmers of that section engaged more extensively in diversified farming is evident. Last week at a meeting of the Bankers' association of that county a plan was agreed upon which should prove of value in adding to the prosperity of every person residing within the borders of the county. The Red Lake Falls Gazette has the following to say on the subject:

"The Red Lake County Bankers association, consisting of all the bankers in the county, in order to encourage the raising of alfalfa which in turn will mean better livestock and more prosperity for the farmer, decided at their meeting at the Lincoln hotel Wednesday evening to furnish seed to any responsible farmer in the county who will put in an acre.

"The association will loan seed to the farmer who will be given 18 months in which to return it or to pay for it without interest. This will give ample time for the farmer to harvest his crop and out of it he can pay for the seed he has used.

"Not one cent of interest is charged for it is not a money-making project on the part of the banks though the banks of course will benefit in proportion as the farmers of the county prosper.

"At the meeting Wednesday evening the following members were present: W. B. Torgeson, B. I. Froiland, A. P. Toupin and Irving Toupin of Oklee; G. J. Hagen, H. F. Booren and Henry Enderle of Plummer, Geo. F. Hennings, Wm. Nieland, W. J. Quesnell of Red Lake Falls. Special Deputy Bank Examiner E. A. Richie was a guest."

Traveler Loud in Praise Of Tourist Park Here and Cordiality of Our People

Minneapolis Man Says Local Tourist Camp is One of Best in Entire State of Minnesota.

The Tribune this week received the following letter from F. E. Smih. residing at 2833 43d avenue south, Minneapolis. Mr. Smith has visited the local tourist park on a number of occasions and desires to let the people of this section know what he thinks of it. The letter follows:

"I have had the pleasure of stopping at your beautiful tourist camp located on Red Lake river for a few days each year for the past two years, and thinking it might be of interest to your readers to know just what your park board is doing in the matter of caring for the tourist in your vicinity, I am taking the liberty of expressing my appreciation in this way, hoping you may see your way clear to publish this in the columns of your paper.

"Every year I visit at least sixty-four camps in the state of Minnesota and in all those camps I have found none better than that at Thief River Falls. It is in my opinion ideally located and protected thoroughly from wind and storm. The man in charge is very accommodating and it is only a short distance from the business part of the city where supplies may be bought. Good sized fish may be caught in the river if one cares to cast in a line and splendid drinking water as well as toilet facilities are available. The cooking arrangements and tables could not be better located.

"It might also interest you to know that I have heard this camp mentioned at Winona, Albert Lea, Waseca, Owatonnna and Pipestone, so you see the news travels far. Mr. Zeh, your superintendent of parks, seems more than interested and he and Mrs. Zeh sure spare no pains in making it pleasant for your visitors. They seem to take pleasure in coming down to the camp each evening to see if the people are comfortable and for their kindness to us I desire to tender my thanks.

"I think that you will find more people coming by way of your city each year as soon as it becomes generally known that you are able to care for them in the way that you are, and I believe that each year the tourist traffic is going to be added to until you will probably be taxed for room although you seem to have plenty of room to enlarge the camp.

"Thanking you for the accommodations for myself, wife and two daughters, I am yours truly, F. E. Smith."

New York Stores Enjoy Business Slump Because of No Ads in Newspapers

Dearth of Shoppers Laid to Fact That Stores Cannot Tell of Bargains in Advertisements.

A dearth of women shoppers at the height of the bargain season last week is laid to the fact that New York was without newspapers.

Department store heads and shoppers interviewed confirmed the fact that shopping decreased each day the city went without its papers.

A visit to the larger department stores found them deserted in comparison with their usual rush. It does not require the stratgy of an aisle mariner to negotiate the paths through New York's great stores these days.

"The slump in shopping is caused by our inability to advertise in the newspapers," asserted the executive of one of the largest departmnt stores. "The first day of the strike business was not so bad—the impetus of the previous day's advertising carried us over. The next it was worse. The next day it was awful."

There has been no general advertising in the synthetic editions published in Gotham under the rule of the striking pressmen.

On large store broke an ancient rule and filled its great show windows with signs inviting the passerby within. At the door the customer was met with special "sale cards" and page newspaper ads—prepared by the newspapers but printde in job shops. "This is the ad we would have published today were it possible," a legend at the top of the sheet read.

It is said that Lloyd-George uses five times as many words as Shakespeare knew. A man has to know a lot of words in politics. It is difficult with a brief vocabulary, to conceal thought.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1922 and in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1923, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by J. B. Shannon and Lottie Shannon, his wife, mortgagors, to A. E. Rolfson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of July, 1920, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., in Book 57 of Mortgages on page 497.

And whereas, A. E. Rolfson, the owner and holder of said mortgage as aforesaid, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage and the interest that has accrued thereon at the date of this notice, due and payable under the condition of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars;

And whereas, the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section thirty-one (31) and the north half of the northwest quarter (N½ NW¼) and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter (NW¼ NE¼) of section thirty-two (32), all in township one hundred fifty-four (154), north of range forty-five (45) west, containing two hundred eighty acres (280) more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in Pennington county, State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state on the 17th day of November, 1923, at ten o'clock a. m., of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars, with interest, and one hundred dollars ($100.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 24th, 1923.

Congratulations!

A free trip to Chicago to attend the Second Annual International Conference of Boys' and Girls' Club Work is a mighty fine thing in itself, and the First National bank offers its sincere congratulations to Gordon Hunt for earning one of these trips.

But we congratulate Gordon even more heartily for doing the work which won this reward.

Here's to our winner and to every member of the Boys' and Girls' Dairy Calf clubs! They are doing big things for themselves and for the State of Minnesota.

Lovers of Good Shows to Be Given Rare Treat on Saturday Night, Oct. 6th

Olle i Skratthult" is coming back. This announcement is sufficient to interest a large number of people in Thief River Falls and vicinity. Every time "Olle" comes to this city there is a treat in store for those who enjoy comedy and high class vaudeville entertainment. The famous Swedish comedian and his accomplished company will appear at the auditorium Saturday evening, October 6.

"Olle" is bringing something new to Thief River Falls this trip. As a headliner he and his company present a play in the Swedish language which has made a decided hit wherever presented. In addition there is the usual number of musical selections, songs and other vaudeville stunts to complete an evening of high class entertainment. Everybody who understands the Scandinavian language should make it a point to be at the auditorium when "Olle" comes to town.

Pennington Delegates to Welfare Conference Held at Duluth Make Reports

County Superintendent of Schools Ole R. Sande and Judge of Probate Lars Backe returned last evening from Duluth, where they had for several days been in attendance at the Minnesota State Conference of Social Work. Mr. Sande went as the Pennington county delegate to the conference, while Mr. Backe attended also a meeting of the State Association of Probate Judges held in connection with the conference.

The meetings continued for four days and many prominent speakers appeared on the program. Among them was L. D. Coffman, president of the University of Minnesota, who delivered a very able address. Mr. Sande and Mr. Backe feel that the conference was a success in every respect and that its deliberations will be productive of much improvement in the handling of child welfare work throughout the state.

Mother of Local People Passes at Advanced Age

Mrs. S. S. Helgeland died Monday at her home in Northwood, Iowa, at the advanced age of 90 years. She was the mother of Mrs. O. E. Berge and Ole Helgeland of Thief River Falls, both of whom left Monday evening for Northwood to be present at the funeral. Six other children also survive. Deceased was a pioneer of Northwood and a highly respected citizen.

Motor to Fargo.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Larson and Mr. and Mrs E M Bennes motored to Fargo last Sunday and remained until the following day to visit among friends. They made the trip in Mr. Bennes' big Nash touring car and report a very enjoyable journey.

THE RIDDLE OF THE SUN.

At no one time since man appeared on earth, not less than 1,500,000 years ago, unless it was in the mighty continent and nation Pan, that sank in the Pacific ocean 24,000 years ago, or in Great Atlantis, that went down in the Atlantic ocean 14,000 years ago, has he searched for the laws of nature with the feverish intensity now spreading over the civilized world. Since January 1, 1900, knowledge of the universe in which we live has increased beyond the comprehension of most humans.

Astronomers from all parts of the earth gathered in Southern California September 10, for the purpose of ascertaining, if possible, what our sun is. The final results of their observation will undoubtedly add more to the knowledge of the world than all previous efforts combined, and reports are anticipated with keen interest. One thing seems to be practically assured—and that is that the sun, instead of being a ball of fire, is a great electrical center, controlling all the planets of this firmament.

One of the triumphs of the spectroscope—the highest instrument devised by the mind of man—is that solar protuberances can be observed without an eclipse. But far beyond the tops of these prominences, even of those 350,000 miles in heighth, there extends the sun's crown of glory—the corona, a great luminous envelope that surrounds it. This is the most beautiful object so far observed by the human eye. But no instrument yet invented can either see or photograph it when any part of the sun is not in total eclipse.

The chief announcement of recent astronomy is that there are at a reasonable estimate 3,000,000,000 suns, all at immense distances from our minute earth. But the masterpiece of man, the spectroscope, reveals the same chemical elements in them, that exist in our close-up sun, only 92,897,416 miles distant, when the next nearest is 275,020 times farther away, or more than 25,000,000,000,000 miles.

The moon is 2160 miles in diameter, therefore the diameter of the sun is exactly four hundred times greater. The sun is three hundred and ninety times farther from the earth than is the moon. During the precious three minutes or so when the sun was in total eclipse there was a series of rapid, carefully rehearsed observations—the most comprehensive known to present day astronomical science. But all these amazing things pale into insignificance in comparison with spectrum photographs of the glory of the sun, its corona.

What is it all for? Answer: To discover, if possible, additional laws of nature beyond the many beautiful, grand harmonic series already known.

Educators of State Will Convene at Bemidji Next Week, October 4, 5 and 6

Educators of Northern Minnesota will be the guests of Bemidji on October 4, 5, and 6, when the annual meeting of the Northern Minnesota Educational association will be conducted in that city. It is expected that the attendance record of last year which passed the 500 mark, will be exceeded. An excellent program has been prepared.

Speakers of repute have been obtained and a splendid program of entertainment is being arranged. An outstanding feature of the entertainment program will be a concert which will be given Friday evening, when Recardo Martin, noted tenor, will appear.

Other entertainment features will be the Bemidji High School Glee club and orchestra. The glee club of the Bemidji State Teachers' college also will participate in the program.

Special Meeting of Elks to Be Held Next Friday Evening at Lodge Rooms

Thief River Falls lodge No. 1308, B. P. O. E., will hold a special meeting at the lodge rooms of the organization next Friday evening, September 28. A number of candidates for membership in the lodge will be ballotted upon at this time and several other important matters are scheduled to receive attention. Committees in charge of arrangemets for the doings on October 5 will also report at this meeting.

Secretary E. F. Dolan requests that every member of the lodge make a special effort to be present at the meeting next Friday evening.

Old Soldier Returns.

John Kivel, pioneer of Thief River Falls and a Civil war veteran, returned this week from Reedsburg, Wis., where he had spent several weeks visiting relatives. When Mr. Kivel left here it was his intention to attend the old soldiers' reunion at Milwaukee, but owing to the serious illness of his sister and brother-in-law at Reedsburg he was prevented from doing so. Seeing that he is only 86 years young and feeling fit as a fiddle, Mr. Kivel is laying plans to visit next year and for many years thereafter the reunions of the boys of '65.

Workmen Make Headway On New Tribune Building

Excavation work for the basement of The Tribune's new building on Main avenue is about completed and W. K. Knight, who has the contract for this part of the work, states that two more days will see everything ready for the crew which is to build the forms and run the concrete into the basement walls and foundations. The weather has been very favorable since the work was started and Contractor McAdams feels that he is running ahead of schedule so far. In fact, he anticipates no difficulty whatever in having the building ready to move into by December 1.

Former Kansas Governor to Deliver Speech Here Monday Evening, Oct. 8

Henry J. Dakota People Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Eberly of Wahpeton, N. D., were guests over Sunday last week at the J. J. Richter home in this city. They are old friends of the Richter family and were neighbors during the time the latter resided in Wahpeton some years ago. Mr. and Mrs. Eberly were making an extended tour in their car and came here from Bowbells, N. D., where they had visited other friends.

Provenchers' Migrations.

Doris Provencher went to Minneapolis Tuesday night of last week and returned to this city Saturday morning with his brother Willia min the latter's car. Tuesday morning William and his father returned to Minneapolis, where the latter will spend a few days visiting and attending to business matters.

Gets Fine Position.

Miss Lillian Provencher, graduate nurse, left Friday for Minneapolis, where she has accepted a position as head nurse in Park View Sanatorium. The position is one of much responsibility and the fact that Miss Provencher was chosen to fill it is proof of her ability in the nursing profession.

The relationship between capital, labor and the public is now one of the most important questions before the American people and one of the keenest thinkers in the nation will be here on Monday evening, Oct. 8th, to discuss the question. The man is Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas.

THE FAULT'S WITH THE MAN, NOT THE FARM.

The county caravans that are moving from all directions to the Minnesota State Fair and Northwest Dairy Exposition are not made up of men and women on pleasure bent. They visualize in impressive fashion the serious purpose of many communities in this state to make of agriculture a better and more profitable business.

The travelers are coming in over excellent rural highways. They are passing farms whose lands, herds and buildings testify to prosperity, and they are passing other farms that bear all the symbols of failure. They cannot refer all the wide measure of this disparity back to unfertile soil or poor location. In most cases they must seek the answer in men, not in lands, methods, not in possibilities.

In its agricultural potentialities Minnesota is a good state, a great state. Its lands can be made to serve as capably as its roads. The material welfare of its rural communities can be placed on a par with the material well-being of its cities. Some of its fields plead for wheat, some for corn, some for flax, some for potatoes, some for dairy herds and the silo, some for hogs and some for hens. Virtually all of them plead for crop rotation, and all of them are ready to bear witness that abuse does not pay and that intelligent care does pay—the care that sees to it that the soil shall not be overwrought.

There could be no better slogan for Minnesota than this:

"Make the farms as good as the roads, and keep making the roads better as the years go on!"

Let us hope that these county caravans are not wholly destituted of those who need no repentance, no reformation. The messages of the fair and of the dairy exposition is to be sure, for those who are heeding the lessons they learned in like assemblies in the past, but it is more particularly for those who have kept a blind faith in the ways of their fathers and grandfathers when land was cheap, when labor asked little for its hire, when life was less complex, and when human wants were simpler than they are now. The successful business of today is not using the tools and charts of yesterday. It keeps adapting itself to the changes and requirements of the time. By business in this instance is meant the business of the farm as well as the business of the shop and the factory.

Let's get it straight and keep it so: There's nothing the matter with Minnesota as a base for agriculture. The matter is with those who misuse the base, who do the wrong thing or do the right thing wrongly. The mission of the fair and dairy show is to teach how to do the right thing in the right place at the right time in the right way. If those who most need this teaching do not come to receive it at the source, the next best thing is that those who need it less, but still come to the fountain head of farm lore, will go back to their homes and make their examples serve their less progressive neighbors as effectively as may be.—Minneapolis Tribune.

Plane Wreck Proves Fatal to Passenger; One Other and Pilot Badly Injured

Ted Foss, 42, proprietor of the Palace hotel, Fort Francis, Ont., was killed, and two others injured in an airplane crash at International Falls Sunday. The injured are the seven-year-old son of Mr. Foss and Lieutenant Hitt, pilot of the plane.

Mr. Foss and his son, who were on a trip over the city, became excited when the machine began to ascend, jamming the mechanism with their feet when the plane was 500 feet in the air. After gliding about 350 feet, the plane's motor went dead. The airplane crashed on the bank of Rainey river, near the International bridge.

Lieutenant Hitt received a broken nose and body bruises. The pilot has been operating the plane in International Falls since the fair earlier in the month. He was a member of the British flying corps during the war.

Gage Family Returns.

B. E. Gage and family returned last Saturday morning from Lawrence, Mass., where they had been visiting relatives. Mrs. Gage and the children spent several months there and Mr. Gage left here about a month ago to accompany them home. He also visited Milwaukee, Chicago, Washington, D. C., and other points of interest before going to Lawrence, and the family returned by the Canadian route and Sault Ste. Marie, Mich. Miss Gertrude I. Carey, a sister of Mrs. Gage, came with them to visit in this city for some time and may decide to spend the winter here.

PERRY FROSETH BADLY HURT IN AUTO ACCIDENT

Suffers Concussion of Brain Thursday When Ford Car Turns Over.

Remains Unconscious For Many Hours But is Now Improving Fast.

Perry Froseth, well known Thief River Falls young man, narrowly escaped death last Thursday afternoon in an automobile accident which occurred on the state road a few miles east of the city. Perry, in company with Harry Emery, a young farmer residing ten miles southeast of Thief River Falls, in the latter's car, was starting out on a hunting trip when the accident occurred.

The car turned completely over and threw both men to the ground violently. Froseth struck the solid road head foremost and was knocked unconscious, while Emery escaped with only a few minor bruises and scratches. The former was immediately picked up by passersby and taken to a local hospital where it was found that he was suffering from concussion of the brain, and for a time his life was despaired of. Dr. Bratrud of Warren was called in consultation to decide upon the proper treatment to be administered. After lying in a comatose state for more than 48 hours, Froseth gradually regained consciousness and unless unexpected complications set in a complete recovery is looked for. He is now resting easy and is not suffering much pain.

Just how the accident occurred is not known, but it is said that trouble had previously been noted in the steering gear. The car was travelling at a high rate of speed, with Emery driving, and turned over without a moment's warning.

LEGION BOYS TO VISIT COMRADES OF WAR PERIOD

Local Post Plans Tour to Winnipeg Next Saturday and Sunday.

Great War Veterans of Canada to Be Hosts in Manitoba Metropolis.

Saturday, October 6, at 6 o'clock a. m., has been set by Elmer J. Eklund Post tour committee as the zero hour for starting the Legionnaire tour to Winnipeg. Twenty cars of doughboys and gobs will make a friendly attack on the strong points recently established on the Canadian front line trenches and renew the friendships of cantonment and trench with the Winnipeg members of Canada's sister organization to the Legion, the Great War Veterans of Canada.

To liven up the trip and to give the occasion all evidence of a peaceable mission, the Legion band will have the place of honor at the head of the tour and will sound off at all points en route, and when the tour is ended the neighbors to the north will know that Thief River Falls has a real live brand of Legionnaires in its organizaton.

An invitation is extended to all exservce men in Northern Minnesota to join the tour and a special invitation has been extended to American Legion posts at Crookston, Red Lake Falls, Holt, Middle River, Greenbush, Strathcona, Lancaster, Warren, Argyle, Stephen, Donaldson, Kennedy, Hallock, Northcote and Humboldt to join the procession as it passes through their respective towns, or to assemble in Thief River Falls and get in line for the jumpoff, which will take place at 6 a. m. sharp. The entire tour is arranged on a schedule that must be maintained to the minute so that entertainment along the line will not be interfered with.

All Legonnaires desiring to make the trip are asked to confer with W. A. Hall, Jr., chairman of the tour committee, Oscar Smith of Oscar Paulson, commander, so that arrangements may be made at Winnipeg for the entertainment of the party.

The schedule arranged by the committee is as follows: Leave Thief River Falls 6 a. m. Arrive Warren 7:30; Argyle 8:00; Stephen 8:30; Donaldson 9:00; Kennedy 9:15; Northcote 10:00; Humboldt 10:20; Noyes 10:45; arrive Winnipeg 1:30 p. m.

Delegates from north of Thief River Falls are requested to join the tour at the nearest point along the line but they are asked to advise Oscar Smith not later than Thursday noon as to the number in their party. All drivers of cars must have their license receipts to deposit with the immigration authorities at the border.

There is no question but what the local Legionnaires will be royally entertained by their Canadian brothers and all of them are looking forward to a good time. They expect to leave Sunday afternoon on the return trip.

Keim in Trouble Again.

Joe Keim, residing near Plummer, became boisterous last Friday evening and was taken in charge by Deputy Hans Loken. He was brought to this city by Sheriff Ole L. Ihle and Saturday morning appeared before Municipal Judge N. W. Tarrant, who assessed a fine of $25 and costs against him on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. The fine was paid and the prisoner released. This is the second time within a few months that Keim has appeared in the local court on the same charge.

NEW HERDSMAN COMES SOON TO TAKE CHARGE

Ed. Johnson of Grand Forks, Now on Bacon Farm. to Arrive Oct. 15.

McFarland Holsteins to Be Placed in Care of Noted Dairy Authority.

Not only is Pennington county proud of the fact that some of the best dairy herds in the state are domiciled within its borders, but she is proud of the men who own and care for these herds. Now another distinction comes to the county. M. T. McFarland this week informed The Tribune that he has secured the services of Ed. Johnson of Grand Forks as herdsman, and that beginning October 15 Mr. Johnson will be placed in charge of the fine herd of Holsteins on the McFarland farm. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Johnson and they expect to make their home here permanently.

To some people the name Ed. Johnson doesn't mean much, but to those in close touch with the dairy industry in this section, it means a whole lot. Mr. Johnson is known far and wide as an authority and has a record to prove his right to this distinction. For the past five years he has been in charge of the famous herd at Grand Forks owned by J. D. Bacon, and during this time has taken prizes and broken state records galore. Previous to his engagement at the Bacon farms, Mr. Johnson handled some of the best herds in the United States, among them the famous Moscrip herd, which he directed to a position of prominence in the realms of dairy cattle.

The Tribune is glad to welcome this noted dairyman to Pennington county. One man of this kind can be of wonderful value in helping to develop the local dairy industry, and Mr. Johnson's coming here will add strength to the efforts of those who are trying to increase the herds of local farmers both in number and quality. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are good citizens and will be given a warm welcome into the business and social circles of the community.

Local Newspaper Passes to Ownership of Warren Publishers on October 1

R. H. Ross, Retiring Manager, Expects to Enter Job Printing Business in Wisconsin.

The Thief River Falls Times newspaper plant was sold on Monday to A. E. and C. W. Mattson, sons of Editor John P. Mattson of the Warren Sheaf, who are already in charge of the plant and will publish the current issue of The Times. R. H. Ross, retiring publisher of the paper, announces that he will remove to Madison, Wisconsin, where he will engage in the job printing business.

The Times plant, which passed through a disastrous fire in May of this year, has been completely overhauled and the newspaper, which was printed for many weeks at Warren, is again being printed on its own presses.

The new publishers are not strangers to the Thief River Falls field, having been raised and trained in the newspaper game in their father's newspaper office at Warren. Both are experienced as printers and writers. They will move their families to this city in the near future.

Mr. Ross, who has been publisher of The Times for a period of seven years, retires with the well wishes of a host of friends. He has completed a deal for a job printing plant at Madison, Wisconsin, and expects to take charge of the business some time after the middle of October.

NEW OFFICIALS NAMED BY FAIR SOCIETY FRIDAY

Reports Show Prosperous Condition of Pennington County Association.

Herbert Fuller Chosen as President: S. E. Hunt Vice President.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Pennington County Agricultural Society held last Friday evening, the following officers were elected to serve during the ensuing year: President, Herbert Fuller; first vice president, S. E. Hunt; second vice president, John Q. Cronkhite; treasurer, Albert Lonson; directors, Fred Beerbower, Emil Griebstein, Dr. H. W. Froehlich, V. C. Noper and Roy Lambert.

Business of the past year was reviewed and the reports submitted by the various departments showed that the past season had been a very successful one in every respect. The society's finances are now in such shape that even greater improvements are planned for the future.

Tentative plans for next year's exhibition were discussed and it is the intention of the fair board to make the 1924 fair the best in the history of the county. It is probable that additional buildings will be provided to care for the steadily growing live stock exhibits, but this question will be decided at future meetings of the board.

The men elected as officials have long been interested in the Pennington county fair and were chosen because of their particular fitness for the positions to be filled. They are all boosters of the first magnitude and can be depended upon to look after the affairs of the agricultural society in an able manner.

SIGN PETITIONS SEEKING RELIEF FOR LOW PRICE

Meeting Goes on Record Favoring Price Stabilization on Staples.

Speakers Elaborate on Present Plight of Northwestern Farmers.

The meeting advertised to take place in the auditorium Monday evening to consider stabilization of prices on staple farm products by congress, was adjourned to the court room at the court house because the crowd was not sufficiently large to warrant the use of the auditorium.

Dr. Cowles of Detroit was the first speaker on the program, explaining the idea of bring pressure to bear upon congress through the use of petitions. He said a majority of farmers at every place visited were signing these petitions in the hope that relief can thus be secured.

The next speaker was A. E. Bowen, who has appeared here on several other occasions. He drew a dark picture of the present conditions of agriculture in the Northwest and insisted that immediate action is necessary to save the farmers from bankruptcy. The plan is to secure a large number of signatures to petitions for the purpose of influencing congress to take action towards stabilizing the price of staple farm products. These petitions were presented at the meeting and were liberally signed. The usual collection to defray expenses was taken up at the meeting.

Manager of Penney Store to Attend Convention at St. Paul: Purchase Goods

H. E. Nelson, manager of the Thief River Falls store of the J. C. Penney company, accompanied by Mrs. Nelson, left this morning by car for Wheaton, where they will visit relatives of Mrs. Nelson. The latter expects to remain there for two or three weeks while Mr. Nelson goes to St. Paul to attend a convention of Penney store managers.

After the close of the St. Paul convention, Mr. Nelson, in company with a number of other managers, expects to make a trip to St. Louis and other large centers for the purpose of buying stock. He expects to return to Thief River Falls about the 20th of the month.

PROCLAMATION

In the year 1922 the lives of 15,000 American people were taken by fire. The property loss due to fire was equal to the cost of the Panama canal. The property loss so far in 1923 is greater than ever before recorded in a like period.

Most of this waste of life and property could be prevented with reasonable care. At a time when there is a shortage of houses and building material throughout the entire country, and when we have not yet recovered from loss of property expended during the war, we can ill afford to waste the property annually destroyed by fire. Much less can we afford to lose the precious lives which fire claims.

THEREFORE, I, J. A. O. Preus, Governor of Minnesota, do hereby designate October 7 to 13 as FIRE PREVENTION WEEK.

I would earnestly urge that fire departments, boards of education, and other municipal bureaus, commercial clubs, parent-teacher associations, women's clubs, and other civic organizations, arrange educational exercises which will visualize this tremendous loss and bring to the attention of the public the need and best methods of fire prevention.

I would strongly urge every resident of the state to participate in the observance and to co-operate by removing rubbish and eliminating fire hazards from their homes and places of business. I bespeak also the aid of the pulpit and press in urging the need of fire prevention.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the Great Seal of the State to be hereto affixed this 14th day of September, A. D., 1923.

(Signed) J. A. O. PREUS,
Governor of Minnesota.

BOOSTERS BUSY PREPARING FOR WINTER SHOWS

Plans Being Prepared and Work Carried on at Satisfactory Rate.

Indications Point to Complete Success of Big Combined Shows.

Those having the matter in hand report very satisfactory progress during the past week in preparations for the big crop and poultry shows to be held in Thief River Falls on December 4, 5, 6 and 7. No trouble has been experienced in raising the amount of money necessary to put the show across in grand style, and all that remains to be done is the working out of details.

A meeting of the committee having the matter in charge was held last week and a list of exhibits and premiums was at this time decided upon. In the crop division prizes will be offered on 10 ears of five varieties of corn, with a sweepstakes prize for the best ears in the show. Four varieties of clover and alfalfa, both seed and sheaves, are to be included, and liberal prizes will be awarded.

Standard varieties of potatoes are to come in for their share of the prize money, as well as threshed grains, beans, peas, timothy seed, ensilage, balanced cow and poultry rations, etc. Competition is open to farmers of Pennington county and the following townships in Marshall: Viking, New Solum, Excel, Agder, Grand Plain, Moylan and Esplee. No entry fees are charged but applications should reach the general manager, department superintendents or secretary before November 28, with statement as to the number and kind of exhibits.

PREVENTION OF FIRES PURPOSE OF DEPARTMENT

October 7 to 13 Named Fire Prevention Week in State This Year.

Local Officials to Co-Operate in Proper Observance of Event.

The week from October 7 to October 13 has been set aside this year in the United States as Fire Prevention Week. October 9 of this same week will mark the 52nd anniversary of the great Chicago fire. To those concerned with the suppression of the fire fiend and the great loss of life and property following in its wake, the week is of more than ordinary importance, and extensive plans are being made for its proper observance by municipalities and fire prevention officials throughout the state.

Through the medium of parades, speeches, lectures, the pulpit, the schools and other forms of education and propaganda, the great lesson of fire prevention will be carried direct to every home in Minnesota, and the individual impressed with the necessity of common observance of care in preventing fires. Observance of the week will be national in its scope. Plans and a program for the proper observance of the week are now being perpared by Burton L. Kingsley, State Fire Marshal for Minnesota and municipalities and fire prevention officials throughout the state well be requested to give all possible aid in carrying out of the same.

The importance of "Fire Prevention Week" and the lessons its proper observance will convey can be realized when it is known that the fire loss in America last year exceeded $521,000,000 and that fatalities resulting were nearly 15,000 in number. The fire loss was the greatest of any twelve month period in the world's history and was supplemented by fatalities that fairly stagger. As in the case of fires in Minnesota, much of both are due to the great American habit of carelessness and this those in charge of Fire Prevention week hope to minimize.

TEACHERS AND FOLKS TO MEET ON OCTOBER 12

Parent-Teacher Association to Utilize Auditorium For Session.

Teachers of City Are to be Guests at First Meeting of New Year.

The instructors in the schools of Thief River Falls will be guests at a reception to be given Friday evening, October 12, in the auditorium, under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers association. The principal purpose of the first meeting is to provide an opportunity for the teachers and patrons of the schools to become acquainted, and the entire purpose will be arranged with this object in view.

The association played an important part in school work last year and resulted in much good. An even better record will be attempted this year, however, as it is expected that past experiences will prove helpful in deciding upon the proper course to pursue during the school term.

A large crowd is expected Friday evening and for this reason it was deemed advisable to secure the use of the auditorium for the occasion. The meetings are usually held in the assembly rooms of the different school buildings in the city and it is the intention to continue this practice with regard to all regular meetings following the first big get-together affair.

Every resident of Thief River Falls who is interested in the progress of the schools should make it a point to be present at the auditorium next Friday evening, October 12. A detailed program will appear in The Tribune next week.

To Reside at Bemidji.

Mr. and Mrs. Erling Dahl, who have made this city their home for the past number of years, will leave the latter part of the week for Bemidji, where Mr. Dahl has accepted a position in a tailor shop. They will make their future home there. Mr. Dahl was connected with the Kleanall Shop here until a few months ago, when he disposed of his interest to N. Reiter. The many friends of Mr. and Mrs. Dahl will regret to learn of their departure.

CITY TEACHERS IN ATTENDANCE AT CONVENTION

Educational Association of Northwestern Minnesota Meets at Crookston.

Many Thief River Falls Instructors to Take Part in Programs.

The local schools are closed Thursday and Friday, October 4 and 5, in order to enable the teachers to attend the Northwestern Minnesota Education Association convention in Crookston on these dates. An unusually attractive program has been provided for this convention. It should give the educators both specific help in their problems and the inspiration which is necessary for the most successful carrying on of their work. The convention opens at 7:30 on Wednesday evening and will close Friday evening.

Among the most prominent speakers are Dr. William A. Cook of the University of South Dakota, who will speak Thursday morning and evening; Dr. H. L. Miller of the University of Wisconsin who will speak at the general session on both Thursday and Friday mornings; Dr. Oscar Taylor Corson of Oxford, Ohio, who will speak at the general session Friday forenoon; Mrs. E. C. Quamme of St. Paul, president of the State Parent-Teacher association, who will address the assembly on Thursday evening. C. C. Swain, president of the Mayville Normal school will deliver several addresses.

A number of local teachers will take various parts on the different programs. Miss Minnie Leavitt will discuss the topic "Measuring the Progress in Mastering the Minimum Essentials in English," at the English round table on Thursday. A. C. Matheson will lead the discussion on the title, "Some Modern Language Problems." Miss Mildred Nelson will discuss "What Sciences Should Be Taught in High Schools of Northwestern Minnesota." Miss Sarah Vaughan of the Knox school will appear on the intermediate program with a discussion of "Relative Values of Written and Oral Language in Intermediate Grades." Miss Aneta Dahlquist has been assigned the topic "How to Stimulate Freedom in Oral Expression" on the same program; while Miss Edna Larson, principal of the Washington school will discuss "Interesting and Effective Teaching of Spelling." Clarence Pope, general industrial training instructor, is scheduled for a talk on the late tendencies in his line of work. Miss Clara Baumann, physical training director, is scheduled to give a talk on "Playground Supervision During Recess." In addition to the above, Miss Maude L. Johnson, supervisor of music, is in charge of the music program; Mrs. Blanche Korstad of the mathematics department has charge of the mathematical round table; while Mr. Simley is chairman of the elementary session.

HOLSTEIN SALE HELD TODAY IS GREAT SUCCESS

Large Crowd of Buyers Attends and All Animals Bring Good Prices.

Twenty Breeders From Outside of County Take Half of Offerings.

Reports from the second annual consignment sale of the Pennington County Holstein association, held this afternoon at the fair grounds, indicate that the sale proved a complete success in every respect. All of the animals offered were disposed of at good prices and the crown in attendance was larger than had been expected.

Prices ranged fair, though slightly lower than had been anticipated by those in charge of the sale. It is understood that $210 is the top price paid for an animal, with many selling at almost this amount. The Tribune is informed that about 20 buyers from outside the county were present at the sale, and that these secured about half the Holsteins offered.

This evening everything is in readiness for the big dairy booster meeting at the auditorum, but The Tribune goes to press too early to give an account of this part of the day's doings. A complete report will appear in next week's issue.

Out in Society

Newton-Bolstad.

Yesterday afternoon at two-thirty, occurred the marriage of Miss Selma Newton and Oden A. Bolstad, Rev. George Larson officiating. The ceremony took place at the Zion Lutheran parsonage in the presence of Miss Nellie Bolstad and Harry Bolstad.

Swanson-Boltmann.

A wedding of much interest to people of this city and vicinity was solemnized September 16 at Crookston, when Miss Maebelle E. Swanson of St. Hilaire became the bride of Fred C. Boltmann of that place. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Moen at the Norwegian Lutheran church parsonage at 2:30 p. m.

The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Swanson of St. Hilaire and is a well known and respected young lady of this city, having attended the public schools here and graduated with the '21 class of the local high school. She taught school last year near Red Lake Falls and is now teaching near St. Hilaire, until spring.

The groom is at present employed as driver for the bus line from Crookston to this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Boltmann will make their home at Crookston next spring. Their many friends wish them success and happiness in their wedded life.

***

Local Order of Eastern Star Conducts School of Instruction Successfully

High Officials and Large Delegations From Other Cities are in Attendance Here.

Last Wednesday evening will go down in history as one of the most important occasions in the annals of the local Order of the Eastern Star. At that time a school of instruction, a banquet and a splendid speaking program occupied the time. The banquet was served at the Brumund hotel and the remainder of the program was carried out at the Masonic hall.

The school of instruction was conducted by State Worthy Grand Matron Harriet O. Rask and she highly complimented the officers of the district on the exemplification of their work. Mrs. J. M. Bishop delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by Mrs. Hodgson of Crookston. Following the close of the school, short talks were made by Worthy Grand Matron Rask, Worthy Grand Patron H. C. Durrin, Sam O. Rask, husband of the Worthy Grand Matron, and F. F. Haynes. Mr. and Mrs. Rask were guests of honor of the second district, and while here were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Mogensen.

Worthy Grand Matron Rask was presented with a camera from the second district, while Mrs. E. O. Mogensen, district deputy grand matron, was presented with a beautiful bouquet of chrysanthemums by the local chapter.

Following are the guests from out of town who took part in the festivities: Crookston—Mesdames Nellie Norris, Rarick, Julius Skokley, Mamie Founet, Ed. Gildersleeve, Frank Bell, Sam Rosenthal, W. GOVERNOR
Henry J. Allen of Kansas, will Lecture
—at the—
Auditorium, Thief River Falls
—on—
Monday Eve., Oct 8

Mr. Allen has become a national figure in both politics and in the field of labor.

Mr. Allen is author of the famous "Court of Industrial Relations" which has been the subject of debate in the schools and on the public platform. It vitally effects both labor and employees and is of great interest to all.

This subject will be handled by Mr. Allen who is the best authority in the United States upon the affirmative side, and whether you are a laborer or employe you should hear him.

Governor Allen fills but few lecture engagements and Thief River Falls is fortunate in getting him.

FOODS THAT ARE GOOD

To be healthy and wise the family should have onions in some form served twice a week at least. The following dish is delicious.

Stuffed Onions.—Use the large, mild southern onion if possible, if not, large native onions. Peel six and cook in boiling salted water until nearly done, cool a little, cut a slice from the end of each and scoop out the center. Chop three-fourths of a cupful of pecan meats; stir in three-fourths of a cupful of bread crumbs, one-third of a cupful of melted butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, one tablespoonful of chopped parsley and pepper to taste. Fill the onions and place in a buttered baking dish, pour in a cupful of hot water and bake in a moderate oven one-half hour, basting occasionally with butter and hot water. When ready to serve pour over a half cupful of cream or a cupful of rich white sauce.

Franconia Potatoes.—Pare the potatoes and boil ten minutes in salted water. Drain the potatoes and place in the pan with a roast forty-five minutes before the meat is done. Baste frequently to brown the potatoes. Potatoes served in this manner are good with any kind of a roast, but a beef roast is especially good.

Bread Pudding.—Spread slices of bread with butter and any liked jam, place in a baking dish and pour over a pint of hot grape juice. Cover with chopped nuts and serve, after baking, either hot or cold with a custard or whipped cream.

Carrots With Peas.—Cut into half-inch cubes enough carrots to make two cupfuls and cook fifteen minutes in boiling water. Drain and while still hot add one-third of a cupful of butter; shake well so that each piece is well-covered with butter, then add one-third of a cupful of granulated sugar mixed with a tablespoonful of fresh mint finely chopped. Cook slowly until the carrots are tender and well-glazed. Have ready a pint of heated French peas. Pile the carrots in the center of a hot platter and arrange the peas as a border.

Young Love's Ending.

I had taken my girl to a box social held in a country school. I told her to describe her box and I would buy it. I bought the box she had described, and on opening it I found it belonged to a sour old maid. I was real angry, especially so when I saw that a nice young fellow had bought my girl's box. Our friendship ended there.—Exchange.

THE FARMER'S SALVATION.

Slowly but surely the farmer of the Northwest is turning away from the idea that his economic troubles can be cured by legislation. He has taken a second and more considerate view of the situation, with the result that he is beginning to feel that any law putting a fixed price upon a bushel of wheat or a pound of butter might result in even greater disaster so long as the route from producer to consumer is controlled or monopolized.

While the agricultural industry may be the biggest business of the nation, it is nevertheless a fect that so-called "big business" has solved the problem and set an example in modern management that practically controls the biggest business because it controls the distribution.

If it is the desire of the farmers to establish a direct route from their granaries and dairies to the households of the consumers, they can do this, and the result will be more beneficial to all concerned than the enactment of any law. Co-operation seems to be the logical answer to the present difficulty of the agricultural producer. The law of supply and demand has come to depend largely on co-operative control, one way or another, and the farmer must play the game or lose out. Farming is the biggest business in the nation, and modern business methods are necessary for its successful operation.

NEWSPAPERS AND MERCHANTS.

New York business men have been treated to a practical demonstration of the value of newspaper advertising. Within a day after the stoppage of publication of the New York papers the decrease in shopping was noticed. In two days the slump had become so pronounced that the stores appeared empty in comparison with the crowds that normally throng them at this season. Advertising men were baffled trying to contrive some expedient to remedy the situation. The moving force behind modern merchandising had been withdrawn. Merchants were thrown into consternation with the sudden realization that the motive power of their business had been shut down, and they have vainly endeavored to substitute other forms of advertising.

Today the man who launches into business is considered of inferior intelligence if he does not inform the public of the nature and merits of his wares. He learns soon that for efficiency, economy and results the newspaper is the best medium through which to broadcast his sales talks. But he probably never realizes that newspaper advertising is the very backbone of his business until he is deprived of the opportunity of using it.

The American buyer has come to regard his or her newspaper advertising as so much news of importance, almost equal to the reports of affairs in the other columns. Deprived of her store news, telling her of qualities and prices, the housewife is as much at sea as the financier without his stock and bond reports, or the farmer without his market quotations.

Never before in the history of American journalism has been so vivid an example of the closely allied interests of newspapers and business and of the close co-operation that is necessary between them.

The Minnesota Wheat Growers is about the livest co-operative organization we have ever seen. If the potato growers of the state had a man like "Bill" Frederick in charge of organization they could have handled this year's pool.

The Tribune welcomes to the local field the Mattson brothers of Warren, A. E. and Clarence W. They will find Thief River Falls a good town to live in and The Times under their management ought to be prosperous.

Ole Sageng in the latest to receive widespread mention for governor next year. With such men as Ole O., O. P. B. and Theodore to choose from the Republican party is surely "sitting pretty."

DON'T GIVE UP THE FARM.

"Don't give up the ship," is a saying the wisdom of which appeals to sailors and navigators on every sea. The ship may be frail and tossed by heavy seas, and at times may seem to go under, but to passengers and crew it is a much safer place than the mad foam-crested waves that roll all around it. A little patience and care in navigating and the storm will cease, the sea become calm, and the ship proceed on its course to a safe haven. And so also is farming, the admonition "Don't give up the ship," substituting "farm" for "ship" is equally applicable. "Don't give up the farm" is advice that many farmers at this time of agricultural depression will do well to heed. Because crops may be poor and prices low, and great difficulty may be experienced in making both ends meet, yes, farming may even have been done at loss, and creditors may be pressing all around—for these and other reasons many are tempted to leave the farm and endeavor to make their living in other occupations. They seem to forget that farming as well as every other line of business has its ups and downs. Henry Ford the richest man in the world, was on the verge of bankruptcy a few years ago but now he has over two hundred million dollars in cold cash and is on easy street. How did he do it? He used his head. He knew he had a product which the world wanted and needed and he set out to supply it. And there is no reason why farmers can not force success if they go at it in the right way. It is only a few years ago that farmers were smiling on account of high prices for all farm products. Agricultural conditions are bound to change from what they are at the present time. In the meantime farmers should be in no haste to give up the farm for a job in the cities.

City jobs are not what they are cracked up to be. Even with high wages, laboring men find it difficult to make both ends meet. Rents are high, and butter, milk, eggs, poultry and meat, not valued highly on the farm, cost money and are luxuries in the city. Street car fares have to be paid and are quite an item in the family budget. Wherever one goes in the city it is necessary to have the pocketbook along. When one cannot pay he can no longer eat. In a few years, in our opinion, thousands now in the big cities will be flocking to the country to escape starvation.

The country is the natural home of man. There is pure air and freedom. It is the best place in which to bring up the family. Farming is no easy job, but no job is easy if one wants to succeed. But it is a far better job than to be a cog in the industrial life of a big city. Farm to live, and do not live, as so many do, merely to farm. We have here in the Red River Valley as good soil and climate for general diversified farming as can be found anywhere in the world. Anyone who owns a farm in this valley and uses it rightly, is fortunate indeed. Stick to it; there are "no greener pastures" anywhere else. "Don't give up the farm."—Warren Sheaf.

The farmers of the Red River valley are taking kindly to the Minnesota Wheat Growers and why not? They have the only sensible method by which the grain grower can ever hope to sell his produce for cost plus a reasonable profit. When the wheat growers control up to 40 per cent of the production they will come pretty close to fixing the price—see if they don't.

A farmer over near Grygla nearly lost his farm by foreclosure last fall. In his desperate attempt to find something to pull himself out of the hole, he thought of the turkey hen. He managed to get 75 turkey hens and a few gobblers. Now he has 1,200 turkeys and is snapping his fingers at his creditors, and the old farmstead is safe again. Moral: Get on friendly terms with a turkey hen.

That farmer over at Gatzke who got a big crop of hay and 7,000 pounds of alfalfa seed from 65 acres of alfalfa, is the object of much envy among his neighbors. He should be an inspiration to the whole countryside to go and do likewise.

One big argument in favor of Henry Ford for President is that he will finance his own campaign, and his cabinet will not be selected from the heaviest contributors to the campaign fund.

If Henry Ford is elected President there will be an army of unemployed in Washington. There will be an unprecedented exodus of people who have been on the government payroll for many years.

Wouldn't it seem strange to see a candidata for President ride to victory in a flivver?

OKLAHOMA'S LITTLE KAISER.

The action of Governor Walton of Oklahoma in putting a military censor into the editorial rooms of the Tulsa Tribune is a final brazen assault on liberty of the press that should arouse every newspaper publisher from coast to coast to action to the end that we may bring quickly to close the growing grip of officials over public expression. The insidiuos inroads made in different states, all with the same end in view, getting a grip on the throat of the publisher, have grown so bold that the newspaper profession must sit up and take notice if it is to preserve itself. In some quarters the assault is carefully camouflaged under the cloak of reform, but it is none the less dangerous.

The Tulsa Tribune, leading newspaper of the state, saw fit to criticize the conduct of the Oklahoma Governor. The recital of the Governor's activities was published in a series of articles entitled "The Story of Walton." Quite apart from the merits or demerits of the Governor's attitude on public matters the right of a newspaper to take a position on the operations of the chief executive remains unquestionable. If in "The Story of Walton" there were published anything untruthful, anything libelous, the publisher stood responsible under the law. Seemingly, however, the Governor, dressed in his little brief authority was not satisfied with the protection afforded him by the courts. He must take the law into his own hands and recreate it to suit his particular desires, and the local Ku Klux situation afforded what he regarded as a plausible excuse. Putting Tulsa county under martial law Governor Walton placed a military censor in the newspaper office to suppress from publication anything which in the judgement of the official footman might "incite to riot." Obviously any published fact which tended to expose the spirit of dictatorship on the part of the Governor "might" incite to riot, so that "The Story of Walton" necessarily fell under the official frown. Here is censorship gone mad.

If Waltonism is allowed to stand then Oklahoma is about ready for another Boston Tea Party. When the governor of a state can take a strangle hold on the throat of the press, when the newspaper can be Prussianized and crushed under the heel of a Kaiser, the constitution under which we have lived and under which this great nation has developed might as well be torn into scraps of paper and a new system of government set up.

The plain fact is the whole system of censorship is dangerous to liberty and diametrically opposed to the American form of government. It combines the very three elements of rule the fathers so sedulously sought to segregate—the legislative, the judicial and the executive. It undermines the moral fibre of our legislators providing for them a vehicle of excuse for failure to stand up and be counted on public issues. Also let it not be forgotten it becomes a burden on the already overloaded taxpayer which he can ill afford to bear. Governor Walton shows to what extent under its rule it is possible to crush human liberty.

Walton symbolizes the public mentor in action. Posing as the champion of the people's rights he strips them of their most valued possession, the freedom of expression, and places them in shackles. Men like Walton in our judgement should be kicked out of office and the newspapers should see that it is done.

BANKS AND INSURANCE.

In nearly every issue of a daily paper appear accounts of the burning up of homes while owners were away. Often everything in the house was a total loss, including sums of money and other valuables. And the story ends with the words: "They had no insurance."

It is sound common sense to use every possible precaution to safeguard one's property, real and personal. So heavy proves the loss to almost any family that they are for the time destitute; neighbors care for them and relatives at a distance are telegraphed to for funds. Many hardships can be avoided when precaution is taken, through insurance, to ward off such losses.

This is the greatest country on earth, and don't you forget it. Times may not be as good as they were four years ago, but we are eating three squares a day, wearing good clothes, riding to church in automobiles. We are free from earthquakes, floods, pestilence and riot. Instead of kicking on conditions we should thank God that we are well and are citizens of a great free land.

Sheep are always good property on the farm, and this year they have been a prolific source of income. We look for largely increased flocks of sheep in this territory from now on.

CONSISTENCY.

A man wakes up in the morning after sleeping under an advertised blanket or an advertised mattress; pulls off advertised pajamas; takes a bath in an advertised tub; shaves with an advertised razor; washes with advertized soap; powders his face with advertised powder; dons advertised underwear, hose, shirt, collar, shoes, suit, handkerchief; sits down to breakfast of advertised cereal; drinks a cup of advertised coffee; puts on an advertised hat; lights an advertised cigar; rides to his office in an advertised auto on advertised tires; then he refuses to advertise on the ground that advertising doesn't pay. Consistency, thou art a jewel.

Thief River Falls is proud to be the headquarters of the Minnesota Wheat Growers association. It has at present the largest membership in the state of all organizations under the new co-operative law, and the good advertising which the city receives as a result is of inestimable value. The best part of it is that the best farmers in the state are associating themselves with the organization and it is bound to be a success.

David Lloyd George, who soon comes to tour America, has just issued a book in which he asserts that world peace has gone to the bow-wows, but hopes final settlement of Europe's troubles will be "left to the diplomats instead of the gunmen." Our observation of European affairs leads us to the opinion that diplomats usually call in the gunmen to settle their differences.

We commend all our friends who are thin blooded to go to California or Florida. But for the person with plenty of red corpuscles there is no more exhilarating spot on earth to our way of thinking than right here in good old Thief River Falls.

Five years from now this will be known as the greatest dairy section of the great Northwest, and when that time comes we shall have no cause to feel sorry for the man who happens to own a Pennington county farm.

"Optimism has never paid off a farm mortgage," said a man the other day to the editor of The Tribune. Maybe not, maybe not, but neither has pessimism, and between the two we will place our coin on the optimist to win nine times out of ten.

Deliver us from the perpetual grouch. He is an eternal nuisance at home and abroad and if such people would only go away and die by themselves they would render the only good service of which they are capable.

The coming poultry show in Thief River Falls will be an eye opener to the people of the entire section who will visit the show. As a matter of fact this is another feather in our cap, namely, having the biggest and best poultry show in Minnesota.

Coal mining will get the same lesson that is eventually meted out to any industry which in its operation loses sight of the public interest. A substitute that gives better service will take its place.

Don't be impatient, good people. It won't be long before you are told for whom you may vote for President.

Advertising space is the white hope of the alert business man.

Just a few weeks left in which to do your Christmas shopping.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

They'll Get It Back.

The week before last more than a thousand dollars worth of mail order catalogs were put through the Baudette post office. That's a lot of money to aim at a little burg, but they'll get it back and then some, even if merchants whose shelves have become homes for aged spiders don't believe that it pays to advertise.—Baudette Region.

Sparking Too Fast.

Whenever one reads of an automobile disaster in which a young man and a young woman are in the car, and the explanation is made "that something went wrong with the steering gear" the experienced man is likely to amend by suggesting that the sparking apparatus was the trouble.—Fergus Falls Tribune.

Expensive Hospitality.

Many southern Minnesota farmers can blame their lack of prosperity if they are suffering from any such a disease, upon their own tender-heartedness. There's no reason why a farmer should board scrub cattle when he can get results from good grades or purebreds.—Owatonna Journal-Chronicle.

Treating 'Em Rough.

Liquor law violators had a hard time of it at the term of U. S. court that came to an end in Fergus Falls last week. Fines totaling $17,750 and jail sentences amounting to a combined total of over eight years were imposed. The usual sentence for those who plead guilty was three months in jail for selling and $400 fine for having possession of liquor. Those who stood trial and were found guilty were given five months and 25 days and a fine of $500.—Ada Index.

Dr. Adkins in City.

Dr. Adkins of Grygla, was in the city this morning on business connected with his profession. The genial doctor is one of those enthusiastic farmers who can see nothing but a bright future for this country. As an evidence of his own good faith in the community, Dr. Adkins owns and farms more than 400 acres which he intends to put into alfalfa. Doc. told The Tribune this morning that he has knocked around all over the country and is led by his observations to believe this to be the banner alfalfa country of the middle west—and he is willing to stake his last dollar on his judgment in that respect. And by thunder The Tribune is inclined to believe he is right.

Gatzke Banker in City.

Cashier O. S. Ostgaard, of the Farmers State Bank of Gatzke, was in the city last evening on business. Mr. Ostgaard is one of the old timers in this section of Minnesota, and one who has ample faith in its future. He has been a consistent booster for the farming interests of eastern Marshall county, and the splendid dairy herds and alfalfa fields in the Gatzke community testify to his good work in the direction of better farming. Mr. Ostgaard is never so happy as when he is broadcasting the news of new recruits to the ranks of those whose monthly cream checks run close to the $200 mark.

Leave for California.

Mr. and Mrs. S. K. Dahle, former proprietosr of the Central hotel, accompanied by Oscar Bjerke, left last Monday for Fargo, where they will visit relatives until today and will be joined by Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Parbst and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoard of this city and will continue on to California, by way of the Yellowstone Park, where they expect to remain during the winter months. The trip will be made by cars and their friends wish them the best of success on their journey.

Sjoberg Family Leaves.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sjoberg and daughter Nettie, lef Monday evening for Minneapolis, where they will make their future home. Mr. Sjoberg is employed as an engineer on the Soo Line and the family has made this city their home for the past fifteen years. Although the change will benefit them in a number of ways, their host of friends sincerely regret their departure from this city.

To Issue Cook Book.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion has awarded to The Tribune job department a contract for the printing of a cook book to be issued in the near future. The members of that organization are trying to make the book as comprehensive as possible and ladies of this vicinity who have tested recipes are asked to submit them without delay to Mrs. D. W. Robinson.

Seek Means to Increase Flow of Water in River In Effort to Get Power

Considerable trouble is experienced at the present time by power plants operating along the Red Lake river due to the low stage of water and the fact that its flow is seriously interferred with by a heavy growth of reeds and grasses in the river bed at various points between Thief River Falls and Red Lake.

Today a party left by car for the lake and will return in a boat along the river for the purpose of making an investigation. The party consists of Alderman Andrew Ness and Superintendent Ole Legvold of Thief River Falls, Leonard Peterson of Crookston, and a representative of the power plant at Grand Foroks. These men will look over the situation and make a report as to the best plan to be pursued in clearing the foreign matter from the river channel.

City Political Pot Begins To Simmer as Candidates Start Out For Positions

Several Petitions Already Out and More Announcements Are Expected Within a Few Days.

In spite of a lagging start, Thief River Falls may yet see a lively campaign prior to the municipal election, which will this year be held on November 6. Several petitions are in circulation for the signatures necessary before filing can be made, and it is understood that more will be forthcoming within a few days. No candidate for mayor is yet in the field.

Candidates for alderman-at-large are the most numerous. M. V. Evenson, J. J. Weeks and A. G. Halseth are in the field with petitions, which are being signed liberally. Chris Porter is out for the job of alderman from the second ward, and H. A. Brumund seeks to succeed himself as alderman from the third. N. W. Tarrant and EEd. EEveEnson, municipal judge and city treasurer respectively, will seek re-election. Alderman John Dahl of the second ward has not yet decided whether he will make the race. Andrew Ness of the fourth ward announces that he will seek another term on the council and will circulate his petitions within a few days.

Ole L. Ihle and S. Brandon, present aldermen-at-large, have both decided to withdraw from the council at the end of the present term. There is considerable talk about town in regard to the situation and considerable interest may be injected into the campaign before another week goes by.

Pederson-Caton.

The following wedding will be of much interest to local people:

Miss Luella P. Pederson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Pederson, residing at 226 Red Lake Blvd., in this city, and Victor L. Caton of Minneapolis, were united in marriage at eight o'clock last Wednesday evening, Sept. 26th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Caton at Minneapolis, Rev. Luther Roseland, pastor of the Nazareth English Lutheran church officiating.

Miss Pederson, who entered the room alone, wore a gray satin crepe gown and carried brides' roses and orange blossoms. Her bridesmaid was a sister of the groom, Miss Helen Caton, who wore a carmel canton crepe dress and carried Ophelia roses. The groom was attended by his brother, Emery Caton, acting as best man.

Following the ceremony an informal reception was held for immediate friends and relatives, and a buffet supper was served. Throughout the rooms autumn flowers were used as decorations for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. Caton left the following Thursday for Duluth, where they spent a few days with Mrs. Caton's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Pederson, formerly of this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Caton will reside in Minneapolis and her friends extend best wishes for a happy wedded life. The bride is well known and a most estimable young lady. She was born and reared in this city and is a graduate of the '20 local high school class, but for the past three years has been employed at Minneapoils.

Among the pre-nuptial affairs for Mrs. Caton was a parcel shower given by her aunt, Mrs. C. W. Ott, 66th and Upton Ave. S., Minneapolis, on Sept. 12th. About twenty guests were present.

Balloonist Injured.

Henry Hogquist, assistant at the Kleanall shop, left this morning for his home at Hazel, where he accompanied his brother, George, who has been confined in a hospital at Red Wing for the past two weeks due to an accident he suffered in a balloon trip from Minneapolis to Red Wing. George is suffering from injuries in the legs that wil lmake it impossible for him to walk for some time, but complete recovery is expected.

Girls' Community.

The Girls' Community club will meet in the club rooms next Monday evening, with the board as hostess. A program has been arranged for the evening and every member is urged to be present as this is an important meeting.

***

Dorcas Society.

The Dorcas society of the Trinity Lutheran church met last evening in the church parlors, with Misses Lena Lonson and Edna Larson as hostesses. Dorcas will meet next Tuesday evening also and a large crowd is expected.

Rebekah Lodge.

The Rebekah lodge will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, Oct. 11th. After the meeting there will be a social time. Each Rebekah is requested to bring their partner. Admission each, 25 cents.

In the United States senate there are numerous Johns, Samuels, Henry's etc., but no Dennis. That name will be applied later by the constituents.

If you must express an opinion, let it be freighted with optimism.

Leon Reiter of Duluth returned yesterday to his home at Trail, after visiting for a few days with his brother, Nick, of the Kleanall shop.

Miss Vivian Olson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. N. Olson, left this week for Crookston, where she will be a student at the agricultural college.

Grygla Man Goes Insane While Visiting Here and Creates Big Disturbance

"Billy" Watson of Grygla, for many years a familiar figure in that territory and in this city, where he has visited frequently, suffered a fit of insanity while here Monday night. Watson came down from Grygla on Sunday and engaged a room in a local boarding house, and nothing unusual was noted in his actions. Late Monday night, however, he began to carry on in his room to such an extent that it was found necessary to send for an officer. The unfortunate man ran up and down stairs and around the yard minus any clothing whatever, and the efforts of several men were required to bring him under control.

Sheriff Ihle was called and he placed Watson in the county jail until the following morning, when Marshall county authorities were notified. Sheriff Hanson of that county arrived in the afternoon and took the man to that place for examination.

Watson has been insane before and was confined in the Fergus Falls hospital for a period of time.

Chicken Dinner.

Mrs. Isak Helseth, 905 LaBree avenue north, entertained a few of her friends at her home last evening at a six-thirty wild chicken dinner. Those who participated were: Misses Carrie Trogan, Lavina Adams, Esther Gjertson, Clara Bauman, Mrs. M. Helen Montgomery and Mrs. L. R. Johnston.

DULUTH LADY IS MENTIONED FOR FEDERATION JOB

Mrs. P. L. DeVoist Slated for Minnesota Woman's Club President.

Annual Meeting of Federation at Hibbing on October 10, 11, 12.

The eighth district of the Minnesota Federation of Woman's Clubs is presenting Mrs. P. L. Voist of Duluth as candidate for the presidency of the federation, which will hold its annual meeting in Hibbing, Oct. 10, 11, 12. There is no other candidate for the office, which means the leadership of more than 50,000 club women in the state, representing some 400 clubs in every district. Mrs. Ds Voist will succeed Mrs. J. L. Rounds of St. Paul, who has announced that she will not consider re-election as president of the federation.

Mrs. De Voist has been active in federation club work for many years. She was born in Calumet, Michigan, coming to Duluth in 1905. She was a charter member of the Michigan state federation, and helped organize it 27 years ago at Lansing. She was the first chairman of its child welfare committee and chairman of the educational and household economics committees. Mrs. Loyhed has been vice-president of the Minnesota federation and county chairman for St. Louis county. She has been active in the Lester Park Literary club, The Twentieth Century club and the Woman's Council of Duluth for many years and has been especially interested in the work of the social and industrial committee of the state federation and in Americanization work in Duluth—which has the finest night schools in the world.

Mrs. De Voist was a charter member of the Minnesota Woman Suffrage association and its president. She has always consistently worked for the recognition of women on equal terms with men, and has done much social welfare, educational and philanthropic work. She has been an active supporter of the W. C. T. U. and of the enforcement of the eighteenth amendment. She has also done a great deal of work for the Home and Foreign Missionary Society.

Mrs. De Voist has been endorsed by the Duluth clubs for the state presidency. The executive board of the eighth district has sent out a communication to all clubs in the state asking support of Mrs. De Voist for the office.

Gatzke Community Claims Honor for Being Home of Champion Alfalfa Farmer

Up in this section of the state every community lays claim to some distinction. Some boast of dairy herds, some of this and some of that. This week another locality comes to the attention of The Tribune with something out of the ordinary. It is the neighborhood surrounding Gatzke, in Marshall county about 20 miles east of Middle River.

Near Gatzke lives a farmer whom the neighbors have come to call "alfalfa king." This man's name is Louis Stordahl and he farms a quarter section which adjoins the village. And here is how Stordahl came to wear the sobriquet of "alfalfa king."

In 1917 he harvested one acre of alfalfa, which he threshed with an ordinary machine and secured 517 pounds of seed. With the exception of what he needed for his own use, this was all sold for 50 cents a pound. Each year Mr. Stordahl has increased his acreage of alfalfa until this year he harvested 70 acres from which he expects to realize about 7,000 pounds of seed. A crop like that on a quarter section of reasonably priced land isn't so bad, even in Northwestern Minnesota.

Ralston Named Chief of Police to Assume Place Of O. E. Berge. Resigned

A. D. Ralston, formerly night patrolman, is now chief of police in Thief River Falls. He was promoted to that position upon the resignation of O. E. Berge, which took effect October 1. Mr. Berge has accepted the job as special officer for the Soo line, formerly held by Louis C. Ecke and took up his duties the first of the month. Mr. Ecke has been transferred to the Chicago headquarters of the Soo and will hold a similar position there.

Edward L. Krogstad assumed his duties as night patrolman in place of Mr. Ralston. He is not a stranger to this work, having served as substitute officer on numerous occasions in the past.

Road Work Progressing.

Work was started this morning on the graveling of the three-mile stretch of the Jefferson highway west of the fair grounds. A crew of men has been busy there for some time grading and shaping the road so that it is now in good condition to receive the coat of gravel. This road has been in deplorable condition for some time and those who have occasion to use it will be glad to know that it is to be improved.

Marriage Licenses Issued.

Adolph Ecklund, clerk of court, announces the following marriage licenses issued this week: John R. Bergquist and Mildred Favrow, Oct. 2; Odin Bolstad and Selma Newton, last Monday, October 1.

It is hard to board at a widow's without becoming a rumor.

THIEF RIVER FALLS, MINNESOTA

TRAVEL CENSUS ON TRUNK LINES REVEALS FACTS

Rapid Increase in Use of System Is Disclosed by 1923 Census.

Trunk Routes Serve Eight Vehicles for Each Seven Last Year.

Minnesota trunk highway traffic is averaging 834 vehicles a ay this year, compared with 710 vihicles daily last year and 406 a day five years ago. The travel ranges, on actual count, from 5,561 vehivles a ay on trunk highway No. 3 near Robinsdale to 35 daily on trung highway No. 67 near Echo. Traffic counts in this section show 319 vehicles a day on trunk highway No. 32 between Thief River Falls and Middle River, north of the junction with No. 33, and 260 vehicles daily on No. 33 to Warren, the count being taken just west of its junction with No. 32. These counts indicate the relative use of these sections in comparison with that of other parts of the system.

The foregoing figures are from the annual trunk highway census made public this week by Charles M. Babcock, state highway commissioner. The traffic census is mae uring a week in the latter part of August each year to find out the actual average travel on the whole system and comparative amounts on different sections. Counts this year wewe taken at 171 points.

Each average 1,000 vehicles this year is mae up of 379 light and 382 heavy cars, Minnesota owned; 140 foreign cars; 9 busses and 4 trucks for hire, 48 light and 13 heavy trucks, privately operated; 19 wagons and 6 buggies, horse-drawn. The average 1,000 last year included 362 light and 420 heavy autos, Minnesota owned; 113 foreign cars; 10 busses and 6 trucks for hire; 43 light and 16 heavy private trucks; and 20 wagons and 10 buggies.

Although government reports show more horses owned in Minnesota now than ever before, the counts disclose that fewer are riven on the highways, the farmers like others turning more to the use of motor trucks and cars. Minnesota people, it is inicated, are buying more light than heavy cars. The figures show further a reuction in the percentage of commercial busses and trucks on trunk routes from last year.

A general summary lists daily averages of more than 2,000 vihicles at seven counting stations on paved sections; more than 1,000 a day at 17 places only five of which are paved, 55 count points with averages over 500 vehicles a day and 90 averaging less than 500 vehicles daily.

The highway report points out that funds for trunk highway purposes have not been increased in proportion to the greater use of the trunk routes.

HIGHWAYS AID BUYS MOST IN MINNESOTA

State Ranks First for Roads Built With Federal Aid Official Showing.

Dollar for dollar for funds received, Minnesota has built more good roads with federal highway aid than any other state in the Union, according to official figures quoted in American Highways, a journal published by the Association of State Highway Officials, Washington, D. C.

Texas leads Minnesota in point of completed mileage of federal aid highway improvements, but has received more than double the amount of aid paid this state, the figures disclose. A further showing is that Minnesota has used an average of $4,395 federal aid a mile, while 43 out of 48 states run the mileage cost higher, an indication that this state is building utility roads rather than automobile boulevards. The Minnesota total of 2,532 miles of federal aid highways completed and under construction is made up of 414 miles of grading, 1,871 of graveling and 247 of paving.

Ranking seventeenth with 2,387,125 population, Minnesota is given seventh place among the states for both public road and federal highway mileage —103,050 miles in all and 7,213 of aid roads, including 7,000 miles of trunk routes.

Minnesota with 380,557 motor vehicles registered last year—the total now exceeds 430,000—was topped by only 12 states. Its motor vehicle taxes averaging $17.19 and aggregating $6,543,685 were smaller both in average and total than those in seven other states.

The same publication gives Minnesota eighteenth place for taxable valuation on an assessment total of $2,026,793,710, explaining that assessments in the states vary from 30 per cent to full value. With $13,197,512 received to date from the government for highway uses, Minnesota ranks eleventh in federal aid ratio despite the best showing credited on achievements.

Another tabulation shows that only two cents of each dollar of the cost of the U. S. Government goes for road building.

LAKE STATES TO GET EXPERIMENT STATION FOR FOREST RESEARCH

To Be Operated in Conjunction With St. Paul Agricultural Station.

A new forest experiment station has just been added to those already established by the United States Department of Agriculture. This new station will be called the Lake States Forest Experiment Station and will have its headquarters at St. Paul, Minn., under a co-operative agreement with the Minnesota Agricultural college, which will furnish it with suitable laboratory and office space.

This statement makes the fourth of the forest experiment stations under the department to be furnished the forest regions of the eastern United States, the other stations being known as the Appalachian at Asheville, N. C., the Southern at New Orleans, and the Northeastern at Amherst, Mass.

The importance of the Lake States station can not be emphasized too strongly, says the department, for the forestry problems in this region are exceedingly great, and it is expected that the forest experiment stations will aid the progress of forestry as much as the agricultural experiment stations have aided the progress of agriculture. Few farmers would expect to make a profit from wheat, corn, hay or orchards if they gave no care or attention to the growing of the crop. Certainly the farmers do not attempt to raise crops merely by harvesting what nature provides in the way of volunteer growth without any preparation of the soil, without fertilizer, with no selection of varieties, with no cultivation or weeding, no protection against fires, insects or diseases. Yet this is the way that we have so far treated our forest lands and the conditions in Minnesota, Wisconsin and Michigan show it at the present time.

For example, the Michigan timber land area amounts to approximately 19 million acres, of which 12 millions, or more than three-fourths of the total have been cut over and are generally non-productive. Similar conditions exist in both Wisconsin and Minnesota, and this region, which once led the United States in lumber production, is now so badly depleted of its timber resources that its place is being taken by western states. The money once poured into the region by the consuming lumber centers now is being used to pay the freight on lumber which has to be shipped for long distances.

One of the primary objects of the Lake States Forest Experiment Station will be to develop ways and means of making the cut-over and non-agricultural lands once again productive. The station will gather basic facts about forest renewal and forest growth so that it will be possible for the region to maintain the various lumber and paper industries on a permanent and sustained basis.

Dr. Raphael Zon, forest economist of international reputation, will be the director of the station. He brings to this new work a breadth of knowledge and an understanding of forest problems, not only for this region but for the whole country. He is very familiar with the Lake States region and has written several bulletins on the various native species.

St. John's Congregation to Take Part in Mammoth Church Building Program

Members of Local Church Decide to Help Raise the Fund of $4,000,000 Required.

At the quarterly meeting Sunday afternoon, the members of St. John's Lutheran church endorsed the Missouri Synod's building program, calling for an expenditure of almost $4,000,000 during the coming three years. An "every-member-canvas" will be taken on the afternoon of November 25th. On this day the congregations of the Missouri Synod Lutheran church in the United States and Canada will join efforts to raise the required sum. St. John's has determined to do its part.

The first theological college of the Missouri Synod was built by the Saxon immigrants in Perry county, Missouri; that was in 1839. The college was a log cabin and had five students and four professors. Today the same Synod maintains fifteen colleges and seminaries, consisting of 60 college buildings and 61 residences; 105 professors and 28 assistants instructing over 2600 students.

The Ways and Means committee, in charge of the campaign, gives the following information concerning these schools:

"Our colleges, or preparatory schools, are located at Fort Wayne, Ind., Milwaukee, Wis., St. Paul, Minn., Concordia, Mo., Bronxville, N. Y., Winfield, Kans., Conover, N. C., Portland, Oreg., Oakland, Cal., and Edmonton, Alta., Can. After our boys have studied six years at these institutions, they go to the seminary at St. Louis to take up a three-year theological course. At Springfield we have a seminary which offers a shorter course of six years to such as desire to become ministers of the Gospel. In South America we have a college and seminary at Porto Alegre, Brazil. At two normal schools, River Forest, Ill., and Seward, Nebr., young men, in a six-year course, are prepared to become teachers in our parochial schools."

Kvennes Auto Is Almost Ruined in Peculiar Way

A very unfortunate accident occurred Saturday evening when the Buick car belonging to A. C. Kvennes was badly injured by fire. Mr. Kvennes and family had motored to Black Duck to spend the week-end and had parked their car near the cottage they occupied. Shortly after dark Young Oswald Kvennes was sent to unload some of the baggage. Arriving at the car he lit a match to get his bearings and without knowing that a blaze had been started he returned to the cottage. The fire was discovered a half hour later and it was found that the cushions, steering wheel, windshield and top were entirely destroyed. If the flames had not been checked immediately the entire car would have been wrecked. The motor proved to be in running order and after some improvised rebuilding, Mr. Kvennes was able to make the return trip in the car.

Purchases Building.

H. C. Stone has purchased the Conrad Wedmer building until recently occupied by D. J. Brower and has moved his barber fixtures from the Nelson building where he was located. Mr. Stone plans to renovate the building and operate a confectionery, bowling alley and pool hall in connection with his barber shop. Before coming to Middle River, Mr. Stone conducted a business along similar lines at Strathcona.

Home Talent Play, "Back to the Farm," to Be Seen Here Next Monday Nnght

The well known three-act play, "Back to the Farm" will be presented at the High School Auditorium early in November. The cast will be made up of local talent and the play will be coached by Miss Dena Eikeness of the high school faculty.

"Back to the Farm" has to its record several seasons' successful presentation on the amateur stage. It is written by Merline H. Schumway of the University of Minnesota. Through the curtesy of the Extension Division of the University performance rights have been granted and the proceeds will be turned over to the local high school Athletic association.

The first rehearsal will be conducted at the high school Monday evening, October 8 and o neffort will be made to have the play ready for presentation in four weeks. In the absence of a regular lyceum course this year it is thought that the people of the community will look forward to an entertainment of this sort.

Old Timer Sees Passing of Marshall County Lake

Apropos to the hunting season a contributor to one of the local exchanges makes the following comment on the passing of Thief Lake once teeming with wild life:

"Hunters in great numbers from all over Minnesota are invading our territory in quest of chickens and ducks. Each report satisfactory results, but grieve over the loss of good old Thief Lake which years ago used to be one of the greatest wild game breeding reserves in the state. It is regretable that a lake of that kind should have been obliterated and put into a vast track of desert without value. A reclamation project of that sort is of no credit to anyone and those who were the instigators of the Thief Lake drainage and establishment of the watershed in connection, now very much wish that the old lake was back to its normal and natural intent again. Much money has been lost by an attempt to farm the Thief Like bottom and the crops therefrom on the average the past five years has not paid back original seed value. The Canada goose is now extinct and fur bearing animals of formerly good value, are gone. The present and future farming value of the Thief Lake bottom will never be wha the food and income value was when it was a lake. Besides this Marshall County has lost its only lake—and that is SOME loss.

Mrs. Green has now fully recovered from her serious operation, but the consequence was that Mr. Osborn had to give up his annual hunting trip in this vicinity.

Helping Enforce Law.

According to the Austin Herald twelve Austin men went to Owatonna a short time ago to testify that Sherman Bell of Austin, charged with the manufacture of moonshine, was a highly respected citizen and always of good character. The evidence was so strong against Bell that he "caved" and confessed that he was guilty. The action of these twelve Austin men is just what makes it hard for the officers to convict people who violate the liquor laws. If you can't get the citizens to co-operate with the authorities what can you expect in the way of law enforcement? The Herald should make an effort to learn the names of the twelve citizens and publish them on the front page in twelve point bold faced type. An effort also should be made to learn if any or all of the twelve men are Bell's distributors for the Austin territory.—Albert Lea Times-Enterprise.

DAIRY FARMING PROVIDES BEST MONEY RETURNS

Farmers in Minnesota More Prosperous on Whole Than in Kansas.

Income Figures for the Two States Shows Effects of Diversification.

Farmers in Minnesota where dairying is the largest industry are, on the whole, more prosperous than in Kansas, where wheat is the leading factor. An analysis of the distribution of the farmers' cash income in these states shows the stability of the animal products industries and the cumulative depression in one-crop wheat farming.

Comparing total figures for the two states, it is seen that the farm income in Minnesota has risen the farther above pre-war levels; that this state suffered relatively less in the recent depression; that it has experienced a more rapid recovery; and promises to have an increase in cash receipts the coming year, whereas the outlook is for a decline in Kansas.

Reference to the tables and charts brings out the features of the general situation. Gross cash income in Kansas rose from 273 million dollars in 1909 to 609 millions in 1919, a gain of 123 per cent. In the low year, 1921, it fell to 317 million, a loss of 48 per cent, rising in 1922 to 346 million, a 9 per cent increase.

In Minnesota total sales rose from 159 million dollars in 1919 to 471 millions in 1919, a gain of 196 per cent. declined 275 million, or 42 per cent in 1921, and last year showed an increase of 51 million dollars, which amounts to 19 per cent over 1921.

In Kansas the bulk of the farm income is derived from sales of crops and livestock, the leading items being wheat, cattle and hogs. In Minnesota, on the other hand, close to half the receipts from sales come from the animal products group—dairy products being by far the largest item, followed by hogs, wheat and cattle, in order. Last year, however, wheat slipped to fourth place.

Taking up the analysis in greater detail, it is seen that Kansas farmers derived 46 per cent of their income in 1919 from wheat, and in 1922, 28 per cent; 17 per cent from cattle in 1919 and 20 per cent in 1922; 12 per cent and 20 per cent in 1922, 28 per cent from hogs in 1919 and 21 per cent in 1922; while dairy products furnished only 7 per cent in 1919 and 10 per cent in 1922. In Minnesota dairy products furnished 27 per cent in 1919, 40 per cent in 1922; hogs 17 per cent in 1919, 15 per cent in 1922; cattle, 9 per cent in 1919, 8 per cent in 1922; wheat, 14 per cent in 1919, and 6 per cent in 1922.

For the coming year the outlook in general farming and dairy sections of both states is reasonably satisfactory. Taking the state as a whole, Minnesota farmers should have slightly more income in 1923-24 than in 1922-23, despite a 30 per cent decline in the value of the wheat crop. The corn and oats crop this year are large and should yield more income than last year, and the dairy industry is showing rapid gains.

In Kansas, on the other hand, a probable decline of about 40 per cent in the income from wheat will probably result in reducing the total income from 5 to 10 per cent below 1922-23.

Conclusions drawn from figures for a whole state or season are likely to be misleading as regards the conditions of particular groups in the region. Much variation in economic conditions exists within boundaries of both the states under consideration. In Kansas the sections most dependent on wheat is the central part of the state, the eastern and extreme northwest. In the eastern and central section, however, there is much more diversification—corn, hogs and cattle being prominent. In this section as in the corn belt generally, conditions are fairly good. In the northwest and western part of the state generally, cattle grazing is important. Both the cattle and swine industries in Kansas have made noticeable gains in the last year. They will figure relatively more important the coming year as sources of cash income, but the prospects are that feeding margins will be closer and net profit lower.

Minnesota has long ceased to be a great wheat state, ranking in 12th place last year with a crop of 25,000,000 bushels. But the counties of the north and northwest, in the Red River Valley section, are largely dependent on wheat. These counties have suffered seriously from price declines and where single crop farming is practiced the outlook for the next year is disheartening. Several of these wheat counties, however, such as Big Stone, Becker, Kandiyohi, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Ottertail and others, are important producers of dairy products, corn, oats and potatoes. The southwestern and south central portions of the state are diversified farming areas, dependent on corn, oats, livestock and dairying. This section more nearly resembles the corn belt. The central and southeastern quarter of the state is the great dairy region and is reported in a prosperous condition. The north and northeast third of the state is the poorest farming section, having but a small proportion of the total agricultural income. In this area, there is some dairying with timothy, clover and prairie hay, berley, rye and potatoes.

Interest of Publications of East in Wheat Market Association on Increase

Eastern magazines and financial publications are appreciating the growing power of the wheat marketing associations, and are evidencing their interest in the new farm development by devoting considerable space to the co-operative marketing movement. Barron's, a New York financial magazine, printed a complete explanation of the methods of the wheat marketing groupe and The Annalist, a financial publication of the New York Times, recently has carried several articles about the organizations.

"This interest on the part of eastern publications is of more than passing value to the co-operative marketing associations," said George C. Jewett, general manager of the American Wheat Growers Associated. "It has long been recognized that agricultural producers have been suffering from lack of appreciation of their problems on the part of the important financial and business leaders of the east. Such information as is now being put before these men cannot but be of value not only to wheat growers but to the producers of every other farm commodity.

"The attention being paid to agriculture by large publications is almost surprising. It is hard to pick up a magazine these days which does not have at least one article dealing with agricultural topics. It is a healthy sign that the farming industry, always so important to national welfare, is at last gaining the public attention which it deserves."

Every now and then one runs against an old-fashioned sort of man who has never got out of the notion that it is quite honorable to work for a living.

FARMERS' GRAIN FIRMS JOIN FOR BETTER RESULTS

U. S. Grain Growers Unite With American Wheat Growers Associated.

Conclusion of Project Will Brings Farmers' Agencies Under One Head.

Consolidation of the U. S. Grain Growers Sales company of Minneapolis with state wheat growers associations combined in the American Wheat Growers Associated is announced in a statement issued this week. The U. S. Grain Growers sales agency and the group of state wheat growers associations are co-operative marketing organizations and the consolidation centralizes the full strength of the farmer marketing movement in one organization.

The American Wheat Growers Associated previously has marketed only agency for nine state wheat growers associations and maintains offices in Minneapolis, Duluth, Kansas City, Omaha, Portland and Seattle. It has memberships on the Boards of Trade of Minneapolis and Duluth. The U. S. Grain Sales Company was established by the Farm Bureau associations of Minnesota and Iowa to care for the grain contracted by farmers to the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc., and maintains a membership on the Minneapolis Exchange.

The American Wheat Growers Associated previously has mareted only wheat pooled by the members of its state units, but through the merger, it will assume the business of the U. S. Grain Growers Sales company and hereafter will handle the consigned coarse grains of members of the U. S. Grain Growers and other farmers of the Northwest and middle west states.

Additional grain marketing facilities immediately will be added to the American Wheat Growers Associated, according to announcements from the Minneapolis headquarters. Wheat testing laboratories were installed last year, and the present plan will be supplemented with additional equipment to care for the increased business of the organization.

"The consolidation is the consumation of the prevailing thought of agricultural leaders in the Northwest to unify their grain marketing efforts," said J. F. Reed, president of the Minnesota Farm Bureau Federation. "In May of last year, a meeting was held at Fargo, N. D., under Farm Bureau auspices, at which time the desirability and importance of united effort in the matter of marketing grain was discussed and agreed upon by all farm organizations and agencies concerned with this phase of the farm project. This has been made an actual fact through the physical consolidation of these two agencies.

"The step will go far to unify the co-operative marketing movement in the spring wheat growing area. It is the business of farm organizations and those seeking to benefit agriculture to move in unison in promoting their projects. Divided efforts only tend to confuse producers, and unless leaders can agree and co-operate, there is little hope that individual farmers will be able to do so. I look upon the consolidation as a great forward step in handling of grain for producers."

"The merging of the U. S. Grain Growers sales agency with state associations comprising the American Wheat Growers Associated, brings together the two largest co-operative grain marketing organizations in the United States," said W. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated. "The consolidation will be of extreme value to members of the organizations in South Dakota, Minnesota and Montana. It will provide a self-contained machine for selling the coarse grains of the farmers now pooling their wheat in these states and in addition will provide a powerful farmer-owned organization with sales offices in practically every grain center of the country for use of members of the U. S. Grain Growers, Inc.

"The two organizations always have co-ordinated their marketing work, but many future benefits will accrue which were not possible under the dual organization of the past. It is expected that the American Wheat Growers Associated, as a result of the merger, will handle more American grain this year than any other single sales organization.

Milling Value of Wheat Factor in Securing Good Price by Co-Operatives

One of the important advantages accruing to the members of the co-operative wheat marketing associations this year is the fact that through their national sales establishments they are able to get premium value for quality milling wheats, according to W. H. Frederick, secretary of the Minnesota Wheat Growers Co-Operative Marketing association.

"Much of the wheat of this part of the country is light in weight this season but particularly high in gluten quality," said Mr. Frederick. "Wheat sales are made only on a basis of federal grade, as is generally the case in individual selling by farmers. This wheat is docked several cents a bushel because of its light weight. No attention is paid to the high milling value. But when it is sold through the marketing associations every cent of its milling worth in accordance with going market prices is obtained. There have been cases where wheat which if sold on a basis of test weight would have been docked five or six cents a bushel, has been sold for a premium of from ten to eighteen cents above the Chicago option because of its recognized milling value.

"Real value of wheat is determined in our completely equipped chemical laboratories at Minneapolis and Portland. This work is just one part of the sales activities of the American Wheat Growers Associated which sells the Minnesota pooled wheat along with that of eight other state wheat growers associations."

Veterans' Bureau Items

The Minneapolis Tribune has made a generous contribution of new books to the library of the soldier farm settlement, near McGrath, Minnesota. There were about one hundred fifty books in the shipment, which was made through Mr. Thomas Delton of the Tribune staff, and they cover a diversity of subjects. These will be placed in the new Community House which has been built for the use of the disabled soldiers and their families who have recently opened up new farms at Silver Star.

***

Each agricultural trainee who is developing a farm of his own under the auspices of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau receives from the government machinery and equipment to the value of $300 free. A recent shipment included such items as a stump puller, harrows, seeder, an incubator and a brooder.

***

The total number of claims for compensation, for both deaths and disability, filed with the U. S. Veterans' Bureau for the whole country, as of August 1, 1923, was 921,288. The number of new claims received during the month of July was 3,157, or an average of 126 for each working day.

***

General Frank T. Hines, Director of the U. S. Veterans' Bureau, has called the attention of the press to certain interesting facts.

1. That he expected the records would show that for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1923, $16,000,000 was turned back into the treasury from the Bureau's appropriation.
2. That by the first of the year twenty thousand disabled veterans will be rehabilitated and provided with jobs.
3. That practically eighty thousand men are now in training.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.

Of The Tribune, published weekly at Thief River Falls, Minn., for October 1, 1923.

State of Minnesota, County of Pennington, ss.

Before me, a Notary Public in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared J. S. Arneson, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the owner of The Tribune, and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management, etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 443, Postal Laws and Regulations, to-wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are:

Publisher, J. S. Arneson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Editor, J. S. Arneson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Managing Editor, J. S. Arneson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

Business Manager, J. S. Arneson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.)

J. S. Arneson, Thief River Falls, Minn.

3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are:

Pennington Printing Co., Thief River Falls, Minn.

First National Bank, Thief River Falls, Minn.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, is given: also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

J. S. ARNESON.

Sworn to and subscribed before me this 2nd day of October, 1923.

GEORGE W. WERSTLEIN,
Notary Public, Pennington County, Minn.
My commission expires Oct. 22, 1926.

L. C. Nielson Returns to Thief River Falls After Seven Months in Europe

Local Man Employed in Foreign Sales Department of Large Milwaukee Shoe Manufacturers.

L. C. Nielson, prior to his term of duty as a soldier in the world war was engaged in business in Thief River Falls, arrived in the city Sunday morning after an absence of seven months. Mr. Nielson came to spend a week among old friends and former associates.

Most of the time since leaving here last April, Mr. Nielson has spent in Europe. He secured a position in the foreign sales department of the Nunn-Bush and Weldon Shoe company of Milwaukee and was engaged in looking after matters for that firm during his stay abroad. His business led him to Germany, Norway and Sweden and he spent about an equal length of time in each of these countries.

During a short interview with The Tribune reporter he related many things of interest concerning his trip. Business conditions in Sweden and Denmark are fairly good at the present time, said Mr. Nielson, while Norway is suffering an economic disadvantage due to a lower rate of exchange. He said that as a class, the farmers in Denmark are the most prosperous. Through a highly organized and very effective system of co-operative marketing they have prospered greatly during recent years.

According to Mr. Nielson, conditions in Germany simply beggar description. The Germans are placed in a hopeless business situation through the rapid fall in value of their money and no one seems to know where it is all going to end.

Mr. Nielson will go from here to Milwaukee for a conference with head officials of his company and it is probable that he will again be sent into the foreign field in the near future.

Distant Breeder Secures Six Choice Holsteins in Visit to Pennington Farm

Buyers from a distance have their eyes on Pennington county dairy cattle and almost every day one or more of them are here looking over local herds with a view to investing in high grade animals. Most of them are able to find just what they want and speak in the highest terms concerning the quality of the local product.

Last week Ray L. Johnson, a prominent dairyman residing in the vicinity of Angus, visited Pennngton county for the purpose of adding new blood to his herd of Holsteins. He purchased six head from W. I. McCrum, a Pennington county farmer who has made rapid strides in the dairying business during the last few years. The Holsteins secured from Mr. McCrum were just what the Angus man wanted and it is understood that he paid a substantial price for them.

Mrs. Madeline Reiter.

Last Tuesday, Sept. 25th, Mrs. Madeline Reiter, beloved wife of Mathew Reiter, passed away at her home at Trail, after an illness of a few days, caused by blood poisoning in the gums. Deceased was at the time of her death, sixty-three years of age. She was born at Luxemburg and immigrated to this country with her family, June 9, 1910 and settled on a farm near Trail.

She leaves to mourn her death her sorrow stricken husband, Mathew Reiter; a sister, Mrs. John DeSrand, Sr., of Trail; and four children: Eugene of Trail; Leon of Duluth and daughter, Mrs. Theodore Nyland of Trail and Nick Reiter of Thief River Falls, tailor at the Kleanall.

Funeral services were held last Wednesday, Sept. 26th and the remains were laid to rest in the Trail cemetery.

Interesting Picture.

Through the efforts of E. M. Bennes, local agent for the Lincoln National Life Insurance company, a motion picture entitled "Everybody's Friend," will be shown at the Princess next Sunday and Monday. This picture is said to be interesting and instructive and everyone should make an effort to see it.

To the Public:

Last year I brought to this city three high-class attractions, all of which were appreciated, all being composed of artists. This year I am bringing to you a still higher class of artists and men of national reputation. The first number will be a lecture by Governor Allen of Kansas, on October 8 at the auditorium, and it is expected that a full house will be there as the prices have been reduced to 55 cents, including war tax.

If business warrants I will furnish to the people in the near future a Grand Opera, furnished by the Aborn Grand Opera company in "Faust," but this will depend upon how the first number is treated. I have confidence in our people and their willingness to turn out and hope that I will not be disappointed. Help restore the reputation of Thief River Falls as a good town for good things.

Yours truly,
G. HALVORSON.

Neosho Plan Meeting is Indefinitely Postponed at Thursday Club Meeting

Action was taken at the meeting of the Commercial club last Thursday which resulted in the postponement to some indefinite future date of the meeting scheduled for Friday evening, October 5, at which time the Neosho sales plan was to have been considered. Due to the fact that the Elks lodge is holding a big meeting the same evening it was considered impractical to attempt a second gathering.

This action leaves the date for the Lowe meeting up in the air and a considerable length of time may elapse before one can be arranged. The idea did not seem to create much enthusiasm among club members in the first place, as it was brought out that nearly every essential feature of the Neosha plan had been tried here at one time or another in the past.

Twin City Hunters Here.

Chas. Nason had as his guests last week members of the Winton-Nichols firm, who spent several days here winding up the hunting season in the vicinity of Grygla. It is reported that the party were successful in securing the limit.

A Faster and Finer Blue Chimney New Perfection

WOMEN who have known the Blue Chimney New Perfection—famous for a generation as setting the world's standard of oil cook stove service—will welcome with genuine delight this new 1924 model.

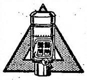
Its greater heat assures faster cooking and fewer hours in the kitchen—not to mention the big economy in fuel.

The straight-leg design—sturdier, better looking—makes a more attractive kitchen.

And as for new conveniences—that higher top, so much easier to work on—the extra end-shelf—the new square grates with ample space for large utensils—the substantial base shelf for heavy pots and kettles—the everlasting brass lower reservoir—all offer a completeness of cooking service unduplicated at this stove's moderate price.

Sizes and prices to suit every requirement.

Ask for a demonstration at your dealer's today!



Over four and a half million American women who today use New Perfections have learned that this triangle trade mark and the LONG CHIMNEY BURNER identify the oil stove that doesn't smoke, doesn't smell, doesn't get out of order and keeps cooking utensils bright and shiny

In addition, your dealer will ALSO show you our higher priced New Perfection equipped with those newly invented Superfex Burners which equal the cooking speed and satisfaction of gas.

HOLSTEIN CONSIGNMENT SALE IS PRONOUNCED SUCCESS--HUMMER MEETING HELD AT AUDITORIUM

All Animals Offered Bring Good Prices: Big Banquet and Good Speaking Program in Evening.

The annual consignment sale conducted last Wednesday by the Pennington County Holstein association at the Thief River Falls fair grounds was a success in every sense of the term. The sale was exceptionally well attended, it being estimated that more than three hundred interested people were present. A large number of dairymen from outside the county were here to purchase some of the offerings, but succeeded in getting only a few of the animals. Most of the Holsteins were secured by Pennington county dairymen, who were willing to pay good prices for the offerings.

A total of 19 Holsteins were disposed of at the sale, at an aggregate price of $2,693.50, which brings the average sale price to a trifle less than $142. Of the animals sold, two were yearling bulls and the remainder females. The average price received was just a trifle lower than that realized last year. Sam L. Darst of Greenbush paid the highest price of the day, securing a fine young cow from the O. E. Wilson herd at $205.

The buyers outside of Pennington county who secured Holsteins at the sale are: Sam L. Darst, Greenbush; Ingberg Bros., Hendrum; Roy H. Melick, Strathcona; William C. Miller, Warren; Fred Weiss, Red Lake Falls; Ed. Dunham, Wannaska. Mr. Darst purchased the highest priced animal

ELKS MAY BUILD NEW HOME SOON

Lodge Members Vote to Go Ahead With Extensive Building Program.

After lying dormant for some time the question of erecting a building by the Elks lodge was revived at a meeting of the order last Friday evening. The lodge owns a very desirable piece of ground at the foot of Third street near the river and present developments seem to indicate that work on the new building will be started early next spring.

A building committee, of which F. H. Herrick is chairman, is at work getting ogether the data necessary before the work can be started, and the lodge members last Friday evening voted in favor of going ahead with the building program as soon as possible. Plans for financing the undertaking are in course of preparation and the work of raising funds will likely be started in the near future.

The building committee has instructions to go ahead without delay in getting together the data necessary planing the new home, and it is understood that the surroundings and other observations will be taken which will best meet requirements.

The Elks are to be commended for their progressiveness in going ahead with their building program and every citizen of Thief River Falls hopes the lodge may be housed in a handsome new home of its own within another year.

FEW SEEK JOBS OF PUBLIC KIND

Filing for City Official Berths Continue to Come in Very Slowly.

An opinion from the office of the attorney general this week clears up the atmosphere with regard to the method of candidates getting their names on the ballot for the city election in Thief River Falls. Heretofore it has been necessary for the candidates to circulate a petition for the purpose of securing signers equivalent to ten per cent of the vote cast in the city at the last general election, but the law passed at the last session of the legislature does away with this. All a man has to do if he desires to have his name on the ballot is to make a filing with the city clerk fifteen days or more preceding the date of the election. This is in accordance with Chapter 317, Laws of 1923.

Several of the candidates in Thief River Falls had already begun the circulation of their petitions when the above opinion was received. This formality has now been dispensed with and prospective candidates may file their names with the city clerk up to and including October 22. While no rush for city offices has yet developed it is likely that by the time filings close there will be a sufficient number of candidates in the field to insure an interesting campaign.

The following have filed as candidates up to this afternoon: Municipal judge, N. W. Tarrant; alderman, first ward, Carl Froseth; alderman, second ward, Chris Porter; alderman, fourth ward, Andrew Ness; alderman-at-large, J. J. Weeks and M. V. Evenson.

VALLEY BANKER PASSES SUNDAY

Hans L. Melgaard Dies at Minneapolis Home After Long Illness.

Hans L. Melgaard, a prominent figure in Minnesota banking circles for nearly forty years and former Republican national delegate, died shortly before midnight Sunday at his home in Minneapolis, after an illness extending over a period of about a year. He was 64 years old.

Born in Norway, Mr. Melgaard came to Fargo, N. D., removing to Minnesota four years later, and organized what is now the oldest bank in Marshall county, at Argyle. Subsequently he figured in the organization of other banks, including the State Bank of Warren, Scandia State Bank at Stephen, State Bank of Kennedy, State Bank of Middle River, Gatzke State Bank, State Bank of Viking, Farmers State Bank of Alvarado, Farmers State Bank of Newfolden, State Bank of Angus, and Citizens State Bank of Oslo. He was a Minnesota delegate to the McKinley-Roosevelt convention at Philadelphia in 1900.

Mr. Melgaard had resided in Minneapolis since 1916. He was prominent in Masonic work, being a member of the Scottish Rite body, and Shrine, and was a member of the Minneapolis Athletic club and the Odin club.

He is survived by his wife and six children, two sisters and six brothers. One of the brothers is T. L. Melgaard, cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, who is present at the funeral. The funeral services are being held today at the home, conducted by Rev. J. A. O. Stub, and at the Scottish Rite cathedral. Burial will take place at Lakewood cemetery.

TEACHERS HOLD GOOD MEETINGS

Convention at Crookston Chooses This City For 1924 Meeting.

At the meeting of the Northwest Minnesota Educational association held at Crookston last week, Thief River Falls was decided upon as the place to hold the convention of the association next year. The members indicated by their votes a preference for Thief River Falls although Red Lake Falls also put in a strong bid for the meeting.

All of the instructors of the Thief River Falls schools were in attendance at the Crookston convention and the local schools were closed on Thursday and Friday. The convention is said to have been one of the best in the history of the association and many speakers of high calibre were on the program. The attendance was unusually large and for this reason the sessions should prove of much benefit to the schools of this section of the state.

Miss Clara Gullingsrud, Thief River Falls young lady who now teaches at Gully, was chosen vice president of the association, and Morris Bye, principal of the Thief River Falls high school, was chosen secretary-treasurer at the election of officers.

Thief River Falls entertained the educators in a royal manner when the annual convention was held here several years ago, and everything possible will be done to make the 1924 meeting one of pleasure and profit for the association members.

Former Resident Here.

Raymond Hanson, a former Thief River Falls boy who for some time has been employed in the establishment of Hater Newmark in Minneapolis, came last week to attend the wedding of his brother, Herbert M. Hanson, and to visit for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson.

Sale of Milk in City to Be Handled By Ordinance Now Before Local Council

An ordinance regulating the sale and distribution of milk in Thief River Falls was given its first reading at the regular meeting of the city council last night when all aldermen were present. The ordinance was prepared by Dr. O. F. Mellby and Dr. J. T. Bowers, who, with H. S. Dahlen were named for that purpose a month ago by the Commercial club

The ordinance is drafted along lines recommended by the state board of health and will safeguard the milk users very appreciably in the future. Similar ordinances are in force in the following cities, according to Dr. Bowers, who presented the ordinance to the council: Ely, Alexandria, Wadena and Crookston.

The fact that tuberculosis in cattle can be transmitted to human beings through milk has resulted in regulatory acts generally and it is time for Thief River Falls to do the same. The ordinance will receive its second reading at the next session of the council.

Allen Draws Poor Crowd.

The lecture given at the auditorium Monday evening by Former Governor Allen of Kansas was attended by a very small crowd, less than fifty people availing themselves of the opportunity to hear this prominent man speak. The meeting was well advertised and it is hard to understand why more people did not turn out. Mr. Allen delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture, dealing largely with the relations of capital and labor and the operation of the Kansas court of industrial relations. He gave the impression of being a sincere student of the question and presented his views in an able manner.

CROPS SHOW TO PROVE FEATURE

Work of Preparation Now Going on Merrily in Every Department.

Every day in every way the prospects for the success of the crop and poultry show to be held in Thief River Falls the first week in December are growing brighter and brighter. As time passes it becomes apparent that the show will be of even larger dimensions than originally planned by its promoters, and the only thing now remaining is to secure the interest of the general public to the extent that a large attendance may be secured.

Anoher meeting of those placed in charge of the show was held this week at which many important matters were gone over and threshed out. The worry incident to the financing of the undertaking is now a thing of the past as a sufficient amount of money has been secured to assure liberal premiums in all departments. More than $1,000 will be available for prizes, which should prove a strong incentive for those who have material suitable for exhibition purposes.

The poultry show will be open to the world, with no exhibitor barred because of his geographical location. The grain, grass and seed exhibits, however, will be limited to Pennington county producers and those residing in other counties within a reasonable distance of Thief River Falls.

Following are some of the department superintendents and their assistants: Corn—T. L. Melgaard, Carl Lee. Potatoes—H. S. Dahlen and Henry Oen. Grasses and Legumes—F. F. Haynes and Herbert Fuller. Grains—M. V. Evenson and Willie Smith. Program—I. T. Simley. Building—H. A. Brumund. Miscellaneous—E. M. Bennes and H. C. Woolson.

More particulars concerning the progress of preparations for the show will be published in The Tribune next week.

Wonderful Animal Picture Coming to Princess Soon

Next Friday and Saturday patrons of the Princess theatre will be given an opportunity to witness the most wonderful animal picture ever filmed. This picture was secured in an expedition to the wilds and jungles of Africa and is said to be truly wonderful. Carl E. Akely of the American Museum of Natural History has the following to say in regard to it:

"Mr. Martin Johnson's new African picture is a wonderful picture, superior to any we have seen from Africa. My keen interest in this picture is due to the fact that, as presented, it is absolutely free from any form of fake, misrepresentation or disagreeable feature of killing or torturing animals. In vivid contrast to so many African pictures being shown, "Trailing African Wild Animals" is a real Natural History production with no 'bunk' of any sort, chock full of beauty and thrills. It merits a greater success than any African picture has ever had."

MANY BUSINESS CONCERNS WISH TO LOCATE HERE

Large Woolen Mill Seeks Location in Thief River For Branch.

Inquiries Indicate That Near Future Will See Growth of City.

There is every reason in the world to believe that several new business institutions will be established in Thief River Falls within a very short time. Inquiries from parties at a distance who are seeking new locations come almost every day to officials of the Commercial club and these men desire to establish a variety of new business enterprises.

By far the most important of these inquiries was received just the other day by J. J. McCann, secretary of the club. The letter is from the Duxbury Mills company of Chicago, a large woolen mills concern seeking to enlarge its field by establishing a branch factory in a desirable location. The letter says in part:

"We contemplate establishing a mill in Thief River Falls to produce woolen cloth for suits, overcoats and blankets, and we wish to inquire if you know of a building which might be adapted to our needs, with perhaps some minor additions. We will require at the outset about 85,000 feet of floor space. If you can put us in touch with the owner or agent of some property affording this amount of space, we will greatly appreciate it."

Of course there is no building with this amount of floor space available in Thief River Falls at the present time, but this is a condition which can without a doubt be remedied should the concern decide that the field otherwise is desirable. From a casual observation of this section it would appear that Thief River Falls should be an ideal location for an establishment of this kind. It is a railroad center with possibilities of unlimited cheap power, and is located in a territory which is naturally adapted to the raising of large numbers of sheep. A mill located here would have practically no opposition in the entire northwestern part of the state as the nearest similar establishment is hundreds of miles away. Further correspondence with the company is in progress and something important may develop within a short time.

Other recent inquiries are from a St. Paul man who is seeking to establish a meat market and from a South Dakota man who wishes to install an electric bake shop.

Thief River Falls has been getting much favorable publicity of late as a progressive city in a good community, and the results already are becoming evident. Keep up the good work and watch the old town grow.

Fixing Sixth Street.

Considerable work in the way of reshaping, grading and improving the drainage of Sixth street is in progress this week under the supervision of the state highway department. This is part of the trunk highway system, being highway No. 32 as well as the Jefferson highway. The drainage on 32 near the Soo track north of the city also is being improved.

GREELY E. CARR DIES SUDDENLY

Former Thief Riverite Succumbs to Heart Attack in Minneapolis.

Greely E. Carr, a well remembered former resident of Thief River Falls, was found dead last Friday in a room at the West hotel, Minneapolis, death presumably being due to heart trouble. Mr. Carr had for some years been manager of the West hotel billiard room. When he came to the hotel in the morning he complained of not feeling well. He engaged a room and slept until noon, when he said he felt better. Shorly after noon he again retired and friends who went to his room found him dead. Mr. Carr was 47 years old.

Deceased at one time practiced law in Thief River Falls and for a time was connected with the Press, a weekly newspaper published here. In his law practice he was associated with Sam Clarke, who now is publisher of Jim Jam Jems, and another pioneer lawyer named Cook. Before coming to Thief River Falls, Mr. Carr was for some yars county attorney of Marshall county. He was a brother of R. D. V. Carr, former publisher of the Middle River Pioneer, who now is located at White Rock, S. D. He left Thief River Falls about 15 years ago.

High School Footballers to Bemidji on Saturday

Undaunted by the two defeats recently suffered, the Thief River Falls high school football team will go to Bemidji next Saturday to try conclusions with a team representing the high school of that city. As usual Bemidji has a fast bunch in the field and the locals will have to go some if they win a victory.

Coach Thune has been spending the past week on developing the defense tactics of his proteges and it is expected the boys will show a vast improvement upon their next appearance against an opposing team. Lack of experience and greenness of the players are the principal reasons for the inferior showing made by the team in the first two games of the season, but the boys are now rapidly being whipped into shape and will be in a position to give a better account of themselves in future games.

MRS. A. CARLSON SERIOUSLY HURT

Pinned Underneath Car and Crushed in Accident Near Bagley.

Mrs. August Carlson of this city is in a critical condition as the result of an automobile accident which occurred last Sunday morning near Bagley. She was badly crushed and bruised and the doctors are as yet unable to determine the exact extent of her injuries. It is expected, however, that she will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, accompanied by their three small daughters, were on their way to Bemidji in a Ford touring car. When on a narrow grade a few miles from Bagley they were met by a large car coming at a high rate of speed. The driver of the big car refused to give any part of the road, forcing Mr. Carlson into the ditch to avoid a collision. The Carlson car turned completely over, pinning the occupants underneath. The driver of the large car did not hesitate but drove down the road and out of sight like mad.

Mr. Carlson and the girls managed to get out and together succeeded in releasing Mrs. Carlson, who was taken to Bemidji by a neighboring farmer who had been summoned to the scene by the Carlson girls. The car was badly damaged and Mr. Carlson has traded it in on a new 1924 model Ford sedan.

CONFERENCE TO OPEN SESSIONS

Second Bible Conference to Be Conducted in Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls is to have another Bible Conference. It will be conducted on lines similar to that held here last fall. Peter McFarlane of the Union Gospel Mission, St. Paul, who was in charge last year, will be in charge this year also. He announces that he has secured several excellent men to address the conference sessions. Sessions are to begin Tuesday evening, October 16, and to continue through Sunday evening, October 21. A. C. Gaebeliein of New York city, an experienced bible teacher and lecturer, and editor of the devotional magazine "Our Hope" will be the principal speaker. He is to speak each afternoon and evening except Sunday. On Sunday Sidney Smith, prominent business man of Canada, president of the Smith-Murphy company, Winnipeg, will address the three sessions. There will be a missionary speaker also. Rev. F. A. Steven of the China Inland Mission will speak of the Christian work in the interior of China. Miss Nellie Nelson is coming again to aid in the solo work. The singing and choir is to be in charge of C. F. Pilstrom of Warren. Peter McFarlane plans to speak at some time during the conference on Rescue Mission work, in which he is engaged in St. Paul.

Sessions are announced to be held in the Presbyterian church as was done last year, unless the attendance is too large, in which case larger quarters will be secured. There will be two sessions each day, at 3:00 and 7:45 p. m. The work is entirely interdenominational and is open to the support of all the people of Thief River Falls. It is believed the number of churches supporting the conference this year will be greater than last year, because of the growing recognition of the great value of such emphasis on the study of the bible in our day.

Card Party.

The ladies of the East side will give a card party tomorrow (Thursday) evening in the basement of St. Bernard's church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TUESDAY NAMED AS DAY FOR BIG POTATO SIGN-UP

Growers of Pennington Will Be Asked to Join Market Association.

Final Plans to be Arranged At Commercial Club Lunch Thursday.

Next Tuesday, October 16, is going to be a mighty important day for the potato growers of Pennington county. This is the day which has been decided upon as the time for making the county-wide drive to secure members for the Minnesota Potato Growers' association, and preparations are under way to make a thorough job of it.

A meeting was held at the Commercial club rooms yesterday, at which the committee recently appointed by the president of the club together with a number of prominent farmers from various parts of the county met with S G. Rubinow, organizer for the association. At this meeting plans for the forthcoming drive were discussed and the date decided upon. The Commercial club committee consists of the following: F. J. Stebbins, chairman; Math Barzen, L. R. Johnston, Dr. O. F. Mellby, H. E. Nelson, L. H. Larson and F. L. Christenson. Several of the potato growers in attendance at the meeting signed up as members of the association at the meeting held Tuesday.

It was decided to divide the county into 15 districts for the drive next Tuesday. One farmer and one businessman, according to present plans, will be assigned to each district with instructions to sign up every potato grower therein that day. Most growers become members without argument once the co-operative sales plan is explained to them and no difficulty is anticipated in putting Pennington county over the top in grand style.

The potato association membership drive will be the principal subject for discussion at tomorrow's noon-day luncheon of the Commercial club and a large attendance is requested in order to give this very important matter the attention which it deserves.

Election Clerks Named.

Clerks of election were named by the aldermen last night for the forthcoming election of city officials on Tuesday, November 6. L. H. Hermanson and L. C. Nielsen were named for the first ward; Scott Laird and John Waag for the second ward; Andrew Bottleson and H. E. Roberts for the third ward and Mrs. T. P. Anderson and J. T. Neseth for the fourth ward.

Building Permits.

Building permits have been granted to Albert Berg for a garage costing $100 to be erected on lot 3, block 10, Oakland addition and to S. Sether for a dwelling to cost $4,000 to be erected on lots 23 and 24, block 23, original townsite.

GOOD PROGRAM AT P.-T. MEET

Teaching Staff Guest of Parents at Auditorium Friday Night.

The teaching staff of Thief River Falls will on Friday evening of this week be guests at a reception to be given in their honor at the auditorium by the Parent-Teachers association. The idea behind the first meeting of the season is to provide means for the teachers and patrons of the schools to become acquainted, and the meeting has been arranged with this idea foremost.

In order to care for the large crowd which it is expected will be in attendance at the Friday evening meeting, it was decided to hold the affair at the auditorium instead of in school assembly rooms as has been the custom heretoifore. After the first big get-together meeting it is planned to utilize the school rooms for meeting purposes as formerly.

Every resident of the city who has the interests of the schools at heart should be present at the meeting Friday evening. The association is doing a valuable work in making the schools more efficient and it is entitled to popular support.

In the program to be rendered next Friday evening are included a vocal solo by Miss Dora Holmes, a piano solo by Miss Doris Halvorson and a reading by Mrs. Oscar Melby. Light refreshments will be served and the auditorium will be especially decorated for the occasion. All parents and friends of the schools are welcome.

FOOTBALL TEAM GETS TROUNCING AT GRAND FORKS

Thief River High School Players Held Scoreless in Friday Game.

Both Teams Make Numerous Fumbles During Progress of Contest.

The Thief River Falls high school football team suffered a severe defeat last Friday afternoon at Grand Forks in a game played with the Central high school team of that city, the score being 57 to 0. The locals started out pretty well and for a time it looked as if they would be able to hold their opponents down to a reasonably small score. But they weakened after the first quarter and the Grand Forks lads simply had everything their own way after the end of the first period. The Grand Forks Herad has the following to say of the game:

"Thune has a husky team that had plenty of fight, but it is green, and overwhelmed with the slashing attack of Cortright's backs, weakened rapidly in the closing moments of the game. The visitors did not have an outstanding player on the team, and aside from the forward passes completed most of the plays were broken up by the Grand Forks forwards before they reached the end of the line of scrimmage.

"Both teams fumbled repeatedly throughout the game, but luck seemed to be against the visitors in this respect as several of their fumbles were costly.

"Central showed one weakness that will have to be overcome if it gets far in the championage race, and that is the defence of the forward pass. Thief River opened up with the aerial game in the last half and completed more than half of their attempts. The backs instead of breaking up the pass wait until the man has captured it before coming in. The result yesterday was that practically all of the yardage made by the visitors was by passes. The greeness of the locals was also shown in their tackling.

"Thief River Falls held the locals in the first quarter and took the ball when the locals had but a yard to go to make their downs. The visitors were forced to punt immediately, however, and were then penalized 15 yards for rough playing. This put the ball on the visitors' 25 yard line, but McCracken fumbled and Thief River recovered. Parenteau went 20 yards around Fadness, but the locals stiffened and took the ball. Getting together for the first time the locals took the ball straight back to the goal line and McNeil went over. The timekeeper ruled that time was up before the last play started and the touchdown was not allowed.

"The ball was put back at the opening of the second period and Walen plunged through for a counter, McNeil drop-kicking for the extra point. Thief River received the kickoff, but Parenteau fumbled it on his 25 yard line and Grand Forks recovered. On the third play McCracken went over, but the try for the extra point failed. The visitors again received and were forced to punt. It was Grand Forks' ball in the center of the field and on the first play Walen passed to McCracken and the half went over for the third touchdown in that quarter. McNeil failed to score from a dropkick and the half ended 19 to 0.

"Three minutes after the opening of the third period the locals counted again. Thief River fumbled on their 40 yard line and Central started a steady march to the goal. Following a 20 yard sprint by Lazier, Walen crashed over and McNeil scored the extra point. The visitors received the kick and made their downs for the second time by the aid of a pass; they were forced to kick, however, and Grand Forks started for another counter. It was acocmplished when McNeil broke through the line and went 23 yards. The attempt to score the extra point was a failure."

All kinds of home-made goodies will be had at the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th.

Old Skeletons Found.

Three skeletons of Indians, thought to be more than 500 years old, were unearthed in Barrett last week when a road gang began digging for a road leading through town. The skeletons were those of two children and a woman. Barrett, situated in Grant county, is on the border line of the Chippewa and Sioux Indian ranges and it is impossible at this time to determine to which tribe the Indians belonged.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

The best coffee in town will be served at the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th, with plenty of lafsa and fattigman.

John Kivel left this week for Columbia Falls, Montana, where he expects to visit friends and look after business matters for several weeks.

Mrs. F. G. Wilde arrived last week from Portland, Oregon, to visit for two or three weeks at the home of her son, W. H. Wilde, who resides southeast of Thief River Falls. Mrs. Wilde had not seen her son for 27 years and needless to say, the visit was a very enjoyable one for both.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Keith and children and Mrs. Keith's sister, Miss Virginia Lynes, motored to Ada Saturday and visited over Sunday with relatives. Upon their return they were accompanied by the ladies' mother, Mrs. A. J. Lynes, who will visit here for a short time.

H. P. Pfingsten, Martin Heyden and Fred Boltmann of Fulda, this state, drove to Thief River Falls by car last week and were guests at the Carl Duis home west of the city for several days. They also made a trip to the Esplee neighborhood, where Mr. Heyen owns a farm. The gentlemen expressed themselves as being very well pleased with what they observed in this section of the state and stated that particularly did the city of Thief River Falls exceed their expectations.

Remember the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th. Lafsa and fattigmans will be served.

Cut Announced in Prices of All Ford Cars Taking Effect Monday, October 1

Reduction of $40 in the price of the four-door sedan and reductions in the Ford runabout, touring car, coupe, chassis and one-ton truck were announced on Monday of last week by Edsel B. Ford, president of the Ford Motor company.

Following is the list of Ford cars, showing the price reductions f. o. b. Detroit:

Runabout, $269 to $265; with starter and demountable rims, $350.

Touring car, $298 to $295; with starter and demountable rims, $380.

Coupe, $530 to $525.

Four-door sedan, $725 to $685.

Ford chassis, $235 to $230.

One ton truck, $380 to $370.

The new prices apply to the Ford weekly purchase plan. Persons enrolled under the plan and who have not yet taken delivery of their cars automatically benefit by the reduction in prices.

The last price reduction by the Ford Motor company was made about a year ago, October 17, last, bringing the prices of Ford cars at that time to the lowest level in the history of the company.

The price of the Fordson tractor is increased from $395 to $420 f. o. b. Detroit. No change is made in the price of Lincoln cars and none is contemplated.

Smedburg Promoted.

In commenting on changes which have been made in the organization of the Wahpeton Motor company of Wahpeton, N. D., the Gazette of that city last week had the following to say: "Another decided change being made in the organization is in the service department. J. H. Smedburg, who had been instructor in the Hanson Auto and Tractor School at Fargo for some time, has taken charge of the shop, and will supervise the work done on cars brought in for service. He is well experienced in this line and will be a valuable addition to the force." The Mr. Smedburg referred to is a brother of Mrs. John Hoffseth of this city and is quite well known in Thief River Falls, having been employed at the McFarland shop a few years ago.

Farmer Foils Holdup Man on Road Thursday Night

Thursday night about 11 o'clock as Chris Norbeck, a farmer of Mud Lake township, was driving home from Holt in his truck, after having been at Holt with a load of grain, he was held up by a highwayman on the road about three miles east of Holt.

He saw ahead of him the lights of a car, and when he got closer up he noticed the man standing in front of the car waving his hand to him to stop. Mr. Norbeck did not suspect anything wrong, thinking that the man wanted to know the directions of the road, and immediately slowed up but had the motor running. The man then pointed a flash light against his breast and ordered him to give him what money he had. Mr. Norbeck realized that he was up against it as the highwayman evidently seemed to mean business. He replied "all right" and proceeded to step down. In stepping down, however, he remembered he had an automobile jack lying on the floor of the truck. In stepping down he got hold of this jack. He then lunged it across the man's head, who dropped down and the flash light fell out of his hand. Mr. Norbeck then jumped for his truck and it is not necessary to state that he didn't drive very slowly on the way home. The robber did not get his money.

Mr. Norbeck did not watch to see whether there was another man in the other car or not.

At a meeting of the Germantown Union American Sunday School Missionary Society held at Hopkins Chapel, Germantown, on Tuesday evening, it was decided to dispose of the chapel to the Mavie American Union Sunday School. It is proposed to move the chapel to Mavie this fall.

Earl Lane and Oscar Brekke had a narrow escape Saturday night when the car in which they were riding toppled into a ditch at the southeast corner of the township of Cloverleaf. They had driven past the corner of the road and decided to turn around. In backing up the car they backed over the edge of the culvert and the car turned over into the ditch, which is about six feet deep. The Brekke boy was pinned under the car in about two feet of water but managed to extricate himself. The bosy were somewhat bruised up and the car considerably damaged.

Everyone in the neighborhood of Mavie appears to be extremely optimistic for the future of this section. They are all singing the same song:

Sweet clover is no longer a weed
It makes the very finest feed.
Milking cows every day,
That's the way we make it pay.
Alfalfa growing in galore,
We owe no bills at the store.
Corn aplenty in the shock,
Just the thing to fatten stock.
Why should we be feeling blue,
When we have so much to do.

Sheep as Money Makers.

Wheat raising at the present time means losing money but not so with raising sheep. A man in Kittson county sold 170 lambs which netted him $1475.05. He sold wool for $636.38 from 242 ewes, which with the proceeds from the lambs, equals $8.75 per ewe.—Badger Herald-Rustler.

Building for Tomorrow's Telephone Needs

MANY people become new telephone subscribers each month of the year.

Wherever practical, we aim to have the necessary wires in place, switchboards equipped, telephones on hand and other mechanism ready when service is requested.

In order to do this economically, our engineers must estimate several years in advance the number of telephone users there will be, where they will live and how much telephone equipment they will need.

Planning today for tomorrow's telephone needs, is one of the many things we are doing to furnish reliable service at the lowest possible cost to the public.

Your interests and ours are the same.

SIDE LIGHTS ON COOPERATION.

The campaign for the cooperative marketing of potatoes has been greatly forwarded by Aaron Sapiro's recent tour through the potato growing districts.

"This is the first step in Northwestern cooperative marketing but should not be the last," states an editorial in this week's issue of The Farmer of St. Paul. The editorial continues:

"As Mr. Sapiro pointed out two weeks ago, there is nothing new nor miraculous in the doctrine he preaches. It is merely the boiled-down experience of twenty years' trial of the Danish system of cooperation in California and other states. Right in Minnesota, the Twin City Milk Producers' association, possibly our most successful cooperative, observes every single one of the principles laid down by Mr. Sapiro. The legal contract, the pooling plan, democratic control, organization by the commodity rather than locality, control of enough of the product to influence the market, expert management—all these and other fundamentals of the cooperative ritual are observed successfully by the Twin City Milk Producers. Up in North Dakota the wool growers are operating successfully on the same plan. When the potato growers of Minnesota and the Dakotas are asked to sign the marketing contract agreement with their own association, they are not trying out any new venture, nor is there any risk involved, except the risk of believing in their fellow growers.

"Every day in every way the logic of cooperative marketing becomes more convincing. It is not an infallible nor a fool-proof system which is to be substituted for the old speculative marketing system. There will be successes in ratio to our cooperative knowledge and our cooperative spirit. As Mr. Sapiro aptly stated, we have proved our cooperative spirit in the Northwest by sticking so faithfully to the wrong type of cooperation (the Rochdale or consumers' cooperative system) for so many years. There are pitfalls and dangers even in the Danish system. But a cooperative marketing system based on many years of experience, controlled and owned by actual growers, managed by experts, approved by business experience, must be an immense improvement over the present marketing system, which is robbing both the producer and the consumer of farm products and which is not enriching anyone except the occasional middleman.

"The Danish or California system of cooperative marketing is a live question at this time in the Northwest. The new potato organization is the test of our courage in applying the system to our general crops. The Twin City Milk Producers' Association is a good example of the system applied to dairy products. The Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, Inc., is working toward the same system and with apparent success in its initial efforts. With the encouraging progress already made, it is up to us to decide whether we shall go forward in the application of Mr. Sapiro's teaching based on the experience of the successful commodity marketing organizations, or whether we shall grope our way to economic progress in the agricultural world by methods which are not yet quite clear."

CHICAGO WAKES UP.

A recent drive against dry law violators in Chicago resulted in the arrest of over 800 persons and the closing of hundreds of places where liquor is alleged to have been sold. This indicates that the windy city has in the past been a little slack in the matter of law observance. But—more important still—the recent drive shows that officials are now dead in earnest and do not propose to let the criminals have full sway any longer. The lawless booze vendor in every state in the union will eventually be brought to justice. The law and public sentiment are against him and his days are numbered.

Louis DeCremer started something when he built his fine building on Main avenue. The Tribune followed suit. Then came the new Great Northern depot. Next is the Elks home. Then the Odd Fellows are thinking hard. Next year the farmers will build a new creamery, and several other buildings are in prospect. Well, fellows, if you think the old town isn't going to go some there is something wrong with your peepers.

A beautiful new Elks' home in this city would more than ever establish the Elks' lodge in the hearts of the people of the community. They are a live bunch and we predict they will erect a building which will stand for many decades as a monument of progress.

Dan O'Neil has been mentioned for railroad and warehouse commissioner. No one better can be found than the fighting Irishman from Pennington county. So far as that is concerned old Pennington could easily furnish a man for every place on the ticket, and every one a big leaguer.

More than a million and a half of new money will be circulated in this trade territory as a result of the rural credits law, and it may be stated as a fact that the condition of the farmers, the merchants and the bankers was never on a more solid foundation.

We are still looking for the guy who knows of a better farming country than we have in Pennington, Red Lake and Marshall counties. A very substantial prize will be awarded to the person who brings such information to this office.

If Satan wants help in running the lower regions we commend to his respectful attention any one of the men who run around and knock their own town or its business institutions as being especially well qualified to step into his shoes.

The Elks property skirting beautiful Red Lake river is one of the most attractive spots in the city, and a $25,000 Elks Home thereon would make it a delight and a joy forever—besides adding about 100 live wires to the organization.

Julius Barnes, of Duluth, who ran the wheat corporation during the war is one of the President's advisers in the present stabilization discussion. Julius knows how to do things to the farmer but he never did much for him.

It is said that the ordinary run of criminals like thieves and murderers object to the presence of large numbers of moonshiners in the county jails of the state. They aver that the makers of "moon" should be placed in a pest house.

Maybe you haven't noticed it, but The Tribune is placing Thief River Falls on the map as she never has been on the map before. Therefore, anything which you do for The Tribune is in the direction of self-preservation.

D. E. Willard, Farmers' Institute speaker at the Commercial club dinner last week, says The Tribune is the best local newspaper in Minnesota. Of course, we know it, Dan, but how it makes us blush to be told in public.

One of the most pitiable sights we know of is a young man who spends his time standing around the street corners these beautiful autumn days. You would think he would help his mother wash dishes, if nothing else.

California is a veritable desert, compared with which Minnesota is as the Garden of Eden. With the California boosters and our natural resources, Minnesota would be the western border of the entire country.

They say Hans Anton will be pressed into service next winter as a farmers'institute speaker. And Hans will make the welkin ring with good common sense garnered along the pathway of human experience.

Speaking of the Japanese earthquake, do you know the Princess theatre in Thief River Falls is the first playhouse in this part of the country to show actual scenes of the great disaster. Fact, nevertheless.

A farmer who lives just north of Thief River Falls has been out traveling this summer, with the result that he came back convinced that we have the finest section of the country right here under our very noses.

One of these days it will dawn on the outside world that we have the finest alfalfa growing section of the northwest, and when that time comes every quarter section will have a settler upon it.

There are those who say Pennington ought to have a poor farm instead of the present method of caring for paupers. Perhaps it would be well to have the matter thoroughly discussed this winter.

Means have been provided for the mining of coal to be used next winter. Now if somebody would come along and provide means for the average man to buy it, everything would be lovely.

Now comes Peter Engelstad and disputes the claim of the Gatzke alfalfa "king." He claims to have 100 acres of alfalfa—and, by the way, his monthly cream check shows it.

Governor Preus says President Coolidge will have no opposition for the Republican nomination. Either the governor is "kidding" the executive or his hearing is badly impaired.

Going to church is one of the finest habits that young men and women can form. It makes for greater respectability and nobility of character in after life.

If you are dissatisfied with your home, advertise it in The Tribune for sale and we will find a buyer. One cannot thrive where one does not feel satisfied.

Good soil, good water, ample fuelsupply, and a delightful climate. Where else on earth can you find anything better than Pennington county offers?

Olle i Skratthult draws big houses because he makes people forget their troubles—and who will deny that his mission in life is well worth while.

The Tribune believes that the farmer would be 100 per cent better off if all his produce were marketed through cooperative marketing associations.

The man whose system is full of the milk of human kindness will have no trouble settling his differences with St. Peter at the gate.

Money may not grow on trees in Pennington county, but the time is coming when it will grow in bunches on alfalfa blossoms.

The men who refuse to get out and hustle for themselves are always reaching for the rear end of the band wagon.

Alfalfa and sweet clover. Sweet clover and alfalfa. Any way you say it, it spells better farming and future success.

The new Tribune building will be the finest newspaper office in northern Minnesota. Join the big family.

A spoonful of manure spread on the corn field is worth a thousand loads stacked up against the barn.

The cemeteries of the country are still yawning for the large army of reckless automobile speeders.

The man who owns a farm in this section is provided with the best life insurance in the world.

If Henry Ford becomes President everybody will get a fair shake.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

There Is No Danger.

We cannot understand this hullabaloo of the prohibition authorities over the danger of the Manitoba liquor leaking into Minnesota. With Scotch six dollars a quart in Winnipeg, it will be far beyond the thin and feeble roll of the average lad by the time it is sneaked across the border. The price will be so high that nobody but a millionaire can afford to guzzle himself into a red nose.—Baudette Region.

***

The Way of Prohibition.

Judge C. L. Smith, dean of the Municipal Court, reports that prohibition protects the younger generation from jails and temptations. He shows that the drunk of 1923 is not only of lower caliber but older by five or ten years than the drunk of pre-prohibition days. He is likely also to be a repeater and to be paying now for habits formed long ago. This perhaps will prove the greatest good effect of prohibition. It may not be one hundred per cent in enforceability, but on the whole it does keep a bad form of temptation from the rising generation and makes going straight easier for it. For the toper prohibition is a hard way, for youth it is a better way; for society it is the more promising way in the long run. If prohibition does result in thus protecting the rising generation, it will be worth all it costs. If it does not make the problem of social control easier today, it will make it so tomorrow. This, at least, must be the faith of any progressive society that cleaves to prohibition, for such a society discounts the present for the sake of greater future welfare and happiness. This is the secret of conservation, not only as to land, timber and other natural resources, but as to human life and human homes. — Minneapolis Journal.

The Proper System.

In Alexandria the manufacturing and industries committee of the Commercial club has secured the written agreement of every grocer and bread dealer in the town not to sell any bread but that which is made in Alexandria. It is stipulated in the agreement that Alexandria made bread shall always be as cheap as that of outside manufacture. As a result of this action it is estimated that $7,000 formerly spent outside of Alexandria will now be spent at home. —Montevideo News.

Building a City.

It isn't street corner complaints and criticisms that bring results in the building of a city to prosperity. It is the get-together, purposeful, sincere and honest citizens that accomplish things worth while. Grand Rapids has a full quorum of working units that only lacks organization and combined effort to cause the crab to move on. With real activities intelligently directed in any community there will be no room for the chronic kickers to convention on the street corner.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

It Worked.

Ray Flynn, who was on the underside of a two-ton truck with fifty cans of fish, when it overturned on the state road Tuesday, says the Coue system is O. K. He kept telling himself that he would feel better when the cans were removed from him, and he did.—Baudette Region.

***

Service Par Excellence.

Jim Arneson of the Thief River Falls Tribune boasts that an enterprising bootlegger up in the Valley Country is giving a whisk broom with every drink of moonshine, so patrons can brush themselves off when they get up. That's not so much; right down here at So. St. Paul a bootlegger gives a ticket for a free ride to the City Hospital good for ten minutes after the drink, and also a "rain check" if it don't happen to work.—St. Paul Herald.

***

Booze Losing Out.

Some of the "wets" down in the cities are trying to make believe that moonshining is on the increase. We doubt if that is true even in the cities and we know it is not true up here. Moonshine may be manufactured here, but there is very slight evidence of it. Instead of making moonshine, the farmers who were so foolish as to make the stuff have gone into the more profitable occupation of increasing their cream checks. We believe that even the most ardent "wets" of a few years or even months ago, can see the benefit of the absence of booze and will not tolerate its return. The people can get along without liquor and the most of them will do so. The "wets" are sponsoring a hopeless cause in trying to get booze back again.—Greenbush Tribune.

Family Gets Benefit.

There is a great deal being said about the purchase and upkeep of automobiles. There is a lot of money spent for automobiles and gas, we admit. But we can also remember when hundreds of millions of dollars were spent for beer and booze. While the auto is often an expensive piece of machinery, the entire family usually gets some benefit out of its use, while in the booze period the man spent the money, and was physically and mentally incapacitated much of the time, and the family went without many of the necessities of life. There is no question as to which is the better when it comes to buying autos or booze.—Greenbush Tribune.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER.

Many country town business men feel rather sore about the amount of trade which in many places leaves the home stores and goes to more or less distant cities. Yet if they would use the same principles of advertising as the result of which these big city stores develop a great trade, they would hold a large part of the customers who now go elsewhere for a lot of stuff. Human nature is about the same everywhere. If the big city stores have gone on to their wealth and marvelous expansion thru advertising, it is not likely that advertising will fail to help the country town merchant. If the people of a town or neighborhood are failing to support the home stores as they should the trouble is likely to be with the merchants as with the people. Very likely some of them are not showing the enterprise they ought to in the matter of advertising.

Every page and column of the home newspaper is thoroughly scanned. People do not want to miss a single thing that has happened in their own neighborhood. Where a big city newspaper is hastily skimmed, and only a small part of the matter can be noted because of the enormous size of the publication, the home paper is not so big but that it can be thoroughly studied. As a consequence, wherever the merchant put his notice, it is bound to be read for two reasons. First because it is next to interesting news; second, because the people are just as much interested in the things that their home stores are doing, as in the things that the local societies or people are up to. When people read the advertisement of a store it won't be long before they will call to see what the stuff looks like. The town where the merchants show enterprise and push in the matter of advertising is apt to be the same town where the stores have good success in holding the home trade.—Rochester Post and Record.

SEASONABLE FOODS

This is the time of the year when green foods are beginning to come in.

Spinach, watercress, lettuce and greens of various kinds will be abundant. Pieplant is already in the market and is a fine spring tonic. If too tart, add raisins, figs or dates to sweeten.

The old spring tonic of sulphur and molasses was considered important. Now we know that a dish of spinach, asparagus or a salad of watercress and dandelions does the cleansing work much more agreeably. An apple or an orange can do much to quicken the sluggish liver.

Rhubarb Pudding.—Butter slices of bread, place in a baking dish and cover with finely cut pieplant; sprinkle with sugar and repeat until enough has been provided to fill the dish. Add a little water and bake until the rhubarb is done. Serve hot or cold, with cream.

Fruit Salad.—Dice three or four apples, squeeze over them a little lemon juice; add one cupful of quartered marshmallows, one diced banana and two slices of pineapple, cut into dice. To a cupful of thick cream, whipped, add two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Pour this over the salad and chill before serving.

Rhubarb Dessert.—Stew a pound of rhubarb in just enough water to cover or to keep it from burning. Sweeten to taste and put through a sieve. When cold add a cupful of whipped cream; mix well and serve in sherbet cups with a bit of pineapple and a maraschino cherry on top of each glass. Fresh strawberries may be substituted, if desired.

There is no food more healthful for young and old than the fresh, juicy fruits.

LEGION MEN GET FINE TREATMENT

Winnipeg Does Fine Job in Entertaining American Soldiers.

The tour to Winnipeg last Saturday by members of the American Legion proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs taken part in by members of that organization for some time. The whole trip was thoroughly enjoyed, and the hospitality shown by the ex-service citizens of Winnipeg was simply immense, according to the boys.

Through an unavoidable collision on the road near Hallock one of the cars in the party was put out of commission temporarily but fortunately no one was hurt in the accident. On the return trip the boys found a car turned over in the road and assisted in getting a number of the occupants out from beneath it. Two girls and their mother were quite badly hurt and were taken by the Legion men to the hospital at Hallock.

About twenty cars containing more than 50 service men from up and down the line made the trip. Winnipeg was reached at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the boys were treated to a fine banquet at the palatial new Marlsborough hotel, which was designated as their headquarters. The Marlsborough is managed by Colonel Webb, an ex-service man, and every man employed in the establishment saw service in the world war. Everything possible was done by the Winnipeg veterans and citizens for the entertainment of the visitors and the visit was therefore a most enjoyable one for all concerned. The return trip was made Sunday afternoon.

Colonel Webb, manager of the Marlsborough, and President Rumer of the World War Veterans of Canada, saw to it that every attention was shown the American visitors. Everything was thrown wide open for the boys and they enjoyed the freedom of the city while there. It is likely that a return visit will be arranged in the near future by the Canadian veterans.

NEW MARKETING PLANS STARTED

American Wheat Growers Announce New Department for Coarse Grains.

The American Wheat Growers Associated, sales agency for nine state wheat growers' associations, has announced a new department in marketing grain which should be of interest to farmers of the Northwest. Through the purchase of the U. S. Grain Growers sales agency by the state associations, this organization hereafter will market, on a commission basis, coarse grains which are shipped to it at Minneapolis.

The coarse grain consignment business of the American Wheat Growers Associated will be conducted at regular commission rates, according to officers of the cooperative marketing concern, and as the organization is non-profit in operation, the producers will receive all financial benefits from the work.

"The cooperative marketing movement is extremely pleased to be able to offer this new service to northwestern farmers," said Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, in discussing the merger of the U. S. Grain Growers with state associations. "In the past many members of the wheat growers' associations have asked us to handle their coarse grains trough our sales agency, but heretofore we have been unable to give them this service. Now we are not only only in a position to sell the coarse grains of our members to the very best advantage but can perform the same service for unorganized farmers who wish to make use of our sales machinery.

"All coarse grains should be billed to the American Wheat Growers Associated, 400 Corn Exchange, Minneapolis, Minnesota, where every car will be sold for the best available price, entirely upon its own merits."

COMMANDER TO HELP COMRADES

Campaign Planned to Aid Service Men in Problems of Insurance.

A special effort will be made by Commander O. C. Paulson of the local post of the American Legion on October 16 and 17 to assist all ex-service men who have insurance or disability claims in getting these straightened out.

On the evening of October 16 an open meeting will be held at the Legion rooms, to which all service people, whether members of the Legion or not, are cordially invited. A prominent speaker has been secured and a good program prepared. It will be in the nature of a good-time party and a pleasant evening is assured everyone who attends. Refreshments will be served.

Commander Paulson is prepared and willing to assist any service man in reinstating or converting his insurance or in any other matter. Mr. Paulson appreciates the possibilities of government insurance and is devoting considerable time to explaining its advantages to ex-service men who have allowed their protection to lapse.

City Threatened in Law Suits; Fights One Case

At the council meeting last night the aldermen were notified in writing of two pending suits against the city. One was by C. M. Carlson for $1000 and interest thereon from May 1, on account of final payment on the work done in connection with the filtration plant. The other is for $60 damage alleged to have been caused when Hy Esplee ran into a sewer excavation, the contention being that no danger light had been displayed. The city attorney was authorized to interpose an objection to the Carlson suit, but no action was taken in the Esplee case.

New Farmer Here.

E. M. Stevenson arrived this week from his former home at Fargo and is moving onto a farm eight miles northeast of Holt which he recently purchased. Mr. Stevenson formerly lived in Wisconsin where dairying was the chief industry and plans to make this the leading feature of his farming operations here. He has the right idea and should make a go of it from the start.

at the sale and also secured another at a somewhat lower figure.

Pennington county men who added to their herds are as follows: J. M. Theige, Thief River Falls; M. T. McFarland, Thief River Falls; Arne Vik, St. Hilaire; Hans Rued, Thief River Falls; R. M. Johnson, Kratka; Waldie Christensen, Thief River Falls. The sale demonstrated the fact that farmers in this section are deeply interested in improving their dairy herds, and it is also demonstrated that some of the finest Holstein animals to be found anywhere are located right here in Pennington county.

The Commercial club dinner given at the Auditorium following the sale proved to be one of the finest events of the kind ever staged in the city, bringing together farmers and business men in a manner which must prove of lasting benefit to all concerned, providing as it did a real opportunity for all to rub elbows and exchange opinions upon topics of community interest.

The dinner, which was served in the basement of the Auditorium, was largely attended, scores of farmers from the surrounding country being present. The service was excellent, being in the hands of the men of the city who made most acceptable table waiters, and the meal was both substantial and palatable.

According to arrangement the big talkfest was held in the Auditorium and farmers and townpeople attended in large numbers. The meeting was presided over by President Froehlich of the Thief River Falls Commercial club.

Addresses were made by Hans Anton and Hans Rued, members of the dairy farmers who attended the State Fair and Northwest Dairy show as the guests of the Commercial club, J. S. Arneson, publisher of The Tribune, E. F. Flynn, assistant to the president of the Great Northern railway and Daniel T. Willard, farmers' institute speaker and who has charge of the Public Relations service of the Great Northern.

Hans Anton led off with the first and best speech of the evening. He recounted to the assemblage some of the experiences of the farmers who went to the dairy show and dwelt at length upon the accruing good results which must come to the entire community from the revelations unfolded to the observers at the show along lines of better dairying. He thanked The Tribune for courtesies shown the delegation and expressed also the gratitude of the delegation to Senator Hansen and L. R. Johnston of the Lyle Culevrt company.

Mr. Anton pleaded with the farmers present to improve their herds by introducing better sires, this being the outstanding lesson learned at the big show. Also he thought much could be accomplished by the farmers in the way of increasing their income by studying and putting ino effect modern methods of co-operative marketing. He especially urged the farmers to join the potato and egg marketing associations. Mr. Anton was vociferously applauded and he concluded his address with a strong appeal for community spirit of the kind which is constructive rather than destructive.

Hans Rued, who by the way is a purebred Holstein man, was the next speaker. As president of the dairy delegation he also expressed the thanks of the members to the men and organizations of the city who combined to make the trip one of pleasure and profit. "The show was an eye opener to me," said Mr. Rued. "and I could not begin to describe it all, but what I saw and heard convinced me that those farmers in this community who are seeking by every legitimate means to improve their herds are unalterably on the road to success." He raised quite a laugh when he graphically described the most expensive bull shown at the dairy show, namely a scrub bull of the thin scrawny type so common in some sections of Minnesota. The bull was three years old and weighed nearly 171 pounds. Some bull.

J. S. Arneson, publisher of The Tribune, spoke of farming conditions in Pennington, Red Lake and eastern Marshall counties from the standpoint of his work as appraiser for the Minnesota Rural Credits Bureau. He contended that conditions are far from being as bad as many people believe they are—that on the contrary this section is looking up as neevr before due to the fact that most farmers have profited by experiences of the past.

There are comparatively few farmers in the counties mentioned who may not now be classed as "dairy" farmers. Most farmers have begun to raise sweet clover and alfalfa, having discovered that the dairy cow cannot be expected to do their best on wild pastures. Many are building silos—and more will be erected next year than ever before. Mr. Arneson paid his compliments to the perennial knockers who damn the country and everything in it—and predicted that prosperity of a substantial sort is looming up just around the corner. This, he stated, will not be of the mushroom variety due to a real estate boom but will come as the natural result of well directed agricultural activities along lines of dairying and diversification.

E. F. Flynn, assistant to the vice president of the Great Northern, made a fine address on the railroad situation and asked the farmers to consider every phase of the transportation problem before passing judgment. Unless the railroads can be operated at a profit the service must suffer as a consequence, said the speaker. He said the whole matter was one of plain figures and the situation should be carefuly studied by business men and farmers in order that the transportation systems of the country can be placed on a permanently stable base. The address was well received by the audience, and the facts and figures given by Mr. Flynn were highly interesting and illuminating.

The last speaker was Dan E. Willard, well known farmers' institute speaker. His hobby is dairying and he directed his remarks to the development which is now taking place in this section of Minnesota, predicting that the sow thistle would have to give way to the sweet clover and alfalfa fields of the future. While he branded the despised thistle as a nuisance, he stated that if it proved to be a leading factor in changing the country from a grain to a dairy cattle country it was entitled to some consideration as a blessing instead of a real menace.

The meeting may be said to have been a success from every standpoint and many regard it as a forerunner of many similar gatherings when farmers and business men may be brought together for the discussion of their problems of mutual interest.

Gran-Hanson.

The wedding of Miss Ella M. Gran and Herbert M. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson of this city, was solemnized last Sunday at high noon at the home of the groom, 504 Horace avenue. Rev. Sweger performed the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives. Miss Cora Hanson of this city and Raymond Hanson of Minneapolis, a sister and brother of the groom acted as attendants.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served after which the happy couple departed for a short trip to Baudette and International Falls.

Both parties are well and favorably known in this city and vicinity, the bride for the past several years having been employed as assistant in Dr. Booren's dental office. The groom has been employed for the past three years as salesman for the P. Lorillard company. Both have many friends who extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will make their home in Thief River Falls.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very successful meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr. Mrs. Josephine Sizer of St. Paul, state president, was present and favored the assemblage with a very instructive talk. She is making a tour of the state and is mobilizing the women to work for law enforcement. Mrs. J. O. Sether, president of the local union, returned recently after attending the national convention at Columbus, Ohio, and gave an interesting description of this event.

Penney Managers Conduct Big Sessions at St. Paul

The Opportunity family is a large one, with members in every city and every town, E. C. Sams of New York, president of the J. C. Penney company, told store managers of the company in the Northwest at a banquet at St. Paul Saturday night which closed the semi-annual convention of the company's managers in the Northwest territory.

To the man who has eyes to see the Opportunity family is fully as large as the clans of Smith and Jones, Mr. Sams said. He urged the managers to improve and take advantage of their opportunities as business men and to exercise the duties and privileges of citizenship. The good citizen, he declared, makes a better business man.

Other speakers were J. M. McDonald of New York, vice president of the company, and N. Clausen of Devils Lake, N. D.; J. B. Atkinson of Fond du Lac, Wis., and C. L. Horn of Marshalltown, Iowa, managers of the Penney stores in those cities. One hundred and seventeen men, including employes of the St. Paul store, attended the banquet. H. E. Nelson, manager of the Thief River Falls store, was present at the convention.

Co-operation Necessary.

No town can grow as it should unless its people work together in its upbuilding. The history of every city that has had rapid and substantial growth will show that united and enthusiastic work of its people had the greatest part in making it grow. In towns where a few live men boost and work the town's upbuilding and many are indifferent and do nothing, the work of city building is exceedingly difficult and the results slow in coming. If all boost and help to build up the town it is an easy matter to make the town push forward.—Lakeville Leader.

Gas Tax Is "Painless."

A set of tires costing $150 may run 10,000 miles on average roads. The same set will run double the mileage on improved roads. * *Where the roads are unimproved, each 100,000 car owners spend $7,500,000 a year on tires, which they otherwise would save. Proponents of the argument say that a tax on gasoline, spent on roads, is the one and only "painless tax."—Rushford Record.

Good Roads Essential.

Minnesota has the natural attractions to draw visitors from all parts of the country, but unless we have good roads a large share of them will never see the state and its scenery.—Litchfield Independent.

Potatoes and Cooperation

The following open letter o the readers of The Farmer, St. Paul, was contained in the issue of September 22 and is reprinted for the benefit of all farmers in this section:

During the past week the directing editor of The Farmer accompanied the party which toured the potato-growing sections of the Northwest in the interest of the co-operative marketing project proposed for the handling of the potato crop. The tour was made under the joint auspices of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation and the organization committee of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association in process of formation. The touring party, headed by President J. F. Reed of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, and Aaron Sapiro, the noted co-operative leader, held meetings at Crookston, Fargo, Detroit, Brainerd, Sauk Centre and Princeton, at which points growers and business men were given complete details of the organization proposed.

As is the case wherever he tell his story of putting business methods into marketing, Mr. Sapiro created a profound impression in the minds of all who were so fortunate as to hear him. As a result of his visit it seems certain that the potato organization campaign will move forward with great rapidity. Furthermore a stimulous was given to the entire co-operative movement, which should mean that with the potato crop once organized, consideration will later be given to the other commodities. In view of this fact, the events of the week should have a most important bearing on the future position of Northwestern farmers toward the building up of commodity organizations similar to the fruit organizations of the West and the tobacco and cotton organizations of the South.

The Livestock Pavilion at Crookston was the scene of the first meeting of the week on Monday evening. Fifteen hundred farmers and business men representing seven different counties of the Valley gathered to hear the message of co-operative marketing. After a brief introduction by Chairman Selvig, Mr. Sapiro held his audience spell-bound for over two hours, and the ovation given him at the conclusion of the address left no doubt as to where the Crookston community stands on the matter of putting business into marketing. On the day following, it was decided to adjourn business in Crookston and adjoining towns for one day for the express purpose of staging a sign-up campaign in which both business men and growers participated.

On Tuesday a noon meeting was held in Fargo, where the Rotary club, made up of business men, listened intently to the Sapiro message. Without mincing words he pointed out to these business men their responsibility in aiding agrculture. Layng much of the blame for agricultural discontent on the apathy and misunderstanding of business men toward agriculture, Mr. Sapiro challenged business men to join the new movement of assisting agriculture at this time by bringing about a business-like organization of agrculture. If we mistake not, the Fargo meeting will bear great fruit in the future activities of her business men. In a chance meeting with Governor Nestos, he assured us of his great interest in the movement.

Moorhead was the hostess of the visiting tourists on Tuesday evening. Previous to the meeting some of the dealers at that point had published through the local press certain deragatory statements about co-operative commodity marketing organizations, undoubtedly for the purpose of discrediting the potato organization campaign. In a merciless fashion Mr. Sapiro scathingly exposed the underhand attempts on the part of the dealers to undermine the attempt of the growers to organize, and he refuted every argument advanced against the movement. The audience of seven or eight hundred people seemed thoroughly to enjoy the hide-removing remarks in addition to absorbing with rapt interest every word of the co-operative message. Because of the strong opposition of the dealers, Clay county promises to be a fierce battle ground in the weeks to come, but this is to be expected in any plan to substitute a new growers' marketing system to take the place of the old speculative system.

The Detroit meeting on Wednesday evening, arranged by Banker Walter Obey of the organization committee, brought out about seven hundred enthusiasts. Without one discordant note, this meeting proved to be one of the best of the week. With the Becker county sign-up already about half completed, it seems certain that the remainder of the campaign will be speedily completed.

On Thursday the touring party moved to Brainerd for an afternoon meeting. The Farmers' Room at the court house was packed to the doors, and the experience of the previous meetings was duplicated by the addition of several hundred new converts to the movement. In the evening Mr. Sapiro addressed the business men of Brainerd, who promised every possible aid to the proposed organization. This includes the support of many of the potato buyers.

Sauk Centre was the rallying point for the Friday evening session. Mr. Sapiro digressed from the potato story long enough to point out what could be done with Minnesota creamery butter if creamery patrons will build up their own organization instead of allowing private marketing concerns to reap the benefit of the premium that goes to our fine quality of butter when properly merchandised.

One of the best meetings of the week was held at Princeton on Saturday. About eight hundred growers from Mille Lacs and adjoining potato counties absorbed with eager interest every word of the advice and instruction given by Mr. Sapiro. Here, as at Moorhead, some of the dealers had spread the story of suspicion toward the movement. Again Mr. Sapiro scorched enemies of the co-operative movement, much to the delight of the audience. The pure logic of his argument for the growers' movement carried the audience by storm. As a result another meeting was held on Tuesday last to go forward for the sign-up campaign.

The message that Mr. Sapiro gave to the potato growers last week was the boiled-down experience of twenty years of co-operative experience in California and other states, expressed in the words of its most noted exponent. Aaron Sapiro assured his audiences that he has nothing new or mysterious to offer; the system he preaches is not miraculous, nor is it in the nature of patent medicine. Rather it is simply the application of sound rules of merchandising and finance applied to the present disorganized system of marketing farm products. Furthermore, the producers themselevs are the only ones who can put the system into operation. Unless the potato growers and the other commodity groups adopt the system, no one will thrust it upon them.

In his addresses last week Mr. Sapiro unhesitatingly stated that Northwestern farmers have been sticking to the wrong system of co-operation for many years, and, while our co-operative spirit is splendid, the Rochdale system has failed to solve the economic problems of agriculture. The Danish or California system is not based on theory and does solve the farmer's economic problem, as proven by the experience of California growers who since 1910 have marketed over two billion dollars worth of farm products. Over 87,0050 growers in the United States have now adopted the California plan.

The aim of co-operative marketing is not to tackle the smaller problems such as saving through purchases or manufacture, but to substitute merchandising methods for the dumping of crops. The potato crop last year offered a beautiful example of dumping, first by the growers and second by the dealers. The basic price for the entire 1923 crop was destroyed because of dumping, and while only a normal crop went to market, the 78,000,000 bushesl of undug potatoes really set the price. Dumping will always continue so long as farmers sell as individuals. The full text of Mr. Sapiro's explanation of merchandising potatoes, instead of dumping them, will be given in the next issue of The Farmer.

As a result of the meetings of last week, the organization committee of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association will proceed to sign up as rapidly as possible the required fifty per cent acreage of the commercial crop so that the organization can function. With the organization established, there still remains the task of providing warehousing facilities for next years' crops, a very necessary part of orderly marketing. During the current week organization headquarters is being moved to Crookston, from which point Organization Manager S. G. Rubinow will superintend field activities. It is the intention at this time to complete organization in the Red River Valley counties before proceeding to the other potato counties. The growers in Clay, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Norman and Kittson counties will be first asked to complete the county sign-up.

Coincident with the Minnesota campaign, it is hoped and expected that the growers of North Dakota will follow suit quickly. An organization committee has already been established there. The Minnesota committee will give encouragement and assistance to the North Dakota campaign. The interests of the growers in the two separate states are identical and it is to be hoped that both organizations can be completed at the same time.

The fate of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association rests largely on the events of the next few weeks. Will the potato growers of the Northwest take over the marketing of the spud crop into their own hands through the building of a sound and business-like organization, or will they be content to go on with the old dealer system? Judging from the enthusiasm and keen interest in the meetings of last week, we believe that there can be only one answer to the question. Growers will organize the potato industry on the Danish co-operative marketing plan, and in this organization work they will have the assistance and encouragement of all classes of people.

The whole future of co-operative marketing in the Northwest depends on this decision. If the potato marketing organization should fail, growers will be committed to the old speculative system for many years to come, and we know what that means. The Maine, Colorado, Idaho and other organized potato sections will control the American potato situation. With Minnesota and North Dakota organizations perfected, a great step forward will have been taken. Furthermore, we can then move on to the task of perfecting other commodity organizations. Northwestern farmers should remember that we are writing co-operative history at this time, history that affects not only the present generation of farmers but also those who come after us.

Big New 'Scoop' Put Over by Paramount Corporation Following Jap Earthquake

Paramount succeeded in securing a scoop on the entire industry by rushing its Japanese earthquake pictures across country by aeroplane, and rushing them through the laboratory in time for the first shows at the Rialto and Rivoli last night.

The pictures arrived East by aeroplane with Eddie Stimson at the wheel. The fog was so thick that regular U. S. mail planes were forced to abandon regular schedules until weather conditions were more advantageous, but Stimson managed to get through.

The pictures are to be supplied to all the Paramount theatres by fast plane. It was admitted by the regular news reels organizations that Paramount had scooped them all. The pictures will be shown at the Princess theatre next Friday and Saturday, the first showing of these films tob e made in the Northwest.

We never have to tell the orator to "step on the gas."

GREAT NORTHERN PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

The territory served by the Great Northern Railway harvests its crops and ships to market its heaviest load in the fall season.

This year the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before. It has purchased nearly a hundred large, new locomotives of the most modern type, as well as four thousand new freight cars; it has built new track and improved old; it is equipped to do the people's work well. A supply of cars is one of the important elements in this preparation. The Great Northern not only owns ample equipment for the crop moving season, but it has these cars on its own lines ready for business and in excellent condition. Here is the actual record:

	Owned by Great Northern	On Great Northern Lines
Box Cars (including automobile and furn. cars)	32,572	34,046
Stock Cars	1,893	1,946
Refrigerator Cars	5,508	9,352
Other Freight Cars	18,926	20,315
Total Freight Cars	58,899	65,659

So prepared the Great Northern is confident that it can give adequate service to the Northwest throughout the busiest season of the year. It appreciates your patronage and asks, in your own and its interest, that you help it to

Load cars to capacity
Load and unload promptly
Avoid diversion wherever possible

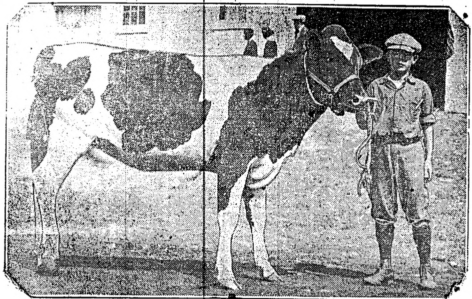
Calf Born on Christmas Day Wins Journal Prize for Thief River Falls Boy



Gordon Hunt Awarded Chicago Trip With Aid of Purebred Yule Gift.

(Minneapolis Journal.)

Gordon Hunt's father has a farm three miles from Thief River Falls up in Pennington county in northwestern Minnesota. He has a herd of purebred Holsteins. And Gordon began to take an interest in them as soon as he was big enough to begin to understand what farm work was all about.

When Gordon was 9 years old he joined the Pennington County Boys and Girls Dairy Calf club and has been a member ever since.

Gordon owns his calf. He bought it from his father. It was born on Christmas day, 1921. So he named it Priscilla Christmas Ragapple. It is a purebred.

It proved to be a real Christmas gift, for it won first prize at the county fair in 1922.

"I could not take her to the State Fair last year," Gordon said, "because she had not then been tested for tuberculosis. However, I was fortunate to win first again this year, in the second year project, so won a trip to the State Fair this year."

He won fourth in the second year Holstein class at the State Fair. And then he discovered the best Christmas gift of all which Christmas helped to win. It was one of The Journal trips to Chicago, which come a few days before Christmas this year.

Gordon showed that he knows what he is doing when he selects calves to raise.

"I like Holsteins for their size and they furnish more skimmilk to feed calves and pigs than the other breeds," he said. "I have learned that calves must have plenty of milk and good care while small in order to make a good growth while they are young."

Gordon now is 13 years old. He is a freshman in high school. He has an older sister who also is a member of the Boys and Girls Dairy Calf club.

Interest in the club work increased noticeably he said, after The Journal's offers of scholarships and free trips to Chicago became known.

Last summer Gordon cut off his calf's horns. She was bothered so much with gnats that he began to worry about her. So he asked his father, S. E. Hunt, to help him and redoubled his care of her, treating the wounds with a dip preparation. They healed in fine shape.

"I didn't expect to win anything at the State Fair," Gordon said, and was sure surprized when I got fourth ribbon in my class. But I was even more surprized when I learned I was to go to Chicago. That made all my hard work worth while."

Archie Berry of Brooks Sent to Reformatory for Getting Rambunctious

Young Man in Red Lake County Given Indeterminate Term in St. Cloud House of Correction.

Archie Berry of Brooks, who has been several times arrested for being drunk and disorderly and has paid fines and served time in the Red Lake Falls county jail, again imbibed some strong liquors and went on a rampage at Brooks Monday evening and picked fights with all comers, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette. Sheriff Chas. Fellman was summoned and with the aid of Deputy Sheriff Clyde Childs finally succeeded in subduing Berry and he was lodged in jail and charged with resisting arrest.

Tuesday evening he was taken to Crookston by Sheriff Fellman, County Attorney Chas. E. Boughton, Jr., and Clerk of Court, P. E. Pouliot, and was arraigned before Judge Wm. Watts. Berry pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Watts gave him the alternative of serving three years in the navy or of going to the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

Berry chose the naval sentence but the naval recruiting officers indicated that the navy was not a reformatory institution and declined to accept him. Therefore it was St. Cloud for Berry and today (Thursday) Sheriff Fellman motored to Crookston to take Berry from the county jail to his new residence where he will remain for an indeterminate period.

Sure Way to Grow Is by Newspaper Advertising, Says Prominent Banker

Newspaper advertising is the surest way for a bank to increase its business, W. R. Morehouse, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, told the savings bank division at the convention of the American Bankers association recently.

"Newspapers go into the homes," he said, "and the people of a whole community may be reached in a single day. Because you do not see readers studying your advertisements is not sufficient evidence that they are not read.

"I am a firm believer in sticking to subjects that have a direct bearing on banks, banking methods and service.

"You do not find manufacturers of clothing, advertising farm implements, nor telling you how many ships pass through the panama canal monthly. They are too busy sticking to the job of telling the public the merits of their particular brand of clothing to devote space to subjects not related to their products.

"If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising, I wish you would try this plan: Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially enumerate the various services which your bank is prepared to offer."

Mr. Morehouse advocated concise statements in advertisements and added: "Analyze the publications in which you advertise to the extent that you become familiar with the clientele of each paper."

Red Lake Commissioners Vote to Inaugurate Area Testing for Tuberculosis

Levy of One Mill or $3,500 Will Be Raised to Rid Red Lake County of Tuberculous Cattle.

Red Lake county, always one of the state's most progressive counties, took another step forward Wednesday when the county board voted to appropriate $3,500 for testing all the cattle in the county for tuberculosis, according to the Red Lake Falls Gazette. There are approximately 14,000 cattle in the county and the law allows the county to appropriate 25 cents per head for testing. Some 518 cattle owners in the county had petitioned the board to take this action. This number is more than a majority of cattle owners in the county.

This action by the county board makes it possible to secure the services of the veterinarians of the state livestock sanitary board and the federal bureau of animal husbandry. These veterinarians are paid their salaries by state and federal funds but their expenses are paid by the county.

Meeker is the first county in the state to be completely tested. Traverse county will be started on October 10, and the third county to be tested will be Red Lake. The work of this county will not necessarily cost $3,500 but this amount will be available if needed.

All herds in the county must be tested but the testing will be without expense to the owner.

Bridge Contract Let.

County Auditor S. G. Bertilrud, Martin Nelson, J. W. Persson, Edward Erickson, Andrew O. Erickson and Ole J. Winjum, members of the Roseau board of county commissioners, held a joint meeting with the county auditor and commissioners of Kittson county at Oak Point Tuesday. The matter to be taken up was the letting of contract for repair of the bridge across Roseau river at Oak Point. This is an inter- county bridge crossingthe boundary of the two counties. The Minneapolis Bridge co. was awarded the contract at $1,680.00. Thejob calls for one new concrete pier and other repair work.—Roseau Times-Region.

River Falls Woman Dies at Advanced Age After Being Ill Brief Period

Mrs. Malena Peterson, well known and highly respected resident of River Falls, died Tuesday, Sept. 25th, at the home of her daughters, Mrs. G. Cornelius and Mrs. C. Anderson at Minneapolis, after a brief illness.

At her bedside when death called her, were her three daughters, Mesdames Cornelius and Anderson, and B. Jenson of Neche, N. D., and her son, Miller Peterson, of this place. Deceased was born in Karmoen, Norway, April 19, 1840, and was therefor 83 years, 5 months and 6 days of age at the time of death. She came to this country in 1858 and was united in marriage to Peter Peterson, Sept. 25, 1863. She and her husband, who preceded her in death some years ago, lived in Chicago until 1865 when they moved to Iowa. In 1869 they located in Lac Qui Parle county in this state, later moving to Yellow Medicine county. In 1902 the family came to River Falls township which has been the family home since.

To mourn her departure she leaves two sons, Gabriel and Miller Peterson of this place, and three daughters, Mrs. M. B. Jenson of Niche, N. D., Mrs. G. Cornelius and Mrs. C. Anderson of Minneapolis, and a foster-son, Eddie J Eide of Virginia. She is also survived by two sisters and 14 grandchildren.

In connection with Mrs. Peterson's death, it is interesting to note death came on the 60th anniversary of her marriage to Mr. Peterson.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Grimsrud from the local Norwegian Lutheran church Sunday at 11:00 and interment was made beside her husband at the Swedish cemetery east of town. Sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved family.—St. Hilaire Spectator.

Alleged Auto Thief Shot at Hallock Last Week Is Now Patient in Hospital

To Be Returned on Charge of Stealing Automobile and Will Then Face Term in Prison.

Shot in the leg as he attempted to board the south-bound flyer at Hallock in an effort to get away from a sheriff's posse after an alleged attempt to steal an automobile, a young man about 21 years old, who gave his name as George Rairie of 516 Windsor avenue, Winnipeg, Manitoba, was taken off the flyer at Warren Thursday night and removed to the Warren hospital for treatment of a serious bird-shot wound in one leg, says last week's Warren Sheaf. At the hospital today his condition was said to be satisfactory but hospital authorities did not want to predict the date of his discharge.

When he recovers sufficiently he will be returned to Hallock to face a charge of stealing an automobile. Conviction on this charge carries a maximum penalty of ten years at Stillwater.

Rairie and another young man who escaped are alleged to have stolen a five passenger automobile belonging to Earl Turner in St. Vincent early Thursday and to have driven the car to within a short distance of Hallock where the car was abandoned in a pit and the two walked into town. Arriving in Hallock the two were said to have made the acquaintance of a young Hallock man who believed them to be laborers. They were said to have walked back to the pit only to walk into a sheriff's posse under command of Deputy Sheriff Ferguson, who were searching for the car and the thieves. They escaped in the brush, however, but Rairie was shot that night as he attemped to board the train. While at Warren Rairie is under supervision of Sheriff Hans C. Hanson.

The Hallock community is being combed for the man who got away.

Highways Getting Better.

Tourists who have traveled through all states of the West and Middle West are unanimous in the claim that Minnesota has the finest roads in the country. Only in California and the eastern seaboard states, they claim, can roads comparable to Minnesota be found. A friend in California has just sent the Herald a clipping from a newspaper story of the trip made by two young women from New York City to Los Angeles, via the Yellowstone wherein these young women claim that the best roads encountered on the trip were found in Minnesota. —Luverne Herald.

DAIRY

FAILURE IN DAIRY BUSINESS

Greatest Factor to Success Is the Man Himself—He Must Like Cows and Care for Them.

Failure in the dairy business is due to one of three things:

1. The business itself.
2. The cow.
3. The man.

The business is sound. This is shown largely by the fact that the income derived from the dairy business is larger than the income derived from all other classes of live stock on the farm combined.

The cow must be a good cow, one that can return a good labor income to her owner.

But the greatest factor to success in the dairy business is the man.

He must know his good cows and not guess which are his good ones.

He must be a dairyman, and like cows, like to work with them and like to care for them. He must not be in the dairy business just in order to pay off that grocery bill contracted when he had no use for cows.

He must remember that the fundamental basis of the dairy business lies in the maternity of the dairy cow.

He must know how to feed profitably and apply that knowledge and to feed only cows that can return a profit.

He must use a good purebred bull to keep up the future quality of his herd.

He must know how to work and apply that knowledge.—Harold R. Lascelles, Fieldman, State Dairy Commission.

TREATMENT OF CALF SCOURS

Cut Feed One-Half Until Animal Becomes Hungry, Then Give Dose of Castor Oil.

To treat a case of scours, cut the feed to half or even less than that until the calf has become hungry. A dose of one to three ounces of castor oil or paraffin oil will help to clean out the animal and may well be given. Three parts of formalin in a hundred parts of water, added to the milk at the rate of a teaspoonful to the pound of milk will sometimes relieve the trouble. Another very satisfactory treatment is to add about four to five drops of fluid extract of gelsemium to about one ounce of paraffin or castor oil and give it to the calf before each feeding of milk. It is always advisable to reduce the milk to a half or a third and divide that reduced quantity into from two to four feedings a day.

KEEP ALL HEIFERS GROWING

Young Animals Are Unduly Neglected by Many Dairymen—Feed Silage and Legume Hay.

Returns get our attention. Possibly for this reason the heifer calves are unduly neglected. But this stock should be kept growing normally. With silage and clover or alfalfa hay, one should feed each heifer from two to five pounds of farm-grown grains per day. If no silage is available, feed two pounds of corn daily with all the clover or alfalfa hay the heifers will consume. With silage and no legume hay, a good ration consists of a portion of silage and fodder or mixed hay with a grain mixture consisting of equal parts of corn and linseed meal.

FALL AND SPRING CALVING

Three Years' Test Conducted by Mississippi Expert to Determine Advantages.

Results of three years' work to determine the advantages of spring and fall calving with dairy cattle, made by J. S. Moore of the Mississippi experiment station, show that cows calving in the fall produced an average of 172 pounds of milk and 18.4 pounds of butterfat more than cows calving in the spring. In a comparison of early and late fall calving the average difference per year per cow was 683 pounds of milk and 27.5 pounds of butterfat in favor of late fall calving.

NEEDFUL MINERALS IN FEED

Most Lime Contained in Legume Hays While Phosphorus Is Found in Bran and Middlings.

The common dairy feeds containing the most lime are the legume hays, cowpea, clover, alfalfa and soy bean, that from cowpeas containing the most. Those which contain the most phosphorus are wheat bran, wheat middlings and linseed meal in the order given. None of the concentrates contain as much lime as the legumes do, and no roughage contains as much phosphorus as the concentrates named.

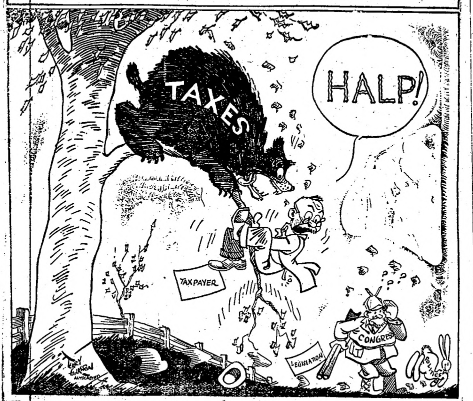
Benefits From Cow Testing.

Cow testing increases the average production of the dairy herd, first, by eliminating all low-producing cows, and second, by enabling one to select the foundation animals for his herd on the basis of performance.

Feed Silage to Calves.

Calves may be fed silage in connection with skim milk as soon as they are old enough to eat it. They will begin taking a little silage at three weeks old, and they can be fed from then on as much as they will eat.

CHANCE FOR BIG GAME THIS SEASON



AGGIE SCHOOLS RECEIVE PRAISE

Prominent Minnesota Man Commends State Agricultural Institutions.

A. J. McGuire, who is at present the manager of the state co-operative creamery marketing association, is also a graduate of the Minnesota School of Agriculture at St. Paul. He recently expressed his sentiments regarding the three state schools of agriculture located at St. Paul, Crookston and Morris.

"This is what I always want to say this time of year to farm boys and girls. Go to an agricultural school. The School of Agriculture at St. Paul and at Crookston and Morris are starting now. I know how splendid these shcools are and I would like to have every farm boy and girl in the state attend them. Some 30 years ago a man told me about the School of Agriculture and I shall ask God to bless him all my life for that bit of information.

"Some still place small value upon studying agriculture out of books, and if that was all you got at the School of Agriculture, I would not ask you to go there. But the Schools of Agriculture are big homes where the students live together. You make the best friends of your life there. You learn to know people in a fine way and to get along with them in co-operation. You broaden your outlook on life. You see things in a different light and the things you learn stay with you always and are a source of helpfulness and happiness.

"Write to your nearest School of Agriculture and ask for their catolog. It will tell you all about the courses and the cost, etc."

The Country School.

The country school is not usually nearly so fine a place as the big building which hundreds and thousands of children attend in some large town or city. The facilities are not so fine. The school life is simpler. Not so much can perhaps be done to make the school life interesting. But the country school offers much that offsets the advantages of the big and fine school. The great majority of the children have learned to work and are willing to work. That makes it possible and easy for them to accomplish larger results than the indifferent and idle class of youngsters that make so large a proportion of the city schools. The country school life is an ideal atmosphere for achievement.—Ortonville Journal.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1922 and in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1923, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by J. B. Shannon and Lottie Shannon, his wife, mortgagors, to A. E. Rolfson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of July, 1920, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., in Book 57 of Mortgages on page 497.

And whereas, A. E. Rolfson, the owner and holder of said mortgage as aforesaid, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage and the interest that has accrued thereon at the date of this notice, due and payable under the condition of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars:

And whereas, the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section thirty-one (31) and the north half of the northwest quarter (N½ NW¼) and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter (NW¼ NE¼) of section thirty-two (32), all in township one hundred fifty-four (154), north of range forty-five (45) west, containing two hundred eighty acres (280) more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in Pennington county, State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state on the 17th day of November, 1923, at ten o'clock a. m., of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars, with interest, and one hundred dollars ($100.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 24th, 1923.

LOCAL GROWERS ORGANIZING FOR SELLING SPUDS

Indications Point to Early Completion of Work in Valley.

Polk County Growers Sign Up as Result of Recent Campaign.

Last week witnessed some of the best strides in the formation of the potato growers of Minnesota into one selling organization that have been accomplished yet, according to reports made to the campaign field office at Crookston.

Kittson county came into the lime light through meetings held at four points at which State Campaign Manager S. G. Rubinow spoke. Fifty per cent of the county's total that must be reached is 5,000 acres, and over 3,000 were signed up at the four meetings. Frank Kiene, one of the leading growers of valley territory, signed up a total of 700 acres.

Norman county launched its campaign with meetings at Ada, Twin Valley and Halstad on Saturday evening. Six other meetings are scheduled for this week and if the results of the first three meetings may be taken as indication, Norman county will go well above the required 50 per cent within the coming week or ten days.

Wilkin county growers have arranged for a meeting at Wolverton on Thursday evening and another at the Rothsay fair on Friday afternoon. Mr. Rubinow is to speak at both places and it is believed that an energetic campaign will be opened in that county the following week.

Polk county is making excellent progress in its organization work. Meetings were held at ten points in the east end of the county last week and a large number of growers were signed up in the potato marketing organization. The acreage of individual growers in the eastern end of the county is smaller than in the western portion so that more signers are needed to boost the acreage total to the extent that was accomplished in the western part. Good meetings were reported at all potato shipping points and at Rindal, an inland point, the plan was well taken in hand. East Grand Forks business men are continuing their drive with good results.

The debate in Clay county this week served to arouse interest in that county and gave good impetus to the signing up of Clay county growers.

Get Sample of City Pavement

Highway Department to Decide Whether it Meets Requirements.

A crew of men representing the state highway department was in Thief River Falls last Thursday and Friday making tests of the pavement on Main avenue where that thoroughfare is traversed by trunk highway No. 32. A round block of the pavement several inches in diameter was secured in several places on the street by means of a core drill, and these samples were forwarded to the department for analysis to determine whether or not the pavement comes up to the requirements of the state highway authorities.

In case the paving is found to be satisfactory it is the intention of the department to incorporate 18 feet in the center of the street into the trunk highway system and assume the cost of constructing the pavement. This procedure naturally will reduce to an appreciable extent the burden of property owners along the street in paying for the pavement and they are hoping the state finds the samples up to requirements.

While no report is yet available, it might not be amiss to relate that the men who secured the samples made the statement that Thief River Falls has the best pavement of any city they had visited and in their opinion there is very small chance that the authorities will decline to approve the work.

A movement is also under way by which it is hoped that trunk highway No. 32 will be paved through the city from the new culvert now being constructed south of town to the Great Northern railroad tracks on Sixth street. The highway department has given assurance that this work will be done at no distant date.

State Road Opened.

The grading of state road No. 5 between Thief River Falls and the road east from Hazel is now completed. This is a very important link of road and affords an excellent highway for people residing in that section of the county, shortening the distance to the county seat for many of the farmers residing in the country east of Hazel. Six miles of the road already has been surfaced and the remaining four miles will be completed within a short time. Highway Engineer B. F. Umland has been in charge of the work.

ALFALFA STORY BRINGS PROTEST

Title "Alfalfa King" Claim of Pennington County Farmer.

Last week The Tribune carried a little news story about a farmer living in the vicinity of Gatzke, Marshall county, relating how he had come to be known in his section of the "alfalfa king" because of the fact that he has 70 acres of this crop on his farm. This story was not intended to convey the impression that Mr. Stordahl is the biggest producer of alfalfa in this section of the state but merely by way of showing what can be done in northern Minnesota by farmers who go about it in the right way.

But the little alfalfa story started something. It gave some of The Tribune's local friends the idea that perhaps the paper was trying to create the impression that Marshall county has it over Pennington as an alfalfa district, and they immediately got busy in an effort to disprove the allegation. The Tribune's attention was respectfully called to the fact that Peter Engelstad, pioneer Pennington county farmer and dairyman, has one hundred acres of alfalfa of high quality and intends to increase his acreage materially in the near future. Besides being the dairy king of Pennington county, Mr. Engelstal must also be given the distinction of being the alfalfa king of not only Pennington but many surrounding counties.

Elks Hold Meeting.

The local Elks lodge held a largely attended and very successful meeting last Friday evening. Several new members were initiated into the order and a number of visitors from outside points were present. The usual social time was enjoyed following the initiation exercises.

LOCAL PUPIL IS AWARDED PRIZE IN BIG CONTEST

Lester Rolland Given Third Place in National Essay Contest.

Was Declared Winner in State Elimination Contest Some Time Ago.

Taking third prize in a national essay contest in which more than 400,000 elementary school pupils took part is no small task, but this is exactly what Lester E. Rolland of Thief River Falls has accomplished. Lester is this week announced as winner of third prize in the second national essay contest under the auspices of the Highway Educational Board. Miss Theodora Poole of Pontiac, Mich., was given first prize, while second honors went to Edwina Hull, Frontier, Wyoming. Lester's prize consists of a beautiful silver loving cop.

There pupils had previously received gold medals and $15 checks when their essays were declared the best in their respective states. Lester had good reason to feel proud of the fact that his essay was picked as the best written in the entire state of Minnesota, and now that he has won additional honors in the national contest his delight naturally is even greater. The prize winning essay is published below in its entirety:

"We are living in an automotive age. Ours is the era of good highways. Traffic problems are by no means the simplest of the day. No problem is simple that involves the loss and destruction of human life.

"Ten thousand people are killed annually in our country through the carelessness and ignorance of motor drivers and pedestrians. Twenty-eight out of every one hundred people who thus meet death are children under fifteen years of age.

"Ours is the era of good highways—good as to construction of roadbed and suface, but not good as to safety. The era of safe highways is just ahead. But it will always be "just ahead" unless there is a country-wide coordination of traffic regulation and a sincere movement toward cooperation on the part of motor drivers and pedestrians.

"A big problem and a serious problem. A problem that is national because it is local. In short a problem for me.

"Statistics show me that for every driver of a motor there are ten people who walk. That means that there must be ten alert pedestrians to one alert driver. Most children under fifteen walk to and from school and on nearly all errands. I do. It is as one of the alert ten that I propose to do my part.

"As I see it, my responsibility in making the highways safe lies in the solving of problems in traffic engineering. That is for older and trained heads. Mine is the duty of the small cog in one of the many wheels of a great machine. If I slip, something goes wrong with the machine of traffic regulation.

"For my own sake and the sake of others, these rules shall guide me in doing my share toward making the highways safe:

"I will always observe all traffic regulations, first learning the regulations.

"I will never jay-walk when in a large city.

"Nor will I jay-walk when in the country.

"I will always try to avoid committing thoughtless acts, such as playing absorbing games in the streets, sky-larking under street lights, riding bicycles without observing the rules, catching rides, crossing streets or squares carelessly, descending in a heedless manner from street cars, motor cars, any vhicle or means of conveyance.

"I will try to think and watch for aged and infirm people, and for small children.

"I will not drive the family car until the law permits me to.

"And I will make it a special point to give the driver every chance to exercise his rights.

"Finaly, I will continue to read all available literature on public safety. I find that such literature makes me think, gives me a part to play, and shows me how to play that part.

"Cooperation, team work, alertness, sincerity—nothing can be accomplished in a far-reaching national manner without these. I want to cooperate, I try to be alert, ad I am sincere!"

A sign once used in an old New England hotel has been unearthed. Among the "Rules of This Tavern" is one which reads: "No boots to be worn in bed." No hotel has such a rule today. So we do enlarge our liberties.

HOLSTEIN CONSIGNMENT SALE IS PRONOUNCED SUCCESS---HUMMER MEETING HELD AT AUDITORIUM

All Animals Offered Bring Good Prices: Big Banquet and Good Speaking Program in Evening.

The annual consignment sale conducted last Wednesday by the Pennington County Holstein association at the Thief River Falls fair grounds was a success in every sense of the term. The sale was exceptionally well attended, it being estimated that more than three hundred interested people were present. A large number of dairymen from outside the county were here to purchase some of the offerings, but succeeded in getting only a few of the animals. Most of the Holsteins were secured by Pennington county dairymen, who were willing to pay good prices for the offerings.

A total of 19 Holsteins were disposed of at the sale, at an aggregate price of $2,693.50, which brings the average sale price to a trifle less than $142. Of the animals sold, two were yearling bulls and the remainder females. The average price received was just a trifle lower than that realized last year. Sam L. Darst of Greenbush paid the highest price of the day, securing a fine young cow from the O. E. Wilson herd at $205.

The buyers outside of Pennington county who secured Holsteins at the sale are: Sam L. Darst, Greenbush; Ingberg Bros., Hendrum; Roy H. Melick, Strathcona; William C. Miller, Warren; Fred Weiss, Red Lake Falls; Ed. Dunham, Wannaska. Mr. Darst purchased the highest priced animal

ELKS MAY BUILD NEW HOME SOON

Lodge Members Vote to Go Ahead With Extensive Building Program.

After lying dormant for some time the question of erecting a building by the Elks lodge was revived at a meeting of the order last Friday evening. The lodge owns a very desirable piece of ground at the foot of Third street near the river and present developments seem to indicate that work on the new building will be started early next spring.

A building committee, of which F. H. Herrick is chairman, is at work getting together the data necessary before the work can be started, and the lodge members last Friday evening voted in favor of going ahead with the building program as soon as possible. Plans for financing the undertaking are in course of preparation and the work of raising funds will likely be started in the near future.

The building committee has instructions to go ahead without delay in getting together the data necessary planing the new home, and it is understood that the surroundings and other observations will be taken which will best meet requirements.

The Elks are to be commended for their progressiveness in going ahead with their building program and every citizen of Thief River Falls hopes the lodge may be housed in a handsome new home of its own within another year.

FEW SEEK JOBS OF PUBLIC KIND

Filing for City Official Berths Continue to Come in Very Slowly.

An opinion from the office of the attorney general this week clears up the atmosphere with regard to the method of candidates getting their names on the ballot for the city election in Thief River Falls. Heretofore it has been necessary for the candidates to circulate a petition for the purpose of securing signers equivalent to ten per cent of the vote cast in the city at the last general election, but the law passed at the last session of the legislature does away with this. All a man has to do if he desires to have his name on the ballot is to make a filing with the city clerk fifteen days or more preceding the date of the election. This is in accordance with Chapter 317, Laws of 1923.

Several of the candidates in Thief River Falls had already begun the circulation of their petitions when the above opinion was received. This formality has now been dispensed with and prospective candidates may file their names with the city clerk up to and including October 22. While no rush for city offices has yet developed it is likely that by the time filings close there will be a sufficient number of candidates in the field to insure an interesting campaign.

The following have filed as candidates up to this afternoon: Municipal judge, N. W. Tarrant; alderman, first ward, Carl Froseth; alderman, second ward, Chris Porter; alderman, fourth ward, Andrew Ness; alderman-at-large, J. J. Weeks and M. V. Evenson.

VALLEY BANKER PASSES SUNDAY

Hans L. Melgaard Dies at Minneapolis Home After Long Illness.

Hans L. Melgaard, a prominent figure in Minnesota banking circles for nearly forty years and former Republican national delegate, died shortly before midnight Sunday at his home in Minneapolis, after an illness extending over a period of about a year. He was 64 years old.

Born in Norway, Mr. Melgaard came to Fargo, N. D., removing to Minnesota four years later, and organized what is now the oldest bank in Marshall county, at Argyle. Subsequently he figured in the organization of other banks, including the State Bank of Warren, Scandia State Bank at Stephen, State Bank of Kennedy, State Bank of Middle River, Gatzke State Bank, State Bank of Viking, Farmers State Bank of Alvarado, Farmers State Bank of Newfolden, State Bank of Angus, and Citizens State Bank of Oslo. He was a Minnesota delegate to the McKinley-Roosevelt convention at Philadelphia in 1900.

Mr. Melgaard had resided in Minneapolis since 1916. He was prominent in Masonic work, being a member of the Scottish Rite body, and Shrine, and was a member of the Minneapolis Athletic club and the Odin club.

He is survived by his wife and six children, two sisters and six brothers. One of the brothers is T. L. Melgaard, cashier of the Citizens State Bank of Thief River Falls, who is present at the funeral. The funeral services are being held today at the home, conducted by Rev. J. A. O. Stub, and at the Scottish Rite cathedral. Burial will take place at Lakewood cemetery.

TEACHERS HOLD GOOD MEETINGS

Convention at Crookston Chooses This City For 1924 Meeting.

At the meeting of the Northwest Minnesota Educational association held at Crookston last week, Thief River Falls was decided upon as the place to hold the convention of the association next year. The members indicated by their votes a preference for Thief River Falls although Red Lake Falls also put in a strong bid for the meeting.

All of the instructors of the Thief River Falls schools were in attendance at the Crookston convention and the local schools were closed on Thursday and Friday. The convention is said to have been one of the best in the history of the association and many speakers of high calibre were on the program. The attendance was unusually large and for this reason the sessions should prove of much benefit to the schools of this section of the state.

Miss Clara Gullingsrud, Thief River Falls young lady who now teaches at Gully, was chosen vice president of the association, and Morris Bye, principal of the Thief River Falls high school, was chosen secretary-treasurer at the election of officers.

Thief River Falls entertained the educators in a royal manner when the annual convention was held here several years ago, and everything possible will be done to make the 1924 meeting one of pleasure and profit for the association members.

Former Resident Here.

Raymond Hanson, a former Thief River Falls boy who for some time has been employed in the establishment of Hater Newmark in Minneapolis, came last week to attend the wedding of his brother, Herbert M. Hanson, and to visit for a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson.

Sale of Milk in City to Be Handled By Ordinance Now Before Local Council

An ordinance regulating the sale and distribution of milk in Thief River Falls was given its first reading at the regular meeting of the city council last night when all aldermen were present. The ordinance was prepared by Dr. O. F. Mellby and Dr. J. T. Bowers, who, with H. S. Dahlen were named for that purpose a month ago by the Commercial club

The ordinance is drafted along lines recommended by the state board of health and will safeguard the milk users very appreciably in the future. Similar ordinances are in force in the following cities, according to Dr. Bowers, who presented the ordinance to the council: Ely, Alexandria, Wadena and Crookston.

The fact that tuberculosis in cattle can be transmitted to human beings through milk has resulted in regulatory acts generally and it is time for Thief River Falls to do the same. The ordinance will receive its second reading at the next session of the council.

Allen Draws Poor Crowd.

The lecture given at the auditorium Monday evening by Former Governor Allen of Kansas was attended by a very small crowd, less than fifty people availing themselves of the opportunity to hear this prominent man speak. The meeting was well advertised and it is hard to understand why more people did not turn out. Mr. Allen delivered a very interesting and instructive lecture, dealing largely with the relations of capital and labor and the operation of the Kansas court of industrial relations. He gave the impression of being a sincere student of the question and presented his views in an able manner.

CROPS SHOW TO PROVE FEATURE

Work of Preparation Now Going on Merrily in Every Department.

Every day in every way the prospects for the success of the crop and poultry show to be held in Thief River Falls the first week in December are growing brighter and brighter. As time passes it becomes apparent that the show will be of even larger dimensions than originally planned by its promoters, and the only thing now remaining is to secure the interest of the general public to the extent that a large attendance may be secured.

Anoher meeting of those placed in charge of the show was held this week at which many important matters were gone over and threshed out. The worry incident to the financing of the undertaking is now a thing of the past as a sufficient amount of money has been secured to assure liberal premiums in all departments. More than $1,000 will be available for prizes, which should prove a strong incentive for those who have material suitable for exhibition purposes.

The poultry show will be open to the world, with no exhibitor barred because of his geographical location. The grain, grass and seed exhibits, however, will be limited to Pennington county producers and those residing in other counties within a reasonable distance of Thief River Falls.

Following are some of the department superintendents and their assistants: Corn—T. L. Melgaard, Carl Lee. Potatoes—H. S. Dahlen and Henry Oen. Grasses and Legumes—F. F. Haynes and Herbert Fuller. Grains—M. V. Evenson and Willie Smith. Program—I. T. Simley. Building—H. A. Brumund. Miscellaneous—E. M. Bennes and H. C. Woolson.

More particulars concerning the progress of preparations for the show will be published in The Tribune next week.

Wonderful Animal Picture Coming to Princess Soon

Next Friday and Saturday patrons of the Princess theatre will be given an opportunity to witness the most wonderful animal picture ever filmed. This picture was secured in an expedition to the wilds and jungles of Africa and is said to be truly wonderful. Carl E. Akely of the American Museum of Natural History has the following to say in regard to it:

"Mr. Martin Johnson's new African picture is a wonderful picture, superior to any we have seen from Africa. My keen interest in this picture is due to the fact that, as presented, it is absolutely free from any form of fake, misrepresentation or disagreeable feature of killing or torturing animals. In vivid contrast to so many African pictures being shown, "Trailing African Wild Animals" is a real Natural History production with no 'bunk' of any sort, chock full of beauty and thrills. It merits a greater success than any African picture has ever had."

MANY BUSINESS CONCERNS WISH TO LOCATE HERE

Large Woolen Mill Seeks Location in Thief River For Branch.

Inquiries Indicate That Near Future Will See Growth of City.

There is every reason in the world to believe that several new business institutions will be established in Thief River Falls within a very short time. Inquiries from parties at a distance who are seeking new locations come almost every day to officials of the Commercial club and these men desire to establish a variety of new business enterprises.

By far the most important of these inquiries was received just the other day by J. J. McCann, secretary of the club. The letter is from the Duxbury Mills company of Chicago, a large woolen mills concern seeking to enlarge its field by establishing a branch factory in a desirable location. The letter says in part:

"We contemplate establishing a mill in Thief River Falls to produce woolen cloth for suits, overcoats and blankets, and we wish to inquire if you know of a building which might be adapted to our needs, with perhaps some minor additions. We will require at the outset about 85,000 feet of floor space. If you can put us in touch with the owner or agent of some property affording this amount of space, we will greatly appreciate it."

Of course there is no building with this amount of floor space available in Thief River Falls at the present time, but this is a condition which can without a doubt be remedied should the concern decide that the field otherwise is desirable. From a casual observation of this section it would appear that Thief River Falls should be an ideal location for an establishment of this kind. It is a railroad center with possibilities of unlimited cheap power, and is located in a territory which is naturally adapted to the raising of large numbers of sheep. A mill located here would have practically no opposition in the entire northwestern part of the state as the nearest similar establishment is hundreds of miles away. Further correspondence with the company is in progress and something important may develop within a short time.

Other recent inquiries are from a St. Paul man who is seeking to establish a meat market and from a South Dakota man who wishes to install an electric bake shop.

Thief River Falls has been getting much favorable publicity of late as a progressive city in a good community, and the results already are becoming evident. Keep up the good work and watch the old town grow.

Fixing Sixth Street.

Considerable work in the way of reshaping, grading and improving the drainage of Sixth street is in progress this week under the supervision of the state highway department. This is part of the trunk highway system, being highway No. 32 as well as the Jefferson highway. The drainage on 32 near the Soo track north of the city also is being improved.

GREELY E. CARR DIES SUDDENLY

Former Thief Riverite Succumbs to Heart Attack in Minneapolis.

Greely E. Carr, a well remembered former resident of Thief River Falls, was found dead last Friday in a room at the West hotel, Minneapolis, death presumably being due to heart trouble. Mr. Carr had for some years been manager of the West hotel billiard room. When he came to the hotel in the morning he complained of not feeling well. He engaged a room and slept until noon, when he said he felt better. Shorly after noon he again retired and friends who went to his room found him dead. Mr. Carr was 47 years old.

Deceased at one time practiced law in Thief River Falls and for a time was connected with the Press, a weekly newspaper published here. In his law practice he was associated with Sam Clarke, who now is publisher of Jim Jam Jems, and another pioneer lawyer named Cook. Before coming to Thief River Falls, Mr. Carr was for some yars county attorney of Marshall county. He was a brother of R. D. V. Carr, former publisher of the Middle River Pioneer, who now is located at White Rock, S. D. He left Thief River Falls about 15 years ago.

High School Footballers to Bemidji on Saturday

Undaunted by the two defeats recently suffered, the Thief River Falls high school football team will go to Bemidji next Saturday to try conclusions with a team representing the high school of that city. As usual Bemidji has a fast bunch in the field and the locals will have to go some if they win a victory.

Coach Thune has been spending the past week on developing the defense tactics of his proteges and it is expected the boys will show a vast improvement upon their next appearance against an opposing team. Lack of experience and greenness of the players are the principal reasons for the inferior showing made by the team in the first two games of the season, but the boys are now rapidly being whipped into shape and will be in a position to give a better account of themselves in future games.

MRS. A. CARLSON SERIOUSLY HURT

Pinned Underneath Car and Crushed in Accident Near Bagley.

Mrs. August Carlson of this city is in a critical condition as the result of an automobile accident which occurred last Sunday morning near Bagley. She was badly crushed and bruised and the doctors are as yet unable to determine the exact extent of her injuries. It is expected, however, that she will recover.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlson, accompanied by their three small daughters, were on their way to Bemidji in a Ford touring car. When on a narrow grade a few miles from Bagley they were met by a large car coming at a high rate of speed. The driver of the big car refused to give any part of the road, forcing Mr. Carlson into the ditch to avoid a collision. The Carlson car turned completely over, pinning the occupants underneath. The driver of the large car did not hesitate but drove down the road and out of sight like mad.

Mr. Carlson and the girls managed to get out and together succeeded in releasing Mrs. Carlson, who was taken to Bemidji by a neighboring farmer who had been summoned to the scene by the Carlson girls. The car was badly damaged and Mr. Carlson has traded it in on a new 1924 model Ford sedan.

CONFERENCE TO OPEN SESSIONS

Second Bible Conference to Be Conducted in Thief River Falls.

Thief River Falls is to have another Bible Conference. It will be conducted on lines similar to that held here last fall. Peter McFarlane of the Union Gospel Mission, St. Paul, who was in charge last year, will be in charge this year also. He announces that he has secured several excellent men to address the conference sessions. Sessions are to begin Tuesday evening, October 16, and to continue through Sunday evening, October 21. A. C. Gaebeliein of New York city, an experienced bible teacher and lecturer, and editor of the devotional magazine "Our Hope" will be the principal speaker. He is to speak each afternoon and evening except Sunday. On Sunday Sidney Smith, prominent business man of Canada, president of the Smith-Murphy company, Winnipeg, will address the three sessions. There will be a missionary speaker also. Rev. F. A. Steven of the China Inland Mission will speak of the Christian work in the interior of China. Miss Nellie Nelson is coming again to aid in the solo work. The singing and choir is to be in charge of C. F. Pilstrom of Warren. Peter McFarlane plans to speak at some time during the conference on Rescue Mission work, in which he is engaged in St. Paul.

Sessions are announced to be held in the Presbyterian church as was done last year, unless the attendance is too large, in which case larger quarters will be secured. There will be two sessions each day, at 3:00 and 7:45 p. m. The work is entirely interdenominational and is open to the support of all the people of Thief River Falls. It is believed the number of churches supporting the conference this year will be greater than last year, because of the growing recognition of the great value of such emphasis on the study of the bible in our day.

Card Party.

The ladies of the East side will give a card party tomorrow (Thursday) evening in the basement of St. Bernard's church. The public is cordially invited to attend.

TUESDAY NAMED AS DAY FOR BIG POTATO SIGN-UP

Growers of Pennington Will Be Asked to Join Market Association.

Final Plans to be Arranged At Commercial Club Lunch Thursday.

Next Tuesday, October 16. is going to be a mighty important day for the potato growers of Pennington county. This is the day which has been decided upon as the time for making the county-wide drive to secure members for the Minnesota Potato Growers' association, and preparations are under way to make a thorough job of it.

A meeting was held at the Commercial club rooms yesterday, at which the committee recently appointed by the president of the club together with a number of prominent farmers from various parts of the county met with S G. Rubinow, organizer for the association. At this meeting plans for the forthcoming drive were discussed and the date decided upon. The Commercial club committee consists of the following: F. J. Stebbins, chairman; Math Barzen, L. R. Johnston, Dr. O. F. Mellby, H. E. Nelson, L. H. Larson and F. L. Christenson. Several of the potato growers in attendance at the meeting signed up as members of the association at the meeting held Tuesday.

It was decided to divide the county into 15 districts for the drive next Tuesday. One farmer and one businessman, according to present plans, will be assigned to each district with instructions to sign up every potato grower therein that day. Most growers become members without argument once the co-operative sales plan is explained to them and no difficulty is anticipated in putting Pennington county over the top in grand style.

The potato association membership drive will be the principal subject for discussion at tomorrow's noon-day luncheon of the Commercial club and a large attendance is requested in order to give this very important matter the attention which it deserves.

Election Clerks Named.

Clerks of election were named by the aldermen last night for the forthcoming election of city officials on Tuesday, November 6. L. H. Hermanson and L. C. Nielsen were named for the first ward; Scott Laird and John Waag for the second ward; Andrew Bottleson and H. E. Roberts for the third ward and Mrs. T. P. Anderson and J. T. Neseth for the fourth ward.

Building Permits.

Building permits have been granted to Albert Berg for a garage costing $100 to be erected on lot 3, block 10, Oakland addition and to S. Sether for a dwelling to cost $4,000 to be erected on lots 23 and 24, block 23, original townsite.

GOOD PROGRAM AT P.-T. MEET

Teaching Staff Guest of Parents at Auditorium Friday Night.

The teaching staff of Thief River Falls will on Friday evening of this week be guests at a reception to be given in their honor at the auditorium by the Parent-Teachers association. The idea behind the first meeting of the season is to provide means for the teachers and patrons of the schools to become acquainted, and the meeting has been arranged with this idea foremost.

In order to care for the large crowd which it is expected will be in attendance at the Friday evening meeting, it was decided to hold the affair at the auditorium instead of in school assembly rooms as has been the custom heretoifore. After the first big get-together meeting it is planned to utilize the school rooms for meeting purposes as formerly.

Every resident of the city who has the interests of the schools at heart should be present at the meeting Friday evening. The association is doing a valuable work in making the schools more efficient and it is entitled to popular support.

In the program to be rendered next Friday evening are included a vocal solo by Miss Dora Holmes, a piano solo by Miss Doris Halvorson and a reading by Mrs. Oscar Melby. Light refreshments will be served and the auditorium will be especially decorated for the occasion. All parents and friends of the schools are welcome.

FOOTBALL TEAM GETS TROUNCING AT GRAND FORKS

Thief River High School Players Held Scoreless in Friday Game.

Both Teams Make Numerous Fumbles During Progress of Contest.

The Thief River Falls high school football team suffered a severe defeat last Friday afternoon at Grand Forks in a game played with the Central high school team of that city, the score being 57 to 0. The locals started out pretty well and for a time it looked as if they would be able to hold their opponents down to a reasonably small score. But they weakened after the first quarter and the Grand Forks lads simply had everything their own way after the end of the first period. The Grand Forks Herad has the following to say of the game:

"Thune has a husky team that had plenty of fight, but it is green, and overwhelmed with the slashing attack of Cortright's backs, weakened rapidly in the closing moments of the game. The visitors did not have an outstanding player on the team, and aside from the forward passes completed most of the plays were broken up by the Grand Forks forwards before they reached the end of the line of scrimmage.

"Both teams fumbled repeatedly throughout the game, but luck seemed to be against the visitors in this respect as several of their fumbles were costly.

"Central showed one weakness that will have to be overcome if it gets far in the championage race, and that is the defence of the forward pass. Thief River opened up with the aerial game in the last half and completed more than half of their attempts. The backs instead of breaking up the pass wait until the man has captured it before coming in. The result yesterday was that practically all of the yardage made by the visitors was by passes. The greeness of the locals was also shown in their tackling.

"Thief River Falls held the locals in the first quarter and took the ball when the locals had but a yard to go to make their downs. The visitors were forced to punt immediately, however, and were then penalized 15 yards for rough playing. This put the ball on the visitors' 25 yard line, but McCracken fumbled and Thief River recovered. Parenteau went 20 yards around Fadness, but the locals stiffened and took the ball. Getting together for the first time the locals took the ball straight back to the goal line and McNeil went over. The timekeeper ruled that time was up before the last play started and the touchdown was not allowed.

"The ball was put back at the opening of the second period and Walen plunged through for a counter, McNeil drop-kicking for the extra point. Thief River received the kickoff, but Parenteau fumbled it on his 25 yard line and Grand Forks recovered. On the third play McCracken went over, but the try for the extra point failed. The visitors again received and were forced to punt. It was Grand Forks' ball in the center of the field and on the first play Walen passed to McCracken and the half went over for the third touchdown in that quarter. McNeil failed to score from a drop-kick and the half ended 19 to 0.

"Three minutes after the opening of the third period the locals counted again. Thief River fumbled on their 40 yard line and Central started a steady march to the goal. Following a 20 yard sprint by Lazier. Walen crashed over and McNeil scored the extra point. The visitors received the kick and made their downs for the second time by the aid of a pass; they were forced to kick, however, and Grand Forks started for another counter. It was acocmplished when McNeil broke through the line and went 23 yards. The attempt to score the extra point was a failure."

All kinds of home-made goodies will be had at the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th.

Old Skeletons Found.

Three skeletons of Indians, thought to be more than 500 years old, were unearthed in Barrett last week when a road gang began digging for a road leading through town. The skeletons were those of two children and a woman. Barrett, situated in Grant county, is on the border line of the Chippewa and Sioux Indian ranges and it is impossible at this time to determine to which tribe the Indians belonged.

LOCAL NEWS NOTES

The best coffee in town will be served at the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th, with plenty of lafsa and fattigman.

John Kivel left this week for Columbia Falls, Montana, where he expects to visit friends and look after business matters for several weeks.

Mrs. F. G. Wilde arrived last week from Portland, Oregon, to visit for two or three weeks at the home of her son, W. H. Wilde, who resides southeast of Thief River Falls. Mrs. Wilde had not seen her son for 27 years and needless to say, the visit was a very enjoyable one for both.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Keith and children and Mrs. Keith's sister, Miss Virginia Lynes, motored to Ada Saturday and visited over Sunday with relatives. Upon their return they were accompanied by the ladies' mother, Mrs. A. J. Lynes, who will visit here for a short time.

H. P. Pfingsten, Martin Heyden and Fred Boltmann of Fulda, this state, drove to Thief River Falls by car last week and were guests at the Carl Duis homewest of the city for several days. They also made a trip to the Esplee neighborhood, where Mr. Heyen owns a farm. The gentlemen expressed themselves as being very well pleased with what they observed in this section of the state and stated that particularly did the city of Thief River Falls exceed their expectations.

Remember the Daughters of Norway bazaar, Oct. 16th. Lafsa and fattigmans will be served.

HELP!

That's what your PIANO needs. It cannot adjust itself. Do not neglect it any longer. You cannot afford to. I have many customers who call me regularly once each year to tune and make adjustments on their pianos. They are satisfied with my work and I believe you will be. No matter what the trouble may be, I can right it. Give me a trial.

Farmer Foils Holdup Man on Road Thursday Night

Thursday night about 11 o'clock as Chris Norbeck, a farmer of Mud Lake township, was driving home from Holt in his truck, after having been at Holt with a load of grain, he was held up by a highwayman on the road about three miles east of Holt.

He saw ahead of him the lights of a car, and when he got closer up he noticed the man standing in front of the car waving his hand to him to stop. Mr. Norbeck did not suspect anything wrong, thinking that the man wanted to know the directions of the road, and immediately slowed up but had the motor running. The man then pointed a flash light against his breast and ordered him to give him what money he had. Mr. Norbeck realized that he was up against it as the highwayman evidently seemed to mean business. He replied "all right" and proceeded to step down. In stepping down, however, he remembered he had an automobile jack lying on the floor of the truck. In stepping down he got hold of this jack. He then lunged it across the man's head, who dropped down and the flash light fell out of his hand. Mr. Norbeck then jumped for his truck and it is not necessary to state that he didn't drive very slowly on the way home. The robber did not get his money.

Mr. Norbeck did not watch to see whether there was another man in the other car or not.

Earl Lane and Oscar Brekke had a narrow escape Saturday night when the car in which they were riding toppled into a ditch at the southeast corner of the township of Cloverleaf. They had driven past the corner of the road and decided to turn around. In backing up the car they backed over the edge of the culvert and the car turned over into the ditch, which is about six feet deep. The Brekke boy was pinned under the car in about two feet of water but managed to extricate himself. The bosy were somewhat bruised up and the car considerably damaged.

Everyone in the neighborhood of Mavie appears to be extremely optimistic for the future of this section. They are all singing the same song:

Sweet clover is no longer a weed
It makes the very finest feed.
Milking cows every day.
That's the way we make it pay.
Alfalfa growing in galore,
We owe no bills at the store.
Corn aplenty in the shock,
Just the thing to fatten stock.
Why should we be feeling blue,
When we have so much to do.

Sheep as Money Makers.

Wheat raising at the present time means losing money but not so with raising sheep. A man in Kittson county sold 170 lambs which netted him $1475.05. He sold wool for $636.38 from 242 ewes, which with the proceeds from the lambs, equals $8.75 per ewe.—Badger Herald-Rustler.

Building for Tomorrow's Telephone Needs

MANY people become new telephone subscribers each month of the year.

Wherever practical, we aim to have the necessary wires in place, switchboards equipped, telephones on hand and other mechanism ready when service is requested.

In order to do this economically, our engineers must estimate several years in advance the number of telephone users there will be, where they will live and how much telephone equipment they will need.

Planning today for tomorrow's telephone needs, is one of the many things we are doing to furnish reliable service at the lowest possible cost to the public.

Your interests and ours are the same.

SIDE LIGHTS ON COOPERATION.

The campaign for the cooperative marketing of potatoes has been greatly forwarded by Aaron Sapiro's recent tour through the potato growing districts.

"This is the first step in Northwestern cooperative marketing but should not be the last," states an editorial in this week's issue of The Farmer of St. Paul. The editorial continues:

"As Mr. Sapiro pointed out two weeks ago, there is nothing new nor miraculous in the doctrine he preaches. It is merely the boiled-down experience of twenty years' trial of the Danish system of cooperation in California and other states. Right in Minnesota, the Twin City Milk Producers' association, possibly our most successful cooperative, observes every single one of the principles laid down by Mr. Sapiro. The legal contract, the pooling plan, democratic control, organization by the commodity rather than locality, control of enough of the product to influence the market, expert management—all these and other fundamentals of the cooperative ritual are observed successfully by the Twin City Milk Producers. Up in North Dakota the wool growers are operating successfully on the same plan. When the potato growers of Minnesota and the Dakotas are asked to sign the marketing contract agreement with their own association, they are not trying out any new venture, nor is there any risk involved, except the risk of believing in their fellow growers.

"Every day in every way the logic of cooperative marketing becomes more convincing. It is not an infallible nor a fool-proof system which is to be substituted for the old speculative marketing system. There will be successes in ratio to our cooperative knowledge and our cooperative spirit. As Mr. Sapiro aptly stated, we have proved our cooperative spirit in the Northwest by sticking so faithfully to the wrong type of cooperation (the Rochdale or consumers' cooperative system) for so many years. There are pitfalls and dangers even in the Danish system. But a cooperative marketing system based on many years of experience, controlled and owned by actual growers, managed by experts, approved by business experience, must be an immense improvement over the present marketing system, which is robbing both the producer and the consumer of farm products and which is not enriching anyone except the occasional middleman.

"The Danish or California system of cooperative marketing is a live question at this time in the Northwest. The new potato organization is the test of our courage in applying the system to our general crops. The Twin City Milk Producers' Association is a good example of the system applied to dairy products. The Minnesota Cooperative Creameries Association, Inc., is working toward the same system and with apparent success in its initial efforts. With the encouraging progress already made, it is up to us to decide whether we shall go forward in the application of Mr. Sapiro's teaching based on the experience of the successful commodity marketing organizations, or whether we shall grope our way to economic progress in the agricultural world by methods which are not yet quite clear."

CHICAGO WAKES UP.

A recent drive against dry law violators in Chicago resulted in the arrest of over 800 persons and the closing of hundreds of places where liquor is alleged to have been sold. This indicates that the windy city has in the past been a little slack in the matter of law observance. But—more important still—the recent drive shows that officials are now dead in earnest and do not propose to let the criminals have full sway any longer. The lawless booze vendor in every state in the union will eventually be brought to justice. The law and public sentiment are against him and his days are numbered.

Louis DeCremer started something when he built his fine building on Main avenue. The Tribune followed suit. Then came the new Great Northern depot. Next is the Elks home. Then the Odd Fellows are thinking hard. Next year the farmers will build a new creamery, and several other buildings are in prospect. Well, fellows, if you think the old town isn't going to go some there is something wrong with your peepers.

A beautiful new Elks' home in this city would more than ever establish the Elks' lodge in the hearts of the people of the community. They are a live bunch and we predict they will erect a building which will stand for many decades as a monument of progress.

Dan O'Neil has been mentioned for railroad and warehouse commissioner. No one better can be found than the fighting Irishman from Pennington county. So far as that is concerned old Pennington could easily furnish a man for every place on the ticket, and every one a big leaguer.

More than a million and a half of new money will be circulated in this trade territory as a result of the rural credits law, and it may be stated as a fact that the condition of the farmers, the merchants and the bankers was never on a more solid foundation.

We are still looking for the guy who knows of a better farming country than we have in Pennington, Red Lake and Marshall counties. A very substantial prize will be awarded to the person who brings such information to this office.

If Satan wants help in running the lower regions we commend to his respectful attention any one of the men who run around and knock their own town or its business institutions as being especially well qualified to step into his shoes.

The Elks property skirting beautiful Red Lake river is one of the most attractive spots in the city, and a $25,000 Elks Home thereon would make it a delight and a joy forever—besides adding about 100 live wires to the organization.

Julius Barnes, of Duluth, who ran the wheat corporation during the war is one of the President's advisers in the present stabilization discussion. Julius knows how to do things to the farmer but he never did much for him.

It is said that the ordinary run of criminals like thieves and murderers object to the presence of large numbers of moonshiners in the county jails of the state. They aver that the makers of "moon" should be placed in a pest house.

Maybe you haven't noticed it, but The Tribune is placing Thief River Falls on the map as she never has been on the map before. Therefore, anything which you do for The Tribune is in the direction of self-preservation.

D. E. Willard, Farmers' Institute speaker at the Commercial club dinner last week, says The Tribune is the best local newspaper in Minnesota. Of course, we know it, Dan, but how it makes us blush to be told in public.

One of the most pitiable sights we know of is a young man who spends his time standing around the street corners these beautiful autumn days. You would think he would help his mother wash dishes, if nothing else.

California is a veritable desert, compared with which Minnesota is as the Garden of Eden. With the California boosters and our natural resources, Minnesota would be the western border of the entire country.

They say Hans Anton will be pressed into service next winter as a farmers'institute speaker. And Hans will make the welkin ring with good common sense garnered along the pathway of human experience.

Speaking of the Japanese earthquake, do you know the Princess theatre in Thief River Falls is the first playhouse in this part of the country to show actual scenes of the great disaster. Fact, nevertheless.

A farmer who lives just north of Thief River Falls has been out traveling this summer, with the result that he came back convinced that we have the finest section of the country right here under our very noses.

One of these days it will dawn on the outside world that we have the finest alfalfa growing section of the northwest, and when that time comes every quarter section will have a settler upon it.

There are those who say Pennington ought to have a poor farm instead of the present method of caring for paupers. Perhaps it would be well to have the matter thoroughly discussed this winter.

Means have been provided for the mining of coal to be used next winter. Now if somebody would come along and provide means for the average man to buy it, everything would be lovely.

Now comes Peter Engelstad and disputes the claim of the Gatzke alfalfa "king." He claims to have 100 acres of alfalfa—and, by the way, his monthly cream check shows it.

Governor Preus says President Coolidge will have no opposition for the Republican nomination. Either the governor is "kidding" the executive or his hearing is badly impaired.

Going to church is one of the finest habits that young men and women can form. It makes for greater respectability and nobility of character in after life.

If you are dissatisfied with your home, advertise it in The Tribune for sale and we will find a buyer. One cannot thrive where one does not feel satisfied.

Good soil, good water, ample fuelsupply, and a delightful climate. Where else on earth can you find anything better than Pennington county offers?

Olle i Skratthult draws big houses because he makes people forget their troubles—and who will deny that his mission in life is well worth while.

The Tribune believes that the farmer would be 100 per cent better off if all his produce were marketed through cooperative marketing associations.

The man whose system is full of the milk of human kindness will have no trouble settling his differences with St. Peter at the gate.

Money may not grow on trees in Pennington county, but the time is coming when it will grow in bunches on alfalfa blossoms.

The men who refuse to get out and hustle for themselves are always reaching for the rear end of the band wagon.

Alfalfa and sweet clover. Sweet clover and alfalfa. Any way you say it, it spells better farming and future success.

The new Tribune building will be the finest newspaper office in northern Minnesota. Join the big family.

A spoonful of manure spread on the corn field is worth a thousand loads stacked up against the barn.

The cemeteries of the country are still yawning for the large army of reckless automobile speeders.

The man who owns a farm in this section is provided with the best life insurance in the world.

If Henry Ford becomes President everybody will get a fair shake.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

There Is No Danger.

We cannot understand this hullabaloo of the prohibition authorities over the danger of the Manitoba liquor leaking into Minnesota. With Scotch six dollars a quart in Winnipeg, it will be far beyond the thin and feeble roll of the average lad by the time it is sneaked across the border. The price will be so high that nobody but a millionaire can afford to guzzle himself into a red nose.—Baudette Region.

***

The Way of Prohibition.

Judge C. L. Smith, dean of the Municipal Court, reports that prohibition protects the younger generation from jails and temptations. He shows that the drunk of 1923 is not only of lower caliber but older by five or ten years than the drunk of pre-prohibition days. He is likely also to be a repeater and to be paying now for habits formed long ago. This perhaps will prove the greatest good effect of prohibition. It may not be one hundred per cent in enforceability, but on the whole it does keep a bad form of temptation from the rising generation and makes going straight easier for it. For the toper prohibition is a hard way, for youth it is a better way; for society it is the more promising way in the long run. If prohibition does result in thus protecting the rising generation, it will be worth all it costs. If it does not make the problem of social control easier today, it will make it so tomorrow. This, at least, must be the faith of any progressive society that cleaves to prohibition, for such a society discounts the present for the sake of greater future welfare and happiness. This is the secret of conservation, not only as to land, timber and other natural resources, but as to human life and human homes. — Minneapolis Journal.

The Proper System.

In Alexandria the manufacturing and industries committee of the Commercial club has secured the written agreement of every grocer and bread dealer in the town not to sell any bread but that which is made in Alexandria. It is stipulated in the agreement that Alexandria made bread shall always be as cheap as that of outside manufacture. As a result of this action it is estimated that $7,000 formerly spent outside of Alexandria will now be spent at home. —Montevideo News.

Building a City.

It isn't street corner complaints and criticisms that bring results in the building of a city to prosperity. It is the get-together, purposeful, sincere and honest citizens that accomplish things worth while. Grand Rapids has a full quorum of working units that only lacks organization and combined effort to cause the crab to move on. With real activities intelligently directed in any community there will be no room for the chronic kickers to convention on the street corner.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

It Worked.

Ray Flynn, who was on the underside of a two-ton truck with fifty cans of fish, when it overturned on the state road Tuesday, says the Coue system is O. K. He kept telling himself that he would feel better when the cans were removed from him, and he did.—Baudette Region.

***

Service Par Excellence.

Jim Arneson of the Thief River Falls Tribune boasts that an enterprising bootlegger up in the Valley Country is giving a whisk broom with every drink of moonshine, so patrons can brush themselves off when they get up. That's not so much; right down here at So. St. Paul a bootlegger gives a ticket for a free ride to the City Hospital good for ten minutes after the drink, and also a "rain check" if it don't happen to work.—St. Paul Herald.

***

Booze Losing Out.

Some of the "wets" down in the cities are trying to make believe that moonshining is on the increase. We doubt if that is true even in the cities and we know it is not true up here. Moonshine may be manufactured here, but there is very slight evidence of it. Instead of making moonshine, the farmers who were so foolish as to make the stuff have gone into the more profitable occupation of increasing their cream checks. We believe that even the most ardent "wets" of a few years or even months ago, can see the benefit of the absence of booze and will not tolerate its return. The people can get along without liquor and the most of them will do so. The "wets" are sponsoring a hopeless cause in trying to get booze back again.—Greenbush Tribune.

Family Gets Benefit.

There is a great deal being said about the purchase and upkeep of automobiles. There is a lot of money spent for automobiles and gas, we admit. But we can also remember when hundreds of millions of dollars were spent for beer and booze. While the auto is often an expensive piece of machinery, the entire family usually gets some benefit out of its use, while in the booze period the man spent the money, and was physically and mentally incapacitated much of the time, and the family went without many of the necessities of life. There is no question as to which is the better when it comes to buying autos or booze.—Greenbush Tribune.

THE COUNTRY NEWSPAPER.

Many country town business men feel rather sore about the amount of trade which in many places leaves the home stores and goes to more or less distant cities. Yet if they would use the same principles of advertising as the result of which these big city stores develop a great trade, they would hold a large part of the customers who now go elsewhere for a lot of stuff. Human nature is about the same everywhere. If the big city stores have gone on to their wealth and marvelous expansion thru advertising, it is not likely that advertising will fail to help the country town merchant. If the people of a town or neighborhood are failing to support the home stores as they should the trouble is likely to be with the merchants as with the people. Very likely some of them are not showing the enterprise they ought to in the matter of advertising.

Every page and column of the home newspaper is thoroughly scanned. People do not want to miss a single thing that has happened in their own neighborhood. Where a big city newspaper is hastily skimmed, and only a small part of the matter can be noted because of the enormous size of the publication, the home paper is not so big but that it can be thoroughly studied. As a consequence, wherever the merchant put his notice, it is bound to be read for two reasons. First because it is next to interesting news; second, because the people are just as much interested in the things that their home stores are doing, as in the things that the local societies or people are up to. When people read the advertisement of a store it won't be long before they will call to see what the stuff looks like. The town where the merchants show enterprise and push in the matter of advertising is apt to be the same town where the stores have good success in holding the home trade.—Rochester Post and Record.

Last night the unseen gates swung back so softly no one knew
The hosts of sweet remembered things that slyly trembled through:
Up from the mold
In red and gold,
The tulips leaped to see
A robin on a tawny lawn, gay bluebirds in the tree;
Unworded promise fills the air—song, bloom and green surprise
Are heralding the Spring's approach: beneath pure azure skies.

SEASONABLE FOODS

This is the time of the year when green foods are beginning to come in. Spinach, watercress, lettuce and greens of various kinds will be abundant. Pieplant is already in the market and is a fine spring tonic. If too tart, add raisins, figs or dates to sweeten.

The old spring tonic of sulphur and molasses was considered important. Now we know that a dish of spinach, asparagus or a salad of watercress and dandelions does the cleansing work much more agreeably. An apple or an orange can do much to quicken the sluggish liver.

Rhubarb Pudding.—Butter slices of bread, place in a baking dish and cover with finely cut pieplant; sprinkle with sugar and repeat until enough has been provided to fill the dish. Add a little water and bake until the rhubarb is done. Serve hot or cold, with cream.

Fruit Salad.—Dice three or four apples, squeeze over them a little lemon juice; add one cupful of quartered marshmallows, one diced banana and two slices of pineapple, cut into dice. To a cupful of thick cream, whipped, add two tablespoonfuls of mayonnaise dressing. Pour this over the salad and chill before serving.

Rhubarb Dessert.—Stew a pound of rhubarb in just enough water to cover or to keep it from burning. Sweeten to taste and put through a sieve. When cold add a cupful of whipped cream; mix well and serve in sherbet cups with a bit of pineapple and a maraschino cherry on top of each glass. Fresh strawberries may be substituted, if desired.

There is no food more healthful for young and old than the fresh, juicy fruits.

LEGION MEN GET FINE TREATMENT

Winnipeg Does Fine Job in Entertaining American Soldiers.

The tour to Winnipeg last Saturday by members of the American Legion proved to be one of the most enjoyable affairs taken part in by members of that organization for some time. The whole trip was thoroughly enjoyed, and the hospitality shown by the ex-service citizens of Winnipeg was simply immense, according to the boys.

Through an unavoidable collision on the road near Hallock one of the cars in the party was put out of commission temporarily but fortunately no one was hurt in the accident. On the return trip the boys found a car turned over in the road and assisted in getting a number of the occupants out from beneath it. Two girls and their mother were quite badly hurt and were taken by the Legion men to the hospital at Hallock,

About twenty cars containing more than 50 service men from up and down the line made the trip. Winnipeg was reached at 3:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon and the boys were treated to a fine banquet at the palatial new Marlsborough hotel, which was designated as their headquarters. The Marlsborough is managed by Colonel Webb, an ex-service man, and every man employed in the establishment saw service in the world war. Everything possible was done by the Winnipeg veterans and citizens for the entertainment of the visitors and the visit was therefore a most enjoyable one for all concerned. The return trip was made Sunday afternoon.

Colonel Webb, manager of the Marlsborough, and President Rumer of the World War Veterans of Canada, saw to it that every attention was shown the American visitors. Everything was thrown wide open for the boys and they enjoyed the freedom of the city while there. It is likely that a return visit will be arranged in the near future by the Canadian veterans.

NEW MARKETING PLANS STARTED

American Wheat Growers Announce New Department for Coarse Grains.

The American Wheat Growers Associated, sales agency for nine state wheat growers' associations, has announced a new department in marketing grain which should be of interest to farmers of the Northwest. Through the purchase of the U. S. Grain Growers sales agency by the state associations, this organization hereafter will market, on a commission basis, coarse grains which are shipped to it at Minneapolis.

The coarse grain consignment business of the American Wheat Growers Associated will be conducted at regular commission rates, according to officers of the cooperative marketing concern, and as the organization is non-profit in operation, the producers will receive all financial benefits from the work.

"The cooperative marketing movement is extremely pleased to be able to offer this new service to northwestern farmers," said Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers Associated, in discussing the merger of the U. S. Grain Growers with state associations. "In the past many members of the wheat growers' associations have asked us to handle their coarse grains trough our sales agency, but heretofore we have been unable to give them this service. Now we are not only only in a position to sell the coarse grains of our members to the very best advantage but can perform the same service for unorganized farmers who wish to make use of our sales machinery.

"All coarse grains should be billed to the American Wheat Growers Associated, 400 Corn Exchange, Minneapolis, Minnesota, where every car will be sold for the best available price, entirely upon its own merits."

COMMANDER TO HELP COMRADES

Campaign Planned to Aid Service Men in Problems of Insurance.

A special effort will be made by Commander O. C. Paulson of the local post of the American Legion on October 16 and 17 to assist all ex-service men who have insurance or disability claims in getting these straightened out.

On the evening of October 16 an open meeting will be held at the Legion rooms, to which all service people, whether members of the Legion or not, are cordially invited. A prominent speaker has been secured and a good program prepared. It will be in the nature of a good-time party and a pleasant evening is assured everyone who attends. Refreshments will be served.

Commander Paulson is prepared and willing to assist any service man in reinstating or converting his insurance or in any other matter. Mr. Paulson appreciates the possibilities of government insurance and is devoting considerable time to explaining its advantages to ex-service men who have allowed their protection to lapse.

City Threatened in Law Suits; Fights One Case

At the council meeting last night the aldermen were notified in writing of two pending suits against the city. One was by C. M. Carlson for $1000 and interest thereon from May 1, on account of final payment on the work done in connection with the filtration plant. The other is for $60 damage alleged to have been caused when Hy Esplee ran into a sewer excavation, the contention being that no danger light had been displayed. The city attorney was authorized to interpose an objection to the Carlson suit, but no action was taken in the Esplee case.

New Farmer Here.

E. M. Stevenson arrived this week from his former home at Fargo and is moving onto a farm eight miles northeast of Holt which he recently purchased. Mr. Stevenson formerly lived in Wisconsin where dairying was the chief industry and plans to make this the leading feature of his farming operations here. He has the right idea and should make a go of it from the start.

Holstein Consignment Sale Is Huge Success

at the sale and also secured another at a somewhat lower figure.

Pennington county men who added to their herds are as follows: J. M. Theige, Thief River Falls; M. T. McFarland, Thief River Falls; Arne Vik, St. Hilaire; Hans Rued, Thief River Falls; R. M. Johnson, Kratka; Waldie Christensen, Thief River Falls. The sale demonstrated the fact that farmers in this section are deeply interested in improving their dairy herds, and it is also demonstrated that some of the finest Holstein animals to be found anywhere are located right here in Pennington county.

The Commercial club dinner given at the Auditorium following the sale proved to be one of the finest events of the kind ever staged in the city, bringing together farmers and business men in a manner which must prove of lasting benefit to all concerned, providing as it did a real opportunity for all to rub elbows and exchange opinions upon topics of community interest.

The dinner, which was served in the basement of the Auditorium, was largely attended, scores of farmers from the surrounding country being present. The service was excellent, being in the hands of the men of the city who made most acceptable table waiters, and the meal was both substantial and palatable.

According to arrangement the big talkfest was held in the Auditorium and farmers and townpeople attended in large numbers. The meeting was presided over by President Froehlich of the Thief River Falls Commercial club.

Addresses were made by Hans Anton and Hans Rued, members of the dairy farmers who attended the State Fair and Northwest Dairy show as the guests of the Commercial club, J. S. Arneson, publisher of The Tribune, E. F. Flynn, assistant to the president of the Great Northern railway and Daniel T. Willard, farmers' institute speaker and who has charge of the Public Relations service of the Great Northern.

Hans Anton led off with the first and best speech of the evening. He recounted to the assemblage some of the experiences of the farmers who went to the dairy show and dwelt at length upon the accruing good results which must come to the entire community from the revelations unfolded to the observers at the show along lines of better dairying. He thanked The Tribune for courtesies shown the delegation and expressed also the gratitude of the delegation to Senator Hansen and L. R. Johnston of the Lyle Culevrt company.

Mr. Anton pleaded with the farmers present to improve their herds by introducing better sires, this being the outstanding lesson learned at the big show. Also he thought much could be accomplished by the farmers in the way of increasing their income by studying and putting ino effect modern methods of co-operative marketing. He especially urged the farmers to join the potato and egg marketing associations. Mr. Anton was vociferously applauded and he concluded his address with a strong appeal for community spirit of the kind which is constructive rather than destructive.

Hans Rued, who by the way is a purebred Holstein man, was the next speaker. As president of the dairy delegation he also expressed the thanks of the members to the men and organizations of the city who combined to make the trip one of pleasure and profit. "The show was an eye opener to me," said Mr. Rued. "and I could not begin to describe it all, but what I saw and heard convinced me that those farmers in this community who are seeking by every legitimate means to improve their herds are unalterably on the road to success." He raised quite a laugh when he graphically described the most expensive bull shown at the dairy show, namely a scrub bull of the thin scrawny type so common in some sections of Minnesota. The bull was three years old and weighed nearly 171 pounds. Some bull.

J. S. Arneson, publisher of The Tribune, spoke of farming conditions in Pennington, Red Lake and eastern Marshall counties from the standpoint of his work as appraiser for the Minnesota Rural Credits Bureau. He contended that conditions are far from being as bad as many people believe they are—that on the contrary this section is looking up as neeyr before due to the fact that most farmers have profited by experiences of the past.

There are comparatively few farmers in the counties mentioned who may not now be classed as "dairy" farmers. Most farmers have begun to raise sweet clover and alfalfa, having discovered that the dairy cow cannot be expected to do their best on wild pastures. Many are building silos—and more will be erected next year than ever before. Mr. Arneson paid his compliments to the perennial knockers who damn the country and everything in it—and predicted that prosperity of a substantial sort is looming up just around the corner. This, he stated, will not be of the mushroom variety due to a real estate boom but will come as the natural result of well directed agricultural activities along lines of dairying and diversification.

E. F. Flynn, assistant to the vice president of the Great Northern, made a fine address on the railroad situation and asked the farmers to consider every phase of the transportation problem before passing judgment. Unless the railroads can be operated at a profit the service must suffer as a consequence, said the speaker. He said the whole matter was one of plain figures and the situation should be carefuly studied by business men and farmers in order that the transportation systems of the country can be placed on a permanently stable base. The address was well received by the audience, and the facts and figures given by Mr. Flynn were highly interesting and illuminating.

The last speaker was Dan E. Willard, well known farmers' institute speaker. His hobby is dairying and he directed his remarks to the development which is now taking place in this section of Minnesota, predicting that the sow thistle would have to give way to the sweet clover and alfalfa fields of the future. While he branded the despised thistle as a nuisance, he stated that if it proved to be a leading factor in changing the country from a grain to a dairy cattle country it was entitled to some consideration as a blessing instead of a real menace.

The meeting may be said to have been a success from every standpoint and many regard it as a forerunner of many similar gatherings when farmers and business men may be brought together for the discussion of their problems of mutual interest.

Gran-Hanson.

The wedding of Miss Ella M. Gran and Herbert M. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Hanson of this city, was solemnized last Sunday at high noon at the home of the groom, 504 Horace avenue. Rev. Sweger performed the ceremony in the presence of a few relatives. Miss Cora Hanson of this city and Raymond Hanson of Minneapolis, a sister and brother of the groom acted as attendants.

Following the ceremony a dinner was served after which the happy couple departed for a short trip to Baudette and International Falls.

Both parties are well and favorably known in this city and vicinity, the bride for the past several years having been employed as assistant in Dr. Booren's dental office. The groom has been employed for the past three years as salesman for the P. Lorillard company. Both have many friends who extend congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Hanson will make their home in Thief River Falls.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union held a very successful meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. W. W. Prichard, Sr. Mrs. Josephine Sizer of St. Paul, state president, was present and favored the assemblage with a very instructive talk. She is making a tour of the state and is mobilizing the women to work for law enforcement. Mrs. J. O. Sether, president of the local union, returned recently after attending the national convention at Columbus, Ohio, and gave an interesting description of this event.

Penney Managers Conduct Big Sessions at St. Paul

The Opportunity family is a large one, with members in every city and every town, E. C. Sams of New York, president of the J. C. Penney company, told store managers of the company in the Northwest at a banquet at St. Paul Saturday night which closed the semi-annual convention of the company's managers in the Northwest territory.

To the man who has eyes to see the Opportunity family is fully as large as the clans of Smith and Jones, Mr. Sams said. He urged the managers to improve and take advantage of their opportunities as business men and to exercise the duties and privileges of citizenship. The good citizen, he declared, makes a better business man.

Other speakers were J. M. McDonald of New York, vice president of the company, and N. Clausen of Devils Lake, N. D.; J. B. Atkinson of Fond du Lac, Wis., and C. L. Horn of Marshalltown, Iowa, managers of the Penney stores in those cities. One hundred and seventeen men, including employes of the St. Paul store, attended the banquet. H. E. Nelson, manager of the Thief River Falls store, was present at the convention.

Co-operation Necessary.

No town can grow as it should unless its people work together in its upbuilding. The history of every city that has had rapid and substantial growth will show that united and enthusiastic work of its people had the greatest part in making it grow. In towns where a few live men boost and work the town's upbuilding and many are indifferent and do nothing, the work of city building is exceedingly difficult and the results slow in coming. If all boost and help to build up the town it is an easy matter to make the town push forward.—Lakeville Leader.

Gas Tax Is "Painless."

A set of tires costing $150 may run 10,000 miles on average roads. The same set will run double the mileage on improved roads. * *Where the roads are unimproved, each 100,000 car owners spend $7,500,000 a year on tires, which they otherwise would save. Proponents of the argument say that a tax on gasoline, spent on roads, is the one and only "painless tax."—Rushford Record.

Good Roads Essential.

Minnesota has the natural attractions to draw visitors from all parts of the country, but unless we have good roads a large share of them will never see the state and its scenery.—Litchfield Independent.

AGRICULTURAL NEWS

Potatoes and Cooperation

The following open letter o the readers of The Farmer, St. Paul, was contained in the issue of September 22 and is reprinted for the benefit of all farmers in this section:

During the past week the directing editor of The Farmer accompanied the party which toured the potato-growing sections of the Northwest in the interest of the co-operative marketing project proposed for the handling of the potato crop. The tour was made under the joint auspices of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation and the organization committee of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association in process of formation. The touring party, headed by President J. F. Reed of the Minnesota Farm Bureau federation, and Aaron Sapiro, the noted co-operative leader, held meetings at Crookston, Fargo, Detroit, Brainerd, Sauk Centre and Princeton, at which points growers and business men were given complete details of the organization proposed.

As is the case wherever he tell his story of putting business methods into marketing, Mr. Sapiro created a profound impression in the minds of all who were so fortunate as to hear him. As a result of his visit it seems certain that the potato organization campaign will move forward with great rapidity. Furthermore a stimulous was given to the entire co-operative movement, which should mean that with the potato crop once organized, consideration will later be given to the other commodities. In view of this fact, the events of the week should have a most important bearing on the future position of Northwestern farmers toward the building up of commodity organizations similar to the fruit organizations of the West and the tobacco and cotton organizations of the South.

The Livestock Pavilion at Crookston was the scene of the first meeting of the week on Monday evening. Fifteen hundred farmers and business men representing seven different counties of the Valley gathered to hear the message of co-operative marketing. After a brief introduction by Chairman Selvig, Mr. Sapiro held his audience spell-bound for over two hours, and the ovation given him at the conclusion of the address left no doubt as to where the Crookston community stands on the matter of putting business into marketing. On the day following, it was decided to adjourn business in Crookston and adjoining towns for one day for the express purpose of staging a sign-up campaign in which both business men and growers participated.

On Tuesday a noon meeting was held in Fargo, where the Rotary club, made up of business men, listened intently to the Sapiro message. Without mincing words he pointed out to these business men their responsibility in aiding agrculture. Layng much of the blame for agricultural discontent on the apathy and misunderstanding of business men toward agriculture, Mr. Sapiro challenged business men to join the new movement of assisting agriculture at this time by bringing about a business-like organization of agrculture. If we mistake not, the Fargo meeting will bear great fruit in the future activities of her business men. In a chance meeting with Governor Nestos, he assured us of his great interest in the movement.

Moorhead was the hostess of the visiting tourists on Tuesday evening. Previous to the meeting some of the dealers at that point had published through the local press certain deragatory statements about co-operative commodity marketing organizations, undoubtedly for the purpose of discrediting the potato organization campaign. In a merciless fashion Mr. Sapiro scathingly exposed the underhand attempts on the part of the dealers to undermine the attempt of the growers to organize, and he refuted every argument advanced against the movement. The audience of seven or eight hundred people seemed thoroughly to enjoy the hide-removing remarks in addition to absorbing with rapt interest every word of the co-operative message. Because of the strong opposition of the dealers, Clay county promises to be a fierce battle ground in the weeks to come, but this is to be expected in any plan to substitute a new growers' marketing system to take the place of the old speculative system.

The Detroit meeting on Wednesday evening, arranged by Banker Walter Obey of the organization committee, brought out about seven hundred enthusiasts. Without one discordant note, this meeting proved to be one of the best of the week. With the Becker county sign-up already about half completed, it seems certain that the remainder of the campaign will be speedily completed.

On Thursday the touring party moved to Brainerd for an afternoon meeting. The Farmers' Room at the court house was packed to the doors, and the experience of the previous meetings was duplicated by the addition of several hundred new converts to the movement. In the evening Mr. Sapiro addressed the business men of Brainerd, who promised every possible aid to the proposed organization. This includes the support of many of the potato buyers.

Sauk Centre was the rallying point for the Friday evening session. Mr. Sapiro digressed from the potato story long enough to point out what could be done with Minnesota creamery butter if creamery patrons will build up their own organization instead of allowing private marketing concerns to reap the benefit of the premium that goes to our fine quality of butter when properly merchandised.

One of the best meetings of the week was held at Princeton on Saturday. About eight hundred growers from Mille Lacs and adjoining potato counties absorbed with eager interest every word of the advice and instruction given by Mr. Sapiro. Here, as at Moorhead, some of the dealers had spread the story of suspicion toward the movement. Again Mr. Sapiro scorched enemies of the co-operative movement, much to the delight of the audience. The pure logic of his argument for the growers' movement carried the audience by storm. As a result another meeting was held on Tuesday last to go forward for the sign-up campaign.

The message that Mr. Sapiro gave to the potato growers last week was the boiled-down experience of twenty years of co-operative experience in California and other states, expressed in the words of its most noted exponent. Aaron Sapiro assured his audiences that he has nothing new or mysterious to offer; the system he preaches is not miraculous, nor is it in the nature of patent medicine. Rather it is simply the application of sound rules of merchandising and finance applied to the present disorganized system of marketing farm products. Furthermore, the producers themselevs are the only ones who can put the system into operation. Unless the potato growers and the other commodity groups adopt the system, no one will thrust it upon them.

In his addresses last week Mr. Sapiro unhesitatingly stated that Northwestern farmers have been sticking to the wrong system of co-operation for many years, and, while our co-operative spirit is splendid, the Rochdale system has failed to solve the economic problems of agriculture. The Danish or California system is not based on theory and does solve the farmer's economic problem, as proven by the experience of California growers who since 1910 have marketed over two billion dollars worth of farm products. Over 87,0050 growers in the United States have now adopted the California plan.

The aim of co-operative marketing is not to tackle the smaller problems such as saving through purchases or manufacture, but to substitute merchandising methods for the dumping of crops. The potato crop last year offered a beautiful example of dumping, first by the growers and second by the dealers. The basic price for the entire 1923 crop was destroyed because of dumping, and while only a normal crop went to market, the 78,000,000 bushesl of undug potatoes really set the price. Dumping will always continue so long as farmers sell as individuals. The full text of Mr. Sapiro's explanation of merchandising potatoes, instead of dumping them, will be given in the next issue of The Farmer.

As a result of the meetings of last week, the organization committee of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association will proceed to sign up as rapidly as possible the required fifty per cent acreage of the commercial crop so that the organization can function. With the organization established, there still remains the task of providing warehousing facilities for next years' crops, a very necessary part of orderly marketing. During the current week organization headquarters is being moved to Crookston, from which point Organization Manager S. G. Rubinow will superintend field activities. It is the intention at this time to complete organization in the Red River Valley counties before proceeding to the other potato counties. The growers in Clay, Polk, Red Lake, Pennington, Norman and Kittson counties will be first asked to complete the county sign-up.

Coincident with the Minnesota campaign, it is hoped and expected that the growers of North Dakota will follow suit quickly. An organization committee has already been established there. The Minnesota committee will give encouragement and assistance to the North Dakota campaign. The interests of the growers in the two separate states are identical and it is to be hoped that both organizations can be completed at the same time.

The fate of the new Minnesota Potato Growers' association rests largely on the events of the next few weeks. Will the potato growers of the Northwest take over the marketing of the spud crop into their own hands through the building of a sound and business-like organization, or will they be content to go on with the old dealer system? Judging from the enthusiasm and keen interest in the meetings of last week, we believe that there can be only one answer to the question. Growers will organize the potato industry on the Danish co-operative marketing plan, and in this organization work they will have the assistance and encouragement of all classes of people.

The whole future of co-operative marketing in the Northwest depends on this decision. If the potato marketing organization should fail, growers will be committed to the old speculative system for many years to come, and we know what that means. The Maine, Colorado, Idaho and other organized potato sections will control the American potato situation. With Minnesota and North Dakota organizations perfected, a great step forward will have been taken. Furthermore, we can then move on to the task of perfecting other commodity organizations. Northwestern farmers should remember that we are writing co-operative history at this time, history that affects not only the present generation of farmers but also those who come after us.

Big New 'Scoop' Put Over by Paramount Corporation Following Jap Earthquake

Paramount succeeded in securing a scoop on the entire industry by rushing its Japanese earthquake pictures across country by aeroplane, and rushing them through the laboratory in time for the first shows at the Rialto and Rivoli last night.

The pictures arrived East by aeroplane with Eddie Stimson at the wheel. The fog was so thick that regular U. S. mail planes were forced to abandon regular schedules until weather conditions were more advantageous, but Stimson managed to get through.

The pictures are to be supplied to all the Paramount theatres by fast plane. It was admitted by the regular news reels organizations that Paramount had scooped them all. The pictures will be shown at the Princess theatre next Friday and Saturday, the first showing of these films tob e made in the Northwest.

GREAT NORTHERN PREPARES FOR BUSY SEASON

The territory served by the Great Northern Railway harvests its crops and ships to market its heaviest load in the fall season.

This year the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before. It has purchased nearly a hundred large, new locomotives of the most modern type, as well as four thousand new freight cars; it has built new track and improved old; it is equipped to do the people's work well. A supply of cars is one of the important elements in this preparation. The Great Northern not only owns ample equipment for the crop moving season, but it has these cars on its own lines ready for business and in excellent condition. Here is the actual record:

	Owned by Great Northern	On Great Northern Lines
Box Cars (including automobile and furn. cars)	32,572	34,046
Stock Cars	1,893	1,946
Refrigerator Cars	5,508	9,352
Other Freight Cars	18,926	20,315
Total Freight Cars	58,899	65,659

So prepared the Great Northern is confident that it can give adequate service to the Northwest throughout the busiest season of the year. It appreciates your patronage and asks, in your own and its interest, that you help it to

Load cars to capacity
Load and unload promptly
Avoid diversion wherever possible

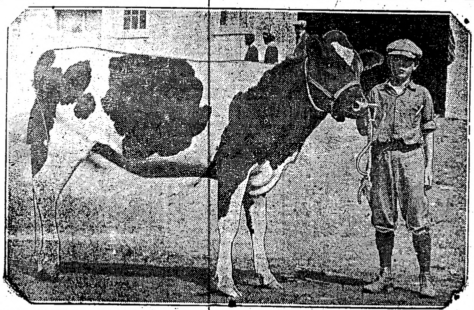
Calf Born on Christmas Day Wins Journal Prize for Thief River Falls Boy



Gordon Hunt Awarded Chicago Trip With Aid of Purebred Yule Gift.

(Minneapolis Journal.)

Gordon Hunt's father has a farm three miles from Thief River Falls up in Pennington county in northwestern Minnesota. He has a herd of purebred Holsteins. And Gordon began to take an interest in them as soon as he was big enough to begin to understand what farm work was all about.

When Gordon was 9 years old he joined the Pennington County Boys and Girls' Dairy Calf club and has been a member ever since.

Gordon owns his calf. He bought it from his father. It was born on Christmas day, 1921. So he named it Priscilla Christmas Ragapple. It is a purebred.

It proved to be a real Christmas gift, for it won first prize at the county fair in 1922.

"I could not take her to the State Fair last year," Gordon said, "because she had not then been tested for tuberculosis. However, I was fortunate to win first again this year, in the second year project, so won a trip to the State Fair this year."

He won fourth in the second year Holstein class at the State Fair. And then he discovered the best Christmas gift of all which Christmas helped to win. It was one of The Journal trips to Chicago, which come a few days before Christmas this year.

Gordon showed that he knows what he is doing when he selects calves to raise.

"I like Holsteins for their size and they furnish more skimmilk to feed calves and pigs than the other breeds," he said. "I have learned that calves must have plenty of milk and good care while small in order to make a good growth while they are young."

Gordon now is 13 years old. He is a freshman in high school. He has an older sister who also is a member of the Boys and Girls Dairy Calf club.

Interest in the club work increased noticeably he said, after The Journal's offers of scholarships and free trips to Chicago became known.

Last summer Gordon cut off his calf's horns. She was bothered so much with gnats that he began to worry about her. So he asked his father, S. E. Hunt, to help him and redoubled his care of her, treating the wounds with a dip preparation. They healed in fine shape.

"I didn't expect to win anything at the State Fair," Gordon said, and was sure surprized when I got fourth ribbon in my class. But I was even more surprized when I learned I was to go to Chicago. That made all my hard work worth while."

Archie Berry of Brooks Sent to Reformatory for Getting Rambunctious

Young Man in Red Lake County Given Indeterminate Term in St. Cloud House of Correction.

Archie Berry of Brooks, who has been several times arrested for being drunk and disorderly and has paid fines and served time in the Red Lake Falls county jail, again imbibed some strong liquors and went on a rampage at Brooks Monday evening and picked fights with all comers, says the Red Lake Falls Gazette. Sheriff Chas. Fellman was summoned and with the aid of Deputy Sheriff Clyde Childs finally succeeded in subduing Berry and he was lodged in jail and charged with resisting arrest.

Tuesday evening he was taken to Crookston by Sheriff Fellman, County Attorney Chas. E. Boughton, Jr., and Clerk of Court, P. E. Pouliot, and was arraigned before Judge Wm. Watts. Berry pleaded guilty to the charge and Judge Watts gave him the alternative of serving three years in the navy or of going to the state reformatory at St. Cloud.

Berry chose the naval sentence but the naval recruiting officers indicated that the navy was not a reformatory institution and declined to accept him. Therefore it was St. Cloud for Berry and today (Thursday) Sheriff Fellman motored to Crookston to take Berry from the county jail to his new residence where he will remain for an indeterminate period.

Sure Way to Grow Is by Newspaper Advertising, Says Prominent Banker

Newspaper advertising is the surest way for a bank to increase its business, W. R. Morehouse, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings bank, Los Angeles, told the savings bank division at the convention of the American Bankers association recently.

"Newspapers go into the homes," he said, "and the people of a whole community may be reached in a single day. Because you do not see readers studying your advertisements is not sufficient evidence that they are not read.

"I am a firm believer in sticking to subjects that have a direct bearing on banks, banking methods and service.

"You do not find manufacturers of clothing, advertising farm implements, nor telling you how many ships pass through the panama canal monthly. They are too busy sticking to the job of telling the public the merits of their particular brand of clothing to devote space to subjects not related to their products.

"If you have not been successful with newspaper advertising, I wish you would try this plan: Confine your advertising within the scope of banking and especially enumerate the various services which your bank is prepared to offer."

Mr. Morehouse advocated concise statements in advertisements and added: "Analyze the publications in which you advertise to the extent that you become familiar with the clientele of each paper."

Red Lake Commissioners Vote to Inaugurate Area Testing for Tuberculosis

Levy of One Mill or $3,500 Will Be Raised to Rid Red Lake County of Tuberculous Cattle.

Red Lake county, always one of the state's most progressive counties, took another step forward Wednesday when the county board voted to appropriate $3,500 for testing all the cattle in the county for tuberculosis, according to the Red Lake Falls Gazette. There are approximately 14,000 cattle in the county and the law allows the county to appropriate 25 cents per head for testing. Some 518 cattle owners in the county had petitioned the board to take this action. This number is more than a majority of cattle owners in the county.

This action by the county board makes it possible to secure the services of the veterinarians of the state livestock sanitary board and the federal bureau of animal husbandry. These veterinarians are paid their salaries by state and federal funds but their expenses are paid by the county.

Meeker is the first county in the state to be completely tested. Traverse county will be started on October 10, and the third county to be tested will be Red Lake. The work of this county will not necessarily cost $3,500 but this amount will be available if needed.

All herds in the county must be tested but the testing will be without expense to the owner.

Bridge Contract Let.

County Auditor S. G. Bertilrud, Martin Nelson, J. W. Persson, Edward Erickson, Andrew O. Erickson and Ole J. Winjum, members of the Roseau board of county commissioners, held a joint meeting with the county auditor and commissioners of Kittson county at Oak Point Tuesday. The matter to be taken up was the letting of contract for repair of the bridge across Roseau river at Oak Point. This is an inter- county bridge crossingthe boundary of the two counties. The Minneapolis Bridge co. was awarded the contract at $1,680.00. Thejob calls for one new concrete pier and other repair work.—Roseau Times-Region.

River Falls Woman Dies at Advanced Age After Being Ill Brief Period

Mrs. Malena Peterson, well known and highly respected resident of River Falls, died Tuesday, Sept. 25th, at the home of her daughters, Mrs. G. Cornelius and Mrs. C. Anderson at Minneapolis, after a brief illness.

At her bedside when death called her, were her three daughters, Mesdames Cornelius and Anderson. and B. Jenson of Neche, N. D., and her son, Miller Peterson, of this place. Deceased was born in Karmoen, Norway, April 19, 1840, and was therefor 83 years, 5 months and 6 days of age at the time of death. She came to this country in 1858 and was united in marriage to Peter Peterson, Sept. 25, 1863. She and her husband, who preceded her in death some years ago, lived in Chicago until 1865 when they moved to Iowa. In 1869 they located in Lac Qui Parle county in this state, later moving to Yellow Medicine county. In 1902 the family came to River Falls township which has been the family home since.

To mourn her departure she leaves two sons, Gabriel and Miller Peterson of this place, and three daughters, Mrs. M. B. Jenson of Niche, N. D., Mrs. G. Cornelius and Mrs. C. Anderson of Minneapolis, and a foster-son, Eddie J Eide of Virginia. She is also survived by two sisters and 14 grandchildren.

In connection with Mrs. Beterson's death, it is interesting to note death came on the 60th anniversary of her marriage to Mr. Peterson.

Funeral services were conducted by Rev. C. M. Grimsrud from the local Norwegian Lutheran church Sunday at 11:00 and interment was made beside her husband at the Swedish cemetery east of town. Sympathy of many friends is extended to the bereaved family.—St. Hilaire Spectator.

Alleged Auto Thief Shot at Hallock Last Week Is Now Patient in Hospital

To Be Returned on Charge of Stealing Automobile and Will Then Face Term in Prison.

Shot in the leg as he attempted to board the south-bound flyer at Hallock in an effort to get away from a sheriff's posse after an alleged attempt to steal an automobile, a young man about 21 years old, who gave his name as George Rairie of 516 Windsor avenue, Winnipeg, Manitoba, was taken off the flyer at Warren Thursday night and removed to the Warren hospital for treatment of a serious bird-shot wound in one leg, says last week's Warren Sheaf. At the hospital today his condition was said to be satisfactory but hospital authorities did not want to predict the date of his discharge.

When he recovers sufficiently he will be returned to Hallock to face a charge of stealing an automobile. Conviction on this charge carries a maximum penalty of ten years at Stillwater.

Rairie and another young man who escaped are alleged to have stolen a five passenger automobile belonging to Earl Turner in St. Vincent early Thursday and to have driven the car to within a short distance of Hallock where the car was abandoned in a pit and the two walked into town. Arriving in Hallock the two were said to have made the acquaintance of a young Hallock man who believed them to be laborers. They were said to have walked back to the pit only to walk into a sheriff's posse under command of Deputy Sheriff Ferguson, who were searching for the car and the thieves. They escaped in the brush, however, but Rairie was shot that night as he attemped to board the train. While at Warren Rairie is under supervision of Sheriff Hans C. Hanson.

The Hallock community is being combed for the man who got away.

Highways Getting Better.

Tourists who have traveled through all states of the West and Middle West are unanimous in the claim that Minnesota has the finest roads in the country. Only in California and the eastern seaboard states, they claim, can roads comparable to Minnesota be found. A friend in California has just sent the Herald a clipping from a newspaper story of the trip made by two young women from New York City to Los Angeles, via the Yellowstone wherein these young women claim that the best roads encountered on the trip were found in Minnesota. —Luverne Herald.

DAIRY

FAILURE IN DAIRY BUSINESS

Greatest Factor to Success Is the Man Himself—He Must Like Cows and Care for Them.

Failure in the dairy business is due to one of three things:

1. The business itself.
2. The cow.
3. The man.

The business is sound. This is shown largely by the fact that the income derived from the dairy business is larger than the income derived from all other classes of live stock on the farm combined.

The cow must be a good cow, one that can return a good labor income to her owner.

But the greatest factor to success in the dairy business is the man.

He must know his good cows and not guess which are his good ones.

He must be a dairyman, and like cows, like to work with them and like to care for them. He must not be in the dairy business just in order to pay off that grocery bill contracted when he had no use for cows.

He must remember that the fundamental basis of the dairy business lies in the maternity of the dairy cow.

He must know how to feed profitably and apply that knowledge and to feed only cows that can return a profit.

He must use a good purebred bull to keep up the future quality of his herd.

He must know how to work and apply that knowledge.—Harold R. Lascelles, Fieldman, State Dairy Commission.

TREATMENT OF CALF SCOURS

Cut Feed One-Half Until Animal Becomes Hungry, Then Give Dose of Castor Oil.

To treat a case of scours, cut the feed to half or even less than that until the calf has become hungry. A dose of one to three ounces of castor oil or paraffin oil will help to clean out the animal and may well be given. Three parts of formalin in a hundred parts of water, added to the milk at the rate of a teaspoonful to the pound of milk will sometimes relieve the trouble. Another very satisfactory treatment is to add about four to five drops of fluid extract of gelsenium to about one ounce of paraffin or castor oil and give it to the calf before each feeding of milk. It is always advisable to reduce the milk to a half or a third and divide that reduced quantity into from two to four feedings a day.

KEEP ALL HEIFERS GROWING

Young Animals Are Unduly Neglected by Many Dairymen—Feed Silage and Legume Hay.

Returns get our attention. Possibly for this reason the heifer calves are unduly neglected. But this stock should be kept growing normally. With silage and clover or alfalfa hay, one should feed each heifer from two to five pounds of farm-grown grains per day. If no silage is available, feed two pounds of corn daily with all the clover or alfalfa hay the heifers will consume. With silage and no legume hay, a good ration consists of a portion of silage and fodder or mixed hay with a grain mixture consisting of equal parts of corn and linseed meal.

FALL AND SPRING CALVING

Three Years' Test Conducted by Mississippi Expert to Determine Advantages.

Results of three years' work to determine the advantages of spring and fall calving with dairy cattle, made by J. S. Moore of the Mississippi experiment station, show that cows calving in the fall produced an average of 172 pounds of milk and 18.4 pounds of butterfat more than cows calving in the spring. In a comparison of early and late fall calving the average difference per year per cow was 683 pounds of milk and 27.5 pounds of butterfat in favor of late fall calving.

NEEDFUL MINERALS IN FEED

Most Lime Contained in Legume Hays While Phosphorus Is Found in Bran and Middlings.

The common dairy feeds containing the most lime are the legume hays, cowpea, clover, alfalfa and soy bean, that from cowpeas containing the most. Those which contain the most phosphorus are wheat bran, wheat middlings and linseed meal in the order given. None of the concentrates contain as much lime as the legumes do, and no roughage contains as much phosphorus as the concentrates named.

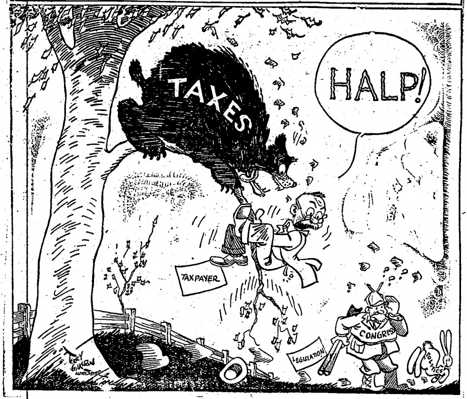
Benefits From Cow Testing.

Cow testing increases the average production of the dairy herd, first, by eliminating all low-producing cows, and second, by enabling one to select the foundation animals for his herd on the basis of performance.

Feed Silage to Calves.

Calves may be fed silage in connection with skim milk as soon as they are old enough to eat it. They will begin taking a little silage at three weeks old, and they can be fed from then on as much as they will eat.

CHANCE FOR BIG GAME THIS SEASON



AGGIE SCHOOLS RECEIVE PRAISE

Prominent Minnesota Man Commends State Agricultural Institutions.

A. J. McGuire, who is at present the manager of the state co-operative creamery marketing association, is also a graduate of the Minnesota School of Agriculture at St. Paul. He recently expressed his sentiments regarding the three state schools of agriculture located at St. Paul, Crookston and Morris.

"This is what I always want to say this time of year to farm boys and girls. Go to an agricultural school. The School of Agriculture at St. Paul and at Crookston and Morris are starting now. I know how splendid these shcools are and I would like to have every farm boy and girl in the state attend them. Some 30 years ago a man told me about the School of Agriculture and I shall ask God to bless him all my life for that bit of information.

"Some still place small value upon studying agriculture out of books, and if that was all you got at the School of Agriculture, I would not ask you to go there. But the Schools of Agriculture are big homes where the students live together. You make the best friends of your life there. You learn to know people in a fine way and to get along with them in co-operation. You broaden your outlook on life. You see things in a different light and the things you learn stay with you always and are a source of helpfulness and happiness.

"Write to your nearest School of Agriculture and ask for their catolog. It will tell you all about the courses and the cost, etc."

The Country School.

The country school is not usually nearly so fine a place as the big building which hundreds and thousands of children attend in some large town or city. The facilities are not so fine. The school life is simpler. Not so much can perhaps be done to make the school life interesting. But the country school offers much that offsets the advantages of the big and fine school. The great majority of the children have learned to work and are willing to work. That makes it possible and easy for them to accomplish larger results than the indifferent and idle class of youngsters that make so large a proportion of the city schools. The country school life is an ideal atmosphere for achievement. —Ortonville Journal.

Commissioners' Proceedings

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 3rd, 1923.

The County Board for Pennington county met in special session in the office of the County Auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, at one o'clock p. m., for the purpose of inspecting and accepting the work of H. P. Lund in constructing State Road No. 5, and for any other business that may legally come before said meeting.

Meeting was called to order by Commissioner J. S. Roy. On roll call the following members were present: Commissioners Hanson, Larson, Roy and Olson. Absent Commissioner McGinn.

The county board having made their tour of inspection on State Road No. 5 and also inspected culvert on State Road No. 2 constructed by the Prichard company.

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Olson who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Larson.

LOCAL GROWERS ORGANIZING FOR SELLING SPUDS

Indications Point to Early Completion of Work in Valley.

Polk County Growers Sign Up as Result of Recent Campaign.

Last week witnessed some of the best strides in the formation of the potato growers of Minnesota into one selling organization that have been accomplished yet, according to reports made to the campaign field office at Crookston.

Kittson county came into the lime light through meetings held at four points at which State Campaign Manager S. G. Rubinow spoke. Fifty per cent of the county's total that must be reached is 5,000 acres, and over 3,000 were signed up at the four meetings. Frank Kiene, one of the leading growers of valley territory, signed up a total of 700 acres.

Norman county launched its campaign with meetings at Ada, Twin Valley and Halstad on Saturday evening. Six other meetings are scheduled for this week and if the results of the first three meetings may be taken as indication, Norman county will go well above the required 50 per cent within the coming week or ten days.

Wilkin county growers have arranged for a meeting at Wolverton on Thursday evening and another at the Rothsay fair on Friday afternoon. Mr. Rubinow is to speak at both places and it is believed that an energetic campaign will be opened in that county the following week.

Polk county is making excellent progress in its organization work. Meetings were held at ten points in the east end of the county last week and a large number of growers were signed up in the potato marketing organization. The acreage of individual growers in the eastern end of the county is smaller than in the western portion so that more signers are needed to boost the acreage total to the extent that was accomplished in the western part. Good meetings were reported at all potato shipping points and at Rindal, an inland point, the plan was well taken in hand. East Grand Forks business men are continuing their drive with good results.

The debate in Clay county this week served to arouse interest in that county and gave good impetus to the signing up of Clay county growers.

Get Sample of City Pavement

Highway Department to Decide Whether it Meets Requirements.

A crew of men representing the state highway department was in Thief River Falls last Thursday and Friday making tests of the pavement on Main avenue where that thoroughfare is traversed by trunk highway No. 32. A round block of the pavement several inches in diameter was secured in several places on the street by means of a core drill, and these samples were forwarded to the department for analysis to determine whether or not the pavement comes up to the requirements of the state highway authorities.

In case the paving is found to be satisfactory it is the intention of the department to incorporate 18 feet in the center of the street into the trunk highway system and assume the cost of constructing the pavement. This procedure naturally will reduce to an appreciable extent the burden of property owners along the street in paying for the pavement and they are hoping the state finds the samples up to requirements.

While no report is yet available, it might not be amiss to relate that the men who secured the samples made the statement that Thief River Falls has the best pavement of any city they had visited and in their opinion there is very small chance that the authorities will decline to approve the work.

A movement is also under way by which it is hoped that trunk highway No. 32 will be paved through the city from the new culvert now being constructed south of town to the Great Northern railroad tracks on Sixth street. The highway department has given assurance that this work will be done at no distant date.

State Road Opened.

The grading of state road No. 5 between Thief River Falls and the road east from Hazel is now completed. This is a very important link of road and affords an excellent highway for people residing in that section of the county, shortening the distance to the county seat for many of the farmers residing in the country east of Hazel. Six miles of the road already has been surfaced and the remaining four miles will be completed within a short time. Highway Engineer B. F. Umland has been in charge of the work.

ALFALFA STORY BRINGS PROTEST

Title "Alfalfa King" Claim of Pennington County Farmer.

Last week The Tribune carried a little news story about a farmer living in the vicinity of Gatzke, Marshall county, relating how he had come to be known in his section of the "alfalfa king" because of the fact that he has 70 acres of this crop on his farm. This story was not intended to convey the impression that Mr. Stordahl is the biggest producer of alfalfa in this section of the state but merely by way of showing what can be done in northern Minnesota by farmers who go about it in the right way.

But the little alfalfa story started something. It gave some of The Tribune's local friends the idea that perhaps the paper was trying to create the impression that Marshall county has it over Pennington as an alfalfa district, and they immediately got busy in an effort to disprove the allegation. The Tribune's attention was respectfully called to the fact that Peter Engelstad, pioneer Pennington county farmer and dairyman, has one hundred acres of alfalfa of high quality and intends to increase his acreage materially in the near future. Besides being the dairy king of Pennington county, Mr. Engelstal must also be given the distinction of being the alfalfa king of not only Pennington but many surrounding counties.

LOCAL PUPIL IS AWARDED PRIZE IN BIG CONTEST

Lester Rolland Given Third Place in National Essay Contest.

Was Declared Winner in State Elimination Contest Some Time Ago.

Taking third prize in a national essay contest in which more than 400,000 elementary school pupils took part is no small task, but this is exactly what Lester E. Rolland of Thief River Falls has accomplished. Lester is this week announced as winner of third prize in the second national essay contest under the auspices of the Highway Educational Board. Miss Theodora Poole of Pontiac, Mich., was given first prize, while second honors went to Edwina Hull, Frontier, Wyoming. Lester's prize consists of a beautiful silver loving cop.

There pupils had previously received gold medals and $15 checks when their essays were declared the best in their respective states. Lester had good reason to feel proud of the fact that his essay was picked as the best written in the entire state of Minnesota, and now that he has won additional honors in the national contest his delight naturally is even greater. The prize winning essay is published below in its entirety:

"We are living in an automotive age. Ours is the era of good highways. Traffic problems are by no means the simplest of the day. No problem is simple that involves the loss and destruction of human life.

"Ten thousand people are killed annually in our country through the carelessness and ignorance of motor drivers and pedestrians. Twenty-eight out of every one hundred people who thus meet death are children under fifteen years of age.

"Ours is the era of good highways—good as to construction of roadbed and suface, but not good as to safety. The era of safe highways is just ahead. But it will always be "just ahead" unless there is a country-wide coordination of traffic regulation and a sincere movement toward cooperation on the part of motor drivers and pedestrians.

"A big problem and a serious problem. A problem that is national because it is local. In short a problem for me.

"Statistics show me that for every driver of a motor there are ten people who walk. That means that there must be ten alert pedestrians to one alert driver. Most children under fifteen walk to and from school and on nearly all errands. I do. It is as one of the alert ten that I propose to do my part.

"As I see it, my responsibility in making the highways safe lies in the solving of problems in traffic engineering. That is for older and trained heads. Mine is the duty of the small cog in one of the many wheels of a great machine. If I slip, something goes wrong with the machine of traffic regulation.

"For my own sake and the sake of of others, these rules shall guide me in doing my share toward making the highways safe:

"I will always observe all traffic regulations, first learning the regulations.

"I will never jay-walk when in a large city.

"Nor will I jay-walk when in the country.

"I will always try to avoid committing thoughtless acts, such as playing absorbing games in the streets, sky-larking under street lights, riding bicycles without observing the rules, catching rides, crossing streets or squares carelessly, descending in a heedless manner from street cars, motor cars, any vhicle or means of conveyance.

"I will try to think and watch for aged and infirm people, and for small children.

"I will not drive the family car until the law permits me to.

"And I will make it a special point to give the driver every chance to exercise his rights.

"Finaly, I will continue to read all available literature on public safety. I find that such literature makes me think, gives me a part to play, and shows me how to play that part.

"Cooperation, team work, alertness, sincerity—nothing can be accomplished in a far-reaching national manner without these. I want to cooperate, I try to be alert, ad I am sincere!"

A sign once used in an old New England hotel has been unearthed. Among the "Rules of This Tavern" is one which reads: "No boots to be worn in bed." No hotel has such a rule today. So we do enlarge our liberties.

BANKERS ENDORSE MOVEMENT TO INCREASE ACREAGE OF ALFALFA ON PENNINGTON COUNTY FARMS

Annual Meeting of Association on Tuesday Evening Marks Beginning of Important Campaign.

The bankers of Pennington county have been bitten by the alfalfa bug. At their annual meeting held last evening in the main lobby of the First and Peoples' bank, they resolved to give their moral and financial support to a movement which in a large way will have for its object a substantial increase in the alfalfa acreage of the county.

Seldom has so much pep been manifested at a banker's meeting in this neck of the woods. It has dawned on the bankers that we have oil wells and gold mines on every hand in the shape of alfalfa land which will make the whole country-side blossom like the rose. Instead of seeking wealth in foreign fields these keepers of the purse have decided to put their moral support and money back of the resources placed by Providence in our very dooryard.

Accordingly plans are under way which promise speedy development. So many things developed at the meeting that the bankers were simply bewildered at the magnitude of the undertaking. But one thing is sure. They are determined to get back of the farmers of the county in a gigantic alfalfa campaign which may mean 5,000 new acres of alfalfa and may mean 10,000, and just how this campaign is to be carried out remains to be worked out. So enthusiastic were the assembled bankers, however, that a similar meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at which time a definite plan will be agreed upon.

The first business to come before the meeting was the election of officers. Theo. Thronson, cashier of the First National bank of this city was elected president; J. P. Jenson of Goodridge, vice president and Thos. H. Smith of Mavie, secretary-treasurer.

The attendance was almost 100 per cent, only one bank in the county failing to have a representative present. Every banker present had an interesting story to relate of how this or that customer had pulled out of a bad financial mud puddle through the medium of sweet clover or alfalfa. They have discovered, moreover, that the raising of alfalfa and clover has a peculiar mental effect on the producer. He sees the sow thistle disappear from view with other noxious weeds. He sees the specter of late springs a thing of the past, and the man is completely transformed into a happy and contented human being whose labors promise to bring substantial reward.

So far the campaign has reached the stage where the bankers are determined to aid in making proper analysis of the soil, in studying methods of preparing seed beds, planting time, etc., as well as financing on an extensive scale seed properly certified.

Another thing which occupied the attenion of the bankers is the organization in this city of an intermediate credit bank. A committee was appointed to gather data and to secure blanks with the idea that stock would be offered for sale in the near future. Similar institutions are now being formed in many sections of the middle west, particularly in the cattle and dairying districts. Under the terms of the act money is loaned to the farmers to finance the purchase of cattle on a basis of seven per cent interest, the loans running for a period of three years.

The Tribune feels that the bankers are moving in the right direction. With the pep and optimism which they are displaying one may look for renewed energy and activity in the community to the end that our future prosperity may be placed on the solid foundation of alfalfa, more and better cows, pure bred sires, more sheep, etc., etc. With this will come hundreds of settlers seeking the rich agricultural land in this territory. As one banker put it to The Tribune last evening, "slowly but surely it is coming home to the home folks that the green fields which we have been seeking are to be found at the threshold of our homes"

Many Young Ladies Learn Nursing in Hospital Here

Many young women are taking advantage of the opportunity offered to learn nursing at the Physicians hospital in this city. Those who have entered this fall are Misses Irene Beisemeier and Cora Berg, Mahnomen, Bertha Aaseby and Judith Quammen of Thief River Falls. The following are graduates this year from the hospital here and in Minneapolis, and where they are now located: Grace McCrum, visiting nurses, Minneapolis; Lillian Provencher, Hopewell hospital, Minneapolis; Eleanor Harm, Hopewell hospital, Minneapolis; Paula Amend, private nurse, Coleraine, Minn., Mollie Hermanson, Minneapolis General hospital; Helen Nordquist, private nurse here; Leona Wilde, hospital at Stillwater.

Pioneer Resident Passes Following Short Illness; Came Here 36 Years Ago

Mrs. Louisa Frances Douglas, for 36 years a resident of Pennington county, died on Tuesday at her home on Red Lake Boulevard. She had been seriously ill for only a few days and death resulted from a complication of diseases.

Deceased was born November 18, 1850, at Rubicon, Wis., and prior to coming to this section resided for a number of years at Alderly, Wis. Mr. Douglas died here in 1898. Mrs. Douglas leaves four sons to mourn her death, as follows: Delos, Hibbing; James Y., Mercedes, Cal.; A. C., Hocksey, Alberta, Canada, and R. C., Moorhead, Minn. All of them will be present at the funeral except James, of California, who is unable to make the trip. Deceased also leaves one nephew, S. T. Marchel of Pipestone, Minn., who will attend the funeral, and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Reed of Oconomowoc, Wis., who cannot come owing to sickness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the house tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and from the chapel in Larson's undertaking parlors, with Rev. J. B. Smith of the Methodist church in charge. Due to the fact that repairs are being made in the Methodist church it was found impossible to conduct the services there. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Douglas was possessed of a kind and cheerful disposition and had a large number of friends in the community who will sincerely mourn her death.

MORE FILE FOR OFFICIAL JOBS

Interest in City Election Increases as the Time Approaches.

City politics are warming up little by little. Several more candidates for the various offices have filed during the past week and every position on the city council is now contested. This means that a good vote will turn out and that there will be plenty of interest in the outcome of the balloting when election day rolls around on November 6.

Recent filings include T. A. Fossum as alderman from the First ward; John Dahl, Second ward; H. A. Brumund, Third ward; Carsten Christensen, Third ward; O. O. Rambeck, Fourth ward; Albert Halseth, at large; Oscar C. Paulson, at large; Ed. M. Evenson, treasurer, and J. S. Arneson, mayor. Mr. Arneson filed for mayor on Saturday after being waited upon and urged to do so by a commitee carrying a petition signed by several hundred voters of the city, representing almost every business establishment and organization in Thief River Falls.

There is some question as to the exact date upon which filings may be made. The law says 15 days prior to the election, which would set the date on Sunday, October 21. Some claim that Monday, October 22, is the final day, but City Clerk A. H. Akre believes that in order to play safe all prospective candidates should have their names on file with him on or before Saturday, October 20.

Commercial Travelers Are Hosts to High Dignitaries

Last Saturday evening the local order of the United Commercial Travelers of America held a regular meeting and entertained as guests Grand Senior Councilor Thos. I. Lewis of Moorhead, Minn., and Grand Sentinel Joseph J. Daley of Grand Forks. There were a number of visitors from Grand Forks, Crookston and other points. A large class of knights of the grip were in waiting and the ritualistic work was exemplified for the benefit of the grand officers and the visitors present.

A banquet was served in the Masonic hall club rooms at 5:30 in the afternoon, which was attended by about 75 U. C. T. boosters.

Young Lady Injured in Auto Spill Last Sunday

Miss Anna Jenson, nurse at Oakland Park sanatorium, received a severe shock and a number of painful bruises last Sunday when a Ford car in which she and her brother were riding skidded and turned over on the road north of Thief River Falls. The young lady has been confined in a local hospital since the accident but is making a satisfactory recovery and will be out within a few days.

Alfalfa Will Be Subject Handled By Speakers at Noonday Lunch Thursday

Special interest attaches to the noonday meeting and luncheon of the Commercial club tomorrow (Thursday). Alfalfa has been chosen as the subject for discussion tomorrow and any resident of Pennington county who is interested in the culture or possibilities of this product are urged to be present.

Mr. Hutchinson, an alfalfa expert, who has given many years of study to the subject, will be present at the meeting and is scheduled to deliver a short address. In addition, a number of local alfalfa men are to be heard from. Mr. Hutchinson made a visit to several farms in the county last week and has an important message to deliver. Pennington county is a natural alfalfa district, according to Mr. Hutchinson, and he will have something of importance to say concerning it. Be on hand at the meeting tomorrow and get wised up on alfalfa.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE IN TOWN

Famous Briton Passes Thru Thief River Falls on American Tour.

David Lloyd George, former premier of England, accompanied by his wife and daughter, passed through Thief River Falls last Sunday evening on Soo Line train No. 110 on his way from Winnipeg to Minneapolis. The former premier, on the advice of his physician, had retired to rest when the train passed through Thief River Falls and the large crowd of people which had gathered at the depot did not get a glimpse of the great Welshman.

Lloyd George is making a tour of America and is making speeches in a number of the larger cities. His first stop in America was in New York, and from there he went to Eastern Canada. After going westward as far as Winnipeg he re-entered the United States to complete his tour in this country. The former premier is given a royal welcome wherever he appears.

Error in Reporting Votes.

It seems that The Tribune made an error last summer in reporting the number of Democratic votes cast in the Fourth ward on July 16, the day of the special senatorial election. A good Democrat living in that ward shows by official records that six such votes were cast instead of only two as reported in The Tribune. This paper acknowledges its error and is glad to make the correction.

FOOTBALL HERE NEXT SATURDAY

East Grand Forks to Lock Horns With Team From Lincoln High.

Football fans of Thief River Falls are to be given an opportunity next Saturday afternoon of witnessing a real contest. That afternoon the team representing the East Grand Forks high school is scheduled to try conclusions with the local high school team, and the game will commence at 3 o'clock sharp.

Profiting from experience gained in previous games this season and growing better every day as the result of heavy practice work under the direction of Coach Thune, the locals should be able to give a satisfactory account of themselves next Saturday. It is true they have won no games so far this season but when it is considered they have been up against some of the strongest aggregations in this section of the country it must be admitted they have nothing to be ashamed of.

Last Saturday at Bemidji the Lincoln high school lads met defeat to the tune of 56 to 0. Bemidji has what is considered one of the strongest teams in the entire state, and a week previous they defeated Detroit by a score of 80 to 0. The locals showed up much better than in any previous game this season and must be given credit for putting up a hard fight against heavy odds.

Turn out to the game next Saturday and help the high school boys win a decisive victory against East Grand Forks lads. The local boys intend to put up a stiff fight and are worthy of the support of every citizen of Thief River Falls.

Froseth Improving.

Perry Froseth, who for several weeks has been confined in a local hospital on account of injuries received in an automobile accident, is reported to be improving slowly. An X-ray taken last week discloses that no fracture of the skull exists and it is expected that Perry will in time be completely restored to his former good health.

Noted Norwegian Coming to Lecture Here Nov. 1st at Sons of Norway Hall

An event of particular interest to the large population of Norwegians in this section of the state is the lecture to be given on Thursday evening, November 1, at the Sons of Norway hall, Thief River Falls, by John Bojer, the noted Norwegian author. Mr. Bojer is a resident of Noway and has gained world fame through his writings. Many of his works may be found in the local library and his visit will therefore prove of particular interest to those who have read the author's works. The lecture will be delivered in the Norwegian language, but the subject has not as yet been announced.

Members of the Sons of Norway lodge are making preparations for a large attendance and he general public is asked not to forget the date—November 1, at 8 o'clock. Further particulars concerning the lecture will appear in next week's issue of The Tribune.

PASTOR TO GIVE LECTURE SERIES

Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of Presbyterian Church to Deliver Talks.

Are you a critic of the church? Have you found fault with her for having so many divisions and so little unity? If so, you will be interested in a series of lectures which Mr. Gerlinger has announced in connection with the Wednesday evening services of the Presbyterian church. The purpose of these lectures will be to give the people information on the history of the church so they will be more sympathetic with her problems. If one is to criticize the church, he ought to do it intelligently. Here is an opportunity to be informed. Here is an opportunity to see the reason why we have Lutherans, Methodists and Presbyterians. If one understands the history he will be less adverse in his criticism.

These lectures will deal with the founding of the church, with her spread to Europe and America, the rise and decline of the Papal power, the Protestant Reformation, and the struggles of the branches of the church for their lives, the rise of Lutherans, Baptists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Quakers and Methodists. They will also deal with recent progressive movements of the church and progress made toward unity.

The first of the lectures will be given Wednesday evening, Oct. 24, at 7:30, being preceded by a twenty minute devotional period.

CONFERENCE ON AT CITY CHURCH

Sessions Open on Tuesday Evening With Many People in Attendance.

Dr. Gaebelein of New York City arrived in Thief River Falls, Tuesday evening, for the opening session of the Bible Conference which is being held in the Presbyterian church every afternoon and evening through Sunday of this week. Dr. Gaebelein was accompanied by Peter MacFarlane, superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission of St. Paul, Miss Nellie Nelson, soloist, and Mrs. C. F. Pihlstrom of Warren, who is acting as song leader. On Saturday F. A. Steven, returned missionary from China Inland Mission will speak on his experiences in China. On Sunday the services will be in charge of Sidney Smith, business man from Winnipeg, who will speak morning, afternoon and evening.

The sessions opened Tuesday evening with a large gathering of people. Dr. Gaebelein is a lecturer of note as well as an author. He has just completed a nine volume commentary on the Bible. He is editor of a number of books on religious subjects. Thief River Falls is fortunate to secure a man of such ability. It was possible to secure him only by arranging a series of Bible Conferences in other cities. Dr. Gaebelein lectures in Hallock, Warren, Winnipeg and Thief River Falls. Crookston wished to secure his services but were unable to do so at this time because Dr. Gaebelein must return to the East within a few days.

The sessions of the Conference are held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:4 in the evening. 5

T. J. Hagen Here.

T. J. Hagen, who just completed a course at the Palmer Chiropractic school at Davenport, Ia., is in the city as a guest of friends this week and attending to business matters. Mr. Hagen has not yet decided where he will locate. He was formerly in partnership with Mr. Ebert in the Music store business in this city.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BRANCH OF NORTHERN STATES OIL COMPANY PROPERTY OF NEW ORGANIZATION

Recently Organized Local Branch of Pyramid Oil Company Purchases Business, Equipment and Good Will.

A deal was closed yesterday whereby the Thief River Falls property of the Northern States Oil company was sold to the Pyramid Oil company, with a large number of local residents and farmers financially interested. It is understood the concern also has acquired the property of the Peoples Auto company on Main avenue south, with the intention of converting the front part of this building into a modern filling and service station as soon as the work can be done.

Included in the purchase are all filling stations formerly maintained by the Northern States company, which includes pumps at Berry's garage and Kohn & Fiterman's, Thief River Falls; Peoples' Auto company, Red Lake Falls; Leo J. Carpenter, St. Hilaire, and the Goodridge Auto company, Goodridge. It is planned to install pumps at once in the McFarland garage, Thief River Falls; Spieler garage, Mavie, and at practically all other garages in the territory surrounding this city.

The new service station planned on the site of the Peoples' Auto company will be modern and will contain many special conveniences, including a large rest room for ladies. The location is ideal, being practically in the heart of the city on the Jefferson highway, easily accessible from every direction. Work on the new filling station will be started as soon as possible. The Peoples Auto company is busy moving its stock to Red Lake Falls, which is headquarters of the concern and where the business will be carried on in the future.

With the strong local backing of the Pyramid oil company it is sure to do a good business from the start. In addition it will operate more gas and oil service stations in this district than all other concerns operating here. Through the purchase of the Northern States company the new concern will enjoy right from the start more than twice the business originally anticipated, both here and in the adjoining counties supplied from here. A royalty will be paid to certificate holders on every gallon of gas and oil sold in this territory, which naturally will serve to draw local trade to the new organization. Certificate holders are guaranteed seven per cent interest upon their investments and a profit on all gas and oil sold.

Organization work has been in progress here for several weeks under the direction of E. L. Kennedy, with H. M. Mueller and Robt. A. Clyborne as assistants. The Pyramid Oil company was organized about five years ago and its success has been remarkable. Today the company has some of the best stations in the Northwest. The pump stations will carry a full line of Pyramid oils, greases, gasoline and kerosene, all quality goods sold under a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Ben Erickson has been placed in charge as local manager.

STRONG PICTURE HERE ON SUNDAY

"Little Church Around the Corner" Is Realistic and Very Thrilling.

Seeing "The Little Church Around the Corner," which will be shown at the Princess treatre next Sunday and Monday, is worth while, for it is an entertainment of rare pleasure, a picture drama of the type that comes about once in a blue moon.

The worth-whileness is due to the fact that some of the important actions in this production take place in a mining town—and so well is it reproduced that the illusion is perfect; you have the spirit of the strikers dramatically rendered, the mining district, streets and mines; it is all done so vividly that you think the camera man had waited for a miners' strike before proceeding to take the picture.

David Graham, a young minister just graduated from the seminary, finds his heart divided between his people—the workers in a mining town—and pretty Leila Morton, daughter of the millionaire mine owner, who is girnding his employes and refusing them proper living conditions. There is an accident that threatens to snuff out the lives of scores of workers—a strike—a murder, and in fierce succession follow dramatic episodes so grippingly related that one forgets everything else as irrelevant.

Newfolden Boy Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury When Run Down By Auto

The eight year old son of Frank Cook of Newfolden miraculously escaped serious injury yesterday noon when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile on Third street in front of the Langseth shoe store. The car was driven by M. Bothun of this city.

The lad set out to cross the street and darted out from between a row of parked automobiles directly into the path of the oncoming car, evidently not being aware of its approach. The driver did not see the boy until too late to stop his car and struck the lad a glancing blow. Upon examination by a doctor it was found that no serious injury had resulted. the only evidences of the collision being a bumped nose and a skinned knee. After the wounds had been dressed the boy was taken to his home.

Legion Holds Meeting.

Elmer Eklund Post of the American Legion held a very interesting and well attended meeting last evening. Owing to a last minute rush in the composing room a complete report of the meeting must be laid over until next issue.

Visits Former Home.

J. E. Cosgrove returned this week after having spent a few dasy at Ottumwa and other points in Iowa on a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Cosgrove was a resident of Ottumwa before coming to Thief River Falls several years ago.

QUOTA REACHED IN SPUD DRIVE

Required 50 Per Cent of the Growers Signed Up Before Drive Starts.

Pennington county went over the top with a rush when it came to signing up the necessary 50 per cent of the potato acreage in the Minnesota Potato Exchange. The drive set for Tuesday did not materialize to any extent owing to the muddy condition of the roads, but a number of teams are working today throughout the county in an effort to reach every grower. At a meeting held in Goodridge last Friday evening a number of growers from that end of the county were signed up, and these in turn promised to go out and get their neighbors in on the movement.

F. J. Stebbins, chairman of the committee having the potato matter in charge, reports that good progress is being made today, which means that Pennington county's acreage to the extent of almost 100 per cent will become affiliated with the co-operative marketing plan. The required 50 per cent was signed up before the drive had fairly started, which is an exceptionally good showing.

The committee in general charge and the teams engaged in signing up the growers will submit a complete report at tomorrow's meeting of the Commerical club.

Miss Kolberg Returns.

Miss T. M. Kolberg, local chiropractor, returned this morning from a two week's visit at the home of her parents at Bottineau, N. D.

One Unsought Position to Be Filled on November 6

In all the excitement preceding the city election next month there is danger of one office going begging for a candidate. This is the job of special municipal judge to serve if for any reason the regular municipal judge is unable to do so. G. Howard Smith was elected to this position six years ago and still holds the job because no one has tried to get it away from him. Two years ago Chas. Brink was the choice of the voters but never qualified, which brings into play the provision that an officer shall continue in power until his successor qualifies. Mr. Smith still is the special judge and unless the voters pick a new man this year he will continue to act in that capacity until further notice.

Men to Serve Supper.

The men folks of the Zion Lutheran congregation have taken it upon themselves to serve a supper next Wednesday evening in the basement of the Zion church, beginning at 5:30 and continuing until all are served. The men folks have been enjoying the ladies' cooking for so long they figure it about time to reciprocate by putting on a spread without the assistance of the gentler sex, and the general public is invited to sample the grub.

G. N. RAILROAD NOW PREPARED FOR HUGE TASK

Has Thousands of New Cars and One Hundred New Locomotives.

Transportation Machine Is Expanded to Meet Needs of Territory.

Preparations for handling a record-breaking volume of freight traffic this fall have been completed by the Great Northern Railway, the exceptional expansion of facilities assuring adequate service during the busiest season of the year, to the large section of the Northwest served by the Hill lines, it was disclosed in a statement by executives here. Additions and betterments to road, terminals, motive power and equipment, which have so greatly increased the freight handling capacity and operating efficiency of the transcontinental system, resulted from the completion of a $30,000,000 improvement program this year, it was emphasized.

The program included new double track, automatic block signals, new and larger terminal yards, laying of heavier rail and the purchase of large, new freight and passenger locomotives and new cars. This year, the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before, officials said, car and locomotive supplies being larger and this equipment being in exceptionally good condition, in fact in better condition than at any time since the beginning of Federal control in 1917.

Among the many improvements made through maintenance of way work are the laying of 2,250,000 cross ties, the replacement of 45,000 tons of lighter rail and the placing of 400,000 cubic yards of ballasting. Maintenance of equipment included the rebuilding of 3,600 freight cars, the rebuilding of twenty-five locomotives and rebuilding into all-steel cars of thirty diners and ten passenger and baggage cars.

Expenditure of large sums was required for the elimination of grade crossings, new bridges and trestles, telegraph and telephone facilities, automatic block signals, additional main and yard tracks, freight and passenger stations, fuel and water stations, engine terminals, and coal and ore docks. Freight equipment purchased included 2,000 box, 1,500 ore and 500 automobile cars. In addition to freight cars rebuilt, extensive repairs were made to several thousand other cars.

This $30,000,000 program was carried out in the face of poor earnings, such expenditure being justified only by the needs of patrons in Great Northern territory and by confidence in the ultimate return of prosperity to the fertile fields of the Northwest, officials pointed out.

"The Great Northern is prepared adequately for an exceptionally busy season," said Chairman Louis W. Hill of the board of directors. "The territory served by the Great Northern Railway harvests its crops and ships to market its heaviest load in the fall and this peak burden has been in mind as preparations to handle it efficiently have been made."

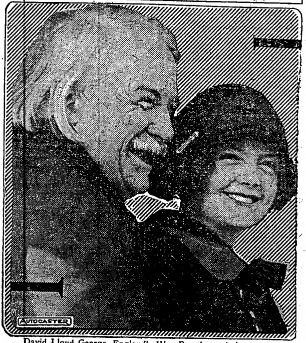
"This year the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before. It has purchased nearly 100 large, new locomotives of the most modern type, as well as 4,000 new freight cars. It has built new track and improved old; it is equipped to do the people's work well. A supply of cars is one of the important factors in such preparation. The Great Northern not only owns ample equipment for the crop moving season, but it has these cars on its own lines ready for business and in excellent condition."

"Actual records of equipment owned and on line show:

	Owned by Great Northern	On Great Northern Lines
Box cars (including automobile and furniture cars)	32,572	34,046
Stock cars	1,893	1,946
Refrigerator cars	5,508	9,352
Other freight cars	18,926	20,315
Total freight cars	58,899	65,659

"So prepared the Great Northern is confident that it can give adequate service to the Northwest throughout the busiest season of the year. It appreciates the patronage given and asks, in the interests of shippers as much as its interest, that shippers and receivers of freight load cars to capacity, load and unload promptly and avoid diversion of shipments wherever possible, that the capacity of the system be utilized fully and greatest efficiency of service thus be assured."

Lloyd George and "Pal" See America



AUTOCASTER

David Lloyd George, England's War Premier and the strong man of that great conflict, sailed into New York Harbor on his first trip here to be accorded a welcome which left the little Scotchman breathless. With his wife and daughter he is now in Canada prior to a tour of the United States, when great demonstrations will be featured at every stop. Shown with him here is his daughter, Megan, his "pal" and constant companion.

Minnesota Judging Teams Win National First Prize

New laurels for the state university's department of agriculture and for boys' and girls' club work as directed by the agricultural extension service of the university were gathered at the National Dairy Show at Syracuse, N. Y., when a team of three seniors from the Minnesota College of Agriculture won first place and the grand sweepstakes cup in the dairy cattle judging contest staged for agricultural college teams of the country, and when the Minnesota junior dairy demonstration team proved its title clear to first place in a contest with 19 demonstration teams from as many states, and when also the Minnesota dairy judging team captured fourth place with 20 teams judging at the big show.

Minnesota's College of Agriculture team was composed of Russell W. Seath of Albert Lea, Walter LeMon of Harris and Thomas Canfield, Jr., of St. Paul. If there were 29 college teams in this contest, as an early telegram stated, then 87 individual college students took part. Of these, Seath ranked fifth, Canfield tenth, and LeMon twelfth.

Theodore Fenske and Marshall Nugent, both of Bemidji and both about 17, were the boys who won the junior championship demonstration team honors at Syracuse. They demonstrated their right at the Minnesota State Fair to represent Minnesota juniors at the National Dairy Show. The two boys have been in club work several years and have been very successful in putting into practice on their father's farms what they get out of club work. The Minnesota junior dairy cattle judging team sent to the National was composed of George Chambers of Owatonna, Clyde Roberts of Anoka and Clement Chase of Farmington.

Obituary

Mrs. Augusta Johnson.

Last Friday evening, Oct. 12th, at 11:00 o'clock, occurred the sad death of Mrs. Augusta Johnson, wife of Emil Johnson, 606 Kendall Ave. S., at the Physicians' hospital, due to a tumor of the stomach. Deceased was at the time of her death 54 years and 11 months old. Mrs. Johnson was born in Karrihia congregation, Elfsborgs Lan, Westergotland, Sweden, where she lived until 1891 and then emigrated to the United States. In 1897 she was united in marriage to Emil Johnson, at Chicago, where they lived for one year. They then moved to Richland county, North Dakota, where they resided for 12 years and then came to Pennington county, where they resided on a farm four miles west of this city until a few years ago when they moved to Kendall avenue.

Mrs. Johnson was a loving christian mother and was loved by everyone who knew her. Besides her grief stricken husband, she leaves to mourn her departure, four children, three daughters, Agnes, Elsie and Ellen and one son, Carl. A son, Elmer, passed away several years ago. She also has four sisters and one brother in Sweden.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the Augustana Swedish church, Rev. Albin A. Larson reading the rites and the remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. The pallbearers were: John Johnson, R. Johnson, Anton Sundahl, Ed. Torsberg, John Kellberg and P. B. Malberg.

Oscar Melvin Skramstad.

Oscar Melvin Skramstad died last Saturday evening, October 13, after an illness of three weeks, due to appendicitis. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Skramstad, and was born September 9, 1909, eight miles north of this city, being at the time of his death fourteen years of age. Oscar since July 10 had been visiting at the home of his grandfather, at Tuffnell, Sask., Can., and three weeks ago began ailing and was sent home. He was immediately taken to the Physician's hospital, but it was found that his appendix had already burst. He was a cheerful and bright lad and always a favorite among his playmates who will greatly miss him. Besides his griefstricken parents, he leaves his sister and brother, Della and Owen.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Silver Creek church, four miles east of Steiner, Rev. T. E. Sweger officiating, and interment was made in the cemetery near there. Six of his school chums acted as pallbearers, John Morgan, Harry Lonson, Morris Oen, Herbert Meyers, Ottoe Stenberg and Gilbert Olson.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us and tendered their sympathy during the illness and following the death of our beloved son and brother, Oscar Melvin. We especially thank Mr. Carl Larson, who so kindly contributed his cars for our use, and also the fourth, fifth and sixth grades for their beautiful floral offerings.—Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Skramstad, Della and Owen.

Oil Burning Furnace.

The latest wrinkle in heating equipment has recently been installed in the residence of D. P. Gamble. The heat is supplied by an oil burning furnace, the first of its kind to be installed in Thief River Falls.

FUFFALO BONES ARE UNEARTHED

Workers on Great Northern Make Unusual Find in Excavating.

Great Northern engineers, constructing a new railroad bridge over Clearwater river four miles west of the village of Bagley, found a great deposit of Buffalo bones underneath the bed of the river, Wednesday when they were making excavations preparatory to sinking concrete pillars for the support of the new bridge, says the Bemidji Pioneer.

The deposit of bones and skulls was first struck four feet beneath the surface of the water. Some of the bones were covered with nine feet of deposit. The discovery has historical value and has occasioned some excitement at Bagley, to which point the first skulls were brought.

Workmen engaged in building the bridge assert that the deposit of bones extends perhaps 100 feet in length and is seven feet deep. Some of the skulls are mammoth heads and are almost turned to stone with age. Many odd-shaped bones have been found which are thought to be parts of other North American animals. Every indication of the deposit shows that a long period of time has intervened between the date on which they were first covered over and the present time.

Some think the deposit is a glacial deposit, which would date back to the last glacial period of twenty-five thousand years ago. Others can see the possibility of a great buffalo stampede thousands of years ago in which the animals piled over the cliffs along the Clearwater at that point and plunged down into the soft river bed, the foremost of the herd possibly becoming mired and the remainder piling over them, crushing one another.

It is expected that biologists of the State University will become interested and will investigate the deposit for historical purposes. The deposit is interesting in that it shows buffalo once inhabited this region in great numbers. Several of the skulls are on display in the Pioneer office display windows.

Going to South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Stein, who have been residents of Pennington county for the past six years, expect to leave next week for Stratford, S. D., to make their home. They operated a farm east of Thief River Falls for many years and for the past two years have resided in the city. Mr. Stein was appointed deputy sheriff last winter and acted in that capacity until recently.

The Rural Carrier.

A newspaper exchange very truthfully says: "If the patrons of the rural mail routes want good mail service next winter, now is the time to prepare for it. Weeds should not be allowed to fringe the public highways and catch the drifting snow, making them almost impassable a part of the time. Cut down all the weeds along the highways and much of the unpleasantness of the winter months can be prevented. Every rural mail carrier earns twice as much as he gets during bad winter months and while he is willing to give his patrons the best of service, it is asking too much to expect him to cover the route satisfactorily if he must shovel his way through the drifts. Cut down the weeds along the highways now and do your part toward making the roads better during the winter."

CAN YOU AFFORD TO LOSE THE BEST COW IN YOUR HERD EVERY YEAR

You would lose the value of a good dairy cow every year in a lower price for butterfat if you had to sell where there are no co-operative creameries.

For the past 10 years the average price paid by Cream Stations and Centralizers has been 5 cents below the average price paid by Co-operative Creameries and 10 cents below the price paid by the best Co-operative Creameries.

This means a loss of from $7 to $15 per cow a year or over $100 loss a year for the average herd.

The big centralizers that have captured most of the country are now beginning a "Drive" on the Co-operative Creameries in Minnesota.

Temporary high prices should not fool anybody.

Farmers have fought too many years for control of the sale of their products to let go now of the best business they have—their Co-operative Creameries.

Harder-Steinert

Two prominent young people of this city, Theo. Steinert and Miss Gertrude Harder, stole a march on their many friends last Saturday evening, Oct. 6th, when they quietly sought out Clerk of Court, P. F. Pouliot, secured the necessary credentials and then motored to Thief River Falls where they were united in marriage that evening by Rev. Charles Gerlinger, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city. So quietly was the affair solemnized that their many friends here were not informed of the event until after their departure this (Thursday) morning on a honeymoon trip which will take them to Fargo and the Twin Cities. Upon their return from their honeymoon trip they will immediately take up housekeeping. The wedding ceremony was performed at 9:00 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Charles Gerlinger of Thief River Falls. Miss Ida Westerlund of this city was the bride's attendant while Herbert Jung of Thief River Falls served as the groom's attendant. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harder, residing two miles north of St. Hilaire. She is well known in this city where she has been employed for more than three years. The groom is one of the prominent business men of this city, being one of the members of the firm of the Steinert Milling company.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Cousin-LaChance.

On Tuesday morning, Oct. 9th, at ten o'clock, at the Catholic church of Plummer, Miss Elsie Cousin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cousin of Hazel, became the bride of Phillip LaChance of Terrebonne, Rev. Junker performing the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of silk faced canton crepe and wore a veil and carried a bridal bouquet of roses. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Loretta Cousin of Crookston, who wore a dress of blue crepe de chine and a picture hat. A cousin of the groom, Leo Robillard, acted as best man. After the ceremony a six-course dinner was served to the immediate friends and relatives of the newlyweds. Blue and white streamers and roses and garden flowers were used to make the rooms especially attractive for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. LaChance left the same afternoon, by car, for Crookston, from where they left on their honeymoon for the twin cities. On their return they will make their home on the groom's farm at Terrebonne. A host of friends extend their congratulations.

The bride is a well-known young lady of this city, having attended the public schools here and is a graduate of the local '21 high school class.

SUNDAY SCHOOL STATE MEETING

Much Interest Manifested in Coming Convention at Winona.

The coming annual state convention of Sunday school workers and all interested in the field of religious education is to be an event of unusual interest, according to the reports received at the state office of the Minnesota Council of Religious Education, formerly the Minnesota Sunday School association.

Vacation schools of religious education or as they are sometimes known—daily vacation bible schools—are to be given considerable emphasis.

Dr. Frank H. McKibben of South Bend, Indiana; Ray G. Fletcher. Director of Religious Education of the House of Hope church, St. Paul; Hayden L. Stright, Director of Vacation Schools of the Ramsey County Sunday School association; Miss Mabel L. Bailey, Children's Division Superintendent of the Minnesota Council, are all leaders in this field. These together with a number of those who have actually done the job will take part and make this a matter of keen interest.

The vacation schools idea has grown in a marvelous way; beginning with six schools in 1901, all held in New York City, there were reported over 5,000 throughout the country and indeed in foreign lands the idea has taken firm root this past year.

The enlarged program of religious education recognizes the values that accrue from the great work done by the Sunday school but also that such a short time element is not going to be sufficient and so with an enlarged concept, leaders in this field are pushing home religion to the base, Sunday school, the vacation school and week day religious instruction.

The Winona convention is expected to set forth this great program in a very marked way.

Registrations are being forwarded to the state office where further information can be had on application.

A Healthy Sign.

Real estate men report an invasion of the state by buyers for farm lands, who are purchasing farms at increasing prices. This indicates that this is the time to buy for investment, and that the farmer who can possibly hang on can safely hold his land for better times are coming.—Faribault News.

About Accidents.

A prominent insurance company recently compiled the following interesting statistics with regard to accidents in the United States:

Accidents occur 113 times as often as fires.

One death in every 11 results from an accident.

Three million persons are constantly ill in the United States.

One person in every six suffers a spell of sickness during each year.

Fifty-seven automobile accidents occur every hour; 1,370 every day; 500,000 every year.

Automobiles kill 14,000 persons each year.

More than 5,000 persons are killed and 50,000 injured each year as a result of fires; 6,000 drown.

More than 7,000 passengers, trespassers and employees are killed each year in railroad accidents.

One person dies of illness every 30 seconds; 120 every hour; 2,880 every day; 1,051,200 every year.

One person is accidentally killed every six minutes; 10 every hour; 240 every day; 87,600 every year.

Twenty-three persons are accidentally injured every minute; 1,380 every hour; 33,120 every day; 12,088,800 every year.

Eight hundred seventy-six thousand persons are under sentence of death by accident during the next ten years. 6,300,000 will die of disease during the same ten years.

Necessary to Business.

In New York, where the big business men sit and guide the destinies of an army of employees working in their stores, there occurred a strike of the pressmen on all the daily newspapers in the city. The service of the papers broke down and in a frantic effort to give news service to the people, the dailies combined and issued a combined daily newspaper. No ads. were taken. As a result, with the suspension of the advertising in the newspapers, business stopped in its tracks, stores were deserted, clerks were idle and the big business men with their overhead going on as usual, were frantic. Signs were used and every advertising aid was brought into play, but without avail. Business broke down completely. This is current history, not the ranting of the advertising man. It is the story told by grey-haired business captains, who watched expense creep on their empty stores while the strike was on. Business cannot exist without newspapers. It is a salesman that the successful business chief cannot afford to "fire." F. P. Mann, of Devils Lake, N. D., a town with a population of 5,500, sells goods each year worth $600,000. Garver Brothers, of Strasbourg, Ohio, in a town of 1.500 does a yearly business of $750,000. Mooney Bros., of Temple, Okla., in a town of 900 do a business each year of over $1,500.000. How do they do it? By advertising intelligently and persistently. The small town merchant will be repaid by intelligent advertising as well as the merchant in the big town.—Cass Lake Times.

EFFECT OF HOLDING WHEAT.

A Chicago daily paper, in explaining a recent price of five or six cents a bushel in the price of wheat, says: "There has been comparatively little hedging in excess of the buying against sales of cash grain of late, and values have been sustained in the face of the strongest array of bearish conditions the trade has ever known."

This statement amounts to an admission on the part of the Chicago paper that the effort on the part of the farmer to hold his wheat from the market as much as possible is having the effect of increasing the price of wheat. It is evidence that the co-operative marketing plan is already bearing fruit, although it is not yet having the effect upon the price which it will have when a larger part of the country's wheat is handled under this plan. The principal aim of the co-operative wheat marketing organizations is orderly marketing—feeding the market as the product is demanded by the consumer—instead of "dumping" the crop onto the market at certain seasons of the year, which is the inevitable result when each individual producer markets his own grain. The situation in Chicago is the best argument in the world in favor of co-operative wheat marketing.

FIGHTERS AND WINNERS

Jack Dempsey wins everything but public good will. He was a slacker in the war pulling down his eight dollars a day in the ship yards while the boys were fighting in France for a dollar a day for the glory of the flag. The American people wanted Carpentier to knock him out rejoiced when Tommy Gibbons stood up for 15 rounds, and it was really too bad that the "mad-bull" did not have a minute more time in the first round on the 14th.—St. Cloud Journal.

And a man of Jack Dempsey's makeup doesn't care a hoot what the American people think of him providing he gets the money. So long as any considerable number of the people are willing to pay fabulous prices for the privilege of seeing the big slacker perform, he is ready to cash in on his brute strength. He is after the money and believes in getting it while the getting is good.

The average man residing a few hundred miles south thinks this whole north country is covered with timber. When he sees the flaming headlines which the twin city dailies employ in describing every little brush fire—and often there is more headline than fire—he naturally gets the notion that this country must be a hell on earth and no fit place for a white man to live. The Tribune doesn't believe in newspaper censorship, but something ought to be done to curb the imagination of State Forester Cox, who seems responsible for many of the wild stories circulated, and a gentle hint should be dropped to the twin city dailies that the citizens of this section of the state are not crazy about having those exaggerated stories smeared all over the front page of the metropolitan press. It is wholly uncalled for and works a positive injury to Northern Minnesota.

One can hardly blame the Grygla people for kicking on the main road to Goodridge. The traffic on this highway is very heavy, it being their only outlet to a railroad. After each rain this piece of road is in an abominable condition, being at times almost impassable. The county dads of Marshall county should see to it that not a cent of money is expended for road improvements in that county until that particular piece of road has been gravelled. If they do, the people of Grygla and adjacent territory will rise en masse and shower them with blessings. (Warren papers please copy.)

The Crookston Times is terribly worked up over the fact that Geo. C. Jewett has been made manager of the Minnesota potato exchange. It says the farmers are perfectly capable of running their own affairs. So they are, Mr. Editor, so they are, and the funny part of it is that Mr. Jewett has never even been suggested for the job.

A REAL DANGER.

Says the Baudette Region: "State Forester Cox requests that people in Northern Minnesota refrain from smoking cigarettes to avoid danger of setting fires. He should have included moonshine. One whiff from the breath of a lad full of the stuff they make near Baudette would start a whole forest burning."

For the information of a Tribune subscriber who is afraid this alfalfa business will be overdone: There is need for twenty million acres of alfalfa to feed the present cow population of the United States. We have now less than five million acres. Few areas can grow alfalfa, but it so happens that the section of which Thief River Falls is the hub has the ideal soil for that purpose.

Public sentiment has reached a point in Thief River Falls where the moonshiner, once tolerated as a necessary evil, is considered no different from any other lawbreaker. And as time goes on, people will have less sympathy with the poor dupe who consumes the moonshiner's poisonous concoctions. It's a rotten business any way you look at it.

After the new Great Northern depot is completed, the stranger entering Thief River Falls from the south will get an altogether different impression of the city. The old shack standing where it does has led many visitors to believe that this burg is of the ramshackle variety, with no civic pride whatever.

If you have the pip get rid of it and get some pep.

A farmer residing a short distance north of Thief River Falls took advantage of the noon rest of the threshing crew to run a couple of loads of alfalfa through the separator. He got three sacks of seed—worth about $125. It's a safe bet that he will have a larger acreage of alfalfa next year.

One of the most cheerful persons we have met in many moons is an old lady in eastern Pennington county who has been bedridden for fourteen years. This cheerful woman finds much in life to be thankful for and we wish every crepe hanger in the country could spend a few moments at her bedside.

The building improvements which have taken place during the year in Thief River Falls run well over the $100,000 mark. This includes a number of handsome residences and several business blocks. We challenge any city in Minnesota of similar size to show a better record.

The enterprising citizens of the Grygla territory are engaged in organizing an intermediate credit bank, an institution which will enable the government agency to finance the purchase of more cows. Sensible move and one that Thief River Falls ought to consider.

It is encouraging to note the increased interest and attendance at recent meetings of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. Especially welcome at these gatherings are our farmer friends, and The Tribune hopes to see them there in large numbers at each meeting in the future.

We hope no real estate boom ever hits Pennington county. However, be not surprised if the alfalfa growers of the country turn in this direction for farm lands in the next few years and in that event the stickers will win.

Goodridge has already shipped out three carloads of sweet clover seed this fall. The seed brings now approximately $4,500 per carload. A carload of wheat brings the producer about $1,000. Think it over, friends.

One Grygla farmer sold a load of alfalfa seed the other day which brought him a neat sum. He had 30 bushels. At 50 cents a pound, the present price, the load amounted to exactly $900. Think it over.

After viewing the Japanese earthquake scenes shown last week at the Princess theatre we feel more than ever like getting down on our marrow bones and thanking the Good Lord that we live in Minnesota.

More than two thousand men have died in the United States the past year as the result of poisoned liquor. And still some people say the outlaws who sell the stuff don't belong in jail!

Hats off to the boys and girls who win prizes in state club work and in other state and national contests. They are made of real stuff and Pennington county is proud of them.

The numerous loads of sugar beets coming into Thief River Falls these days from every direction bear up the assertions of those who claim that beets can be raised here successfully.

We have finally found one thing upon which the farmers, the bankers, the merchants and the professional men can agree, namely that alfalfa is the best paying crop for this section.

Here is the latest by Charlie Nason: He says golf is not a game, but a disease. He calls it the hoof and mouth disease. You hoof it all day and talk about it all night.

Billy Noonan announces that he will not run for the legislature again. Bill says it will take him ten years to get rid of some of the habits he formed last winter.

Many grade crossing accidents occur on Sunday, but a surprisingly small number of those killed and maimed in this way are on their way to church.

While this section of the state may not be located in the proverbial "banana belt," it is near enough these days to suit any man with red blood in his veins.

A Pennington county farmer told The Tribune the other day that he had discovered a way to make his scrub cows pay. He sold them to the butcher.

Pennington county chickens are putting on their best raiment in anticipation of the big doings in Thief River Falls the first week in December.

The fact that the bankers of Pennington county are getting back of the alfalfa game is the best evidence that there is money in it.

John D. Rockefeller is eighty-four years old and still making money. It is getting to be almost a habit with him.

The coal operator and the coal miner have buried the hatchet in the usual place—the neck of the consumer.

They say there is one man in town who would rather be mayor of Thief River Falls than be governor of Minnesota.

One way to discourage a knocker is to refuse to listen to him. Even a knocker gets tired of talking to himself.

Speaking of California, could anything be more glorious than the tang of this Minnesota climate?

After all, Jack Dempsey hasn't much on the rest of us mortals. We all have to fight for our money.

The cry on the farm just now is: "Don't give up the sheep!"

Try to get acquainted with your neighbor—you may like him.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

Diversification Pays.

There is dissatisfaction among the farming element but did you ever stop and take notice of the fact that the frantic calls for help among farmers is coming from a certain class of farmers and that the sections which are in the dairy and poultry business are getting along pretty well and are not besieging the government for price fixing. It does not take a mathematician to figure out the fact that poultry and dairy products are selling at satisfactory prices and there is a steady active demand that is exceeding the supply. Butter and eggs are going up in price and will go higher as winter approaches.—Walker Pilot.

The Best System.

Renville county farmers can be thankful that they do not reside in other parts of the Northwest this year. Here the cream check, the hog check, the cattle check, egg check and the grain check combine to make it possible for us to meet our obligations, while in many counties of this state and in North Dakota and Montana, the total income of the farmer will barely keep soul and body together.—Olivia Times.

Some Good Advice.

Are you losing your pep? Are you slipping, just because you have met with business reverses or because the past few months have not been as good for business as you expected? Then brace up, things are going to be better in the future. You are never down and out until you admit you are. If you never admit it you never will be. If you are not in a business that appeals to you, get out of your present business and get into one that you will like, and then your pep will return. There is no such thing as a permanent failure to the man who is determined to succeed.—St. James Plaindealer.

A Valuable Lesson.

New York newspapers were practically suspended for a few days because of a pressman's strike. New York city shopping was also suspended because the stores couldn't advertise. The object lesson was probably worth more to the daily papers of the metropolis than they lost through strike interruption. The merchants of the city also learned something they were not quite sure of before.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

The newlyweds will make their home on the groom's farm near Strandquist.

Board of Education to Be Hosts at Reception

To afford the patrons of the local schools an opportunity of getting acquainted with the teachers and to promote a spirit of close co-operation between the parents and the school faculty, the Board of Education will act as hosts at a reception to be given in honor of the teachers Friday evening, October 19, at the high school auditorium. The reception is intended as a general get-to-gether for the parents and teachers and the program will be planned with this end in view. A committee consisting of the wives of the members of the Board of Education will have charge of the refreshments and a general invitation will be extended to all school patrons.

1492---OCTOBER 12---1923

It was on October 12th, 431 years ago that Christopher Columbus discovered a New World—a wilderness inhabitated by those people he called Indians. Today, ocean liners have replaced his tiny caravels and where he found a wilderness, there is a land teeming with industry—the home of a great nation.

This is the romance of America of which Columbus wrote the first chapter.

As we, through our lives, add the record of our era, let us remember that courage high ideals, industry and thrift are the qualities which will make our contribution worthy of what has gone before.

Markers Placed on Trunk Highway 32 Here Recently

Official markers were placed last week along State Highway 32 which passes through Middle River. With the coming of the colder weather there is a noticible falling off in the number of tourists passing through the village, yet even now tourists' cars are common sights on our streets.

As one of the main avenues of the Lake of the Woods country. Highway 32, which passes through Middle River, has been traveled by thousands of tourists during the past summer. Middle River with its good camping facilities, has been a favorite stopping place for hosts of visitors. No figures are available showing the actual number of visitors who have availed themselves of our camping facilities, but it has been observed that the local camping ground has been in constant demand throughout the summer months.

The daily average of auto tourists in Minnesota this year was 62,750, according to figures issued by the State Highway Commission. It is estimated that approximately four months more than $37,500 of new money was placed in circulation in Minnesota by highway tourists. The northern section of the state is constantly gaining favor as the mecca of visitors and with continued increase in read facilities an ever increasing stream of tourists will make annual pilgrimages to our section.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education, Consolidated School District No. 126, Marshall County, Minnesota, will receive bids for the hauling of the school bus on route No. 2 and No. 4, the same distance as last year, said bids to be in the clerks hands not later than November 6, 1923.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

The Delta Gamma, whose membership consists of Juniors and Seniors rendered its first program last Friday afternoon. The Round Table society consisting of Freshmen and Sophomores will present another program October 26. The literary organizations in the high school are under the direction of Miss Eikness, teacher of English.

The Junior class met last week and organized with the following officers: Ruth Wing, president; Annette Engevick, vice president; Ida Curtis, secretary; Hilda Peterson, treasurer; Miss Eikness, class advisor.

With the coming of the basketball season the high school students are showing much interest in the work of financing the Athletic association. Hitherto, the Athletic association has been on a self-sustaining basis and it is intended to continue this plan. At a recent meeting of the high school students the following committee was named to devise ways and means for carrying on the work of high school athletics: Ella Peterson, Gladys Gullikson, Alfred Larson, Lila Modin, Lillian Stephens and Gladys Young.

Eunice Hjertos was elected president of the Sophomore class at a meeting held last week. The other officers are: Elizabeth Evans, vice president; Lila Modin, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Nystul, class advisor.

The girls of the class in Home Economics will act as hostesses to the members of the faculty at a breakfast to be served in the Domestic Science rooms October 18.

For Sale or Trade.

160 acre farm, seven miles from Red Lake Falls, Minn. Good set of buildings, good water. Will sell cheap and on easy terms, or may take 40 or 80 acres of land in trade. Box 472, Red Lake Falls, Minn. 31-3p

First Lutheran Church.

Luther League on Sunday at 8 p. m. Address by Prof. I. T. Simley, superintendent of schools, Thief River Falls. Special music. Sunday school and bible class 10 a. m. Ladies Aid on Friday entertained by Mrs. Lofquist and Mrs. Melum. Confirmants Saturday at 2 p. m. Also following services: Norwegian at Benwood at 10:30 a. m., and Norwegian at Huntley at 3 p. m.

Let us remember the Circuit Pastors meeting to be held next week. The English sessions at the First Lutheran church, Middle River at 8 p. m. on the evenings of October 23, 24 and 25. The Norwegian sessions at Our Savior's Lutheran church at Thief Lake on the 24th and 25th, forenoon and afternoon. Bear in mind that this is a privilege we seldom enjoy, namely, having among us the pastors of the circuit, gathered for the one purpose of discussing and explaining the Word of God; gathered to make more plain to us the way to salvation through Jesus Christ. We never neglect the conventions called by man for the purpose of getting better acquainted and getting new ideas for work, of broadening our vision of our own peculiar field of work. Why then should we believe that we can afford to miss a series of meetings which He calls for the special purpose of making us better acquainted with Him, and for broadening that narrow field of love that we usually have for Him. The topic for discussion in English is the second commandment. The Norwegian topic is Matt. 22, 1-14.

A. E. HANSON, Pastor.

Pioneer of Middle River Passes at Ripe Old Age

Christopher Nordlum, for twenty years a resident of this vicinity, died on Sunday, October 7, at the home of his son, John C. Nordlum, after a lingering illness covering a period of a year and a half. The funeral services were conducted from the home and the Lutheran church on Thursday, October 11, at 2 p. m., with Rev. A. E. Hanson officiating. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Christopher Nordlum was born in Ringbo, Gulbrandsdalen, Norway, on June 3, 1840, and was the son of Kresen and Ceselle Hagen. His parents died when he was in his infancy and he was adopted by Christopher Tromsnes, with whom he lived until he was married to Christine Tromsnes at the age of 21. To this union were born five children, one of whom died in infancy and one son, Christ, who died nine years ago. Those living are Mrs. A. Albertson, Mrs. Knute Aakre and John Nordlum, all of whom were present at the funeral. His wife died two years after the arrival of the family in this country in 1898. For the past 23 years deceased had made his home with his son, John C. Nordlum.

Those from a distance in attendance at the funeral were Mrs. Knute Aakre and daughter Adelia of Narcam, Sask., Canada, Mrs. Christ Nordlum of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albertson of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hellmer of Crookston

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all our kind relatives and friends for the heartfelt sympathy they showed us during the illness and following the death of our loving father; also for the many beautiful flowers and the music rendered by the choir.—John C. Nordlum and family, Mrs. A. Albertson and family, Mrs. Kunte Aakre and family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Olson and children and Miss Myrtle Johnson spent Sunday at Thief River Falls visiting Mrs. Olson's parents.

Mrs. M. Freeburg and son left Saturday for Warren, where Mrs. Freeburg will attend the Teachers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albertson of St. Paul arrived Wednesday to attend the funeral of Christopher Nordlum. Mr. Albertson is a grandson of the deseased.

Mrs. Albert Knutson and children left Saturday for Warren where Mrs. Knutson will attend the Teachers' Institute. They will also visit relatives who live at Warren.

Mrs. Harry Con of Jackson, Tenn., arrived Tuesday and spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Kvennes. She left Saturday for Oslo where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. O. J. Olson entertained several ladies Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Con of Jackson, Tenn. The evening was spent in sewing and fancy work. A delicious lunch was served.

Mrs. Charles Haug left Thursday for Langdon, N. D. She has spent the summer with her sons who live near Bartin and with her daughter, Mrs. Martin Hanson, of this village.

Rev. O. J. Lundell, pastor of the Swedish Mission Church at Thief River Falls, conducted services at the Albin Anderson home Sunday. He was assisted by a quartet of Thief River Falls singers who rendered several sacred selections.

GATZKE

Mr. McMillin, manager for our local shipping association, went to St. Paul on Saturday with another two carloads of cattle. This makes 11 carloads shipped out this fall by our local shipping association alone, to say nothing about quite a few carloads which have been bought here by other individual shippers and stock buyers. Who said the farmers around Gatzke did not have any livestock?

R. J. Pratt returned to Fargo on Thursday of last week, after spending a week looking after his farming operations here. Mr. Pratt holds the distinction of having on his farm near Gatzke, the best flowing well in Northern Minnesota; the water being soft, and parties who have seen it and are in a position to know, claim that the pressure of the water is so hard that if a dynamo was installed he could have electricity enough with which to light all of the farm buildings on the farm. Mr. Pratt has water piped into both the house and barn, the surplus water being turned into the river which flows right back of his buildings.

Hans J. Dahl, a farmer living a few miles northeast of Gatzke, reports a yield of six hundred seventy pounds of Grimm alfalfa seed off from a piece of ground slightly less than one acre. His neighbor, John V. Olson, reports a yield of even 600 pounds of the same kind of seed from an acre. This should give the Gatzke territory the distinction of having produced the highest yield per acre that has ever been recorded in the annals of Alfalfadom.

The board of directors of the Gatzke Co-operative Creamery held their quarterly meeting for the year at the State bank building on Saturday. They report this year's business as being excellent. Not only is the output larger than formerly, but the price per pound of butterfat is more for the month of September than some of the other concerns in the valley are paying for the product.

Mrs. C. A. Engelstad and daughter Mabel, returned from Grand Forks last Friday. Mrs. Engelstad spent a few days there visiting while Mabel has been employed there this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Saxvold and family, left for their new home at International Falls last Thursday. They made the trip by car.

S. O. Ostgaard made a business trip to Grygla last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Ostgaard and daughter Mildred motored to Thief River Falls last Saturday and returned on Sunday.

Mrs. Forrest Hedrick and Mrs. Arthur Atwood, were callers at S. Knutson's Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Anna Stone is employed at the S. Knutson home at present.

Ole Stone has been busy hauling grain this week. Many of the farmers are engaged in baling hay and hauling it to market.

RIVER FALLS

East Side School, Dist. 133.

Ruth Anderson of Bemidji is now spending a few days visiting with friends at St. Hilaire.

Ed. J. Eide of Virginia, Minn., left last Wednesday for his home there, after having been called here to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. P. Peterson.

Mrs. M. Swanson returned to her home at Red Wing last Friday, after a two month's visit with her sister, Mrs. J. Hedlund.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson spent last Sunday visiting the former's sister of Bemidji.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Norquist of Virginia, a boy. Mrs. Norquist was formerly Alice Erickson of St. Hilaire.

Mrs. M. B. Jensen of Nitchie, N. D., and Mrs. Cornelius of Minneapolis, returned to their respective homes last week, after spending a few days with their brother, G. B. Peterson.

MAVIE

J. J. Spieler returned Wednesday from St. Paul where he had been with a shipment of livestock. He visited for a day with relatives in the twin cities while away.

William Grueber, a brother of Mrs. J. J. Spieler, spent last week visiting at the Spieler home. He left Saturday for St. Cloud.

Gus. Anderson spent last week at Mentor attending to business matters. He came home Monday but returned to Mentor again the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Brownlee enjoyed a visit from Mr. Brownlee's sister, from Blue Earth, last week.

Mrs. Ferd. Hincik went to Thief River Falls Saturday and shopped between trains.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Davis and family of Plummer autoed to Mavie Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mrs. Davies' sister, Mrs. T. H. Smith.

Fred W. Bruss held an auction sale Thursday and sold all his farming equipment. He left Monday to join his family in Mankato. Mr. Bruss regrets having to leave his farm but on account of sickness his family was unable to be with him on the farm. Being about 70 years of age he felt that he was getting too old to "batch."

Rudolph Stageberg left Friday for Hibbing where he expects to find employment for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smith and family of Bemidji, spent Tuesday of last week in Mavie, visiting at the Smith home.

Chas. Ptacek, having his farm work done up for the season, left for the iron range to secure winter employment.

The countenances of many of our farmers have recently changed from the vertical to horizontal type. The reason for this change being that their stacks of sweet clover, at which they expected to browse their cattle during the winter, have been run through the threshing machine, resulting in from $200 to $600 additional revenue. The smile is the real old fashioned broad gauged kind.

Henry Dau went to Thief River Falls Monday to have his automobile toned up a little. There was nothing seriously wrong, only a little spitting and coughing which needed attention.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller were in Thief River Falls Monday conducting their pure bred Poland China Pig club sale. The sale went off nicely for the first attempt.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Brownlee were in Thief River Falls Monday and attended the Poland China sale.

Nine Bushels to Acre.

T. W. Stanley is the champion as far as yields of alfalfa for this district are concerned. Last week from one-half acre of Cossack alfalfa, he threshed four and a half bushels with a grain thresher, making the remarkable yield of nine bushels to the acre. The grass growth was also enormous. It was sown on new breaking two years ago. If anyone can beat it let us hear from you.—Baudete Region.

Cat Turned on Gas.

A cat at Colchester, England, chasing a mouse in the night, turned on a gas tap by a pat of its paw, imprisoned itself in the kitchen, nearly poisoned the dog, and would perhaps have poisoned a sleeping man, woman and child if the dog's howling had not awakened them.

Do Silos Pay?

(The American Agriculturist.)

Every time a dairyman fills his silo and has brought home to him the high cost of growing corn and producing ensilage, he wonders if it really pays, or if there is notsomeother way of getting a succulent feed for dairy cattle at a lower cost. There have always been dairymen who have never built silos and claim they can produce milk cheaper without ensilage; and there have been many others who came to the conclusion after using a silo for a time.

Because of this debated question, we have read with a great deal of interest a new bulletin entitled, "A Comparison of Roughages for Milk Production," published by the Iowa State College of Agriculture at Ames. After several years experiment in the use of corn silage as compared with other roughages, the writer of this bulletin summarizes his conclusions as follows:

1. The use of corn fodder instead of corn silage reduces milk production 6 per cent and fat production 3 per cent.
2. When the value of dry matter in silage was worth 66 cents per 100 pounds, that in corn fodder was worth 32½ cents.
3. With silage valued at $4.50 per ton, an acre of corn yielding 8 tons of green feed and converted into silage will yield $36 worth of feed, whereas, if converted into fodder the value of the crop will be reduced to $16.21 per acre.
4. When timothy hay is used to replace alfalfa hay in a good dairy ration the production of milk and butterfat is reduced 7 per cent.
5. With alfalfa hay at $15 per ton, timothy hay is worth 86 cents per ton for feeding cows.
6. When corn fodder and timothy hay are introduced as a ration in place of corn silage and alfalfa hay, there is a decrease of eighteen per cent in milk and fourteen per cent in fat production.
7. When the two poor roughages, corn fodder and timothy hay, are fed together, this combination gives them a slightly higher value individually than where one is fed with a good roughage, but good production or economical returns from the feeds cannot be obtained.
8. Corn silage and a legume hay (alfalfa) are the best roughages for dairy cattle, while corn fodder and timothy hay are poor.
9. If the corn crop is all to be fed to the cows is should be put in the silo. On the dairy farm, hays such as timothy should be sold and legume hays purchased in their stead.

A Nice Load.

Dan Stonehouse, the sweet clover king of the town of Equality, brought a load of sweet clover to town Saturday which he exchanged for a perfectly good check in the amount of $273. Mr. Stonehouse has produced about $1000 worth of sweet clover this season and also some red clover and alfalfa.—Oklee Herald.

Commissioners' Proceedings

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 12th, 1923.

The County Board for Pennington county met in special session in the office of the county auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, at one o'clock p. m. Members present: Commissioners Hanson, McGinn, Larson and Roy, Commissioner Olson being absent.

Meeting called to order by Chairman Commissioner McGinn. The county board had spent the day looking up sites for gravel pits and investigated several places where it would be likely to find gravel to be used in graveling State Road No. 5.

The gravel on the land owned by O. J. Peterson in section 35 in Town of Smiley proved to be the best and after due consideration the following order was made:

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Roy, who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the bid of Oscar J. Peterson for the purchase of gravel to be used on State Road No. 5 be accepted and that the county auditor hereby is authorized and instructed to enter into a contract with O. J. Peterson on behalf of Pennington county for such gravel. In accordance with agreement, O. J. Peterson is to furnish gravel and to do all stripping and keep pit open at all times, for which the county is to pay him 35 cents per cubic yard for all gravel taken out.

All members voted for the resolution and it was so declared approved.

Motion made by Commissioner Hanson, duly seconded by Commissioner Roy that the pay for hauling gravel on state aid roads be set as follows: 40 cents per yard for loading and 20 cents per yard per mile for hauling. Motion duly carried.

There being no further business the county board adjourned sine-die.

R. McGINN,
Chairman.

Attest:
T. P. ANDERSON,
County Auditor and Ex-officio
Clerk of the Board.

SALE OF SCHOOL AND OTHER STATE LANDS

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office, St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 3. 1923.

—Notice is hereby given that on November 14, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the county auditor, at Thief River Falls, Pennington county, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms of Sale:

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part within forty years from the date of sale, interest rate of four per cent per annum, due on June 1st of each year: provided, that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June first and May thirty-first without penalty.

The appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid in full at the time of sale.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed, under the caption: "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land, provided, however, that State lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraiser's reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office.

Lists giving legal descriptions of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at the county seat.

Rav P. Chase.
State Auditor.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1922 and in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1923, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by J. B. Shannon and Lottie Shannon, his wife, mortgagors, to A. E. Rolfson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of July, 1920, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., in Book 57 of Mortgages on page 497.

And whereas, A. E. Rolfson, the owner and holder of said mortgage as aforesaid, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage and the interest that has accrued thereon at the date of this notice, due and payable under the condition of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars;

And whereas, the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section thirty-one (31) and the north half of the northwest quarter (N½ NW¼) and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter (NW¼ NE¼) of section thirty-two (32), all in township one hundred fifty-four (154), north of range forty-five (45) west, containing two hundred eighty acres (280) more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in Pennington county, State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state on the 17th day of November, 1923, at ten o'clock a. m., of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars, with interest, and one hundred dollars ($100.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 24th. 1923.

A. E. ROLFSON,
Mortgagee.

CANADIANS LIKE AMERICAN BOYS

Splendid Letter Is Received From Manager of Big Winnipeg Hotel.

The following letter received the other day by Oscar Smith from R. H. Webb, manager of the Marlborough hotel at Winnipeg, contains so much of interest that The Tribune takes pleasure in giving it space. Mr. Webb says:

"I just want to say how pleased I was and also the staff of the Marlborough over the recent visit of the Legion boys to Winnipeg, and assure you that it was a great pleasure, and I hope that from time to time we will be getting in touch with each other frequently.

"Such visits as made by your boys are what we should attempt to have often, both from you and us to you, and nothing will promote the better feelings and knowledge of each other more than these frequent visits, because when real men get together it is bound to create good sentiment, and we will want to know more of each other.

"I will always be glad indeed to be of service to you, and any time any of the boys or any of your friends should be coming to Winnipeg or passing through, or any information they may require in any way at any time, it will be a pleasure to myself and the Marlborough to give it to you.

"I hope your impressions of Winnipeg were good, although I do not believe you saw as much of it as I would like you to have done. However, the more often you come the more acquainted you will get with it.

"Kindly give my regards to all the boys and also to Mr. Provencher."

FANCY POULTRY TO BE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Auction Sale Added as Feature of Crops and Poultry Show Here.

Idea Is to Place Standard Bred Poultry on Every Man's Farm.

An interesting feature in connection with the Winter Crops and Poultry show to be held in Thief River Falls early in December is the auction sale of standard bred poultry, which will be held on December 7 at 2 p. m. All breeds of chickens, turkeys, geese and ducks will be included.

This sale is open for all who have standard bred poultry to sell. Those entering birds are requested to state what breed, strain, age of each bird, and whether to be sold as single birds, trios or pens. Ten per cent will be charged for auctioneer's fees. Sales entries will close at noon on December 4 and bills covering all birds to be sold will be printed the day after entries close. The sale comes on the last day of the show, which makes it convenient to crate the birds for removal home or shipping.

Dec. 7 will be poultry educational day. Commencing at 1 o'clock, Mr. Stanfield, the judge of the show, will be on the job to explain what makes up the good qualities in all breeds of standard bred poultry and to answer any questions which may be asked in this connection. Besides the judge being on the job for this part of the big show, all breeders are asked to be on hand to help out in this part of the program so that it may prove of value particularly to beginners in the poultry game. By this time all prizes will be placed which will add greatly in discussing the good points of poultry.

The evening of December 4 will be set aside for a talk on poultry by Judge Stanfield. Boys' and girls' club work for 1924 and other topics of interest to the poultry industry will be discussed.

The big idea behind the poultry sale is to place in this community good standard bred fouls of all varieties and to stimulate interest in the poultry business in this vicinity.

Promotors of the sale are of the belief that this is a very good way in which to get good birds placed where they will do the most good.

Ford Has Close Call.

Register of Deeds Fred Lorentson on Saturday came mighty near losing his trusty Ford. He parked it near the court house and in the course of about an hour went out to use it. Smoke was issuing in a dense cloud from the front seat and Mr. Lorentson hurriedly removed the cushion, which was burned beyond repair. Had the fire remained unnoticed for a few minutes longer it would have reached the gas tank, with disastrous results. Just how the fire started is a mystery but it is presumed that some passerby had carelessly thrown a cigarette "snipe" into the seat, which burned through the upholstering and ignited the stuffing with which the cushion is packed.

Return From Vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Newell returned the latter part of the week after having spent more than a month on an automobile trip to southern Minnesota and Illinois points, where they visited relatives. The entire trip was made without mishap in their new Studebaker six and proved a most enjoyable outing.

Going to Hibbing.

Oscar and Vernon Evenson, who for some time past have conducted an automobile repair shop in the Rasmusson building on Main avenue, have closed their establishment for the season and will leave for Hibbing where they have secured employment in a large shop for the winter months.

Bundy Busts a Wing.

In the fracas which resulted when the car in which he was riding struck another car which it is claimed was standing in the road without lights last Saturday evening, Hjalmer Bundy of this city is carrying one arm in a sling. The flivers were quite badly used up but can be repaired.

Improvements at Hospital.

Considerable new and modern equipment is being added at the Physicians hospital from time to time. Recently a sterlizer costing $2,000 has been installed, and during the past summer a complete and up-to-date X-ray equipment was installed.

Judge Performs Wedding.

Judge N. W. Tarrant this afternoon joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Knute Hanson and Gladys O. Anderson, both residents of Pennington county.

Look up Simonson's ad in this issue of The Tribune if you want to see some real bargains in groceries and meats. His announcement is full of money-saving opportunities. 31

Rev. T. Myhrer of Newfolden will preach at Numedal Free church Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Drs. Haney & Twete of Thief River Falls will be at Holt on Friday, October 26. 31

West Coast People Here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilde left Sunday evening on their return to their home at Portland, Oregon, after a short visit at the home of the former's brother, W. H. Wilde, who resides southeast of Thief River Falls. They were accompanied by Mrs. F. G. Wilde, mother of the two men, who had been visiting here for several weeks. H. F. Wilde is an engineer on the Southern Pacific. He and Mrs. Wilde had made an extended tour of the southern and western sections of the country before coming here. The two brothers had not seen each other for many years and enjoyed the recent visit immensely.

Ahead of Schedule.

Contractor L. D. McAdams is making rapid progress with construction work on the new Great Northern depot and the new home of The Tribune and states that he is now well ahead of the schedule originally planned. With a few more days of nice weather he will have both buildings completed to a degree which will make it possible to proceed regardless of rain, snow or freezing temperature.

U. C. T. Dance.

The United Commercial Travelers are arranging a dancing party to be held at the auditorium on Friday evening, October 26. The Knights of the grip have a reputation to maintain in the matter of successful dances and promise the coming event is to be no exception to the rule. Good music will be furnished and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

Returns to Minneapolis.

H. M. McCracken leaves today on his return to his home in Minneapolis after having spent a month on the farm of his son, C. McCracken, west of Thief River Falls. The elder McCracken comes out occasionally to help the boy out in a rush period of work on the farm.

Tourists in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Arneson, who are making an extended tour of the West in their automobile, are for the present located in Seattle, Wash., and expect to remain there for a short time. A letter from them states that they are both well and enjoying the tour immensely.

Helmer Larson Family Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Larson and children returned alst week to their home at Barrett, this state, after spending a few days at the homes of Carl and L. H. Larson. They arrived from Karstad, where they had visited for a brief time. The trip was made by car.

Ford Leaves Rails.

It is reported that a Ford car belonging to Chas. Asp, a school teacher in the eastern part of Pennington county, left the rails on the road near Goodridge on Saturday. Mr. Asp received a few bruises and the car was somewhat damaged.

To California.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson and children, 621 Arnold Ave. N., left yesterday by car for California where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Johnson was employed as driver for the merchants in this city for a number of years.

New Assistant Superintendent.

Miss Clara Turnquist arrived Monday evening from Dawson, Minn., and has been added to the Physicians hospital staff as assistant superintendent. Miss Turnquist is a graduate of the Mankato hospital.

Back to Canada.

Arthur Working leaves this week on his return to his home at Buerrs, Ontario, Canada, after a stay in this city since early in August. While employed in a lumber mill at International Falls young Working suffered an injury to his heel which developed into a serious case of blood poisoning and several weeks of drastic treatment were found necessary to get him back in shape. He still walks with the aid of crutches but the injured heel is improving in a satisfactory manner.

School Children's Sight!

Imperfect vision makes imperfect impressions on the brain. With the beginning of school, careful attention should be given your child's eyesight.

Many so-called backward or stupid children are merely suffering from defective vision. The eyes of every child should be examined at the beginning of every school year.

BANKERS ENDORSE MOVEMENT TO INCREASE ACREAGE OF ALFALFA ON PENNINGTON COUNTY FARMS

Annual Meeting of Association on Tuesday Evening Marks Beginning of Important Campaign.

The bankers of Pennington county have been bitten by the alfalfa bug. At their annual meeting held last evening in the main lobby of the First and Peoples' bank, they resolved to give their moral and financial support to a movement which in a large way will have for its object a substantial increase in the alfalfa acreage of the county.

Seldom has so much pep been manifested at a banker's meeting in this neck of the woods. It has dawned on the bankers that we have oil wells and gold mines on every hand in the shape of alfalfa land which will make the whole country-side blossom like the rose. Instead of seeking wealth in foreign fields these keepers of the purse have decided to put their moral support and money back of the resources placed by Providence in our very dooryard.

Accordingly plans are under way which promise speedy development. So many things developed at the meeting that the bankers were simply bewildered at the magnitude of the undertaking. But one thing is sure. They are determined to get back of the farmers of the county in a gigantic alfalfa campaign which may mean 5,000 new acres of alfalfa and may mean 10,000, and just how this campaign is to be carried out remains to be worked out. So enthusiastic were the assembled bankers, however, that a similar meeting will be held next Tuesday evening at which time a definite plan will be agreed upon.

The first business to come before the meeting was the election of officers. Theo. Thronson, cashier of the First National bank of this city was elected president; J. P. Jenson of Goodridge, vice president and Thos. H. Smith of Mavie, secretary-treasurer.

The attendance was almost 100 per cent, only one bank in the county failing to have a representative present. Every banker present had an interesting story to relate of how this or that customer had pulled out of a bad financial mud puddle through the medium of sweet clover or alfalfa. They have discovered, moreover, that the raising of alfalfa and clover has a peculiar mental effect on the producer. He sees the sow thistle disappear from view with other noxious weeds. He sees the specter of late springs a thing of the past, and the man is completely transformed into a happy and contented human being whose labors promise to bring substantial reward.

So far the campaign has reached the stage where the bankers are determined to aid in making proper analysis of the soil, in studying methods of preparing seed beds, planting time, etc., as well as financing on an extensive scale seed properly certified.

Another thing which occupied the attenion of the bankers is the organization in this city of an intermediate credit bank. A committee was appointed to gather data and to secure blanks with the idea that stock would be offered for sale in the near future. Similar institutions are now being formed in many sections of the middle west, particularly in the cattle and dairying districts. Under the terms of the act money is loaned to the farmers to finance the purchase of cattle on a basis of seven per cent interest, the loans running for a period of three years.

The Tribune feels that the bankers are moving in the right direction. With the pep and optimism which they are displaying one may look for renewed energy and activity in the community to the end that our future prosperity may be placed on the solid foundation of alfalfa, more and better cows, pure bred sires, more sheep, etc., etc. With this will come hundreds of settlers seeking the rich agricultural land in this territory. As one banker put it to The Tribune last evening, "slowly but surely it is coming home to the home folks that the green fields which we have been seeking are to be found at the threshold of our homes"

Many Young Ladies Learn Nursing in Hospital Here

Many young women are taking advantage of the opportunity offered to learn nursing at the Physicians hospital in this city. Those who have entered this fall are Misses Irene Beisemeier and Cora Berg, Mahnomen, Bertha Aaseby and Judith Quammen of Thief River Falls. The following are graduates this year from the hospital here and in Minneapolis, and where they are now located: Grace McCrum, visiting nurses, Minneapolis; Lillian Provencher, Hopewell hospital, Minneapolis; Eleanor Harm, Hopewell hospital, Minneapolis; Paula Amend, private nurse, Coleraine, Minn., Mollie Hermanson, Minneapolis General hospital; Helen Nordquist, private nurse here; Leona Wilde, hospital at Stillwater.

Pioneer Resident Passes Following Short Illness; Came Here 36 Years Ago

Mrs. Louisa Frances Douglas, for 36 years a resident of Pennington county, died on Tuesday at her home on Red Lake Boulevard. She had been seriously ill for only a few days and death resulted from a complication of diseases.

Deceased was born November 18, 1850, at Rubicon, Wis., and prior to coming to this section resided for a number of years at Alderly, Wis. Mr. Douglas died here in 1898. Mrs. Douglas leaves four sons to mourn her death, as follows: Delos, Hibbing; James Y., Mercedes, Cal.; A. C., Hocksey, Alberta, Canada, and R. C., Moorhead, Minn. All of them will be present at the funeral except James, of California, who is unable to make the trip. Deceased also leaves one nephew, S. T. Marchel of Pipestone, Minn., who will attend the funeral, and one sister, Mrs. W. A. Reed of Oconomowoc, Wis., who cannot come owing to sickness.

Funeral services will be conducted at the house tomorrow afternoon at two o'clock and from the chapel in Larson's undertaking parlors, with Rev. J. B. Smith of the Methodist church in charge. Due to the fact that repairs are being made in the Methodist church it was found impossible to conduct the services there. Interment will be in Greenwood cemetery.

Mrs. Douglas was possessed of a kind and cheerful disposition and had a large number of friends in the community who will sincerely mourn her death.

MORE FILE FOR OFFICIAL JOBS

Interest in City Election Increases as the Time Approaches.

City politics are warming up little by little. Several more candidates for the various offices have filed during the past week and every position on the city council is now contested. This means that a good vote will turn out and that there will be plenty of interest in the outcome of the balloting when election day rolls around on November 6.

Recent filings include T. A. Fossum as alderman from the First ward; John Dahl, Second ward; H. A. Brumund, Third ward; Carsten Christensen, Third ward; O. O. Rambeck, Fourth ward; Albert Hæseth, at large; Oscar C. Paulson, at large; Ed. M. Evenson, treasurer, and J. S. Arneson, mayor. Mr. Arneson filed for mayor on Saturday after being waited upon and urged to do so by a commitee carrying a petition signed by several hundred voters of the city, representing almost every business establishment and organization in Thief River Falls.

There is some question as to the exact date upon which filings may be made. The law says 15 days prior to the election, which would set the date on Sunday, October 21. Some claim that Monday, October 22, is the final day, but City Clerk A. H. Akre believes that in order to play safe all prospective candidates should have their names on file with him on or before Saturday, October 20.

Commercial Travelers Are Hosts to High Dignitaries

Last Saturday evening the local order of the United Commercial Travelers of America held a regular meeting and entertained as guests Grand Senior Councilor Thos. I. Lewis of Moorhead, Minn., and Grand Sentinel Joseph J. Daley of Grand Forks. There were a number of visitors from Grand Forks, Crookston and other points. A large class of knights of the grip were in waiting and the ritualistic work was exemplified for the benefit of the grand officers and the visitors present.

A banquet was served in the Masonic hall club rooms at 5:30 in the afternoon, which was attended by about 75 U. C. T. boosters.

Young Lady Injured in Auto Spill Last Sunday

Miss Anna Jenson, nurse at Oakland Park sanatorium, received a severe shock and a number of painful bruises last Sunday when a Ford car in which she and her brother were riding skidded and turned over on the road north of Thief River Falls. The young lady has been confined in a local hospital since the accident but is making a satisfactory recovery and will be out within a few days.

Alfalfa Will Be Subject Handled By Speakers at Noonday Lunch Thursday

Special interest attaches to the noonday meeting and luncheon of the Commercial club tomorrow (Thursday). Alfalfa has been chosen as the subject for discussion tomorrow and any resident of Pennington county who is interested in the culture or possibilities of this product are urged to be present.

Mr. Hutchinson, an alfalfa expert, who has given many years of study to the subject, will be present at the meeting and is scheduled to deliver a short address. In addition, a number of local alfalfa men are to be heard from. Mr. Hutchinson made a visit to several farms in the county last week and has an important message to deliver. Pennington county is a natural alfalfa district, according to Mr. Hutchinson, and he will have something of importance to say concerning it. Be on hand at the meeting tomorrow and get wised up on alfalfa.

PREMIER LLOYD GEORGE IN TOWN

Famous Briton Passes Thru Thief River Falls on American Tour.

David Lloyd George, former premier of England, accompanied by his wife and daughter, passed through Thief River Falls last Sunday evening on Soo Line train No. 110 on his way from Winnipeg to Minneapolis. The former premier, on the advice of his physician, had retired to rest when the train passed through Thief River Falls and the large crowd of people which had gathered at the depot did not get a glimpse of the great Welshman.

Lloyd George is making a tour of America and is making speeches in a number of the larger cities. His first stop in America was in New York, and from there he went to Eastern Canada. After going westward as far as Winnipeg he re-entered the United States to complete his tour in this country. The former premier is given a royal welcome wherever he appears.

Error in Reporting Votes.

It seems that The Tribune made an error last summer in reporting the number of Democratic votes cast in the Fourth ward on July 16, the day of the special senatorial election. A good Democrat living in that ward shows by official records that six such votes were cast instead of only two as reported in The Tribune. This paper acknowledges its error and is glad to make the correction.

FOOTBALL HERE NEXT SATURDAY

East Grand Forks to Lock Horns With Team From Lincoln High.

Football fans of Thief River Falls are to be given an opportunity next Saturday afternoon of witnessing a real contest. That afternoon the team representing the East Grand Forks high school is scheduled to try conclusions with the local high school team, and the game will commence at 3 o'clock sharp.

Profiting from experience gained in previous games this season and growing better every day as the result of heavy practice work under the direction of Coach Thune, the locals should be able to give a satisfactory account of themselves next Saturday. It is true they have won no games so far this season but when it is considered they have been up against some of the strongest aggregations in this section of the country it must be admitted they have nothing to be ashamed of.

Last Saturday at Bemidji the Lincoln high school lads met defeat to the tune of 56 to 0. Bemidji has what is considered one of the strongest teams in the entire state, and a week previous they defeated Detroit by a score of 80 to 0. The locals showed up much better than in any previous game this season and must be given credit for putting up a hard fight against heavy odds.

Turn out to the game next Saturday and help the high school boys win a decisive victory against East Grand Forks lads. The local boys intend to put up a stiff fight and are worthy of the support of every citizen of Thief River Falls.

Froseth Improving.

Perry Froseth, who for several weeks has been confined in a local hospital on account of injuries received in an automobile accident, is reported to be improving slowly. An X-ray taken last week discloses that no fracture of the skull exists and it is expected that Perry will in time be completely restored to his former good health.

Noted Norwegian Coming to Lecture Here Nov. 1st at Sons of Norway Hall

An event of particular interest to the large population of Norwegians in this section of the state is the lecture to be given on Thursday evening, November 1, at the Sons of Norway hall, Thief River Falls, by John Bojer, the noted Norwegian author. Mr. Bojer is a resident of Noway and has gained world fame through his writings. Many of his works may be found in the local library and his visit will therefore prove of particular interest to those who have read the author's works. The lecture will be delivered in the Norwegian language, but the subject has not as yet been announced.

Members of the Sons of Norway lodge are making preparations for a large attendance and he general public is asked not to forget the date—November 1, at 8 o'clock. Further particulars concerning the lecture will appear in next week's issue of The Tribune.

PASTOR TO GIVE LECTURE SERIES

Rev. Chas. Gerlinger of Presbyterian Church to Deliver Talks.

Are you a critic of the church? Have you found fault with her for having so many divisions and so little unity? If so, you will be interested in a series of lectures which Mr. Gerlinger has announced in connection with the Wednesday evening services of the Presbyterian church. The purpose of these lectures will be to give the people information on the history of the church so they will be more sympathetic with her problems. If one is to criticize the church, he ought to do it intelligently. Here is an opportunity to be informed. Here is an opportunity to see the reason why we have Lutherans, Methodists and Presbyterians. If one understands the history he will be less adverse in his criticism.

These lectures will deal with the founding of the church, with her spread to Europe and America, the rise and decline of the Papal power, the Protestant Reformation, and the struggles of the branches of the church for their lives, the rise of Lutherans, Baptists, Presbyterians, Congregationalists, Quakers and Methodists. They will also deal with recent progressive movements of the church and progress made toward unity.

The first of the lectures will be given Wednesday evening, Oct. 24, at 7:30, being preceded by a twenty minute devotional period.

CONFERENCE ON AT CITY CHURCH

Sessions Open on Tuesday Evening With Many People in Attendance.

Dr. Gaebelein of New York City arrived in Thief River Falls, Tuesday evening, for the opening session of the Bible Conference which is being held in the Presbyterian church every afternoon and evening through Sunday of this week. Dr. Gaebelein was accompanied by Peter MacFarlane, superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission of St. Paul, Miss Nellie Nelson, soloist, and Mrs. C. F. Pihlstrom of Warren, who is acting as song leader. On Saturday F. A. Steven, returned missionary from China Inland Mission will speak on his experiences in China. On Sunday the services will be in charge of Sidney Smith, business man from Winnipeg, who will speak morning, afternoon and evening.

The sessions opened Tuesday evening with a large gathering of people. Dr. Gaebelein is a lecturer of note as well as an author. He has just completed a nine volume commentary on the Bible. He is editor of a number of books on religious subjects. Thief River Falls is fortunate to secure a man of such ability. It was possible to secure him only by arranging a series of Bible Conferences in other cities. Dr. Gaebelein lectures in Hallock, Warren, Winnipeg and Thief River Falls. Crookston wished to secure his services but were unable to do so at this time because Dr. Gaebelein must return to the East within a few days.

The sessions of the Conference are held at 3 o'clock in the afternoon and at 7:4 in the evening. 5

T. J. Hagen Here.

T. J. Hagen, who just completed a course at the Palmer Chiropractic school at Davenport, Ia., is in the city as a guest of friends this week and attending to business matters. Mr Hagen has not yet decided where he will locate. He was formerly in partnership with Mr. Ebert in the Music store business in this city.

THIEF RIVER FALLS BRANCH OF NORTHERN STATES OIL COMPANY PROPERTY OF NEW ORGANIZATION

Recently Organized Local Branch of Pyramid Oil Company Purchases Business, Equipment and Good Will.

A deal was closed yesterday whereby the Thief River Falls property of the Northern States Oil company was sold to the Pyramid Oil company, with a large number of local residents and farmers financially interested. It is understood the concern also has acquired the property of the Peoples Auto company on Main avenue south, with the intention of converting the front part of this building into a modern filling and service station as soon as the work can be done.

Included in the purchase are all filling stations formerly maintained by the Northern States company, which includes pumps at Borry's garage and Kohn & Fiterman's, Thief River Falls; Peoples' Auto company, Red Lake Falls; Leo J. Carpenter, St. Hilaire, and the Goodridge Auto company, Goodridge. It is planned to install pumps at once in the McFarland garage, Thief River Falls; Spieler garage, Mavie, and at practically all other garages in the territory surrounding this city.

The new service station planned on the site of the Peoples' Auto company will be modern and will contain many special conveniences, including a large rest room for ladies. The location is ideal, being practically in the heart of the city on the Jefferson highway, easily accessible from every direction. Work on the new filling station will be started as soon as possible. The Peoples Auto company is busy moving its stock to Red Lake Falls, which is headquarters of the concern and where the business will be carried on in the future.

With the strong local backing of the Pyramid oil company it is sure to do a good business from the start. In addition it will operate more gas and oil service stations in this district than all other concerns operating here. Through the purchase of the Northern States company the new concern will enjoy right from the start more than twice the business originally anticipated, both here and in the adjoining counties supplied from here. A royalty will be paid to certificate holders on every gallon of gas and oil sold in this territory, which naturally will serve to draw local trade to the new organization. Certificate holders are guaranteed seven per cent interest upon their investments and a profit on all gas and oil sold.

Organization work has been in progress here for several weeks under the direction of E. L. Kennedy, with H. M. Mueller and Robt. A. Clyborne as assistants. The Pyramid Oil company was organized about five years ago and its success has been remarkable. Today the company has some of the best stations in the Northwest. The pump stations will carry a full line of Pyramid oils, greases, gasoline and kerosene, all quality goods sold under a guarantee of satisfaction or money refunded. Ben Erickson has been placed in charge as local manager.

Newfolden Boy Narrowly Escapes Serious Injury When Run Down By Auto

The eight year old son of Frank Cook of Newfolden miraculously escaped serious injury yesterday noon when he was knocked down and run over by an automobile on Third street in front of the Langseth shoe store. The car was driven by M. Bothun of this city.

The lad set out to cross the street and darted out from between a row of parked automobiles directly into the path of the oncoming car, evidently not being aware of its approach. The driver did not see the boy until too late to stop his car and struck the lad a glancing blow. Upon examination by a doctor it was found that no serious injury had resulted. the only evidences of the collision being a bumped nose and a skinned knee. After the wounds had been dressed the boy was taken to his home.

Legion Holds Meeting.

Elmer Eklund Post of the American Legion held a very interesting and well attended meeting last evening. Owing to a last minute rush in the composing room a complete report of the meeting must be laid over until next issue.

Visits Former Home.

J. E. Cosgrove returned this week after having spent a few dasy at Ottumwa and other points in Iowa on a visit to relatives and friends. Mr. Cosgrove was a resident of Ottumwa before coming to Thief River Falls several years ago.

QUOTA REACHED IN SPUD DRIVE

Required 50 Per Cent of the Growers Signed Up Before Drive Starts.

Pennington county went over the top with a rush when it came to signing up the necessary 50 per cent of the potato acreage in the Minnesota Potato Exchange. The drive set for Tuesday did not materialize to any extent owing to the muddy condition of the roads, but a number of teams are working today throughout the county in an effort to reach every grower. At a meeting held in Goodridge last Friday evening a number of growers from that end of the county were signed up, and these in turn promised to go out and get their neighbors in on the movement.

F. J. Stebbins, chairman of the committee having the potato matter in charge, reports that good progress is being made today, which means that Pennington county's acreage to the extent of almost 100 per cent will become affiliated with the co-operative marketing plan. The required 50 per cent was signed up before the drive had fairly started, which is an exceptionally good showing.

The committee in general charge and the teams engaged in signing up the growers will submit a complete report at tomorrow's meeting of the Commerical club.

Miss Kolberg Returns.

Miss T. M. Kolberg, local chiropractor, returned this morning from a two week's visit at the home of her parents at Bottineau, N. D.

One Unsought Position to Be Filled on November 6

In all the excitement preceding the city election next month there is danger of one office going begging for a candidate. This is the job of special municipal judge to serve if for any reason the regular municipal judge is unable to do so. G. Howard Smith was elected to this position six years ago and still holds the job because no one has tried to get it away from him. Two years ago Chas. Brink was the choice of the voters but never qualified, which brings into play the provision that an officer shall continue in power until his successor qualifies. Mr. Smith still is the special judge and unless the voters pick a new man this year he will continue to act in that capacity until further notice.

Men to Serve Supper.

The men folks of the Zion Lutheran congregation have taken it upon themselves to serve a supper next Wednesday evening in the basement of the Zion church, beginning at 5:30 and continuing until all are served. The men folks have been enjoying the ladies' cooking for so long they figure it about time to reciprocate by putting on a spread without the assistance of the gentler sex, and the general public is invited to sample the grub.

STRONG PICTURE HERE ON SUNDAY

"Little Church Around the Corner" Is Realistic and Very Thrilling.

Seeing "The Little Church Around the Corner," which will be shown at the Princess treatre next Sunday and Monday, is worth while, for it is an entertainment of rare pleasure, a picture drama of the type that comes about once in a blue moon.

The worth-whileness is due to the fact that some of the important actions in this production take place in a mining town—and so well is it reproduced that the illusion is perfect; you have the spirit of the strikers dramatically rendered, the mining district, streets and mines; it is all done so vividly that you think the camera man had waited for a miners' strike before proceeding to take the picture.

David Graham, a young minister just graduated from the seminary, finds his heart divided between his people—the workers in a mining town—and pretty Leila Morton, daughter of the millionaire mine owner, who is grinding his employes and refusing them proper living conditions. There is an accident that threatens to snuff out the lives of scores of workers—a strike—a murder, and in fierce succession follow dramatic episodes so grippingly related that one forgets everything else as irrelevant.

G. N. RAILROAD NOW PREPARED FOR HUGE TASK

Has Thousands of New Cars and One Hundred New Locomotives.

Transportation Machine Is Expanded to Meet Needs of Territory.

Preparations for handling a record-breaking volume of freight traffic this fall have been completed by the Great Northern Railway, the exceptional expansion of facilities assuring adequate service during the busiest season of the year, to the large section of the Northwest served by the Hill lines, it was disclosed in a statement by executives here. Additions and betterments to road, terminals, motive power and equipment, which have so greatly increased the freight handling capacity and operating efficiency of the transcontinental system, resulted from the completion of a $30,000,000 improvement program this year, it was emphasized.

The program included new double track, automatic block signals, new and larger terminal yards, laying of heavier rail and the purchase of large, new freight and passenger locomotives and new cars. This year, the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before, officials said, car and locomotive supplies being larger and this equipment being in exceptionally good condition, in fact in better condition than at any time since the beginning of Federal control in 1917.

Among the many improvements made through maintenance of way work are the laying of 2,250,000 cross ties, the replacement of 45,000 tons of lighter rail and the placing of 400,000 cubic yards of ballasting. Maintenance of equipment included the rebuilding of 3,600 freight cars, the rebuilding of twenty-five locomotives and rebuilding into all-steel cars of thirty diners and ten passenger and baggage cars.

Expenditure of large sums was required for the elimination of grade crossings, new bridges and trestles, telegraph and telephone facilities, automatic block signals, additional main and yard tracks, freight and passenger stations, fuel and water stations, engine terminals, and coal and ore docks. Freight equipment purchased included 2,000 box, 1,500 ore and 500 automobile cars. In addition to freight cars rebuilt, extensive repairs were made to several thousand other cars.

This $30,000,000 program was carried out in the face of poor earnings, such expenditure being justified only by the needs of patrons in Great Northern territory and by confidence in the ultimate return of prosperity to the fertile fields of the Northwest, officials pointed out.

"The Great Northern is prepared adequately for an exceptionally busy season," said Chairman Louis W. Hill of the board of directors. "The territory served by the Great Northern Railway harvests its crops and ships to market its heaviest load in the fall and this peak burden has been in mind as preparations to handle it efficiently have been made."

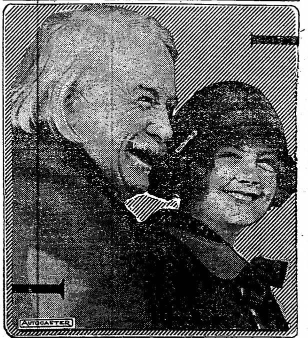
"This year the Great Northern is prepared to handle a larger traffic than ever before. It has purchased nearly 100 large, new locomotives of the most modern type, as well as 4,000 new freight cars. It has built new track and improved old; it is equipped to do the people's work well. A supply of cars is one of the important factors in such preparation. The Great Northern not only owns ample equipment for the crop moving season, but it has these cars on its own lines ready for business and in excellent condition."

"Actual records of equipment owned and on line show:

	Owned by Great Northern	On Great Northern Lines
Box cars (including automobile and furniture cars)	32,572	34,046
Stock cars	1,893	1,946
Refrigerator cars	5,508	9,352
Other freight cars	18,926	20,315
Total freight cars	58,899	65,659

"So prepared the Great Northern is confident that it can give adequate service to the Northwest throughout the busiest season of the year. It appreciates the patronage given and asks, in the interests of shippers as much as its interest, that shippers and receivers of freight load cars to capacity, load and unload promptly and avoid diversion of shipments wherever possible, that the capacity of the system be utilized fully and greatest efficiency of service thus be assured."

Lloyd George and "Pal" See America



David Lloyd George, England's War Premier and the strong man of that great conflict, sailed into New York Harbor on his first trip here to be accorded a welcome which left the little Scotchman breathless. With his wife and daughter he is now in Canada prior to a tour of the United States, when great demonstrations will be featured at every stop. Shown with him here is his daughter, Megan, his "pal" and constant companion.

Minnesota Judging Teams Win National First Prize

New laurels for the state university's department of agriculture and for boys' and girls' club work as directed by the agricultural extension service of the university were gathered at the National Dairy Show at Syracuse, N. Y., when a team of three seniors from the Minnesota College of Agriculture won first place and the grand sweepstakes cup in the dairy cattle judging contest staged for agricultural college teams of the country, and when the Minnesota junior dairy demonstration team proved its title clear to first place in a contest with 19 demonstration teams from as many states, and when also the Minnesota dairy judging team captured fourth place with 20 teams judging at the big show.

Minnesota's College of Agriculture team was composed of Russell W. Seath of Albert Lea, Walter LeMon of Harris and Thomas Canfield, Jr., of St. Paul. If there were 29 college teams in this contest, as an early telegram stated, then 87 individual college students took part. Of these, Seath ranked fifth, Canfield tenth, and LeMon twelfth.

Theodore Fenske and Marshall Nugent, both of Bemidji and both about 17, were the boys who won the junior championship demonstration team honors at Syracuse. They demonstrated their right at the Minnesota State Fair to represent Minnesota juniors at the National Dairy Show. The two boys have been in club work several years and have been very successful in putting into practice on their father's farms what they get out of club work. The Minnesota junior dairy cattle judging team sent to the National was composed of George Chambers of Owatonna, Clyde Roberts of Anoka and Clement Chase of Farmington.

Obituary

Mrs. Augusta Johnson.

Last Friday evening, Oct. 12th, at 11:00 o'clock, occurred the sad death of Mrs. Augusta Johnson, wife of Emil Johnson, 606 Kendall Ave. S., at the Physicians' hospital, due to a tumor of the stomach. Deceased was at the time of her death 54 years and 11 months old. Mrs. Johnson was born in Karrihia congregation, Elfsborgs Lan, Westergotland, Sweden, where she lived until 1891 and then emigrated to the United States. In 1897 she was united in marriage to Emil Johnson, at Chicago, where they lived for one year. They then moved to Richland county, North Dakota, where they resided for 12 years and then came to Pennington county, where they resided on a farm four miles west of this city until a few years ago when they moved to Kendall avenue.

Mrs. Johnson was a loving christian mother and was loved by everyone who knew her. Besides her grief stricken husband, she leaves to mourn her departure, four children, three daughters, Agnes, Elsie and Ellen and one son, Carl. A son, Elmer, passed away several years ago. She also has four sisters and one brother in Sweden.

Funeral services were held yesterday afternoon from the Augustana Swedish church, Rev. Albin A. Larson reading the rites and the remains were laid to rest in Greenwood cemetery. The pallbearers were: John Johnson, R. Johnson, Anton Sundahl, Ed. Torsberg, John Kellberg and P. B. Malberg.

Oscar Melvin Skramstad.

Oscar Melvin Skramstad died last Saturday evening, October 13, after an illness of three weeks, due to appendicitis. He is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Skramstad, and was born September 9, 1909, eight miles north of this city, being at the time of his death fourteen years of age. Oscar since July 10 had been visiting at the home of his grandfather, at Tuffnell, Sask., Can., and three weeks ago began ailing and was sent home. He was immediately taken to the Physician's hospital, but it was found that his appendix had already burst. He was a cheerful and bright lad and always a favorite among his playmates who will greatly miss him. Besides his griefstricken parents, he leaves his sister and brother, Della and Owen.

Funeral services were held yesterday morning at the Silver Creek church, four miles east of Steiner, Rev. T. E. Sweger officiating, and interment was made in the cemetery near there. Six of his school chums acted as pallbearers, John Morgan, Harry Lonson, Morris Oen, Herbert Meyers, Ottoe Stenberg and Gilbert Olson.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank the many friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us and tendered their sympathy during the illness and following the death of our beloved son and brother, Oscar Melvin. We especially thank Mr. Carl Larson, who so kindly contributed his cars for our use, and also the fourth, fifth and sixth grades for their beautiful floral offerings.—Mr. and Mrs. Duffy Skramstad, Della and Owen.

Oil Burning Furnace.

The latest wrinkle in heating equipment has recently been installed in the residence of D. P. Gamble. The heat is supplied by an oil burning furnace, the first of its kind to be installed in Thief River Falls.

FUFFALO BONES ARE UNEARTHED

Workers on Great Northern Make Unusual Find in Excavating.

Great Northern engineers, constructing a new railroad bridge over Clearwater river four miles west of the village of Bagley, found a great deposit of Buffalo bones underneath the bed of the river, Wednesday when they were making excavations preparatory to sinking concrete pillars for the support of the new bridge, says the Bemidji Pioneer.

The deposit of bones and skulls was first struck four feet beneath the surface of the water. Some of the bones were covered with nine feet of deposit. The discovery has historical value and has occasioned some excitement at Bagley, to which point the first skulls were brought.

Workmen engaged in building the bridge assert that the deposit of bones extends perhaps 100 feet in length and is seven feet deep. Some of the skulls are mammoth heads and are almost turned to stone with age. Many odd-shaped bones have been found which are thought to be parts of other North American animals. Every indication of the deposit shows that a long period of time has intervened between the date on which they were first covered over and the present time.

Some think the deposit is a glacial deposit, which would date back to the last glacial period of twenty-five thousand years ago. Others can see the possibility of a great buffalo stampede thousands of years ago in which the animals piled over the cliffs along the Clearwater at that point and plunged down into the soft river bed, the foremost of the herd possibly becoming mired and the remainder piling over them, crushing one another.

It is expected that biologists of the State University will become interested and will investigate the deposit for historical purposes. The deposit is interesting in that it shows buffalo once inhabited this region in great numbers. Several of the skulls are on display in the Pioneer office display windows.

Going to South Dakota.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Stein, who have been residents of Pennington county for the past six years, expect to leave next week for Stratford, S. D., to make their home. They operated a farm east of Thief River Falls for many years and for the past two years have resided in the city. Mr. Stein was appointed deputy sheriff last winter and acted in that capacity until recently.

The Rural Carrier.

A newspaper exchange very truthfully says: "If the patrons of the rural mail routes want good mail service next winter, now is the time to prepare for it. Weeds should not be allowed to fringe the public highways and catch the drifting snow, making them almost impassable a part of the time. Cut down all the weeds along the highways and much of the unpleasantness of the winter months can be prevented. Every rural mail carrier earns twice as much as he gets during bad winter months and while he is willing to give his patrons the best of service, it is asking too much to expect him to cover the route satisfactorily if he must shovel his way through the drifts. Cut down the weeds along the highways now and do your part toward making the roads better during the winter."

CAN YOU AFFORD TO LOSE THE BEST COW IN YOUR HERD EVERY YEAR

You would lose the value of a good dairy cow every year in a lower price for butterfat if you had to sell where there are no co-operative creameries.

For the past 10 years the average price paid by Cream Stations and Centralizers has been 5 cents below the average price paid by Co-operative Creameries and 10 cents below the price paid by the best Co-operative Creameries.

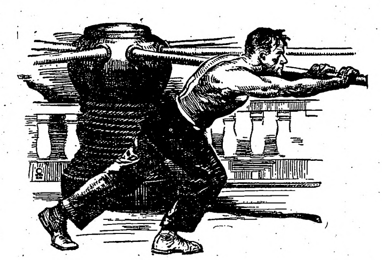
This means a loss of from $7 to $15 per cow a year or over $100 loss a year for the average herd.

The big centralizers that have captured most of the country are now beginning a "Drive" on the Co-operative Creameries in Minnesota.

Temporary high prices should not fool anybody.

Farmers have fought too many years for control of the sale of their products to let go now of the best business they have—their Co-operative Creameries.

THIEF RIVER CO-OP. CREAMERY



STRENGTH!

It takes a real man to heave a windlass and pull up anchor after a storm—a strong man.

It takes a real Bank, a strong bank, to weather business storms and sail serenely on.

This Bank has weathered many storms. It is a strong, sound Bank, carefully managed and constantly growing. It is a good safe place, where your money will grow and it's a pleasant place to do business.

Call in and see for yourself.

Harder-Steinert

Two prominent young people of this city, Theo. Steinert and Miss Gertrude Harder, stole a march on their many friends last Saturday evening, Oct. 6th, when they quietly sought out Clerk of Court, P. F. Pouliot, secured the necessary credentials and then motored to Thief River Falls where they were united in marriage that evening by Rev. Charles Gerlinger, pastor of the Presbyterian church of that city. So quietly was the affair solemnized that their many friends here were not informed of the event until after their departure this (Thursday) morning on a honeymoon trip which will take them to Fargo and the Twin Cities. Upon their return from their honeymoon trip they will immediately take up housekeeping. The wedding ceremony was performed at 9:00 o'clock Saturday evening at the home of Rev. Charles Gerlinger of Thief River Falls. Miss Ida Westerlund of this city was the bride's attendant while Herbert Jung of Thief River Falls served as the groom's attendant. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Harder, residing two miles north of St. Hilaire. She is well known in this city where she has been employed for more than three years. The groom is one of the prominent business men of this city, being one of the members of the firm of the Steinert Milling company.—Red Lake Falls Gazette.

Cousin-LaChance.

On Tuesday morning, Oct. 9th, at ten o'clock, at the Catholic church of Plummer, Miss Elsie Cousin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Cousin of Hazel, became the bride of Phillip LaChance of Terrebonne, Rev. Junker performing the ceremony. The bride wore a gown of silk faced canton crepe and wore a veil and carried a bridal bouquet of roses. Her attendant was her sister, Miss Loretta Cousin of Crookston. who wore a dress of blue crepe de chine and a picture hat. A cousin of the groom, Leo Robillard, acted as best man. After the ceremony a six-course dinner was served to the immediate friends and relatives of the newlyweds. Blue and white streamers and roses and garden flowers were used to make the rooms especially attractive for the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. LaChance left the same afternoon, by car, for Crookston, from where they left on their honeymoon for the twin cities. On their return they will make their home on the groom's farm at Terrebonne. A host of friends extend their congratulations.

The bride is a well-known young lady of this city, having attended the public schools here and is a graduate of the local '21 high school class.

SUNDAY SCHOOL STATE MEETING

Much Interest Manifested in Coming Convention at Winona.

The coming annual state convention of Sunday school workers and all interested in the field of religious education is to be an event of unusual interest, according to the reports received at the state office of the Minnesota Council of Religious Education, formerly the Minnesota Sunday School association.

Vacation schools of religious education or as they are sometimes known—daily vacation bible schools—are to be given considerable emphasis.

Dr. Frank H. McKibben of South Bend, Indiana; Ray G. Fletcher, Director of Religious Education of the House of Hope church, St. Paul; Hayden L. Stright, Director of Vacation Schools of the Ramsey County Sunday School association; Miss Mabel L. Bailey, Children's Division Superintendent of the Minnesota Council, are all leaders in this field. These together with a number of those who have actually done the job will take part and make this a matter of keen interest.

The vacation schools idea has grown in a marvelous way; beginning with six schools in 1901, all held in New York City, there were reported over 5,000 throughout the country and indeed in foreign lands the idea has taken firm root this past year.

The enlarged program of religious education recognizes the values that accrue from the great work done by the Sunday school but also that such a short time element is not going to be sufficient and so with an enlarged concept, leaders in this field are pushing home religion to the base, Sunday school, the vacation school and week day religious instruction.

The Winona convention is expected to set forth this great program in a very marked way.

Registrations are being forwarded to the state office where further information can be had on application.

A Healthy Sign.

Real estate men report an invasion of the state by buyers for farm lands, who are purchasing farms at increasing prices. This indicates that this is the time to buy for investment, and that the farmer who can possibly hang on can safely hold his land for better times are coming.—Faribault News.

About Accidents.

A prominent insurance company recently compiled the following interesting statistics with regard to accidents in the United States:

Accidents occur 113 times as often as fires.

One death in every 11 results from an accident.

Three million persons are constantly ill in the United States.

One person in every six suffers a spell of sickness during each year.

Fifty-seven automobile accidents occur every hour; 1,370 every day; 500,000 every year.

Automobiles kill 14,000 persons each year.

More than 5,000 persons are killed and 50,000 injured each year as a result of fires; 6,000 drown.

More than 7,000 passengers, trespassers and employees are killed each year in railroad accidents.

One person dies of illness every 30 seconds; 120 every hour; 2,880 every day; 1,051,200 every year.

One person is accidentally killed every six minutes; 10 every hour; 240 every day; 87,600 every year.

Twenty-three persons are accidentally injured every minute; 1,380 every hour; 33,120 every day; 12,088,800 every year.

Eight hundred seventy-six thousand persons are under sentence of death by accident during the next ten years. 6,300,000 will die of disease during the same ten years.

Necessary to Business.

In New York, where the big business men sit and guide the destinies of an army of employees working in their stores, there occurred a strike of the pressmen on all the daily newspapers in the city. The service of the papers broke down and in a frantic effort to give news service to the people, the dailies combined and issued a combined daily newspaper. No ads. were taken. As a result, with the suspension of the advertising in the newspapers, business stopped in its tracks, stores were deserted, clerks were idle and the big business men with their overhead going on as usual, were frantic. Signs were used and every advertising aid was brought into play, but without avail. Business broke down completely. This is current history, not the ranting of the advertising man. It is the story told by grey-haired business captains, who watched expense creep on their empty stores while the strike was on. Business cannot exist without newspapers. It is a salesman that the successful business chief cannot afford to "fire." F. P. Mann, of Devils Lake, N. D., a town with a population of 5,500, sells goods each year worth $600,000. Garver Brothers, of Strasbourg, Ohio, in a town of 1,500 does a yearly business of $750,000. Mooney Bros., of Temple, Okla., in a town of 900 do a business each year of over $1,500,000. How do they do it? By advertising intelligently and persistently. The small town merchant will be repaid by intelligent advertising as well as the merchant in the big town.—Cass Lake Times.

EFFECT OF HOLDING WHEAT.

A Chicago daily paper, in explaining a recent price of five or six cents a bushel in the price of wheat, says: "There has been comparatively little hedging in excess of the buying against sales of cash grain of late, and values have been sustained in the face of the strongest array of bearish conditions the trade has ever known."

This statement amounts to an admission on the part of the Chicago paper that the effort on the part of the farmer to hold his wheat from the market as much as possible is having the effect of increasing the price of wheat. It is evidence that the co-operative marketing plan is already bearing fruit, although it is not yet having the effect upon the price which it will have when a larger part of the country's wheat is handled under this plan. The principal aim of the co-operative wheat marketing organizations is orderly marketing—feeding the market as the product is demanded by the consumer—instead of "dumping" the crop onto the market at certain seasons of the year, which is the inevitable result when each individual producer markets his own grain. The situation in Chicago is the best argument in the world in favor of co-operative wheat marketing.

FIGHTERS AND WINNERS

Jack Dempsey wins everything but public good will. He was a slacker in the war pulling down his eight dollars a day in the ship yards while the boys were fighting in France for a dollar a day for the glory of the flag. The American people wanted Carpentier to knock him out, rejoiced when Tommy Gibbons stood up for 15 rounds, and it was really too bad that the "mad-bull" did not have a minute more time in the first round on the 14th.—St. Cloud Journal.

And a man of Jack Dempsey's makeup doesn't care a hoot what the American people think of him providing he gets the money. So long as any considerable number of the people are willing to pay fabulous prices for the privilege of seeing the big slacker perform, he is ready to cash in on his brute strength. He is after the money and believes in getting it while the getting is good.

The average man residing a few hundred miles south thinks this whole north country is covered with timber. When he sees the flaming headlines which the twin city dailies employ in describing every little brush fire—and often there is more headline than fire—he naturally gets the notion that this country must be a hell on earth and no fit place for a white man to live. The Tribune doesn't believe in newspaper censorship, but something ought to be done to curb the imagination of State Forester Cox, who seems responsible for many of the wild stories circulated, and a gentle hint should be dropped to the twin city dailies that the citizens of this section of the state are not crazy about having those exaggerated stories smeared all over the front page of the metropolitan press. It is wholly uncalled for and works a positive injury to Northern Minnesota.

One can hardly blame the Grygla people for kicking on the main road to Goodridge. The traffic on this highway is very heavy, it being their only outlet to a railroad. After each rain this piece of road is in an abominable condition, being at times almost impassable. The county dads of Marshall county should see to it that not a cent of money is expended for road improvements in that county until that particular piece of road has been gravelled. If they do, the people of Grygla and adjacent territory will rise en masse and shower them with blessings. (Warren papers please copy.)

The Crookston Times is terribly worked up over the fact that Geo. C. Jewett has been made manager of the Minnesota potato exchange. It says the farmers are perfectly capable of running their own affairs. So they are, Mr. Editor, so they are, and the funny part of it is that Mr. Jewett has never even been suggested for the job.

A REAL DANGER.

Says the Baudette Region: "State Forester Cox requests that people in Northern Minnesota refrain from smoking cigarettes to avoid danger of setting fires. He should have included moonshine. One whiff from the breath of a lad full of the stuff they make near Baudette would start a whole forest burning."

For the information of a Tribune subscriber who is afraid this alfalfa business will be overdone: There is need for twenty million acres of alfalfa to feed the present cow population of the United States. We have now less than five million acres. Few areas can grow alfalfa, but it so happens that the section of which Thief River Falls is the hub has the ideal soil for that purpose.

Public sentiment has reached a point in Thief River Falls where the moonshiner, once tolerated as a necessary evil, is considered no different from any other lawbreaker. And as time goes on, people will have less sympathy with the poor dupe who consumes the moonshiner's poisonous concoctions. It's a rotten business any way you look at it.

After the new Great Northern depot is completed, the stranger entering Thief River Falls from the south will get an altogether different impression of the city. The old shack standing where it does has led many visitors to believe that this burg is of the ramshackle variety, with no civic pride whatever.

If you have the pip get rid of it and get some pep.

A farmer residing a short distance north of Thief River Falls took advantage of the noon rest of the threshing crew to run a couple of loads of alfalfa through the separator. He got three sacks of seed—worth about $125. It's a safe bet that he will have a larger acreage of alfalfa next year.

One of the most cheerful persons we have met in many moons is an old lady in eastern Pennington county who has been bedridden for fourteen years. This cheerful woman finds much in life to be thankful for and we wish every crepe hanger in the country could spend a few moments at her bedside.

The building improvements which have taken place during the year in Thief River Falls run well over the $100,000 mark. This includes a number of handsome residences and several business blocks. We challenge any city in Minnesota of similar size to show a better record.

The enterprising citizens of the Grygla territory are engaged in organizing an intermediate credit bank, an institution which will enable the government agency to finance the purchase of more cows. Sensible move and one that Thief River Falls ought to consider.

It is encouraging to note the increased interest and attendance at recent meetings of the Thief River Falls Commercial club. Especially welcome at these gatherings are our farmer friends, and The Tribune hopes to see them there in large numbers at each meeting in the future.

We hope no real estate boom ever hits Pennington county. However, be not surprised if the alfalfa growers of the country turn in this direction for farm lands in the next few years and in that event the stickers will win.

Goodridge has already shipped out three carloads of sweet clover seed this fall. The seed brings now approximately $4,500 per carload. A carload of wheat brings the producer about $1,000. Think it over, friends.

One Grygla farmer sold a load of alfalfa seed the other day which brought him a neat sum. He had 30 bushels. At 50 cents a pound, the present price, the load amounted to exactly $900. Think it over.

After viewing the Japanese earthquake scenes shown last week at the Princess theatre we feel more than ever like getting down on our marrow bones and thanking the Good Lord that we live in Minnesota.

More than two thousand men have died in the United States the past year as the result of poisoned liquor. And still some people say the outlaws who sell the stuff don't belong in jail!

Hats off to the boys and girls who win prizes in state club work and in other state and national contests. They are made of real stuff and Pennington county is proud of them.

The numerous loads of sugar beets coming into Thief River Falls these days from every direction bear up the assertions of those who claim that beets can be raised here successfully.

We have finally found one thing upon which the farmers, the bankers, the merchants and the professional men can agree, namely that alfalfa is the best paying crop for this section.

Here is the latest by Charlie Nason: He says golf is not a game, but a disease. He calls it the hoof and mouth disease. You hoof it all day and talk about it all night.

Billy Noonan announces that he will not run for the legislature again. Bill says it will take him ten years to get rid of some of the habits he formed last winter.

Many grade crossing accidents occur on Sunday, but a surprisingly small number of those killed and maimed in this way are on their way to church.

While this section of the state may not be located in the proverbial "banana belt," it is near enough these days to suit any man with red blood in his veins.

A Pennington county farmer told The Tribune the other day that he had discovered a way to make his scrub cows pay. He sold them to the butcher.

Pennington county chickens are putting on their best raiment in anticipation of the big doings in Thief River Falls the first week in December.

The fact that the bankers of Pennington county are getting back of the alfalfa game is the best evidence that there is money in it.

John D. Rockefeller is eighty-four years old and still making money. It is getting to be almost a habit with him.

The coal operator and the coal miner have buried the hatchet in the usual place—the neck of the consumer.

They say there is one man in town who would rather be mayor of Thief River Falls than be governor of Minnesota.

One way to discourage a knocker is to refuse to listen to him. Even a knocker gets tired of talking to himself.

Speaking of California, could anything be more glorious than the tang of this Minnesota climate?

After all, Jack Dempsey hasn't much on the rest of us mortals. We all have to fight for our money.

The cry on the farm just now is: "Don't give up the sheep!"

Try to get acquainted with your neighbor—you may like him.

EXCHANGE ECHOES

Diversification Pays.

There is dissatisfaction among the farming element but did you ever stop and take notice of the fact that the frantic calls for help among farmers is coming from a certain class of farmers and that the sections which are in the dairy and poultry business are getting along pretty well and are not besieging the government for price fixing. It does not take a mathematician to figure out the fact that poultry and dairy products are selling at satisfactory prices and there is a steady active demand that is exceeding the supply. Butter and eggs are going up in price and will go higher as winter approaches.—Walker Pilot.

The Best System.

Renville county farmers can be thankful that they do not reside in other parts of the Northwest this year. Here the cream check, the hog check, the cattle check, egg check and the grain check combine to make it possible for us to meet our obligations, while in many counties of this state and in North Dakota and Montana, the total income of the farmer will barely keep soul and body together.—Olivia Times.

Some Good Advice.

Are you losing your pep? Are you slipping, just because you have met with business reverses or because the past few months have not been as good for business as you expected? Then brace up, things are going to be better in the future. You are never down and out until you admit you are. If you never admit it you never will be. If you are not in a business that appeals to you, get out of your present business and get into one that you will like, and then your pep will return. There is no such thing as a permanent failure to the man who is determined to succeed.—St. James Plaindealer.

A Valuable Lesson.

New York newspapers were practically suspended for a few days because of a pressman's strike. New York city shopping was also suspended because the stores couldn't advertise. The object lesson was probably worth more to the daily papers of the metropolis than they lost through strike interruption. The merchants of the city also learned something they were not quite sure of before.—Grand Rapids Herald-Review.

Local Girl Married.

Fritz H. Eden of Strandquist and Doris M. Hanson of Middle River were united in marriage Thursday evening, October 11. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. E. Hanson at the parsonage of the First Lutheron church. The bride and groom were attended by Hjalmer Eden and Selma Knutson of Thief River Falls. The newlyweds will make their home on the groom's farm near Strandquist.

Board of Education to Be Hosts at Reception

To afford the patrons of the local schools an opportunity of getting acquainted with the teachers and to promote a spirit of close co-operation between the parents and the school faculty, the Board of Education will act as hosts at a reception to be given in honor of the teachers Friday evening, October 19, at the high school auditorium. The reception is intended as a general get-to-gether for the parents and teachers and the program will be planned with this end in view. A committee consisting of the wives of the members of the Board of Education will have charge of the refreshments and a general invitation will be extended to all school patrons.

1492---OCTOBER 12---1923

It was on October 12th, 431 years ago that Christopher Columbus discovered a New World—a wilderness inhabitated by those people he called Indians. Today, ocean liners have replaced his tiny caravels and where he found a wilderness, there is a land teeming with industry—the home of a great nation.

This is the romance of America of which Columbus wrote the first chapter.

As we, through our lives, add the record of our era, let us remember that courage high ideals, industry and thrift are the qualities which will make our contribution worthy of what has gone before.

Markers Placed on Trunk Highway 32 Here Recently

Official markers were placed last week along State Highway 32 which passes through Middle River. With the coming of the colder weather there is a noticible falling off in the number of tourists passing through the village, yet even now tourists' cars are common sights on our streets.

As one of the main avenues of the Lake of the Woods country. Highway 32, which passes through Middle River, has been traveled by thousands of tourists during the past summer. Middle River with its good camping facilities, has been a favorite stopping place for hosts of visitors. No figures are available showing the actual number of visitors who have availed themselves of our camping facilities, but it has been observed that the local camping ground has been in constant demand throughout the summer months.

The daily average of auto tourists in Minnesota this year was 62,750, according to figures issued by the State Highway Commission. It is estimated that approximately four months more than $37,500 of new money was placed in circulation in Minnesota by highway tourists. The northern section of the state is constantly gaining favor as the mecca of visitors and with continued increase in read facilities an ever increasing stream of tourists will make annual pilgrimages to our section.

NOTICE.

Notice is hereby given that the Board of Education, Consolidated School District No. 126, Marshall County, Minnesota, will receive bids for the hauling of the school bus on route No. 2 and No. 4, the same distance as last year, said bids to be in the clerks hands not later than November 6, 1923.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids.

By order of said board.

31-32 Clerk.

SCHOOL NOTES

The high school literary societies have been revived and are coducting regular bi-weekly programs. The Delta Gamma, whose membership consists of Juniors and Seniors rendered its first program last Friday afternoon. The Round Table society consisting of Freshmen and Sophomores will present another program October 26. The literary organizations in the high school are under the direction of Miss Eikness, teacher of English.

The Junior class met last week and organized with the following officers: Ruth Wing, president; Annette Engevick, vice president; Ida Curtis, secretary; Hilda Peterson, treasurer; Miss Eikness, class advisor.

With the coming of the basketball season the high school students are showing much interest in the work of financing the Athletic association. Hitherto, the Athletic association has been on a self-sustaining basis and it is intended to continue this plan. At a recent meeting of the high school students the following committee was named to devise ways and means for carrying on the work of high school athletics: Ella Peterson, Gladys Gullikson, Alfred Larson, Lila Modin, Lillian Stephens and Gladys Young.

Eunice Hjertos was elected president of the Sophomore class at a meeting held last week. The other officers are: Elizabeth Evans, vice president; Lila Modin, secretary-treasurer; Mr. Nystul, class advisor.

The girls of the class in Home Economics will act as hostesses to the members of the faculty at a breakfast to be served in the Domestic Science rooms October 18.

First Lutheran Church.

Luther League on Sunday at 8 p. m. Address by Prof. I. T. Simley, superintendent of schools, Thief River Falls. Special music. Sunday school and bible class 10 a. m. Ladies Aid on Friday entertained by Mrs. Lofquist and Mrs. Melum. Confirmants Saturday at 2 p. m. Also following services: Norwegian at Benwood at 10:30 a. m., and Norwegian at Huntley at 3 p. m.

Let us remember the Circuit Pastors meeting to be held next week. The English sessions at the First Lutheran church, Middle River at 8 p. m. on the evenings of October 23, 24 and 25. The Norwegian sessions at Our Savior's Lutheran church at Thief Lake on the 24th and 25th, forenoon and afternoon. Bear in mind that this is a privilege we seldom enjoy, namely, having among us the pastors of the circuit, gathered for the one purpose of discussing and explaining the Word of God; gathered to make more plain to us the way to salvation through Jesus Christ. We never neglect the conventions called by man for the purpose of getting better acquainted and getting new ideas for work, of broadening our vision of our own peculiar field of work. Why then should we believe that we can afford to miss a series of meetings which He calls for the special purpose of making us better acquainted with Him, and for broadening that narrow field of love that we usually have for Him. The topic for discussion in English is the second commandment. The Norwegian topic is Matt. 22, 1-14.

A. E. HANSON, Pastor.

Pioneer of Middle River Passes at Ripe Old Age

Christopher Nordlum, for twenty years a resident of this vicinity, died on Sunday, October 7, at the home of his son, John C. Nordlum, after a lingering illness covering a period of a year and a half. The funeral services were conducted from the home and the Lutheran church on Thursday, October 11, at 2 p. m., with Rev. A. E. Hanson officiating. The funeral was largely attended and the floral offerings were profuse and beautiful.

Christopher Nordlum was born in Ringbo, Gulbrandsdalen, Norway, on June 3, 1840, and was the son of Kresen and Ceselle Hagen. His parents died when he was in his infancy and he was adopted by Christopher Tromsnes, with whom he lived until he was married to Christine Tromsnes at the age of 21. To this union were born five children, one of whom died in infancy and one son, Christ, who died nine years ago. Those living are Mrs. A. Albertson, Mrs. Knute Aakre and John Nordlum, all of whom were present at the funeral. His wife died two years after the arrival of the family in this country in 1898. For the past 23 years deceased had made his home with his son, John C. Nordlum.

Those from a distance in attendance at the funeral were Mrs. Knute Aakre and daughter Adelia of Narcam, Sask., Canada, Mrs. Christ Nordlum of Minneapolis, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albertson of St. Paul and Mr. and Mrs. O. D. Hellmer of Crookston

Card of Thanks.

We wish to thank all our kind relatives and friends for the heartfelt sympathy they showed us during the illness and following the death of our loving father; also for the many beautiful flowers and the music rendered by the choir.—John C. Nordlum and family, Mrs. A. Albertson and family, Mrs. Kunte Aakre and family.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Olson and children and Miss Myrtle Johnson spent Sunday at Thief River Falls visiting Mrs. Olson's parents.

Mrs. M. Freeburg and son left Saturday for Warren, where Mrs. Freeburg will attend the Teachers' Institute.

Mr. and Mrs. Emil Albertson of St. Paul arrived Wednesday to attend the funeral of Christopher Nordlum. Mr. Albertson is a grandson of the deseased.

Mrs. Albert Knutson and children left Saturday for Warren where Mrs. Knutson will attend the Teachers' Institute. They will also visit relatives who live at Warren.

Mrs. Harry Con of Jackson, Tenn., arrived Tuesday and spent a few days with her sister, Mrs. A. C. Kvennes. She left Saturday for Oslo where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. O. J. Olson entertained several ladies Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. Con of Jackson, Tenn. The evening was spent in sewing and fancy work. A delicious lunch was served.

Mrs. Charles Haug left Thursday for Langdon, N. D. She has spent the summer with her sons who live near Bartin and with her daughter, Mrs. Martin Hanson, of this village.

Rev. O. J. Lundell, pastor of the Swedish Mission Church at Thief River Falls, conducted services at the Albin Anderson home Sunday. He was assisted by a quartet of Thief River Falls singers who rendered several sacred selections.

GATZKE

Mr. McMillin, manager for our local shipping association, went to St. Paul on Saturday with another two carloads of cattle. This makes 11 carloads shipped out this fall by our local shipping association alone, to say nothing about quite a few carloads which have been bought here by other individual shippers and stock buyers. Who said the farmers around Gatzke did not have any livestock?

R. J. Pratt returned to Fargo on Thursday of last week, after spending a week looking after his farming operations here. Mr. Pratt holds the distinction of having on his farm near Gatzke, the best flowing well in Northern Minnesota; the water being soft, and parties who have seen it and are in a position to know, claim that the pressure of the water is so hard that if a dynamo was installed he could have electricity enough with which to light all of the farm buildings on the farm. Mr. Pratt has water piped into both the house and barn, the surplus water being turned into the river which flows right back of his buildings.

Hans J. Dahl, a farmer living a few miles northeast of Gatzke, reports a yield of six hundred seventy pounds of Grimm alfalfa seed off from a piece of ground slightly less than one acre. His neighbor, John V. Olson, reports a yield of even 600 pounds of the same kind of seed from an acre. This should give the Gatzke territory the distinction of having produced the highest yield per acre that has ever been recorded in the annals of Alfalfadom.

The board of directors of the Gatzke Co-operative Creamery held their quarterly meeting for the year at the State bank building on Saturday. They report this year's business as being excellent. Not only is the output larger than formerly, but the price per pound of butterfat is more for the month of September than some of the other concerns in the valley are paying for the product.

Mrs. C. A. Engelstad and daughter Mabel, returned from Grand Forks last Friday. Mrs. Engelstad spent a few days there visiting while Mabel has been employed there this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Saxvold and family, left for their new home at International Falls last Thursday. They made the trip by car.

S. O. Ostgaard made a business trip to Grygla last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Ostgaard and daughter Mildred motored to Thief River Falls last Saturday and returned on Sunday.

Miss Gladys Wiener left on Sunday for Red Lake Falls to begin a term of school near that city.

S. W. Laubach has started building a new barn on his farm southeast of this city.

Oscar Brekke and Earl Ernest met with an accident last week when their car went in the ditch. The boys were not injured and but little damage was done to the car.

NUMEDAL

Prairieview School, Dist. 64.

Martin Elden, Winton Knutson, Cor.

County Supt. of Schools, Ole R. Sande, visited the Prairieview school last Thursday.

A bright baby boy arrived at the S Knutson home Oct. 4.

Miss Agnes K. Forslund called at the S. Knutson home Monday after school.

Word has been received that Mrs. Anna Blomberg and son Elmer arrived safely at Portland, Ore., where they will make their future home. They are at present visiting friends and relatives.

Henry Thompson is staying at the Blomberg place until the Sumner family will be ready to occupy it.

Mr. Knutson and son Winton, were Thief River Falls shoppers on Saturday evening.

Miss Forslund was a business caller in Viking on Thursday. She brought our first order of school supplies for this year.

Mrs. Forrest Hedrick and Mrs. Arthur Atwood, were callers at S. Knutson's Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Anna Stone is employed at the S. Knutson home at present.

Ole Stone has been busy hauling grain this week. Many of the farmers are engaged in baling hay and hauling it to market.

RIVER FALLS

East Side School, Dist. 133.

Ruth Anderson of Bemidji is now spending a few days visiting with friends at St. Hilaire.

Ed. J. Eide of Virginia, Minn., left last Wednesday for his home there, after having been called here to attend the funeral of his mother, Mrs. P. Peterson.

Mrs. M. Swanson returned to her home at Red Wing last Friday, after a two month's visit with her sister, Mrs. J. Hedlund.

Mr. and Mrs. John Larson spent last Sunday visiting the former's sister of Bemidji.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. O. A. Norquist of Virginia, a boy. Mrs. Norquist was formerly Alice Erickson of St. Hilaire.

Mrs. M. B. Jensen of Nitchie, N. D., and Mrs. Cornelius of Minneapolis, returned to their respective homes last week, after spending a few days with their brother, G. B. Peterson.

MAVIE

J. J. Spieler returned Wednesday from St. Paul where he had been with a shipment of livestock. He visited for a day with relatives in the twin cities while away.

William Grueber, a brother of Mrs. J. J. Spieler, spent last week visiting at the Spieler home. He left Saturday for St. Cloud.

Gus. Anderson spent last week at Mentor attending to business matters. He came home Monday but returned to Mentor again the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Brownlee enjoyed a visit from Mr. Brownlee's sister, from Blue Earth, last week.

Mrs. Ferd. Hincik went to Thief River Falls Saturday and shopped between trains.

Mr. and Mrs. F. R. Davis and family of Plummer autoed to Mavie Sunday and spent the day visiting at the home of Mrs. Davies' sister, Mrs. T. H. Smith.

Fred W. Bruss held an auction sale Thursday and sold all his farming equipment. He left Monday to join his family in Mankato. Mr. Bruss regrets having to leave his farm but on account of sickness his family was unable to be with him on the farm. Being about 70 years of age he felt that he was getting too old to "batch."

Rudolph Stageberg left Friday for Hibbing where he expects to find employment for the winter.

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley C. Smith and family of Bemidji, spent Tuesday of last week in Mavie, visiting at the Smith home.

Chas. Ptacek, having his farm work done up for the season, left for the iron range to secure winter employment.

The countenances of many of our farmers have recently changed from the vertical to horizontal type. The reason for this change being that their stacks of sweet clover, at which they expected to browse their cattle during the winter, have been run through the threshing machine, resulting in from $200 to $600 additional revenue. The smile is the real old fashioned broad gauged kind.

Henry Dau went to Thief River Falls Monday to have his automobile toned up a little. There was nothing seriously wrong, only a little spitting and coughing which needed attention.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Fuller were in Thief River Falls Monday conducting their pure bred Poland China Pig club sale. The sale went off nicely for the first attempt.

Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Brownlee were in Thief River Falls Monday and attended the Poland China sale.

A Disagreeable Season.

The melancholy days are here, but with them we'll have rip-roarin' football games, pumpkin pies, cranberries, rabbit stews, beautiful autumn flowers and brisk weather. What could be sweeter than such a melancholy day?—St. Cloud Times.

Nine Bushels to Acre.

T. W. Stanley is the champion as far as yields of alfalfa for this district are concerned. Last week from one-half acre of Cossack alfalfa, he threshed four and a half bushels with a grain thresher, making the remarkable yield of nine bushels to the acre. The grass growth was also enormous. It was sown on new breaking two years ago. If anyone can beat it let us hear from you.—Baudete Region.

Cat Turned on Gas.

A cat at Colchester, England, chasing a mouse in the night, turned on a gas tap by a pat of its paw, imprisoned itself in the kitchen, nearly poisoned the dog, and would perhaps have poisoned a sleeping man, woman and child if the dog's howling had not awakened them.

Do Silos Pay?

(The American Agriculturist.)

Every time a dairyman fills his silo and has brought home to him the high cost of growing corn and producing ensilage, he wonders if it really pays, or if there is notsomeother way of getting a succulent feed for dairy cattle at a lower cost. There have always been dairymen who have never built silos and claim they can produce milk cheaper without ensilage; and there have been many others who came to the conclusion after using a silo for a time.

Because of this debated question, we have read with a great deal of interest a new bulletin entitled, "A Comparison of Roughages for Milk Production," published by the Iowa State College of Agriculture at Ames. After several years experiment in the use of corn silage as compared with other roughages, the writer of this bulletin summarizes his conclusions as follows:

1. The use of corn fodder instead of corn silage reduces milk production 6 per cent and fat production 3 per cent.

2. When the value of dry matter in silage was worth 66 cents per 100 pounds, that in corn fodder was worth 32½ cents.

3. With silage valued at $4.50 per ton, an acre of corn yielding 8 tons of green feed and converted into silage will yield $36 worth of feed, whereas, if converted into fodder the value of the crop will be reduced to $16.21 per acre.

4. When timothy hay is used to replace alfalfa hay in a good dairy ration the production of milk and butterfat is reduced 7 per cent.

5. With alfalfa hay at $15 per ton, timothy hay is worth 86 cents per ton for feeding cows.

6. When corn fodder and timothy hay are introduced as a ration in place of corn silage and alfalfa hay, there is a decrease of eighteen per cent in milk and fourteen per cent in fat production.

7. When the two poor roughages, corn fodder and timothy hay, are fed together, this combination gives them a slightly higher value individually than where one is fed with a good roughage, but good production or economical returns from the feeds cannot be obtained.

8. Corn silage and a legume hay (alfalfa) are the best roughages for dairy cattle, while corn fodder and timothy hay are poor.

9. If the corn crop is all to be fed to the cows is should be put in the silo. On the dairy farm, hays such as timothy should be sold and legume hays purchased in their stead.

A Nice Load.

Dan Stonehouse, the sweet clover king of the town of Equality, brought a load of sweet clover to town Saturday which he exchanged for a perfectly good check in the amount of $273. Mr. Stonehouse has produced about $1000 worth of sweet clover this season and also some red clover and alfalfa.—Oklee Herald.

Commissioners' Proceedings

Thief River Falls, Minn., Oct. 12th. 1923.

The County Board for Pennington county met in special session in the office of the county auditor in the City of Thief River Falls, at one o'clock p. m. Members present: Commissioners Hanson, McGinn, Larson and Roy, Commissioner Olson being absent.

Meeting called to order by Chairman Commissioner McGinn. The county board had spent the day looking up sites for gravel pits and investigated several places where it would be likely to find gravel to be used in graveling State Road No. 5.

The gravel on the land owned by O. J. Peterson in section 35 in Town of Smiley proved to be the best and after due consideration the following order was made:

The following resolution was offered by Commissioner Roy, who moved its adoption duly seconded by Commissioner Hanson:

BE IT RESOLVED, That the bid of Oscar J. Peterson for the purchase of gravel to be used on State Road No. 5 be accepted and that the county auditor hereby is authorized and instructed to enter into a contract with O. J. Peterson on behalf of Pennington county for such gravel. In accordance with agreement, O. J. Peterson is to furnish gravel and to do all stripping and keep pit open at all times, for which the county is to pay him 35 cents per cubic yard for all gravel taken out.

All members voted for the resolution and it was so declared approved.

Motion made by Commissioner Hanson, duly seconded by Commissioner Roy that the pay for hauling gravel on state aid roads be set as follows: 40 cents per yard for loading and 20 cents per yard per mile for hauling. Motion duly carried.

There being no further business the county board adjourned sine-die.

R. McGINN,
Chairman.

Attest:
T. P. ANDERSON,
County Auditor and Ex-officio
Clerk of the Board.

SALE OF SCHOOL AND OTHER STATE LANDS

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office, St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 3, 1923.

Notice is hereby given that on November 14, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the county auditor, at Thief River Falls, Pennington county, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms of Sale:

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part within forty years from the date of sale. Interest rate of four per cent per annum, due on June 1st of each year: provided, that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June first and May thirty-first without penalty.

The appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid in full at the time of sale.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed, under the caption:

"Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land, provided, however, that State lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraiser's reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office.

Lists giving legal descriptions of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at the county seat.

Rav P. Chase.
State Auditor.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1922 and in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1923, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by J. B. Shannon and Lottie Shannon, his wife, mortgagors, to A. E. Rolfson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of July, 1920, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., in Book 57 of Mortgages on page 497.

And whereas, A. E. Rolfson, the owner and holder of said mortgage as aforesaid, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage and the interest that has accrued thereon at the date of this notice, due and payable under the condition of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars;

And whereas, the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section thirty-one (31) and the north half of the northwest quarter (N½ NW¼) and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter (NW¼ NE¼) of section thirty-two (32), all in township one hundred fifty-four (154), north of range forty-five (45) west, containing two hundred eighty acres (280) more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in Pennington county, State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state on the 17th day of November, 1923, at ten o'clock a. m., of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars, with interest, and one hundred dollars ($100.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 24th, 1923.

A. E. ROLFSON,
Mortgagee.

NOTICE OF MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE SALE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN, That default has been made in the conditions of a mortgage executed by Andrew Ness and Rosa Ness, his wife, Mortgagors, to Floyd J. Stebbins, as Guardian of the Estate of Mary Hallan, an Insane Person, Mortgagee, dated December 4th, 1920, and recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds of Pennington County, Minnesota, on the 29th day of March, 1921, at 9 o'clock A. M., in Book 57 of Mortgages on Page 574 thereof; that such default consists in the non-payment of principal and interest on the notes secured by said mortgage; that the amount claimed to be due and which is due on said mortgage at this date is Two Hundred Seventy-two and 64-100 Dollars ($272.64); that the premises described in and covered by said mortgage are located in Pennington County, Minnesota, and described as follows, to-wit: An undivided one-third interest in and to Lots Eleven (11) and Twelve (12), in Block Twenty-six (26), Original Townsite of the City of Thief River Falls, Minnesota, according to the recorded plat thereof; that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, said mortgage will be foreclosed by the sale of said premises, at public vendue, to the highest bidder for cash, by the sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the East front door of the Pennington County Court House in the City of Thief River Falls in said County and State, on Saturday, the 17th day of November, 1923, at 10 o'clock A. M., to satisfy the amount then due on said mortgage, together with the costs of such sale and Twenty-five Dollars, Attorney's fees, stipulated in said mortgage.

Dated September 28, 1923.

CANADIANS LIKE AMERICAN BOYS

Splendid Letter Is Received From Manager of Big Winnipeg Hotel.

The following letter received the other day by Oscar Smith from R. H. Webb, manager of the Marlborough hotel at Winnipeg, contains so much of interest that The Tribune takes pleasure in giving it space. Mr. Webb says:

"I just want to say how pleased I was and also the staff of the Marlborough over the recent visit of the Legion boys to Winnipeg, and assure you that it was a great pleasure, and I hope that from time to time we will be getting in touch with each other frequently.

"Such visits as made by your boys are what we should attempt to have often, both from you and us to you, and nothing will promote the better feelings and knowledge of each other more than these frequent visits, because when real men get together it is bound to create good sentiment, and we will want to know more of each other.

"I will always be glad indeed to be of service to you, and any time any of the boys or any of your friends should be coming to Winnipeg or passing through, or any information they may require in any way at any time, it will be a pleasure to myself and the Marlborough to give it to you.

"I hope your impressions of Winnipeg were good, although I do not believe you saw as much of it as I would like you to have done. However, the more often you come the more acquainted you will get with it.

"Kindly give my regards to all the boys and also to Mr. Provencher."

FANCY POULTRY TO BE SOLD TO HIGHEST BIDDER

Auction Sale Added as Feature of Crops and Poultry Show Here.

Idea Is to Place Standard Bred Poultry on Every Man's Farm.

An interesting feature in connection with the Winter Crops and Poultry show to be held in Thief River Falls early in December is the auction sale of standard bred poultry, which will be held on December 7 at 2 p. m. All breeds of chickens, turkeys, geese and ducks will be included.

This sale is open for all who have standard bred poultry to sell. Those entering birds are requested to state what breed, strain, age of each bird, and whether to be sold as single birds, trios or pens. Ten per cent will be charged for auctioneer's fees. Sales entries will close at noon on December 4 and bills covering all birds to be sold will be printed the day after entries close. The sale comes on the last day of the show, which makes it convenient to crate the birds for removal home or shipping.

Dec. 7 will be poultry educational day. Commencing at 1 o'clock, Mr. Stanfield, the judge of the show, will be on the job to explain what makes up the good qualities in all breeds of standard bred poultry and to answer any questions which may be asked in this connection. Besides the judge being on the job for this part of the big show, all breeders are asked to be on hand to help out in this part of the program so that it may prove of value particularly to beginners in the poultry game. By this time all prizes will be placed which will add greatly in discussing the good points of poultry.

The evening of December 4 will be set aside for a talk on poultry by Judge Stanfield. Boys' and girls' club work for 1924 and other topics of interest to the poultry industry will be discussed.

The big idea behind the poultry sale is to place in this community good standard bred fouls of all varieties and to stimulate interest in the poultry business in this vicinity. Promotors of the sale are of the belief that this is a very good way in which to get good birds placed where they will do the most good.

Ford Has Close Call.

Register of Deeds Fred Lorentson on Saturday came mighty near losing his trusty Ford. He parked it near the court house and in the course of about an hour went out to use it. Smoke was issuing in a dense cloud from the front seat and Mr. Lorentson hurriedly removed the cushion, which was burned beyond repair. Had the fire remained unnoticed for a few minutes longer it would have reached the gas tank, with disastrous results. Just how the fire started is a mystery but it is presumed that some passerby had carelessly thrown a cigarette "snipe" into the seat, which burned through the upholstering and ignited the stuffing with which the cushion is packed.

Return From Vacation.

Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Newell returned the latter part of the week after having spent more than a month on an automobile trip to southern Minnesota and Illinois points, where they visited relatives. The entire trip was made without mishap in their new Studebaker six and proved a most enjoyable outing.

Going to Hibbing.

Oscar and Vernon Evenson, who for some time past have conducted an automobile repair shop in the Rasmusson building on Main avenue, have closed their establishment for the season and will leave for Hibbing where they have secured employment in a large shop for the winter months.

Bundy Busts a Wing.

In the fracas which resulted when the car in which he was riding struck another car which it is claimed was standing in the road without lights last Saturday evening, Hjalmer Bundy of this city is carrying one arm in a sling. The flivers were quite badly used up but can be repaired.

Improvements at Hospital.

Considerable new and modern equipment is being added at the Physicians hospital from time to time. Recently a sterlizer costing $2,000 has been installed, and during the past summer a complete and up-to-date X-ray equipment was installed.

Judge Performs Wedding.

Judge N. W. Tarrant this afternoon joined in the holy bonds of wedlock Knute Hanson and Gladys O. Anderson, both residents of Pennington county.

Look up Simonson's ad in this issue of The Tribune if you want to see some real bargains in groceries and meats. His announcement is full of money-saving opportunities. 31

Rev. T. Myhrer of Newfolden will preach at Numedal Free church Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Drs. Haney & Twete of Thief River Falls will be at Holt on Friday, October 26. 31

West Coast People Here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wilde left Sunday evening on their return to their home at Portland, Oregon, after a short visit at the home of the former's brother, W. H. Wilde, who resides southeast of Thief River Falls. They were accompanied by Mrs. F. G. Wilde, mother of the two men, who had been visiting here for several weeks. H. F. Wilde is an engineer on the Southern Pacific. He and Mrs. Wilde had made an extended tour of the southern and western sections of the country before coming here. The two brothers had not seen each other for many years and enjoyed the recent visit immensely.

Ahead of Schedule.

Contractor L. D. McAdams is making rapid progress with construction work on the new Great Northern depot and the new home of The Tribune and states that he is now well ahead of the schedule originally planned. With a few more days of nice weather he will have both buildings completed to a degree which will make it possible to proceed regardless of rain, snow or freezing temperature.

U. C. T. Dance.

The United Commercial Travelers are arranging a dancing party to be held at the auditorium on Friday evening, October 26. The Knights of the grip have a reputation to maintain in the matter of successful dances and promise the coming event is to be no exception to the rule. Good music will be furnished and the general public is cordially invited to attend.

Returns to Minneapolis.

H. M. McCracken leaves today on his return to his home in Minneapolis after having spent a month on the farm of his son, C. McCracken, west of Thief River Falls. The elder McCracken comes out occasionally to help the boy out in a rush period of work on the farm.

Tourists in Seattle.

Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Arneson, who are making an extended tour of the West in their automobile, are for the present located in Seattle, Wash., and expect to remain there for a short time. A letter from them states that they are both well and enjoying the tour immensely.

Helmer Larson Family Here.

Mr. and Mrs. Helmer Larson and children returned alst week to their home at Barrett, this state, after spending a few days at the homes of Carl and L. H. Larson. They arrived from Karstad, where they had visited for a brief time. The trip was made by car.

Ford Leaves Rails.

It is reported that a Ford car belonging to Chas. Asp, a school teacher in the eastern part of Pennington county, left the rails on the road near Goodridge on Saturday. Mr. Asp received a few bruises and the car was somewhat damaged.

To California.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Johnson and children, 621 Arnold Ave. N., left yesterday by car for California where they expect to make their future home. Mr. Johnson was employed as driver for the merchants in this city for a number of years.

New Assistant Superintendent.

Miss Clara Turnquist arrived Monday evening from Dawson, Minn., and has been added to the Physicians hospital staff as assistant superintendent. Miss Turnquist is a graduate of the Mankato hospital.

Back to Canada.

Arthur Working leaves this week on his return to his home at Buerrs, Ontario, Canada, after a stay in this city since early in August. While employed in a lumber mill at International Falls young Working suffered an injury to his heel which developed into a serious case of blood poisoning and several weeks of drastic treatment were found necessary to get him back in shape. He still walks with the aid of crutches but the injured heel is improving in a satisfactory manner.

Bankers of County Back Alfalfa Campaign

TEN THOUSAND MORE ACRES GOAL SET FOR PENNINGTON COUNTY DURING NEXT YEAR

This Acreage, Added to Six Thousand Acres Now Devoted to This Purpose, Will Make Pennington the Banner Alfalfa County of Minnesota—Now Produces One-Twentieth of Alfalfa in State.

Fifty Pennington county peptomists, consisting of all the bankers of the county and many of the members of the boards of directors, held a banquet and business meeting at the Commercial club rooms in this city last evening, and after listening to remarks by a number of enthusiastic speakers started the Pennington county alfalfa campaign off to a flying start.

A survey of the county indicates the presence of 6,000 acres of alfalfa at this time, this acreage constituting about one-twentieth of the state total. Now the bankers are going to put their moral support and resources back of the farmers and increase this acreage by another 10,000 acres. It is clear to be seen that such a movement will place this section in the front rank of alfalfa growing sections of the northwest. As was pointed out by various speakers at last night's meeting, the results already shown by alfalfa growers in this vicinity fully justify the present campaign. It has put new heart in the community.

Just now the burning question of the hour is how to get a sufficient quantity of seed to meet the demand. One man came in from the Erie country the other day and purchased seed for 100 acres. Another man north of the city figures on the same acreage. And there are few farmers whose plans for next year do not include from ten to 25 acres of alfalfa. Furthermore, there will be a large increase in the sweet clover area of this county the coming season. The success of the dairy farmers of the county with sweet clover pastures has been truly startling.

Most of the speeches last night dealt with the success of local alfalfa growers, such as Peter Engelstad, T. J. Sumpter, Jens Letnes, and many others, and Mr. Hutcheson of the Northwest Farmstead, who has made a life-long study of the alfalfa plant, aroused a great deal of enthusiasm by pointing out to the assemblage the ideal conditions which this section offers for alfalfa growing. He cautioned his hearers against undue haste in the selection of seed and laid some stress on the importance of a proper seed bed, inoculation, etc.

The arrangements for last night's banquet were excellent, down to the smallest detail. At each plate was a small bundle of alfalfa and the menu was largely made up of various palatabe dishes which had alfalfa for its principal ingredient. As one guest put it last night: "No wonder the cows like alfalfa."

As a curtain raiser an alfalfa song composed by Miss Maude L. Johnson served to put the banqueters on the qui vive. As a song hit this alfalfa piece has the banana song backed off the boards a thousand miles from Sunday. Messrs. Clyborne and Mikkelson led the singing, while Miss Johnson presided at the piano.

A committee of the bankers will join hands with a committee from the Commercial club in making a preliminary survey of the county to determine the amount of seed needed and to properly distribute the same. The question of financing the movement was also discussed and a definite agreement will be reached in this matter at a special meeting to be held at the Commercial club rooms tomorrow evening.

A resolution was adopted, a copy of which may be found in a large display advertisement on page eight of this week's issue of The Tribune.

VALLEY PEOPLE SHOW INTEREST IN CONFERENCE

Attendance Exceeds Expectations at Sessions Here Last Week.

Series Closed With Monster Meeting on Sunday at Auditorium.

Sunday evening the Thief River Falls Bible Conference held its closing session in the Auditorium, with Sidney Smith and Mr. Crawford, both of Winnipeg, speaking. Large numbers of people came to Thief River Falls from the nearby towns, and even from Warren to hear the noted speakers who addressed the Conference. The sessions opened Tuesday evening, October 16, in the Presbyterian church and were held every afternoon and evening until Sunday evening.

Dr. A. C. Gaebelein of New York City, editor of "Our Hope" and writer of "The Annotated Bible" and many other books on religious subjects, addressed the sessions of the conference every day until Friday evening when he returned to Winnipeg where a similar conference has been in session. Dr. Gaebelein spoke on the importance of the Bible in the Christian church. He took a firm stand for the Bible's claim to be the Word of God. Some of his addresses were given to a description of the message of the Bible to the church and to the world. The Friday evening session was one of the largest of the conference. At that time Dr. Gaebelein spoke on "The Jewish Question," using as his text "Hath God Cast Away His People?" He treated the question from the standpoint of the Bible and showed how the Bible looks forward to the time when the Jews will accept the Christ.

The Saturday sessions were addressed by Mr. Steven, secretary of the China Inland Mission. He told of the work and the principles of the mission. They do not solicit funds but depend entirely upon prayer for the support of the work. He said they now employed one hundred eighty missionaries and had never been in debt nor had they ever recalled a man from the field on account of lack of funds.

On Sunday Sidney Smith, prominent business man of Winnipeg, president of the Smith Murphy Grain company, and director of the Bank of Nova Scotia, addressed the three sessions in the auditorium. There were several hundred people in attendance at each of the three sessions. Mr. Smith spoke on the coming of the Kingdom of Christ and on the need for more Christian men in business. Sunday evening Mr. Crawford told of his conversion when he first came to Winnipeg to practice law, having just returned from Oxford.

Four churches of the city united in the movement for a better understanding of the Bible in modern life. They are the Methodist, Swedish Mission, Scandinavian Evangelical and Presbyterian. The conference was supervised by Peter MacFarlane, superintendent of the Union Gospel Mission, St. Paul. It was financed entirely by the voluntary offerings of the people who attended the meetings.

Singing was led by Mr. Pihlstrom of Warren and solos were sung by Miss Nellie Nelson of St. Paul.

Wheat Growers Officials Pay Visit to Thief River

Wm. J. Brown, president of the American Wheat Growers' Associated and Geo. C. Jewett, general manager of the national marketing agency, were visitors in Thief River Falls over Sunday. While here the gentlemen enjoyed a hunting trip in company with W. H. Frederick and G. W. Connell of the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Co-operative Marketing association, the state branch of the national organization.

Mr. Brown was formerly a resident of Thief River Falls but since assuming his position as president of the American Wheat Growers has established his residence in Minneapols, where the head offices of the association are located.

New Residents Arrive.

Chas. Peterson and family arrived last week from Grafton, N. D., and have decided to make Thief River Falls their permanent home. Mr. Peterson has accepted a position in the Farmers' Co-operative meat market and entered upon his duties the first of the week. He is a man of much experience in that line of work and should prove a valuable acquisition to that concern.

Needle in Woman's Arm for Seventeen Years Is Removed Here Recently

A needle which entered the arm of Mrs. Arsine Cloutier of this city more than 17 years ago, was removed from her hand here this week. The needle, which entered the arm above the wrist, had separated into two parts and when removed was quite badly corroded. Mrs. Cloutier had suffered no discomfort until recently.

To the Coast.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Thompson and children, accompanied by Edward Borgen, left this morning by car for the coast where they will spend the winter. They will visit relatives at Culbertson and Poplar, Mont., for a few weeks, before leaving for Washington and Oregon, where they will remain until spring. Mr. Thompson has been connected with the Farmers' Co-operative meat market for the past year and Mr. Borgen as clerk for the Gamble-Robinson Co.

RED CROSS ROLL CALL BEGINS ON ARMISTICE DAY

Mrs. J. N. Nesse Named by Chairman Kreidt as Drive Director.

Campaign for Memberships to Continue Until Sunday, Nov. 25.

Rev. E. H. Kreidt, chairman of the Pennington County Chapter of the Red Cross, announces the appointment of Mrs. J. N. Nesse as director of the Seventh Red Cross Call. The membership drive will take place throughout the United States from November 11, Armistice Day, until November 25, Thanksgiving Day. Mrs. Nesse is already busy arranging for a thorough canvass of the county, and, if possible, will begin the campaign before November 11, in order to avoid the inclement weather that is to be expected in the near future. Rev. Kreidt urges all people to give Mrs. Nesse their wholehearted co-operation in her large and important task.

The activities of the Pennington Chapter during the past year are the best argument in favor of such cooperation. Almost everyone will still remember the terrible disaster that befell the Aubol family at Erie, early this spring. Pennington Red Cross became an angel of mercy, a good Samaritan, to the stricken family. They had lost their all in the fearful blaze; they barely escaped with their lives; one child did meet its death in the flames. Mrs. Aubol was severely cut and burned; Miss Swenson in her heroic efforts to save the children almost sacrificed her life. Under such distressing conditions the Red Cross was able to render immediate relief in the nature of medical assistance, the help of a trained nurse, clothing, bedding, food and the like. The relief afforded in this instance reached the noble sum of almost $400.00. The Pennington Chapter donated $276.12; Roxbury Branch $71.14; Highlanding Branch emptied their treasury (definite figures were not available.) One family, at least, will never cease to be grateful to the Pennington County Red Cross.

Though the Chapter was unable to carry out its plans regarding a social worker for the county, it was able to help the Community Girls in their experiment of last summer; $150.00 was donated towards defraying the expenses of the social worker, who had been engaged for a period of three months.

Pennington county filled its quota for Japanese Relief without an extra drive for funds, a fact for which many were very thankful at the time.

The Red Cross emergency hospital and rest room conducted during the fair answered a real need and offered to mothers and children a highly appreciated comfort.

Pennington County Red Cross has "done things." It will endeavor to "do things" in the future. However, being part of a national organization, it must abide by the rules of that organization, and therefore, cannot do all that some would like to see done. But in all cases of emergency relief the Red Cross stands ready to "serve" if only its officers be acquainted with the need.

So that the Pennington Red Cross may continue to serve, when and where service is needed, let every man and woman and child answer the call of mercy; let them meet the men and women who will call on them in the near future with a cheerful smile and an open hand.

Don't forget! Seventh Roll Call of the Red Cross November 11 to November 25.

CITY CAMPAIGN STARTS OUT IN REGULAR SHAPE

Large Number of Candidates Insures Red Hot Interest in Outcome.

Filings Close Monday With Contestant for Every Place on Ticket.

The city campaign is now on in earnest and promises to be one of the most lievly in years. The large number of candidates insures interest and this interest will no doubt grow more intense as election day approaches. Monday was the last day for candidates to file for the various offices, and with the single exception of city treasurer there will be a contest for every position to be filled on election day November 6.

Here is a complete ilst of those who have filed and the positions to which they aspire:

Mayor—J. S. Arneson and N. J. Silk.

Alderman-at-Large, two to be elected—Oscar Paulson, M. V. Evenson, J. J. Weeks, Albert Halseth, Hans Rustad and F. C. Dablow.

Alderman, First ward—Carl Froseth, L. D. McAdams and T. A. Fossum.

Alderman, Second ward — John Dahl, Chris Porter and Hilmer Ostrom.

Alderman, Third ward—H. A. Brumund and Carsten Christensen.

Alderman, Fourth ward — Andrew Ness, O. A. Rambeck, Knute Melby and O. L. Bakken.

Municipal Judge—N. W. Tarrant, Geo. W. Wilson, G. Halvorson and R. K. Callaway.

Special Municipal Judge — G. H. Smith and Scott Laird.

Treasurer—Ed. Evenson.

Voters this year should have no complaint because of a limited choice of candidates for whom to vote. All of the candidates have their certain following and at this time it is impossible to hazard a guess as to the outcome of the election.

Of the men enumerated above, the following are seeking re-election: Carl Froseth, John Dahl, H. A. Brumund, Andrew Ness, N. W. Tarrant, Ed. Evenson and G. H. Smith.

CANADIANS SENT BACK TO HOMES

Family Attempts to Settle Here But Authorities Enter Objection.

Having come to the conclusion that she and her children would rather not spend another winter with the husband and father in the wilds of Canada, Mrs. Oscar Anderson and five children, the oldest 13 years of age, came to Thief River Falls early this month from Piney, Manitoba, and proceeded to cast about for a suitable place to make their home. They were accompanied by a young lady named Hilda Sorlie. It seems Mr. Anderson had not been consulted in the matter and he at once set out in an effort to secure the return of his family.

Canadian authorities reported the matter to Chief of Police Ralston of this city, who instituted a search with the result that he found the family settled in a house in the southern part of Thief River Falls. Every indication pointed to them becoming city charges before long if they were allowed to remain, and for this reason the authorities here naturally favored the idea of having the family returned to Canada at the earliest possible moment.

The finding of the family was immediately reported to the Canadian immigration officials and arrangements were made for their return to Piney. The strangers evidently had taken quite a liking to Thief River Falls and were very much opposed to the idea of returning to Canada. But circumstances were such that there was nothing else for them to do.

Publicity Man Here.

Ray McClung, publicity manager for the American Wheat Growers' Associated, Inc., was in Thief River Falls the latter part of last week. He was here on a business visit to the Minnesota Wheat Growers' Cooperative Marketing association, the state branch of the American Associated.

Commercial Travelers to Trip Light Fantastic Toe at Auditorium on Friday

People of Thief River Falls and vicinity who enjoy dancing to good music are looking forward to next Friday evening, when the U. C. T. lodge of the city will put on their annual dance at the Auditorium. The knights of the grip always make it a point to have a good time at their dances and do not propose to fall down in their entertainment program this year. Everything possible will be done for the comfort and entertainment of those who attend.

All those who enjoy dancing to good music are extended a cordial invitation to be present at the Auditorium next Friday evening.

Sunday at Middle River.

H. L. Schuster spent Sunday at Middle River, where he assisted in dismantling the plant of the Pioneer. Most of the equipment has been sold and will be shipped at once.

CITY TAXES FOR THIS YEAR ARE LESS THAN LAST

Common Council Decides $55,000 Sufficient to Run Municipality.

Half Mill Tax for Band Purposes to Be Continued as Formerly.

The session of the council last night was a lengthy one, considerable time being consumed in the disposition of the annual tax levy for the coming year; also the second reading of the proposed milk ordinance. Various minor matters also were before the council and it was nearly 11 o'clock before adjournment was taken, all aldermen having been present during the meeting.

The levy this year is below that for the past two years, the amount to be raised for next year being placed at $55,000 as compared to $59,200 last year and $55.500 two years ago. The amounts to be levied for the various funds follow:

Current fund	$32,999
Sinking fund	500
Auditorium fund	1,000
Poor fund	4.000
Interest fund	2,000
Library fund	3,700
Cemetery fund	800
Park fund	3,000
Hydrant fund	2.000
Paving fund	6,000

In addition to the above a half mill tax is also to be levied for band purposes the same as was done the past year. Nothing was withdrawn from the band fund the past season as the band was not in existence, but with the funds available this coming season undoubtedly there will be plenty of music.

The milk ordinance was given its second reading with no objections being made to any part thereof. The date of expiration for all licenses provided thereunder was set for the close of the regular license year, May 1. The license fee was not definitely decided upon but will probably be $1.

Two building permits were granted, one for $4,600 to the Pyramid Oil company to cover the cost of remodeilng the front of the present building of the Peoples Auto company, and also for the erection of a storage plant 12x18 feet in size on Atlantic avenue, on the Soo right-of-way. The second permit was to Chas. Helquist for a garage.

A resolution was passed authorizing the purchase of the two lots owned by John Chrpa of Bohemia for $75, John Vorachek giving a bond to the city guaranteeing title thereto. These two lots are located in Lovers Lane and will be part of the park system.

Dr. L. R. Twete was ordered substituted for Hans Rustad in the First ward, Martin Benson for Scott Laird in the Second, and Oscar Smith for Carsten Christensen in the Third, on account of the former having filed for election, this action on their part barring them from acting as a judge or clerk of election.

Carr Visits City.

R. D. V. Carr, former publisher of the Pioneer at Middle River and now residing at White Rock, S. D., was a visitor in Thief River Falls on Monday. Mr. Carr was on his way home from Middle River, where he had prepared a quantity of printing equipment for shipment. The Tribune purchased a job press and considerable other material from Mr. Carr, which will be added to its mechanical department within a few days.

STATE TO GRADE TRUNK HIGHWAY TO ST. HILAIRE

Bids Will Be Opened November 7 on New Seven-Mile Project.

Plan Is to Start Work as Soon as Possible After Spring Opens.

Definite steps have at last been taken for the permanent improvement of Trunk Highway No. 32 between St. Hilaire and Thief River Falls. According to an announcement recently, received from the office of the state highway department, bids have been called for November 7 for the grading of this seven-mile stretch of road at an estimated cost of $25.000. According to present plants it is the intention of the department to commence work as soon as practicable in the spring, by which time it is believed that all details connected with the routing, right-of-way, etc., will have been fully settled. This project is not to be financed with county reimbursement bonds, but is a piece of work which the department feels cannot for valid reasons longer be postponed.

Bids will be opened the same day on nine other projects throughout the state, which include 60 miles of new grading, 12 miles each of paving and graveling and 17 new bridges, widely distributed over the state. The commissioner again urges contractors located near the projects to submit figures.

The improvements for the greater part will be built next year and the contracts are to be let well in advance because of experience showing that lower prices are so secured. Those not to be financed with county reimbursement bonds, it was officially explained, are projects that for different reasons cannot longer be postponed.

Portable and standard monolithic culverts on all grading are included in the plans and estimates. The bids will be opened publicly November 7 at 10 a.m., at the St. Paul offices of the state highway department.

Holt Commercial Club to Give Smoker on Saturday Night to Boost Community

The Holt Commercial club has decided to entertain the farmers of the neighborhood at a smoker to be given in the school auditorium of that village on Saturday evening, October 27. It is hoped in this way to foster the cmmunity spirit which is so essential to the welfare of both farmers and business men.

Among the speakers on the program for Saturday evening are Dr. H. W. Froehlich, president of the Thief River Falls Commercial club, J. J. McCann, county agent of Pennington county, and J. S. Arneson, editor of the Thief River Falls Tribune. It is the intention of the Holt business men to inject a lot of "peptomism" into the meeting and every farmer in the neighborhood is urged to be present.

City Dray and Fuel Co. Conducted By New Owner

A deal was closed the latter part of last week whereby Manther & Smith disposed of their interests in the City Dray and Fuel company, which they have conducted for a number of years. The new owner is Martin Carlson, who has made Thief River Falls his home for a long time and is well known here. Mr. Carlson took charge of the property Monday morning.

During the past season Messrs. Manther and Smith have been engaged in raising sugar beets on a large scale and expect to continue in future years in this business on even a more extensive basis and for this reason found they could not give the dray and fuel business the attention which it required. The new owner of the dray business is known as a hard worker and should make a success of it right from the start.

Stores to Close.

Merchants of Thief River Falls have reached an agreement to close their places of business during the afternoon of Monday, November 12, which will be observed as Armistice Day instead of November 11, which falls on Sunday this year. Notice also is served by the merchants of the city that their stores will remain closed all day November 29, which is Thanksgiving Day. All persons having occasion to visit the stores of Thief River Falls on the days mentioned should bear these rulings in mind and fill their requirements while there is yet time.

LARGE CHECKS ARE NOW RULE FOR CREAMERY

Statement for September Shows Satisfactory Returns to Dairymen.

Figures Prove Section Rapidly Turning to Better Methods.

Below is given a list of patrons of the Thief River Co-operative Creamery association who received checks of $50.00 and over for the month of September. Business continues very good at the creamery and the total pay roll for the month is given as $12,763.41, which in addition to cash cream of $7,568.33 makes a grand total of $20,331.74 for the month. This is an exceptionally good showing and proves that the dairy industry in this section is on a solid and steadily increasing basis. Followng is the list of patrons receiving $50 and over:

A Distinct Difference

There is a vast difference between a merchant and a storekeeper. The merchant makes an effort to serve the people with the best merchandise and tells them about it, while the storekeeper simply opens and closes his place every day, in the meantime taking what happens to come his way.—LeSueur Center Leader-Democrat.

GOOD BASKETBALL GAMES SCHEDULED FOR SEASON

In spite of the fact that three of last year's regulars are lost to the team due to graduation or non-attendance, coach Tandberg of the local high school is optimistic about the outlook in basketball this season and is busy getting a line on the material out of which he hopes to build a winning team.

At a meeting of the high school students last Friday, the finance committee of the high school athletic association presented the plan of selling season tickets. The plan was adopted by the students and an aggressive campaign will be conducted to place a season ticket in the hands of every pupil as well as the people in town. Each ticket will entitle one person to attend six games and these tickets will be sold to the pupils at $1.00 and to others at $1.50. In view of the fact that the single admission charges this year will be 30 and 40 cents, a considerable saving will be made by purchasing season tickets.

A complete schedule of games will be ready in a few weeks. To date two games have been booked: Stephen Nov. 30, and Stephen at Middle River December 7.

Reception For Teachers

The teachers of the local schools were tendered a reception given in their honor by the Board of Education at the high school auditorium Friday evening. A general invitation had been extended to all the parents and patrons of the school and a large number availed themselves of this opportunity of getting acquainted with the teachers. The reception had been planned as an informal get-to-gether and the evening was spent in conversation and getting acquainted. A delicious lunch prepared by the wives of the members of the Board of Education contributed to the enjoyment of the evening.

Chicken Pie Dinner.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid will serve a chicken pie dinner at the annual bazaar to be conducted in the M. W. A. hall Friday, October 26. A large number of useful articles will be placed on sale at the bazaar. All are cordially invited to attend.

Lucky Escape.

Calmar Brenna and D. Brower were the victims of what might have been a very serious auto accident last Sunday afternoon. They were driving on the high ditch grade east of town when Mr. Brenna who was at the wheel lost control of the car and plunged headlong into the ditch. The car was partly submerged in water but the two occupants managed to extricate themselves and escaped with a few minor bruises.

Johnson-Sollom.

The marriage of Elvina Sollem of this village to Ole Johnson of Holt came as a complete surprise to the many friends of the contracting parties when the announcement was made recently. Unknown to their friends and relatives the couple went to Thief River Falls September 15th and were quietly married. The bride is a daughter of Mrs. T. Sollem. The newlyweds will make their home at Holt where the groom is in the mercantile business.

Prominent Visitors Here.

Mr. M. L. Jacobsen, Mr. E. M. Phillips, and Mr. C. W. Street, all representatives of the State Department of Education, arrived at Middle River Friday morning. Mr. Phillips and Mr. Jacobsen left immediately for Greenbush and Warroad while Mr. Street spent a part of the day visiting the Middle River school.

Interesting Lecture.

Mr. I. T. Simley, superintendent of the Thief River Falls schools, delivered an address at the opening program of the local Luther League. "Character" was the subject of Mr. Simley's address and he discussed this topic in a most interesting and instructive manner.

Lutheran Circuit Meeting.

A large delegation of delegates and pastors arrived Tuesday to participate in the circuit meeting which is held here Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week. The opening session was conducted in the First Lutheran Church Tuesday evening. The meeting will close Thursday evening at which time Rev. H. O. Svare, of Belgrade, financial secretary of the Northern District of the Norwegian Lutheran Church, will address the convention on the subject of Church Finance. Special music has been arranged for this meeting and a large turn-out is anticipated.

A TERRIBLE MOONSHINE TRAGEDY.

A terrible tragedy at Alexandria last Friday night which resulted in the death of three men can be definitely traced to the illicit sale of moonshine. Eddie Larson, the murderer, drove his family from the house after threatening them with death as he had repeatedly done in the past. Then he shot an old friend, a friendly neighbor across the street who attempted to act as peacemaker.

During the attempt to get the drink crazed assassin a fine young man who happened to be a member of the sheriff's posse was shot and killed accidently by one of his own comrades. The closing chapter of the horrible affair was the burning alive of the murderer after he had been wounded by a bullet.

What a lesson this tragedy carries to those towns which are being policed by spineless or indifferent officials. Is not the blood of old man Ley, William Ramsden and the murderer, Larson, smeared all over the doorsteps of the law enforcement officials of Alexandria? We think it is.

They must have known what was going on in the Larson home. Why did not they hunt out the criminals who were firing the brain of Eddie Larson, send them to jail and place Larson where he would not be a menace to his family and the peaceful neighbors? If that is not what police officers are for, then what are they for?

As has repeatedly been pointed out by this newspaper, every city and hamlet which tolerates the presence of moonshine peddlers will eventually pay the price as Alexandria has now paid so dearly.

SPENDING AND INVESTING.

William Wrigley, the chewing gum magnate, "spends" about $10,000 a day for advertising.

Wherever you go, wherever you turn, you are reminded of the fact that "the flavor lasts." And isn't it true that about nine out of ten persons buying gum say: "Gimme a package of Wrigley's so and so?"

Wrigley's is imbedded on the minds of millions—in America and other civilized countries—as indelibly as the most popular brand of tooth paste or wearing apparel—probably more so.

But this brings us back to the subject: "Does Wrigley 'spend' money for advertising?" Our answer is in the negative. We say most emphatically that he invests his money in advertising—and does it most profitably.

By the use of clever public appeal Wrigley has taken a commonplace product and has put it in the mouths of hundreds of thousands. He has taken his money, placed it in sound, truthful advertising and has made himself as well known as Mr. Ford or the president of the nation.

While very few products can be turned into a Wrigley, it is possible by consistent and persistent advertising to put your message across, provided the product has merit and there is a demand for it.

Money spent that way is an investment—and it produces. It is not spent. It always brings back its own and good interest.

TRADE BUILDING PLANS.

Thief River Falls merchants followed the example set by the merchants of this city and postponed action on the Neosha plan, stating that practically every essential element of the plan had been tried out. Bemidji need not worry over plans. If the merchants and business men continue to treat the buyers in this community fairly and squarely, having a friendly word for strangers who come into their stores, interesting themselves in the projects that will build up this section of the state and handling reliable known merchandise at a legitimate price, there will be no need of any imported plan to convince the people of Northern Minnesota that Bemidji is a good city in which to trade.—Bemidji Sentinel.

The farmer is more concerned about getting a square deal and true co-operation from the local business man than he is about "bargain" days and similar schemes designed for the purpose of bringing him to a certain town at a certain time to do his trading. When the farmer comes to feel that the country town business man is his friend, ready to treat him right on every occasion, the problem of keeping the rural trade at home will have solved itself.

THE MILK INDUSTRY.

There are few foods in the world containing so many elements essential to good health as milk. Ancient peoples knew this well, though they were unable to analyze it, and for ages it has gone along with bread as the "staff of life." In the Odyssey it is spoken of nearly as much as the wines of Homeric times, and in the Bible "the land of milk and honey blest." Nearly all ancient peoples were milk consumers. In these modern times America is the largest producer, and uses more than any other nation. In 1922, 102,562,121,000 pounds were consumed, enough to fill a freight train whose cars circled the globe twelve times.

The milk industry plays an important role in the economic life of the nation. The value of farms on which dairy cattle are maintained is $48,000,000,000. Over 700,000,000 acres comprise the extent of the grazing lands. On these dairy farms live over a quarter of all the people in the United States. Seventy-one per cent of all the farms in the country maintain dairy cattle. The total output last year of milk was enough to cover ten square miles of ground at a depth sufficient to cover the head of the average mature person.

America is a great dairy country because it has mastered the art of dairying and has learned to keep milk and its products clean. The dairyman's ability to avail himself of new ideas has been instrumental in placing the nation at the head of all those in the dairy business on a large scale. And sanitary measures, stringently enforced, have given the consuming public unlimited confidence in this great industry.—Crookston Times.

CAR COSTS COMPUTED.

The generally accepted figure of ten cents a mile as the cost of operating the average automobile was adopted recently by the Wisconsin railroad commission as its official standard. The rate is held interesting for its many applications.

In Minnesota, for example, the recent traffic census showed that the average section of the state trunk highway system is travelled by 834 vehicles a day. If a new location or other change shortens the distance on a route carrying average travel, it follows that it would mean a saving to 834 car owners—auto tax payers who are bearing the big share of trunk highway costs.

At ten cents a mile, that saving would be $83.40 a day—more than $30,000 a year and $300,000 in ten years, all exclusive of the cost of improving and always maintaining the extra but unnecessary mile.

This discloses a big reason for the right building of highways in the first place—to secure the biggest returns on funds so invested.

Here is our view of that Alexandria affair: If the law enforcement officials of that city do not know what is going on they are fools and ought to resign on that account. If they knew and did not act, they are crooks and ought to resign on that account. Any way you look at it they ought to get out and give up their places to real MEN.

We know of at least one abandoned farm in this county which will again be farmed by its owner and that very soon. He has been studying all about alfalfa and his place which was for sale cheap is no longer on the market. He is a Tribune subscriber, by the way, and has been inspired to renewed action by our alfalfa sermons.

Someone ran over a poor little brown spaniel near the south bridge Monday afternoon and left the helpless animal lying on the pavement in a pool of its own blood until a good Samaritan came to its rescue. One so heartless would no doubt run over a child without stopping to render aid to the injured.

The editor of The Tribune has not seen fit to thank those kind friends who last week induced him to file for the office of mayor of Thief River Falls. To be mayor of this city is worthy of the aspirations of any man but we are not sure that we have anything to be thankful for—not yet.

Paste this in your hat: When the tourists from afar begin to drive along the beautiful roads of Pennington county, garnished as they will be with alfalfa, there will be no farms for sale in this neck of the woods. At least there will be no farms for sale cheap.

It seems that a great deal of rivalry has been worked up by The Tribune between different localities in these parts as to which has the best alfalfa raiser. And, by the way, the editor is not a bit ashamed of engendering that kind of a factional feeling.

A red hot municipal campaign is the best medicine in the world for a dormant or sluggish community spirit. Therefore we hail with delight the coming fray as a possible means of injecting the virus of action into everything and everybody in the city.

It took the governor of South Dakota and various other public officials two years to find out what was pointed out by The Tribune in the first place, namely, that the oil companies were skinning the public to a frazzle.

Do not overlook the fact that The Tribune has over forty country correspondents in Pennington county and adjacent territory. Which means that this newspaper has the best news gathering force in the state of Minnesota.

No city can thrive or prosper which is under the domination of any class or clique, faction or denomination. This great country of ours is the melting pot of the universe and intolerance decidedly has no place in it.

Governor Allen, of Kansas, who visited Thief River Falls two weeks ago is now talked of as a running mate for President Collidge. Just 27 people paid to hear his lecture here. Such is fame.

Peter McFarlane spoke a great truth at the closing meeting of the bible conference when he said: "We are all trying to get to heaven—why not begin by getting better acquainted here on earth."

Abraham Lincoln was defeated for office five times before he became president of the United States. This fact is a great solace to the editor of The Tribune.

To paraphrase the utterance of some well known philosopher whose name we cannot now remember: "We hope the acrimony of the campaign will be pleasant."

We sincerely hope all the candidates for city offices have locked up their family skeletons in such a way as to keep them from the public gaze.

Already they are beginning to talk about Pennington county as the best alfalfa county in the state. We can stand more of that kind of gossip.

It hardly seems possible that Governor Allen was influenced to become a candidate for vice president by his visit recently to this city.

Free advice to candidates for the various city offices: "Whom the Gods would destroy they first make mad."

The more we see of Oklahoma the happier we are to think we reside in Minnesota.

Hint to the weather man: A litle more of the same, please.

"Let him who is without sin cast the first stone."

SHOOTS FRIEND IN CRAZE FROM DRINKING MOON

Alexandria Slayer Dies After House Is Fired by Posse.

Bullet From Posse Kills One Member of Party Making Capture.

Edward Larson, 38, slayer of Jacob Ley was shot to death by posse and his body partly burned when his bungalow was fired in an effort to drive him from cover, possemen found early Saturday at Alexandria, when they examined the smoking ruins of the house.

William Ransden, a member of the posse, also is dead as a result of the series of tragic events which had their inception the previous night when Larson shot Ley after the latter had attempted to intercede for Mrs. Larson and her two sons who had been driven from their home by the husband at the point of a gun.

Ransden was killed accidentally during an exchange of shots between the possemen and Larson. Ransden had separated himself from the attacking party of deputies who had surrounded the Larson home where the slayer had barricaded himself and a bullet from the posse struck him in the thigh and ranged upward. He died several hours later after absolving his companions from all blame.

Discovery of Larson's death followed an all night's seige during which the possemen under the direction of Sheriff Emil Lundeen of Alexandria sought to dislodge him by rifle fire and by pouring ammonia into the house.

One members of the posse gained entrance to a room adjoining that in which Larson had barricaded himself and spread about two gallons of ammonia. The ammonia failed, however, to have an effect on Larson and the posse divided itself into two sections and began to pour a steady stream of lead into the building to which Larson steadily replied. It was during this exchange of shots that Ransden was fatally wounded apparently by a bullet from the opposite section of the posse.

While the possemen held a consultation Larson kept up an intermittent fire and the party decided to fire the house. This was done at 6:30 and shortly after the building was burned Larson's body with one leg almost shot away was found in the ruins. Officials are of the opinion that he died before the fire was started.

In the ruins two rifles, a shot gun and several revolvers also were found. It was apparent, possemen said that Larson had a large supply of ammunition on hand but this was destroyed in the fire.

The shooting occurred, it was said, after Larson had driven his family from their home. Ley, who lived across the street, went over to the Larson home to remonstrate.

The man had just set his foot on the threshold when Larson fired twice. Ley ran back home and died on his own doorstep, shot thru the neck.

The authorities immediately assembled fifteen men and surrounded the house when Larson locked himself to his bedroom.

His relatives said that Larson became drunk and yesterday his family said, he stayed home from his work as a section hand on the Great Northern railway. He acted queerly, morose and talking to himself. Last night he obtained a gun and threatened to shoot his wife and two sons, who ran across the street to the home of Ley. Ley is said to have acted as a peacemaker on several other occasions. He is survived by a widow and a son and daughter.

Clarence Larson, a brother of Eddie Larson, entered the Larson home shortly after the shooting. He was met by Eddie, who prodded a rifle in Clarence's ribs and told him "to get out."

When a young fellow starts out to have a h——of a time, it's one sign he's going to the devil.

Will Our Land Ever Be Worth $300 Per Acre?

IMPOSSIBLE, you say. Let's see what has been accomplished this very year. One man has already realized $100 per acre from his sweet clover seed. Another received more than that from his alfalfa. That is pretty good interest on $300 land, is it not? Perhaps we are just waking up to the vast possibilities of our own section. No one knows what will happen in the years to come. But one thing is certain, there is no cheap alfalfa land in the United States. The eyes of experts have been turned in our direction.

This Bank Has Faith in Future of This Section

THESE experts say our land is ideal alfalfa land. Our soil is well adapted to the crop which more than any other has lifted other communities out of the rut. We have decided, therefore, to assist and encourage in every way the propogation of alfalfa and sweet clover, believing as we do that increased prosperity will come to the farmer and noxious weeds will give place to fields which will enormously add to the value of our land—when we have more alfalfa.

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Palmer and Geo. Gebeau of Red Lake Falls, E. P. tacy, maintenance superintendent of Worthington and Miss Wynne Daly of Pine City, were guests at the L. R. Johnston home in Thief River Falls over Sunday.

Dance at Middle River.

Snyder's orchestra of this city furnished music for a dance last Friday evening at Middle River. The attendance was large and the affair proved a decided success both socially and financially.

LIFE INSURANCE

Funny Stories and Sad Pictures

Mark Twain once said, "The weather—the weather, everybody is always talking about it—but nobody does anything."

Many men — husbands, fathers and sons—are the same way. They talk about their responsibilities, but few of them do anything.

They will look at the picture above and admit that they do not want their wives—their children those dependent upon them—left, penniless, alone and unequipped to meet the stern struggles of the world.

These men should all know that life insurance is an inexpensive guarantee against this very situation.

I would like the opportunity of explaining in detail the various forms of protection—one of which will be sure to fit your particular responsibilities.

Think it over. I shall see you soon.

We hereby wish to extend our heartfelt thanks to friends and neighbors who so kindly assisted us and tendered their sympathy during the illness and following the death of our beloved wife and mother, and also for the beautiful floral offerings.—Emil Johnson and children.

Mrs. Iver Hoium.

Mrs. Iver Hoium died suddenly last Wednesday afternoon from an attack of heart failure. Mrs. Hoium was well when her son Howard left Tuesday noon for school and when her son Raymond returned from work at four o'clock she was found unconscious on the floor. She was rushed to the Physicians hospital where she passed away the following afternoon.

Deceased was born at Lyle, Minn., Sept. 15, 1872, and was married to Mr. Hoium in 1894. They made their home at Albert Lea until 1904, when they moved to this city. Here they have since made their home with the exception of four years, which were spent at Bismarck, N. D. Mrs. Hoium was at the time of her death 51 years of age. She was a loving Christian mother and was highly respected by everyone. She was a good church worker and will be greatly missed by the members of the Trinity Ladies' Aid.

Besides a grief stricken husband, she leaves to mourn her sad death, children: Miss Blanche of Madison, Wis.; Miss Alice of Minneapolis; Berlin, Raymond and Howard of this city. She also is survived by one sister, Mrs. J. A. Larson of Lyle, Minn.

Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock from the Trinity Lutheran church, Rev. T. E. Sweger officiating. The body was laid to rest at Greenwood cemetery, with J. E. Nelson, C. C. Gulrud, E. Yonke, B. Thorstad, J. Thorstad and Norman Stenberg acting as pallbearers.

The out of town relatives who attended the funeral were, Mrs. J. A. Larson of Lyle, Minn., Mrs. Chas. Lindale, Mrs. John Sumerbelt and John Hoium of Albert Lea, Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Bothun of Halma, and Joseph Lindale of Minneapolis.

Around the County

Superintendent's Corner

By Ole R. Sande, Co. Supt.

American Education Week this year comes on November 18th to 24th. As teachers in the public schools we are naturally interested in the continued progress of education of ideals and in the steady improvement of conditions in the work of education. We want to see improvement not only in the work done by teachers but also in the conditions under which teachers work. If things were left entirely to the teachers they would perhaps be a whole lot different from what they are. But it is a good thing that there is a public that is constantly holding us back. I say a good thing, because if it were not for this restraining influence we would no doubt go too far in our direction. There is a happy medium in these matters but if we are not on guard and pull hard together we are going to be pulled too far in the direction of reducing school privileges.

Our weapon is eduction itself and American Education Week gives us a splendid opportunity to present to the public a true picture of the needs in public education. Every teacher, who thinks enough of education to be willing to accept a position as teacher and to receive even what little salary the position pays, should be enthusiastic about doing her part to get the message of "Better Educational Opportunities" to the citizens in her district.

Elmer J. Ecklund Post No. 117 of Thief River Falls is willing to do its part. All service men are in favor of orderly progress in all things because they have tasted the bitter results of ignorance, and disorderly means to accomplish an end. The Post has therefore directed me as adjutant and County Superintendent to make plans for effectively observing American Education Week.

Each teacher will receive a copy of the official program for the week and it is urged that each school incorporate in the daily program. Exercises that are appropriate for each day of the week. Parents should be invited to visit the school, especially on Wednesday, and pains should be taken to acquaint each one with what the school is actually doing.

Each Sectional Leader is directed to get together with the teachers in her group and arrange for a public Sectional meeting in accordance with the following schedule:

Sec I. Monday, Nov. 19, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. II. Monday, Nov. 19, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. III. Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. IV. Tuesday, Nov. 20, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. V. Saturday, Nov. 24, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. VI. Saturday, Nov. 24, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. VII. Friday, Nov. 23, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. VIII. Wednesday, Nov. 21, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. IX. Friday, Nov. 23, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. X. Thursday, Nov. 22, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. XI. Thursday, Nov. 22, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

Sec. XII. Wednesday, Nov. 21, 1923, at 8 o'clock.

The place for holding the meeting is to be selected by the teachers in the group. The program for the evening should be arranged by the teachers. Each school should contribute something and the Legion Post will furnish a good speaker and such other numbers as can be secured. It is suggested that the meeting be made the occasion for holding contests in spelling, arithmetic and possibly other subjects between the various schools in the section.

Do This.

1. Each teacher arrange special exercises for each day in the week, and urge parents to visit school. Have pupils make invitations.

2. Teachers in the Section get together and select the school where public sectional meeting is to be held, then arrange a program to which each school should contribute something, bearing in mind that the Legion will furnish one or more good numbers. Arrange a contest of some kind between the schools, spelling and arithmetic suggested.

Let's become enthusiastic about this event, and do everything we can to get the message of our profession to the people in our communities.

Yours for better opportunities in education.

Ole R. Sande,
County Superintendent.

Sections and Sectional Leaders.

After considerable study I have made a few changes in the arrangements of Reading Circle Sections. This arrangement is tentative, however, and as it is the intention to permit a teacher to belong to any group that makes it most convenient for her to carry on this work. I shall be glad to have your suggestions as to arrangement or your request to be placed in a certain group. Study over this schedule and get yourself located.

Books for reading circle work should be ordered from the N. W. School Supply Company, Minneapolis, and not from the Secretary of the Reading Circle Board or the County Superintendent. I should like to know when and where you hold your meetings so that I can attend if I should so desire.

PENNINGTON COUNTY
"The Home of Alfalfa"

OUR ALFALFA PLEDGE!

Believing that prosperity of a permanent nature upon the farms of Pennington County is the sole basis of expansion and success in town and country, and being deeply impressed with alfalfa growing as a solution of the problem before us,

We the bankers of Pennington County, viewing with pride the extraordinary success which has attained the culture of alfalfa in this section, and being firmly convinced by the demonstrated success of our enterprising farmers in this direction, and being further convinced by competent authority that our section is especially adapted by nature to alfalfa, and with the evidence before us of large yields and substantial returns,

Therefore, be it resolved by the Bankers' Association of Pennington County, that we pledge our best efforts, our moral support and our financial assistance to every intelligent movement which has for its object better understanding and increased acreage of this highly important and profitable crop, believing, as we do, that such action on our part offers the widest field for service to the whole community;

Be it Further Resolved, that we heartily congratulate and commend the efforts of our friends on the farm for the inspiration and encouragement they have given their neighbors in giving alfalfa a prominent place in their future farming plans.

Sunny Nook School, Dist. 51.
Johanna Wedul, Teacher.

We, the pupils and teacher of Sunny Nook school are very thankful to The Tribune for offering us this opportunity and we hope that we will not be the only benefactors, but also the community and county as well. This is our first attempt and we expect to do better in coming issues.

The attendance has been very poor in this school the past month. Two pupils, namely, Floyd Culkins and Clara Gilbertson have failed to enroll and others are staying out for various reasons. The chief reason, however, seems to be the herding of cattle. The following pupils have not attended school the past three weeks: Margaret and Lawrence Gubbe and Arvid Peterson. We hope hey will realize the money and time they are wasting by staying out so they will attend regularly from now on.

At the close of last month four were issued. The pupils receiving them were: Norma Peterson, Oscar Brown, Elmer Brown and Alice Peterson. Next month we expect to have many more receiving them.

Miss Jennie Helgerson spent Wednesday evening, October 17 at Thief River Falls with her sister Clara, who is confined in the Physician's hospital there. Miss Clara met with an accident early last spring while employed at Duluth and as a result of this she has been laid up for all summer. She is improving quite rapidly now and expects to be able to leave the hospital within the period of a few weeks.

Two new pupils enrolled last Monday, October 15. They are Carl and Eric Johnson, who just recently moved to this district. The total enrollment at this time is nineteen, and two more are expected.

Wednesday morning graveling was begun on the reservation line southeast of Thief River Falls. The gravel is being taken from O. J. Peterson's farm so it makes a short haul, especially now because they began graveling from this end. N. O. Johnson of Krakta township hauled the first load out of the pit.

Miss Wedul called at the Anton Peterson and Fred Brown homes two evenings this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Peterson and Mrs. Carl Gilbertson went to Thief River Falls on business last Thursday afternoon, October 18.

Helge Helgerson assisted Jim Evenson, a Wyandotte farmer, with his threshing last Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Brown made a trip to Thief River Falls Thursday, October 18. Mr. Brown had the misfortune of getting something in his left eye and went to a physician there to get it removed.

The Hummer School, Dist. 30.
Mabel C. Jacobson, Teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hammer were visited by Rev. Aaker of Goodridge this week.

Mrs. Alfred Bredeson was a visitor at the B. B. Hammer home Tuesday.

Miss Agness Angell, Ruth Brekke and Edith Stenseth called on Misses Margaret and Doris Wiener last Sunday.

Mrs. Carrie Brekke, who has been visiting with friends and relatives at Fisher, Minn., returned last Sunday.

Andrew Larson and Oscar Thronson of Crookston, autoed to the Brekke farm last Sunday to visit relatives and friends.

Floyd Lane, having decided to quit farming, will sell out at a public auction October 23, eight miles east and four miles south of Thief River Falls.

Millard and Robert Pederson were callers on Earl Lane and Oscar Brekke Sunday.

Augusta Beiswinger spent Saturday and Sunday at her home. She is teaching near Thief River Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. Weiland and son of Fisher visited Carl Beiswinger Sunday. They came by auto.

There is to be a parcel social in the Hummer school, District 31, October 27. A short program is to be given before the parcels are to be sold. Hallowe'en decorations are to be used. Everyone welcome.

***

Dist. 30, Mabel C. Shefveland, Teacher

The Newton school opened Monday, October 8, with an attendance of sixteen pupils. All the older pupils must be absent on account of potato picking. All the little folks are anxious to get down to business and we hope they will continue to feel that way.

Supt. Ole R. Sande visited our school Monday morning. He gave us a nice little talk emphasizing particularly two points, namely, "Be sure you get here every day," and "Get here for 'something'." He spoke so plainly that all could understand him and one little boys said, "I could understand every word that man said." We thank Mr. Sande and hope we will profit by his advice.

Ole Newton returned Wednesday from Hoople, N. D., where he has been employed this fall.

Bjorgo Newton left on Friday, October 12, for California, where he expects to spend the winter.

Our clerk, Mr. Newton, has been doing some repair work at the school house this week.

RIVER FALLS

Esther Fricker, Teacher.
Wide Awake School, Dist. 178.

A handkerchief social will be given at the August Swenson school, Dist. 178, on Saturday evening, Oct. 27. Girls bring a man's handkerchief with name attached and lunch for two! Coffee will be served free. Come and play a game with us.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Jepson and Mr. and Mrs. D. Johnson and little girl visited on Sunday at the Carl Dalager home.

Mrs. W. P. Wilson and children, George, Ivenett and Marian, were at Thief River Falls Tuesday evening.

Emil Just of St. Hilaire called at the F. W. Damman home Friday to see about his bees and honey.

The children neither absent nor tardy from school for the last month are: Alvin, Floyd and Viola Damman, Freda, Ruby and Ray Hanson and Glenn and Helen Wilson.

All classes are having contests in spelling that will last for the entire year. The pupil from each class who receives 100 each day, receives a gold star and the child who has the most gold stars at the end of the month receives a colored star on his name. Prizes will be given at the end of the term. The winners of the colored stars last month were: Woodrow Wilson of the seventh and sixth grades, Doris Wilson of the fourth grade, Viloa Damman of the third grade and Glenn Wilson of the second grade.

The coping saws are of great help to the boys in the manual training class. At present they are making tables and chairs for the doll house.

The children of the lower grades completed their sewing cards last Friday,

Misses Marian, Ivenett, Max and George Wilson and Alvin Swenson visited on Sunday at the Swan Johnson home.

Arthur Johnson is absent from school this week because of a bee sting.

Mrs. H. Jepson and Mrs. Otto Johnson shopped at St. Hilaire last Thursday.

Mrs. F. W. Damman and children Viola and Floyd, are now at Livermore, Iowa, where they are visiting with Mrs. Damman's mother, Mrs. H. Bergum.

Carry and Arthur Johnson are back to school this week, having been absent for two weeks because of potato picking.

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Wilson and family attended church at Thief River Falls Sunday.

Mrs. Albert Johnson left Wednesday for Goodridge where she will visit with her friend, Mrs. Kirkle. She will return Friday night.

All grades are making Hallowe'en decorations this month.

Our school became a member of the Red Cross society this week, having raised the required fifty cents.

Woodrow and Glenn Wilson and Alvin Damman visited at the Albert Johnson home Sunday.

Sugar Mill Begins Run.

The factory of the Minnesota Sugar company at Chaska has started its fall run and expects to continue night and day for probably 100 days. The two shifts of men will work 12 hours each and 900 tons of beets will be handled daily, with a 24 hour output of sugar approximately 200,000 pounds. Already the beets are coming in by the carload. Red River valley beets are reported unusually high in sugar content.

ST. HILAIRE

Nettland Funeral Services.

Funeral services for the late Lars G. Nettland were conducted from the family home Friday afternoon at 1 o'clock and from St. Pauli church at 2:30, Rev. C. M. Grimsrud officiating. Interment was made in the St. Pauli cemetery. Mr. Nettland was a well known and highly respected citizen of Rocksbury township. He leaves a widow, four daughters and three sons to mourn his loss. The heartfelt sympathy of their many friends is extended toi the members of the family in their bereavement.

Creamery Board Meets.

The board of directors of the St. Hilaire Cooperative Creamery association held their regular monthly meeting in the creamery building Saturday, October 20. The pay roll to local farmers for this month is around the $12,000 mark. More than 100 patrons received over $50.

Sophomore Outing.

The members of the Sophomore class of the local high school enjoyed a very pleasant marshmallow roast last Monday evening. Miss O. Mohen acted as chaperone, and the evening was spent by a huge bonfire.

Music Coterie Meets.

The members of the music club were entertained last Wednesday evening by Miss Alvina Mohen at the Skattrud home. A musical program was rendered which was very good. The remainder of the evening was enjoyably spent in games. Miss Anne Brown is outlining annd directing the course of study taken up by the girls, and they are doing good work. The next meeting will be at the home of Gunhild Nelson and will be in the form of a Hallowe'en party.

Community Club.

The next regular meeting of the St. Hilaire Community club will be held in the school house auditorium Friday, October 26. A very good program has been arranged for, and Mr. McCall, a member of the Agriculture college at Crookston, will deliver an address. Mr. McCall is an able speaker and thoroughly acquainted with the farmers' problems. His address should be of interest to everyone. The Methodist Ladies' Aid will serve lunch in the Domestic Science rooms.

W. C. T. U. Meeting.

A meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs G. W. Hooper Tuesday, October 16. Mrs. Alma Levins, district president, was present and gave a very interesting talk, explaining the purpose of the organization, and giving an outline of the work to be covered between now and September. Mrs. Earl Jensen and Miss Mae Kinney assisted with the program and rendered selections that were greatly appreciated. A dainty lunch was served at the close of the meeting. The program for the next meeting is to deal with the problem of "social morality." This subject will prove of great interest and one that should vitally concern every mother in the community.

Parcel Social.

Miss Effie Frederickson and her pupils of District 94, five miles west of this village, are to be congratulated on the success of their parcel social held last Friday evening. Although the weather was not as favorable as it might have been, a large crowd was present. Andy Dahl acted as auctioneer and sold the parcels. The evening was spent in playing games, at the conclusion of which lunch was served. Everyone enjoyed a very pleasant evening and are looking forward to the other socials that are reported to be held soon.

A. F. Hall and Paul Roy attended the annual meeting of the Pennington County Bankers association held at Thief River Falls Tuesday, October 16. After the election of officers, various topics were discussed, relative to bettering the farming conditions. A committee was appointed on alfalfa raising, which is to report at the next meeting, Tuesday, October 23. This county is rapidly forging toward the front as an alfalfa district, and the bankers of the county are to be congratulated on the steps taken. The object in view is to eventually be able to boast of forty acres of alfalfa on every Pennington county farm.

T. J. Sumpter, residing five miles east of this village, threshed ninety-six bushels of alfalfa seed last week. He also threshed several thousand pounds of sweet clover seed. Alfalfa at its present price of fifty cents, and sweet clover at eleven cents per pound should net Mr. Sumpter good returns on the few acres of tame grass. And as a two-fold benefit of sweet grass we also state that Mr. Sumpter led our creamery list for the past month. Pennington county land properly farmed is profitable.

Dan Dowacter shipped a carload of sugar beets from this station this week. He has a fine quality of beets and reports a very good yield. He has the honor of being the first man to ship sugar beets from St. Hilaire.

The Ladies' Aid of the Scandinavian Lutheran church served a sumptuous harvest home chicken dinner in the basement of their church Wednesday, October 17. The crowd was very large and the ladies realized a neat little sum for their efforts.

E. O. Mogensen of Thief River Falls and A. F. Hall of this place canvassed part of Black River township Tuesday afternoon, securing membership for the Minesota Potato Growers' association. Farmers in this district are very enthusiastic over the proposed plans for this organization. Providing 250 acres of potatoes can be signed up in this territory it will assure St. Hilaire of a potato warehouse. By the proper cooperation of the business men and farmers of this territory we should put this measure through.

J. S. Arneson and Albert Lonson were in this city on business Thursday.

Mrs. Louis Ducharme of Red Lake Falls came up Friday morning and spent several days visiting at the home of her son, Theodore Ducharme.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hanson were Thief River Falls visitors Wednesday afternoon.

Miss Edith Dahl was a business visitor at Thief River Falls Tuesday evening.

Mrs. E. O. Mogensen and Mrs. C. M. Haug of Thief River Falls spent Tuesday at the O Gunstad home.

The first numbers of the Lyceum course were held at the school house Monday annd Tuesday evening of this week. D. A. Leonard delivered a lecture and presented screen versions of several juvenile plays.

The Ladies Aid of the Norwegian Lutheran church will serve lunch in the basement of their church Friday.

N. E. Beebe and Gerald Stephens were busy the past week hauling sugar beets.

A. R. Rustebach, who is the North Dakota representative of the Quinn Shepherdson company of Minneapolis, was in town Wednesday on business. While here he made arrangements for some lumber to be sent out to their farm, northeast of the village for the purpose of building a poultry house.

Duncan McAllester of Grand Forks was in the village last week looking after some business matters.

The Misses Esther and Frances Hovet were Thief River Falls visitors Saturday.

Rev. J. Sherva of Thief River Falls was in St. Hilaire Sunday morning and conducted services in the M. E. church.

The pupils of district 178 and their teacher, Miss Esther Fricker, are holding a handkerchief social in their school house next Saturday. Everyone is welcome to come and a good time is assured all.

The St. Hilaire orchestra gave a dance here last Saturday night. A good crowd attended and a fine time is reported.

Mike McAndress shipped a carload of cattle to the Twin cities last Saturday over the Soo Line. Mr. McAndress has three carloads of cattle packed up for next week but is held up on account of the car shortage.

Miss Ruth Seeland visited at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. O. Sherva last week.

A cap social will be held in the Riverside school house next Friday night.

W. S. Payton shipped his second carload of potatoes to the Cities last Thursday. Mr. Payton went down with the car.

Dan Dowacter is having a sale of his farming equipment and personal property. Included in this sale is a very good bunch of Shorthorns.

William Bruce, residing a mile south of Hazel, has auction bills out advertising a sale to be held October 27. He plans to leave for the West as soon as possible.

Adolph Nyhagen and Sigrud Vik were Thief River Falls visitors Saturday evening.

Mrs. J. Olson from Baudette has been a guest at the H. Kalland home the past week.

Miss Anne Brown entertained her pupils at a party in the school house last Thursday evening in honor of Dorothy Grimsrud. The evening was pleasantly spent in games and at the conclusion a dainty lunch was served.

Miss Gabrielle DeCatheleneau, who is teaching at Middle River this year, attended the teachers' institute at Warren the past week and returned to her school Monday morning.

Miss Lucille Blaska spent the weekend at her home here and returned to Holt Sunday by auto.

KRATKA

District No. 68.

Clara Knutson, Reporter.

Martin Evenson, who has been working in Climax, Minn., has returned to Kratka.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivar Solheim left last Sunday to visit friends and relatives in Grand Forks, and returned home Monday morning.

Louis Olsen was very unfortunate this week. He fell from the plow he was riding and injured one of his ears very badly.

One of our sixth graders, namely, Lester Laurent, left us and is now attending school in Grand Forks, where he is making his home.

Obert Gullingsrud, who has been working in Grand Forks, is back home again.

Whiz! Plump! Down came a shoe, and then another. "It was 3 o'clock in the morning" and it was raining. Mr. Kilen had his sweet clover seed uncovered somewhere in the neighborhood. Four hundred dollars is a heap of money so we do not blame Mr. Kilen if he threw his shoes down stairs first in order to save time.

The friends of Miss Anna Evenson are very much pleased to hear that her health has improved so much as to allow her to visit her folks for a short time. She is a patient in one of the Thief River Falls hospitals.

SALE OF SCHOOL AND OTHER STATE LANDS

State of Minnesota, State Auditor's Office, St. Paul, Minn., Oct. 3, 1923.

Notice is hereby given that on November 14, 1923, at 10 o'clock a. m., in the office of the county auditor, at Thief River Falls, Pennington county, in the State of Minnesota, I will offer for sale certain unsold state lands and also those state lands which have reverted to the state by reason of the non-payment of interest.

Terms of Sale:

Fifteen per cent of the purchase price is payable to the County Treasurer at the time of sale. The unpaid balance is payable at any time in whole or in part within forty years from the date of sale, interest rate of four per cent per annum, due on June 1st of each year; provided, that the interest can be paid at any time within the interest year without penalty. In effect, this means that the interest money may be paid any time between June first and May thirty-first without penalty.

The appraised value of timber, when so stated, must be paid in full at the time of sale.

All mineral rights are reserved to the State by the laws of the State.

All lands are sold subject to any and all ditch taxes thereon.

Lands on which the interest has become delinquent may be redeemed at any time up to the hour of sale, or before resale, to the actual purchaser. Such lands are listed, under the caption: "Delinquent Lands."

No person can purchase more than 320 acres of land, provided, however, that State lands purchased previous to 1905 are not charged against such purchaser.

Agents acting for purchasers must furnish affidavit of authority.

Appraiser's reports showing quality and kind of soil are on file in this office.

Lists giving legal descriptions of lands to be offered may be obtained of the State Auditor at St. Paul, and of the County Auditor at the county seat.

Rav P. Chase.
State Auditor.

MORTGAGE FORECLOSURE NOTICE.

Default having been made in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1922 and in the payment of the sum of four hundred eighty ($480.00) and no-100 dollars interest, which became due on the 1st day of March, 1923, upon a certain mortgage duly executed and delivered by J. B. Shannon and Lottie Shannon, his wife, mortgagors, to A. E. Rolfson, mortgagee, bearing date the 1st day of March, 1920, and with a power of sale therein contained, duly recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds in and for said County of Pennington and State of Minnesota, on the 22nd day of July, 1920, at 1:00 o'clock p. m., in Book 57 of Mortgages on page 407.

And whereas, A. E. Rolfson, the owner and holder of said mortgage as aforesaid, has elected and does hereby elect to declare the whole principal sum of said mortgage and the interest that has accrued thereon at the date of this notice, due and payable under the condition of said mortgage and the power of sale therein contained.

And whereas, there is actually due and claimed to be due and payable on said mortgage at the date of this notice the sum of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars;

And whereas, the power of sale has become operative and no action or proceeding having been instituted at law or otherwise to recover said debt or any part thereof;

Now, therefore, notice is hereby given that by virtue of the power of sale contained in said mortgage, and pursuant to the statute in such case made and provided, the said mortgage will be foreclosed by a sale of the premises described in and conveyed by said mortgage, viz:

The northeast quarter (NE¼) of section thirty-one (31) and the north half of the northwest quarter (N½ NW¼) and the northwest quarter of the northeast quarter (NW¼ NE¼) of section thirty-two (32), all in township one hundred fifty-four (154), north of range forty-five (45) west, containing two hundred eighty acres (280) more or less, according to the Government survey thereof, in Pennington county, State of Minnesota, with the hereditaments and appurtenances thereunto belonging, which sale will be made by the Sheriff of Pennington county, Minnesota, at the front door of the Court House in the City of Thief River Falls, in said county and state on the 17th day of November, 1923, at ten o'clock a. m., of that day at public vendue to the highest bidder for cash, to pay said debt of ninety-two hundred thirty-two ($9232.00) dollars, with interest, and one hundred dollars ($100.00) attorney's fees, as stipulated in and by said mortgage in case of foreclosure, and the disbursements allowed by law, subject to redemption at any time within one year from the date of sale, as provided by law.

Dated Sept. 24th. 1923.

YOUTH KILLED WHILE HUNTING

Henry Hanson of Erskine Is Shot While Pulling Gun From Belt.

Henry Hanson, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jens Peterson, of Erskine, was almost instantaneously killed Sunday afternoon while hunting ducks on Oak Lake, near Erskine when he attempted to pull his gun from a boat. The gun was a single shot sixteen guage one and while hauling it from the boat the hammer caught on the edge of the boat and then snapped back sending the charge through Hanson's right side. With a huge hole in his lung Hanson fell backwards and was dead almost immediately. His companion, William Herbert of Crookston, shocked when he saw Hanson fail, rushed to his side but even then Hanson was breathing his last.

Hanson was a brother-in-law of Hjalmer Frieberg of Crookston and had been visiting at the Frieberg home for the past month. Saturday night Frieberg, Hanson, Herbert and J. E. Thieness left Crookston for a Sunday's hunt at Oak Lake.

The party had been on the lake all day and it was about four o'clock in the afternoon when the boat containing Hanson went ashore. Following the shooting an Erskine physician was notified who after examining the body called up Coroner H. E. Nelson. The remains are expected to be buried at Erskine.

Flivver Hops Into Ditch: Occupants Escape Injury

A car driven by John Eliason of this city became unmanageable Sunday evening and went into the ditch a short distance this side of Holt. Neither Eliason nor any of his three companions were injured, although the car was quite badly damaged. A new windshield, top and other accessories will be necessary before the flivver can be brought back to normal.

Eliason and his companions are thanking their lucky stars that the accident did not result more seriously for them. They say a flivver more or less means nothing in their young lives.

Suffers Serious Injury.

Jens Dale, son of Rev. and Mrs. J. B. A. Dale, of Dunseith, North Dakota, formerly of McIntoch, is slowly recovering from the effects of a fall in which he was very badly hurt about two weeks ago. Jens had gone into the country to spend the day with some friends. The boys were playing in a large barn. In some way or other Jens fell a distance of 26 feet landing on his head on a concrete floor. He was immediately rushed to Dunseith for medical aid. He was unconscious for three days but at this writing is slowly recovering. Friends here hope for a complete recovery.—McIntosh Times.

Boy Breaks Arm.

Arnold Larson, nine-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Larson, 603 Atlantic avenue north, suffered a fractured left elbow last Sunday evening. The accident occurred in front of the lad's home, where he was playing with his friends when he fell and received the injury. The lad's arm was immediately dressed by a local doctor and complete recovery is expected.

Woman's Club Meeting to Be Held Monday, Oct. 29

The next regular meeting of the Woman's club will be held in the Commercial club rooms on Monday, October 29, at 3 p. m. Mrs. Bessler will be hostess at the social hour. Music, selected. Mrs. Arnold will be in charge of the parliamentary drill. A report of the recent state convention will be given by Mrs. H. W. Froehlich and Mrs. Daniel Shaw. Miss Warner, of the Division of Child Hygiene, State Board of Health, has been secured to deliver a talk at this meeting.

This is a very important meeting of the Woman's club and all members are urged to be present.

LOCAL FOOTBALL TEAM DEFEATED

Takes Short End of Score in Game With East Grand Forks High.

The Thief River Falls high school football team again met defeat last Saturday when a game on the local grounds with the East Grand Forks team resulted in a score of 20 to 7 for the latter. The home boys made a very good showing in the face of heavy odds and showed a decided improvement in ability and condition over games previously played. The Thief River Falls men are seriously handicapped because of the fact that they are all new players and very light in weight compared to their opponents.

Next Saturday the locals go to Crookston to try conclusions with the high school team of that city. Those in a position to know declare that this will be an even battle, considering the recent improvement shown by the Thief River lads. A large delegation is expected to accompany the team on the Crookston trip to help the players in winning the game.

On the Saturday following a game has been arranged here with the Northwest School of Agriculture, Crookston. No more games have been scheduled for the season but in case the weather remains favorable it is likely other contests can be arranged.

Farmer in District Shows That Raising Clover Pays

Just another proof that the farmer in this section of the state who places at least a part of his dependence on clover and alfalfa can do well is contained in the following bit of information, furnished by a Tribune subscriber in the neighborhood referred to:

Halvor Hemmestvedt of Valley township, Marshall county, 13 miles northeast of Goodridge, recently received a check for $385.00, the proceeds from seven acres of sweet clover. That is an average of $55.00 an acre, which isn't so worse for a section of the country where land values are still very moderate.

Mrs. Feragen Wins Spread.

Mrs. Laura Feragen of this city held the lucky number which won the hand-made bed spread given away by the Daughters of Norway at the bazaar recently conducted by them. The spread is an exceptionally beautiful piece of work and was donated for the occasion by Mrs. C. L. Petersen and Mrs. E. Overland.

NOTED PICTURE COMING SUNDAY

"Main Street" to Be Produced by Cast of Prominent Players.

"Main Street," the screen adptation of Sinclair Lewis' novel of small town life and manners, which comes to the Princess theatre Sunday and Monday, has a cast of the first magnitude composed of actors who have already won a reputation in the screen world.

The cast is an all-star one, headed by Florence Vidor and Monte Blue, who are co-featured in this story of Gopher Prairie. They are supported by Harry Myers, Noah Beery, Louise Fazenda, Robert Gordon and Josephine Crowell.

Florence Vidor assumes the part of Carol Kennicott, the leading character in the novel, who is discontented with conditions in the home town and tries to reform everybody in her circle.

Monte Blue is entrusted with the important part of Doctor Kennicott, playing opposite Miss Vidor, as the husband who comes in for a share of the reform ideas and who has to protect Carol from the malice of her neighbors.

Harry Myers, of "Connecticut Yankee," "Brass" and "The Beautiful and Damned" fame, is a comedy foil in the serious picture; he plays Dave Dyer, the man who steps in between husband wife with near tragic results.

Louise Fazenda, inimitable comedienne, plays Bea the Maid, a part giving her talent for comedy free rein.

Adolf Valborg, the free-thinking socialistic-minded laborer in the story is acted by Noah Beery, who has playin "The Red Lantern," "Dinty," "Go and Get It" and others. Robert Gordon is cast as young Erik Valborg who falls in love with Carol, and Josephine Crowell takes the part of the Widow Bogart.

Penney Manager Returns.

H. E. Nelson, local manager for the J. C. Penney company, returned this week to Thief River Falls after an absence of several weeks. He attended a convention of Penney managers of the Northwest, held in St. Paul, and made a buying trip to St. Louis and other points. He reports business conditions in the large centers as excellent, with desirable merchandise difficult to get. With the large buying power of the Penney company and its Eastern connections, this concern enjoys a special advantage at this time, according to Mr. Nelson, and has so far been able to purchase all goods desired upon very reasonable terms. Mrs. Nelson visited with relatives at Wheaton during Mr. Nelson's trip.

ARMISTICE DAY TO BE OBSERVED IN CITY NOV. 12

Appropriate Program Will Be Given at Auditorium at 1:30 P. M.

Rev. B. M. Weakland Selected to Deliver Address at Meeting.

Armistice Day will this year be observed in Thief River Falls on Monday, November 12, this arrangement being necessary because of the fact that November 11 falls on a Sunday. A committee is now at work preparing a program which will be rendered at the auditorium beginning at 1:30. This program will consist of an address by Rev. B. M. Weakland, assistant rector of St. Bernard's church, who is an ex-service man and is therefore particularly well fitted for the task of delivering an appropriate Armistice Day oration. In addition there will be songs and other musical numbers befitting the occasion.

Business men of the city have agreed to close their stores at noon on Monday in order that all may have an opportunity to attend the program at the auditorium and to take part in other events arranged for the day.

The American Legion will stage a big dance and carnival in the evening, to which the general public is invited, and they promise a pleasant time to all who spend the evening with them. A detailed program of the afternoon meeting and further information with respect to other features of the Armistice Day observance will be published in next week's issue of The Tribune.

BIG CROP SHOW COMING ALONG IN FINE SHAPE

Many Prominent Men Are Slated to Appear on Speaking Program.

Interest in Show Increases as Date for Opening Approaches.

One by one the details connected with the arrangements for the crop and poultry show to be held in Thief River Falls during the first week in December are being ironed out by the men placed in charge of the event, and The Tribune is informed that everything pertaining to the big show is coming along at a very satisfactory rate.

Especially encouraging are prospects regarding the poultry show for this year. It will in every way be the largest and best ever staged under the auspices of the Pennington County Poultry Association, according to a statement made recently by Olaf Neset, president of the association. Many exhibitions from a distance will be represented at the show and it is expected that many high grade birds will be shown. The same rules of classification and prize winning as last year will be employed at this year's show.

An exceptionally strong speaking program is being arranged for the four days of the show, a few of whom are as follows: W. E. Stanfield, poultry editor of the Northwest Farmstead; Supt. C. G. Selvig, of the Northwest School of Agriculture at Crookston; Prof. T. M. McCall, crop expert from the same school; Prof. R. S. Dunham, soil expert of the Northwest School; Chas. Hutcheson, alfalfa expert of the Northwest Farmstead; L. V. Wilson, dairy expert, state university; A. J. McGuire, general manager of the Minnesota Co-operative Creamery association, and J. C. Haney of the International Harvester company. It is expected that several other prominent speakers will appear on the program.

To Spend Winter in Florida.

Earl DeVelling, who for the past year or so has been in poor health, left last week by car for Fort Meyers, Florida, where he will spend the winter. Mr. DeVelling has for the past four years been employed as rural carrier on route No. 3. Edwin Swanson will act as substitute carrier until he returns.

Ladies' Aid Supper.

The Ladies' Aid of the M. E. church will serve supper in the church basement this evening, October 31. Everybody will be made welcome.

Froseth's Shoe Store to Put on Bargain Event in Wares For Next Ten Days

An event which should prove of real interest to the public is announced this week through the advertising columns of The Tribune by Froseth's shoe store of Thief River Falls. It is the custom of this establishment to hold a genuine clearance sale once or twice a year in order to clean up all odds and ends and to make room for new stock. This year finds the concern with a much larger stock on hand than usual at this season because of the extremely mild weather prevailing up to this time, making it necessary to put on a sale of much larger proportions than any heretofore attemped.

Froseth's stock enjoys the reputation of being one of the very best in this section, consisting of nothing but quality goods of standard makes. The annual clearance is scheduled to start tomorrow (Thursday) morning, and will continue for ten days. This is an opportunity which the careful buyer cannot afford to overlook.

HOLT SCENE OF GREAT MEETING

Farmers and Business Men Get Together to Consider Mutual Problems.

The community meeting and smoker tendered by the business men of Holt last Saturday evening to the farmers of the vicinity was largely attended, more than two hundred being present to hear the talks delivered by County Agent McCann and J. S. Arneson, of The Tribune.

Large delegations were present from this city, Grygla and Middle River. Mr. Arneson, who was the first speaker introduced, spoke of the great need of co-operation between the farmers and the business men, showing how much good could be accomplished by pulling together in all matters pertaining to their mutual interest. Among other things he cited the need for a more optimistic attitude towards the problems of people in town and country. It must be apparent to all, said the speaker, that if we fail to see any virtue in the country in which we live, and if we knock and tear down our neighbors, we can hardly expect others to want to come and share our joys and sorrows, much less make any permanent investment in this territory. The farmers present seemed to be in accord with this sentiment.

Mr. McCann devoted himself to a discussion of alfalfa and sweet clover, citing many instances of changed farming conditions which had brought prosperity to many in this section. He gave a most exhaustive and instructive talk on how, when and where to plant alfalfa and sweet clover. The farmers present showed their interest by plying our county agent with numerous questions covering every phase of the question.

Parents and Teachers to Hold Second Meeting of Season on Monday Night

The Tribune is requested to announce that the next regular meeting of the Parent- Teachers association will be held next Monday evening in the auditorium of the Lincoln high school building. A fine progrm has been prepared and it will be a decidedly worth-while meeting for all who attend. There is real need in Thief River Falls for such an organization as the Parent-Teachers association and if given the proper support it can be made to serve a very valuable purpost. Every resident of the city who is interested in the schools is urgently requested to be present at the meeting next Monday evening.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting. Bear in mind the date—Monday evening, November 5.

Holt Woman Seriously Hurt in Auto Accident

Mrs. Martin Nygaard, 45 years old, residing a short distance northwest of Holt, is at the Physicians hospital in this city recovering from serious injuries received in an automobile accident at Holt last Saturday. An X-ray examination disclosed the fact that one leg, one arm and two ribs were broken. She is now getting along nicely and will soon be removed to her home.

Mrs. Nygaard accompanied a neighbor into Holt in the morning and the car was stopped in front of the creamery. She stepped to the rear of the automobile, and was struck by another car driven by Targe Sordahl of Adger township. Mrs. Nygaard did not see Mr. Sordahl approaching and he did not notice her until too late to stop. The injured woman was at once taken to the home of her daughter, Mrs. Axel Nelson, and a doctor was sent for. The same arm now fractured was also broken about a year ago when Mrs. Nygaard was thrown from a buggy.

NORSE AUTHOR'S APPEARANCE TO CAUSE INTEREST

John Bojer, Noted Norwegian, Slated for Lecture Thursday Evening.

To Appear Here Under the Auspices of Local Sons of Norway Lodge.

One of the events eagerly looked forward to by every Scandinavian in this section is the appearance here Thursday evening, November 1, of Johan Bojer, noted Norwegian author, who will at that time deliver a lecture at the Sons of Norway hall in Thief River Falls, beginning promptly at 8 o'clock. Mr. Bojer is on a tour of the United States and it is by special arrangement with the head lodge of the order that the local Sons of Norway lodge was enabled to secure the consent of the distinguished Norseman to deliver one of his masterful lectures here.

Mr. Bojer is considered one of the greatest living writers of the Scandinavian countries, many placing him above Knut Hamsun, who achieved international fame a year or two ago by winning the Nobel prize in literature. Many of his books may be found in the Thief River Falls library, some of these being translated into English while others are in the original Norwegian language. "The Great Hunger," which is considered Mr. Bojer's best work, has been largely read by the Scandinavians of Thief River Falls.

It is expected Mr. Bojer will arrive from Fargo tomorrow on the Great Northern at noon and it is understood he will be invited by local business men to be their guest at the Commercial club noon luncheon. This will give many an opportunity to become personally acquainted with the distinguished visitor. It also is announced that the members of the Sons and Daughters of Norway lodges present at the lecture in the evening who desire to meet Mr. Bojer, may remain after the meeting and this privilege will be accorded them.

WORK OF ART IS EXHIBITED HERE

Beautiful Oil Painting to be Shown in Local Store Window One Week.

The original oil painting now on exhibition in the display window of Charles Lieberman, is one of a series painted by one of the foremost fashion artists in the United States for Lanpher, Skinner & Company of St. Paul.

The painting is remarkable from an artistic standpoint as well as for the skill with which the artist has caught the spirit and character of the sturdy coats it is intended to visualize.

While the artist has treated his subject in a mood essential for advertising purposes the subtility of his technical skill has won the highest praise from some of the greatest critics of the day. More than any other artist he has been responsible for lifting a subject that has heretofore been considered purely as an advertising vehicle up to the plane of art.

While some of the best known artists will not paint for advertising purposes, a few of the more advanced thinkers among them believe that in lending their genius to the advertiser they are helping to raise this profession to a higher level and are performing a real service in making illustrations that are real works of art and that are not only worthy of the subject but also worth the interest of people interested in the best in art.

Prof. Cochran Scheduled to Deliver Reading Here Friday Evening, Nov. 9th

Prof. I. M. Cochran, head of the public speaking department of Carleton college, Northfield, will give a reading at the high school auditorium on Friday evening, November 9. He will read the play, "The Man of the Hour." Mr. Cochran appeared here last winter, reading at that time "The Fortune Hunter." All who heard him then were very much impressed with his pleasing interpretation of the play.

The high school authorities, who are bringing Mr. Cochran here, have decided that the proceeds shall go into the treasury of the high school athletic association. The admission has been set at the nominal price of 35 cents for adults and 20 cents for students.

CHAIRMAN BUSY PREPARING FOR ANNUAL 'DRIVE'

Members For Red Cross to Be Sought in All Sections of Pennington.

Part of National Campaign to Keep Organization Working Efficiently.

Mrs. J. N. Nesse, in charge of the Seventh Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross for Pennington county, is busy arranging details for the opening of the drive on Armistice day. Mrs. Nesse reports to The Tribune that the work is progressing in a very satisfactory manner and states that every detail will have been looked after when the time arrives to begin the actual work of soliciting memberships. She is being assisted by Chairman E. H. Kreidt and many others interested in the welfare of the Red Cross.

Though the work is scheduled to start on Armistice day and continue until Thanksgiving day, John Leslie, State Director for Minnesota, points out that the majority of counties are already well under way with their organization.

"There is a disposition in some quarters to feel that the Red Cross is strictly a war-time organization and that with the war over there is nothing left to do," said Mr. Leslie. "While the last gun was fired five years ago there are in Minnesota hospitals today 807 disabled men fighting their way back to health—a battle that holds none of the thrill of actual combat in which these men must have the continued service of the Red Cross. Under the Charter issued by Congress to the Red Cross we are specifically bound to continue and carry on a system of national and international relief in time of peace and to apply the same in mitigating the sufferings caused by pestilence, famine, fire, floods and other great national calamities, and to devise and carry on measures for preventing the same.

GOODRIDGE GETS BEHIND ALFALFA

Rousing Meeting Held to Help Put New Movement Over the Top.

The eastern section of Pennington county is going to do its share in putting over the alfalfa program launched last week by the bankers of the county. In fact, other parts of Pennington county will have to look to their laurels or the farmers of that community will have them backed off the boards in no time.

Last Wednesday evening a meeting was held in the school auditorium at Goodridge, and the whole countryside was there. The large room was packed to the doors, and more than one hundred actual farmers from that neighborhood were in attendance. Charles R. Hutcheson, alfalfa expert on the staff of the Northwest Farmstead, who has been making an extensive investigation of the alfalfa situation in Pennington county, and J. S. Arneson of the Thief River Falls Tribune, were the principal speakers at the meeting. Both gave talks strongly advocating more alfalfa growing in this section, pointing out the natural advantages to be found here for the culture of this valuable crop. At the conclusion of the meeting the farmers who intend to grow alfalfa next year were asked to hold up their hands, and over 70 per cent of the number present responded.

The bankers and business men of Goodridge are enthusiastically back of the alfalfa movement and intend to work hand in hand with the farmers in making it a leader among crops of that section. Everybody is beginning to see that alfalfa culture is the logical basis for future agricultural prosperity and therefore highly essential for the future welfare of the community as a whole.

Big Fall Festival.

A big fall festival will be held at Goodridge next Sunday, November 4. Norwegian services with special music at 11 a. m. A bounteous dinner at 12:00 and a splendid program in the afternoon at the new school house. The school house will be nice and warm. Come and bring your better half and children with you.

Mrs. Ed. Martinson returned yesterday to her home at Grygla, after having visited over the week-end with her two daughters, Mable and Sarah, who are attending the local high school.

Skeleton Unearthed Near Surface of Earth in New Gravel Pit West of City

Workmen in the gravel pit near the Funnesdahl farm west of Thief River Falls last Thursday discovered a human skeleton about two feet below the surface of the ground. Coroner H. W. Froehlich was called and he removed the bones from their resting place for removal to a cemetery.

After giving the skeleton a thorough examination, Dr. Froehlich stated that in his opinion the bones were those of a white man and that they probably had been in the ground for 25 or 30 years. The fact that the skeleton was discovered in a sitting posture and being so near the surface of the ground leads the doctor to believe that the man was the victim of foul play. There were, however, no marks upon the skull or other indications of a violent death. The gravel for a considerable distance around the skeleton was shoveled over but nothing could be found to throw light on the mystery.

FARMER TO USE ONLY PUREBREDS

Knut Ystesund to Sell Ten Grade Cows to His Neighbors.

While Knut Ystesund, dairy farmer residing a short distance southeast of Thief River Falls, has for some years been classed with the good dairy farmers of the county, he is not satisfied with such a classification. He wants to be numbered among the very best, both from the standpoint of production and quality of animals composing his dairy herd. Ever since he visited the Northwest Dairy show early in the fall as one of the delegates from the Thief River Falls Commercial club he has been convinced that the principal trouble with his establishment was the fact that he did not have enough purebred dairy cows on the place.

Last week Knut made a deal with two neighbors whereby he sold ten head of high grade Guernseys, which are good producers but did not have the credentials which Knute deemed necessary for a herd such as he intends to keep. Now he is looking about in an effort to secure at least that many purebred Holsteins to take their places. And Knut says that nothing but purebred stock goes with him from now on. He already had ten head of purebred Holsteins previous to the sale of the Guernseys and when he adds to this number the ten head which he expects to purchase, there won't be a dairyman in Pennington county with a more proficient butter producing machine.

The Tribune is pleased to note Mr. Ystesund's rapid progress in dairying and predicts for him a prosperous future. He is one of the progressive young farmers of the county and is going at it in the right way.

Thief River Falls Stores Will Be Closed at Noon on Monday, November 12

In order to properly observe Armistice Day, which this year falls on Sunday, and to provide an opportunity for employers and employes of the various establishments to take part in the program to be given Monday afternoon, all of the stores in the city will close at noon on Monday, Nov. 12, and will remain closed all afternoon.

People of the city and vicinity are asked to bear this in mind so as to do any necessary shopping in the forenoon. After 12 o'clock every door will be locked tight and will remain so until Tuesday morning.

Girls Community Club to Hold Next Meet Nov. 19

The next regular meeting of the Girls' Community club will be held November 19 instead of November 12 as previously anounced. The following members will entertain on that date: Jeanette Oftedahl, Nettie Ove, Louise Dorn, Anna Majeres, Alvina Jonas and Esther Werner.

Mayor Bratrud Back Home.

Mayor John Bratrud returned this week from a two weeks' trip to Cresco and other points in Iowa, and at several places in the southern section of Minnesota. Mr. Bratrud says conditions in the part of the country he visited are no better than right here and in many respects northern Minnesota is far in the lead. He said Thief River Falls and Pennington county looked better to him than ever after he got through his tour of investigation in the district to the south.

Coffee on Election Day.

The W. C. T. U. will serve coffee all day November 6, election day, at the Hicks furniture store. Stop in and have a cup of delicious coffee while on your way to the auditorium to vote.

CANDIDATES IN FINAL HEAT OF ELECTION RAC

Fate of Aspirants to Be Decided by Voters at Polls Next Tuesday.

City Treasurer Only Job in Municipality With But One Aspirant.

Contrary to indications some weeks ago, the city election this year is developing into one of the most exciting in years. There is a multiplicity of candidates for official positions, the office of city treasurer being the only one for which there is not more than one candidate. The campaign is unusually complicated due to the number of candidates filing from the different wards, and the fact that some candidates have been "endorsed" by certain organizations adds to the confusion.

Because of the keen interest taken it is likely that an exceptionally heavy vote will be cast net Tuesday. All of the wards will vote this year in the auditorium and the polls will be open from 6 a. m. to 8:00 p. m.

Considerable campaigning has been done the past few days by candidates and their friends, and cards, placards, circulars and other campaign literature is being distributed in an effort to apprise voters of information which the candidates wish them to consider before going to the polls on election day.

What the outcome of the election will be, no man can venture to say at this time. This much may be said, however: The man whom the voters consider best qualified will win. And that is as it should be.

CROOKSTON WINS IN HARD TUSSLE

Thief River Football Team Makes Best Showing of Season Saturday.

While the local high school team did not succeed in winning the football game against the Crookston high aggregation last Saturday, they are entitled to a great deal of credit for the splendid showing made. The score was 20 to 0. Crookston has a very strong team, all of the players being much heavier and more experienced than those placed in the field by Coach Thune.

The details of the game are given in the following article from the Crookston Times:

"Scoring touchdowns in every quarter except the third period Crookston high school football team defeated Thief River high here Saturday by a score of 20 to 0. Crookston's superiority was marked at the outset when in the first quarter an end run by Geer, star fullback for the locals, netted a touchdown and a drop kick made the score 7 to 0.

"Geer was used throughout on end run plays or in shooting forward passes and he was easily the star of the game. In the second quarter Geer went over for another touchdown.

"Straight football marked the first half of the game. In the final half, Thief River attempted to open up with forward passes but they were so delayed that Crookston was well able to cover up.

"The game was unusually slow, both sides taking out time. Crookston played better team werk that the visitors who failed to pick holes or marred their offensive through fumbles. Thief River came close to scoring in the last few minutes of play when a series of passes took the ball into Crookston territory. The final whistle, however, stopped their march and the game ended 20 to 0 in favor of Crookston.

Attends Medical Convention.

Dr. H. W. Froehlich left last Friday for Des Moines, Iowa, to attend the anual convention of the Tri-State Medical association. This convention is not a social affair but more in the nature of a post graduate course. All of the four days of the convention are devoted to concentrated study and research. Dr. Froehlich also expects to visit for a few days at Mankato with his father and brother before returning to this city.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting.

The Woman's Auxiliary of the American Legion will hold a meeting at the Legion club rooms in the First and Peoples bank building on Tuesday evening, November 6, at 8 o'clock. All members of the Auxiliary are urgently requested to be present.

Impressions Gained By Tribune Representative in Journeying Through the City Public Schools

One day last week Superintendent I. T. Simley of the Thief River Falls public schools, and M. A. Mattison, associate editor of The Tribune, spent a few minutes chatting on various subjects. Naturally it didn't take the conversation a great while to drift to school matters, a subject upon which the genial head of the local educational system is particularly well qualified to speak. The writer, becoming more and more interested in the subject under discussion, asked a lot of questions about different things connected with the schools.

At this juncture Mr. Simley said: "What's the use of us standing here talking about these things? Why don't you visit the schools and see for yourself what we are doing?"

Which is how it happened that the junior editor of The Tribune, who hadn't been to school since he was a boy down on the farm in southwestern Minnesota many years ago, accepted the invitation of Mr. Simley to visit the Thief River Falls schools and see them in action. The tour of the various buildings was made last Thursday forenoon, the writer at all times being shown the points of interest by Mr. Simley, who proved to be a very entertaining and instructive guide.

Leaving The Tribune office in Mr. Simley's "flivver," the first stop was made at the Knox building. This is the newest and in most respects the best school building in the city, and was completed about two years ago. In order that the editor might start at the bottom of the ladder and work upward, Mr. Simley had him begin in the room occupied by the first graders. The little tots and their teacher were busy in the large auditorium, getting a lot of physical exercise out of a game which seemed to be a cross between "tag" and "drop the handkerchief." This play period is part of each day's work and prepares the children for the more serious duties to be taken up later in the day.

The other rooms were then visited. Here everything was done in all seriousness, with no semblance of mirth or disorder. One glance at the pupils was enough to convince the writer that now, even more than in the days when he was a boy, is the work of acquiring an education a mighty serious business. Every pupil was engaged upon what to him seemed a stupendous task, and not one appeared to be shirking. Mr. Simley showed to the writer and explained in detail the modern educational device known as the Studebaker test, which is used in grades 4 to 8 inclusive. These tests are graded from very simple problems in addition to the more complex forms of mathematics, and each pupil is required to take them at regular intervals. Marks are based on speed and accuracy, and no pupil is allowed to advance until he has attained a certain proficiency in the test upon which he is working. It is an excellent mental exercise for the pupils and provides a continual means for one pupil to compete with the other in the matter of advancing to the more difficult tests. It is a highly developed form of the old-fashioned Friday afternoon blackboard adding contest used back in the old rural school many years ago, which instead of being carefully grated was a free-for-all, with all grades and ages competing. A lot of the older folks who think they are pretty smart would find it difficult to keep up with the fifth and sixth graders if they concluded to compete with the children in the Studebaker tests. They are not so easy of accomplishment as might appear at first glance.

At this juncture in the proceedings Mr. Simley called the attention of the writer to something which should receive the earnest commendation of every patron of the Thief River Falls schools—the flag salute. Each day, when the final gong for the session is sounded, the pupils rise to their feet and salute the flag, which is prominently displayed in the room. It is a ceremony which requires only a few moments of time, but it instills in each pupil a deep reverence for the flag and lays the foundation for that genuine patriotism which is so essential in the making of a good American citizen.

In a certain room in the Knox was a young teacher from the Normal training department doing practice teaching, with a number of pupils from one of the lower grades upon whom to try out her skill. The young lady kept matters in hand like a veteran and had not Mr. Simley volunteered the information that she was a student from the Normal training department, the writer would have been led to believe that she was a teacher with several years of experience to her credit.

After giving the remainder of the Knox building a brief inspection, the visitors proceeded to the Central school. Here everything was running along smoothly, with every pupil busily engaged in performing a particular task. The best work in map drawing, essay writing and other studies is chosen by the instructors and placed on display in each room. There is keen competition among the pupils for the honor of having his or her work chosen for display, which adds much to the interest of an otherwise tedious task. The quality of much of this work inspected by the writer is of a very high grade and shows the result of careful and painstaking instruction on the part of the teachers in charge of the various classes.

The divisions of the eighth grade were the first visited in the Central building. Everything about the work is accomplished with precision and in an orderly and quiet manner. A new idea known as "socialized recitation" is used in certain subjects in these grades, and from what he saw of it the writer believes it the best system yet devised. One of the pupils is chosen to answer questions submitted by others in the class and holds his position until he is "stuck" or until he has answered four questions, when he politely yields his place to someone else. It arouses keen rivalry among the pupils and makes it an object for each one to have his lesson thoroughly prepared. In the eighth grade arithmetic the pupils were just finishing up a piece of work on the bonds of Thief River Falls.

At this point the "period" gong sounded, which meant that each class must change to another room, another teacher and another subject. Discipline in the army is no more perfect than that brought into play at this juncture in the school. Every class marched from its place in perfect order, yet smilingly and perfectly happy, and headed straight for the class room next to be occupied, without the slightest noise or confusion. Within two minutes from the sound of the gong every child was busily engaged in the work assigned for the new period. Some parents whose children are inclined to be unruly at home will wonder how the teachers manage to make them proceed in this manner, and the writer admits that it is far beyond him to explain how it is done. Yet it is a fact that the pupils are under perfect control, and this assertion can be substantiated any day of the week in any school building in the city by any parent who doubts the writer's word.

After leaving the Central building, Mr. Simley and the writer proceeded to the Northrop school, which is situated in the north part of the city. This also is a very good building and was compleed only a few years ago. In the matter of good order and close application to the work at hand, the teachers and pupils of the Northrop were found to measure up well with the schools previously visited that morning. The third and fourth grades were busy making plans for Hallowe'en, and at the time the writer visited the room, committees were being chosen to take charge of the various activities connected with its proper celebration. The second grade pupils were busy learning new words and classifying these by "families." It is a far more effective system of learning the language than the old method of memorizing the alphabet and it is astonishing how quickly the tots learn to read well and to understand what they read.

The plan of supervising the children during their play periods has been worked out to a fine system. Each teacher in the building has a certain period of each week for "hall" duty and another for supervising the playground, so that at no time do the children get away from the watchful eye of one or more of the teachers, either inside of the school building or out on the grounds.

During the writer's visit to the Northrop school, the weekly "marching contest" among the different grades was carried out. With Miss Maude L. Johnson at the piano, all of the grades march through the main hall of the building and are judged on their ability. A pennant is awarded to the winners and there is keen rivalry among the children for the possession of this highly valued trophy. The editor, by the way, was put to work as judge of marching.

Mr. Simley and the editor next visited the Washington building. Here again they dropped in on another first grade and spent a few minutes watching the children make the letter "a" on the blackboard. Each had a perfectly formed letter before him to copy from and was trying his best to make a letter like it. Some succeeded very well while others produced characters of more or less grotesque shapes, but all were on the right road and will eventually master the art and become good penmen. The thing which most impressed the writer was the earnestness with which the children appeared to be working.

From the first grade room Mr. Simley escorted the writer to the Normal training department. Here a class of graduates from the high school are given special training to fit them as teachers, and to judge from the work being carried on there last Thursday, the training must be very thorough indeed.

In the mechanical training department a class was busy receiving instruction in mechanical drawing under the supervision of Clarence Pope, who also has charge of the industrial training branch. This department has been curtailed somewhat this year in the interest of economy, but even at that it takes in a lot of work and is proving very effective.

Physical training receives its share of attention in the local schools, and every pupil, in addition to being under the constant supervision of the school nurse, is required to take physical exercise at given periods. A class was busy in this way at the gymnasium when the writer visited it last Thursday, and the work appeared to be very thorough. Development of the body is equally important with the development of the mind, according to modern educational authorities—and experience proves these authorities to be basing their assertions on a sound contention.

The Lincoln high school is a wonderful place, and the writer is sorry he was not permitted to spend several hours there instead of only a few minutes. A moment was devoted to the typewriting and bookkeeping department, which reminds one of a monster business establishment. A number of pupils were busy at their typewriters, learning the "touch" system of operating these machines, while many others were engaged in keeping perfect sets of books for imaginary business institutions. "Stage" currency, checks, drafts and other business forms are used and every pupil must keep his books absolutely balanced at the close of each session. The commercial department in the Lincoln high school measures up well with the average business college in the larger places, and students who complete a course there are fully equipped to assume positions upon their graduation.

A glance at the clock showed that only a few minutes remained before the noon recess, and the remainder of the high school was given only a hurried inspection. In one room the junior class was busy with mathematics, while in another the sophomores were diligently trying to master the English language. The assembly room was completely filled with pupils who were applying themselves to the preparation of lessons for future recitation periods. Here as elsewhere in the school system of Thief River Falls, absolute quiet and order prevailed in every room. Everybody seems to know what to do and when to do it, and best of all, to be perfectly happy and to have the right attitude toward the work.

Mr. Simley called to the attention of the writer, a teachers' rest room in one corner of the building. This is a very inviting and most tastefully furnished room and fills a long felt want for the convenience of both teachers and pupils. It was furnished by last year's senior class, an unused balance in the class treasury being used for the purpose.

In order to give the girls training of the same nature which the boys receive in the industrial training department, sewing and domestic science classes are conducted. The training received here is of the most practical kind and should prove very helpful to every young woman who receives the instruction. The kitchen is a marvel of cleanliness and neatness, and the junior editor was sorry the cooking class wasn't in action so he could sample some of the tasty viands which are prepared there.

One thing which impresses the visitor is the methodical arrangement and cleanliness which prevail everywhere throughout the school system. Nowhere is there to be found a sign of sloveliness, and every room from cellar to garret is in perfect order. Janitors in charge of the various buildings take pride in keeping things that way and deserve much credit for their work.

Every room in all of the buildings, with the exception of the extra ones in the Knox school, is filled to capacity, and many ingenious arrangements have been made to utilize every square inch of floor space to the best possible advantage. Special attention has been given to arranging things with a view to saving fuel and effecting other economies so as to reduce as much as possible the cost to the taxpayer of conducting the schools. Efficient management is in evidence everywhere.

Most people living in Thief River Falls don't sufficiently appreciate the city's school system. It is in every respect the largest business institution in operation here and performs a work which vitally concerns everyone. The heavy task of conducting the schools is left largely to the school board and the school faculty, with very little interest in the proceedings being taken by the average individual. This should not be. Supt. Simley and his corps of assistants are glad to have patrons visit the schools at any time, and the writer assures such visitors that they will be courteously and pleasantly treated by everyone connected with the Thief River Falls educational institution. In fact, the junior editor saw so much of interest and was so well treated that he hopes another opportunity will be given him in the near future to view at close range the rising generation at work acquiring an education. His greatest regret is that circumstances make it impossible for him to enroll in the first grade and proceed through the school as a bona fide student. Compared with the educational advantages open to children a quarter of a century ago, when the writer studied "readin', 'ritin' and 'rithmetic" in the little one-room building in Murray county, the schools of Thief River Falls present a golden opportunity to the student body. Many of the young folks appreciate it but others take it as a matter of course and do not make the most of the chance offered them.

This article deals with the schools only in a rambling and disconnected way, but the writer hopes in future issues to devote more space to a detailed description of this important industry, and to give facts and figures which will prove of interest to every resident of the community.

Event of Interest!

We are showing in our window this week an original oil painting by one of the leading artists of New York.

The subject is Lanpher Coats and we have arranged with the owners, Lanpher, Skinner & Co., of St. Paul, Minnesota to show the painting for one week.

The artist's ability receives the highest recognition---his work, now in our window, represents a value of more than $1000.00. We are sure this community will enjoy seeing the picture. Come this week.

When You Want your arm, hand, leg, or any other part of the body to do something, a message is sent to that member over the nerves.

If the nerve over which the message travels is pinched, the message cannot get to the member to which it was sent, the member does not obey the mind and is then what we call dis-eased.

Chiropractic teaches that disease is simply an abnormal expression of function, due to an impingement of the nerves by a subluxated vertebra at the point where the nerves leave the spine.

Chiropractic teaches that just as pressure on the nerve of the arm will cause the arm to "go to sleep," or as pressure on the nerve of the leg will cause the leg to "go to sleep," so also will pressure on the nerves to the stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels, or any other organ or part of the body, cause that organ or part to express its function abnormally in what is called dis-ease.

To adjust the vertebra to normal, thereby removing the cause of disease, is the work of the chiropractor.

Employ none but a competent chiropractor.

DEFINITION
The practice of Chiropractic consists of the adjustment, with the hands, of the movable segments of the spinal column to normal position for the purpose of releasing the prisoned impulse

How can you become a stockholder in the world's greatest humanitariam enterprise

Said a great Philosopher: "I can think of no better way of spending one's time and money than trying to make this old world a better, happier and more pleasant place for everybody to live in."

Are you doing your share?

The Red Cross needs your support. Another great disaster such as the Japanese earthquake may occur and the American Red Cross must be ready. Thousands of men who wore the American uniform in the World War must be cared for—their families must be helped. The great educational work of Red Cross Public Health Nursing, First Aid, and Life-saving must continue. Thousands in distress must be cared for and protected when calamity befalls them. Work among 4,000,000 school children in the Junior Red Cross must not be neglected.

This is the great humanitarian enterprise that needs your support. The American Red Cross is untiring in industry to make the world a better and happier place in which to live.

Will you become a stockholder in this world wide work? Can you think of any better way to use a dollar?

One lot Felt Slippers, assorted colors, special at	.79

Due to conditions over which we have no control, principally the unusually mild weather which has prevailed so far this season, we find that our stock of shoes, overshoes, rubbers and felt shoes, is altogether too large. In order to start things going and to get our stock down to the proportions where it properly belongs, we have decided to inaugurate a REAL HONEST-TO-GOODNESS SALE to begin on Thursday, November 1, and lasting for ten days. We are putting this sale on ourselves without the aid of outside "sales conductors" and depend upon prices to do the business. Our stock contains the widest assortment of high-grade goods to be found in this section of the state and prices have been slashed to the very bone, thus providing the buyer with an unusual opportunity for supplying his wants. The items quoted in this circular are only a few samples. A visit to the store will disclose hundreds of real bargains not enumerated here. Shoe the entire family at this sale and save money.
